

14-1705. Negligent arson; "causation"; defined.

For you to find that the [death]¹ [injury] [damage] [destruction] in this case was "caused" by the conduct of the defendant, you must find that the [death]¹ [injury] [damage] [destruction] was an actual result of the conduct of the defendant and that the natural sequence of events from the defendant's act to the resulting [death]¹ [injury] [damage] [destruction] was not interrupted by any other intervening cause.

USE NOTES

Use applicable bracketed word.