

14-6001. Duty to follow instructions.

The law governing this case is contained in instructions that I am about to give you. It is your duty to follow the law as contained in these instructions. You must consider these instructions as a whole. You must not pick out one instruction or parts of an instruction and disregard others. A copy of these instructions will be given to you when you begin your deliberations.

USE NOTES

This is a proper instruction to be given in all cases.
