History: Laws 1909, ch. 141, § 1; 1912, ch. 50, § 1; Code 1915, § 1021; C.S. 1929, § 32-401; 1941 Comp., § 72-101; 1953 Comp., § 68-1-1.

ANNOTATIONS

Compiler's notes. — Sections 62-1-1 to 62-1-7 of the Public Utility Act are still effective as the repeal of Chapter 62, Article 1 by Laws 1998, Chapter 108, Section 82, effective July 1, 2003 was repealed prior to taking effect by Chapter 23, Section 1, Laws 2003. Although Laws 2003, Chapter 336, Section 8, amended Laws 1998, Chapter 82, as amended, an amendment of a repealed section is ineffective. See Quintana v. N.M. Dep't of Corrs., 100 N.M. 224, 668 P.2d 1101 (1983). Laws 2003, Chapter 416, Section 5 also repealed Laws 1998, Chapter 108, Section 82, as amended, a second time, however, that repeal is of no effect as the section had previously been repealed by Chapter 23, Section 1, Laws 2003.

Compiler's notes. — Sections 62-1-1 to 62-1-7 of the Public Utility Act are still effective as the repeal of Chapter 62, Article 1 by Laws 1998, Chapter 108, Section 82, effective July 1, 2003 was repealed prior to taking effect by Chapter 23, Section 1, Laws 2003. Although Laws 2003, Chapter 336, Section 8, amended Laws 1998, Chapter 82, as amended, an amendment of a repealed section is ineffective. See Quintana v. N.M. Dep't of Corrs., 100 N.M. 224, 668 P.2d 1101 (1983). Laws 2003, Chapter 416, Section 5 also repealed Laws 1998, Chapter 108, Section 82, as amended, a second time, however, that repeal is of no effect as the section had previously been repealed by Chapter 23, Section 1, Laws 2003.

Local governments may require utilities to bear costs of system relocation. — New Mexico has adopted the common-law rule permitting local governments to require utilities to bear the costs of system relocation required for public safety; thus, safety-related relocation costs are to be treated like other costs of service. *City of Albuquerque v. A board of commissioners is authorized to impose charges for reasonable actual expenses incurred in the granting of any franchise pursuant to this section.

The 1987 amendment, effective June 19, 1987, substituted "corporations organized pursuant to Section 62-1-1 NMSA 1978 . . . Telecommunications Act" for "such corporation" near the beginning of the first sentence, added the second sentence and made minor changes in language throughout the section.

This section and Section 62-1-2 NMSA 1978 must be construed together. City of Roswell v. Mountain States Tel. & Tel. Co., 78 F.2d 379 (10th Cir. 1935).

Telecommunications companies. — The authority of home rule municipalities to enter into contracts and create franchises with telecommunications companies is well established in New Mexico. Qwest Corp. v. City of Santa Fe, 380 F.3d 1258 (10th Cir. 2004) (decided prior to the 1996 amendment to N.M. Const., art. XI, §2).

Franchise fees are not rates. — Franchise fees charged by counties pursuant to Section 62-1-3 NMSA 1978 are not rates as defined in Section 62-3-3 NMSA 1978 and do not fall within the jurisdiction of the public regulation commission. El Paso Elec. Co. v. N.M. Pub. Regulation Comm'n, 2010-NMSC-048, 149 N.M. 174, 246 P.3d 443.

Franchise fees are not taxes. — Franchise fees charged by counties pursuant to Section 62-1-3 NMSA 1978 are not taxes that the public regulation commission may consider when setting rates. El Paso Elec. Co. v. N.M. Pub. Regulation Comm'n, 2010-NMSC-048, 149 N.M. 174, 246 P.3d 443.

Franchise fees are not items included in adjustment clauses. — Franchise fees charged by counties pursuant to Section 62-1-3 NMSA 1978 are not within the jurisdiction of the public regulation commission by analogy to fuel and purchased power adjustment clauses, over which the commission has jurisdiction under Section 62-8-7 NMSA 1978. El Paso Elec. Co. v. N.M. Pub. Regulation Comm'n, 2010-NMSC-048, 149 N.M. 174, 246 P.3d 443.

Line item charges for franchise fees. — The public regulation commission did not have jurisdiction to enter an order requiring a public utility to stop including on customer's bills the franchise fee charges paid by the utility to a county for the right to use county right-of-way to deliver utility service to county residents and businesses. El Paso Elec. Co. v. N.M. Pub. Regulation Comm'n, 2010-NMSC-048, 149 N.M. 174, 246 P.3d 443.

Meaning of "franchise". — The term "franchise" was used in generally accepted sense of grant of right to use highways, streets and alleys, rather than exercise of police power respecting their use. The consent of the state becomes effective when the franchise is obtained. City of Roswell v. Mountain States Tel. & Tel. Co., 78 F.2d 379 (10th Cir. 1935).

Highway acquired by prescription may be used for normal communication methods. — A public highway acquired and established by prescription, and which was recognized and maintained by the corporate authorities of a county as a public highway, was in no way less than a public highway acquired by dedication, by condemnation or by authority of any other law of New Mexico. In any case, what was ordinarily acquired was an easement, by which the state or its political subdivisions were authorized by law to use the lands, lying within the boundaries of the streets and highways, for all lawful purposes consistent with every reasonable method of travel, transportation and communication for which public streets and highways are normally used. Hall v. Lea Cnty. Elec. Coop., 78 N.M. 792, 438 P.2d 632 (1968).

Electric power line is permissible use of highway. — The construction and maintenance of an electric power or transmission line, within the boundaries of a public highway, were consistent with the permissible uses to be made of a public highway easement and do not constitute an additional burden or servitude. Hall v. Lea Cnty. Elec. Coop., 78 N.M. 792, 438 P.2d 632 (1968).

Local ordinance not preempted by state law. — The City of Santa Fe ordinance which established procedures for telecommunications providers seeking access to city-owned rights-of-way is not preempted by state law. Qwest Corp. v. City of Santa Fe, 380 F.3d 1258 (10th Cir. 2004).

County franchise authorizes occupying streets of later village. — Telephone companies are included in the language of Section 3-42-2 NMSA 1978, and a franchise granted by a county board before incorporation of a village is adequate authority for occupying streets of the village and doing business until such time as the village itself offers a fair and equitable franchise for a maximum number of years and until a reasonable time has passed in which it may be considered by the company involved. Vill. of Ruidoso v. Ruidoso Tel. Co., 52 N.M. 415, 200 P.2d 713 (1948).

Town need accept only works actually constructed or started under county franchise. — In order to compel a town, incorporated after the granting of a franchise by the county commissioners, to accept such franchise, it was necessary that the holder of the franchise had erected or constructed, or in good faith commenced, the erection or construction of the works. Vill. of Hobbs v. Mann, 39 N.M. 76, 39 P.2d 1025 (1935).

Authority to charge franchise fee. — A county board of commissioners may enter into franchise agreements with utility companies and impose a franchise fee in exchange for the county's reasonable expenses incurred in granting the franchise and for the utilities' use of public highways, streets and alleys under the franchise agreements. 2014 Op. Att'y Gen. No. 14-01.

County regulations must be reasonable and related to health and safety. — The statutory grant of regulatory powers to county commissions contained in this section is very general, but such regulations would have to be reasonable and related to public health and safety - in other words, to the design, construction, operation and maintenance of the facility. 1973 Op. Att'y Gen. No. 73-26.

County may not impose fees or rental charges. — There is no statutory authority for a county to impose fees or rental charges on a utility holding a certificate of public convenience and necessity from the public service commission (now public regulation commission) for use of rights-of-way of county roads. 1973 Op. Att'y Gen. No. 73-26.

City need not recognize franchise without construction in annexed territory. — A city is not bound by law to recognize the county franchise issued to a private company to operate in territories which have subsequently been annexed by the city, in which territories no construction of utility facilities has been commenced. 1964 Op. Att'y Gen. No. 64-129.

Application of provisions to telephone companies. — Sections 62-1-1 to 62-1-3 NMSA 1978 are applicable to telephone utilities. 1963-64 Op. Att'y Gen. No. 63-66.

County may not impose franchise tax. — A county, in the process of granting a franchise to a public utility for operation in the county, may not exact from the utility a franchise tax. 1957-58 Op. Att'y Gen. No. 57-51.

County may not regulate use of state highway. — County commissioners have no right to grant any easement to a public utility over a state highway, the right-of-way of which came under the control of the state highway commission (now state transportation commission) after 1917. 1933-34 Op. Att'y Gen. 33-681 and 1973 Op. Att'y Gen. No. 73-26.

62-1-4. Eminent domain; surveys; entry on property; crossing right-of-way of another corporation.

A. Corporations organized pursuant to Section 62-1-1 NMSA 1978 are authorized to enter upon any property belonging to the state or to persons, firms or corporations for the purpose of making surveys and from time to time to appropriate so much of such property, not exceeding a strip one hundred feet wide in any one place, as may be necessary for their purpose. The corporations have the right of access to such property to construct and place their lines, pipes, poles, cables, conduits, towers, stations, fixtures, appliances and other structures and to repair them. If a corporation cannot agree with the owners as to a right-of-way or the compensation for a right-of-way, the corporation may proceed to obtain the right-of-way in the manner provided by law for condemnation of such property. Where it is necessary to cross the right-of-way of another corporation, the crossing shall be effected either by mutual agreement or in the manner now provided by law for the crossing of one railroad by another railroad; provided that the construction of any electric transmission lines crossing the right-of-way of a railroad shall comply with the minimum standards of the national electric safety code. When it is necessary for a corporation to construct any transmission line and associated facilities for the transmission of electrical power requiring a width for right-of-way of greater than one hundred feet, unless that width is agreed to by the parties, the applicant for the right-of-way shall apply to the New Mexico public utility commission as provided in Section 62-9-3.2 NMSA 1978 for a determination of the width necessary for the right-of-way for the transmission line.

B. For the purposes of this section, "corporation" means individuals, firms, partnerships, companies, municipalities, rural electric cooperatives organized under Laws 1937, Chapter 100 or the Rural Electric Cooperative Act [Chapter 62, Article 15 NMSA 1978], lessees, trustees or receivers appointed by any court.

ANNOTATIONS

Compiler's notes. — Laws 1937, ch. 100, referred to in Subsection B, was repealed by Laws 1939, ch. 47, § 34.

Sections 62-1-1 to 62-1-7 of the Public Utility Act are still effective as the repeal of Chapter 62, Article 1 by Laws 1998, Chapter 108, Section 82, effective July 1, 2003 was repealed prior to taking effect by Chapter 23, Section 1, Laws 2003. Although Laws 2003, Chapter 336, Section 8, amended Laws 1998, Chapter 82, as amended, an amendment of a repealed section is ineffective. See Quintana v. N.M. Dep't of Corrs., 100 N.M. 224, 668 P.2d 1101 (1983). Laws 2003, Chapter 416, Section 5 also repealed Laws 1998, Chapter 108, Section 82, as amended, a second time, however, that repeal is of no effect as the section had previously been repealed by Chapter 23, Section 1, Laws 2003.

Cross references. — For eminent domain proceedings, see Chapter 42A, NMSA 1978.

The 1993 amendment, effective June 18, 1993, in Subsection A, substituted "corporation" and "right-of-way" for references to "they" and "the same", substituted "New Mexico public utility commission" for "public service commission" and made stylistic changes throughout the subsection; and deleted "whatsoever" at the end of Subsection B.

Eminent domain matter of public policy. — The granting of the power of eminent domain, and the parameters thereto, is a matter of public policy for the legislature's determination. El Paso Elec. Co. v. Real Estate Mart, Inc., 92 N.M. 581, 592 P.2d 181 (1979).

Regardless of validity of utilities easement. — That electric power utility may have entered onto premises under an easement which landowners alleged was invalid would not make unlawful utility's entry onto premises pursuant to statute granting public utilities such right of entry. Garver v. Pub. Serv. Co., 77 N.M. 262, 421 P.2d 788 (1966).

Right to damages in inverse condemnation. — This section gives the right to recover damages in inverse condemnation. Kaiser Steel Corp. v. W.S. Ranch Co., 81 N.M. 414, 467 P.2d 986 (1970).

Authorized foreign public utility may exercise eminent domain. — Under Sections 53-17-2 and 62-1-1 NMSA 1978 and this section, a foreign public utility authorized to do business in this state has the same right as a domestic public utility to exercise the power of eminent domain in this state. El Paso Elec. Co. v. Real Estate Mart, Inc., 92 N.M. 581, 592 P.2d 181 (1979).

Supervision of foreign public utilities. — Foreign public utilities authorized to do business in this state are subject to the same supervision as utilities incorporated under the laws of this state. El Paso Elec. Co. v. Real Estate Mart, Inc., 92 N.M. 581, 592 P.2d 181 (1979).

Authorized condemner may be liable in trespass. — An authorized condemner may be liable in trespass to a property owner for taking more land than is reasonably necessary or for causing excessive damage by the manner in which the taking occurs, but only when there is evidence of fraud, bad faith or gross abuse of discretion. North v. Pub. Serv. Co., 101 N.M. 222, 680 P.2d 603 (Ct. App.), cert. denied, 101 N.M. 11, 677 P.2d 624 (1983).

Damages for trespass when authorized condemner is liable cover only that portion of the damage over and above what results from the taking itself. North v. Pub. Serv. Co., 101 N.M. 222, 680 P.2d 603 (Ct. App.), cert. denied, 101 N.M. 11, 677 P.2d 624 (1983).

Procedure for compensation for prior entry is exclusive. — In those jurisdictions in which there may be a constitutional taking of property by virtue of an exercise of the power of eminent domain prior to the payment of compensation, such procedure is justified by reason of legislative provision for an adequate method of obtaining just compensation by the owner. Under such circumstances the statutory remedy is deemed exclusive, and the owner is prevented from asserting the ordinary common-law actions arising from interference with his title or possession. Kaiser Steel Corp. v. W.S. Ranch Co., 81 N.M. 414, 467 P.2d 986 (1970).

Landowner cannot assert common-law action for damages. Zobel v. Pub. Serv. Co., 75 N.M. 22, 399 P.2d 922 (1965).

Trespass lies where there is no right to condemn. — Where parties are mistaken in their belief that they had the right to condemn, a trespass action would be proper. Kaiser Steel Corp. v. W.S. Ranch Co., 81 N.M. 414, 467 P.2d 986 (1970).

When consequential damages permitted. — Where a utility takes possession of property and grades roads outside the 100-foot easement allowed by Section 62-1-4 NMSA 1978, the condemnees are entitled to consequential damages if they can prove that the value of their property depreciated by reason of the entry and grading. El Paso Elec. v. Real Estate Mart, Inc., 98 N.M. 490, 650 P.2d 12 (Ct. App.), cert. denied, 98 N.M. 590, 651 P.2d 636 (1982).

Stipulation as to power of court to award damages held binding. — Stipulation is binding on the parties and properly given effect on remand where it was agreed that if a gas utility seeking to enjoin erection of a dwelling over its main line was found not to have a prescriptive easement, evidence of damages for the line crossing defendant's property would be considered by the court. S. Union Gas Co. v. Cantrell, 57 N.M. 612, 261 P.2d 645 (1953).

Condemnees may appeal although warrants have been issued to attorneys. — Where the clerk issued warrants to attorneys for condemnees for amounts of awards in eminent domain, but these warrants were not delivered to or endorsed by condemnees and funds that were deposited with clerk remained in hands of clerk, condemnees had not received benefit from judgment and were not barred from appealing judgment. AT & T Co. v. Walker, 77 N.M. 755, 427 P.2d 267 (1967).

As to right to trial by jury, and waiver thereof. — El Paso Elec. v. Real Estate Mart, Inc., 98 N.M. 490, 650 P.2d 12 (Ct. App.), cert. denied, 98 N.M. 590, 651 P.2d 636 (1982).

ANNOTATIONS

Compiler's notes. — Sections 62-1-1 to 62-1-7 of the Public Utility Act are still effective as the repeal of Chapter 62, Article 1 by Laws 1998, Chapter 108, Section 82, effective July 1, 2003 was repealed prior to taking effect by Chapter 23, Section 1, Laws 2003. Although Laws 2003, Chapter 336, Section 8, amended Laws 1998, Chapter 82, as amended, an amendment of a repealed section is ineffective. See Quintana v. N.M. Dep't of Corrs., 100 N.M. 224, 668 P.2d 1101 (1983). Laws 2003, Chapter 416, Section 5 also repealed Laws 1998, Chapter 108, Section 82, as amended, a second time, however, that repeal is of no effect as the section had previously been repealed by Chapter 23, Section 1, Laws 2003.

62-1-6. Foreign municipal corporation; ownership; supervision.

B. The state and its political subdivisions, notwithstanding any provisions contained in Chapter 62, Article 1 NMSA 1978, shall assess for taxation the property of any such foreign municipal corporation and shall levy taxes against its property and facilities in New Mexico in the same manner and to the same extent as electric properties owned by private corporations are now or may hereafter be taxed in this state.

C. The provisions of this section shall not operate to prevent a municipal corporation located in another state and further than twenty-five miles from the boundary of the state of New Mexico from owning any interest in a jointly owned generating facility.

ANNOTATIONS

Compiler's notes. — The 1915 Code compilers substituted the words "this article" for "this act." They presumably refer to Code 1915, ch. 23, art. 3, the effective provisions of which are compiled as 62-1-1 to 62-1-5 and 62-2-1 to 62-2-22 NMSA 1978, while the original reference to "this act" meant Laws 1887, ch. 12, the effective provisions of which are compiled as 62-2-1 to 62-2-19, 62-2-21 and 62-2-22 NMSA 1978.

Sections 62-2-1 to 62-2-22 of the Public Utility Act are still effective as the repeal of Chapter 62, Article 2 by Laws 1998, Chapter 108, Section 82, effective July 1, 2003 was repealed prior to taking effect by Chapter 23, Section 1, Laws 2003. Although Laws 2003, Chapter 336, Section 8, amended Laws 1998, Chapter 82, as amended, an amendment of a repealed section is ineffective. See Quintana v. N.M. Dep't of Corrs., 100 N.M. 224, 668 P.2d 1101 (1983). Laws 2003, Chapter 416, Section 5 also repealed Laws 1998, Chapter 108, Section 82, as amended, a second time, however, that repeal is of no effect as the section had previously been repealed by Chapter 23, Section 1, Laws 2003.

62-2-6. [Directors; qualifications; election.]

The corporate powers of any corporation formed under this article shall be exercised by a board of not less than three directors who shall be stockholders of the company, and a majority of them citizens of the United States, and at least one-third of whom shall be residents of this state. Such directors shall be elected annually, after the expiration of the term of the directors named in the articles of incorporation, at such time and place, and upon such notice, and in such mode as the bylaws of the company may provide; but all such elections shall be by ballot, and each stockholder, either in person or by proxy, shall be entitled to as many votes as he owns shares of stock, and the persons receiving the greatest number of votes shall be declared elected. When a vacancy occurs in the office of director by death, resignation or otherwise, such vacancy shall be filled for the remainder of the year in such manner as the bylaws shall prescribe. Should there be no election of directors, on the day fixed in the bylaws for such election, such election may be held at such other time as the bylaws may designate, and the directors in office may continue to act until their successors are elected.

62-2-17. [Construction of works; eminent domain.]

Such corporations shall be authorized to construct such branch, lateral or side canals, pipelines or ditches, as may be necessary to successfully accomplish the objects and purposes for which they shall be organized, and shall have the same rights and powers as to the taking and appropriating of land and other property, to be used therefor, as is given and conferred by the next preceding section [62-2-16 NMSA 1978], or other sections of this article.

ANNOTATIONS

Compiler's notes. — The 1915 Code compilers substituted the words "this article" for "this act." They presumably refer to Code 1915, ch. 23, art. 3, the effective provisions of which are compiled as 62-1-1 to 62-1-5 and 62-2-1 to 62-2-22 NMSA 1978, while the original reference to "this act" meant Laws 1887, ch. 12, the effective provisions of which are compiled as 62-2-1 to 62-2-19, 62-2-21 and 62-2-22 NMSA 1978.

Sections 62-2-1 to 62-2-22 of the Public Utility Act are still effective as the repeal of Chapter 62, Article 2 by Laws 1998, Chapter 108, Section 82, effective July 1, 2003 was repealed prior to taking effect by Chapter 23, Section 1, Laws 2003. Although Laws 2003, Chapter 336, Section 8, amended Laws 1998, Chapter 82, as amended, an amendment of a repealed section is ineffective. See Quintana v. N.M. Dep't of Corrs., 100 N.M. 224, 668 P.2d 1101 (1983). Laws 2003, Chapter 416, Section 5 also repealed Laws 1998, Chapter 108, Section 82, as amended, a second time, however, that repeal is of no effect as the section had previously been repealed by Chapter 23, Section 1, Laws 2003.

Right to condemn implies conveyance of water is "public use". — The legislature, in Section 72-1-5 NMSA 1978, has given to persons, firms, associations and corporations, the right to condemn land right-of-way for the purpose of conveying water for beneficial uses. Since the power of eminent domain cannot be exercised without a "public use" being present, the legislature has impliedly declared such a "public use" to be present in such conveyance of water. Kaiser Steel Corp. v. W.S. Ranch Co., 81 N.M. 414, 467 P.2d 986 (1970).

Section grants power only to corporations organized under article. — The powers of this section are limited to corporations incorporated under Sections 62-2-1 to 62-2-22 NMSA 1978. Mutual domestic water or sewage works association as organized under the Sanitary Projects Act of 1957 has no power of eminent domain. 1967 Op. Att'y Gen. No. 67-50.

62-2-18. Acquiring land of minors and incapacitated persons.

Should it become necessary for any such corporation to acquire the title to any land or other property belonging to any minor or incapacitated person, or which may belong to the estate of any deceased person, the title to any such property may be obtained in such manner as may be provided by law for the conveyance, sale or disposal of the land or other property belonging to minors or incapacitated persons or the estates of deceased persons.

ANNOTATIONS

Compiler's notes. — Sections 62-2-1 to 62-2-22 of the Public Utility Act are still effective as the repeal of Chapter 62, Article 2 by Laws 1998, Chapter 108, Section 82, effective July 1, 2003 was repealed prior to taking effect by Chapter 23, Section 1, Laws 2003. Although Laws 2003, Chapter 336, Section 8, amended Laws 1998, Chapter 82, as amended, an amendment of a repealed section is ineffective. See Quintana v. N.M. Dep't of Corrs., 100 N.M. 224, 668 P.2d 1101 (1983). Laws 2003, Chapter 416, Section 5 also repealed Laws 1998, Chapter 108, Section 82, as amended, a second time, however, that repeal is of no effect as the section had previously been repealed by Chapter 23, Section 1, Laws 2003.

62-2-19. [Use of materials on state lands.]

Corporations formed under this article for the purpose of furnishing or supplying water for any of the purposes mentioned in Section 62-2-1 NMSA 1978, shall have the right to use any timber, stone or other materials upon lands belonging to the state, and along the line of their canals or ditches, or in the vicinity of such reservoirs as may be necessary in the construction thereof.

62-2-20. [Corporations for serving cities and towns; rights and privileges.]

All corporations which have been heretofore or may hereafter be formed under the laws of New Mexico for the purpose of supplying water for domestic, irrigating or manufacturing purposes, for cities or towns, with a population of three thousand persons or more, shall have all the powers and shall be entitled to all the rights and privileges so far as they may be necessary for the transaction of the business of any and all such corporations as are conferred on railroad companies.

ARTICLE 3

Public Utility Act; Preamble and Definitions

62-3-1. Declaration of policy.

A. Public utilities, as defined in Section 62-3-3 NMSA 1978, are affected with the public interest in that, among other things:

(1) a substantial portion of public utilities' business and activities involves the rendition of essential public services to a large number of the general public;

(2) public utilities' financing involves the investment of large sums of money, including capital obtained from many members of the general public; and

(3) the development and extension of public utilities' business directly affects the development, growth and expansion of the general welfare, business and industry of the state.

B. It is the declared policy of the state that the public interest, the interest of consumers and the interest of investors require the regulation and supervision of public utilities to the end that reasonable and proper services shall be available at fair, just and reasonable rates and to the end that capital and investment may be encouraged and attracted so as to provide for the construction, development and extension, without unnecessary duplication and economic waste, of proper plants and facilities and demand-side resources for the rendition of service to the general public and to industry.

History: 1953 Comp., § 68-3-1, enacted by Laws 1967, ch. 96, § 2; 2008, ch. 24, § 1.

ANNOTATIONS

Repeals and reenactments. — Laws 1967, ch. 96, § 2, repealed former 68-3-1, 1953 Comp., relating to declaration of policy, and enacted a new section.

Compiler's notes. — Sections 62-3-1 to 62-3-5 of the Public Utility Act are still effective as the repeal of Chapter 62, Article 3 by Laws 1998, Chapter 108, Section 82, effective July 1, 2003 was repealed prior to taking effect by Chapter 23, Section 1, Laws 2003. Although Laws 2003, Chapter 336, Section 8, amended Laws 1998, Chapter 82, as amended, an amendment of a repealed section is ineffective. See Quintana v. N.M. Dep't of Corrs., 100 N.M. 224, 668 P.2d 1101 (1983). Laws 2003, Chapter 416, Section 5 also repealed Laws 1998, Chapter 108, Section 82, as amended, a second time, however, that repeal is of no effect as the section had previously been repealed by Chapter 23, Section 1, Laws 2003.

The 2008 amendment, effective May 14, 2008, in Subsection B, provided that capital and investment should provide for demand-side resources.

Telecommunications. — The Public Utilities Act does not apply to telecommunication services. In re Proposed Merger of Qwest Commc'ns Int'l, Inc., 2002-NMSC-006, 131 N.M. 770, 42 P.3d 1219.

Public regulation commission derives its authority and jurisdiction from the New Mexico Public Utility Act. City of Sunland Park v. N.M. Pub. Regulation Comm'n., 2004-NMCA-024, 135 N.M. 143, 85 P.3d 267, cert. denied, 2004-NMCERT-002, 135 N.M. 169, 86 P.3d 47.

Goals of utility regulation have been established. — The legislature has established certain goals which utility regulation and supervision are intended to achieve: reasonable and proper services should be made available to the public at fair, just and reasonable rates, and capital and investment should be encouraged and attracted for the plants and facilities which are to render that service. S. Union Gas Co. v. N.M. Pub. Serv. Comm'n, 84 N.M. 330, 503 P.2d 310 (1972).

Utilities excluded from commission's jurisdiction. — Absent a regulatory provision stating otherwise, or absent a willingness of the utility to serve "an indefinite public," any utilities not expressly brought within the scope of The Public Utility Act are excluded from the commission's jurisdiction. Morningstar Water Users Ass'n v. N.M. Pub. Util. Comm'n, 120 N.M. 579, 904 P.2d 28 (1995).

Section lists some, but not all, points of public interest. — A preamble is a declaration by the legislature of the reasons for the passage of the statute and is helpful in the interpretation of any ambiguities within the statute to which it is prefixed; however, the points of public interest in this section are not the only ones contemplated by the legislature. Griffith v. N.M. Pub. Serv. Comm'n, 86 N.M. 113, 520 P.2d 269 (1974).

Supervision of foreign public utilities. — Foreign public utilities authorized to do business in this state are subject to the same supervision as utilities incorporated under the laws of this state. El Paso Elec. Co. v. Real Estate Mart, Inc., 92 N.M. 581, 592 P.2d 181 (1979).

Public service commission's (now public regulation commission's) powers only come from statute. — The public service commission (now public regulation commission) is an administrative body created by statute and must therefore find its authority and jurisdiction conferred upon it either expressly or by necessary implication from the same statutory authority. N.M. Elec. Serv. Co. v. N.M. Pub. Serv. Comm'n, 81 N.M. 683, 472 P.2d 648 (1970).

Commission may not distinguish between forms of ownership in rate-making. — The New Mexico legislature has made no distinction between public utilities operated as individuals, firms, partnerships, companies or corporations. Nowhere in the New Mexico Public Utility Act is the commission given authority, for the purpose of rate-making, to make a distinction between a public utility operated as a corporation from one operated as a sole proprietorship. Moyston v. N.M. Pub. Serv. Comm'n, 76 N.M. 146, 412 P.2d 840 (1966).

Order that refund be passed on to consumers. — Public service commission (now public regulation commission) has no express or implied statutory authority to order the flow-through of refunds to electric company from power supplier to consumers. N.M. Elec. Serv. Co. v. N.M. Pub. Serv. Comm'n, 81 N.M. 683, 472 P.2d 648 (1970).

Where refund was not trust fund for consumers. — Where refund was ordered paid over to power company by the federal power commission without any restrictions, and there was nothing in the order indicating an intention on the part of the commission to create a "trust fund" for the benefit of the ultimate consumers, the refund did not constitute a trust fund belonging to company's customers. N.M. Elec. Serv. Co. v. N.M. Pub. Serv. Comm'n, 81 N.M. 683, 472 P.2d 648 (1970).

Charitable contributions and lobbying expenditures not passable to consumers.

— A commission order which essentially prohibited utility companies from including charitable contributions and lobbying expenditures in their cost of service, and from thereby passing those expenses on to the ratepayers was a reasonable exercise of the commission's authority pursuant to Subsection B. El Paso Elec. Co. v. N.M. Pub. Serv. Comm'n, 103 N.M. 300, 706 P.2d 511 (1985).

Advertising costs passable to consumers. — A commission order which allowed utility companies to include in their cost of service, and pass on to their ratepayers, expenditures for "informational" advertising (e.g., safety, billing practices, etc.), but not expenditures for "institutional" advertising (e.g., enhancement of corporate image), and which required that a utility show by "clear and convincing" evidence that an advertising expense is allowable was a reasonable exercise of the commission's authority pursuant to Subsection B, to insure that utility services are available "at fair, just and reasonable rates." El Paso Elec. Co. v. N.M. Pub. Serv. Comm'n, 103 N.M. 300, 706 P.2d 511 (1985).

Rate increases to compensate predecessor utility for expenses. — The public service commission (now public regulation commission) did not have jurisdiction over rate increases requested by a natural gas distribution company to compensate the company's predecessor, which was not currently a public utility, for expenses incurred by the latter in fulfilling its function as a public utility. S. Union Gas Co. v. N.M. Pub. Util. Comm'n, 1997-NMSC-056, 124 N.M. 176, 947 P.2d 133.

Lowering gas rate to reimburse for overpayment is subject to bankruptcy stay provisions. — Lowering of gas rate to reimburse customers for previous overpayments is not a rate setting function of the public service commission and, as such, was subject to bankruptcy stay provisions. In re Jal Gas Co., 44 B.R. 91 (Bankr. D.N.M. 1984).

Financial affairs of public utilities are strictly regulated. — It is the public policy of the state to require strict regulation of the financial affairs of public utilities, to the end that they may be adequately financed and, among other things, render service at reasonable rates. Hogue v. Superior Utils., Inc., 53 N.M. 452, 210 P.2d 938 (1949).

Both ratepayers and investors must be justly treated. — In the determining of a proper rate of return under the statute, enough actual dollars must be produced that both ratepayers and investors are justly and reasonably treated. S. Union Gas Co. v. N.M. Pub. Serv. Comm'n, 84 N.M. 330, 503 P.2d 310 (1972).

Commission is vested with considerable discretion in determining whether a rate to be received and charged is just and reasonable. Hobbs Gas Co. v. N.M. Pub. Serv. Comm'n, 94 N.M. 731, 616 P.2d 1116 (1980).

Commission not limited in factors to be considered in setting rates. — Neither New Mexico case law nor the Public Utility Act imposes any one particular method of valuation upon the commission in ascertaining the rate base of a utility; nor does the spirit of the statute tie the commission down to the consideration of a single factor in establishing rates. Hobbs Gas Co. v. N.M. Pub. Serv. Comm'n, 94 N.M. 731, 616 P.2d 1116 (1980).

Commission must consider income taxes in fixing rates. — Rates which failed entirely to take federal and state income taxes to which unincorporated utility's operations had been subjected into account as operating expenses are unfair, unjust, unreasonable and discriminatory, and an amount equal to the tax the utility would pay, if incorporated, was a reasonable and realistic amount to be deducted from the utility's taxable income for rate-making purposes. Moyston v. N.M. Pub. Serv. Comm'n, 76 N.M. 146, 412 P.2d 840 (1966).

Evidence must show rate fixed is reasonable and will achieve goals. — District court's holding below that commission's order was unreasonable and unlawful because it did not simply turn the cost of capital percentage directly into a rate of return was upheld by supreme court because it found there was little or no evidence that the particular rate chosen by the commission would achieve the statutory goals and therefore was unreasonable. S. Union Gas Co. v. N.M. Pub. Serv. Comm'n, 84 N.M. 330, 503 P.2d 310 (1972).

Valuation methods must be supported by substantial evidence. — Where gas company seeking rate increase proposed to trend the general plant account items by using a nationally recognized index, but the commission instead inserted its own method - to simply use the untrended original cost, although the witness who strongly supported this approach admitted that he did not know whether this would accurately establish the reproduction cost of the items, the court held the commission's order was unreasonable, being unsupported by substantial evidence. S. Union Gas Co. v. N.M. Pub. Serv. Comm'n, 84 N.M. 330, 503 P.2d 310 (1972).

Commission may not remove entire construction item because interest was included. — The district court erred in failing to hold unreasonable and unlawful the commission's removal of $673,574 of construction work in progress from the company's rate base on the reasoning that it had included the interest on that amount, $4904.62, when the object was to determine accurately the value of the company's property. S. Union Gas Co. v. N.M. Pub. Serv. Comm'n, 84 N.M. 330, 503 P.2d 310 (1972).

Utility cannot contract against its negligence in performing duties. — A public service corporation, or a public utility such as an electric company, cannot contract against its negligence in the regular course of its business or in performing one of its duties of public service or where a public duty is owed or where public interest is involved. Sw. Pub. Serv. Co. v. Artesia Alfalfa Growers' Ass'n, 67 N.M. 108, 353 P.2d 62 (1960).

Requiring exhaustion of administrative remedies is constitutional. — The requirement of the Public Utility Act that a person first exhaust his administrative remedy before resorting to the courts does not violate N.M. Const., art. VI, § 13, granting general jurisdiction to the district courts except as elsewhere limited in such constitution. Smith v. S. Union Gas Co., 58 N.M. 197, 269 P.2d 745 (1954).

Procedure may not be changed arbitrarily. — Although the public service commission (now public regulation commission) should be able to change its procedure, it should not arbitrarily or capriciously do so without good reasons. S. Union Gas Co. v. N.M. Pub. Serv. Comm'n, 84 N.M. 330, 503 P.2d 310 (1972).

Motion to bring record of previous case before court properly stricken. — It was not error on the part of the district court to strike the commission's motion for an amended praecipe, where this motion would have had the effect of bringing the record of a previous case before the court, and the record of that case was not a part of the record in the instant case. S. Union Gas Co. v. N.M. Pub. Serv. Comm'n, 84 N.M. 330, 503 P.2d 310 (1972).

Indians on reservation are not subject to regulation. — Indians acquiring gas resources from sources wholly upon Indian reservations within the state of New Mexico are not public utilities subject to regulation by the public service commission (now public regulation commission) of New Mexico. 1953-54 Op. Att'y Gen. No. 53-5690.

Indians operating a gas distribution system wholly on an Indian reservation regardless of the manner in which they acquire the gas on the reservation are not subject to the laws of the state of New Mexico in relation to regulation as public utilities. 1953-54 Op. Att'y Gen. No. 53-5690.

Selling television signals does not require certificate. — There does not exist any requirement that a business, consisting of sale of television transmission signals, obtain a certificate of convenience and necessity from either the public service commission (now public regulation commission) of New Mexico or the corporation commission (now public regulation commission) of New Mexico before commencing to do business. 1953-54 Op. Att'y Gen. No. 54-5942.

Individual selling water to municipal utility is regulated utility. — An individual operating a water service and selling at wholesale water to a municipally owned utility would be a public utility to the extent this operation effects the public interest and as such would be subject to the jurisdiction of the public service commission (now public regulation commission). 1953-54 Op. Att'y Gen. No. 53-5715.

General jurisdiction does not cover water and sanitation districts. — The legislature did not intend to place water and sanitation districts under the general jurisdiction of the public service commission (now public regulation commission). 1971 Op. Att'y Gen. No. 71-56.

Commission is given jurisdiction of water and sanitation district rates. — Water and sanitation districts have not been declared to be subject to the jurisdiction of the public service commission (now public regulation commission) except in the limited area of approving the district board's rates, tolls and charges. 1971 Op. Att'y Gen. No. 71-56.

62-3-2. Objects and purposes; liberal interpretation; repeal of inconsistent statutory provisions.

A. The following are the objects and purposes of this act.

(1) Experience has proven that electric service by rural electric cooperatives must be furnished under the regulation of the commission in order to effectuate the purposes of both the Rural Electric Cooperative Act [Chapter 62, Article 15 NMSA 1978], as amended, and the Public Utility Act [Chapter 62, Articles 1 through 6 and 8 through 13 NMSA 1978], as amended, and that without extending the coverage of the Public Utility Act, as amended, to rural electric cooperatives, the declared policy of the Public Utility Act, as amended, and the general welfare, business and industry of the state may be frustrated.

(2) It is the declared policy of the state that preservation of the public health, safety and welfare, the interest of consumers and the interest of investor-members require that the construction, development and extension of utility plants and facilities be without unnecessary duplication and economic waste. Experience has proven that this purpose cannot be accomplished without bringing the rural electric cooperatives and persons heretofore recognized as public utilities into parity of treatment with respect to the commission's independent jurisdiction and power to prevent unreasonable interference between proposed and existing plants, lines and systems.

(3) Experience has also proven that rural electric cooperatives are substantially different from investor-owned utilities, particularly relative to setting rates. Under the Rural Electric Cooperative Act, rural electric cooperatives are nonprofit membership corporations whose members have direct control over the cooperative's rates through an elected board of trustees. Generally, consumers of the cooperative's power are members. In contrast, consumers of power from investor-owned utilities have no control over the setting of rates by such utilities which are profit motivated. Experience has proven that the costs to rural electric cooperatives and the public at large in complete government regulation of their rates is greatly disproportionate to the need and benefits of complete rate regulation and interferes with the setting of fair, just and reasonable rates to all utilities. Experience has shown that a rational basis exists to provide procedures for setting rates of rural electric cooperatives different from and more limited than those for setting rates of investor-owned utilities. Without limiting government regulation of rate setting by rural electric cooperatives as provided by Section 62-8-7 NMSA 1978, the declared policy of the Public Utility Act, the provision of reasonable and proper utility services at fair, just and reasonable rates, and the general welfare, business and industry of the state may be frustrated.

(4) It is the intent of the legislature in enacting this statute to bring up to date the laws pertaining to public utilities and rural electric cooperatives so that the rural electric cooperative which is a public utility is subject to reasonable burdens and entitled to reasonable benefits which apply to public utilities generally, to insure more reasonable public regulation and supervision of public utilities, to facilitate the prevention of unnecessary duplication and economic waste between utility systems and to establish a system which will more adequately provide for the development and extension of reasonable and proper utility services at fair, just and reasonable rates. The accomplishment of this intent is necessary and vital to the preservation of the public health, safety and welfare.

B. This act shall be liberally construed to carry out its purposes.

C. Nothing contained in any other act governing the creation and operation of rural electric cooperatives which are public utilities, including Laws 1937, Chapter 100 and the Rural Electric Cooperative Act, as amended, shall be construed to conflict with any duty to which such a utility may be subject or with any benefit to which such a utility may be entitled under the Public Utility Act, as now or hereafter amended. In the event any provision of such other act, including Laws 1937, Chapter 100 or the Rural Electric Cooperative Act, as now or hereafter amended, is held to be repugnant to any provision of the Public Utility Act, as now or hereafter amended, the latter shall be controlling and the former is repealed to the extent of the repugnancy.

ANNOTATIONS

Compiler's notes. — The term "this act", referred to in Subsections A and B, first appears in Laws 1985, ch. 176, which is codified at 62-3-2 and 62-8-7 NMSA 1978, but is probably intended to be a reference to the Public Utility Act.

Sections 62-3-1 to 62-3-5 of the Public Utility Act are still effective as the repeal of Chapter 62, Article 3 by Laws 1998, Chapter 108, Section 82, effective July 1, 2003 was repealed prior to taking effect by Chapter 23, Section 1, Laws 2003. Although Laws 2003, Chapter 336, Section 8, amended Laws 1998, Chapter 82, as amended, an amendment of a repealed section is ineffective. See Quintana v. N.M. Dep't of Corrs., 100 N.M. 224, 668 P.2d 1101 (1983). Laws 2003, Chapter 416, Section 5 also repealed Laws 1998, Chapter 108, Section 82, as amended, a second time, however, that repeal is of no effect as the section had previously been repealed by Chapter 23, Section 1, Laws 2003.

Cross references. — For Public Utility Act repealing repugnant provisions of Rural Electric Cooperative Act, see 62-15-32 NMSA 1978.

The 1985 amendment deleted "hereby declared to be" following "The following are" and "1967" following "purposes of this" in the introductory paragraph of Subsection A, deleted "public service" preceding "commission" near the beginning of Subsection A(1), substituted "this purpose" for "such purpose", "plants" for "plant" and "systems" for "system" in the second sentence of Subsection A(2), added present Subsection A(3), renumbered former Subsection A(3) as present Subsection A(4), substituting "which is a public utility is subject to reasonable burdens and entitled to reasonable benefits which apply to public utilities generally, to insure more reasonable public regulation" for "subject to all the burdens and entitled to all the benefits which apply to public utilities generally, to insure more rigid public regulation" in that subsection, deleted "1967" following "This" at the beginning of Subsection B, divided the former provisions of Subsection C into two sentences, substituting "operation of rural electric cooperatives which are public utilities" for "operation of public utilities brought under the regulation of the commission by virtue of this 1967 act" and deleting "and" following "hereafter amended" in the first sentence and substituting "is held to be" for "shall be held to be"

and deleting "shall be, and" following "former" and "hereby" following "former is" in the second sentence of Subsection C.

Cooperatives may not be made utilities but excepted from regulations upon others. — Laws 1961, ch. 89 (repealed), insofar as it attempted to place rural electric cooperatives under the Public Utility Act by including them within the definition of "public utility" constituted an arbitrary and unreasonable classification in violation of the equal protection clauses because cooperatives were included in the act though not required to render service to the general public and no provision was made for complete regulation of rates charged by them or securities issued by them, whereas other electric utilities had to render service to the public and their rates and financing were completely supervised and controlled. *Cnty. Formerly, rural electric cooperatives were not regulated by public utilities commission (now public regulation commission). Socorro Elec. Coop. v. Pub. Serv. Co., 66 N.M. 343, 348 P.2d 88 (1959).

Commission may not order that refund be passed on to consumers. — Public service commission (now public regulation commission) has no express or implied statutory authority to order the flow-through of refunds to electric company from power supplier to consumers. *N.M. Where refund was not trust fund for consumers. — Where refund was ordered paid over to power company by the federal power commission without any restrictions, and there was nothing in the order indicating an intention on the part of the commission to create a "trust fund" for the benefit of the ultimate consumers, the refund did not constitute a trust fund belonging to company's customers. *N.M. 62-3-2.1. Objects and purposes; liberal interpretation.

A. The following are declared to be the objects and purposes of this 1985 act. Experience has proven that the costs to ratepayers of small water utilities with annual revenues of less than five hundred thousand dollars ($500,000) and the public at large in complete government regulation of their rates is greatly disproportionate to the need and benefits of complete rate regulation and interferes with setting of fair, just and reasonable rates to all utilities. A rational basis exists to provide procedures for setting rates of such small water utilities different from and more limited than those for setting rates of other utilities. Without limiting government regulation of rate setting by small water utilities as provided by Section 62-8-7.1 NMSA 1978, the declared policy of the Public Utility Act [Chapter 62, Articles 1 through 6 and 8 through 13 NMSA 1978], as amended, the provision of reasonable and proper utility services at fair, just and reasonable rates, and the general welfare, business and industry of the state may be frustrated.

B. The following are hereby declared to be the objects and purposes of these 1987 amendments to the Public Utility Act. Because small sewer utilities are similar to small water utilities, the costs to ratepayers of small sewer utilities with annual revenues of less than five hundred thousand dollars ($500,000) and the public at large in complete government regulation of their rates is greatly disproportionate to the need and benefits of complete rate regulation and interferes with setting of fair, just and reasonable rates to all utilities. A rational basis exists to provide procedures for setting rates of such small sewer utilities different from and more limited than those for setting rates of other utilities. Without limiting government regulation of rate setting by small sewer utilities as provided by Section 62-8-7.1 NMSA 1978, the declared policy of the Public Utility Act, the provision of reasonable and proper utility services at fair, just and reasonable rates, and the general welfare, business and industry of the state may be frustrated.

C. The following are declared to be the objects and purposes of this 1991 act. Experience has proven that the construction, development and extension of proper plants and facilities cannot be accomplished without unnecessary duplication and economic waste within areas certificated to water and sewer utilities without controls against duplicative intrusions into certificated areas by municipal utilities. A rational basis exists to prohibit intrusion of municipal water or sewer facilities or service into areas in which a public utility furnishes regulated services until that municipality elects to come within the terms of the Public Utility Act, in which event both systems will be brought into parity of treatment with respect to the commission's independent jurisdiction and power to prevent unreasonable interference between competing plants, lines and systems. Without such controls as provided by Section 62-9-1.1 NMSA 1978, the declared policy of the Public Utility Act, the provision of reasonable and proper utility services at fair, just and reasonable rates and the general welfare, business and industry of the state may be frustrated.

D. The provisions of the 1985 and 1987 acts and of this 1991 act shall be liberally construed to carry out their purposes.

History: Laws 1985, ch. 221, § 1; 1987, ch. 52, § 1; 1991, ch. 143, § 1.

Compiler's notes. — Sections 62-3-1 to 62-3-5 of the Public Utility Act are still effective as the repeal of Chapter 62, Article 3 by Laws 1998, Chapter 108, Section 82, effective July 1, 2003 was repealed prior to taking effect by Chapter 23, Section 1, Laws 2003. Although Laws 2003, Chapter 336, Section 8, amended Laws 1998, Chapter 82, as amended, an amendment of a repealed section is ineffective. See Quintana v. N.M. Dep't of Corrs., 100 N.M. 224, 668 P.2d 1101 (1983). Laws 2003, Chapter 416, Section 5 also repealed Laws 1998, Chapter 108, Section 82, as amended, a second time, however, that repeal is of no effect as the section had previously been repealed by Chapter 23, Section 1, Laws 2003.

"This 1985 act", referred to in the first sentence of Subsection A, and "the 1985 . . . acts," referred to in Subsection D, refer to Laws 1985, ch. 221, which is presently compiled as 62-3-2.1, 62-8-7, and 62-8-7.1 NMSA 1978.

The terms "these 1987 amendments," referred to in the first sentence in Subsection B, and "1987 act," referred to in Subsection D, apparently mean Laws 1987, ch. 52, which appears as 62-3-2.1, 62-3-3, 62-8-7.1 and 62-9-2.1 NMSA 1978.

The term, "this 1991 act", referred to in Subsections C and D, refers to Laws 1991, ch. 143, which is presently compiled as 62-3-2.1 and 62-9-1.1 NMSA 1978.

The 1991 amendment, effective April 3, 1991, substituted "62-8-7.1 NMSA 1978" for "62-8-7 NMSA 1978, as amended" near the end of Subsection A and added Subsections C and D.

The 1987 amendment, effective June 19, 1987, added Subsection B and made a minor word change near the beginning of Subsection A.

An exception for small municipalities was not created. — Subsection C of Section 62-3-2.1 NMSA 1978 lacks the explicit language required to create an exception subjecting small municipalities to the Public Utility Act or to public regulation commission jurisdiction, prohibit municipal utilities from serving in areas covered by a public utility's certificate of convenience and necessity, or expand the scope of the Public Utility Act or the public regulation commission's jurisdiction over municipalities beyond the controls identified in Section 62-9-1.1 NMSA 1978. Moongate Water Co., Inc. v. City of Las Cruces, 2012-NMCA-003, 269 P.3d 1, cert. granted, 2012-NMCERT-001.

(6) any plant, property or facility for the sale or furnishing to or for the public of goods or services to reduce the consumption of or demand for electricity or natural gas, and is either a public utility under the definitions found in Paragraph (1) or (2) of this subsection, or is an alternative energy efficiency provider as described in Section 62-17-7 NMSA 1978;

"Renewable energy" does not include fossil fuel or nuclear energy;

J. "service" or "service regulation" means every rule, regulation, practice, act or requirement relating to the service or facility of a utility;

K. "Class I transaction" means the sale, lease or provision of real property, water rights or other goods or services by an affiliated interest to a public utility with which it is affiliated or by a public utility to its affiliated interest;

L. "Class II transaction" means:

(1) the formation after May 19, 1982 of a corporate subsidiary by a public utility or a public utility holding company by a public utility or its affiliated interest;

(2) the direct acquisition of the voting securities or other direct ownership interests of a person by a public utility if such acquisition would make the utility the owner of ten percent or more of the voting securities or other direct ownership interests of that person;

(3) the agreement by a public utility to purchase securities or other ownership interest of a person other than a nonprofit corporation, contribute additional equity to, acquire additional equity interest in or pay or guarantee any bonds, notes, debentures, deeds of trust or other evidence of indebtedness of any such person; provided, however, that a public utility may honor all agreements entered into by such utility prior to May 19, 1982; or

The 1998 amendment, effective January 1, 1999, deleted "Words and Phrases" in the section heading; substituted "public regulation" for "New Mexico public utility" in Subsection B; in Subsection C, substituted "commissioner" for "commissioners" near the beginning and deleted "any" preceding "a member of" near the end; substituted "a" for "any" near the beginning of Subsection D; in Subsection E, substituted "an individual, firm, partnership, company" for "individuals, firms, partnerships, companies" near the beginning, substituted "cooperative" for "cooperatives" near the middle of Subsection E, substituted "corporation or lessee, trustee or receiver" for "as amended, corporations and lessees, trustees or receivers" near the middle, and substituted "'Person' does" for "It shall" in two places in Subsection E; near the end of Subsection G, deleted "now does or hereafter"; and made minor stylistic changes throughout the section.

The 1993 amendment, effective June 18, 1993, rewrote Subsection A and made stylistic changes in Subsection M.

The 1987 amendment, effective June 19, 1987, in Subsection G, substituted "stated in Section 62-3-4 and 62-3-4.1 NMSA 1978" for "hereinafter stated" in the opening clause and added Paragraph (5) and made minor language changes throughout the section.

Franchise fees are not rates. — Franchise fees charged by counties pursuant to Section 62-1-3 NMSA 1978 are not rates as defined in Section 62-3-3 NMSA 1978 and do not fall within the jurisdiction of the public regulation commission. El Paso Elec. Co. v. N.M. Pub. Regulation Comm'n, 2010-NMSC-048, 149 N.M. 174, 246 P.3d 443.

Franchise fees are not taxes. — Franchise fees charged by counties pursuant to Section 62-1-3 NMSA 1978 are not taxes that the public regulation commission may consider when setting rates. El Paso Elec. Co. v. N.M. Pub. Regulation Comm'n, 2010-NMSC-048, 149 N.M. 174, 246 P.3d 443.

Franchise fees are not items included in adjustment clauses. — Franchise fees charged by counties pursuant to Section 62-1-3 NMSA 1978 are not within the jurisdiction of the public regulation commission by analogy to fuel and purchased power adjustment clauses, over which the commission has jurisdiction under Section 62-8-7 NMSA 1978. El Paso Elec. Co. v. N.M. Pub. Regulation Comm'n, 2010-NMSC-048, 149 N.M. 174, 246 P.3d 443.

Line item charge for franchise fees. — The public regulation commission did not have jurisdiction to enter an order requiring a public utility to stop including on customer's bills the franchise fee charges paid by the utility to a county for the right to use county right-of-way to deliver utility service to county residents and businesses. El Paso Elec. Co. v. N.M. Pub. Regulation Comm'n, 2010-NMSC-048, 149 N.M. 174, 246 P.3d 443.

United States and governmental agencies are not "persons". — The legislature, under this section, did not see fit to include or even mention the United States or governmental agencies as "persons." S. Union Gas Co. v. N.M. Pub. Serv. Comm'n, 82 N.M. 405, 482 P.2d 913 (1971), overruled on another point by De Vargas Sav. & Loan Ass'n v. Campbell, 87 N.M. 469, 535 P.2d 1320 (1975).

The words "person or corporation" do not in their ordinary signification mean a sovereign government. S. Union Gas Co. v. N.M. Pub. Serv. Comm'n, 82 N.M. 405, 482 P.2d 913 (1971), overruled on another point by De Vargas Sav. & Loan Ass'n v. Campbell, 87 N.M. 469, 535 P.2d 1320 (1975).

Public Service Company of New Mexico. — Although considered a "public utility" under this section, the Public Service Company of New Mexico (PNM) is essentially a private corporation, not a public governmental agency, and its works are not to be considered as "public works" projects. Cnty. of Santa Fe v. Pub. Serv. Co., 311 F.3d 1031 (10th Cir. 2002).

Readiness to serve public is principal characteristic of public utility. — The principal determinative characteristic of a public utility is that of service to, or readiness to serve, an indefinite public (or portion of the public as such) which has a legal right to demand and receive its services or commodities. Llano, Inc. v. S. Union Gas Co., 75 N.M. 7, 399 P.2d 646 (1964).

In determining a public utility question, the test is whether or not a person holds himself out, expressly or impliedly, as engaged in the business of supplying his product or service to the public, as a class, or to any limited portion of it. Griffith v. N.M. Pub. Serv. Comm'n, 86 N.M. 113, 520 P.2d 269 (1974).

The public or private character of the enterprise does not depend on the number of persons by whom it is used, but on whether or not it is open to the use and service of all members of the public who may require it, to the extent of its capacity. Griffith v. N.M. Pub. Serv. Comm'n, 86 N.M. 113, 520 P.2d 269 (1974); Llano, Inc. v. S. Union Gas Co., 75 N.M. 7, 399 P.2d 646 (1964).

Sufficient part to clothe operation with public interest. — The phrase "to the public" means sufficient sales to the public to clothe the operation with a public interest and does not mean willingness to sell to each and every one of the public without discrimination. Griffith v. N.M. Pub. Serv. Comm'n, 86 N.M. 113, 520 P.2d 269 (1974).

Class II transaction not found. — Electric utility's investment in building non-utility facilities for paper company in exchange for the company's promise to reimburse the utility over time through charges for steam and water service was not a purchase of a "security" under Subsection K(3) (now Subsection L(3)), and therefore did not constitute a Class II transaction, so as to require prior commission approval. Plains Elec. Generation & Transmission Coop. v. N.M. Pub. Util. Comm'n, 1998-NMSC-038, 126 N.M. 152, 967 P.2d 827.

Corporation not serving public is not public utility. — Where corporation had not held nor was holding itself as ready, willing and able to provide natural gas service to or for the public or any segment thereof, it could not be considered a public utility. Llano, Inc. v. S. Union Gas Co., 75 N.M. 7, 399 P.2d 646 (1964).

Water association in control of developer of subdivision is public utility, as the character of the use is to serve all members of the public who buy lots from the developer, and the extent of the use is that an entire housing development is dependent upon the association for a prime necessity of life. Griffith v. N.M. Pub. Serv. Comm'n, 86 N.M. 113, 520 P.2d 269 (1974).

Formerly, cooperatives did not come within definition of "public utility". Socorro Elec. Coop. v. Pub. Serv. Co., 66 N.M. 343, 348 P.2d 88 (1959).

Public service (now public regulation) commission was not required to delineate an electric cooperative's service area where part of its system was in an area previously certificated to another utility. Lea Cnty. Elec. Coop. v. N.M. Pub. Serv.

Comm'n, 75 N.M. 191, 402 P.2d 377 (1965), cert. denied, 385 U.S. 969, 87 S. Ct. 506, 17 L. Ed. 2d 433 (1966).

Cooperatives may not be made utilities but excepted from regulations upon others. — Laws 1961, ch. 89 (repealed), insofar as it attempted to place rural electric cooperatives under the Public Utility Act by including them within the definition of "public utility" constituted an arbitrary and unreasonable classification in violation of the equal protection clauses because cooperatives were included in the act though not required to render service to the general public and no provision was made for complete regulation of rates charged by them or securities issued by them, whereas other electric utilities had to render service to the public and their rates and financing were completely supervised and controlled. Cmty. Pub. Serv. Co. v. N.M. Pub. Serv. Comm'n, 76 N.M. 314, 414 P.2d 675, cert. denied, 385 U.S. 933, 87 S. Ct. 292, 17 L. Ed. 2d 213 (1966).

No distinction made between utilities based on form of ownership. — The New Mexico legislature has made no distinction between public utilities operated as individuals, firms, partnerships, companies or corporations. Nowhere in the New Mexico Public Utility Act is the commission given authority, for the purpose of rate-making, to make a distinction between a public utility operated as a corporation from one operated as a sole proprietorship. Moyston v. N.M. Pub. Serv. Comm'n, 76 N.M. 146, 412 P.2d 840 (1966).

Municipality not an "interested electric utility." — The definition of "person" in Subsection E of this section controls the meaning of "interested electric utility" in Section 62-6-25B NMSA 1978 and, thus, a municipality that had not elected to come within the terms of the Public Utility Act was not authorized to seek wheeling orders from the commission. Pub. Serv. Co. v. N.M. Pub. Util. Comm'n, 1999-NMSC-040, 128 N.M. 309, 992 P.2d 860.

Regulation of "optional utility programs." — Commission had jurisdiction to require utility to establish a corporate subsidiary for purposes of instituting gas and electric "optional utility programs," which included surge suppression, maintenance and repair services, information services, and power quality solutions. PNM Elec. Servs. v. N.M. Pub. Util. Comm'n, 1998-NMSC-017, 125 N.M. 302, 961 P.2d 147.

Unregulated municipalities must comply with liquefied petroleum gas statutes. — Inasmuch as municipally operated and owned utilities are not subject to regulation by the public service commission (now public regulation commission) (unless they so elect), a village is required to comply with provisions relating to liquefied petroleum gas. 1947-48 Op. Att'y Gen. No. 48-5156.

Obligation of state agency. — A state agency, like any other user of utility service, has the statutory obligation to pay the rates therefor, including any late charges, under schedules approved by the commission, since late charges fall within the definition of "rate" in this section. 1988 Op. Att'y Gen. No. 88-80.

Extent of undertaking limits obligation to serve. — One who undertakes to serve the public undertakes an obligation which is limited by the extent of his profession, and he cannot be compelled to serve beyond the limits of that profession. Gas utility not required to serve city constructing line to utility's line. 1957-58 Op. Att'y Gen. No. 57-277.

Corporation may subject itself to regulation by selling electricity for resale to public. — When one utility sells electrical energy to another utility only, and not to the public, it is not subject to the provisions of this section, but notwithstanding the fact that by such operation it does not become a public utility, it subjects itself to regulation by the public service commission (now public regulation commission) when sale of the electricity is for resale to the public, to the extent necessary to determine that the cost to the utility shall be reasonable. 1951-52 Op. Att'y Gen. No. 52-5618.

Corporation may subject itself to regulation by selling water to municipal utility. — An individual operating a water service and selling at wholesale to a municipally-owned utility would be a public utility to the extent his operation affects the public interest and as such is subject to the jurisdiction of the public service commission (now public regulation commission). 1953-54 Op. Att'y Gen. No. 53-5715.

62-3-4. Limitations and exceptions.

A. The term "public utility" or "utility", when used in the Public Utility Act [Chapter 62, Articles 1 through 6 and 8 through 13 NMSA 1978], shall not include:

(1) any person not otherwise a public utility who furnishes the service or commodity only to himself, his employees or tenants, when such service or commodity is not resold to or used by others, or who engages in the retail distribution of natural gas for vehicular fuel; or

(2) a corporation engaged in the business of operating a railroad and that does not primarily engage in the business of selling the service or commodity but that only incidentally to its railroad business or occasionally furnishes the service or commodity to another under a separate limited or revocable agreement or sells to a utility or municipality for resale, or that sells the service or commodity to another railroad, the state or federal government or a governmental agency, or that sells or gives for a consideration under revocable agreements or permits quantities of water out of any surplus of water supply acquired and held by it primarily for railroad purposes; and such railroad corporation shall not be subject to any of the provisions of the Public Utility Act.

B. The business of any public utility other than of the character defined in Subsection G of Section 62-3-3 NMSA 1978 is not subject to provisions of the Public Utility Act.

History: 1953 Comp., § 68-3-3, enacted by Laws 1967, ch. 96, § 4; 1992, ch. 58, § 9; 1998, ch. 108, § 46.

ANNOTATIONS

Repeals and reenactments. — Laws 1967, ch. 96, § 4, repealed former 68-3-3, 1953 Comp., relating to limitations on and exceptions from definition of "public utility," and enacted the above section.

Compiler's notes. — Sections 62-3-1 to 62-3-5 of the Public Utility Act are still effective as the repeal of Chapter 62, Article 3 by Laws 1998, Chapter 108, Section 82, effective July 1, 2003 was repealed prior to taking effect by Chapter 23, Section 1, Laws 2003. Although Laws 2003, Chapter 336, Section 8, amended Laws 1998, Chapter 82, as amended, an amendment of a repealed section is ineffective. See Quintana v. N.M. Dep't of Corrs., 100 N.M. 224, 668 P.2d 1101 (1983). Laws 2003, Chapter 416, Section 5 also repealed Laws 1998, Chapter 108, Section 82, as amended, a second time, however, that repeal is of no effect as the section had previously been repealed by Chapter 23, Section 1, Laws 2003.

The 1998 amendment, effective January 1, 1999, added new Subsection A, redesignated former Subsection A as Paragraph A(1), and deleted "as amended" following "shall not include:" near the middle of the Subsection; redesignated former Subsection B as Paragraph A(2), and in that Paragraph, deleted "as amended. Nothing contained in that act shall be construed as giving to the commission any powers or jurisdiction over public utilities covered by Section 7 of Article 11 of the constitution of New Mexico" from the end; and added new Subsection B.

The 1992 amendment, effective May 20, 1992, added the subsection designations; added "or who engages in the retail distribution of natural gas for vehicular fuel" at the end of Subsection A; substituted "Subsection G of Section 62-3-3 NMSA 1978" for "Subdivision F of Section 68-3-2 New Mexico Statutes Annotated, 1953 Compilation hereof" in the first sentence of the second paragraph of Subsection B; and made minor stylistic changes throughout the section.

Supplier of water to public is public utility. — In order to preserve the public welfare, any person not engaged solely in interstate business, who operates a facility which supplies water to the public for domestic use, is a public utility unless he supplies water only to himself, his tenants or his employees. Griffith v. N.M. Pub. Serv. Comm'n, 86 N.M. 113, 520 P.2d 269 (1974).

Railroad furnishing water to town is not regulated by commission. — Public service commission (now public regulation commission) lacks jurisdiction in case in which a railroad which has been furnishing water service to an unincorporated town for years proposes to discontinue the same. 1947-48 Op. 62-3-4.1. Certain persons not public utility.

A. Notwithstanding anything in the Public Utility Act [Chapter 62, Articles 1 through 6 and 8 through 13 NMSA 1978] to the contrary, no person not otherwise a public utility shall be deemed to be a public utility subject to the jurisdiction, control or regulation of the commission and the provisions of the Public Utility Act solely because such person owns or controls all or any part of any plant, property or facility described in Paragraph (1) of Subsection G of Section 62-3-3 NMSA 1978:

(1) which is leased or held for lease or sale to any public utility or other lessee; or

(2) the operation and use of which is vested by lease or other contract in a public utility or other lessee; or

(3) for a period of not more than ninety days after termination of any lease or contract described in Paragraph (1) or (2) of this subsection or after such person gains possession of such property following a breach of such lease or contract.

B. The commission may upon application by a public utility issue its order approving the terms of any lease or contract described in Paragraph (1) or (2) of Subsection A of this section for the purpose of qualifying any party thereto for an exemption by the United States securities and exchange commission from the federal Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935, as amended (Chapter 2C of Title 15 of the United States Code).

C. A public utility leasing all or any part of any plant, property or facility described in Paragraph (1) of Subsection G of Section 62-3-3 NMSA 1978 which is subject to any lease or contract described in this section shall comply with Section 62-9-1 NMSA 1978 with respect to such plant, property or facility.

D. Nothing in this section shall alter or modify the authority of the commission to regulate the rates and services of a person that is a public utility subject to the provisions of the Public Utility Act.

History: Laws 1981, ch. 345, § 1.

62-3-5. Collection of fees by public utilities.

Any public utility that owns or operates a public water supply system upon whom a fee is imposed pursuant to Section 74-1-7 or 74-1-8 NMSA 1978 shall be entitled immediately to collect the fee from its ratepayers, without a request for a change in rates. The utility shall notify the New Mexico public utility commission in writing of the imposition of the fee and, if practicable, shall show the fee as a separate line item on its bill.

ARTICLE 4

Joint Hearings and Orders

62-4-1. Joint hearings and orders.

The commission, in the discharge of its duties under the Public Utility Act [Chapter 62, Articles 1 through 6 and 8 through 13 NMSA 1978], may make joint investigations, hold joint hearings within or without the state and issue joint or concurrent orders in conjunction or concurrence with any official or agency of any state, the United States or any New Mexico Indian nation, tribe or pueblo. In the holding of such investigations or hearings or in the making of such order, the commission may function under agreements or compacts between states to regulate interstate commerce. The commission, in the discharge of its duties under the Public Utility Act, may also negotiate and enter into agreements or compacts with agencies of other states, pursuant to any consent of congress, for cooperative efforts in certificating the construction, operation and maintenance of major utility facilities in accord with the purposes of the Public Utility Act and for the enforcement of the respective state laws regarding same.

The 1998 amendment, effective January 1, 1999, deleted "public utility" following "The" at the beginning of the section; substituted "may" for "is authorized to" near the beginning of the section; substituted "or any New Mexico Indian nation, tribe or pueblo" for "whether" near the middle of the section; substituted "may also" for "is further authorized to" near the end of the section.

The 1993 amendment, effective June 18, 1993, substituted "public utility commission" for "public service commission" in the first sentence.

ARTICLE 5 New Mexico Public Utility Commission

(Repealed by Laws 1998, ch. 108, § 81.)

62-5-1 to 62-5-11. Repealed.

ANNOTATIONS

Repeals. — Laws 1998, ch. 108, § 81 repealed 62-5-1 to 62-5-11 NMSA 1978, as enacted by Laws 1941, ch. 84, §§ 7, 11, and 13 and as amended by Laws 1977, ch. 247, § 179, Laws 1979, ch. 261, § 1, and Laws 1993, ch. 282, §§ 23, 24, 25, 26, 27, and 45, relating to the operation of the public utility commission, effective January 1, 1999. For provisions of former sections, see the 1997 NMSA 1978 on NMONESOURCE.COM.

ARTICLE 6 Powers and Duties of Commission

62-6-1 to 62-6-3. Repealed.

ANNOTATIONS

Repeals. — Laws 1998, ch. 108, § 81 repealed 62-6-1 to 62-6-3 NMSA 1978, as enacted by Laws 1941, ch. 84, §§ 14-16, relating to adoption of rules, reports to governor, and commissioners and employees rendering service to public utilities, effective January 1, 1999. For provisions of former sections, see the 1997 NMSA 1978 on NMONESOURCE.COM.

62-6-4. Supervision and regulation of utilities.

A. The commission shall have general and exclusive power and jurisdiction to regulate and supervise every public utility in respect to its rates and service regulations and in respect to its securities, all in accordance with the provisions and subject to the reservations of the Public Utility Act [Chapter 62, Articles 1 through 6 and 8 through 13 NMSA 1978], and to do all things necessary and convenient in the exercise of its power and jurisdiction. Nothing in this section, however, shall be deemed to confer upon the commission power or jurisdiction to regulate or supervise the rates or service of any utility owned and operated by any municipal corporation either directly or through a municipally owned corporation or owned and operated by any H class county, by a class B county as defined in Section 4-36-8 NMSA 1978 or by a class A county as described by Section 4-36-10 NMSA 1978 either directly or through a corporation owned by or under contract with an H class county, by a class B county as defined in Section 4-36-8 NMSA 1978 or by a class A county as described by Section 4-36-10 NMSA 1978 or the rates, service, securities or class I or class II transactions of a generation and transmission cooperative. No inspection or supervision fees shall be paid by generation and transmission cooperatives, or by such municipalities or municipally owned corporations, a class B county as defined in Section 4-36-8 NMSA 1978, a class A county as described by Section 4-36-10 NMSA 1978 or H class counties or such corporation owned by or under contract with a class B county as defined in Section 4-36-8 NMSA 1978, a class A county as described by Section 4-36-10 NMSA 1978 or an H class county with respect to operations conducted in a class B county as defined in Section 4-36-8 NMSA 1978, in a class A county as described by Section 4-36-10 NMSA 1978 or in H class counties.

B. The sale, furnishing or delivery of gas, water or electricity by any person to a utility for resale to or for the public shall be subject to regulation by the commission but only to the extent necessary to enable the commission to determine that the cost to the utility of the gas, water or electricity at the place where the major distribution to the public begins is reasonable and that the methods of delivery of the gas, water or electricity are adequate; provided, however, that nothing in this subsection shall be construed to permit regulation by the commission with respect to a generation and transmission cooperative, except location control pursuant to Section 62-9-3 NMSA 1978 and limited rate regulation to the extent provided in Subsection D of this section, or of production or sale price at the wellhead of gas or petroleum.

C. The sale, furnishing or delivery of coal, uranium or other fuels by any affiliated interest to a utility for the generation of electricity for the public shall be subject to regulation by the commission but only to the extent necessary to enable the commission to determine that the cost to the utility of the coal, uranium or other fuels at the point of sale is reasonable and that the methods of delivery of the electricity are adequate; provided, however, that nothing in this subsection shall be construed to permit regulation by the commission of production or sale price at the wellhead of gas or petroleum. Nothing in this section shall be construed to permit regulation by the commission of production or sale price at the point of production of coal, uranium or other fuels.

D. New Mexico rates proposed by a generation and transmission cooperative shall be filed with the commission in the form of an advice notice, a copy of which shall be simultaneously served on all member utilities. Any member utility may file a protest of the proposed rates no later than twenty days after the generation and transmission cooperative files the advice notice. If three or more New Mexico member utilities file protests and the commission determines there is just cause in at least three of the protests for reviewing the proposed rates, the commission shall suspend the rates, conduct a hearing concerning reasonableness of the proposed rates and establish reasonable rates. Each protest must contain a clear and concise statement of the specific grounds upon which the protestant believes the proposed rates are unreasonable or otherwise unlawful; a brief description of the protestant's efforts to resolve its objections directly with the generation and transmission cooperative; a clear and concise statement of the relief the protestant seeks from the commission; and a formal resolution of the board of trustees of the protesting member utility authorizing the filing of the protest. In order to determine whether just cause may exist for review, the commission shall consider whether each protestant has exhausted remedies with the generation and transmission cooperative or whether the generation and transmission cooperative has unreasonably rejected the protestant's objections to the proposed rates. A member utility shall present its objections to the generation and transmission cooperative in writing and allow a reasonable period for the generation and transmission cooperative to attempt resolution of, or otherwise respond to, those objections. A period of seven days after receipt of written objections will be deemed reasonable for the generation and transmission cooperative to provide a written response to the member utility, but a written response is not required if such time period extends beyond twenty days after the date on which the generation and transmission cooperative filed the advice notice. The generation and transmission cooperative and its members are expected to make a good faith effort to resolve the member utility's objections to the proposed rates during that period of time.

E. As used in this section, "generation and transmission cooperative" means a person with generation or transmission facilities either organized as a rural electric cooperative pursuant to Laws 1937, Chapter 100 or the Rural Electric Cooperative Act [Chapter 62, Article 15 NMSA 1978] or organized in another state and providing sales of electric power to member cooperatives in this state.

ANNOTATIONS

Compiler's notes. — Sections 62-6-4 to 62-6-26.1 of the Public Utility Act are still effective as the repeal of Chapter 62, Article 6 by Laws 1998, Chapter 108, Section 82, effective July 1, 2003 Chapter 108, Section 82 was repealed prior to taking effect by Chapter 23, Section 1, Laws 2003. Although Laws 2003, Chapter 336, Section 8, amended Laws 1998, Chapter 82, as amended, an amendment of a repealed section is ineffective. See Quintana v. N.M. Dep't of Corrs., 100 N.M. 224, 668 P.2d 1101 (1983). Laws 2003, Chapter 416, Section 5 also repealed Laws 1998, Chapter 108, Section 82, as amended, a second time, however, that repeal is of no effect as the section had previously been repealed by Chapter 23, Section 1, Laws 2003.

The 2003 amendment, effective April 8, 2003, deleted "as defined in the Electric Utility Industry Restructuring Act of 1999" following "and transmission cooperative" in Subsections A and B and added Subsection E.

The 2000 amendment, effective March 7, 2000, in Subsection A, added "or the rates, service, securities or class I or class II transactions of a generation and transmission cooperative as defined in the Electric Industry Restructuring Act of 1999" at the end of the second sentence, inserted "generation and transmission cooperatives, or by" near the beginning of the third sentence; in Subsection B, inserted the phrase beginning "with respect to a generation" and ending "to the extent provided in Subsection D of this section, or" and deleted "except regulation of abandonment pursuant to Section 62-7-8 NMSA 1978" from the end, as well as from Subsection C following "gas or petroleum"; and added Subsection D.

The 1996 amendment, effective March 6, 1996, in Subsection A, inserted "a class A county as described by Section 4-36-10 NMSA 1978", and made stylistic changes.

The 1993 amendment, effective April 8, 1993, in Subsection A, substituted "reservations" for "reservation" in the first sentence, divided the former second sentence into the present second and third sentences, and inserted references to a class B county as defined in Section 4-36-8 NMSA 1978 in two places in the second sentence and in three places in the third sentence; and in Subsection B and the first sentence of Subsection C, made stylistic changes.

Express jurisdiction over rates is given to commission. — This section vests in the commission express jurisdiction, among other things, to regulate and supervise every public utility as respects its rates. Potash Co. of Am. v. N.M. Pub. Serv. Comm'n, 62 N.M. 1, 303 P.2d 908 (1956).

Including jurisdiction over increase in contract rate. — Where the commission had entered an order authorizing a public utility to enter into a contract and to continue to charge the gas rate therein specified until further notice and on the ex parte petition of the utility subsequently entered an interlocutory order making a rate increase to be effective until the commission could hold a hearing to determine and set a new and proper rate, the commission was moving strictly in conformity with the act creating it to determine one of the major questions submitted to its jurisdiction - a question of rates. Potash Co. of Am. v. N.M. Pub. Serv. Comm'n, 62 N.M. 1, 303 P.2d 908 (1956).

Sanitary projects association not a public utility. — A sanitary projects association (see Article 29 of Chapter 3 NMSA 1978) was not transformed into a public utility by selling water to a limited number of nonmember water haulers and was not subject to the public service commission's (now public regulation commission's) regulatory jurisdiction. El Vadito De Los Cerrillos Water Ass'n v. N.M. Pub. Serv. Comm'n, 115 N.M. 784, 858 P.2d 1263 (1993).

Commission is vested with considerable discretion in determining whether a rate to be received and charged is just and reasonable. Hobbs Gas Co. v. N.M. Pub. Serv. Comm'n, 94 N.M. 731, 616 P.2d 1116 (1980).

Commission does not have exclusive jurisdiction over rate disputes. — Neither N.M. Const., art. XI, § 7 (now repealed) nor the Telephone and Telegraph Company Certification Act grants the state corporation commission (now public regulation commission) general power and exclusive jurisdiction over disputes involving rates charged by a telephone company. First Cent. Serv. Corp. v. Mountain Bell Tel., 95 N.M. 509, 623 P.2d 1023 (Ct. App. 1981) (decided prior to 1996 amendment to N.M. Const., art. XI, § 2).

Scope of authority. — Commission staff had the capacity to conduct settlement negotiations to determine the rate treatment of a utility's ownership interest in a nuclear generating station. Att'y Gen. v. N.M. Pub. Serv. Comm'n, 111 N.M. 636, 808 P.2d 606 (1991).

Regulation of "optional utility programs." — Commission had jurisdiction to require utility to establish a corporate subsidiary for purposes of instituting gas and electric "optional utility programs," which included surge suppression, maintenance and repair services, information services, and power quality solutions. PNM Elec. Servs. v. N.M. Pub. Util. Comm'n, 1998-NMSC-017, 125 N.M. 302, 961 P.2d 147.

Complete remedy for testing rates provided. — The Public Utility Act envelops the commission with an aura of broad power and jurisdiction to determine just and reasonable rates and sets up a complete remedy within the framework of the act for testing their propriety and reasonableness. Potash Co. of Am. v. N.M. Pub. Serv. Comm'n, 62 N.M. 1, 303 P.2d 908 (1956).

Reasonable variations in rates permissible. — Subsection D of this section explicitly authorizes the New Mexico public regulation commission to conduct a hearing concerning the reasonableness of proposed rates and establish reasonable rates; rates incorporating unreasonable differences or discriminations would be unreasonable under Subsection D; there is nothing in the statute, however, indicating that the legislature intended to impose a flat ban on reasonable variations in utility rates of service between localities due to differing costs of service to different areas. Tri-State Generation & Transmission Ass'n v. N.M. Pub. Regulation Comm'n, 2015-NMSC-013.

Where generation and transmission cooperative filed with the New Mexico public regulation commission new advice notices setting interim utility rates, during the pendency of a suspended new utility rate design, that set one rate for protesting members of the cooperative and a different rate for non-protesting members of the cooperative, the commission's decision to reject the advice notices, claiming that they were discriminatory as a matter of law, was contrary to law; this section does not prohibit reasonable variations in utility rates, and the New Mexico supreme court held that the rates that the generation and transmission cooperative prescribe were not unreasonably discriminatory and there was no evidence otherwise of unreasonable discrimination. Tri-State Generation & Transmission Ass'n v. N.M. Pub. Regulation Comm'n, 2015-NMSC-013.

Authority over generation and transmission cooperatives. — Subsection D of this section is the only Public Utility Act's source of the New Mexico public regulation commission's authority over the utility rates of a generation and transmission cooperative. Tri-State Generation & Transmission Ass'n v. N.M. Pub. Regulation Comm'n, 2015-NMSC-013.

Where generation and transmission cooperative filed with the New Mexico public regulation commission new advice notices setting interim utility rates, during the pendency of a suspended new utility rate design, that set one rate for protesting members of the cooperative and a different rate for non-protesting members of the cooperative, the commission's reliance on 62-8-6 NMSA 1978 to reject the advice notices, claiming that they were discriminatory as a matter of law, was contrary to law; 62-8-6 NMSA 1978 cannot be the source of the commission's authority to disapprove the rates of a generation and transmission cooperative when the language of 62-8-6 NMSA 1978 expressly applies only to public utilities, and when Subsection D of this section is the only Public Utility Act's source of the commission's authority over the utility rates of generation and transmission cooperatives. Tri-State Generation & Transmission Ass'n v. N.M. Pub. Regulation Comm'n, 2015-NMSC-013.

A hearing concerning reasonableness is mandatory following a determination of "just cause". — When the New Mexico public regulation commission determines just cause in at least three protests of any generation and transmission cooperative advice notice, Subsection D of this section requires a commission hearing on the reasonableness of the protested rates, without distinguishing between interim and permanent rates. Tri-State Generation & Transmission Ass'n v. N.M. Pub. Regulation Comm'n, 2015-NMSC-013.

Where generation and transmission cooperative filed with the New Mexico public regulation commission new advice notices setting interim utility rates, during the pendency of a suspended new utility rate design, that set one rate for protesting members of the cooperative and a different rate for non-protesting members of the cooperative, the commission's decision to reject the advice notices without a hearing on reasonableness, claiming that the interim rate design was identical to the suspended rate design, was contrary to law; following a determination of just cause in at least three protests of any generation and transmission cooperative advice notice, Subsection D of this section requires a commission hearing on the reasonableness of the protested rates, without distinguishing between interim and permanent rates. Tri-State Generation & Transmission Ass'n v. N.M. Pub. Regulation Comm'n, 2015-NMSC-013.

Public Regulation Commission Rule 27 does not apply to generation and transmission cooperatives. — Rule 27, the New Mexico public regulation commission's regulation establishing that a utility has the burden of supporting its interim rate relief request with evidence, is a form of relief from the rate-making powers the commission exercises over public utilities and not over generation and transmission cooperatives. Tri-State Generation & Transmission Ass'n v. N.M. Pub. Regulation Comm'n, 2015-NMSC-013.

Where generation and transmission cooperative filed with the New Mexico public regulation commission new advice notices setting interim utility rates, during the pendency of a suspended new utility rate design, that set one rate for protesting members of the cooperative and a different rate for non-protesting members of the cooperative, the commission's decision to reject the advice notices without a hearing, claiming the advice notices lacked the evidentiary support required by Rule 27, which establishes that a utility has the burden of supporting its interim rate relief request with evidence, was contrary to law; interim rate relief is a concept unique to public utilities because the only way a public utility can change its rates is by commission approval; a generation and transmission cooperative does not need to seek the commission's approval for interim rates because a generation and transmission cooperative can agree to a new rate and file that new rate pursuant to Subsection D of this section without requesting interim rate relief under Rule 27, and Subsection D does not require a generation and transmission cooperative to carry any burden of proof or pleading in order to set its rates. Tri-State Generation & Transmission Ass'n v. N.M. Pub. Regulation Comm'n, 2015-NMSC-013.

Requiring exhaustion of administrative remedies is constitutional. — The requirement of the Public Utility Act that a person first exhaust his administrative remedy before resorting to the courts does not violate N.M. Const., art. VI, § 13, granting general jurisdiction to the district courts except as elsewhere limited in such constitution. Smith v. S. Union Gas Co., 58 N.M. 197, 269 P.2d 745 (1954).

Public service commission's (now public regulation commission's) order unconstitutional. — Orders of the public service commission (now public regulation commission) that effectively deregulated the retail side of the electric power industry in New Mexico in the absence of a statutory mandate from the legislature exceeded the commission's authority and violated the separation of powers doctrine. State ex rel. Sandel v. N.M. Pub. Util. Comm'n, 1999-NMSC-019, 127 N.M. 272, 980 P.2d 55.

All utilities not municipally owned are subject to commission's jurisdiction. — Under the Public Utility Act, the public regulation commission has no jurisdiction over public utilities that are owned and operated by a municipal corporation, unless they agree otherwise. City of Sunland Park v. N.M. Pub. Regulation Comm'n., 2004-NMCA-024, 135 N.M. 143, 85 P.3d 267, cert. denied, 2004-NMCERT-002, 135 N.M. 169, 86 P.3d 47.

Power of commission does not extend to acts of utility not affecting its public duties; its jurisdiction is limited to matters or controversies wherein the rights of a utility and the public are involved. Its duties begin and end with conservation of the public interest, and are not concerned with individual rights of private litigants, and, ordinarily, it has no power to adjudicate purely private matters between a utility and an individual, or between two utilities. Sw. Pub. Serv. Co. v. Artesia Alfalfa Growers' Ass'n, 67 N.M. 108, 353 P.2d 62 (1960).

Jurisdiction of condemnation proceedings. — Because the 2000 amendment to Subsection A of this section exempted generation and transmission cooperatives from the regulatory jurisdiction of the public regulation commission, the commission lacked jurisdiction to consider an application under Section 42A-1-9 NMSA 1978 by a generation and transmission cooperative to enter and survey land for condemnation suitability studies. Tri-State Generation & Transmission Ass'n. v. King, 2003-NMSC-029, 134 N.M. 467, 78 P.3d 1226.

No power to alter common-law rule regarding allocation of relocation costs. — Because the legislature has not empowered the public regulation commission to alter the common-law rule permitting local governments to require utilities to bear the costs of system relocation required by public safety, the commission could not prohibit a city from requiring the Public Service Company of New Mexico to bear the costs of relocation required by ordinance where the commission did not find the ordinance to be unreasonable. City of Albuquerque v. N.M. Pub. Regulation Comm'n, 2003-NMSC-028, 134 N.M. 472, 79 P.3d 297.

Construction and enforcement of private contracts are for courts, not commission. — The commission, under the broad powers given it by the legislature, has the right to pass upon the question of whether or not a public utility may enter into a given contract, because of the effect such contract may have upon the power of the utility to carry out its purposes, but when a contract is once entered into, its construction and interpretation, and the rights growing out of the same, including the right to terminate, are to be determined by the courts. Power to pass on validity of a private contract or to enforce its provision is entrusted exclusively to the courts. Sw. Pub. Serv. Co. v. Artesia Alfalfa Growers' Ass'n, 67 N.M. 108, 353 P.2d 62 (1960).

Lawsuits involving utility with private parties. — The power in Subsection A of this section to "regulate and supervise" does not preempt lawsuits involving contracts a utility enters into with private parties. Summit Prop., Inc. v. Pub. Serv. Co. of N.M., 2005-NMCA-090, 138 N.M. 208, 118 P.3d 716, cert. denied, 2005-NMCERT-007, 138 N.M. 145, 117 P.3d 951.

Connection fees. — Where there is nothing to indicate that the commission approved of the specific amount to be rebated in the form of connection fees, without approval by the commission, the connection fees cannot be categorized as "filed rates". Summit Prop., Inc. v. Pub. Serv. Co. of N.M., 2005-NMCA-090, 138 N.M. 208, 118 P.3d 716, cert. denied, 2005-NMCERT-007, 138 N.M. 145, 117 P.3d 951.

Contract between utility and consortium of municipalities excluded. — Commission acted within its jurisdiction in excluding from jurisdictional rates a contract between a utility and a consortium of municipalities for the purchase of electricity, where exclusion of the contract in no way affected the municipalities' contract; it only affected the utility's ability to recover the cost of the contract from New Mexico consumers. Pub. Serv. Co. v. N.M. Pub. Serv. Comm'n, 111 N.M. 622, 808 P.2d 592 (1991).

Rate increases to compensate predecessor utility for expenses. — The public service commission (now public regulation commission) did not have jurisdiction over rate increases requested by a natural gas distribution company to compensate the company's predecessor, which was not currently a public utility, for expenses incurred by the latter in fulfilling its function as a public utility. S. Union Gas Co. v. N.M. Pub. Util. Comm'n, 1997-NMSC-056, 124 N.M. 176, 947 P.2d 133.

If wellhead transactions are not involved. — Subsection B makes it abundantly clear that the commission can disallow, for rate-making purposes, any portion of a price paid by a utility which the commission finds to be unreasonable unless wellhead transactions are involved. Maestas v. N.M. Pub. Serv. Comm'n, 85 N.M. 571, 514 P.2d 847 (1973).

Commission may not order that refund be passed on to consumers. —

Commission has no express or implied statutory authority to order the flow-through of refunds to electric company from power supplier to consumers. N.M. Elec. Serv. Co. v. N.M. Pub. Serv. Comm'n, 81 N.M. 683, 472 P.2d 648 (1970).

Where refund is not trust fund for consumers. — Where refund was ordered paid over to power company by the federal power commission without any restrictions, and there was nothing in the order indicating an intention on the part of the commission to create a "trust fund" for the benefit of the ultimate consumers, the refund did not constitute a trust fund belonging to company's customers. N.M. Elec. Serv. Co. v. N.M. Pub. Serv. Comm'n, 81 N.M. 683, 472 P.2d 648 (1970).

Commission's duty under Subsection C. — Commission is only required to find the ultimate fact, that being the reasonableness of the cost of fuel to a utility under Subsection C, and is not required to give reasons for its decision or to make a finding that is not an ultimate finding, such as the arms-length nature of transaction between utility and affiliate from which it purchased the fuel. Att'y Gen. v. N.M. Pub. Serv. Comm'n, 101 N.M. 549, 685 P.2d 957 (1984).

Exemption from state antitrust law. — Arrangements between utilities approved and regulated by commission acting under statutory authority are exempt from state antitrust law. Gonzales v. Pub. Serv. Comm'n, 102 N.M. 529, 697 P.2d 948 (1985).

Supervision of transactions with affiliates and nonaffiliates distinguished. — Normal burden to be met in making a prima facie case regarding costs incurred in transactions with nonaffiliates is a demonstration that the costs were, in fact, incurred; however, the normal burden regarding costs incurred in transactions with affiliates is heavier, requiring a showing of the reasonableness of the costs. Att'y Gen. v. N.M. Pub. Serv. Comm'n, 101 N.M. 549, 685 P.2d 957 (1984).

Commission's general jurisdiction includes safety regulations and inspections. — The general and exclusive power and jurisdiction to regulate and supervise every public utility in respect to its rates and service regulations includes the power to make safety regulations and enforce them through inspections. 1972 Op. Att'y Gen. No. 72-35.

General jurisdiction does not cover water and sanitation districts. — The legislature did not intend to place water and sanitation districts under the general jurisdiction of the commission. 1971 Op. Att'y Gen. No. 71-56.

Approving water and sanitation district rates. — Water and sanitation districts have not been declared to be subject to the jurisdiction of the commission except in the limited area of approving the district board's rates, tolls and charges. 1971 Op. Att'y Gen. No. 71-56.

It is the commission's duty to protect not only the utility but also its patrons. 1969 Op. Att'y Gen. No. 69-81.

Rules and regulations have force of law. — The rules and regulations of the commission duly adopted under this section and Section 62-6-24 NMSA 1978 have the force and effect of law which a utility must obey. 1969 Op. Att'y Gen. No. 69-81.

Compliance with rules excuses discontinuance of service under hazardous conditions. — Compliance with rules of the commission permitting a public utility to immediately discontinue service in the event of a condition determined by the utility to be hazardous would be a defense to a criminal action upon a refusal to render electric service, but the burden would be upon the utility to produce some evidence that the condition was actually hazardous if the criminal action was brought against it, and to prove the existence of the rule itself. 1969 Op. Att'y Gen. No. 69-81.

All utilities not municipally owned are subject to commission's jurisdiction. — The commission is given authority by virtue of this section to regulate and supervise every private utility in respect to its rates and service regulations. This same statute specifically withholds from the commission any jurisdiction to regulate or supervise the rates or service of any utility owned and operated by a municipal corporation either directly or through a municipally owned corporation unless said municipality shall exercise its option to come within the provisions of the Public Utility Act as provided in Section 62-6-5 NMSA 1978. 1957-58 Op. Att'y Gen. No. 57-101.

The commission is not empowered to regulate or supervise the service and rates set by municipally owned utilities either in or outside the corporate limits. 1943-44 Op. Att'y Gen. No. 43-4395.

Commission's jurisdiction exempts utilities from liquefied petroleum gas statutes. — A public utility is exempt from the provisions of the law applicable to liquefied petroleum gases (Section 70-5-1 NMSA 1978 et seq.). The law places the general and exclusive power and jurisdiction to regulate and supervise every public utility in the commission. 1961-62 Op. Att'y Gen. No. 62-07.

Commission may delegate some of its authority over liquefied petroleum gas utilities. — The commission is authorized by this section and by the common law to delegate its authority to inspect and test liquefied petroleum gas utilities to the liquefied petroleum gas commission (now construction industries commission). Only the public service commission (now public regulation commission) can promulgate safety regulations, however, and it must make the final order regarding any violations of regulations. 1972 Op. Att'y Gen. No. 72-35.

Unregulated village must comply with liquefied petroleum gas statutes. — Inasmuch as municipally operated and owned utilities are not subject to regulation by the commission (unless there has been a local option election), a village is required to comply with provisions relating to liquefied petroleum gas. 1947-48 Op. Att'y Gen. No. 48-5156.

Commission may disallow unreasonable gas prices in fixing rates. — This section gives the commission some authority to review the prices of certain intrastate sales of natural gas to a utility. However, the nature of this grant of authority is the power only to determine whether the sale prices set by the parties are unreasonable (i.e., outside of a range of acceptable prices), in which case they should be disallowed for rate-making purposes, as expenses of the utility. This authority of the commission to determine the reasonableness of prices is limited to sales other than (i.e., after) the sale from the wellhead. 1977 Op. Att'y Gen. No. 77-01.

62-6-4.1. Contract carriage of natural gas.

A. The intent and purpose of this section is to encourage lower costs of natural gas for New Mexico consumers by providing competition in natural gas markets through contract carriage. Lower fuel costs are an integral part of New Mexico's economic development efforts because they preserve existing jobs, facilitate expansion of the state's businesses and provide incentives for new industry to locate in New Mexico.

B. The commission shall, by rule or order, authorize and require the nondiscriminatory and nonpreferential transportation of natural gas by any person subject to the jurisdiction of the commission for a seller or purchaser of natural gas to the extent of available capacity and subject to Subsections C and D of this section.

C. The commission may, in its discretion, impose such terms and conditions on the transportation of natural gas as may be necessary to safeguard deliverability and operational efficiency and to prevent undue hardship and anticompetitive conduct by a public utility.

D. The rates and charges for the transportation of natural gas under this section shall be just, reasonable, nondiscriminatory and subject to approval by the commission.

E. For purposes of this section, "transportation" means exchange, backhaul, displacement or any other means of transporting and includes gathering.

F. A public utility shall be prohibited from the marketing and brokering of natural gas for delivery within New Mexico under this section. This prohibition shall not exclude a public utility from transporting natural gas for an affiliated corporation. Any contract to transport natural gas for an affiliate shall be an arms-length agreement containing no terms that are unavailable to other-end users, gas brokers or marketers.

G. The commission, upon a finding that a public utility is in violation of this section, may impose upon the utility a civil penalty not to exceed an amount three times the damages established by the complainant in the commission proceeding and issue such orders, including but not limited to a cease and desist order, to assure the nondiscriminatory and nonpreferential transportation of natural gas.

ANNOTATIONS

Compiler's notes. — Sections 62-6-4 to 62-6-26.1 of the Public Utility Act are still effective as the repeal of Chapter 62, Article 6 by Laws 1998, Chapter 108, Section 82, effective July 1, 2003 Chapter 108, Section 82 was repealed prior to taking effect by Chapter 23, Section 1, Laws 2003. Although Laws 2003, Chapter 336, Section 8, amended Laws 1998, Chapter 82, as amended, an amendment of a repealed section is ineffective. See Quintana v. N.M. Dep't of Corrs., 100 N.M. 224, 668 P.2d 1101 (1983). Laws 2003, Chapter 416, Section 5 also repealed Laws 1998, Chapter 108, Section 82, as amended, a second time, however, that repeal is of no effect as the section had previously been repealed by Chapter 23, Section 1, Laws 2003.

The 1993 amendment, effective June 18, 1993, made a stylistic change in Subsection F, and substituted "The commission" for "The public service commission" at the beginning of Subsection G.

The 1987 amendment, effective June 22, 1987, inserted present Subsection A and relettered the former subsections; in Subsection B, inserted "and nonpreferential" following "and require the nondiscriminatory" and substituted "Subsections C and D" for "Subsections B and C"; in Subsection C, added "and anticompetitive conduct by a public utility" at the end; in Subsection D, inserted "nondiscriminatory" following "shall be just, reasonable"; and added Subsections F and G.

62-6-4.2. Transition cost recovery.

A. Notwithstanding repeal of the Electric Utility Industry Restructuring Act of 1999, unless otherwise waived, a public utility shall be entitled to an opportunity to recover its transition costs. Utilities may retain these transition costs as a regulatory asset on their books pending recovery, which shall be completed by January 1, 2010.

B. For purposes of this section, "transition costs" means the prudent, reasonable and unmitigable costs other than stranded costs, not recoverable elsewhere under either federally approved rates or rates approved by the commission, that a public utility would not have incurred but for its compliance with the requirements of the Electric Utility Industry Restructuring Act of 1999 and rules promulgated pursuant to that act relating to the transition to open access, and the prudent cost of severance, early and enhanced retirement benefits, retraining, placement services, unemployment benefits and health care coverage to public utility nonmanagerial employees who are laid off on or before January 1, 2003, that are not otherwise recovered as a stranded salary and benefits cost. Transition costs shall not include costs that the public utility would have incurred notwithstanding the Electric Utility Industry Restructuring Act of 1999.

62-6-4.3. Public utilities; generating plant investment, construction, acquisition and operation.

A. A public utility may invest in, construct, acquire or operate a generating plant that is not intended to provide retail electric service to New Mexico customers, the cost of which is not included in retail rates and which business activities shall not be subject to regulation by the commission pursuant to the Public Utility Act [Chapter 62, Articles 1 through 6 and 8 through 13 NMSA 1978], except as provided by Section 62-9-3 NMSA 1978. This section shall not diminish a public utility's obligation, by the prudent acquisition of resources, to serve its retail load at a cost of service no higher than the average book cost plus fuel, other operating and maintenance costs and the utility's authorized rate of return on investment of the utility's unregulated generation constructed or acquired after January 1, 2001; provided that this provision does not apply to a public utility that does not acquire unregulated generation after January 1, 2001. The commission shall assure that the regulated business is appropriately credited for any off-system sales made from regulated assets.

B. This section shall apply only to a public utility that began investing in, constructing or acquiring generating plant pursuant to this section before July 1, 2004. This section shall continue to apply until the latest of:

- (1) January 1, 2015;
- (2) the date the public utility divests its interest in [a] generating plant acquired or constructed pursuant to the provisions of this section; or

A public utility that provides both electricity and natural gas distribution services shall not be required to functionally separate its electric and gas transmission, transportation and distribution operations from each other. 62-6-5. Local option.

Notwithstanding any of the provisions in Section 62-6-4 NMSA 1978, any municipality desiring to avail itself of all the benefits of the Public Utility Act [Chapter 62, Articles 1 through 6 and 8 through 13 NMSA 1978] and of the regulatory services of the commission may elect to come within the provisions of that act and to have the utilities owned and operated by it, either directly or through a municipally owned corporation, regulated and supervised under the provisions of that act. When a municipality so elects, in the manner provided in this section, it shall be subject to all the provisions of the Public Utility Act. The election shall be held as follows:

A. at any time after the effective date of the Public Utility Act, the legal voters of any municipality may petition in writing the governing body of the municipality by filing a petition in the office of the municipal clerk to hold an election for the purpose of determining whether the municipality shall be subject to the provisions of that act. If the aggregate of the names signed to the petition equals or exceeds twenty-five percent of the number of legal votes cast in the municipality for governor at the last preceding general election, the governing body of the municipality shall call an election to be held within sixty days of the filing of the petition. Provided, however, that if a general municipal election is to be held for any other purpose within six months of the filing of the petition, the election provided for in this section shall be held at the same time as and through the election machinery used at that election;

B. the election shall be held in the same manner as and with the same registration books as for other municipal elections. The ballots to be submitted to the voters at the election shall present the following questions:

"For regulation of municipally owned utilities by the New Mexico public utility commission

"Against regulation of municipally owned utilities by the New Mexico public utility commission"

The votes at the election shall be counted, returned and canvassed as provided for in general municipal elections. If the majority of all the votes are in favor of regulation of municipally owned utilities, the governing body of the municipality shall declare, by order entered upon the records of the municipality, that it is subject to all the provisions of the Public Utility Act. If the majority of all the votes are against such regulation, the result of the election shall be declared and entered in the same manner; and

C. no elections for the same purpose shall be held within two years of each other.

ANNOTATIONS

Compiler's notes. — Sections 62-6-4 to 62-6-26.1 of the Public Utility Act are still effective as the repeal of Chapter 62, Article 6 by Laws 1998, Chapter 108, Section 82, effective July 1, 2003 Chapter 108, Section 82 was repealed prior to taking effect by Chapter 23, Section 1, Laws 2003. Laws 2003, Chapter 416, Section 5 also repealed Laws 1998, Chapter 108, Section 82, as amended, a second time, however, that repeal is of no effect as the section had previously been repealed by Chapter 23, Section 1, Laws 2003.

The 1993 amendment, effective June 18, 1993, in the introductory language, substituted "Section 62-6-4 NMSA 1978" for "Section 17 hereof" and "may elect" for "created by this Act, shall have the right to elect" in the first sentence, and divided the former first sentence into the present first and second sentences; in Subsection A, substituted "governing body of the municipality" for "Board of Trustees or municipal council" in the first sentence, and rewrote the second sentence; in Subsection B, deleted "may be available" following "books as" in the first sentence, deleted "to the voters" following "shall present" in the second sentence, deleted "of public utilities" following "regulation" in the second sentence in the last paragraph, and substituted "New Mexico public utility commission" for "New Mexico public service commission" in two places; and made stylistic changes throughout the section.

City not within commission's jurisdiction. — A city operating a water facility which had not elected to come under the Public Utility Act and which had a population of less than 200,000 was not a public utility within the jurisdiction of the public utility commission (now public regulation commission). Morningstar Water Users Ass'n v. New Mexico Pub. Util. Comm'n, 120 N.M. 579, 904 P.2d 28 (1995).

Municipality may constitutionally compete with previously franchised utility. — The action of a municipal corporation in undertaking to compete with a privately operated public utility holding a franchise previously granted by the municipality itself in no way violates any constitutional right of the utility whether the right asserted be that based upon the constitutional provision invalidating laws which impair the obligation of a contract or those relating to the taking of property without due process of law, the injuring or destroying of property without just compensation or the denial of the equal protection of the laws. 1957-58 Op. Att'y Gen. No. 58-236.

Section provides exception to exemption of municipalities from commission jurisdiction. — The commission is given authority by virtue of Section 62-6-4 NMSA 1978 to regulate and supervise every private utility in respect to its rates and service regulations. This same statute specifically withholds from the commission any jurisdiction to regulate or supervise the rates or service of any utility owned and operated by a municipal corporation either directly or through a municipally owned corporation unless said municipality shall exercise its option to come within the provisions of the Public Utility Act as provided in this section. 1957-58 Op. Att'y Gen. No. 57-101.

62-6-6. Issuance, assumption or guarantee of securities.

A. The power of a public utility to issue, assume or guarantee securities and to create liens on its property situated within this state is a special privilege subject to the supervision and control of the commission as set forth in the Public Utility Act [Chapter 62, Articles 1 through 6 and 8 through 13 NMSA 1978].

B. Except as provided in Subsection E of this section, a public utility, when authorized by order of the commission and not otherwise, may issue stocks and stock certificates and may issue, assume or guarantee other securities payable at periods of more than eighteen months after the date thereof for the following purposes only:

(1) making loans or grants from the proceeds of federal loans for economic development projects benefiting its service area;

(2) the acquisition of property;

(3) the construction, completion, extension or improvement of its facilities;

(4) the improvement or maintenance of its service;

(5) the discharge or lawful refunding of its obligations; or

(6) the reimbursement of money actually expended for purposes set forth in this subsection from income or from any other money in the treasury not secured by or obtained from the issue, assumption or guarantee of securities, within five years next prior to the filing of an application with the commission for the required authorization.

C. Notwithstanding the provisions of Subsection B of this section, the commission may authorize issuance by a public utility of shares of stock of any class as a dividend on outstanding shares of stock of the public utility of any class and may authorize the issuance of the same or a different number of shares of stock of any class in exchange for outstanding shares of stock of any class of the public utility, and the public utility may issue the stock so authorized.

D. The commission shall not authorize a borrowing under the provisions of Paragraph (1) of Subsection B of this section unless the governing board has approved the borrowing by a two-thirds' majority vote of the members present at a special meeting called for that purpose. The commission shall review the terms of the economic development loan or grant to ascertain the adequacy of any collateral, to have the right to inspect books and review the level of co-participation by the borrower or grantee.

E. Commission approval is not required for the issuance, assumption or guarantee of any security of a public utility whose securities are subject to oversight and approval by the federal government pursuant to the Rural Electrification Act of 1936, as amended, or any successor law to that act.

ANNOTATIONS

Compiler's notes. — Sections 62-6-4 to 62-6-26.1 of the Public Utility Act are still effective as the repeal of Chapter 62, Article 6 by Laws 1998, Chapter 108, Section 82, effective July 1, 2003 Chapter 108, Section 82 was repealed prior to taking effect by Chapter 23, Section 1, Laws 2003. Although Laws 2003, Chapter 336, Section 8, amended Laws 1998, Chapter 82, as amended, an amendment of a repealed section is ineffective. See Quintana v. N.M. Dep't of Corrs., 100 N.M. 224, 668 P.2d 1101 (1983). Laws 2003, Chapter 416, Section 5 also repealed Laws 1998, Chapter 108, Section 82, as amended, a second time, however, that repeal is of no effect as the section had previously been repealed by Chapter 23, Section 1, Laws 2003.

62-6-11. Securities voidable unless approved.

All securities issued, assumed or guaranteed without application to and approval of the commission, except the securities mentioned in Sections 62-6-8 and 62-6-8.1 NMSA 1978, are voidable with the consent of the commission.

ANNOTATIONS

The 2005 amendment, effective July 1, 2005, deleted the former provision that securities are void and provides that securities are voidable with the consent of the commission.

62-6-12. Acquisitions, consolidations, etc.; consent of commission.

A. With the prior express authorization of the commission, but not otherwise:

(1) any two or more public utilities may consolidate or merge with each other so as to form a new concern;

(2) any person and a public utility or public utility holding company may consolidate or merge with each other so as to form a new concern;

(3) stock of a public utility or public utility holding company may be acquired by:

(a) any person who prior to the acquisition of any such stock or part thereof is a person subject to regulation or classified as a public utility or public utility holding company in any jurisdiction;

(b) any person who is or during the course of an acquisition covered by this section becomes subject to regulation or is classified as a public utility or public utility holding company in any jurisdiction based on reasons other than solely the acquisition described in this paragraph;

(c) any person associated, affiliated or acting in concert with any person subject to regulation or classified as a public utility or public utility holding company in any jurisdiction for the purposes of any acquisition subject to the provisions of this section;

(d) any person associated, affiliated or acting in concert with any person described in Subparagraphs [Subparagraph] (a), (b) or (c) of this paragraph; or

(e) any person who, during the course of an acquisition covered by this section, merges or consolidates with a person described in Subparagraphs [Subparagraph] (a), (b), (c) or (d) of this paragraph.

(4) any public utility may sell, lease, rent, purchase or acquire any public utility plant or property constituting an operating unit or system or any substantial part thereof; provided, however, that this paragraph shall not be construed to require authorization for transactions in the ordinary course of business.

B. Any consolidation, merger, acquisition, transaction resulting in control or exercise of control, or other transaction in contravention of this section without prior authorization of the commission shall be void and of no effect.

C. Nothing in this section shall limit or expand the authority of the commission with respect to Class II transactions as provided in the Public Utility Act [Chapter 62, Articles 1 through 6 and 8 through 13 NMSA 1978].

Compiler's notes. — Sections 62-6-4 to 62-6-26.1 of the Public Utility Act are still effective as the repeal of Chapter 62, Article 6 by Laws 1998, Chapter 108, Section 82, effective July 1, 2003 Chapter 108, Section 82 was repealed prior to taking effect by Chapter 23, Section 1, Laws 2003. The 1989 amendment, effective June 16, 1989, designated the formerly undesignated introductory paragraph as Subsection A and inserted "prior" therein; deleted subsection designation "A" preceding Subsection A(1) and made a minor stylistic change in that subsection; added Subsection A(2); substituted present Subsection A(3) for former Subsection B, which read "any public utility may acquire the stock or any part thereof of any other public utility"; redesignated former Subsection C as present Subsection A(4) and made a minor stylistic change therein; and added present Subsections B and C.

The 1983 amendment added "and" at the end of Subsection B and added the language beginning with "or any substantial part thereof" at the end of Subsection C.

Upon the filing of such application, the commission shall promptly investigate the same, with such hearing and upon such notice as the commission may prescribe, and unless the commission shall find that the proposed transaction is unlawful or is inconsistent with the public interest, it shall give its consent and approval in writing.

62-6-14. Valuation by the commission.

A. When in the exercise of its powers and jurisdiction it is necessary for the commission to consider or ascertain the valuation of the properties or business of a public utility, or make any other determination involved in the fixing or setting of rates for a utility, the commission shall give due consideration to the history and development of the property and business of the particular public utility, to the original cost thereof, to the cost of reproduction as a going concern, to the revenues, investment and expenses of the utility in this state and otherwise subject to the commission's jurisdiction, to construction work in progress and to other elements of value and rate-making formulae and methods recognized by the laws of the land for rate-making purposes.

B. For the purpose of making such valuation or determinations, the members of the commission and its duly authorized agents and employees shall at all reasonable times have free access to the property, accounts, records and memoranda of the utility whose property and rights are being valued, and the utility shall aid and cooperate with the commission and its duly authorized agents and employees to the fullest degree for the purpose of facilitating the investigation.

C. In making any determination involving the rates or service of a utility, the commission may change its past practices or procedures, provided that substantial evidence on the record justifies such a change.

D. The commission shall set rates based on a test period that the commission determines best reflects the conditions to be experienced during the period when the rates determined by the commission take effect. If a future test period is proposed, the commission shall give due consideration that the future test period may best reflect those conditions.

E. Upon a request to include construction work in progress in the rate base, the commission shall grant the request only upon a finding that a project's costs are reasonable. The commission shall not include the associated allowance for funds used during construction in income. The projects for which the commission shall grant a request include environmental improvement projects and generation and transmission investments for which the utility has obtained a certificate of public convenience and necessity; provided that the projects are anticipated to be in service no later than five months after the end of a utility's test period, but in no event later than twenty-four months after the filing date of a utility's rate proceeding.

The 2009 amendment, effective June 19, 2009, in Subsection A, after "commission's jurisdiction", added "to construction work in progress" and added Subsections D and E.

The 1983 amendment divided the formerly undivided language into Subsections A and B and, in Subsection A, substituted "is necessary" for "shall be necessary" and "or make any other determination involved in the fixing or setting of rates for a utility, the commission shall" for "it shall, in arriving at such valuation" and inserted "to the revenues, investment and expenses of the utility in this state and otherwise subject to the commission's jurisdiction" and "and rate-making formulae and methods." The 1983 amendment also inserted "or determinations" in Subsection B and added Subsection C.

Commission not limited in method of valuating utility or setting rates. — Neither New Mexico case law nor the Public Utility Act imposes any one particular method of valuation upon the commission in ascertaining the rate base of a utility; nor does the spirit of the statute tie the commission down to the consideration of a single factor in establishing rates. Hobbs Gas Co. v. N.M. Pub. Serv. Comm'n, 94 N.M. 731, 616 P.2d 1116 (1980).

If plant acquisition adjustment is included as legitimate plant cost, it becomes a part of the rate base upon which a rate of return is to be computed. Hobbs Gas Co. v. N.M. Pub. Serv. Comm'n, 94 N.M. 731, 616 P.2d 1116 (1980).

New Mexico is not "original cost" jurisdiction, but a "fair value" jurisdiction. Hobbs Gas Co. v. N.M. Pub. Serv. Comm'n, 94 N.M. 731, 616 P.2d 1116 (1980).

"Used and useful" concept is but one factor among many to be considered by the commission in its rate base analysis. New Mexico Indus. Energy Consumers v. N.M. Pub. Serv. Comm'n, 104 N.M. 565, 725 P.2d 244 (1986).

Utility may not capitalize capital investments previously treated as operating expenses. — Where prior capital investments were charged to operating expenses and the rate apparently fixed on that basis, a utility cannot later capitalize such amounts in determining original cost for ratemaking purposes. Moyston v. N.M. Pub. Serv. Comm'n, 76 N.M. 146, 412 P.2d 840 (1966).

Commission may deduct deferred tax reserve from rate base. — The court did not err in failing to hold unreasonable and unlawful the commission's deduction from rate base of the company's reserve for deferred taxes because the statute does not compel inclusion of value of the latter type in the rate base and because the laws of the land do lend support for the commission's action. S. Union Gas Co. v. N.M. Pub. Serv. Comm'n, 84 N.M. 330, 503 P.2d 310 (1972).

62-6-15. Contract rate with the municipality and utilities; how established.

Rates and service regulations may be established by contract between the municipality and the utility for a specified term not exceeding twenty-five years, but only by and with the approval of the commission to be expressed by its order. Whenever any such contract shall be made, it shall, before becoming effective, be submitted to the commission. Unless the commission shall find the provisions of any such contract inconsistent with the public interest, the interest of the consumers and the interest of investors, it shall approve the same, otherwise it shall disapprove the same, and, unless and until so approved, such contract shall be of no effect, but if it be approved, it shall be in all respects lawful. Any such new contract shall provide for a redetermination by the commission of the reasonableness of the rates at such intervals as the commission may prescribe not longer than five years and every order made by the commission approving any contract shall expressly state the intervals at which redetermination of rates shall be made. For the purpose of determining whether any such contract hereafter made is consistent with public interest, the commission shall hold such hearings, after notice, as may be necessary to its determination. This act is intended to make rates in existing franchises and contracts subject to the control of the commission only to the extent that the legislature may lawfully do so. The provisions of this section shall not apply to any contract between a municipality and a utility relating to electric power and energy sales between such entities if the electric power and energy which is the subject of such contract is generated by such municipality's generating facility or its interest in a jointly owned generating facility.

Contract on behalf of municipal inhabitants allowed. — This section allows municipalities to contract with a public utility for proposed rates and service regulations for utility service to municipal inhabitants. 62-6-17. Office, books and records; sanction; penalty.

A. Every utility furnishing service within the state shall maintain an office located in the state. The commission by order may require any utility or any officer or agent of any utility to produce within the state or provide access to, at such reasonable time and place as the commission may designate, any books, records, accounts or documents kept in any office or place within or without the state, or certified copies thereof, whenever the production thereof is reasonably required and pertinent to any matter under investigation before the commission.

B. Whenever the production of books, records, accounts or documents is reasonably required by the commission and pertinent to any matter under investigation before the commission, the commission may require the utility or any affiliated interest participating in a Class I or II transaction to produce or provide access to, at such reasonable time and place as the commission may designate, such books, records, accounts or documents.

C. Any person whose interest may be adversely affected by the production of any books, records, accounts or documents may petition the commission for a protective order for confidential or proprietary information. The commission shall determine the materiality and relevancy of the books, records, accounts or documents to any matter before the commission and determine whether such books, records, accounts or documents contain confidential or proprietary information. If the commission determines such books, records, accounts or documents contain confidential or proprietary information that is material and relevant to the proceeding, it shall determine whether the public interest requires that such books, records, accounts or documents be produced in any hearing or investigation held under the Public Utility Act [Chapter 62, Articles 1 through 6 and 8 through 13 NMSA 1978] or that an abstract of or the extraction of specific information from such books, records, accounts or documents be produced for use in any such hearing or investigation. Any books, records, accounts or documents determined under this section to contain confidential or proprietary information are not subject to the Public Records Act [Chapter 14, Article 3 NMSA 1978].

D. For so long as such information determined by the commission to contain confidential or proprietary information retains its confidential or proprietary character, any person who intentionally discloses such confidential or proprietary information is guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction shall be fined not less than five hundred dollars ($500) nor more than five thousand dollars ($5,000).

62-6-19. Standard of service.

A. The commission may prescribe reasonable and adequate service regulations and standards of service rendered or to be rendered by any utility and may prescribe such regulations for the examination and testing of such service and for the measurement thereof.

B. In order to assure reasonable and proper utility service at fair, just and reasonable rates, the commission may investigate:

(1) Class I transactions to determine the reasonableness of the cost and contract conditions to the utility in any such transaction; and

(2) Class II transactions or the resulting effect of such Class II transactions on the financial performance of the public utility to determine whether such transactions or such performance have an adverse and material effect on such service and rates.

C. A public utility engaging in any Class I or Class II transaction shall have the burden to produce such evidence and information as is sufficient to demonstrate:

(1) that such Class I transaction has resulted in reasonable cost and contract conditions to the utility; and

(2) that such Class II transaction or the resulting effect of such Class II transaction on the financial performance of the public utility has not materially and adversely affected the utility's ability to provide reasonable and proper utility service at fair, just and reasonable rates.

If the commission finds that the utility has failed to meet its burden, the commission may issue orders consistent with the authority granted to the commission under the Public Utility Act [Chapter 62, Articles 1 through 6 and 8 through 13 NMSA 1978] to assure the provision of such service at such rates. Any such order that explicitly and directly requires the production of information shall be in accordance with Section 62-6-17 NMSA 1978.

D. The commission may issue such orders in connection with an evidentiary proceeding involving a public utility as it finds appropriate and necessary to assure that appropriate cost allocations are made and that no cross-subsidization occurs between the utility and an affiliated interest.

E. The commission shall, by November 30, 1982, promulgate rules and may amend such rules thereafter, to implement the provisions of Subsections B, C and D of this section, including the manner of conducting such investigations and making such determinations, and the specification of such reporting requirements as may be reasonably necessary and as are consistent with the provisions of this 1982 act.

F. For a period of thirteen months from the effective date of this subsection, no utility or affiliated interest shall engage in a new Class II transaction described in Paragraph (1) or (2) of Subsection K of Section 62-3-3 NMSA 1978, nor during that period shall any utility or affiliated interest controlled by a utility engage in any nonutility activity not carried on prior to that effective date except as is necessary to protect or dispose of an asset, unless such nonutility activity had been the subject of substantial negotiations and had been publicly announced prior to the effective date of this section.

F. For a period of fifteen months from the effective date of this subsection, no utility or affiliated interest shall engage in a Class II transaction described in Paragraph (1) or (2) of Subsection K of Section 62-3-3 NMSA 1978, nor during that period shall any utility or affiliated interest controlled by a utility engage in any nonutility activity not carried on prior to that effective date except as is necessary to protect or dispose of an asset.

ANNOTATIONS

Compiler's notes. — The 1982 amendment added two Subsections F.

The term "the effective date of this subsection," referred to in each Subsection F, probably means the effective date of the 1982 act.

Sections 62-6-4 to 62-6-26.1 of the Public Utility Act are still effective as the repeal of Chapter 62, Article 6 by Laws 1998, Chapter 108, Section 82, effective July 1, 2003 Chapter 108, Section 82 was repealed prior to taking effect by Chapter 23, Section 1, Laws 2003. Although Laws 2003, Chapter 336, Section 8, amended Laws 1998, Chapter 82, as amended, an amendment of a repealed section is ineffective. See Quintana v. N.M. Dep't of Corrs., 100 N.M. 224, 668 P.2d 1101 (1983). Laws 2003, Chapter 416, Section 5 also repealed Laws 1998, Chapter 108, Section 82, as amended, a second time, however, that repeal is of no effect as the section had previously been repealed by Chapter 23, Section 1, Laws 2003.

The term, "this 1982 act," referred to in Subsection E, means Laws 1982, ch. 109, which is compiled as 62-3-3, 62-6-17, 62-6-19, 62-8-7, 62-11-1 to 62-11-3, 62-11-5 and 62-11-6 NMSA 1978.

Cross references. — For denial of service by utility being petty misdemeanor, see 30-13-2 NMSA 1978.

Primary purpose of extending commission's jurisdiction to Class I transactions was to protect against allocation of some of a regulated utility's profits to its unregulated affiliate. Gas Co. v. N.M. Pub. Serv. Comm'n, 100 N.M. 740, 676 P.2d 817 (1984).

Commission may impute gas processor's unreasonable revenues to affiliate utility. — Where a company processed natural gas for its affiliate gas utility in a Class I transaction and had unreasonable revenues when compared to similar natural gas processors, the commission was authorized to impute some of those revenues to the affiliate gas utility for rate-making purposes. Gas Co. v. N.M. Pub. Serv. Comm'n, 100 N.M. 740, 676 P.2d 817 (1984).

Variations in rates not ipso facto discriminatory. — Section 62-8-6 NMSA 1978 does not prohibit variations in rates, nor does it require "equal service." Rather, it prohibits "unreasonable differences" in rates of service between localities. Allowing municipalities to contract with utilities for service rates to their inhabitants does not, therefore, ipso facto, violate Section 62-8-6 NMSA 1978. City of Albuquerque v. N.M. Pub. Serv. Comm'n, 115 N.M. 521, 854 P.2d 348 (1993).

Company restructuring. — This section allows the commission to disapprove a public utility holding company restructuring prior to its completion. Pub. Serv. Co. v. N.M. Pub. Serv. Comm'n, 106 N.M. 622, 747 P.2d 917 (1987).

The commission properly disapproved a public utility holding company restructuring prior to its completion. This restructuring would have changed the status of certain subsidiaries of the utility to a status which can be called "sisters" (a subsidiary of a holding company of which the utility also is a co-equal subsidiary), which are not, under Section 62-3-3A NMSA 1978, included within the definition of an "affiliated interest." Therefore, this holding company structure would have prevented the commission's access, under Section 62-6-17 NMSA 1978, to the books and records of the "sister" necessary to ensure the reasonableness of transactions between that "sister" and the utility. Pub. Serv. Co. v. N.M. Pub. Serv. Comm'n, 106 N.M. 622, 747 P.2d 917 (1987).

62-6-21. Inspection of meters and other devices for measuring public utility service.

The commission shall adopt rules, regulations and standards to secure the accuracy of all meters and other devices for measurement of utility service or products, and the commission may examine and test any and all such meters and other devices under such rules and regulations as it may prescribe. At all inspections and tests made on complaints of consumers, representatives of the utility complained of and of the complainant may be present.

62-6-22. Meters and other measuring devices; testing; fees.

Any consumer or user may have any meter or measuring device tested by the utility once without charge after a reasonable period to be fixed by the commission by rule, and at shorter intervals upon payment of reasonable fees fixed by the commission. The commission shall declare and establish reasonable fees to be paid for other examining and testing [of] such meters and other measuring devices on the request of the consumer. If the test is requested to be made within the period of presumed accuracy as fixed by the commission since the last such test of the same meter or other measuring device, the fee to be paid by the consumer or user at the time of his request shall be refunded to the consumer or user if the meter or measuring device be found unreasonably defective or incorrect to the substantial disadvantage of the consumer or user. If the consumer's request is made at a time beyond the period of presumed accuracy fixed by the commission since the last such test of the same meter or measuring device, the utility shall make the test without charge to the consumer or user.

ANNOTATIONS

Compiler's notes. — Sections 62-6-4 to 62-6-26.1 of the Public Utility Act are still effective as the repeal of Chapter 62, Article 6 by Laws 1998, Chapter 108, Section 82, effective July 1, 2003 Chapter 108, Section 82 was repealed prior to taking effect by Chapter 23, Section 1, Laws 2003. Although Laws 2003, Chapter 336, Section 8, amended Laws 1998, Chapter 82, as amended, an amendment of a repealed section is ineffective. See Quintana v. N.M. Dep't of Corrs., 100 N.M. 224, 668 P.2d 1101 (1983). Laws 2003, Chapter 416, Section 5 also repealed Laws 1998, Chapter 108, Section 82, as amended, a second time, however, that repeal is of no effect as the section had previously been repealed by Chapter 23, Section 1, Laws 2003.

Severability. — Laws 1983, ch. 104, § 2 provided for the severability of the act if any part or application thereof is held invalid.

"Interested electric utility". — The definition of "person" in Section 62-3-3E NMSA 1978 controls the meaning of "interested electric utility" in Subsection B of this section and, thus, a municipality that had not elected to come within the terms of the Public Utility Act was not authorized to seek wheeling orders from the commission. Pub. Serv. Co. v. N.M. Pub. Util. Comm'n, 1999-NMSC-040, 128 N.M. 309, 992 P.2d 860.

62-6-26. Economic development rates for gas and electric utilities; authorization.

A. The commission may approve or otherwise allow to become effective, as provided in Subsection B of this section, applications from utilities or persons subject to regulation pursuant to Subsection B of Section 62-6-4 NMSA 1978 or filings by cooperative utilities pursuant to Section 62-8-7 NMSA 1978, as appropriate, for special rates or tariffs in order to prevent the loss of customers, to encourage customers to expand present facilities and operations in New Mexico and to attract new customers where necessary or appropriate to promote economic development in New Mexico. Any such special rates or tariffs shall be designed so as to recover at least the incremental cost of providing service to such customers.

B. The commission may approve or otherwise allow to become effective applications from utilities or persons subject to regulation pursuant to Subsection B of Section 62-6-4 NMSA 1978 and filings by cooperative utilities pursuant to Section 62-8-7 NMSA 1978 for economic development rates and rates designed to retain load for gas and electric utility customers. For purposes of this section and Section 62-8-6 NMSA 1978, economic development rates and rates designed to retain load are rates set at a level lower than the corresponding service rate for which a customer would otherwise qualify.

C. Except as provided in Subsection D of this section, economic development rates shall be approved or otherwise allowed to become effective for an electric utility or persons subject to regulation pursuant to Subsection B of Section 62-6-4 NMSA 1978 or filings by cooperative utilities pursuant to Section 62-8-7 NMSA 1978 only when the utility or the substantially full requirements supplier of the utility has excess capacity. For purposes of this section, "excess capacity" means the amount of electric generating and purchased power capacity available to the utility or such supplier that is greater than the utility's or such supplier's peak load plus a fixed percentage reserve margin set by the commission.

D. Economic development rates may be approved or otherwise allowed to become effective for electric utilities or persons subject to regulation pursuant to Subsection B of Section 62-6-4 NMSA 1978 or filings by cooperative utilities pursuant to Section 62-8-7 NMSA 1978 that do not meet the qualifications of Subsection C of this section; provided that the following conditions are met:

(1) economic development rates approved under this subsection shall not be lower than the incremental cost of providing service to the economic development rate customer as determined by the commission. As used in this subsection, "economic development rate customer" means a customer that directly benefits from the economic development rate established pursuant to this subsection; and

(2) an economic development rate approved for any customer under this subsection shall last no longer than four years, except that the commission may approve the rate for up to twelve additional months if it finds that the additional period is necessary to attract a particular economic development rate customer to New Mexico.

E. For purposes of this section, "incremental cost" at a minimum shall include all additional costs incurred to serve the economic development rate customer that would not otherwise have been incurred to serve other customers, fuel and purchased power costs, costs recoverable from customers pursuant to the Renewable Energy Act and the Efficient Use of Energy Act and the direct costs of facilities necessary to provide service to the customer. The commission shall not impute to the electric utility revenues that would have been received from the economic development rate or load retention customer if they had been provided service under the corresponding rate for which they would have otherwise qualified.

The 2015 amendment, effective June 19, 2015, amended the Public Utility Act to provide for economic development rates no lower than the incremental cost of providing service; in Subsection A, after "utilities pursuant to", deleted "Subsection F of"; in Subsection B, after "utilities pursuant to", deleted "Subsection F of"; in Subsection C, added "Except as provided in Subsection D of this section", and after "utilities pursuant to", deleted "Subsection F of"; and added Subsections D and E.

The 1993 amendment, effective June 18, 1993, substituted "The commission" for "The New Mexico public service commission" at the beginning of Subsections A and B; and, in Subsection C, in the second sentence, deleted "and Section 62-8-6 NMSA 1978" preceding "excess capacity", substituted "the commission" for "the New Mexico public service commission", and made a stylistic change.

62-6-26.1. Rates for clean fuels used as vehicular fuels; authorization.

The commission may approve or otherwise allow to become effective applications from public utilities, subject to the commission's jurisdiction under the Public Utility Act [Chapter 62, Articles 1 through 6 and 8 through 13 NMSA 1978], for clean fuel rates, tariffs or other programs in order to encourage, develop or promote the development and use of natural gas and other clean fuels used as vehicular fuels. For the purposes of this section, clean fuel rates or tariffs are rates or tariffs set at a lower level than the corresponding service rate or tariff for which a customer would otherwise qualify.

62-6-28. Clean energy investments; authorization; department of environment certification.

A. The commission shall adopt rules to allow public utilities a reasonable opportunity to recover costs incurred by a public utility for the development and ongoing construction of a clean energy project. Such costs must not exceed the level authorized by the commission in a proceeding to establish a reasonable level of expenditure that the public utility may undertake to develop and construct a clean energy project. The public utility shall recover approved costs reasonably incurred up to the time it files a general rate case whether or not the project is in service. This section does not relieve a public utility of its duty to act reasonably and prudently as circumstances indicate once development and construction of a clean energy project begins.

B. A public utility that incurs costs to reduce harmful air emissions at new or existing power plants may seek recovery of those costs in a general rate case, regardless of whether the technology or method used qualifies as a clean energy project or advanced coal technology. If a public utility seeks cost recovery for expenditures to reduce harmful air emissions beyond levels required by law or rule, the commission may find that such expenditures are reasonable.

C. The commission, upon petition or its own motion, shall open a docket to consider appropriate performance-based financial or other incentives to encourage public utilities to develop and construct clean energy projects.

D. As used in this section:

(1) "advanced coal technology" means new coal-based generation, coal gasification or other technology using coal as a fuel source that is certified by the department of environment to meet the following specifications:

(a) emits the lesser of: 1) what is achievable with the best available control technology; or 2) thirty-five thousandths pound per million British thermal units of sulfur dioxide, twenty-five thousandths pound per million British thermal units of oxides of nitrogen and one hundredth pound per million British thermal units of total particulates in the flue gas;

(b) removes the greater of: 1) what is achievable with the best available control technology; or 2) ninety percent or more of the mercury from the input fuel;

(c) captures and sequesters or controls carbon dioxide emissions such that by the later of January 1, 2017, or eighteen months after the commercial operation date, no more than one thousand one hundred pounds per megawatt-hour of carbon dioxide is emitted into the atmosphere;

(d) all infrastructure required for sequestration is in place by the later of January 1, 2017, or eighteen months after the commercial operation date of the qualified generating facility;

(e) includes methods and procedures to monitor the disposition of the carbon dioxide captured and sequestered from the facility; and

(f) does not exceed seven hundred net megawatts nameplate capacity;

(2) "clean energy project" means the construction or modification of a new or existing electric generation facility in a manner that employs a technology that has additional financial risk because it is not commercially established or because it employs an established technology that is not commercially proven under the altitude, geographic or resource availability conditions under which it is proposed to operate and may include associated renewable energy storage facilities, recycled energy and, for the limited purposes of this section, advanced coal technology, or other technology as deemed appropriate by the commission; a "clean energy project" shall achieve emission levels no greater than those specified for advanced coal technology and shall not include nuclear power;

(3) "development" means the study, plan, design, site, permit, engineering, assessment and determination of the economic and operational feasibility at one or more locations and may include small-scale demonstration projects, if approved by the commission, as a reasonable expenditure;

(4) "recycled energy" means energy produced by a generation unit with a name-plate capacity of not more than fifteen megawatts that converts the otherwise lost energy from exhaust stacks or pipes to electricity without combustion of additional fossil fuel; and

(5) "sequester" means to store, or chemically convert, carbon dioxide in a manner that prevents its release into the atmosphere and may include the use of geologic formations and enhanced oil, coalbed methane or natural gas recovery techniques.

E The department of environment may issue rules governing the procedure for administering the certification provisions of this section.

ANNOTATIONS

Compiler's notes. — Sections 62-8-1 to 62-8-9 of the Public Utility Act are still effective as the repeal of Chapter 62, Article 6 by Laws 1998, Chapter 108, Section 82, effective July 1, 2003 Chapter 108, Section 82 was repealed prior to taking effect by Chapter 23, Section 1, Laws 2003. Although Laws 2003, Chapter 336, Section 8, amended Laws 1998, Chapter 82, as amended, an amendment of a repealed section is ineffective. See *Quintana v. N.M. Commission not limited in method of valuating utility or setting rates. — Neither New Mexico case law nor the Public Utility Act imposes any one particular method of valuation upon the commission in ascertaining the rate base of a utility; nor does the spirit of the statute tie the commission down to the consideration of a single factor in establishing rates. *Hobbs Gas Co. v. Discrimination in rates or service is prohibited. — This section prohibits any unreasonable preference or advantage to any corporation or person as to rates or service. Potash Co. of Am. v. N.M. Pub. Serv. Comm'n, 62 N.M. 1, 303 P.2d 908 (1956).

Tariff permitting utility to recover costs of relocation required by a local ordinance did not impermissibly assess different rates for different communities in violation of this section. City of Albuquerque v. N.M. Pub. Regulation Comm'n, 2003-NMSC-028, 134 N.M. 472, 79 P.3d 297.

Refund to wholesale users held not discriminatory. — There was no de facto discrimination where electric company gave refund to wholesale users and did not give it to small consumers who did not have contracts with power company. N.M. Elec. Serv. Co. v. N.M. Pub. Serv. Comm'n, 81 N.M. 683, 472 P.2d 648 (1970).

Ordering change in contract rate is within commission's jurisdiction. — Where the commission had entered an order authorizing a public utility to enter into a contract and to continue to charge the gas rate therein specified until further order and on the ex parte petition of the utility subsequently entered an interlocutory order making a rate increase to be effective until the commission could hold a hearing to determine and set a new and proper rate, the commission was moving strictly in conformity with the act creating it to determine one of the major questions submitted to its jurisdiction - a question of rates. Potash Co. of Am. v. N.M. Pub. Serv. Comm'n, 62 N.M. 1, 303 P.2d 908 (1956).

Variation between rates of different utilities is not discrimination within the meaning of this section. Gonzales v. Pub. Serv. Comm'n, 102 N.M. 529, 697 P.2d 948 (1985).

Contract on behalf of municipal inhabitants allowed. — This section does not prohibit variations in rates, nor does it require "equal service." Rather, it prohibits "unreasonable differences" in rates of service between localities. Allowing municipalities to contract with utilities for service rates to their inhabitants does not, therefore, ipso facto, violate this section. City of Albuquerque v. N.M. Pub. Serv. Comm'n, 115 N.M. 521, 854 P.2d 348 (1993).

62-8-7. Change in rates.

A. At any hearing involving an increase in rates or charges sought by a public utility, the burden of proof to show that the increased rate or charge is just and reasonable shall be upon the utility.

B. Unless the commission otherwise orders, no public utility shall make any change in any rate that has been duly established except after thirty days' notice to the commission, which notice shall plainly state the changes proposed to be made in the rates then in force and the time when the changed rates will go into effect and other information as the commission by rule requires. The utility shall also give notice of the proposed changes to other interested persons as the commission may direct. All proposed changes shall be shown by filing new schedules that shall be kept open to public inspection. The commission for good cause shown may allow changes in rates without requiring the thirty days' notice, under conditions that it may prescribe.

C. Whenever there is filed with the commission by any public utility a complete application as prescribed by commission rule proposing new rates, the commission may, upon complaint or upon its own initiative, except as otherwise provided by law, upon reasonable notice, enter upon a hearing concerning the reasonableness of the proposed rates. If the commission determines a hearing is necessary, it shall suspend the operation of the proposed rates before they become effective but not for a longer initial period than nine months beyond the time when the rates would otherwise go into effect, unless the commission finds that a longer time will be required, in which case the commission may extend the period for an additional three months. The commission shall hear and decide cases with reasonable promptness. The commission shall adopt rules identifying criteria for various rate and tariff filings to be eligible for suspension periods shorter than what is allowed by this subsection and to be eligible for summary approval without hearing.

D. If after a hearing the commission finds the proposed rates to be unjust, unreasonable or in any way in violation of law, the commission shall determine the just and reasonable rates to be charged or applied by the utility for the service in question and shall fix the rates by order to be served upon the utility or the commission by its order shall direct the utility to file new rates respecting such service that are designed to produce annual revenues no greater than those determined by the commission in its order to be just and reasonable. Those rates shall thereafter be observed until changed, as provided by the Public Utility Act [Chapter 62, Articles 1 through 6 and 8 through 13 NMSA 1978].

E. Except as otherwise provided by law, any increase in rates or charges for the utility commodity based upon cost factors other than taxes or cost of fuel, gas or purchased power, filed for after April 4, 1991, shall be permitted only after notice and hearing as provided by this section. The commission shall enact rules governing the use of tax, fuel, gas or purchased power adjustment clauses by utilities that enable the commission to consider periodically at least the following:

(1) whether the existence of a particular adjustment clause is consistent with the purposes of the Public Utility Act, including serving the goal of providing reasonable and proper service at fair, just and reasonable rates to all customer classes;

(2) the specific adjustment mechanism to recover tax, gas, fuel or purchased power costs;

(3) which costs should be included in an adjustment clause, procedures to avoid the inclusion of costs in an adjustment clause that should not be included and methods by which the propriety of costs that are included may be determined by the commission in a timely manner, including what informational filings are required to enable the commission to make such a determination; and

(4) the proper adjustment period to be employed.

F. The commission may eliminate or condition a particular adjustment clause if it finds such elimination or condition is consistent with the purposes of the Public Utility Act, including serving the goal of providing reasonable and proper service at fair, just and reasonable rates to all customer classes; provided, however, that no such elimination or condition shall be ordered unless such elimination or condition will not place the affected utility at a competitive disadvantage. The commission rules shall also provide for variances and may provide for separate examination of a utility's adjustment clause based upon that utility's particular operating characteristics.

G. Whenever there is filed with the commission a schedule proposing new rates by a rural electric cooperative organized under the Rural Electric Cooperative Act [Chapter 62, Article 15 NMSA 1978] or by a foreign distribution cooperative, the rates shall become effective as proposed by the rural electric cooperative or the foreign distribution cooperative without a hearing, except as provided in this subsection. The rural electric cooperative or the foreign distribution cooperative shall give written notice of the proposed rates to its affected patrons in New Mexico at least thirty days prior to the filing with the commission. Upon the filing with the commission of a protest setting forth grounds for review of the proposed rates signed by the lesser of one percent of or twenty-five members of a customer rate class of the rural electric cooperative or foreign distribution cooperative and if the commission determines that there is just cause for reviewing the proposed rates on one or more of the grounds of the protest, the commission shall suspend the rates and conduct a hearing concerning the reasonableness of any proposed rates filed by a rural electric cooperative or a foreign distribution cooperative pursuant to Subsections C and D of this section. The protest shall be filed no later than twenty days after the filing with the commission of the schedule proposing the new rates. The hearing and review shall be limited to the issues set forth in the protest and for which the commission may find just cause for the review, which issues shall be contained in the notice of hearing. The provisions of this subsection shall not be construed to affect commission authority or procedure to regulate the sale, furnishing or delivery by wholesale suppliers of electricity to rural electric cooperatives or foreign distribution cooperatives pursuant to Section 62-6-4 NMSA 1978. In addition to the adjustments permitted by Subsections E and F of this section, the commission may authorize rate schedules of rural electric cooperatives and foreign distribution cooperatives to recover, without notice and hearing, changes in the cost of debt capital incurred pursuant to securities that are lawfully issued. This subsection shall not apply to any foreign distribution cooperative that proposes rates for any of its customer rate classes in the state that are higher than the rates it charges to the same or substantially similar customer rate class in the state under the laws of which the foreign distribution cooperative is organized. For the purposes of this subsection:

(1) "foreign distribution cooperative" means a rural electric distribution cooperative corporation serving its members at retail and transacting business in New Mexico pursuant to the authority granted under Section 62-15-26 NMSA 1978;

(2) "member of a foreign distribution cooperative" means a retail customer in New Mexico serviced by a foreign distribution cooperative; and

(3) "member of a rural electric cooperative" means a member as defined by the Rural Electric Cooperative Act.

History: 1978 Comp., § 62-8-7, enacted by Laws 1991, ch. 251, § 1; 1998, ch. 108, § 48; 2003, ch. 416, § 4; 2007, ch. 186, § 1; 2011, ch. 155, § 1; 2011, ch. 170, § 1.

ANNOTATIONS

Repeals and reenactments. — Laws 1991, ch. 251, § 1 repealed former 62-8-7 NMSA 1978, as amended by Laws 1985, ch. 221, § 2, relating to change in rates, and enacted the above section, effective April 4, 1991.

Compiler's notes. — Sections 62-8-1 to 62-8-9 of the Public Utility Act are still effective as the repeal of Chapter 62, Article 6 by Laws 1998, Chapter 108, Section 82, effective July 1, 2003 Chapter 108, Section 82 was repealed prior to taking effect by Chapter 23, Section 1, Laws 2003. Although Laws 2003, Chapter 336, Section 8, amended Laws 1998, Chapter 82, as amended, an amendment of a repealed section is ineffective. See Quintana v. N.M. Dep't of Corrs., 100 N.M. 224, 668 P.2d 1101 (1983). Laws 2003, Chapter 416, Section 5 also repealed Laws 1998, Chapter 108, Section 82, as amended, a second time, however, that repeal is of no effect as the section had previously been repealed by Chapter 23, Section 1, Laws 2003.

2011 amendments. — Laws 2011, ch. 155, § 1; 2011, ch. 170, § 1 both enacted amendments to this section. The section was set out as amended by Laws 2011, ch. 170, § 1. See 12-1-8 NMSA 1978.

Laws 2011, ch. 170, § 1, effective July 1, 2011, in Subsection G, permitted foreign distribution cooperatives to increase rates, without a hearing, if the proposed rates are not higher than the rates the cooperative charged in the state in which it is organized; permitted the commission to suspend the cooperative's rates if there is a protest by the specified number of customers; and added definitions of "foreign distribution cooperative" and "member of a foreign distribution cooperative".

Laws 2011, ch. 155, § 1, effective July 1, 2011, added Subsection F to permit water utilities to increase rates, without notice and hearing, based on taxes, the cost of fuel, gas and purchased power, and the cost to purchase or acquire permanent water rights, as set out below:

"62-8-7. Change in rates.

A. At any hearing involving an increase in rates or charges sought by a public utility, the burden of proof to show that the increased rate or charge is just and reasonable shall be upon the utility.

B. Unless the commission otherwise orders, no public utility shall make any change in any rate that has been duly established except after thirty days' notice to the commission, which notice shall plainly state the changes proposed to be made in the rates then in force and the time when the changed rates will go into effect and other information as the commission by rule requires. The utility shall also give notice of the proposed changes to other interested persons as the commission may direct. All proposed changes shall be shown by filing new schedules that shall be kept open to public inspection. The commission for good cause shown may allow changes in rates without requiring the thirty days' notice, under conditions that it may prescribe.

C. Whenever there is filed with the commission by any public utility a complete application as prescribed by commission rule proposing new rates, the commission may, upon complaint or upon its own initiative, except as otherwise provided by law, upon reasonable notice, enter upon a hearing concerning the reasonableness of the proposed rates. If the commission determines a hearing is necessary, it shall suspend the operation of the proposed rates before they become effective but not for a longer initial period than nine months beyond the time when the rates would otherwise go into effect, unless the commission finds that a longer time will be required, in which case the commission may extend the period for an additional three months. The commission shall hear and decide cases with reasonable promptness. The commission shall adopt rules identifying criteria for various rate and tariff filings to be eligible for suspension periods shorter than what is allowed by this subsection and to be eligible for summary approval without hearing.

D. If after a hearing the commission finds the proposed rates to be unjust, unreasonable or in any way in violation of law, the commission shall determine the just and reasonable rates to be charged or applied by the utility for the service in question and shall fix the rates by order to be served upon the utility, or the commission by its order shall direct the utility to file new rates respecting such service that are designed to produce annual revenues no greater than those determined by the commission in its order to be just and reasonable. Those rates shall thereafter be observed until changed, as provided by the Public Utility Act.

E. Except as otherwise provided by law, any increase in rates or charges for the utility commodity based upon cost factors other than taxes or cost of fuel, gas or purchased power, filed for after April 4, 1991, shall be permitted only after notice and hearing as provided by this section. The commission shall enact rules governing the use of tax, fuel, gas or purchased power adjustment clauses by utilities that enable the commission to consider periodically at least the following:

- (1) whether the existence of a particular adjustment clause is consistent with the purposes of the Public Utility Act, including serving the goal of providing reasonable and proper service at fair, just and reasonable rates to all customer classes;
- (2) the specific adjustment mechanism to recover tax, gas, fuel or purchased power costs;
- (3) which costs should be included in an adjustment clause, procedures to avoid the inclusion of costs in an adjustment clause that should not be included and methods by which the propriety of costs that are included may be determined by the commission in a timely manner, including what informational filings are required to enable the commission to make such a determination; and
- (4) the proper adjustment period to be employed.

F. Except as otherwise provided by law, any increase in rates or charges for a public utility as defined in Paragraph (3) of Subsection G of Section 62-3-3 NMSA 1978 based upon cost factors other than taxes or cost of fuel, gas, purchased power or acquisition of water resources shall be permitted only after notice and hearing as provided by this section. For the purposes of this subsection, "acquisition of water resources" does not include the purchase or other permanent acquisition of water rights. The commission shall enact rules governing the use of tax, fuel, gas, purchased power or water resource acquisition adjustment clauses by such utilities that enable the commission to consider periodically at least the following:

- (1) whether the existence of a particular adjustment clause is consistent with the purposes of the Public Utility Act, including serving the goal of providing reasonable and proper service at fair, just and reasonable rates to all customer classes;
- (2) the specific adjustment mechanism to recover tax, gas, fuel, purchased power or acquisition of water resource costs;
- (3) which costs should be included in an adjustment clause, procedures to avoid the inclusion of costs in an adjustment clause that should not be included and methods by which the propriety of costs that are included may be determined by the commission in a timely manner, including what informational filings are required to enable the commission to make such a determination; and
- (4) the proper adjustment period to be employed.

G. The commission may eliminate or condition a particular adjustment clause if it finds such elimination or condition is consistent with the purposes of the Public Utility Act, including serving the goal of providing reasonable and proper service at fair, just and reasonable rates to all customer classes; provided, however, that no such elimination or condition shall be ordered unless such elimination or condition will not place the affected utility at a competitive disadvantage. The commission rules shall also provide for variances and may provide for separate examination of a utility's adjustment clause based upon that utility's particular operating characteristics.

H. Whenever there is filed with the commission a schedule proposing new rates by a rural electric cooperative organized under the Rural Electric Cooperative Act, the rates shall become effective as proposed by the rural electric cooperative without a hearing. However, the cooperative shall give written notice of the proposed rates to its affected patrons at least thirty days prior to the filing with the commission, and the commission shall suspend the rates and conduct a hearing concerning the reasonableness of any proposed rates filed by a rural electric cooperative pursuant to Subsections C and D of this section upon the filing with the commission of a protest setting forth grounds for review of the proposed rates signed by the lesser of one percent of or twenty-five members of a customer class of the rural electric cooperative and if the commission determines there is just cause for reviewing the proposed rates on one or more of the grounds of the protest. The protest shall be filed no later than twenty days after the filing with the commission of the schedule proposing the new rates. The hearing and review shall be limited to the issues set forth in the protest and for which the commission may find just cause for the review, which issues shall be contained in the notice of hearing. The provisions of this subsection shall not be construed to affect commission authority or procedure to regulate the sale, furnishing or delivery by wholesale suppliers of electricity to rural electric cooperatives pursuant to Section 62-6-4 NMSA 1978. In addition to the adjustments permitted by Subsections E and G of this section, the commission may authorize rate schedules of rural electric cooperatives to recover, without notice and hearing, changes in the cost of debt capital incurred pursuant to securities that are lawfully issued. For the purposes of this subsection, a member of a rural electric cooperative is a member as defined by the Rural Electric Cooperative Act."

The 2007 amendment, effective July 1, 2007, in Subsection G, required that a petition for hearing be signed by the lesser of one percent or twenty-five members of a customer class.

The 2003 amendment, effective July 1, 2003, substituted "that are lawfully issued" for "the issuance of which are approved by the commission" following "pursuant to securities" in Subsection G.

The 1998 amendment, effective January 1, 1999, deleted "as provided in this section" near the beginning of Subsection A; in Subsection B, substituted "that" for "which" at the beginning and inserted "and other information as the commission by rule requires" near the middle; rewrote Subsection C; in Subsection E, substituted "April 4, 1991" for "the effective date of this section" near the middle and deleted "and regulations" preceding "shall enact rules" near the end; and added Subsection F, redesignated former Subsection F as Subsection G and made minor stylistic changes in Subsection G.

Franchise fees are not items included in adjustment clauses. — Franchise fees charged by counties pursuant to Section 62-1-3 NMSA 1978 are not within the jurisdiction of the public regulation commission by analogy to fuel and purchased power adjustment clauses, over which the commission has jurisdiction under Section 62-8-7 NMSA 1978. El Paso Elec. Co. v. N.M. Pub. Regulation Comm'n, 2010-NMSC-048, 149 N.M. 174, 246 P.3d 443.

Adequate public notice. — Where a public utility applied for an emergency fuel and purchased power cost adjustment clause; the public regulation commission published a public notice of the proceedings which stated that the public utility had asked the commission to implement the proposed fuel and purchase power cost clause and to include conditions to mitigate the impact on customer bills during peak periods and incentives to the public utility to control costs, that the public utility contended that it was experiencing serious cash flow problems, that it was at risk of losing its investment grade rating, that it was experiencing a loss of overall financial integrity, and that the lack of a fuel and purchased power cost adjustment clause would result in the downgrading of the public utility's credit rating, and that because of the serious concerns raised by the public utility regarding its imminent financial crisis, the commission had established an expedited procedural schedule for reviewing the emergency fuel and purchased power cost adjustment clause; and the commission subsequently decided that the public utility's financial condition was not relevant to the issue of whether the commission should grant the emergency fuel and purchased power cost adjustment clause, the notice properly informed the public of the arguments raised in the public utility's application and of the expedited procedural schedule, was not inadequate or misleading, and did not deny the intervenors procedural due process. Albuquerque Bernalillo Cnty. Water Util. Auth. v. NMPRC, 2010-NMSC-013, 148 N.M. 21, 229 P.3d 494.

Expedited procedural schedule. — Where a public utility applied for a rate increase and a fuel and purchased power cost adjustment clause; a hearing examiner appointed by the public regulation commission issued a recommendation that the application for the fuel and purchased power cost adjustment clause be denied; the public utility then applied for an emergency fuel and purchased power cost adjustment clause; the commission severed the emergency application from the underlying rate case and determined that the commission would take administrative notice of any evidence relevant to the emergency application that was in the underlying rate case; intervenors participated in the underlying rate case; because the public utility contended that it was facing an immediate and critical financial crisis due to the lack of appropriate recovery of rapidly escalating fuel and purchased power costs, the commission established an expedited procedural schedule for reviewing the public utility's application which required the intervenors to file testimony within nine days after notice of the proceeding had been published; and the commission subsequently granted the intervenors two extensions of time which extended the time period in which the intervenors were required to file their responsive testimony from 12 to 42 days, the commission's denial of the intervenors' additional requests for extensions of time was not arbitrary, capricious or unreasonable and did not deny the intervenors procedural due process. Albuquerque Bernalillo Cnty. Water Util. Auth. v. NMPRC, 2010-NMSC-013, 148 N.M. 21, 229 P.3d 494.

Failure of commissioners to attend public hearings on matters on which they vote. — Where a public utility applied for an emergency fuel and purchased power cost adjustment clause; the public regulation commission held public hearings on the public utility's application; two members of the commission who voted in favor of the public utility's application did not personally attend many of the public hearings; and the intervenors did not present any evidence to support their claim that the two commissioners failed to review the evidentiary record prior to voting, the intervenors failed to show they were denied their procedural due process right to a full and fair hearing. Albuquerque Bernalillo Cnty. Water Util. Auth. v. NMPRC, 2010-NMSC-013, 148 N.M. 21, 229 P.3d 494.

Failure of commissioners to recuse themselves. — Where a public utility applied for an emergency fuel and purchased power cost adjustment clause; the public utility contended that it was facing an immediate and critical financial crisis due to the lack of appropriate recovery of rapidly escalating fuel and purchased power costs; at a hearing that was held before the commission held public hearings on the merits of the public utility's application, two commissioners argued that in view of the public utility's financial crisis, the commission should grant the public utility interim relief on its application; the intervenors filed a motion requesting that the two commissioners recuse themselves from participating in the proceeding on the grounds that they had prejudged the merits of the public utility's application; and the two commissioners declined to recuse themselves, the intervenors were not denied their procedural due process right to a fair and impartial hearing. Albuquerque Bernalillo Cnty. Water Util. Auth. v. NMPRC, 2010-NMSC-013, 148 N.M. 21, 229 P.3d 494.

To require a utility to offset its fuel and purchased power costs against cost-savings in other areas would undermine the direct and automatic nature of the cost recovery system inherent in the fuel and purchased power cost adjustment clause authorized by Subsection E of Section 62-8-7 NMSA 1978. Albuquerque Bernalillo Cnty. Water Util. Auth. v. NMPRC, 2010-NMSC-013, 148 N.M. 21, 229 P.3d 494.

Recovery of costs of prudence review audit. — Where a public utility applied for an emergency fuel and purchased power cost adjustment clause; the public regulation commission approved the fuel and purchased power cost adjustment clause and required the public utility to pay the costs of an independent prudence review of its fuel and purchased power costs by auditors selected by and under the direction of the commission; and after issuance of the commission's order approving the fuel and purchased power cost adjustment clause, the commission issued a request for proposals to select a qualified auditor which summarized the scope of the audit and the scope of the prudence review, the independent audit provided for sufficient regulatory oversight. Albuquerque Bernalillo Cnty. Water Util. Auth. v. NMPRC, 2010-NMSC-013, 148 N.M. 21, 229 P.3d 494.

Filing schedule of rate changes. — Where a public utility applied for an emergency fuel and purchased power cost adjustment clause; the public utility notified the public regulation commission of its proposed rate changes in the application; the public was notified of the proposed rate changes when the commission published notice of the proceedings; the commission's final order granting the fuel and purchased power cost adjustment clause required the public utility to file new schedules for the fuel and purchased power cost adjustment clause within five days after the date of the final order; and the public utility filed new schedules six days before the fuel and purchased power cost adjustment clause went into effect, the public utility complied with the substantive requirements of Subsection B of Section 62-8-7 NMSA 1978. Albuquerque Bernalillo Cnty. Water Util. Auth. v. NMPRC, 2010-NMSC-013, 148 N.M. 21, 229 P.3d 494.

Regulation 17.9.550.17(A)(2) NMAC does not require a showing that fuel and purchased power costs are volatile or fluctuate more than some other cost of providing service. Albuquerque Bernalillo Cnty. Water Util. Auth. v. NMPRC, 2010-NMSC-013, 148 N.M. 21, 229 P.3d 494.

Substantial evidence supported finding that costs fluctuate and cannot be determined in a rate case. — Where a public utility applied for an emergency fuel and purchased power cost adjustment clause and the public utility provided testimony that prices for all fuels had increased substantially and had become more volatile compared with past years, fuel and purchased power prices and off system sales were difficult to predict for rate setting purposes, financial markets downgrade the credit rating of public utilities that do not have fuel and purchased power cost adjustment clauses, natural gas will be an increasing percentage of the public utility's fuel base, purchased power agreements will have variable fuel costs based on natural gas prices, natural gas prices have evidenced 50% to 60% price swings, and the public utility's long term contracts for nuclear fuel and coal were not fixed price contracts, the commission's findings that the public utility's fuel and purchased power costs periodically fluctuate and cannot be precisely determined in a rate case were supported by substantial evidence. Albuquerque Bernalillo Cnty. Water Util. Auth. v. NMPRC, 2010-NMSC-013, 148 N.M. 21, 229 P.3d 494.

Purchased power. — Renewable energy certificates unaccompanied by the purchase of the renewable energy that the certificates represent do not constitute purchased power and the renewable energy certificate costs cannot be recovered through the automatic adjustment clause. N.M. Indus. Energy Consumers v. N.M. PRC, 2007-NMSC-053, 142 N.M. 533, 168 P.3d 105.

The commission exceeded its authority when it determined that renewable energy certificates costs were closely related to purchased power and recoverable through the automatic adjustment clause. N.M. Indus. Energy Consumers v. N.M. PRC, 2007-NMSC-053, 142 N.M. 533, 168 P.3d 105.

Rate requests carried out under this section. — This section is the provision under which the overall purpose of Section 62-8-1 NMSA 1978 is carried out for the given instance of a rate request. Otero Cnty. Elec. Coop. v. N.M. Pub. Serv. Comm'n, 108 N.M. 462, 774 P.2d 1050 (1989).

Commission is vested with considerable discretion in determining whether a rate to be received and charged is just and reasonable. Hobbs Gas Co. v. N.M. Pub. Serv. Comm'n, 94 N.M. 731, 616 P.2d 1116 (1980).

Discretion to review rates efficiently. — The statutory scheme vests broad discretion in the commission to review utility rates in an efficient and reasonable manner. Otero Cnty. Elec. Coop. v. N.M. Pub. Serv. Comm'n, 108 N.M. 462, 774 P.2d 1050 (1989).

Commission may change rates by unilateral action followed by hearing. — This section contains express language conferring power on the commission, by unilateral action, to make a change in rates, providing hearing on what is a fair and reasonable rate follows in due season on proper notice and an opportunity is made for all interested parties to be heard. Potash Co. of Am. v. N.M. Pub. Serv. Comm'n, 62 N.M. 1, 303 P.2d 908 (1956).

Including increase in contract rate. — Where the commission had entered an order authorizing a public utility to enter into a contract and to continue to charge the gas rate therein specified until further order and on the ex parte petition of the utility subsequently entered an interlocutory order making a rate increase to be effective until the commission could hold a hearing to determine and set a new and proper rate, the commission was moving strictly in conformity with the act creating it to determine one of the major questions submitted to its jurisdiction - a question of rates. Potash Co. of Am. v. N.M. Pub. Serv. Comm'n, 62 N.M. 1, 303 P.2d 908 (1956).

Action on rate change not required within nine months. — With respect to rate changes, this section does not make it mandatory for the commission to act within any specific time; it merely provides that if the commission fails to act within the nine-month suspension period, the utility may put the proposed rates into effect. Pub. Serv. Co. v. N.M. Pub. Serv. Comm'n, 92 N.M. 721, 594 P.2d 1177 (1979).

Commission may not order refund passed on to consumers. — Commission has no express or implied statutory authority to order the flow-through of refunds to electric company from power supplier to consumers. N.M. Elec. Serv. Co. v. N.M. Pub. Serv. Comm'n, 81 N.M. 683, 472 P.2d 648 (1970).

Where refund is not trust fund for consumers. — Where refund was ordered paid over to power company by the federal power commission without any restrictions, and there was nothing in the order indicating an intention on the part of the commission to create a "trust fund" for the benefit of the ultimate consumers, the refund did not constitute a trust fund belonging to company's customers. N.M. Elec. Serv. Co. v. N.M. Pub. Serv. Comm'n, 81 N.M. 683, 472 P.2d 648 (1970).

Commission's order held unsupported by substantial evidence. — Where gas company seeking rate increase proposed to trend the general plant account items by using a nationally recognized index, but the commission instead inserted its own method - to simply use the untrended original cost, although the witness who strongly supported this approach admitted that he did not know whether this would accurately establish the reproduction cost of the items, the court held the commission's order was unreasonable, being unsupported by substantial evidence. S. Union Gas Co. v. N.M. Pub. Serv. Comm'n, 84 N.M. 330, 503 P.2d 310 (1972).

Assignment of issue to separate proceeding. — The commission may assign an issue raised in a rate request hearing to a separate proceeding. Otero Cnty. Elec. Coop. v. N.M. Pub. Serv. Comm'n, 108 N.M. 462, 774 P.2d 1050 (1989).

Burden of proof on utility. — The legislature has granted the commission discretion to place the burden of proof on the utility in any rate proceeding. Otero Cnty. Elec. Coop. v. N.M. Pub. Serv. Comm'n, 108 N.M. 462, 774 P.2d 1050 (1989).

62-8-7.1. Hearing procedures for change of rates of small water and sewer utilities.

A. Whenever there is filed with the commission any schedule proposing any new rates pursuant to Section 62-8-7 NMSA 1978 by any public utility as defined in Paragraph (3) or (5) of Subsection G of Section 62-3-3 NMSA 1978 with equal to or fewer than an aggregate of one thousand five hundred service connections in any utility operating district or division in New Mexico averaged over the previous three consecutive years, the rates shall become effective as proposed by the utility without a hearing; provided that the utility shall be required to give written notice of the proposed rates to the ratepayers receiving service from the utility at least sixty days prior to filing the proposed rate change with the commission; and provided further that the commission shall enter upon a hearing concerning the reasonableness of any proposed rates filed by such a utility pursuant to Subsections C and D of Section 62-8-7 NMSA 1978 when a rate increase would have the effect of increasing the rates fifty percent or more in a twelve-month period or upon the filing with the commission of a protest seeking review of the proposed rates signed by ten percent or more of the ratepayers or twenty-five ratepayers, whichever is more, receiving service from such a utility if the commission determines there is just cause for reviewing the proposed rates. For purposes of this section, a "service connection" means a metered hookup to the utility's water system or a sewer tap to the utility's wastewater system, and each person who receives a separate bill equals one ratepayer and each person who receives multiple bills equals one ratepayer. The petition shall be signed by the person in whose name service is carried. The petition shall be filed no later than twenty days after the filing with the commission of the schedule proposing the new rates. In all other respects, Section 62-8-7 NMSA 1978 shall apply to such water utilities. If a utility provides both water and sewer service, the service connection revenues attributable to the provision of water service only shall determine whether the procedures specified in this subsection shall apply to a schedule proposing new rates for water service, and the service connection revenues attributable to the provision of sewer service shall determine whether the procedures specified in this subsection shall apply to a schedule proposing new rates for sewer service. Nothing in this subsection shall prevent a utility from filing for a rate change pursuant to any other rule or procedure of the commission.

B. Whenever there is filed with the commission a schedule proposing new rates pursuant to Section 62-8-7 NMSA 1978 by a public utility as defined in Paragraph (3) or (5) of Subsection G of Section 62-3-3 NMSA 1978, with more than an aggregate of one thousand five hundred service connections and fewer than an aggregate of five thousand service connections in any utility operating district or division in New Mexico averaged over the previous three consecutive years, the rates shall become effective as proposed by the public utility without a hearing; provided that the public utility shall be required to give written notice of the proposed rates to the ratepayers receiving service from the public utility at least sixty days prior to filing the proposed rate change with the commission; and provided further that the commission shall enter upon a hearing concerning the reasonableness of proposed rates filed by such a public utility pursuant to Subsections C and D of Section 62-8-7 NMSA 1978 when a rate increase would have the effect of increasing rates more than eight percent in a twelve-month period, or upon the commission staff's motion or upon the filing with the commission of a protest seeking review of the proposed rates signed by ten percent or more of the ratepayers receiving service from the public utility, if the commission determines there is just cause for reviewing the proposed rates. The petition shall be signed by the person in whose name service is carried. The petition shall be filed no later than twenty days after the filing with the commission of the schedule proposing the new rates. In all other respects, Section 62-8-7 NMSA 1978 shall apply to such water utilities. If a public utility provides both water and sewer service, the service connection revenues attributable to the provision of water service only shall determine whether the procedure specified in this subsection shall apply to a schedule proposing new rates for water service, and the service connection revenues attributable to the provision of sewer service shall determine whether the procedures specified in this subsection shall apply to a schedule proposing new rates for sewer service. Nothing in this subsection shall prevent a public utility from filing for a rate change pursuant to any other rule or procedure of the commission.

C. Notwithstanding the provisions of Subsections A and B of this section, a public utility as defined in Paragraph (3) or (5) of Subsection G of Section 62-3-3 NMSA 1978, with fewer than an aggregate of five thousand service connections in any utility operating district or division in New Mexico averaged over the previous three consecutive years, that is currently in good standing with all applicable requirements of the commission, may adjust its charges for commodity and service by up to two percent in any calendar year without a hearing; provided that the public utility shall not have changed its rates in the prior twelve-month period; and provided further that the public utility shall be required to give written notice of the proposed rate adjustments to the ratepayers receiving service from the public utility prior to its effective date. The increased rates shall not become effective until at least thirty days after notice and filing with the commission. If a public utility provides both water and sewer service, the service connection revenues attributable to the provision of water service only shall determine whether the procedure specified in this subsection shall apply to any schedule proposing any new rate or rates for water service, and the service connection revenues attributable to the provision of sewer service shall determine whether the procedures specified in this subsection shall apply to any schedule proposing any new rate or rates for sewer service. Nothing in this subsection shall prevent a public utility from filing for a rate change pursuant to any other rule or procedure of the commission.

History: Laws 1985, ch. 221, § 3; 1987, ch. 52, § 3; 2005, ch. 339, § 4.

ANNOTATIONS

The 2005 amendment, effective July 1, 2005, deleted the former provision of Subsection A, which provided that rates become effective without hearing if filed by a public utility whose annual operating revenues averaged less than $500,000 over a consecutive three year period; provided in Subsection A that rates become effective without hearing if filed by a public utility with equal to or fewer than an aggregate of one thousand five hundred connections in any district or division averaged over the previous three consecutive years; provided in Subsection A that the commission shall hold a hearing if a protest is signed by ten percent of ratepayers or twenty-five ratepayers, whichever is more, if the commission determines there is just cause for reviewing the proposed rates; added the definition of "service connection" in Subsection A to include a metered hookup to the utility's water system or a sewer tap to the utility's wastewater system; changed "annual operating revenues" to "service connection revenues" in Subsection A; provided in Subsection A that nothing shall prevent a utility from filing for a rate change pursuant to any other rule or procedure of the commission; added Subsection B to provide for rates changed by a public utility with more than an aggregate of one thousand five hundred service connections and fewer than an aggregate of five thousand service connections; added Subsection C to provide for rate increase of up to two percent without a hearing by a public utility that has fewer than an aggregate of five thousand service connections and that meets the criteria of Subsection C.

The 1987 amendment, effective June 19, 1987, designated the existing language as Subsection A (there is no Subsection B), substituted "this section" for "this act" near the beginning of the second sentence, added the present last sentence and made minor language changes throughout the section.

62-8-8. Inspection and supervision fee.

Each utility doing business in this state and subject to the control and jurisdiction of the commission with respect to its rates or service regulations shall pay annually to the state a fee for the inspection and supervision of such business in an amount equal to five hundred six thousandths percent of its gross receipts from business transacted in New Mexico for the preceding calendar year. That sum shall be payable on or before the first day of April in each year. An inspection and supervision fee shall be paid by utilities in addition to all property, franchise, license, intangible and other taxes, fees and charges provided by law. No similar inspection and supervision fee shall be measured by the amount of the gross receipts of such utility for the calendar year next preceding the date fixed in this section for the payment of the fee. In the case of utilities engaged in interstate business, the inspection and supervision fee shall be measured by the gross receipts of those utilities from intrastate business only for that preceding calendar year and not in any respect upon receipts derived wholly or in part from interstate business. No inspection and supervision fee shall be charged on the gross receipts from the sale of gas, water or electricity to a utility regulated by the commission for resale to the public.

ANNOTATIONS

Repeals and reenactments. — Laws 1967, ch. 96, § 6, repealed 68-6-8, 1953 Comp., relating to inspection and supervision fees, and enacted the above section.

The 2005 amendment, effective July 1, 2005, changed the date the sum is payable from the last day of February to the first day of April.

The 2003 amendment, effective July 1, 2003, substituted "fee" for "fees" in the section heading, in the first sentence, substituted "five hundred six thousandths" for "one-half of one" following "an amount equal to", deleted "In calendar year 1992, that sum shall be payable in equal quarterly installments on or before the last day of February, May, August and November, respectively. Thereafter" preceding "That sum shall", substituted "An inspection and supervision fee shall be paid by utilities in addition to" for "Inspection and supervision fees shall be paid by such utilities in addition to any and" preceding "all property, franchise", deleted "now or hereafter" preceding "provided by law", in the final and penultimate sentences substituted "the inspection and supervision fee" for "the fees".

The 1992 amendment, effective March 5, 1992, substituted the present second and third sentences for the former second sentence, which read "Said sum shall be payable in equal quarterly installments on or before the last day of February, May, August and November in each year" and made stylistic changes.

Recovery of costs of prudence review audit. — Where a public utility applied for an emergency fuel and purchased power cost adjustment clause; the public regulation commission approved the fuel and purchased power cost adjustment clause; to ensure the proper administration of the fuel and purchased power costs adjustment clause and to ensure that the public utility's electric power was generated at the lowest reasonable cost, the commission required the public utility to pay the costs of an independent prudency review of its fuel and purchased power costs by auditors selected by and under the direction of the commission; and the commission permitted the public utility to treat all prudency review costs paid by the public utility as a regulatory asset which could be recovered from the public utility's ratepayers through the public utility's base rates, the costs of the prudency review audit were a legitimate operating expense of the public utility and could be recovered through its base rates. Albuquerque Bernalillo Co. Water Util. Auth. v. NMPRC, 2010-NMSC-013, 148 N.M. 21, 229 P.3d 494.

Fees permitted for prior year's services. — The commission has authority to assess and collect inspection and supervision fees for the preceding year, despite the fact that, during the year the fees are actually assessed and become payable, the utility is no longer doing business in New Mexico. United Waterworks, Inc. v. N.M. Pub. Util. Comm'n, 2000-NMCA-057, 129 N.M. 262, 5 P.3d 584.

Legislative intent is that fees collected go to the state, not to any specific fund. Once deposited with the state, in the general fund, they may be appropriated by the legislature as it sees fit. Thus, the commission is only entitled for its operation to such money generated by the fees collected pursuant to this section as the legislature may appropriate. The commission may not expend the entire amount received. 1978 Op. Att'y Gen. No. 78-10.

Fee calculated at beginning of year based on past year's receipts. — Under this section the fee to be paid in any given year is calculated at the beginning of the year on the basis of gross receipts for the past year. It is only the payment of the fee which is permitted to be spread throughout the year. 1967 Op. Att'y Gen. No. 67-96.

Where utility operates only for part of a year, it is liable for the full annual fee. 1943-44 Op. Att'y Gen. No. 43-4266 (rendered under former statute).

Effect of disposing of major part of holdings. — Where utility disposes of a major part of its holdings, the fees for the remaining holdings will be based upon gross receipts of such remaining holdings for the previous year. 1943-44 Op. Att'y Gen. No. 43-4266 (rendered under former statute).

First fees paid by rural electric cooperatives. 1961-62 Op. Att'y Gen. No. 62-16 (rendered under former statute).

62-8-9. Disposition of funds; interest and penalty on late payments.

A. All fees and money collected under the provisions of the Public Utility Act [Chapter 62, Articles 1 through 6 and 8 through 13 NMSA 1978], including fees provided for in Section 62-13-2 NMSA 1978 and including fees and charges for inspection and supervision, for stenographic services and for transcripts of evidence, shall be remitted by the commission to the state treasurer not later than the day following receipt.

Payments provided for in the Public Utility Act shall be obligatory upon all utilities subject to the Public Utility Act.

B. When a fee is not paid on the date it is due, interest shall be paid to the state on the amount due. The interest on the amount due shall start to accrue on the day following the due date and will continue to accrue until the total amount due is paid. The rate of interest on a late fee payment shall be fifteen percent per year, computed at the rate of one and one-fourth percent per month.

C. In addition to any interest due on a late fee payment, a penalty shall be paid to the state for failure to pay the fee when it was due. The penalty imposed shall be two percent of the amount of the fee due.

D. The attorney general, in the name of the state, shall bring suit to collect fees, interest and penalties that remain unpaid.

History: 1953 Comp., § 68-6-9.1, enacted by Laws 1957, ch. 25, § 1; 1992, ch. 23, § 1.

ANNOTATIONS

Compiler's notes. — Sections 62-8-1 to 62-8-9 of the Public Utility Act are still effective as the repeal of Chapter 62, Article 6 by Laws 1998, Chapter 108, Section 82, effective July 1, 2003 Chapter 108, Section 82 was repealed prior to taking effect by Chapter 23, Section 1, Laws 2003. Although Laws 2003, Chapter 336, Section 8, amended Laws 1998, Chapter 82, as amended, an amendment of a repealed section is ineffective. See Quintana v. N.M. Dep't of Corrs., 100 N.M. 224, 668 P.2d 1101 (1983). Laws 2003, Chapter 416, Section 5 also repealed Laws 1998, Chapter 108, Section 82, as amended, a second time, however, that repeal is of no effect as the section had previously been repealed by Chapter 23, Section 1, Laws 2003.

The 1992 amendment, effective July 1, 1992, added the present catchline; added the Subsection A designation; in Subsection A, made a section reference substitution, inserted "inspection and supervision, for", deleted the former last sentence, relating to failure, neglect or refusal of a utility to pay on the date it is due, and made stylistic changes; and added Subsections B, C, and D.

62-8-10. Utility service; seriously ill individuals.

Utility service shall not be discontinued to any residence where a seriously or chronically ill person is residing if the person responsible for the utility service charges does not have the financial resources to pay the charges and if a licensed physician, physician assistant, osteopathic physician, osteopathic physician's assistant or certified nurse practitioner certifies that discontinuance of service might endanger that person's health or life and the certificate is delivered to a manager or officer of the provider of the utility service at least two days prior to the due date of a billing for service. The commission shall provide by rule the procedure necessary to carry out this section.

ARTICLE 9

The Utility Franchise

62-9-1. New construction; ratemaking principles.

A. No public utility shall begin the construction or operation of any public utility plant or system or of any extension of any plant or system without first obtaining from the commission a certificate that public convenience and necessity require or will require such construction or operation. This section does not require a public utility to secure a certificate for an extension within any municipality or district within which it lawfully commenced operations before June 13, 1941 or for an extension within or to territory already served by it, necessary in the ordinary course of its business, or for an extension into territory contiguous to that already occupied by it and that is not receiving similar service from another utility. If any public utility or mutual domestic water consumer association in constructing or extending its line, plant or system unreasonably interferes or is about to unreasonably interfere with the service or system of any other public utility or mutual domestic water consumer association rendering the same type of service, the commission, on complaint of the public utility or mutual domestic water consumer association claiming to be injuriously affected, may, upon and pursuant to the applicable procedure provided in Chapter 62, Article 10 NMSA 1978, and after giving due regard to public convenience and necessity, including reasonable service agreements between the utilities, make an order and prescribe just and reasonable terms and conditions in harmony with the Public Utility Act [Chapter 62, Articles 1 through 6 and 8 through 13 NMSA 1978] to provide for the construction, development and extension, without unnecessary duplication and economic waste.

B. If a certificate of public convenience and necessity is required pursuant to this section for the construction or extension of a generating plant or transmission lines and associated facilities, a public utility may include in the application for the certificate a request that the commission determine the ratemaking principles and treatment that will be applicable for the facilities that are the subject of the application for the certificate. If such a request is made, the commission shall, in the order granting the certificate, set forth the ratemaking principles and treatment that will be applicable to the public utility's stake in the certified facilities in all ratemaking proceedings on and after such time as the facilities are placed in service. The commission shall use the ratemaking principles and treatment specified in the order in all proceedings in which the cost of the public utility's stake in the certified facilities is considered. If the commission later decertifies the facilities, the commission shall apply the ratemaking principles and treatment specified in the original certification order to the costs associated with the facilities that were incurred by the public utility prior to decertification.

C. The commission may approve the application for the certificate without a formal hearing if no protest is filed within sixty days of the date that notice is given, pursuant to commission order, that the application has been filed. The commission shall issue its order granting or denying the application within nine months from the date the application is filed with the commission. Failure to issue its order within nine months is deemed to be approval and final disposition of the application; provided, however, that the commission may extend the time for granting approval for an additional six months for good cause shown.

D. As used in this section, "mutual domestic water consumer association" means an association created and organized pursuant to the provisions of:

- (1) Laws 1947, Chapter 206; Laws 1949, Chapter 79; or Laws 1951, Chapter 52; or
- (2) the Sanitary Projects Act [Chapter 3, Article 29 NMSA 1978].

History: Laws 1941, ch. 84, § 46; 1941 Comp., § 72-701; 1953 Comp., § 68-7-1; Laws 1965, ch. 289, § 10; 1967, ch. 96, § 1; 1990, ch. 95, § 1; 2000, ch. 51, § 1; 2005, ch. 340, § 1.

ANNOTATIONS

Compiler's notes. — Sections 62-9-1 to 62-9-7 of the Public Utility Act are still effective as the repeal of Chapter 62, Article 6 by Laws 1998, Chapter 108, Section 82, effective July 1, 2003 Chapter 108, Section 82 was repealed prior to taking effect by Chapter 23, Section 1, Laws 2003. Although Laws 2003, Chapter 336, Section 8, amended Laws 1998, Chapter 82, as amended, an amendment of a repealed section is ineffective. See Quintana v. N.M. Dep't of Corrs., 100 N.M. 224, 668 P.2d 1101 (1983). Laws 2003, Chapter 416, Section 5 also repealed Laws 1998, Chapter 108, Section 82, as amended, a second time, however, that repeal is of no effect as the section had previously been repealed by Chapter 23, Section 1, Laws 2003.

The 2005 amendment, effective July 1, 2005, added Subsection B to provide for the determination of the rate making principles and treatment that will be applicable for a facility that is subject to a certificate of public convenience and necessity; and added Subsection C to provide for the approval of the certificate of public convenience and necessity without a hearing.

The 2000 amendment, effective May 17, 2000, designated the existing provisions of the section as Subsection A, and in Subsection A deleted "after the effective date of this 1941 act" following "No public utility shall" in the first sentence, substituted "June 13, 1941" for "the effective date of this 1941 act" in the second sentence, deleted "Notwithstanding any other provision of the Public Utility Act, as amended, or any privilege granted under that act" from the beginning of the third sentence, and added Subsection B.

The 1990 amendment, effective May 16, 1990, inserted "or mutual domestic water consumer association" following "public utility" in three places, substituted "Chapter 62, Article 10 NMSA 1978" for "Sections 68-8-1 through 68-8-16 New Mexico Statutes Annotated, 1953 Compilation" in the third sentence and made numerous stylistic changes throughout the section.

Constitutionality. — The preference in this section indicated by its protection of mutual domestic water consumer associations from invasion by a regulated utility but not from an unregulated utility does not lack a rational basis, and an argument that it unconstitutionally discriminates against the invaded utility solely on the basis of the status of the invader was without merit. Morningstar Water Users Ass'n v. N.M. Pub. Util. Comm'n, 120 N.M. 579, 904 P.2d 28 (1995).

Deference to commission interpretation. — The court will defer to the public regulation commission's interpretation of the ambiguous phrase "unreasonably interfere with the service or system" because the public regulation commission has policy-making authority to plan and coordinate the activities of New Mexico public utilities and because the public regulation commission has developed the expertise to understand the operation of public utilities. Doña Ana Mut. Domestic Water Consumers Ass'n v. N.M. Pub. Regulation Comm'n, 2006-NMSC-032, 140 N.M. 6, 139 P.3d 166.

Interpretation of "unreasonably interfere with the service or system". — The public regulation commission interpretation of the phrase "unreasonably interfere with the service or system", which presumes that all contiguous territory lies within a utility's "service or system", and its definition of "contiguous" to include territory within one-half mile of a public utility's pipes or facilities are not arbitrary or capricious. Doña Ana Mut. Domestic Water Consumers Ass'n v. N.M. Pub. Regulation Comm'n, 2006-NMSC-032, 140 N.M. 6, 139 P.3d 166.

Substantial evidence of interference. — Evidence that encroachment by a competing public utility on the service area of an objecting public utility would interfere with the objecting public utility's physical system, planning to provide future service and ability to realize economies of scale for its customers is substantial evidence of interference with the service or system of the objecting public utility. Doña Ana Mut. Domestic Water Consumers Ass'n v. N.M. Pub. Regulation Comm'n, 2006-NMSC-032, 140 N.M. 6, 139 P.3d 166.

State engineer approval of water rights obtained by an encroaching public utility to be used in disputed service area occupied by another public utility does not preclude the public regulation commission from entering an order denying the encroaching public utility the right to provide service in the disputed area. Doña Ana Mut. Domestic Water Consumers Ass'n v. N.M. Pub. Regulation Comm'n, 2006-NMSC-032, 140 N.M. 6, 139 P.3d 166.

Water users association not within commission's jurisdiction. — A water users association formed under Chapter 73, Article 5 NMSA 1978 was not a mutual domestic water consumer within the meaning of this section; further, absent any evidence showing the association was subject to the Public Utility Act, it did not come within the jurisdiction of the public utility commission (now public regulation commission).

Morningstar Water Users Ass'n v. N.M. Pub. Util. Comm'n, 120 N.M. 579, 904 P.2d 28 (1995) (decided prior to 2000 amendment).

City not within commission's jurisdiction. — A city operating a water facility which had not elected to come under the Public Utility Act and which had a population of less than 200,000 was not a public utility within the jurisdiction of the public utility commission (now public regulation commission). Morningstar Water Users Ass'n v. N.M. Pub. Util. Comm'n, 120 N.M. 579, 904 P.2d 28 (1995).

Certificate is needed for construction, but not for extensions where lawfully operating. — This section prohibits construction of any facilities for public utility service without first obtaining a certificate of convenience and necessity, and provides that the holder of a certificate need not get a permit for extensions within a district where it has lawfully commenced operations, or to territory being served by it and necessary in the ordinary course of its business. N.M. Elec. Serv. Co. v. Lea Cnty. Elec. Coop., 76 N.M. 434, 415 P.2d 556, cert. denied, 385 U.S. 969, 87 S. Ct. 506, 17 L. Ed. 2d 433 (1966).

New certificate not required for service to few transferred customers. — It is not required that utility obtain a new certificate for the purpose of providing service to a few customers who are to be transferred to it from another utility. Gonzales v. Pub. Serv. Comm'n, 102 N.M. 529, 697 P.2d 948 (1985).

1967 amendment to this section did not annul appellant's certificate of public convenience and necessity which was valid at the date of amendment. Pub. Serv. Co. v. N.M. Pub. Serv. Comm'n, 86 N.M. 255, 522 P.2d 802 (1974).

Other provisions govern revocation of certificate. — If the commission is assumed to have power to revoke a certificate, the authority as well as the procedure therefor is found in Sections 62-10-1 to 62-10-16 NMSA 1978 rather than in Sections 62-9-1 and 62-9-4 NMSA 1978, as contended by the commission. Pub. Serv. Co. v. N.M. Pub. Serv. Comm'n, 86 N.M. 255, 522 P.2d 802 (1974); N.M. Elec. Serv. Co. v. Lea Cnty. Elec. Coop., 76 N.M. 434, 415 P.2d 556, cert. denied, 385 U.S. 969, 87 S. Ct. 506, 17 L. Ed. 2d 433 (1966).

Commission cannot deny right to continue under valid certificate. — The commission cannot deny to service company its right to continue in the area covered by its certificate if its certificate has been exercised as required by Section 62-9-4 NMSA 1978, or, in other words, if its certificate is valid in the area sought to be served by it, even though other public utilities have overlapping or conflicting certificates; furthermore, the commission cannot hold existing franchise rights null and void, nor can it make an order which would conflict with Section 62-9-2 B NMSA 1978, which states that when certificates granted utilities under that section overlap, certificates theretofore issued and exercised within the time required are valid under Section 62-9-4 NMSA 1978 and both utilities shall be permitted to continue service. Pub. Serv. Co. v. N.M. Pub. Serv. Comm'n, 86 N.M. 255, 522 P.2d 802 (1974); N.M. Elec. Serv. Co. v. Lea

Cnty. Elec. Coop., 76 N.M. 434, 415 P.2d 556, cert. denied, 385 U.S. 969, 87 S. Ct. 506, 17 L. Ed. 2d 433 (1966).

Even though commission could find certificate void under this section. — A conclusion that the certificate of a public service company was null and void, if based upon proper findings, could probably be made in determining the issues in a hearing under this section as a necessary incident of the larger questions presented thereunder. Pub. Serv. Co. v. N.M. Pub. Serv. Comm'n, 86 N.M. 255, 522 P.2d 802 (1974); N.M. Elec. Serv. Co. v. Lea Cnty. Elec. Coop., 76 N.M. 434, 415 P.2d 556, cert. denied, 385 U.S. 969, 87 S. Ct. 506, 17 L. Ed. 2d 433 (1966).

If holder does not exercise certificate in time. — A certificate of public convenience and necessity cannot be declared null and void in the absence of findings by the commission, based upon substantial evidence, that the certificate holder failed to exercise its right with diligence. Pub. Serv. Co. v. N.M. Pub. Serv. Comm'n, 86 N.M. 255, 522 P.2d 802 (1974); N.M. Elec. Serv. Co. v. Lea Cnty. Elec. Coop., 76 N.M. 434, 415 P.2d 556, cert. denied, 385 U.S. 969, 87 S. Ct. 506, 17 L. Ed. 2d 433 (1966).

Formerly, section did not apply to rural electric cooperatives. Socorro Elec. Coop. v. Pub. Serv. Co., 66 N.M. 343, 348 P.2d 88 (1959); 1957-58 Op. Att'y Gen. No. 57-31.

Section does not apply to water and sanitation districts. — Water and sanitation districts are not required by statute to obtain a certificate of convenience and necessity as are public utilities under the jurisdiction of the commission. 1971 Op. Att'y Gen. No. 71-56 (decided prior to 2000 amendment).

62-9-1.1. Additional authority with respect to water and sewer utilities.

A. Notwithstanding any other provision of the Public Utility Act [Chapter 62, Articles 1 through 6 and 8 through 13 NMSA 1978], or any provision of the Municipal Code [Chapter 3 NMSA 1978, except Article 66], or any privilege granted under either act, if any municipality that has not elected to come within the terms of the Public Utility Act, as provided in Section 62-6-5 NMSA 1978, constructs or extends or proposes to construct or extend its water or sewer line or system or water pumping station or reservoir into a geographical area described in a certificate of public convenience and necessity granted by the commission to a public utility rendering the same type of service, the commission, on complaint of the public utility claiming to be injuriously affected thereby, shall, after giving notice to the municipality and affording the municipality an opportunity for a hearing with respect to the issue of whether its water or sewer line, plant or system actually intrudes or will intrude into the area certificated to the public utility, determine whether such intrusion has occurred or will occur. If the commission determines such an intrusion has occurred or will occur, the municipality owning or operating the water or sewer utility shall cease and desist from making such construction or extension in the absence of written consent of the public utility involved and approval of the commission.

B. The authority and jurisdiction conferred by Subsection A of this section shall be in addition and cumulative to the independent authority of the commission to determine territorial disputes between public utilities and between mutual domestic water consumer associations and public utilities as provided in Section 62-9-1 NMSA 1978, which provisions shall govern the resolution of a territorial dispute between a municipality that has elected to come within the terms of the Public Utility Act, as provided in Section 62-6-5 NMSA 1978, and any other public utility rendering the same type of service. Provided, however, in the event that a certificate of public convenience and necessity granted to such a municipality overlaps, or conflicts with, a valid certificate previously issued by the commission and exercised within the term required under Section 62-9-4 NMSA 1978, the municipal utility shall be permitted to continue operation of its plant, line and system in existence upon the effective date of this 1991 act and the other public utility may continue service in the area covered by its certificate, subject to the other provisions of the Public Utility Act.

C. For purposes of this section, "municipality" means any municipality that has a population of more than two hundred thousand as determined in the most recent federal decennial census and is located in a class A county.

ANNOTATIONS

Compiler's notes. — Sections 62-9-1 to 62-9-7 of the Public Utility Act are still effective as the repeal of Chapter 62, Article 6 by Laws 1998, Chapter 108, Section 82, effective July 1, 2003 Chapter 108, Section 82 was repealed prior to taking effect by Chapter 23, Section 1, Laws 2003. Although Laws 2003, Chapter 336, Section 8, amended Laws 1998, Chapter 82, as amended, an amendment of a repealed section is ineffective. See Quintana v. N.M. Dep't of Corrs., 100 N.M. 224, 668 P.2d 1101 (1983). Laws 2003, Chapter 416, Section 5 also repealed Laws 1998, Chapter 108, Section 82, as amended, a second time, however, that repeal is of no effect as the section had previously been repealed by Chapter 23, Section 1, Laws 2003.

Right of municipality to provide service in the certified area of a public utility. —

Where the public regulation commission issued the public utility a certificate of public convenience and necessity authorizing the public utility to provide water in an area outside the limits of the municipality; the municipality later annexed three undeveloped tracts of land within the public utility's certified area, subdivided the land and committed itself to provide water to the subdivision; and the municipality had not elected to become subject to the Public Utilities Act, Section 62-1-1 NMSA 1978 et seq., and did not have a population of more than 200,000, the public utility's certificate of public convenience and necessity did not prevent the municipality from competing with the public utility in the certified area because the municipality was not subject to the Public Utilities Act. Moongate Water Co., Inc. v. City of Las Cruces, 2013-NMSC-018, 302 P.3d 405, aff'g 2012-NMCA-003, 269 P.3d 1.

Certificate of convenience and necessity did not grant exclusive service rights against a small municipality. —

A certificate of public convenience and necessity issued by the public regulation commission does not grant a public utility service rights against a municipality that has a population less than or equal to two hundred thousand people and that has not elected to be subject to the Public Utility Act. Moongate Water Co., Inc. v. City of Las Cruces, 2012-NMCA-003, 269 P.3d 1, cert. granted, 2012-NMCERT-001.

Where a privately owned and regulated public utility company held a certificate of convenience and necessity issued by the public regulation commission to provide water service to residents in an area of new residential subdivisions; a municipality annexed the area, extended its water utility infrastructure into the area as part of its municipal water utility system, and began providing water service to residents in the area; and the municipality had a population of less than two hundred thousand and had not elected to be subject to the Public Utility Act, the certificate of convenience and necessity did not give the public utility exclusive service rights in the area against the municipal water system. Moongate Water Co., Inc. v. City of Las Cruces, 2012-NMCA-003, 269 P.3d 1, cert. granted, 2012-NMCERT-001.

City not within commission's jurisdiction. — A city operating a water facility which had not elected to come under the Public Utility Act and which had a population of less than 200,000 was not a public utility within the jurisdiction of the public utility commission (now public regulation commission). Morningstar Water Users Ass'n v. N.M. Pub. Util. Comm'n, 120 N.M. 579, 904 P.2d 28 (1995).

62-9-2. Applications by utilities brought under the Public Utility Act.

A. Within sixty days after the effective date of this 1967 act, each utility brought within the jurisdiction of the commission by virtue of this 1967 act shall file with the commission an application, in such form as may be prescribed by the commission, for a certificate of public convenience and necessity covering its present plant, lines and system. Upon proof of the existence and operation of the plant, lines and system upon the effective date of this 1967 act, the commission shall grant the certificate to the utility.

B. In the event the certificate granted a utility under Subsection A of this section overlaps or conflicts with a valid certificate heretofore issued by the commission and exercised within the time required under Section 62-9-4 NMSA 1978, both certificates shall be valid and both utilities shall be permitted to continue service subject to the other provisions of the Public Utility Act [Chapter 62, Articles 1 through 6 and 8 through 13 NMSA 1978], as amended.

ANNOTATIONS

Repeals and reenactments. — Laws 1967, ch. 96, § 7, repealed 68-7-1.1, 1953 Comp., relating to applications by utilities covered by the Public Utility Act by virtue of Laws 1961, ch. 89, and enacted the above section.

Compiler's notes. — The words "this 1967 act," appearing in Subsection A, refer to Laws 1967, ch. 96, compiled as 62-3-1 to 62-3-4, 62-6-8, 62-8-8, 62-9-1, 62-9-2 and 62-9-6 NMSA 1978.

Sections 62-9-1 to 62-9-7 of the Public Utility Act are still effective as the repeal of Chapter 62, Article 6 by Laws 1998, Chapter 108, Section 82, effective July 1, 2003 Chapter 108, Section 82 was repealed prior to taking effect by Chapter 23, Section 1, Laws 2003. Although Laws 2003, Chapter 336, Section 8, amended Laws 1998, Chapter 82, as amended, an amendment of a repealed section is ineffective. See Quintana v. N.M. Dep't of Corrs., 100 N.M. 224, 668 P.2d 1101 (1983). Laws 2003, Chapter 416, Section 5 also repealed Laws 1998, Chapter 108, Section 82, as amended, a second time, however, that repeal is of no effect as the section had previously been repealed by Chapter 23, Section 1, Laws 2003.

The 1993 amendment, effective June 18, 1993, in Subsection A, deleted "public service" following "jurisdiction of" and made stylistic changes; and substituted "Section 62-9-4 NMSA 1978" for "Section 68-7-2 New Mexico Statutes Annotated, 1953 Compilation" in Subsection B.

Certificate cannot be held void unless not exercised diligently. — A certificate of public convenience and necessity cannot be declared null and void in the absence of findings by the commission, based upon substantial evidence, that the certificate holder failed to exercise its right with diligence. Pub. Serv. Co. v. N.M. Pub. Serv. Comm'n, 86 N.M. 255, 522 P.2d 802 (1974).

Application covering existing facilities must be granted. — Upon timely filing of an application for a certificate of public convenience and necessity to cover a cooperative's "present plant, lines and system" and upon proof that the same are in existence and operating, the certificate so applied for must be granted. Lea Cnty. Elec. Coop. v. N.M. Pub. Serv. Comm'n, 75 N.M. 191, 402 P.2d 377 (1965), cert. denied, 385 U.S. 969, 87 S. Ct. 506, 17 L. Ed. 2d 433 (1966) (decided under former similar provision).

Regardless of conflicting or overlapping certificates. — The commission cannot deny to service company its right to continue in the area covered by its certificate if its certificate has been exercised as required by Section 62-9-4 NMSA 1978, or, in other words, if its certificate is valid in the area sought to be served by it, even though other public utilities have overlapping or conflicting certificates; furthermore, the commission cannot hold existing franchise rights null and void, nor can it make an order which would conflict with this section, which states that when certificates granted utilities under this section overlap, certificates theretofore issued and exercised within the time required are valid under Section 62-9-4 NMSA 1978 and both utilities shall be permitted to continue service. Pub. Serv. Co. v. N.M. Pub. Serv. Comm'n, 86 N.M. 255, 522 P.2d 802 (1974); N.M. Elec. Serv. Co. v. Lea Cnty. Elec. Coop., 76 N.M. 434, 415 P.2d 556, cert. denied, 385 U.S. 969, 87 S. Ct. 506, 17 L. Ed. 2d 433 (1966).

New certificate and conflicting or overlapping certificate are both valid. — Subsection B provides that both the certificate so granted as well as any pre-existing certificate overlapping or conflicting with that granted to the cooperative shall be valid and the service under both shall continue. No suggestion of delineation of areas or territory served or to be served is contained in the plain language used by the legislature. Lea Cnty. Elec. Coop. v. N.M. Pub. Serv. Comm'n, 75 N.M. 191, 402 P.2d 377 (1965), cert. denied, 385 U.S. 969, 87 S. Ct. 506, 17 L. Ed. 2d 433 (1966) (decided under former similar provision).

62-9-2.1. Applications by sewer utilities brought under the Public Utility Act.

Within six months after the effective date of these 1987 amendments to the Public Utility Act [Chapter 62, Articles 1 through 6 and 8 through 13 NMSA 1978], each sewer utility brought within the jurisdiction of the commission by virtue of these 1987 amendments to the Public Utility Act shall file with the commission an application, in such form as may be prescribed by the commission, for a certificate of public convenience and necessity covering its present plant, lines and system. Upon proof of the existence and operation thereof upon the effective date of these 1987 amendments to the Public Utility Act, the commission shall grant to the utility such certificate. The commission shall enter upon a hearing to determine whether the rate or rates of such a sewer utility in effect on the effective date of these amendments to the Public Utility Act are just and reasonable pursuant to Subsection D of Section 62-8-7 NMSA 1978 upon the filing with the commission of protests signed by ten percent or more of the ratepayers receiving sewer service from such a sewer utility. For purposes of this section, each person who receives a separate bill equals one ratepayer and each person who receives multiple bills equals one ratepayer. The protest shall be signed by the person in whose name service is carried. The protests shall be filed no later than sixty days after the filing with the commission of an application by the sewer utility for a certificate of public convenience and necessity as prescribed by this section. Each sewer utility filing an application for a certificate of public convenience and necessity under this section shall be required at the time of filing to give written notice to its ratepayers of the filing of its application and the ratepayers' rights to protest its rates under this section.

History: Laws 1987, ch. 52, § 4; 1993, ch. 282, § 36.

ANNOTATIONS

Compiler's notes. — The terms "these amendments" and "these 1987 amendments," referred to throughout the first three sentences, apparently mean Laws 1987, ch. 52, which appears as Sections 62-3-2.1, 62-3-3, 62-8-7.1 and 62-9-2.1 NMSA 1978.

Sections 62-9-1 to 62-9-7 of the Public Utility Act are still effective as the repeal of Chapter 62, Article 6 by Laws 1998, Chapter 108, Section 82, effective July 1, 2003 Chapter 108, Section 82 was repealed prior to taking effect by Chapter 23, Section 1, Laws 2003. Although Laws 2003, Chapter 336, Section 8, amended Laws 1998, Chapter 82, as amended, an amendment of a repealed section is ineffective. See Quintana v. N.M. Dep't of Corrs., 100 N.M. 224, 668 P.2d 1101 (1983). Laws 2003, Chapter 416, Section 5 also repealed Laws 1998, Chapter 108, Section 82, as amended, a second time, however, that repeal is of no effect as the section had previously been repealed by Chapter 23, Section 1, Laws 2003.

The 1993 amendment, effective June 18, 1993, in the first sentence, inserted "1987" preceding "amendments" and substituted "the commission" for "the public service commission"; made a stylistic change in the second sentence; and substituted "The commission" for "The public service commission" at the beginning of the third sentence.

62-9-3. Location control; limitations.

A. The legislature finds that it is in the public interest to consider any adverse effect upon the environment and upon the quality of life of the people of the state that may occur due to plants, facilities and transmission lines needed to supply present and future electrical services. It is recognized that such plants, lines and facilities will be needed to meet growing demands for electric services and cannot be built without in some way affecting the physical environment where these plants, facilities and transmission lines are located. The legislature therefore declares that it is the purpose of this section to provide for the supervision and control by the commission of the location within this state of new plants, facilities and transmission lines for the generation and transmission of electricity for sale to the public.

B. No person, including any municipality, shall begin the construction of any plant designed for or capable of operation at a capacity of three hundred thousand kilowatts or more for the generation of electricity for sale to the public within or without this state, whether or not owned or operated by a person that is a public utility subject to regulation by the commission, or of transmission lines in connection with such a plant, on a location within this state unless the location has been approved by the commission. For the purposes of this section, "transmission line" means any electric transmission line and associated facilities designed for or capable of operations at a nominal voltage of two hundred thirty kilovolts or more, to be constructed in connection with and to transmit electricity from a new plant for which approval is required.

C. Application for approval shall contain all information required by the commission to make its determination, be made in writing setting forth the facts involved and be filed with the commission. The commission shall, after a public hearing and upon notice as the commission may prescribe, act upon the application. The commission may condition its approval upon a demonstration by the applicant that it has received all necessary air and water quality permits. A public utility regulated by the commission may submit an application pursuant to Section 62-9-1 NMSA 1978 for a certificate of public convenience and necessity prior to filing an application for location approval pursuant to this section in order to determine the need for the generating plant or transmission line prior to determination of the appropriate location.

D. No approval shall be required for additions to or modifications of an existing plant or transmission line.

E. The commission shall approve the application for the location of the generating plant unless the commission finds that the operations of the facilities for which approval is sought will not be in compliance with all applicable air and water pollution control standards and regulations existing. The commission shall not require compliance with performance standards other than those established by the agency of this state having jurisdiction over a particular pollution source.

F. The commission shall approve the application for the location of the transmission lines unless the commission finds that the location will unduly impair important environmental values.

G. No application shall be approved pursuant to this section that violates an existing state, county or municipal land use statutory or administrative regulation unless the commission finds that the regulation is unreasonably restrictive and compliance with the regulation is not in the interest of the public convenience and necessity, in which event and to the extent found by the commission the regulation shall be inapplicable and void as to the siting. When it becomes apparent to the commission that an issue exists with respect to whether a regulation is unreasonably restrictive and compliance with the regulation is not in the interest of public convenience and necessity, it shall promptly serve notice of that fact by certified mail upon the agency, board or commission having jurisdiction for land use of the area affected and shall make the agency, board or commission a party to the proceedings upon its request and shall give it an opportunity to respond to the issue. The judgment of the commission shall be conclusive on all questions of siting, land use, aesthetics and any other state or local requirements affecting the siting.

H. A public utility subject to the jurisdiction of the commission may elect to file an application pursuant to this section with the commission for location approval of an electric transmission line or associated facilities designed for or capable of operation at a nominal voltage of one hundred fifteen kilovolts or more but less than two hundred thirty kilovolts if:

(1) the public utility files an application for construction, extension, rebuilding or improvement of the electric transmission line or associated equipment under any applicable county or municipal land use statute, ordinance or administrative regulation; and

(2) the agency, board or commission of the county or municipality disapproves the application. For purposes of this subsection, "disapprove" means the failure of the county or municipal agency, board or commission to issue a final order approving the application within two hundred forty days of the public utility's filing of a complete application with the agency, board or commission. An application shall be deemed complete if within fifteen working days of the public utility's filing of the application, or a supplement or amendment thereto, the agency, board or commission fails to send written notice to the public utility enumerating the specific requirements under the applicable county or municipal land use statute, ordinance or administrative regulation that the application fails to satisfy.

I. Upon consideration of the application and the standards set forth in Subsection G of this section, the commission may authorize construction, extension, rebuilding or improvement of the transmission line or facilities notwithstanding the prior disapproval of the county or municipal agency, board or commission. The judgment of the commission shall be conclusive on all questions of siting, land use, aesthetics and any other state or local requirements affecting the siting.

J. Nothing in this section shall be deemed to confer upon the commission power or jurisdiction to regulate or supervise any person, including a municipality, that is not otherwise a public utility regulated and supervised by the commission, with respect to its rates and service and with respect to its securities, nor shall any other provision of the Public Utility Act [Chapter 62, Articles 1 through 6 and 8 through 13 NMSA 1978] be applicable with respect to such a person, including a municipality.

K. The commission may approve an application filed pursuant to this section without a formal hearing if no protest is filed within sixty days of the date that notice is given that the application has been filed. The commission shall issue its order granting or denying the application within six months from the date the application is filed with the commission; provided, however, that:

(1) if a public utility simultaneously files an application for approval of location of a transmission line pursuant to this section and an application for a certificate of public convenience and necessity pursuant to Subsection B of Section 62-9-1 NMSA 1978, the commission shall issue its order granting or denying the applications within nine months from the date the applications are filed with the commission; provided, however, that the commission may extend the time for granting approval an additional six months for good cause shown;

(2) if a public utility files an application for approval of location of a transmission line pursuant to this section after its application for a certificate of public convenience and necessity has been approved pursuant to Subsection B of Section 62-9-1 NMSA 1978, the commission shall issue its order granting or denying the application for approval of location of a transmission line within ninety days from the date the application is filed with the commission; and

(3) if a public utility files an application for approval of location of a transmission line pursuant to this section while its application for a certificate of public convenience and necessity is pending pursuant to Subsection B of Section 62-9-1 NMSA 1978, and the application for a certificate is subsequently approved, the commission shall issue its order granting or denying the application for approval of location of a transmission line within ninety days from the date the application for certificate of public convenience and necessity is approved.

L. Failure to issue its order approving or denying an application filed pursuant to this section within the time periods set forth in Subsection J of this section is deemed to be approval of the application; provided, however, that the commission may extend the time for granting approval for a transmission line that is subject to this section for an additional nine months upon finding that the additional time is necessary to determine if the proposed location of the line will unduly impair important environmental values.

M. In determining if the proposed location of the transmission line will unduly impair important environmental values, the commission may consider the following factors;

(1) existing plans of the state, local government and private entities for other developments at or in the vicinity of the proposed location;

(2) fish, wildlife and plant life;

(3) noise emission levels and interference with communication signals;

(4) the proposed availability of the location to the public for recreational purposes, consistent with safety considerations and regulations;

(5) existing scenic areas, historic, cultural or religious sites and structures or archaeological sites at or in the vicinity of the proposed location; and

(6) additional factors that require consideration under applicable federal and state laws pertaining to the location.

2005 amendments. — Laws 2005, ch. 339, § 6 and Laws 2005, ch. 340, § 2 amend Section 62-9-3 NMSA 1978. Pursuant to 12-1-8 NMSA 1978 this section is set out as amended by Laws 2005, ch. 340, § 2.

Laws 2005, ch. 340, § 2, effective July 1, 2005, provided in Subsection C that a public utility may apply for a certificate of public convenience and necessity before applying for location approval in order to determine the need for the plant or line prior to a determination of the appropriate location; deleted the former provision in Subsection E, which provided that no approval is required for construction in progress on the effective date of this section; added Subsection H to provide for the conditions that permit a public utility to file an application for location approval for an electric transmission line; added Subsection I to provide for the authorization of a transmission line that has been disapproved by a county or municipal agency, board or commission; provided in Subsection K that the commission may approve an application without a hearing if no protest is filed within sixty days after notice has been given that an application has been filed; added Subsection K (1) through (3) to provide that if a public utility simultaneously files an application for location approval and an application for a certificate of public convenience and necessity, the commission shall issue its order within nine months after the applications are filed; provided that if a public utility files an application for location approval after an application for a certificate of public convenience and necessity has been approved, the commission shall issue its order within ninety days after the application is filed; and that if a public utility files an application for location approval while its application for public convenience and necessity is pending and the application for a certificate is subsequently approved, the commission shall issue its order within ninety days after the application for a certificate is approved; provided in Subsection L that failure to issue its order approving or denying an application filed pursuant to this section within the time period set forth in Subsection J is deemed approval and deleted for former time period of six month within which the commission had to issue an order; and added Subsection M to provide criteria for determining if a location of a transmission line will unduly impair environmental value.

Laws 2005, ch. 339, § 6, effective July 1, 2005, changed "lines" to "transmission lines" in Subsection A; provided in Subsection E that the commission shall approve the location of the plant unless the commission finds that the operations of the facilities will unduly impair system reliability; and provided in Subsection F that the commission shall approve the location of the transmission lines unless the commission finds that the operation of the transmission lines will unduly impair power system reliability, and provided:

"62-9-3. Location control; limitations.

A. The legislature finds that it is in the public interest to consider any adverse effect upon the environment and upon the quality of life of the people of the state that may occur due to plants, facilities and transmission lines needed to supply present and future electrical services. It is recognized that such plants, facilities and transmission lines will be needed to meet growing demands for electric services and cannot be built without in some way affecting the physical environment where these plants, facilities and transmission lines are located. The legislature therefore declares that it is the purpose of this section to provide for the supervision and control by the commission of the location within this state of new plants, facilities and transmission lines for the generation and transmission of electricity for sale to the public.

B. A person, including any municipality, shall not begin the construction of any plant designed for or capable of operation at a capacity of three hundred thousand kilowatts or more for the generation of electricity for sale to the public within or without this state, whether or not owned or operated by a person that is a public utility subject to regulation by the commission, or of transmission lines in connection with such a plant, on a location within this state unless the location has been approved by the commission. For the purposes of this section, "transmission line" means any electric transmission line and associated facilities designed for or capable of operations at a nominal voltage of two hundred thirty kilovolts or more, to be constructed in connection with and to transmit electricity from a new plant for which approval is required.

C. Application for approval shall contain all information required by the commission to make its determination, be made in writing setting forth the facts involved and be filed with the commission. The commission shall, after a public hearing and upon notice as the commission may prescribe, act upon the application. The commission may condition its approval upon a demonstration by the applicant that it has received all necessary air and water quality permits.

D. Approval shall not be required for construction in progress on the effective date of this section or for additions to or modifications of an existing plant or transmission line.

E. The commission shall approve the application for the location of the generating plant unless the commission finds that the operations of the facilities for which approval is sought will not be in compliance with all applicable air and water pollution control standards and regulations existing or will unduly impair system reliability. The commission shall not require compliance with performance standards other than those established by the agency of this state having jurisdiction over a particular pollution source.

F. The commission shall approve the application for the location of the transmission lines unless the commission finds that the location will unduly impair important environmental values or the operation of the proposed transmission lines will unduly impair power system reliability.

G. An application shall not be approved pursuant to this section if it violates an existing state, county or municipal land use statutory or administrative regulation unless the commission finds that the regulation is unreasonably restrictive and compliance with the regulation is not in the interest of the public convenience and necessity, in which event and to the extent found by the commission the regulation shall be inapplicable and void as to the siting. When it becomes apparent to the commission that an issue exists with respect to whether a regulation is unreasonably restrictive and compliance with the regulation is not in the interest of public convenience and necessity, it shall promptly serve notice of that fact by certified mail upon the agency, board or commission having jurisdiction for land use of the area affected and shall make the agency, board or commission a party to the proceedings upon its request and shall give it an opportunity to respond to the issue. The judgment of the commission shall be conclusive on all questions of siting, land use, aesthetics and any other state or local requirements affecting the siting.

H. Nothing in this section shall be deemed to confer upon the commission power or jurisdiction to regulate or supervise any person, including a municipality, that is not otherwise a public utility regulated and supervised by the commission, with respect to its rates and service and with respect to its securities, nor shall any other provision of the Public Utility Act be applicable with respect to such a person, including a municipality.

I. The commission shall issue its order granting or denying the application within six months from the date the application is filed with the commission. Failure to issue its order within six months is deemed to be approval of the application; provided, however, that the commission may extend the time for granting approval for a transmission line that is subject to this section for an additional ten months upon finding that the additional time is necessary to determine if the proposed location of the line will unduly impair important environmental values."

The 2001 amendment, effective June 15, 2001, deleted "within this state" following "a public utility subject to regulation by the commission" in Subsection B; deleted former Subsection C, concerning application for approval by an existing public utility; redesignated the subsequent subsections; in present Subsection C, deleted "If a person is not a public utility regulated by the commission" from the beginning of the subsection, added the "all information" requirement, and added the approval condition at the end of the subsection; substituted "section" for "act" in current Subsection D; added Subsection I; and made stylistic changes throughout the section.

Scope of commission authority. – Because the legislature empowered the public regulation commission to modify the common-law rule of relocation only for local regulations deemed unreasonable under Subsection G of this section, a tariff permitting the Public Service Company of New Mexico to recover relocation costs was ultra vires where the commission made no finding that the ordinance requiring the relocation was unreasonable. City of Albuquerque v. N.M. Pub. Regulation Comm'n, 2003-NMSC-028, 134 N.M. 472, 79 P.3d 297.

The commission's attempt to preempt local regulations imposing the costs of relocation on the Public Service Company of New Mexico was an unlawful infringement on the power of local governments to regulate the use of public ways by utilities. City of Albuquerque v. N.M. Pub. Regulation Comm'n, 2003-NMSC-028, 134 N.M. 472, 79 P.3d 297.

62-9-3.1. Limited regulation of certain jointly owned generation facilities.

No municipality or H class county shall hereafter begin construction or operation of any jointly owned generating facility within this state without first obtaining from the commission a certificate that public convenience and necessity require or will require such construction or operation; provided, however, that the commission's regulation shall be limited to such determination unless the municipality or H class county has elected to come under the general supervision of the commission as provided by law.

Compiler's notes. — Laws 1979, ch. 260, § 19, provided that the act shall be liberally construed to carry out its purposes.

Sections 62-9-1 to 62-9-7 of the Public Utility Act are still effective as the repeal of Chapter 62, Article 6 by Laws 1998, Chapter 108, Section 82, effective July 1, 2003 Chapter 108, Section 82 was repealed prior to taking effect by Chapter 23, Section 1, Laws 2003. Although Laws 2003, Chapter 336, Section 8, amended Laws 1998, Chapter 82, as amended, an amendment of a repealed section is ineffective. See Quintana v. N.M. Dep't of Corrs., 100 N.M. 224, 668 P.2d 1101 (1983). Laws 2003, Chapter 416, Section 5 also repealed Laws 1998, Chapter 108, Section 82, as amended, a second time, however, that repeal is of no effect as the section had previously been repealed by Chapter 23, Section 1, Laws 2003.

Severability. — Laws 1979, ch. 260, § 20, provided for the severability of the act if any part or application thereof is held invalid.

62-9-3.2. Application for determination of right-of-way width.

A. Unless otherwise agreed to by the parties, no person shall begin the construction of any transmission line requiring a width for right of way of greater than one hundred feet without first obtaining from the commission a determination of the necessary right-of-way width to construct and maintain the transmission line. For the purposes of this subsection, "construction" does not include acquisition of rights of way, preparation of surveys or ordering of equipment.

B. For the purposes of this section, "transmission line" means any electric transmission line and associated facilities requiring a width for right of way of greater than one hundred feet.

C. Application for the right-of-way width determination shall contain all information required by the commission to make its determination, be made in writing, setting forth the facts involved, and be filed with the commission.

D. The applicant shall cause notice of the time and place of hearing on the application for the right-of-way determination to be given to any owner of property proposed to be taken and, if applicable, to the person in actual occupancy of the property. Notice shall be given by mailing a copy by ordinary first class mail at least twenty days before the time set for hearing. Proof of the giving of notice shall be made on or before the hearing and filed in the proceeding.

E. The commission shall, after public hearing, act upon the application.

F. The commission shall issue its order granting or denying the application within six months from the date the application is filed with the commission. Failure to issue its order within six months is deemed to be approval of the application.

ANNOTATIONS

Compiler's notes. — Sections 62-9-1 to 62-9-7 of the Public Utility Act are still effective as the repeal of Chapter 62, Article 6 by Laws 1998, Chapter 108, Section 82, effective July 1, 2003 Chapter 108, Section 82 was repealed prior to taking effect by Chapter 23, Section 1, Laws 2003. The 2001 amendment, effective June 15, 2001, deleted former Subsection C, concerning application by a person regulated by the commission; redesignated the subsequent subsections; in current Subsection C, deleted language concerning application by persons not regulated by the commission, and inserted the "all information" requirement; and added Subsection F.

The 1993 amendment, effective June 18, 1993, deleted "public service" preceding "commission" in the first sentence of Subsection A; and made minor stylistic changes in Subsections A and E.

62-9-4. Authority exercised.

ANNOTATIONS

Repeals and reenactments. — Laws 1980, ch. 20, § 19, repealed former 62-9-4 NMSA 1978, relating to the time in which a certificate of convenience may be acted on, and enacted a new section.

62-9-5. Abandonment of service.

No utility shall abandon all or any portion of its facilities subject to the jurisdiction of the commission, or any service rendered by means of such facilities, without first obtaining the permission and approval of the commission. The commission shall grant such permission and approval, after notice and hearing, upon finding that the continuation of service is unwarranted or that the present and future public convenience and necessity do not otherwise require the continuation of the service or use of the facility; provided, however, that ordinary discontinuance of service or use of facilities for nonpayment of charges, nonuser or other reasons in the usual course of business shall not be considered as abandonment. In considering the present and future public convenience and necessity, the commission shall specifically consider the impact of the proposed abandonment of service on all consumers served in this state, directly or indirectly, by the facilities sought to be abandoned.

The 2005 amendment, effective June 17, 2005, provided that in considering public necessity, the commission shall consider the impact the abandonment of service on all customers served, directly or indirectly, by the facilities sought to be abandoned.

The 1983 amendment deleted "regulated" at the end of the catchline and rewrote the text of the section.

Constitutionality of commission's actions. — Exclusion of an electric utility's interest in a generating facility from its rate base, coupled with the commission's refusal to decertify the facility, did not violate the due process provisions or the takings clauses of the New Mexico and United States constitutions. Pub. Serv. Co. v. Pub. Serv. Comm'n, 112 N.M. 379, 815 P.2d 1169 (1991).

Construction of section. — The first part of this section refers to "continuation of service", while the second part addresses "continuation of the service or use of the facility". Thus, the section is written in the disjunctive to provide not for alternative bases upon which decertification of facilities is authorized, but for distinct factual scenarios giving rise to abandonment. Pub. Serv. Co. v. Pub. Serv. Comm'n, 112 N.M. 379, 815 P.2d 1169 (1991).

Jurisdiction of municipal condemnation of public utility. — This section and Section 62-6-12A(4) NMSA 1978 (sale of assets) do not give the commission jurisdiction over municipal condemnations of regulated water and sewer utilities. *United Water N.M., Inc. v. Certificate is no longer necessary for abandonment of service; all that is required is the commission's permission and approval. Gonzales v. Pub. Serv. Comm'n, 102 N.M. 529, 697 P.2d 948 (1985).

Application to sale of vacant land. — Sale of 41 vacant acres within 2,564-acre electric utility site was not an "abandonment" of a "facility," and did not require the permission and approval of the commission. *Plains Elec. Burden of proof. — Utility, as the movant for abandonment, bore the burden to establish the factual predicate upon which the commission could base its decision to grant or deny abandonment. Pub. Serv. Co. v. Pub. Serv. Comm'n, 112 N.M. 379, 815 P.2d 1169 (1991).

Utility's assertion that "exclusion from rates of the 26.10% interest in that unit . . . represents a loss in terms of capital costs alone of $19.8 million a year" fell short of the required showing, where the utility failed to demonstrate with any degree of certainty the overall impact continued regulation had on its financial condition. *Pub. 62-9-6. Certificates; application; issuance.

Before any certificate may be issued under Sections 62-9-1 through 62-9-6 New Mexico Statutes Annotated, 1978 Compilation, a certified copy of its articles of incorporation or charter, if the applicant be a corporation, shall be on file in the office of the commission. Every applicant for a certificate shall give such reasonable notice of its application as the commission may require and shall file in the office of the commission such evidence as shall be required by the commission to show that such applicant has received the consent and franchise from the municipality wherein construction and operation is proposed. The commission shall have power, after hearing, to issue said certificate, as prayed for, or to refuse to issue the same, or to issue it for the construction or operation of a portion only of the contemplated facility, line, plant or system, or extension thereof, or for the partial exercise only of said rights or privilege, and may attach to the exercise of the rights granted by said certificates such terms and conditions in harmony with the Public Utility Act [Chapter 62, Articles 1 through 6 and 8 through 13 NMSA 1978], as amended, as in its judgment the public convenience and necessity may require. Except as otherwise provided in Section 62-9-2 New Mexico Statutes Annotated, 1978 Compilation, in determining whether any certificate shall issue as prayed for, the commission shall give due regard to public convenience and necessity including, but not limited to, any reasonable service agreement between the applicant and another utility and unnecessary duplication and economic waste. Whenever a public utility is engaged or is about to engage in construction or operation without having secured a certificate of public convenience and necessity as required by the provisions of the Public Utility Act, as amended, any interested person may file a complaint with the commission. The commission may, with or without notice, make its order requiring the public utility complained of to cease and desist from such construction or operation until the commission makes and files its decision on said complaint or until the further order of the commission. The commission may after hearing, after reasonable notice, make such order and prescribe such terms and conditions in harmony with the Public Utility Act, as amended, as are just and reasonable.

ANNOTATIONS

Repeals and reenactments. — Laws 1967, ch. 96, § 8, repealed 68-7-4, 1953 Comp., relating to application for and issuance or denial of certificates, and enacted a new section.

Compiler's notes. — Sections 62-9-1 to 62-9-7 of the Public Utility Act are still effective as the repeal of Chapter 62, Article 6 by Laws 1998, Chapter 108, Section 82, effective July 1, 2003 Chapter 108, Section 82 was repealed prior to taking effect by Chapter 23, Section 1, Laws 2003. Provision of non-utility services. — Because electric utility's Certificate of Convenience and Necessity (CCN) contained no specific restrictions regarding non-utility use, the commission incorrectly determined that the utility violated the CCN when it provided or agreed to provide non-utility services to paper company. Plains Elec. Generation & Transmission Coop. v. N.M. Pub. Util. Comm'n, 1998-NMSC-038, 126 N.M. 152, 967 P.2d 827.

62-9-7. Legislative declaration; voluntary service agreements.

A. The legislature declares that the existing scheme of public utility regulation is adequate to exempt voluntary service agreements, as approved and regulated pursuant to the Public Utility Act [Chapter 62, Articles 1 through 6 and 8 through 13 NMSA 1978], from the antitrust laws.

B. In exercising its authority pursuant to Chapter 62, Article 9 NMSA 1978, the commission may, after public hearing upon at least twenty days notice, approve voluntary service agreements between utilities providing similar service proposing the delineation between themselves of one or more service areas in which each shall be entitled to furnish service, if the commission first determines that the proposed delineation of service areas is consistent with the public convenience and necessity and otherwise conforms to the Public Utility Act.

C. Voluntary service agreements that the commission, after public notice and hearing, has previously approved are deemed to comply with Subsection A of this section and to have the same effect as if approved pursuant to Subsection B of this section.

D. Approval of a voluntary service agreement shall not affect the duties and restrictions imposed upon a public utility pursuant to Chapter 62, Article 8 NMSA 1978.

ARTICLE 10

Hearings Before the Commission

62-10-1. Complaints as to rates, etc.; hearing by commission.

Upon a complaint made and filed by any municipality, or by any person or party affected, that any rate, service regulation, classification, practice or service in effect or proposed to be made effective is in any respect unfair, unreasonable, unjust or inadequate, the commission may proceed, if the commission finds probable cause for said complaint, and without such complaint, the commission, whenever it deems that the public interest or the interest of consumers and investors so requires, may proceed, to hold such hearing as it may deem necessary or appropriate; but no such hearing shall be had without notice, and no order affecting such rates, service regulations, classifications, practice or service complained of shall be entered by the commission without a hearing and notice thereof. Any utility may make complaint as to any matter within the provisions of this act affecting it.

Sections 62-10-1 to 62-10-6, 62-10-8 to 62-10-14 and 62-10-16 of the Public Utility Act are still effective as the repeal of Chapter 62, Article 6 by Laws 1998, Chapter 108, Section 82, effective July 1, 2003 Chapter 108, Section 82 was repealed prior to taking effect by Chapter 23, Section 1, Laws 2003. Although Laws 2003, Chapter 336, Section 8, amended Laws 1998, Chapter 82, as amended, an amendment of a repealed section is ineffective. See Quintana v. N.M. Dep't of Corrs., 100 N.M. 224, 668 P.2d 1101 (1983). Laws 2003, Chapter 416, Section 5 also repealed Laws 1998, Chapter 108, Section 82, as amended, a second time, however, that repeal is of no effect as the section had previously been repealed by Chapter 23, Section 1, Laws 2003.

Article governs revocation of certificate of convenience and necessity. — If the commission is assumed to have power to revoke a certificate of public convenience and necessity, the authority as well as the procedure therefor would be found in this article rather than in Sections 62-9-1 and 62-9-4 NMSA 1978 even though a conclusion that the certificate of the service company was null and void, if based upon proper findings, could probably be made in determining the issues in a hearing under Section 62-9-1 NMSA 1978 as a necessary incident of the larger questions presented thereunder. *Pub. The findings of fact shall consist only of such ultimate facts as are necessary to determine the controverted questions presented by the proceeding. ANNOTATIONS

Compiler's notes. — Sections 62-10-1 to 62-10-6, 62-10-8 to 62-10-14 and 62-10-16 of the Public Utility Act are still effective as the repeal of Chapter 62, Article 6 by Laws 1998, Chapter 108, Section 82, effective July 1, 2003 Chapter 108, Section 82 was repealed prior to taking effect by Chapter 23, Section 1, Laws 2003. Although Laws 2003, Chapter 336, Section 8, amended Laws 1998, Chapter 82, as amended, an amendment of a repealed section is ineffective. See *Quintana v. N.M. Requiring exhaustion of administrative remedies is constitutional. — The requirement of the Public Utility Act that a person first exhaust his administrative remedy before resorting to the courts does not violate N.M. Const., art. VI, § 13, granting general jurisdiction to the district courts except as elsewhere limited in such constitution. Smith v. S. Union Gas Co., 58 N.M. 197, 269 P.2d 745 (1954).

This section requires only a finding of an ultimate fact, and where that fact is found, the supreme court cannot interpret it to require any additional basis for the commission's order. Int'l Minerals & Chem. Corp. v. N.M. Pub. Serv. Comm'n, 81 N.M. 280, 466 P.2d 557 (1970).

This section requires that the commission find only ultimate facts and does not require it to give reasons for its decision. The ultimate fact is the logical result of the proofs reached by reasoning from the evident facts. It is a conclusion of fact. Int'l Minerals & Chem. Corp. v. N.M. Pub. Serv. Comm'n, 81 N.M. 280, 466 P.2d 557 (1970).

Unnecessary but erroneous findings of fact are not grounds for reversal. — Erroneous findings of fact, unnecessary to support the decision of a court, are not grounds for reversal. Int'l Minerals & Chem. Corp. v. N.M. Pub. Serv. Comm'n, 81 N.M. 280, 466 P.2d 557 (1970).

Failure to number findings not grounds for reversal. — That the findings were unnumbered would not justify a reversal on the grounds that the requirements of this section were not followed. Int'l Minerals & Chem. Corp. v. N.M. Pub. Serv. Comm'n, 81 N.M. 280, 466 P.2d 557 (1970).

Moving party has burden of proof. — Although this section does not specifically place any burden of proof on the complainant, the courts have uniformly imposed on administrative agencies the customary common-law rule that the moving party has the burden of proof. Int'l Minerals & Chem. Corp. v. N.M. Pub. Serv. Comm'n, 81 N.M. 280, 466 P.2d 557 (1970).

Burden of proving rate discrimination not met. — Where commission found that no unreasonable discrimination existed between rates charged to complainant's classification of service and to respondent's classifications of service, complainant failed to sustain the burden of proving unlawful or unreasonable discrimination as to rates charged to various members of its own classification. Int'l Minerals & Chem. Corp. v. N.M. Pub. Serv. Comm'n, 81 N.M. 280, 466 P.2d 557 (1970).

Commission is not bound by opinions of experts so long as the commission's ultimate decision is supported by substantial evidence. Att'y Gen. v. N.M. Pub. Serv. Comm'n, 101 N.M. 549, 685 P.2d 957 (1984).

Commission is only required to find ultimate fact: it is not required to give reasons for its decision or to make a finding that is not an ultimate finding. Att'y Gen. v. N.M. Pub. Serv. Comm'n, 101 N.M. 549, 685 P.2d 957 (1984).

ANNOTATIONS

Repeals. — Laws 1998, ch. 108, § 81 repealed 62-10-15 NMSA 1978, as enacted by Laws 1941, ch. 84, § 64, relating to record of proceedings, effective January 1, 1999. For provisions of former section, see the 1997 NMSA 1978 on NMONESOURCE.COM.

62-10-16. Rehearing.

After an order or decision has been made by the commission, any party to the proceedings, may within thirty days after the entry of the order or decision apply for a rehearing in respect of any matters determined in said proceedings and specified in the application for rehearing, and the commission may grant and hold such rehearing on said matters. The commission shall either grant or refuse an application for rehearing within twenty days after the application therefor is filed in the office of the commission; and a failure by the commission to act upon such application within that period shall be deemed a refusal thereof. If the application be granted, the commission's order shall be deemed vacated, and the commission shall enter a new order after the rehearing shall have been concluded.

ANNOTATIONS

Compiler's notes. — Sections 62-10-1 to 62-10-6, 62-10-8 to 62-10-14 and 62-10-16 of the Public Utility Act are still effective as the repeal of Chapter 62, Article 6 by Laws

1998, Chapter 108, Section 82, effective July 1, 2003 Chapter 108, Section 82 was repealed prior to taking effect by Chapter 23, Section 1, Laws 2003. Although Laws 2003, Chapter 336, Section 8, amended Laws 1998, Chapter 82, as amended, an amendment of a repealed section is ineffective. See Quintana v. N.M. Dep't of Corrs., 100 N.M. 224, 668 P.2d 1101 (1983). Laws 2003, Chapter 416, Section 5 also repealed Laws 1998, Chapter 108, Section 82, as amended, a second time, however, that repeal is of no effect as the section had previously been repealed by Chapter 23, Section 1, Laws 2003.

ARTICLE 11

Review of Commission Orders

62-11-1. Right of appeal.

Any party to any proceeding before the commission may file a notice of appeal in the supreme court asking for a review of the commission's final orders. If an application for rehearing has been filed, a notice of appeal must be filed within thirty days after the application for rehearing has been refused or deemed refused because of the commission's failure to act within the time specified in Section 62-10-16 NMSA 1978. If an application for rehearing has not been filed, a notice of appeal must be filed within thirty days after the entry of the commission's final order. Every notice of appeal shall name the commission as appellee and shall identify the order from which the appeal is taken. Any person whose rights may be directly affected by the appeal may appear and become a party, or the supreme court may, upon proper notice, order any person to be joined as a party.

History: Laws 1941, ch. 84, § 66; 1941 Comp., § 72-901; 1953 Comp., § 68-9-1; Laws 1965, ch. 289, § 14; 1982, ch. 109, § 11; 1993, ch. 282, § 38.

ANNOTATIONS

Compiler's notes. — Sections 62-11-1 to 62-11-6 of the Public Utility Act are still effective as the repeal of Chapter 62, Article 6 by Laws 1998, Chapter 108, Section 82, effective July 1, 2003 Chapter 108, Section 82 was repealed prior to taking effect by Chapter 23, Section 1, Laws 2003. Although Laws 2003, Chapter 336, Section 8, amended Laws 1998, Chapter 82, as amended, an amendment of a repealed section is ineffective. See Quintana v. N.M. Dep't of Corrs., 100 N.M. 224, 668 P.2d 1101 (1983). Laws 2003, Chapter 416, Section 5 also repealed Laws 1998, Chapter 108, Section 82, as amended, a second time, however, that repeal is of no effect as the section had previously been repealed by Chapter 23, Section 1, Laws 2003.

The 1993 amendment, effective June 18, 1993, made minor stylistic changes in the first and second sentences, and deleted "New Mexico public service" preceding "commission" in the next-to-last sentence.

Requiring exhaustion of remedies is constitutional. — The requirement of the Public Utility Act that a person first exhaust his administrative remedy before resorting to the courts does not violate N.M. Const., art. VI, § 13, granting general jurisdiction to the district courts except as elsewhere limited in such constitution. Smith v. S. Union Gas Co., 58 N.M. 197, 269 P.2d 745 (1954).

Section liberally applied in determining standing for review. — The language "[a]ny party to any proceeding before the commission" is broad and requires liberal application in determining standing for review pursuant to this section. Cnty. Pub. Serv. Co. v. N.M. Pub. Serv. Comm'n, 99 N.M. 493, 660 P.2d 583 (1983).

Courts have jurisdiction to vacate unlawful administrative order. — The statutory provisions for limited review of an order of a commission by the district court do not oust the courts of jurisdiction to annul and vacate a final administrative order as unlawful. Llano, Inc. v. S. Union Gas Co., 75 N.M. 7, 399 P.2d 646 (1964).

Complete administrative remedy for testing rates is provided. — The Public Utility Act envelops the commission with an aura of broad power and jurisdiction to determine just and reasonable rates and sets up a complete remedy within the framework of the act for testing their propriety and reasonableness. Potash Co. of Am. v. N.M. Pub. Serv. Comm'n, 62 N.M. 1, 303 P.2d 908 (1956).

Action will be dismissed if remedies have not been exhausted. — Where plaintiff brought action to enjoin commission from enforcing new gas rates and to recover amounts paid without waiting for final determination in pending statutory review proceeding, complaint was properly dismissed because plaintiff failed to exhaust administrative remedies. Potash Co. of Am. v. N.M. Pub. Serv. Comm'n, 62 N.M. 1, 303 P.2d 908 (1956).

Standard of review for appeal is whether there is substantial evidence in the record as a whole to support the agency's decision. Gonzales v. Pub. Serv. Comm'n, 102 N.M. 529, 697 P.2d 948 (1985).

Review limited. — On appeals from administrative bodies the questions to be answered by the court are questions of law and are restricted to whether the administrative body acted fraudulently, arbitrarily or capriciously, whether the order was supported by substantial evidence and, generally, whether the action of the administrative body was within the scope of its authority. Maestas v. N.M. Pub. Serv. Comm'n, 85 N.M. 571, 514 P.2d 847 (1973); Llano, Inc. v. S. Union Gas Co., 75 N.M. 7, 399 P.2d 646 (1964).

Section 62-12-2 applicable. — Where it is alleged that the public regulation commission is acting outside the scope of its jurisdiction or refusing to perform under the Public Utility Act, Section 62-12-2 NMSA 1978 is applicable. City of Sunland Park v. N.M. Pub. Regulation Comm'n., 2004-NMCA-024, 135 N.M. 143, 85 P.3d 267, cert. denied, 2004-NMCERT-002, 135 N.M. 169, 86 P.3d 47.

62-11-2. Notice to the commission.

Upon the filing of a notice of appeal, the appellant shall cause a copy thereof to be served upon the commission and parties of record in the proceeding before the commission in the manner prescribed by the Rules of Appellate Procedure for Civil Cases. Within thirty days after service of the notice of appeal or such further time as the supreme court for good cause may specify, the commission shall certify to the supreme court the record of the testimony taken before the commission and all exhibits offered or received in evidence at the hearing before the commission, and all pleadings, findings, conclusions, orders and opinions, or certified copies thereof, made and entered in, or in connection with, the hearing before the commission; provided, however, that the parties and the commission may stipulate that a specified portion only of the testimony taken at the hearing before the commission shall be certified to the supreme court for review on appeal.

ANNOTATIONS

Standard of review. — On appeal, the court, viewing the evidence in the light most favorable to the order appealed from, determines whether the order was supported by substantial evidence, was neither arbitrary nor capricious, and was within the commission's scope of authority. Plains Elec. Generation & Transmission Coop. v. N.M. Pub. Util. Comm'n, 1998-NMSC-038, 126 N.M. 152, 967 P.2d 827.

Grounds required for reversal. — The party challenging a commission decision must show that agency action falls within one of the oft-mentioned grounds for reversal, including: whether the decision is arbitrary and capricious; whether it is supported by substantial evidence; and whether it represents an abuse of the agency's discretion by being outside the scope of the agency's authority, clear error, or violative of due process. Morningstar Water Users Ass'n v. N.M. Pub. Util. Comm'n, 120 N.M. 579, 904 P.2d 28 (1995).

Burden of proving construction was not commenced in time. — The burden was on petitioners-landowners, as the moving parties before the commission, to demonstrate by substantial evidence, and thereby prove to the commission, that electrical cooperative failed to commence construction of a transmission line and related facilities within the time prescribed by Section 62-9-4 NMSA 1978. *Lone Mountain Cattle Co. v. The supreme court shall vacate and annul the order complained of if it is made to appear to the satisfaction of the court that the order is unreasonable or unlawful. Proceedings in the supreme court shall be governed by the provisions of this act and by the Rules of Appellate Procedure for Civil Cases promulgated by the supreme court of New Mexico.

ANNOTATIONS

Compiler's notes. — For the meaning of "this act", see 62-13-1 NMSA 1978 and notes thereto.

Sections 62-11-1 to 62-11-6 of the Public Utility Act are still effective as the repeal of Chapter 62, Article 6 by Laws 1998, Chapter 108, Section 82, effective July 1, 2003. Chapter 108, Section 82 was repealed prior to taking effect by Chapter 23, Section 1, Laws 2003. Supreme court is limited to affirming or reversing lower court. — Because of the form of this section (prior to the 1982 amendment), supreme court was limited in its disposition of cause to affirming or reversing the lower court, and the cause cannot be remanded to permit the commission to supply necessary findings. N.M. Elec. Serv. Co. v. Lea Cnty. Elec. Coop., 76 N.M. 434, 415 P.2d 556, cert. denied, 385 U.S. 969, 87 S. Ct. 506, 17 L. Ed. 2d 433 (1966).

Commission decision not upheld without substantial evidence. — Although every inference is to be drawn in support of the commission's decision, a reviewing court may not uphold a commission's decision which is not supported by substantial evidence. Pub. Serv. Co. v. N.M. Pub. Serv. Comm'n, 92 N.M. 721, 594 P.2d 1177 (1979).

Questions of fact are for commission, not court. — Whether or not the construction had been commenced on a certain date is a question of fact to be determined by the commission. Lone Mountain Cattle Co. v. N.M. Pub. Serv. Comm'n, 83 N.M. 465, 493 P.2d 950 (1972).

When commission's construction of certificate and statute is binding. — The commission's construction of the certificate issued by it and the statutes governing its operation was binding on review, unless this construction was unreasonable or unlawful. Lone Mountain Cattle Co. v. N.M. Pub. Serv. Comm'n, 83 N.M. 465, 493 P.2d 950 (1972).

Once commission's order is annulled and vacated, a rate case is in the same posture it was in before the original decision was rendered: the commission may hold additional hearings and take additional testimony just as if the vacated order had never been entered; however, because the proposed rates may be put into effect after expiration of the initial nine-month period, the commission will have every reason to act expeditiously to enter new findings based on substantial evidence. Pub. Serv. Co. v. N.M. Pub. Serv. Comm'n, 92 N.M. 721, 594 P.2d 1177 (1979).

Regulation held neither arbitrary nor capricious. — The question of a potential for abuse in a regulation allowing company to adjust consumers' rates relative to change in the company's cost prior to the approval by the commission in that the company could negotiate contracts with its subsidiaries who supply 26% of its natural gas at favorable rates, and thereby accrue hidden profits, was a question of fact for the commission to decide, and as the commission's findings were supported by substantial evidence, this regulation was neither arbitrary nor capricious. Maestas v. N.M. Pub. Serv. Comm'n, 85 N.M. 571, 514 P.2d 847 (1973).

Commission's finding of fact held supported by substantial evidence. —

Considering petitioner's burden of proof, the nature and extent of the evidence adduced and the qualifications of the commission in knowing and understanding what is meant by "surveys" and "construction," in the sense in which these terms are used in the construction of power transmission lines and related facilities, the commission's finding of fact was supported by substantial evidence, and it is not the province of the court to substitute its judgment for that of the commission. Lone Mountain Cattle Co. v. N.M. Pub. Serv. Comm'n, 83 N.M. 465, 493 P.2d 950 (1972).

Commission's order held unsupported by substantial evidence. — Where gas company seeking rate increase proposed to trend the general plant account items by using a nationally recognized index, but the commission instead inserted its own method - to simply use the untrended original cost, although the witness who strongly supported this approach admitted that he did not know whether this would accurately establish the reproduction cost of the items, the court held the commission's order was unreasonable, being unsupported by substantial evidence. S. Union Gas Co. v. N.M. Pub. Serv. Comm'n, 84 N.M. 330, 503 P.2d 310 (1972).

Commission's establishment of a two-tiered rate plan that allowed residential customers to elect between a higher customer access fee combined with a lower distribution charge per therm, or choose a lower customer access fee combined with a higher distribution charge was not supported by the evidence. Att'y Gen. v. N.M. Pub. Util. Comm'n, 2000-NMSC-008, 128 N.M. 747, 998 P.2d 1198.

Commission's order in a utility-rate proceeding was vacated and remanded because its decision on the disallowance of gas company's actual tax expenses was arbitrary, its determination of zero cash working capital was lacking a basis in substantial evidence and the amount of its award for aircraft expenses was unsupported by substantial evidence. Zia Natural Gas Co. v. N.M. Pub. Util. Comm'n, 2000-NMSC-011, 128 N.M. 728, 998 P.2d 564.

In its final order regarding a gas utility's requested rate increase, the commission's denial of recovery of losses on reacquired debt, the denial of the opportunity for the utility to recover reservation fees in a separate proceeding, the denial of certain settlement expenses and rate case expenses, and the dramatic increase in the residential access charge were not supported by substantial evidence. PNM Gas Servs. v. N.M. Pub. Util. Comm'n, 2000-NMSC-012, 129 N.M. 1, 1 P.3d 383.

Factors considered in rate hearing. Pub. Serv. Co. v. N.M. Pub. Serv. Comm'n, 92 N.M. 721, 594 P.2d 1177 (1979).

Departure from prior practice without notice. — A regulatory body cannot, without prior notice, abruptly depart from past practice on which the regulatee has relied and impose a retroactive refund requirement upon the regulatee. However, once notice was given, nothing prevented the commission from adopting a new regulatory practice and applying it prospectively; if the regulatee chose not to comply, it did so at its own peril. Hobbs Gas Co. v. N.M. Pub. Serv. Comm'n, 115 N.M. 678, 858 P.2d 54 (1993).

62-11-6. Appeals; supreme court may stay or suspend commission's order.

The pendency of an appeal shall not of itself stay or suspend the operation of the order of the commission, but, during the pendency of such proceedings, the supreme court in its discretion may stay or suspend, in whole or in part, the operation of the commission's order on such terms as it deems just and in accordance with the practice of courts exercising equity jurisdiction. If the supreme court stays or suspends the operation of an order of the commission, pending a review of the order, the court may require the party seeking the stay or suspension to secure the other parties against loss due to the delay in the enforcement of the order, in case the order on appeal is affirmed, in such amount and in such form as the supreme court shall direct.

ANNOTATIONS

Compiler's notes. — Sections 62-11-1 to 62-11-6 of the Public Utility Act are still effective as the repeal of Chapter 62, Article 6 by Laws 1998, Chapter 108, Section 82, effective July 1, 2003 Chapter 108, Section 82 was repealed prior to taking effect by Chapter 23, Section 1, Laws 2003. Although Laws 2003, Chapter 336, Section 8, amended Laws 1998, Chapter 82, as amended, an amendment of a repealed section is ineffective. See Quintana v. N.M. Dep't of Corrs., 100 N.M. 224, 668 P.2d 1101 (1983). Laws 2003, Chapter 416, Section 5 also repealed Laws 1998, Chapter 108, Section 82, as amended, a second time, however, that repeal is of no effect as the section had previously been repealed by Chapter 23, Section 1, Laws 2003.

ARTICLE 12

Enforcement of Orders and Duties

62-12-1. Mandamus; injunction; utilities.

Whenever the commission shall be of the opinion that any person or utility is failing or omitting or about to fail or omit to do anything required of it by this act or by any order of the commission, or is doing anything or about to do anything, or permitting anything or about to permit anything to be done, contrary to or in violation of this act or of any order of the commission, it may direct the attorney general of New Mexico to commence an action or proceeding in the district court in and for the county of Santa Fe, or in the district court of the county in which the complaint or controversy arose, in the name of the state of New Mexico for the purpose of having such violations or threatened violations stopped and prevented either by mandamus or injunction. The attorney general of New Mexico shall thereupon begin such action or proceeding by petition to such court, alleging the violation or threatened violation complained of, and praying for appropriate relief by way of mandamus or injunction. It shall thereupon be the duty of the court to specify a time, not exceeding thirty days after the service of the copy of the petition, within which the public utility or person complained of must plead, and in the meantime said public utility or person may for good cause shown be restrained. In case of default, the court shall immediately inquire into the facts and circumstances of the case. Such corporations or persons as the court may deem necessary or proper to be joined as parties, in order to make its judgment, order or writ effective, may be joined as parties. The final judgment in any such action or proceeding shall either dismiss the action or proceeding or direct that the writ of mandamus or injunction issue or be made permanent as prayed for in the petition, or in such modified or other form as will afford appropriate relief. An appeal may be taken as in other civil actions.

Equity has inherent power to restrain acts beyond commission's jurisdiction. — The power to restrain the exercise by the commission of acts entirely beyond or in excess of its jurisdiction inheres in a court of equity, and a mere declaration of the power in this section adds no new strength to the power. Potash Co. of Am. v. N.M. Pub. Serv. Comm'n, 62 N.M. 1, 303 P.2d 908 (1956).

Complete administrative remedy for testing rates is provided. — The Public Utility Act envelops the commission with an aura of broad power and jurisdiction to determine just and reasonable rates and sets up a complete remedy within the framework of the act for testing their propriety and reasonableness. Potash Co. of Am. v. N.M. Pub. Serv. Comm'n, 62 N.M. 1, 303 P.2d 908 (1956).

Increasing contract rate is not in excess of commission's jurisdiction. — Where the commission had entered an order authorizing a public utility to enter into a contract and to continue to charge the gas rate therein specified until further order and on the ex parte petition of the utility subsequently entered an interlocutory order making a rate increase to be effective until the commission could hold a hearing to determine and set a new and proper rate, the commission was moving strictly in conformity with the act creating it to determine one of the major questions submitted to its jurisdiction - a question of rates. Potash Co. of Am. v. N.M. Pub. Serv. Comm'n, 62 N.M. 1, 303 P.2d 908 (1956).

Section applicable. — Where it is alleged that the public regulation commission is acting outside the scope of its jurisdiction or refusing to perform under the Public Utility Act, this section is applicable. *City of Sunland Park v. All actions and proceedings under this act, and all actions or proceedings to which the commission or the state of New Mexico may be a party, and in which any question arises under this act, or under or concerning any order or decision of the commission, may be preferred over all other civil causes except election causes, irrespective of position on the calendar.

ANNOTATIONS

Compiler's notes. — Sections 62-13-1 to 62-13-14 of the Public Utility Act are still effective as the repeal of Chapter 62, Article 13 by Laws 1998, Chapter 108, Section 82, effective July 1, 2003 Chapter 108, Section 82 was repealed prior to taking effect by Chapter 23, Section 1, Laws 2003. Although Laws 2003, Chapter 336, Section 8, amended Laws 1998, Chapter 82, as amended, an amendment of a repealed section is ineffective. See Quintana v. N.M. Dep't of Corrs., 100 N.M. 224, 668 P.2d 1101 (1983). Laws 2003, Chapter 416, Section 5 also repealed Laws 1998, Chapter 108, Section 82, as amended, a second time, however, that repeal is of no effect as the section had previously been repealed by Chapter 23, Section 1, Laws 2003.

The 1993 amendment, effective June 18, 1993, designated the existing provisions as Subsection A, and added Subsections B and C.

The 1983 amendment deleted "transfer of cause to another county" at the end of the catchline, deleted the former second sentence, relating to the transfer of a cause to another county, added "Except as otherwise provided by law" at the beginning of the section and deleted "on review" following "and in the courts."

Rate case expenses. — By removing the presumption of reasonableness with respect to litigation expenses, the legislature did not intend to preclude the pragmatic practice of estimating rate case expenses, but intended that utilities demonstrate the reasonableness of rate case expenses, whether estimated or actual. PNM Gas Servs. v. N.M. Pub. Util. Comm'n, 2000-NMSC-012, 129 N.M. 1, 1 P.3d 383.

Because the enactment of Subsection B was intended to effect a change in the policy of with respect to litigation expenses, a gas utility failed to carry its burden of proving that the amount of its requested rate case expense was reasonable and prudent by presenting only a budget-based estimate with no itemization of costs or evidence of reasonableness. PNM Gas Servs. v. N.M. Pub. Util. Comm'n, 2000-NMSC-012, 129 N.M. 1, 1 P.3d 383.

A. Upon request of an investor-owned utility in any general rate case, the commission shall approve interconnected customer rate riders to recover the costs of ancillary and standby services pursuant to this section only for new interconnected customers, except that a utility may seek approval of interconnected customer rate riders in the utility's renewable energy procurement plan filing before January 1, 2011, to be in effect until the conclusion of the utility's next general rate case. In establishing interconnected customer rate riders, the commission shall assure that costs to be recovered through the rate riders are not duplicative of costs to be recovered in underlying rates and shall give due consideration to the reasonably determinable embedded and incremental costs of the utility to serve new interconnected customers and the reasonably determinable benefits to the utility system provided by new interconnected customers during each three-year period after which new interconnected customer rate riders go into effect. The benefits to the utility system, as applicable, include avoided renewable energy certificate procurement costs, reduced capital investment costs resulting from the avoidance or deferral of capital expenditures, reduced energy and capacity costs and line loss reductions.

B. In a filing made pursuant to Subsection G of Section 62-8-7 NMSA 1978, a rural electric cooperative may implement rates or rate riders by customer class, giving due consideration to reasonably determinable costs and benefits of interconnected systems, that are specifically designed to recover from interconnected customers the fixed costs of providing electric services to those customers.

C. Nothing in this section shall be interpreted as preventing the utility from charging rates designed to recover all of its reasonable costs of providing service to customers.

D. As used in this section:

(1) "ancillary and standby services" means services that are essential to maintain electric system reliability and are required by or are a consequence of interconnecting distributed generation facilities to a utility's system and may include, among other services, regulation and frequency response, regulation and voltage support, spinning reserves and supplemental reserves;

(2) "interconnected customer" means a utility customer that is also interconnected to non-utility distributed generation facilities; and

(3) "new interconnected customer" means a customer that became an interconnected customer after December 31, 2010 or a customer whose renewable energy certificate purchase agreement entered into prior to January 1, 2011 is no longer in effect.

62-13-13.3. Renewable energy-related services; powers and duties of commission.

A. No later than July 1, 2011, the commission shall approve any new application for creation of a holding company filed by a public utility prior to January 1, 2011, as part of that utility's plan to offer renewable energy-related services for the residents of New Mexico; provided that the creation of the holding company shall be subject to such terms and conditions as are in the public interest. The creation of a holding company under this subsection shall not result in any loss of the commission's jurisdiction over corporate allocations to the utility or over costs that are charged to ratepayers.

B. Any order of the commission entered prior to January 1, 2011 declaring the public utility status of a person who owns or controls all or any part of any distributed generation facility and sells the electricity produced by the facility to other persons shall have no force or effect on or after May 19, 2010.

C. By December 31, 2012, the commission shall submit a report to the legislature that describes the effectiveness of the state's renewable energy distributed generation program in supporting the development of new renewable energy resources and that identifies any recommended changes to improve the program's effectiveness, consistent with the public policies declared in the Public Utility Act [Chapter 62, Articles

1 through 6 and 8 through 13 NMSA 1978]. This report shall be no more than ten pages in length.

ANNOTATIONS

Compiler's notes. — Sections 62-13-1 to 62-13-14 of the Public Utility Act are still effective as the repeal of Chapter 62, Article 13 by Laws 1998, Chapter 108, Section 82, effective July 1, 2003 Chapter 108, Section 82 was repealed prior to taking effect by Chapter 23, Section 1, Laws 2003. Although Laws 2003, Chapter 336, Section 8, amended Laws 1998, Chapter 82, as amended, an amendment of a repealed section is ineffective. See Quintana v. N.M. Dep't of Corrs., 100 N.M. 224, 668 P.2d 1101 (1983). Laws 2003, Chapter 416, Section 5 also repealed Laws 1998, Chapter 108, Section 82, as amended, a second time, however, that repeal is of no effect as the section had previously been repealed by Chapter 23, Section 1, Laws 2003.

62-13-15. Appointment of receiver.

Whenever the commission determines, after notice and hearing, that a public utility is unable or unwilling to adequately service its customers or has been actually or effectively abandoned by its owners or operator, or consistently violates the rules or orders of the commission, the commission may commence an action in the district court of the county where the utility has its principal office or place of business for the appointment of a receiver to assume possession of its property and to operate its system upon terms and conditions in accordance with the provisions of the Public Utility

Act [Chapter 62, Articles 1 through 6 and 8 through 13 NMSA 1978], commission rules and orders of the court. Upon the order of the court, the receiver may issue receiver's certificates to provide funds to operate, repair, improve or enlarge the public utility. Unless otherwise provided in the court order, payment of the receiver's certificates is a first lien on the real and personal property of the public utility. The court shall prescribe the certificate's form, term and rate of interest. Receiver's certificates are exempt from the operation of any law that regulates the issuance or sale of securities of public utilities.

A one-call notification system may be for a region of the state or statewide in scope, unless federal law provides otherwise.

B. Each one-call notification system shall be operated by:

- (1) an owner or operator of pipeline facilities;
- (2) a private contractor;
- (3) a state or local government agency; or
- (4) a person who is otherwise eligible under state law to operate a one-call notification system.

C. If the one-call notification system is operated by owners or operators of pipeline facilities, it shall be established as a nonprofit entity governed by a board of directors that shall establish the operating processes, procedures and technology needed for a one-call notification system. The board shall further establish a procedure or formula to determine the equitable share of each member for the costs of the one-call notification system. The board may include representatives of excavators or other persons deemed eligible to participate in the system who are not owners or operators.

D. Excavators shall give advance notice to the one-call notification system operating in the intended excavation area and provide information established by rule of the commission, except when excavations are by or for a person that:

- (1) owns or leases or owns a mineral leasehold interest in the real property on which the excavation occurs; and
- (2) operates all underground facilities located in the intended excavation area.

E. The one-call notification system shall promptly transmit excavation notice information to owners or operators of pipeline facilities and other underground facilities in the intended excavation area.

F. After receiving advance notice, owners and operators of pipeline facilities and other underground facilities shall locate and mark their facilities in the intended excavation area and shall provide a positive response. The one-call notification center shall make available to the commission appropriate positive response records for investigations of alleged violations of Chapter 62, Article 14 NMSA 1978.

Means of communication to distribute excavation notice to owners or operators of pipeline facilities and other underground facilities shall be reliable and capable of coordination with one-call notification systems operating in other regions of the state.

H. Operators of one-call notification systems shall notify the commission of its members and the name and telephone number of the contact person for each member and make available to the commission appropriate records in investigations of alleged violations of Chapter 62, Article 14 NMSA 1978.

I. One-call notification systems and owners and operators of pipeline facilities shall promote public awareness of the availability and operation of one-call notification systems and work with state and local governmental agencies charged with issuing excavation permits to provide information concerning and promoting awareness by excavators of one-call notification systems.

J. The commission may prescribe reasonable maximum rates for the provision of one-call services in New Mexico, provided that if the reasonableness of such rates is contested in the manner provided by commission rule, the burden of proof to show the unreasonableness of such rates shall be upon the person contesting their reasonableness.

The 2007 amendment, effective June 15, 2007, required an owner or operator of an underground facility in a region in which a one-call system is operating to be a member of the one-call system by April 15, 2008 unless earlier membership is required by federal law; and added Subsection J.

The 2001 amendment, effective July 1, 2001, deleted "and regulation" following "rule" in Subsection D; inserted "and make available to the commission appropriate records in investigations of alleged violations of Chapter 62, Article 14 NMSA 1978" at the end of Subsection H; and substituted "promoting" for "promote" in Subsection I.

No offense occurring more than five years prior to the current offense charged shall be considered for any purpose. All actions to recover the penalties provided for in this section shall be brought by the commission. All penalties recovered in any such action shall be paid into the state general fund.

ANNOTATIONS

The 2011 amendment, effective June 17, 2011, authorized the imposition of an administrative penalty even if an operator's failure to comply with the law did not contribute to the damage of an underground facility.

The 2001 amendment, effective July 1, 2001, rewrote the section, which formerly provided for a civil penalty of up to $500 for those who willfully failed to comply with Chapter 62, Article 14 NMSA 1978, and stated who is responsible for prosecuting the case and the proper venue.

62-15-3.1. Subsidiary business activities.

A. Cooperatives may form, organize, acquire, hold, dispose of and operate any interest up to and including full controlling interest in separate business entities that provide energy services and products and telecommunications and communications services and products, including cable and satellite television and water and wastewater collection and treatment, without prior approval from the public regulation commission so long as those other business entities meet all of the following conditions:

(1) the subsidiary is not financed with loans from the federal rural utilities service of the United States department of agriculture or the United States department of agriculture or with similar financing from any successor agency. This limitation shall not apply to rural utilities service loans or United States department of agriculture loans, or loans from successor agencies, to the extent the loan is to be used for a purpose authorized by the lending agency;

(2) the subsidiary fully compensates the cooperative for the use of personnel, services, equipment, tangible property and the cooperative's fully distributed costs, including all direct and indirect costs and the cost of capital incurred in providing the personnel, services, equipment or tangible property in question;

(3) the total investments, loans, guarantees and pledges of assets of a cooperative in all of its subsidiaries shall not exceed twenty percent of the cooperative's assets; and

(4) the subsidiary agrees to not offer any service or product to the public until it has obtained federal and state regulatory approvals, if any, required to provide the service or product to the public.

B. A director, or spouse of a director, of a cooperative may not be employed or have any financial interest in a separate business entity formed, organized, acquired, held or operated by that cooperative pursuant to the provisions of this section.

C. Should the public regulation commission, upon complaint showing reasonable grounds for investigation, find after investigation and public hearing that the charges for the transactions between the cooperative and other business entity do not conform with the provisions of this section, the public regulation commission is authorized to direct the cooperative to adjust those charges to comply with the provisions of this section. If the cooperative does not comply with the public regulation commission's directive, the public regulation commission is authorized to direct the cooperative to divest its interest in the other business entity. For purposes of enforcing this section, members of the public regulation commission, and the public regulation commission staff, are authorized to inspect the books and records of such other business entities and the cooperatives, provided that proprietary or confidential data or information of the separate business entities shall not be disclosed to a third party. The public regulation commission shall adopt rules and reporting requirements to enforce the provisions of this section.

D. Nothing in this section grants the public regulation commission the power to regulate a generation and transmission cooperative referred to in Section 62-6-4 NMSA 1978.

62-15-4. Name.

The name of each cooperative shall include the words "electric" and "cooperative" and the abbreviation "inc."; provided that limitation shall not apply if, in an affidavit made by the president or vice president of a cooperative and filed with the secretary of state, it appears that the cooperative desires to transact business in another state and is precluded therefrom by reason of its name. The name of a cooperative shall distinguish it from the name of any other corporation organized under the laws of, or authorized to transact business in, this state. The words "electric" and "cooperative" shall not both be used in the name of any corporation organized under the laws of, or authorized to transact business in, this state, except a cooperative or a corporation transacting business in this state pursuant to the provisions of the Rural Electric Cooperative Act.

ANNOTATIONS

The 2013 amendment, effective July 1, 2013, required that cooperatives file an affidavit with the secretary of state that the cooperative is precluded from doing business in another state because its name includes the required words; and in the first sentence, after "filed with the", deleted "state corporation commission" and added "secretary of state".

62-15-6. Articles of incorporation.

A. The articles of incorporation of a cooperative shall recite in the caption that they are executed pursuant to the Rural Electric Cooperative Act, shall be signed and acknowledged by each of the incorporators and shall state:

- (1) the name of the cooperative;
- (2) the address of its principal office;
- (3) the names and addresses of the incorporators;
- (4) the names and addresses of the persons who constitute its first board of trustees; and
- (5) any provisions not inconsistent with the Rural Electric Cooperative Act deemed necessary or advisable for the conduct of its business and affairs.

B. The articles of incorporation shall be submitted to the secretary of state for filing as provided in the Rural Electric Cooperative Act.

C. It shall not be necessary to set forth in the articles of incorporation of a cooperative the purpose for which it is organized or any of the corporate powers vested in a cooperative under the Rural Electric Cooperative Act.

ANNOTATIONS

The 2013 amendment, effective July 1, 2013, required that articles of incorporation of cooperatives be filed with the secretary of state; and in Subsection B, after "submitted to the", deleted "state corporation commission" and added "secretary of state".

62-15-7. Bylaws.

The original bylaws of a cooperative shall be adopted by its board of trustees. Thereafter bylaws shall be adopted, amended or repealed by the majority of the members present at any regular annual meeting or special meeting called for that purpose, a quorum being present. The bylaws shall set forth the rights and duties of members and trustees and may contain other provisions for the regulation and management of the affairs of the cooperative not inconsistent with this act [62-15-1 to 62-15-32 NMSA 1978] or with its articles of incorporation.

History: Laws 1939, ch. 47, § 7; 1941 Comp., § 48-407; 1953 Comp., § 45-4-7; Laws 1957, ch. 97, § 1.

ANNOTATIONS

Bylaws may be amended by vote at district meetings. — A rural electric cooperative may provide for the amendment of its bylaws by a vote taken at a series of meetings of voting districts rather than at a general meeting of all the members, but, in so doing, it cannot take away the power of the majority of members to adopt, amend or repeal the bylaws. 1961-62 Op. Att'y Gen. No. 61-62.

It is legal to provide for the amendment of bylaws by a majority vote of the members voting by districts, rather than at a general meeting of all the members. This interpretation does no violence to this section, since it mentions "regular annual meeting," and does not exclude a regular annual meeting or special meeting of a voting district. The interpretation is supported by the liberal construction required to be given these statutes under Section 62-15-32 NMSA 1978. 1961-62 Op. Att'y Gen. No. 61-62.

62-15-8. Members.

A. No person who is not an incorporator shall become a member of a cooperative unless he agrees to use electric energy furnished by the cooperative when electric energy is available through its facilities. The bylaws of a cooperative may provide that any person, including an incorporator, shall cease to be a member of a cooperative if he fails or refuses to use electric energy made available by the cooperative or if the electric energy is not made available to that person by the cooperative within a specified time after he becomes a member of the cooperative. Membership in the cooperative shall not be transferable except as provided in the bylaws. The bylaws may prescribe additional qualifications and limitations in respect of membership.

B. An annual meeting of the members shall be held at such time as shall be provided in the bylaws or, if not contrary to the bylaws, by the board of trustees.

C. Special meetings of the members may be called by the board of trustees, by any three trustees, by petition signed by not less than ten percent of the members or by the president.

D. Annual and special meetings of members whether general or by voting districts established pursuant to the Rural Electric Cooperative Act, shall be held at such place as may be provided in the bylaws. In the absence of any such provision, all general meetings shall be held in the city or town in which the principal office of the cooperative is located and all meetings by voting districts shall be held at a location set by the board of trustees within the boundaries of each district.

E. Except as otherwise provided in the Rural Electric Cooperative Act, written or printed notice stating the time and place of each meeting of members and, in the case of a special meeting, the purpose for which the meeting is called shall be given to each member by the board of trustees or the secretary, or their legal representatives, either personally or by mail not less than ten or more than twenty-five days before the date of the meeting. Failure to receive notice deposited in the mail addressed to a member at the member's address shown on the cooperative's books and records shall not affect the validity of any business conducted at a meeting.

F. Five percent of all members present in person constitutes a quorum for the transaction of business at all meetings of the members, unless the bylaws prescribe the presence of a greater or lesser number of members for a quorum. If less than a quorum is present at any meeting, a majority of those present in person may adjourn the meeting from time to time without further notice. The failure to hold a meeting of members due to the absence of a quorum shall not affect the validity of any business conducted by the board of trustees.

G. Each member shall be entitled to one vote on each matter submitted to a vote at a meeting. Voting shall be in person; provided that if the bylaws provide for voting by proxy or by mail, the bylaws shall prescribe the conditions under which proxy or mail voting shall be exercised. No person shall vote as proxy for more than three members at any meeting of the members.

H. All actions required by the Rural Electric Cooperative Act to be adopted or approved by a simple majority or greater number of members voting on the action at an annual or special meeting may be acted upon by voting at a general meeting or, to the extent and in the manner that the board of trustees may authorize, by voting by the voting districts established pursuant to that act, so long as the requisite majority of members voting on the action is obtained regardless of whether such a majority is obtained in any particular voting district. Action by voting by the voting districts shall be valid if a quorum exists as a result of a series of voting district meetings regardless of whether a quorum is present in any particular voting district.

The 1983 amendment also, in Subsection E, added the second sentence and rewrote the first sentence; in Subsection F, substituted "constitutes" for "shall constitute" and "or lesser number of" for "of the" in the first sentence, inserted "in person" in the second sentence and added the last sentence; in Subsection G, substituted "provided that" for "but" and "provide for voting by proxy or by mail, the bylaws shall prescribe" for "so provide, may also be by proxy or by mail; they shall also prescribe" in the second sentence, deleted "In any event" at the beginning of the third sentence; and added Subsection H.

Statutes, articles of incorporation, bylaws, application and certificate are contract. — Sections 62-15-1 to 62-15-32 NMSA 1978, together with the articles of incorporation and the bylaws of the cooperative, the application made by the plaintiff and the certificate of membership issued to him, constituted the contract between him and the cooperative. King v. Farmers' Elec. Coop., Inc., 56 N.M. 552, 246 P.2d 1041 (1952).

Member is bound by bylaws. — A member, in view of provision in his application agreeing to comply with and to be bound by provisions of the charter and bylaws of the cooperative, will, when such bylaws are reasonable, and enacted under properly delegated authority, be bound thereby. King v. Farmers' Elec. Coop., Inc., 56 N.M. 552, 246 P.2d 1041 (1952).

A member of the cooperative is not in position to challenge the validity of its bylaws, is presumed to know contents of its charter and bylaws and, having agreed, if accepted as a member, to abide by all its rules, regulations and bylaws, cannot be permitted to repudiate the same. King v. Farmers' Elec. Coop., Inc., 56 N.M. 552, 246 P.2d 1041 (1952).

Refusal of easement for line forfeits membership. — Member's refusal to grant needed right-of-way easement for transmission line, ipso facto, worked a forfeiture of his membership and abrogation of the contract for supplying member with electric service. *King v. 62-15-9. Board of trustees; suits.

A. The business and affairs of a cooperative shall be managed by a board of not less than five trustees, each of whom shall be a member of the cooperative or of another cooperative which shall be a member thereof. The bylaws shall prescribe the number of trustees, the terms of the trustees and the manner of their election by the members, their qualifications, other than those provided for in the Rural Electric Cooperative Act, the manner of holding meetings of the board of trustees and of the election of successors to trustees who resign, die or otherwise are incapable of acting. The bylaws may provide for the removal of trustees from office and for the election of their successors and for the classification of trustees by terms of office. Without approval of the members, trustees shall not receive any salaries for their services as trustees and, except in emergencies, shall not be employed by the cooperative in any capacity involving compensation. The bylaws may, however, provide that a fixed per diem fee and advancement, reimbursement or a per diem amount in lieu of reasonably incurred expenses may be allowed to each trustee for attendance at each meeting of the board of trustees and of a committee thereof and for the performance of other cooperative business when such has had prior approval of the board of trustees.

B. The trustees of a cooperative named in any articles of incorporation, consolidation, merger or conversion shall hold office until the next following annual meeting of the members or until their successors have been elected and qualified.

C. A majority of the board of trustees constitutes a quorum.

D. If a husband and wife hold joint membership in a cooperative, either one, but not both, may be elected a trustee.

E. If the bylaws so provide, the board of trustees, by resolution adopted by a majority of the full board of trustees, may designate from among its members an executive committee and one or more other committees, except no such committee shall have authority to take any action on behalf of the board of trustees to distribute patronage refunds or in any matter which, under the articles of incorporation, bylaws or the Rural Electric Cooperative Act, requires the approval of the cooperative's members. Neither the designation of any such committee, the delegation thereto of authority nor action by such committee pursuant to such authority shall alone constitute compliance by any trustee not a member of the committee in question with the trustee's responsibility to act in accordance with the standard of conduct prescribed by Subsection E of this section.

F. Unless otherwise provided in the bylaws, any action required by the Rural Electric Cooperative Act to be taken at a meeting of the board of trustees, or any action which may be taken at a meeting of the board of trustees or of a committee, may be taken without a meeting if a consent in writing, setting forth the action so taken, shall be signed by all of the trustees or all of the committee members, as the case may be. The consent shall have the same effect as a unanimous vote.

G. The board of trustees may exercise all of the powers of a cooperative except such as are conferred upon the members by the Rural Electric Cooperative Act or its articles of incorporation or bylaws.

H. No action shall be brought against a trustee as such or against the cooperative in its right unless the plaintiff was a member of record at the time of the transaction complained of and the complaint is verified and alleges with particularity the efforts, if any, made by the plaintiff to obtain the action the plaintiff desires from the board of trustees and the reasons for the plaintiff's failure to obtain the action or for not making the effort. If the cooperative undertakes an investigation upon receipt of a demand by plaintiff for action, or following commencement of suit, the court may stay an action commenced as the circumstances reasonably require. If the court finds the action was brought without reasonable cause, it may require the plaintiff to pay defendants the reasonable expenses, including counsel fees, incurred by them in the defense of such action or to reimburse the cooperative for any indemnification provided a defendant pursuant to the Rural Electric Cooperative Act or the cooperative's bylaws.

ANNOTATIONS

The 1987 amendment, effective June 19, 1987, in Subsection A, in the third sentence added "and for the classification of trustees by terms of office" at the end and, in the fifth sentence, substituted "a fixed per diem fee and advancement, reimbursement or a per diem amount in lieu of reasonably incurred expenses" for "a fixed fee and expenses of attendance, if any" and added the material at the end following "board of trustees"; added present Subsections E, F, and H; redesignated former Subsection E as present Subsection G; and made minor changes in language and punctuation throughout the section.

Trustee may serve as director. — A member of the board of trustees of a rural electric cooperative incorporated under New Mexico's Rural Electric Cooperative Act (Sections 62-15-1 to 62-15-32 NMSA 1978) may serve as the salaried director of the cooperative with approval of the members. 1971 Op. 62-15-9.1. Duties of trustees.

A trustee shall perform his duties as a trustee, including his duties as a member of any committee of the board upon which the trustee may serve, in good faith, in a manner the trustee believes to be in or not opposed to the best interests of the cooperative and with such care as an ordinarily prudent person would use under similar circumstances in a like position. In performing such duties, a trustee shall be entitled to rely on factual information, opinions, reports or statements including financial statements and other financial data in each case prepared or presented by:

A. one or more officers or employees of the cooperative whom the trustee reasonably believes to be reliable and competent in the matters presented;

B. counsel, public accountants or other persons as to matters which the trustee reasonably believes to be within such persons' professional or expert competence;

C. a committee of the board upon which the trustee does not serve, duly designated in accordance with a provision of the articles of incorporation or the bylaws as to matters within its designated authority, which committee the trustee reasonably believes to merit confidence, but the trustee shall not be considered to be acting in good faith if the trustee has knowledge concerning the matter in question that would cause such reliance to be unwarranted; or

D. any bulletin or other directive of the rural electrification administration, or successor agency, material to the matter in question.

A person who so performs such duties shall have no liability to the cooperative or to its members by reason of being or having been a trustee of the cooperative.

62-15-9.2. Limitation on liability and indemnification of officers and trustees.

A. Cumulative to any other provision of the Rural Electric Cooperative Act as now or hereafter enacted, the bylaws of a cooperative may provide that a trustee shall not be personally liable to the cooperative or to its members for monetary damages for breach of fiduciary duty as a trustee unless:

(1) the trustee has breached or failed to perform the duties of his office in compliance with Section 62-15-9.1 NMSA 1978; and

(2) the breach or failure to perform constitutes willful misconduct or recklessness; or in the case of a trustee of a cooperative actively engaged in the generation and transmission of electric power, negligence, willful misconduct or recklessness. Such a provision in the bylaws shall, however, only eliminate the liability of a trustee for action taken as a trustee or any failure to take action as a trustee at meetings of the board of trustees or of a committee of the board of trustees, or by virtue of action of the trustees without a meeting as may be permitted by the Rural Electric Cooperative Act as now or hereafter enacted, on or after the date when such provision in the bylaws becomes effective.

B. Cumulative to any other power granted by the Rural Electric Cooperative Act as now or hereafter enacted, each cooperative shall have the power to indemnify any trustee or officer or former trustee or officer of the cooperative or any person serving or having served at the request of the cooperative as a director, trustee, officer, partner, trustee, employee or agent of any cooperative, corporation, nonprofit corporation, partnership, joint venture, trust, unincorporated association, other incorporated or unincorporated enterprise or employee benefit plan or trust against reasonable expenses, costs and attorneys' fees actually and reasonably incurred by him in connection with the defense of any action, suit or proceeding, civil or criminal, in which he is made a party by reason of holding or having held such an office or position. The indemnification may include any amounts paid to satisfy a judgment or to compromise or settle a claim. The trustee, officer or other person shall not be indemnified if he shall be adjudged to be liable on the basis that he breached or failed to perform the duties of his office or position and the breach or failure to perform constitutes willful misconduct or recklessness. Advance indemnification to such persons may be allowed for reasonable expenses to be incurred in connection with the defense of the action, suit or proceeding, provided that the trustee, officer or other person shall reimburse the cooperative if it is subsequently determined that he was not entitled to indemnification. Each cooperative may make any other indemnification as authorized by the articles of incorporation or bylaws or by resolution adopted by the members after notice.

History: Laws 1987, ch. 238, § 14.

62-15-10. Voting districts.

A. Notwithstanding any other provision of the Rural Electric Cooperative Act, the bylaws may provide that the territory in which a cooperative supplies electric energy to its members shall be divided into two or more voting districts and that, in respect of each such voting district:

(1) a designated number of trustees shall be elected by the members residing in that district;

(2) a designated number of delegates shall be elected by the members residing in that district; or

(3) both trustees and delegates shall be elected by the members residing in that district.

B. The bylaws shall prescribe the manner in which voting districts, and the members, delegates and trustees thereof, if any, elected therefrom, shall function. The bylaws shall also set forth the powers of the delegates, which may include the power to elect trustees. No delegate at any meeting shall vote by proxy or by mail.

C. Voting by members at voting district meetings shall be in person, unless otherwise provided in the bylaws. The bylaws shall prescribe the conditions under which voting by mail shall be exercised.

History: Laws 1939, ch. 47, § 10; 1941 Comp., § 48-410; 1953 Comp., § 45-4-10; 2011, ch. 38, § 1.

ANNOTATIONS

The 2011 amendment, effective June 17, 2011, added Subsection C to require that voting at voting district meetings be in person unless the bylaws provide otherwise, and to permit the bylaws to provide for voting by mail.

Amendment vote by districts rather than at general meeting deemed legal. — It is legal to provide for the amendment of bylaws by a majority vote of the members voting by districts, rather than at a general meeting of all the members. This interpretation does no violence to Section 62-15-7 NMSA 1978, since that section mentions "regular annual meeting" and "special meeting," and does not exclude a regular annual meeting or special meeting of a voting district. The interpretation is supported by the liberal construction required to be given these statutes under Section 62-15-32 NMSA 1978. 1961-62 Op. Att'y Gen. No. 61-62.

Rural electric cooperative cannot take away power of majority. — A rural electric cooperative may provide for the amendment of its bylaws by a vote taken at a series of meetings of voting districts rather than at a general meeting of all the members, but, in so doing, it cannot take away the power of the majority of members to adopt, amend or repeal the bylaws. 1961-62 Op. Att'y Gen. No. 61-62.

62-15-11. Officers.

The officers of a cooperative shall consist of a president, vice president, secretary and treasurer, who shall be elected annually by and from the board of trustees. No person shall continue to hold any of the above offices after he shall have ceased to be a trustee. The offices of secretary and of treasurer may be held by the same person. The board of trustees may also elect or appoint such other officers, agents or employees as it shall deem necessary or advisable and shall prescribe the powers and duties thereof. Any officer may be removed from office and his successor elected in the manner prescribed in the bylaws.

62-15-12. Amendment of articles of incorporation.

(1) the proposed amendment shall be first approved by the board of trustees and shall then be submitted to a vote of the members at any annual or special meeting, the notice of which shall set forth the proposed amendment. The proposed amendment, with such changes as the members shall choose to make, shall be deemed to be approved on the affirmative vote of not less than two-thirds of those members voting on the amendment at that meeting; and

(2) upon approval by the members, articles of amendment shall be executed and acknowledged on behalf of the cooperative by its president or vice president, and its corporate seal shall be affixed thereto and attested by its secretary. - (a) the name of the cooperative;
- (b) the address of its principal office;
- (c) the date of the filing of its articles of incorporation in the office of the secretary of state; and
- (d) the amendment to its articles of incorporation.

The president or vice president executing the articles of amendment shall make and annex thereto an affidavit stating that the provisions of this section were duly complied with. The articles of amendment and affidavit shall be submitted to the secretary of state for filing as provided in the Rural Electric Cooperative Act.

B. A cooperative may, without amending its articles of incorporation, upon authorization of its board of trustees, change the location of its principal office by filing a certificate of change of principal office, executed and acknowledged by its president or vice president under its seal attested by its secretary, in the office of the secretary of state and in the office of the county clerk in each county in this state in which its articles of incorporation or any prior certificate of change of principal office was filed. The cooperative shall, within thirty days after the filing of the certificate of change of principal office in the office of the county clerk, file in the county clerk's office certified copies of its articles of incorporation and all amendments thereto, if they are not already on file in the county clerk's office.

History: Laws 1939, ch. 47, § 12; 1941 Comp., § 48-412; 1953 Comp., § 45-4-12; 2013, ch. 75, § 27.

ANNOTATIONS

The 2013 amendment, effective July 1, 2013, required that the articles of incorporation of a cooperative recite the date a certificate of change of office was filed with the secretary of state; in Subparagraph (c) of Paragraph (2) of Subsection A, after "in the office of the", deleted "state corporation commission" and added "secretary of state"; in the second unlettered paragraph of Subsection A, in the second sentence, after "submitted to the", deleted "state corporation commission" and added "secretary of state"; and in Subsection B, in the first sentence, after "in the office of the" deleted "state corporation commission" and added "secretary of state".

(4) the terms and conditions of the consolidation and the mode of carrying it into effect, including the manner and basis of converting memberships in each consolidating cooperative into memberships in the new cooperative and the issuance of certificates of membership in respect of the converted memberships; and

(5) any provisions not inconsistent with the Rural Electric Cooperative Act deemed necessary or advisable for the conduct of the business and affairs of the new cooperative;

B. the proposition for the consolidation of the consolidating cooperatives into the new cooperative and the proposed articles of consolidation approved by the board of trustees of each consolidating cooperative shall then be submitted to a vote of the members of each consolidating cooperative at any annual or special meeting, the notice of which shall set forth full particulars concerning the proposed consolidation. The proposed consolidation and the proposed articles of consolidation shall be deemed to be approved upon the affirmative vote of a simple majority of those members of each consolidating cooperative voting thereon at that meeting; and

C. upon approval by the members of the respective consolidating cooperatives, articles of consolidation in the form approved shall be executed and acknowledged on behalf of each consolidating cooperative by its president or vice president, and its seal shall be affixed thereto and attested by its secretary. - (2) the address of its principal office;
- (3) the date of its incorporation;
- (4) that the cooperative has not commenced business;

The proposed voluntary dissolution shall be deemed to be approved upon the affirmative vote of not less than two-thirds of all of the members of the cooperative;
- (2) upon such approval, a certificate of election to dissolve, designated the "certificate" in this section, shall be executed and acknowledged on behalf of the cooperative by its president or vice president, and its corporate seal shall be affixed thereto and attested by its secretary. Sales by rural electric cooperative exempt from school tax. — This statutory provision must be considered to exempt from the school tax the sale of electricity by a rural electric cooperative to its customers. Since the legal incidence of the emergency school tax is upon the vendor of the goods or services as a tax with respect to his privilege of doing business, it is clearly immaterial to the consideration of the first inquiry that the cooperative, the purchaser of the goods or services, may not itself be subject directly to the tax because of this statute. 1957-58 Op. 62-15-32. Construction of act; inconsistency.

The Rural Electric Cooperative Act shall be construed liberally. The enumeration of any object, purpose, power, manner, method or thing shall not be deemed to exclude like or similar objects, purposes, powers, manners, methods or things. Nothing contained in the Rural Electric Cooperative Act shall be construed, however, to conflict with any duty to which a cooperative is subject or with any benefit to which a cooperative is entitled under the Public Utility Act [Chapter 62, Articles 1 through 6 and 8 through 13 NMSA 1978]. In the event any provision of the Rural Electric Cooperative Act is held to be repugnant to any provision of the Public Utility Act or to a cooperative's inclusion as a public utility thereunder, the latter shall be controlling and the former shall be held repealed to the extent of the repugnancy. Nothing in the Public Utility Act shall be deemed to authorize interference with, abrogation or change of the rights or obligations of a party under a wholesale power supply agreement, mortgage or financing agreement to which a distribution cooperative utility is a party.

ANNOTATIONS

Compiler's notes. — Laws 1939, ch. 47, § 34 repealed Laws 1937, ch. 100, and provided that the former act, relating to electric membership corporations, shall continue in effect and be applicable to corporations formed under its provisions. A corporation created under Laws 1937, Chapter 100 shall be converted into a cooperative authorized to do business and entitled to all privileges and immunities of a cooperative under the Rural Electric Cooperative Act, as amended, being Laws 1939, Chapter 47, as amended, upon the adoption of a resolution to such effect by its board of directors.

62-15-34. Renewable portfolio standard.

A. Each distribution cooperative organized under the Rural Electric Cooperative Act shall meet the renewable portfolio standard requirements, as provided in this section, to include renewable energy in its electric energy supply portfolio. Requirements of the renewable portfolio standard are:

- (1) no later than January 1, 2015, renewable energy shall comprise no less than five percent of each distribution cooperative's total retail sales to New Mexico customers;
- (2) the renewable portfolio standard shall increase by one percent per year thereafter until January 1, 2020, at which time the renewable portfolio standard shall be ten percent of the distribution cooperative's total retail sales to New Mexico customers;
- (3) the renewable portfolio standard of each distribution cooperative shall be diversified as to the type of renewable energy resource, taking into consideration the overall reliability, availability and dispatch flexibility and the cost of the various renewable energy resources made available to the distribution cooperative by its suppliers of electric power; and
- (4) renewable energy resources that are in a distribution cooperative's energy supply portfolio on January 1, 2008, shall be counted in determining compliance with this section.

B. If a distribution cooperative determines that, in any given year, the cost of renewable energy that would need to be procured or generated for purposes of compliance with the renewable portfolio standard would be greater than the reasonable cost threshold, the distribution cooperative shall not be required to incur that cost; provided that the existence of this condition excusing performance in any given year shall not operate to delay any renewable portfolio standard in subsequent years. For purposes of the Rural Electric Cooperative Act, "reasonable cost threshold" means an amount that shall be no greater than one percent of the distribution cooperative's gross receipts from business transacted in New Mexico for the preceding calendar year.

C. By April 30 of each year, a distribution cooperative shall file with the public regulation commission a report on its purchases and generation of renewable energy during the preceding calendar year. The report shall include the cost of the renewable energy resources purchased and generated by the distribution cooperative to meet the renewable portfolio standard.

D. A distribution cooperative shall report to its membership a summary of its purchases and generation of renewable energy during the preceding calendar year.

62-15-35. Renewable energy certificates; commission duties.

The public regulation commission shall establish:

A. a system of renewable energy certificates that can be used by a distribution cooperative to establish compliance with the renewable portfolio standard and that may include certificates that are monitored, accounted for or transferred by or through a regional system or trading program for any region in which a rural electric cooperative is located. The kilowatt-hour value of renewable energy certificates may be varied by renewable energy resource or technology; provided that:

(1) each renewable energy certificate shall have a minimum value of one kilowatt-hour for purposes of compliance with the renewable portfolio standard;

(2) three thousand four hundred twelve British thermal units of useful thermal energy is equivalent to one kilowatt-hour for purposes of compliance with the renewable portfolio standard; and

(3) the following equation shall be used to calculate the annual renewable energy certificate value for a geothermal heat pump system: $(\text{coefficient of performance of heat pump unit} - 1) \times (\text{ton rating of heat pump unit} / .9) = \text{number of megawatt-hours of renewable energy certificates}$; and

B. requirements and procedures concerning renewable energy certificates that include the provisions that:

(1) renewable energy certificates:

(a) are owned by the generator of the renewable energy unless: 1) the renewable energy certificates are transferred to the purchaser of the energy through specific agreement with the generator; 2) the generator is a qualifying facility, as defined by the federal Public Utility Regulatory Policies Act of 1978, in which case the renewable energy certificates are owned by the distribution cooperative purchaser of the renewable energy unless retained by the generator through specific agreement with the distribution cooperative purchaser of the energy; or 3) a contract for the purchase of renewable energy is in effect prior to January 1, 2004, in which case the renewable energy certificates are owned by the purchaser of the energy for the term of such contract;

(b) may be traded, sold or otherwise transferred by their owner to any other party; provided that the transfers and use of the certificate by a distribution cooperative for compliance with the renewable energy portfolio standard shall require the electric or useful thermal energy represented by the certificate to be contracted for delivery or consumed, or generated by an end-use customer of the distribution cooperative in New Mexico unless the commission determines that the distribution cooperative is participating in a national or regional market for exchanging renewable energy certificates;

(c) that are used for the purpose of meeting the renewable portfolio standard shall be registered, beginning January 1, 2008, with a renewable energy generation information system that is designed to create and track ownership of renewable energy certificates and that, through the use of independently audited generation data, verifies the generation and delivery of electricity or useful thermal energy associated with each renewable energy certificate and protects against multiple counting of the same renewable energy certificate;

(d) that are used once by a distribution cooperative to satisfy the renewable portfolio standard and are retired or that are traded, sold or otherwise transferred by the distribution cooperative shall not be further used by the distribution cooperative; and

(e) that are not used by a distribution cooperative to satisfy the renewable portfolio standard or that are not traded, sold or otherwise transferred by the distribution cooperative may be carried forward for up to four years from the date of issuance and, if not used by that time, shall be retired by the distribution cooperative; and

(2) a distribution cooperative shall be responsible for demonstrating that a renewable energy certificate used for compliance with the renewable portfolio standard is derived from eligible renewable energy resources and has not been retired, traded, sold or otherwise transferred to another party.

62-15-36. Renewable energy and conservation fee.

A. A distribution cooperative may collect from its customers a renewable energy and conservation fee of no more than one percent of the customer's bill. In no event shall a distribution cooperative collect more than seventy-five thousand dollars ($75,000) annually through the renewable energy and conservation fee from any single customer. Money collected through the renewable energy and conservation fee shall be segregated in a separate renewable energy and conservation account from other distribution cooperative funds and shall be expended only on programs or projects to promote the use of renewable energy, load management or energy efficiency. A distribution cooperative that collects a renewable energy and conservation fee from its customers shall report to the public regulation commission by March 1 of the following year the following information:

- (1) the amount of money collected through the renewable energy and conservation fee in the previous calendar year;
- (2) the programs or projects on which the funds collected were expended;
and
- (3) the determination of the distribution cooperative as to whether and in what amount to assess a renewable energy and conservation fee in the next calendar year.

B. Each distribution cooperative that collects a renewable energy and conservation fee from its customers shall deduct from the fees paid to the state pursuant to Section 62-8-8 NMSA 1978 an amount equal to fifty percent of the amount of money collected through the renewable energy and conservation fee during the preceding calendar year. The money shall be included in the account with other money from the renewable energy and conservation fee and expended only on programs or projects to promote the use of renewable energy, load management or energy efficiency.

62-16-2. Findings and purposes.

A. The legislature finds that:

(1) the generation of electricity through the use of renewable energy presents opportunities to promote energy self-sufficiency, preserve the state's natural resources and pursue an improved environment in New Mexico;

(2) the use of renewable energy by public utilities subject to commission oversight in accordance with the Renewable Energy Act can bring significant economic benefits to New Mexico;

(3) public utilities should be required to include prescribed amounts of renewable energy in their electric energy supply portfolios for sales to retail customers in New Mexico by prescribed dates;

(7) it may serve the public interest for public utilities to participate in national or regional renewable energy trading.

B. The purposes of the Renewable Energy Act are to:

(1) prescribe the amounts of renewable energy resources that public utilities shall include in their electric energy supply portfolios for sales to retail customers in New Mexico by prescribed dates;

(2) allow public utilities to recover costs through the rate-making process incurred for procuring or generating renewable energy used to comply with the prescribed amount; and

History: Laws 2004, ch. 65, § 3; 2007, ch. 4, § 7.

ANNOTATIONS

The 2007 amendment, effective July 1, 2007, added Subsection B to define "municipality"; changed former Subsections B through D to Subsections C through E; added Subparagraph (b) of Paragraph (2) of Subsection E to include hydropower facilities brought in service after July 1, 2007; added Subsection F to define "renewal energy certificate"; changed former Subsection E to Subsection G; and added Subsection H to define "renewable purchased power agreement".

62-16-4. Renewable portfolio standard.

A. A public utility shall meet the renewable portfolio standard requirements, as provided in this section, to include renewable energy in its electric energy supply portfolio. Requirements of the renewable portfolio standard are:

(1) for public utilities other than rural electric cooperatives and municipalities:

(a) no later than January 1, 2006, renewable energy shall comprise no less than five percent of each public utility's total retail sales to New Mexico customers;

(b) no later than January 1, 2011, renewable energy shall comprise no less than ten percent of each public utility's total retail sales to New Mexico customers;

(c) no later than January 1, 2015, renewable energy shall comprise no less than fifteen percent of each public utility's total retail sales to New Mexico customers; and

(d) no later than January 1, 2020, renewable energy shall comprise no less than twenty percent of each public utility's total retail sales to New Mexico customers;

(2) the renewable portfolio standard established by this section shall be reduced, as necessary, to provide for the following specific procurement requirements for nongovernmental customers at a single location or facility, regardless of the number of meters at that location or facility, with consumption exceeding ten million kilowatt-hours per year. On and after January 1, 2006, the kilowatt-hours of renewable energy procured for these customers shall be limited so that the additional cost of the renewable portfolio standard to each customer does not exceed the lower of one percent of that customer's annual electric charges or forty-nine thousand dollars ($49,000). This procurement limit criterion shall increase by one-fifth percent or ten thousand dollars ($10,000) per year until January 1, 2011, when the procurement limit criterion shall remain fixed at the lower of two percent of that customer's annual electric charges or ninety-nine thousand dollars ($99,000). After January 1, 2012, the commission may adjust the ninety-nine-thousand-dollar ($99,000) limit for inflation. Nothing contained in this paragraph shall be construed as affecting a public utility's right to recover all reasonable costs of complying with the renewable portfolio standard, pursuant to Section 62-16-6 NMSA 1978. The commission may authorize deferred recovery of the costs of complying with the renewable portfolio standard, including carrying charges;

(3) any customer that is a political subdivision of the state or any educational institution designated in Article 12, Section 11 of the constitution of New Mexico, with an enrollment of twenty-four thousand students or more during the fall semester on its main campus, with consumption exceeding twenty million kilowatt-hours per year at any single location or facility, and that owns renewable energy generation is exempt from all charges by the utility for renewable energy procurements in a year, regardless of the number of customer locations or meters on the system, if that customer certifies to the state auditor and notifies the commission and its serving electric utility that it will expend two and one-half percent of that year's annual electricity charges to continue to develop within twenty-four months customer-owned renewable energy generation. That customer shall also certify that it will retire all renewable energy certificates associated with the energy produced from that expenditure;

(4) the renewable portfolio shall be diversified as to the type of renewable energy resource, taking into consideration the overall reliability, availability, dispatch flexibility and cost of the various renewable energy resources made available by suppliers and generators;

(5) upon a commission motion or application by a public utility, the commission shall open a docket to provide appropriate performance-based financial or other incentives to encourage public utilities to acquire renewable energy supplies that exceed the applicable annual renewable portfolio standard set forth in this section. The commission shall initiate rules by June 1, 2008 to implement this subsection; and

(6) renewable energy resources that are in a public utility's electric energy supply portfolio on July 1, 2004 shall be counted in determining compliance with this section.

B. If a public utility finds that, in any given year, the cost of renewable energy that would need to be procured or generated for purposes of compliance with the renewable portfolio standard would be greater than the reasonable cost threshold as established by the commission pursuant to this section, the public utility shall not be required to incur that cost; provided that the existence of this condition excusing performance in any given year shall not operate to delay the annual increases in the renewable portfolio standard in subsequent years. When a public utility can generate or procure renewable energy at or below the reasonable cost threshold, it shall be required to add renewable energy resources to meet the renewable portfolio standard applicable in the year when the renewable energy resources are being added.

C. By December 31, 2004, the commission shall establish, after notice and hearing, the reasonable cost threshold above which level a public utility shall not be required to add renewable energy to its electric energy supply portfolio pursuant to the renewable portfolio standard. The commission may thereafter modify the reasonable cost threshold as changing circumstances warrant, after notice and hearing. In establishing and modifying the reasonable cost threshold, the commission shall take into account:

- (1) the price of renewable energy at the point of sale to the public utility;
- (2) the transmission and interconnection costs required for the delivery of renewable energy to retail customers;
- (3) the impact of the cost for renewable energy on overall retail customer rates;
- (4) the overall diversity, reliability, availability, dispatch flexibility, cost per kilowatt-hour and life-cycle cost on a net present value basis of renewable energy resources available from suppliers; and
- (5) other factors, including public benefits, that the commission deems relevant; provided that nothing in the Renewable Energy Act shall be construed to permit regulation by the commission of the production or sale price at the point of production of the renewable energy.

D. By September 1, 2007 and July 1 of each year thereafter until 2022, and thereafter as determined necessary by the commission, a public utility shall file a report to the commission on its procurement and generation of renewable energy during the prior calendar year and a procurement plan that includes:

- (1) the cost of procurement for any new renewable energy resource in the next calendar year required to comply with the renewable portfolio standard; and
- (2) testimony and exhibits that demonstrate that the proposed procurement is reasonable as to its terms and conditions considering price, availability, dispatchability, any renewable energy certificate values and diversity of the renewable energy resource; or
- (3) demonstration that the plan is otherwise in the public interest.

E. The commission shall approve or modify a public utility's procurement or transitional procurement plan within ninety days and may approve the plan without a hearing, unless a protest is filed that demonstrates to the commission's reasonable satisfaction that a hearing is necessary. The commission may modify a plan after notice and hearing. The commission may, for good cause, extend the time to approve a procurement plan for an additional ninety days. If the commission does not act within the ninety-day period, the procurement plan is deemed approved.

F. The commission may reject a procurement or transitional procurement plan if it finds that the plan does not contain the required information and, upon the rejection, may suspend the public utility's obligation to procure additional resources for the time necessary to file a revised plan; provided that the total amount of renewable energy to be procured by the public utility shall not change.

G. A public utility may file a transitional procurement plan requesting that the commission determine that the costs of renewable energy resources that the public utility has committed to, or may commit to, prior to the commission's establishing a reasonable cost threshold, are reasonable and recoverable pursuant to Section 62-16-6 NMSA 1978. The requirements of annual procurement plan filings shall be applicable to any transitional procurement plan filing pursuant to this section.

H. The commission shall determine if it is in the public interest for the commission to provide appropriate performance-based financial or other incentives to encourage public utilities to acquire renewable energy supplies in amounts that exceed the requirements of the renewable portfolio standard.

History: Laws 2004, ch. 65, § 4; 2007, ch. 4, § 8; 2011, ch. 93, § 1; 2014, ch. 41, § 1.

ANNOTATIONS

The 2014 amendment, effective May 21, 2014, exempted certain state educational institutions from charges for renewable energy procurements; and in Subsection A, in Paragraph (3), after "political subdivision of the state", added "or any educational institution designated in Article 12, Section 11 of the constitution of New Mexico, with an enrollment of twenty-four thousand students or more during the fall semester on its campus".

The 2011 amendment, effective June 17, 2011, added Paragraph (3) of Subsection A to exempt certain political subdivisions from all charges by public utilities for renewable energy procurements if the political subdivision certifies that it will expend two and one-half percent of annual electricity charges to develop renewable energy generation.

The 2007 amendment, effective July 1, 2007, added Paragraph (1) of Subsection A, which added requirements for public utilities other than rural electric cooperatives and municipalities; deleted former Paragraph (2) of Subsection A, which provided that the renewable portfolio standard shall increase by one percent per year until January 1, 2011 when the renewal portfolio standard will remain fixed at ten percent per year; added Subparagraphs (b) through (d) of Paragraph (1) of Subsection A; added Paragraph (4) of Subsection A; in Subsection D, changed the date from September 1 of each year until 2012 to September 1, 2007 and July 1 of each year thereafter until 2022; changed the content of the report from purchases to procurement and generation; in Subsection E, changed all time periods from sixty days to ninety days; and added Subsection H.

Recovery of large customer cap costs. — The public regulation commission has discretion to determine whether renewable energy procurement reductions are necessary when large customer cap costs arise, and this section does not bar the allocation of large customer cap costs to customers who are not subject to a legislatively imposed limit on their renewable energy costs. N.M. Att’y. Gen. v. N.M. Pub. Regulation Comm’n., 2015-NMSC-032.

Where the public regulation commission (PRC) approved utility’s renewable energy cost rider which sought to recover $22 million of renewable energy procurement costs from customers who are not subject to a legislatively imposed limit on their renewable energy costs (non-capped customers), the PRC properly allocated large customer cap costs to non-capped customers to enable the utility to recover its reasonable renewable energy procurement costs; such a recovery mechanism is the only viable method of cost recovery that is consistent with the purposes of the Renewable Energy Act, 62-16-1 through 62-16-10 NMSA 1978. N.M. Att’y. Gen. v. N.M. Pub. Regulation Comm’n., 2015-NMSC-032.

62-16-5. Renewable energy certificates; commission duties.

The commission shall establish:

A. a system of renewable energy certificates that can be used by a public utility to establish compliance with the renewable portfolio standard and that may include certificates that are monitored, accounted for or transferred by or through a regional system or trading program for any region in which a public utility is located. The kilowatt-hour value of renewable energy certificates may be varied by renewable energy resource or technology; provided that each renewable energy certificate shall have a minimum value of one kilowatt-hour of renewable energy represented by the certificate for purposes of compliance with the renewable portfolio standard; and

B. requirements and procedures concerning renewable energy certificates that include the provisions that:

(1) renewable energy certificates:

(a) are owned by the generator of the renewable energy unless: 1) the renewable energy certificates are transferred to the purchaser of the energy through specific agreement with the generator; 2) the generator is a qualifying facility, as defined by the federal Public Utility Regulatory Policies Act of 1978, in which case the renewable energy certificates are owned by the public utility purchaser of the renewable energy unless retained by the generator through specific agreement with the public utility purchaser of the energy; or 3) a contract for the purchase of renewable energy is in effect prior to January 1, 2004, in which case the renewable energy certificates are owned by the purchaser of the energy for the term of such contract;

(b) may be traded, sold or otherwise transferred by their owner to any other party; provided that the transfers and use of the certificate by a public utility for compliance with the renewable energy portfolio standard shall require the electric energy represented by the certificate to be contracted for delivery, or consumed or generated by an end-use customer of the public utility in New Mexico unless the commission determines that there is a national or regional market for exchanging renewable energy certificates;

(c) that are used for the purpose of meeting the renewable portfolio standard shall be registered, beginning January 1, 2009, with a renewable energy generation information system that is designed to create and track ownership of renewable energy certificates and that, through the use of independently audited generation data, verifies the generation and delivery of electricity associated with each renewable energy certificate and protects against multiple counting of the same renewable energy certificate;

(d) that are used once by a public utility to satisfy the renewable portfolio standard and are retired or that are traded, sold or otherwise transferred by the public utility shall not be further used by the public utility; and

(e) that are not used by a public utility to satisfy the renewable portfolio standard or that are not traded, sold or otherwise transferred by the public utility may be carried forward for up to four years from the date of issuance and, if not used by that time, shall be retired by the public utility; and

(2) a public utility shall be responsible for demonstrating that a renewable energy certificate used for compliance with the renewable portfolio standard is derived from eligible renewable energy resources and has not been retired, traded, sold or otherwise transferred to another party.

ANNOTATIONS

Cross references. — For the Federal Public Utility Regulatory Policies Act of 1978, see 16 U.S.C. §§ 2601 to 2645.

The 2007 amendment, effective July 1, 2007, added the provision in Subparagraph (b) of Paragraph (1) of Subsection B that the electric energy be consumed or generated by an end-use customer of the public utility; and added Subparagraph (c) of Paragraph (1) of Subsection B.

62-16-6. Cost recovery for renewable energy.

A. A public utility that procures or generates renewable energy shall recover, through the rate-making process, the reasonable costs of complying with the renewable portfolio standard. Costs that are consistent with commission approval of procurement plans or transitional procurement plans shall be deemed to be reasonable.

B. The commission shall not exclude from such recovery reasonable interconnection and transmission costs incurred by the public utility in order to deliver renewable energy to retail New Mexico customers.

C. Upon a commission motion or application by a public utility, the commission shall open a docket to provide appropriate performance-based financial or other incentives to encourage public utilities to acquire renewable energy supplies that exceed the applicable annual renewable portfolio standard pursuant to the Renewable Energy Act. The commission shall initiate rules by June 1, 2008 to implement this subsection.

History: Laws 2004, ch. 65, § 6; 2007, ch. 4, § 10.

ANNOTATIONS

The 2007 amendment, effective July 1, 2007, added Subsection C.

Rate making process. — The rate-making process includes both general rate cases and automatic adjustment clause recovery, depending upon the type of cost involved. N.M. Indus. Energy Consumers v. N.M. PRC, 2007-NMSC-053, 142 N.M. 533, 168 P.3d 105.

Cost of investor-supplied prepaid pension asset may be included in utility's rate base. — A utility can include prepayments for pension expenses in its rate base because the utility is out-of-pocket for such costs until they are recovered from ratepayers and is therefore entitled to recover its costs of financing such prepaid expenses; only investor-supplied working capital may be included in the rate base. N.M. Att'y. Gen. v. N.M. Pub. Regulation Comm'n., 2015-NMSC-032.

Where utility's investors made contributions to its pension fund which generated earnings that effectively reduced the utility's pension expense, and the investors, not the ratepayers, absorbed the cost of funding the pension program, the prepaid pension asset was properly included in the rate base because the asset amounted to working capital that benefitted the ratepayers by reducing the total pension costs needed in the utility's revenue requirement. N.M. Att'y. Gen. v. N.M. Pub. Regulation Comm'n., 2015-NMSC-032.

62-16A-3. New Mexico renewable energy transmission authority created; organization.

A. The "New Mexico renewable energy transmission authority" is created as a public body, politic and corporate, separate and apart from the state, constituting a governmental instrumentality for the performance of essential public functions.

B. The authority shall be composed of six members as follows:

(1) three members appointed by the governor with the advice and consent of the senate. The initial appointees shall be appointed for staggered terms of one, two and three years; thereafter, the members shall be appointed for three-year terms;

(2) the state treasurer or the state treasurer's designee;

(3) one member appointed by the speaker of the house of representatives who shall serve at the pleasure of the speaker of the house; and

(4) one member appointed by the president pro tempore of the senate who shall serve at the pleasure of the president pro tempore.

C. The qualifications of the members shall be as follows:

(1) one member appointed by the governor shall have expertise in financial matters involving the financing of major electrical transmission projects;

(2) the other four appointed members shall have:

(a) special knowledge of the public utility industry, as evidenced by college degrees or by experience, at least five years of which must be with the public utility industry; and

(b) knowledge of renewable energy development; and

(3) no member shall represent a person that owns or operates facilities.

D. The members initially appointed by the speaker of the house and the president pro tempore of the senate shall, by lot, determine one to have an initial term of two years and one to have an initial term of four years; thereafter, the appointments will be for staggered terms of four years.

E. In addition to the six voting members, the secretary of energy, minerals and natural resources shall serve as an ex-officio nonvoting member of the authority.

F. The governor shall designate an appointed member of the authority to serve as chair, and the authority may elect annually such other officers as it deems necessary.

G. The authority shall meet at the call of the chair or whenever four members shall so request in writing. A majority of members then serving constitutes a quorum for the transaction of business, but the affirmative vote of at least four members is necessary for any action to be taken by the authority.

H. The authority is not created or organized, and its operations are not conducted, for the purpose of making a profit, but it is expected to recover the costs of operating the authority. No part of the revenues or assets of the authority shall benefit or be distributable to its members, officers or other private persons. The members of the authority shall receive no compensation for their services, but the public members shall be reimbursed for actual and necessary expenses at the same rate and on the same basis as provided for public officers in the Per Diem and Mileage Act [10-8-1 through 10-8-8 NMSA 1978].

I. The authority is not subject to the supervision or control of any other board, bureau, department or agency of the state except as specifically provided in the New Mexico Renewable Energy Transmission Authority Act. No use of the terms "state agency" or "instrumentality" in any other law of the state shall be deemed to refer to the authority unless the authority is specifically referred to in the law.

J. The authority is a governmental instrumentality for purposes of the Tort Claims Act [41-4-1 through 41-4-27 NMSA 1978].

(8) pursuant to the provisions of the Eminent Domain Code [42A-1-1 through 42A-1-33 NMSA 1978], exercise the power of eminent domain for acquiring property or rights of way for public use if needed for projects if such action does not involve taking utility property or does not materially diminish electric service reliability of the transmission system in New Mexico, as determined by the public regulation commission;

(9) receive by gift, grant, donation or otherwise, any sum of money, aid or assistance from the United States, the state of New Mexico, any other state, any political subdivision or any other public or private entity;

(10) for any project, provide information and training to employees of the project regarding any unique hazards that may be posed by the project, as well as training in safety work practices and emergency procedures;

C. Except as provided in this subsection, the authority shall not enter into any project if public utilities or other private persons are performing the acts, are constructing or have constructed the facilities, or are providing the services contemplated by the authority, and are willing to provide funds for and own new infrastructure to meet an identified need and market. Before entering into a project, the following procedures shall be implemented:

(1) the authority shall provide to each public utility and the public regulation commission and publish one time in a newspaper of general circulation in New Mexico and one time in a newspaper in the area where the eligible facilities are contemplated and on a publicly accessible web page maintained by the authority, an initial notice describing the project that the authority is contemplating, including a detailed description of the existing or anticipated renewable energy sources that justify the determination by the authority that the project facilities are eligible facilities. The description shall contain, at a minimum, the names of all persons that already are or will develop the renewable energy sources, all persons that will own the renewable energy sources and the peak output capacity, source type, location and anticipated connection date of the renewable energy sources;

(2) any person with an interest that may be affected by the proposed project shall have thirty days from the date of the last publication of the initial notice to challenge, in writing, the determination by the authority that the facilities are eligible facilities. If a challenge is received by the authority within the thirty days, the authority shall hold a public hearing no sooner than thirty days after receiving the challenge and after a minimum of two weeks notice in the same newspapers and web page in which the initial notice was given. Following the public hearing, the authority shall make a final determination of eligibility and give notice of the determination pursuant to Section 39-3-1.1 NMSA 1978. Any person or governmental entity participating in the hearing may appeal the final determination by filing a notice of appeal with the district court pursuant to Section 39-3-1.1 NMSA 1978;

(3) public utilities and other persons willing and able to provide money for, acquire, maintain and operate the eligible facilities described in the notice shall have the following time period to notify the authority of intention and ability to provide money for, acquire, maintain and operate the eligible facilities described in the notice:

(a) within ninety days of the date of the last publication of the initial notice if no challenge is received pursuant to Paragraph (2) of this subsection; or

(b) within ninety days of the date of the notice of determination if a challenge is received pursuant to Paragraph (2) of this subsection; and

(4) in the absence of notification by a public utility or other person pursuant to Paragraph (3) of this subsection, or if a person, having given notice of intention to provide money for, acquire, maintain and operate the eligible facilities contemplated by the authority, fails to make a good faith effort to commence the same within twelve months from the date of notification by the authority of its intention, the authority may proceed to finance or plan, acquire, maintain and operate the eligible facilities originally contemplated, provided that a person that, within the time required, has made necessary applications to acquire federal, state, local or private permits, certificates or other approvals necessary to acquire the eligible facilities shall be deemed to have commenced the same as long as the person diligently pursues the permits, certificates or other approvals.

D. In soliciting and entering into contracts for the transmission or storage of electricity, the authority and any person leasing or operating eligible facilities financed or acquired by the authority shall, if practical, give priority to those contracts that will transmit or store electricity to be sold and consumed in New Mexico.

E. The authority and any eligible facilities acquired by the authority are not subject to the supervision, regulation, control or jurisdiction of the public regulation commission; provided that nothing in this subsection shall be interpreted to allow a public utility to include the cost of using eligible facilities in its rate base without the approval of the public regulation commission.

F. In exercising its powers and duties, the authority shall not own or control facilities unless:

(1) the facilities are leased to or held for lease or sale to a public utility or such other person approved by the public regulation commission;

(2) the operation, maintenance and use of the facilities are vested by lease or other contract in a public utility or such other person approved by the public regulation commission;

(3) the facilities are owned or controlled for a period of not more than one hundred eighty days after termination of a lease or contract described in Paragraph (1) or (2) of this subsection or after the authority gains possession of the facilities following a breach of such a lease or contract or as a result of bankruptcy proceedings; or

(4) the facilities do not affect in-state retail rates or electric service reliability.

G. A public utility subject to regulation of the public regulation commission pursuant to the Public Utility Act [Chapter 62, Articles 1 through 6 and 8 through 13 NMSA 1978] may recover the capital cost of a project undertaken pursuant to the New Mexico Renewable Energy Transmission Authority Act from its retail customers only if the project has received a certificate of public convenience and necessity from the public regulation commission. A municipal utility exempt from regulation of the public regulation commission may recover such costs only if the project has been approved by the governing body of the municipality. Costs associated with a project undertaken pursuant to the New Mexico Renewable Energy Transmission Authority Act are not recoverable from retail utility customers except to the extent the costs are prudently incurred and the project is used and useful in serving those customers as determined by the public regulation commission.

A. The authority is authorized to issue and sell revenue bonds, known as "renewable energy transmission bonds", payable solely from the renewable energy transmission bonding fund, in compliance with the New Mexico Renewable Energy Transmission Authority Act, for the purpose of entering into a project when the authority determines that the project is needed.

B. The net proceeds from the bonds are appropriated to the authority for the purpose of financing or acquiring eligible facilities.

62-16A-6. Renewable energy transmission bonding fund created; money in the fund pledged.

A. The "renewable energy transmission bonding fund" is created in the authority. The fund shall consist of revenues received by the authority from operating or leasing eligible facilities, fees and service charges collected and, if the authority has provided financing for eligible facilities, money from payments of principal and interest on loans. The authority may create separate accounts within the fund in connection with any issuance of renewable energy transmission bonds and may deposit in such separate accounts revenues received by the authority derived from the financing or leasing of eligible facilities. Any such separate account shall be held by a trustee acting under a trust indenture relating to those bonds. Earnings of the fund or any separate account shall be credited to the fund or the applicable separate account. Balances in the fund at the end of any fiscal year shall remain in the fund, except as provided in this section.

B. Money in the fund shall be deposited in a bank designated by the authority in an account or accounts as the authority may establish. Money in accounts shall be withdrawn on the order of persons whom the authority may authorize. All deposits of money shall be secured in such manner as the authority may determine. The state auditor and the state auditor's legally authorized representatives shall periodically examine the accounts and books of the authority, including its receipts, disbursements, contracts, leases, sinking funds, investments and any other records and papers relating to its financial standing. The authority shall pay a reasonable fee for the examination as determined by the state auditor.

C. Money in the renewable energy transmission bonding fund is pledged for the payment of principal and interest on bonds issued pursuant to the New Mexico Renewable Energy Transmission Authority Act. Money in any separate account may be pledged solely to payment of bonds for which the separate account was created. Money in the fund or any separate account is appropriated to the authority for the purpose of paying debt service, including redemption premiums, on the bonds and the expenses incurred in the issuance, payment and administration of the bonds.

D. On the last day of January and the last day of July of each year, the authority shall estimate the amount needed to make debt service and other payments during the next twelve months from the renewable energy transmission bonding fund or any separate account created in the bond fund on the bonds plus the amount that may be needed for any required reserves or other requirements as may be set forth in the trust indenture related to the bonds. The authority shall transfer to the renewable energy transmission authority operational fund any balance in the renewable energy transmission bonding fund or any separate account created in the bond fund above the estimated amounts. Payments for administrative costs shall be deposited in the renewable energy transmission authority operational fund.

E. Bonds issued pursuant to the New Mexico Renewable Energy Transmission Authority Act shall be payable solely from the renewable energy transmission bonding fund or from any separate account, created within the bond fund or, with the approval of the bondholders, such other special funds as may be provided by law and do not create an obligation or indebtedness of the state within the meaning of any constitutional provision. No breach of any contractual obligation incurred pursuant to that act shall impose a pecuniary liability or a charge upon the general credit or taxing power of the state, and the bonds are not general obligations for which the state's full faith and credit is pledged.

F. The state does hereby pledge that the renewable energy transmission bonding fund, including any separate account within the fund, shall be used only for the purposes specified in this section and pledged first to pay the debt service on the bonds issued pursuant to the New Mexico Renewable Energy Transmission Authority Act. The state further pledges that any law requiring the deposit of revenues in the renewable energy transmission bonding fund or authorizing expenditures from the fund shall not be amended or repealed or otherwise modified so as to impair the bonds to which the renewable energy transmission bonding fund is dedicated as provided in this section.

62-16A-7. Authority to refund bonds.

The authority may issue and sell at public or private sale bonds to refund outstanding renewable energy transmission bonds by exchange, immediate or prospective redemption, cancellation or escrow, including the escrow of debt service funds accumulated for payment of outstanding bonds, or any combination thereof, when, in its opinion, such action will be beneficial to the state.

A. Bonds shall be sold by the authority at such times and in such manner as the authority may elect, either at private sale for a negotiated price or to the highest bidder at public sale for cash at par, above par or below par and accrued interest.

B. In connection with any public sale of the bonds, the authority shall publish a notice of the time and place of sale in a newspaper of general circulation in the state and also in a recognized financial journal outside the state. The publication shall be made once each week for two consecutive weeks prior to the date fixed for such sale, the last publication to be two business days prior to the date of sale. The notice shall specify the amount, denomination, maturity and description of the bonds to be offered for sale and the place, day and hour at which sealed bids therefor shall be received. All bids, except those of the state, shall be accompanied by a deposit of two percent of the principal amount of the bonds. Deposits of unsuccessful bidders shall be returned upon rejection of the bid. At the time and place specified in such notice, the authority shall open the bids in public and shall award the bonds, or any part thereof, to the bidder or bidders offering the best price. The authority may reject any or all bids and readvertise.

Efficient Use of Energy

62-17-1. Short title.

Chapter 62, Article 17 NMSA 1978 may be cited as the "Efficient Use of Energy Act".

History: Laws 2005, ch. 341, § 1; 2007, ch. 4, § 12.

ANNOTATIONS

The 2007 amendment, effective July 1, 2007, changed the reference from "Sections 1 through 11 of this act" to "Chapter 62, Article 17 NMSA 1978".

62-17-2. Findings.

The legislature finds that:

A. energy efficiency and load management are cost-effective resources that are an essential component of the balanced resource portfolio that public utilities must achieve to provide affordable and reliable energy to public utility consumers;

B. energy efficiency and load management in New Mexico are resources that are currently underutilized, and it is necessary and appropriate to provide rate treatment and financial incentives to public utilities to develop all cost-effective and achievable energy efficiency and load management resources;

C. public and municipal utility energy efficiency and load management programs present opportunities to increase New Mexico's energy security, protect New Mexico energy consumers from price increases, preserve the state's natural resources and pursue an improved environment in New Mexico;

D. energy efficiency and load management programs by public utilities in accordance with the Efficient Use of Energy Act can bring significant economic benefits to New Mexico;

E. it serves the public interest to support public utility development of all cost-effective energy efficiency and load management by removing, to the extent possible, regulatory disincentives and allowing recovery of costs for reasonable and prudently incurred expenses of energy efficiency and load management programs and also allowing public utilities the opportunity to earn a profit on cost-effective energy efficiency and load management resource development that, with satisfactory program performance, is financially more attractive than developing supply-side resources, while at the same time ensuring it is done in a manner that balances the public interest, consumers' interests and investors' interests;

F. utility energy efficiency and load management programs for economically disadvantaged New Mexicans, in conjunction with low-income weatherization programs managed by the state of New Mexico, will reduce the burden of utility costs on low-income customers;

G. cost-effective energy efficiency and load management programs undertaken by public utilities can provide significant reductions in greenhouse gas emissions, regulated air emissions, water consumption and natural resource depletion, and can avoid or delay the need for more expensive generation, transmission and distribution infrastructure;

H. New Mexico should participate in regional efforts to reduce energy consumption by twenty percent by 2020 through programs to reduce energy consumption;

I. public utility resource planning to meet New Mexico's energy service needs should be identified and evaluated on an ongoing basis in accordance with the principles of integrated resource planning; and

J. it is necessary and appropriate to allow distribution cooperative utilities to participate in the implementation of energy efficiency programs in ways that differ from rules applicable to public utilities that are not customer owned.

History: Laws 2005, ch. 341, § 2; 2008, ch. 24, § 3.

ANNOTATIONS

The 2008 amendment, effective May 14, 2008, finds that it is appropriate to provide rate treatment and financial incentives to develop cost-effective and achievable energy efficiency and load management resources and to allow utilities to earn a profit on cost-effective energy efficiency and load management resource development that is financially more attractive than supply-side resources.

62-17-3. Policy.

It is the policy of the Efficient Use of Energy Act that public utilities, distribution cooperative utilities and municipal utilities include all cost-effective energy efficiency and load management programs in their energy resource portfolios, that regulatory disincentives to public utility development of cost-effective energy efficiency and load management be removed in a manner that balances the public interest, consumers' interests and investors' interests and that the commission provide public utilities an opportunity to earn a profit on cost-effective energy efficiency and load management resources that, with satisfactory program performance, is financially more attractive to the utility than supply-side resources.

History: Laws 2005, ch. 341, § 3; 2008, ch. 24, § 4.

ANNOTATIONS

The 2008 amendment, effective May 14, 2008, provided that utilities may be permitted to earn a profit on cost-effective energy efficiency and load management resources that are financially more attractive than supply-side resources.

62-17-4. Definitions.

As used in the Efficient Use of Energy Act:

A. "achievable" means those energy efficiency or load management resources available to the utility using its best efforts;

B. "commission" means the public regulation commission;

C. "cost-effective" means that the energy efficiency or load management program meets the utility cost test;

D. "customer" means a utility customer at a single, contiguous field, location or facility, regardless of the number of meters at that field, location or facility;

E. "distribution cooperative utility" means a utility with distribution facilities organized as a rural electric cooperative pursuant to Laws 1937, Chapter 100 or the Rural Electric Cooperative Act [Chapter 62, Article 15 NMSA 1978] or similarly organized in other states;

F. "energy efficiency" means measures, including energy conservation measures, or programs that target consumer behavior, equipment or devices to result in a decrease in consumption of electricity and natural gas without reducing the amount or quality of energy services;

G. "large customer" means a customer with electricity consumption greater than seven thousand megawatt-hours per year or natural gas use greater than three hundred sixty thousand decatherms per year;

H. "load management" means measures or programs that target equipment or devices to result in decreased peak electricity demand or shift demand from peak to off-peak periods;

I. "program costs" means the prudent and reasonable costs of developing and implementing energy efficiency and load management programs, but "program costs" does not include charges for incentives or the removal of regulatory disincentives;

J. "public utility" means a public utility that is not also a distribution cooperative utility; and

K. "utility cost test" means a standard that is met if the monetary costs that are borne by the public utility and that are incurred to develop, acquire and operate energy efficiency or load management resources on a life-cycle basis are less than the avoided monetary costs associated with developing, acquiring and operating the associated supply-side resources. In developing this test for energy efficiency and load management programs directed to low-income customers, the commission shall either quantify or assign a reasonable value to reductions in working capital, reduced collection costs, lower bad-debt expense, improved customer service effectiveness and other appropriate factors as utility system economic benefits.

History: Laws 2005, ch. 341, § 4; 2008, ch. 24, § 5; 2013, ch. 124, § 1; 2013, ch. 220, § 1.

ANNOTATIONS

The 2013 amendment, effective July 1, 2013, defined "program costs"; in Subsection C, after "program meets the", deleted "total resource" and added "utility"; added Subsection I; and in Subsection K, in the first sentence, at the beginning of the sentence, deleted "total resource" and added "utility", after "borne by the", added "public", and after "public utility", deleted "and the participants".

Compiler's notes. — Laws 2013, ch. 124, § 1 and Laws 2013, ch. 220, § 1, both effective July 1, 2013, enacted identical amendments to this section. The section was set out as amended by Laws 2013, ch. 220, § 1. See 12-1-8 NMSA 1978.

The 2008 amendment, effective May 14, 2008, added Subsections A and D and provided in Subsection J that the total resource cost test is met if the cost of energy efficiency or load management resources is less than the avoided costs of supply-side resources and that in developing programs directed to low-income customers, the commission shall qualify or assign a reasonable value to reductions of monetary and other factors as utility system economic benefits.

62-17-5. Commission approval; energy efficiency and load management programs; disincentives.

A. Pursuant to the findings and purpose of the Efficient Use of Energy Act, the commission shall consider public utility acquisition of cost-effective energy efficiency and load management resources to be in the public interest.

B. The commission shall direct public utilities to evaluate and implement cost-effective programs that reduce energy demand and consumption.

C. Before the commission approves an energy efficiency and load management program for a public utility, it must find that the portfolio of programs is cost-effective and designed to provide every affected customer class with the opportunity to participate and benefit economically. The commission shall determine the cost-effectiveness of energy efficiency and load management measures using the utility cost test.

D. The commission shall act expeditiously on public utility requests for approval of energy efficiency or load management programs.

E. Public utilities shall obtain commission approval of energy efficiency and load management programs before they are implemented. Public utilities proposing new energy efficiency and load management programs shall, before seeking commission approval, solicit nonbinding recommendations on the design, implementation and use of third-party energy service contractors through competitive bidding on the programs from commission staff, the attorney general, the energy, minerals and natural resources department and other interested parties. The commission may for good cause require public utilities to solicit competitive bids for energy efficiency and load management resources.

F. The commission shall, upon petition or its own motion, identify regulatory disincentives or barriers for public utility expenditures on energy efficiency and load management measures and ensure that they are removed in a manner that balances the public interest, consumers' interests and investors' interests. The commission shall also provide public utilities an opportunity to earn a profit on cost-effective energy efficiency and load management resource development that, with satisfactory program performance, is financially more attractive to the utility than supply-side utility resources.

G. Public utilities providing electricity and natural gas service to New Mexico customers shall, subject to commission approval, acquire cost-effective and achievable energy efficiency and load management resources available in their service territories. This requirement, however, for public utilities providing electricity service, shall not be less than savings of five percent of 2005 total retail kilowatt-hour sales to New Mexico customers in calendar year 2014 and eight percent of 2005 total retail kilowatt-hour sales to New Mexico customers in 2020 as a result of energy efficiency and load management programs implemented starting in 2007.

H. A public utility that determines it cannot achieve the minimum requirements established in Subsection G of this section shall report to the commission on why it cannot meet those requirements and shall propose alternative requirements based on acquiring cost-effective and achievable energy efficiency and load management resources. If the commission determines, after hearing, that the minimum requirements of Subsection G of this section exceed the achievable amount of energy efficiency and load management available to the public utility or that the program costs of energy efficiency and load management to achieve the minimum requirements of Subsection G of this section exceed the program costs funding established in Subsection A of Section 62-17-6 NMSA 1978, the commission shall establish lower minimum energy savings requirements for the utility based on the maximum amount of energy efficiency and load management that it determines can be achieved.

History: Laws 2005, ch. 341, § 5; 2007, ch. 4, § 13; 2008, ch. 24, § 6; 2013, ch. 124, § 2; 2013, ch. 220, § 2.

ANNOTATIONS

The 2013 amendment, effective July 1, 2013, required public utilities to acquire available cost-effective and achievable energy efficiency and load management resources; in Subsection C, in the second sentence, after "measures using the", deleted "total resource" and added "utility"; in Subsection E, in the third sentence, after "for good cause require", added "public"; in Subsection G, in the second sentence, after "calendar year 2014 and" deleted "ten" and added "eight"; and in Subsection H, in the first sentence, after "A", added "public", and in the second sentence, after "load management available to the", added "public" and after "public utility", added "or that the program costs of energy efficiency and load management to achieve the minimum requirements of Subsection G of this section exceed the program costs funding established in Subsection A of Section 62-17-6 NMSA 1978".

Compiler's notes. — Laws 2013, ch. 124, § 2 and Laws 2013, ch. 220, § 2, both effective July 1, 2013, enacted identical amendments to this section. The section was set out as amended by Laws 2013, ch. 220, § 2. See 12-1-8 NMSA 1978.

The 2008 amendment, effective May 14, 2008, authorized the commission to require competitive bids for procurement of energy efficiency and load management resources in Subsection E; required the commission to provide utilities an opportunity to earn a profit on cost-effective energy efficiency and load management resources that are more financially attractive than supply-side resources in Subsection F; and added Subsections G and H.

The 2007 amendment, effective July 1, 2007, in Subsection F, added the provision that the commission shall act upon petition or its own motion to open a docket; changed "load management" to "load management measures"; added the requirement that if disincentives or barriers are found that an appropriate rate making treatment and performance-based, financial or other incentives be considered; and adds Subsection G.

Expenses incurred for energy efficiency programs. — In determining public utility electricity rates, the public regulation commission has authority to consider expenses incurred by a public utility for energy efficiency programs and to permit public utilities to earn returns on the operating expenses incurred from energy efficiency programs. N.M. Atty. Gen. v. N.M. Pub. Regulation Comm'n, 2013-NMSC-042.

Where the public regulation commission approved the utility's adder rates to allow the utility to earn a profit on expenditures on energy efficiency and load management measures by using an operating ratio approach, rather than the traditional return-on-rate-base method, the commission did not exceed the scope of its authority because the commission has discretion to determine the appropriate method to apply in establishing just and reasonable utility rates and the authority to allow utilities to earn a profit on energy efficiency and load management resource development that is not tied to capital investments. N.M. Atty. Gen. v. N.M. Pub. Regulation Comm'n, 2013-NMSC-042.

Just and reasonable rates. — Rates created under the Efficient Use of Energy Act must be determined by the same ratemaking principles that apply to determine just and reasonable rates under the Public Utility Act, Sections 62-3-1 NMSA 1978 et seq. N.M. Atty Gen. v. N.M. Pub. Regulation Comm'n, 2011-NMSC-034, 150 N.M. 174, 258 P.3d 453.

Where the public regulation commission issued a rule that permitted utilities to recover an adder rate for kilo-watt hours saved and reduced from annual demand due to energy efficiency programs; and the commission determined that the adder rate did not need to be cost-based, did not inquire into the utilities' revenue requirements or other traditional elements of the ratemaking process, and the utilities presented evidence only on the impact that the rule would have, because the adder rates were not evidence-based, cost-based or utility specific, there was no lawful basis for determining that the adder rates were just and reasonable. N.M. Atty General v. N.M. Pub. Regulation Comm'n, 2011-NMSC-034, 150 N.M. 174, 258 P.3d 453.

Substantial evidence supported final order. — Where the public regulation commission had approved the utility's adder rates for expenditures on energy efficiency and load management measures in a case decided under regulations that the supreme court subsequently vacated; the prior case was never appealed; the commission docketed the present case to determine whether the adder rates approved in the prior case were consistent with the supreme court ruling; and the commission relied on the factual findings in the prior case to support its determination that the adder rates were consistent with the supreme court ruling, the final order in the present case was supported by substantial evidence and the commission reasonably relied on the record in the prior case to support its determination because the present case involved a legal issue, not a ratemaking decision, the case did not depend upon any redetermination of facts adjudicated in the prior case, and the commission was required to review the record in the prior case in order to perform a legal review of the prior order. N.M. Atty. Gen. v. N.M. Pub. Regulation Comm'n, 2013-NMSC-042.

62-17-6. Cost recovery.

A. A public utility that undertakes cost-effective energy efficiency and load management programs shall have the option of recovering its prudent and reasonable costs along with commission-approved incentives for demand-side resources and load management programs implemented after the effective date of the Efficient Use of Energy Act through an approved tariff rider or in base rates, or by a combination of the two. Program costs and incentives may be deferred for future recovery through creation of a regulatory asset. Funding for program costs for investor-owned electric utilities shall be three percent of customer bills, excluding gross receipts taxes and franchise and right-of-way access fees, or seventy-five thousand dollars ($75,000) per customer per calendar year, whichever is less, for customer classes with the opportunity to participate. Funding for annual program costs for gas utilities shall not exceed three percent of total annual revenues, nor shall charges exceed seventy-five thousand dollars ($75,000) per customer per calendar year. Provided that the public utility's total portfolio of programs remains cost-effective, no less than five percent of the amount received by the public utility for program costs shall be specifically directed to energy-efficiency programs for low-income customers. Unless otherwise ordered by the commission, a tariff rider approved by the commission shall require language on customer bills explaining program benefits.

B. The tariff rider shall be applied on a monthly basis, unless otherwise allowed by the commission.

C. A tariff rider proposed by a public utility to fund approved energy efficiency and load management programs shall go into effect thirty days after filing, unless suspended by the commission for a period not to exceed one hundred eighty days. If the tariff rider is not approved or suspended within thirty days after filing, it shall be deemed approved as a matter of law. If the commission has not acted to approve or disapprove the tariff rider by the end of an ordered suspension period, it shall be deemed approved as a matter of law. The commission shall approve utility reconciliations of the tariff rider annually.

History: Laws 2005, ch. 341, § 6; 2007, ch. 4, § 14; 2008, ch. 24, § 7; 2013, ch. 124, § 3; 2013, ch. 220, § 3.

ANNOTATIONS

The 2013 amendment, effective July 1, 2013, limited public utility cost recovery options; and in Subsection A, deleted the former third sentence, which provided for a limit of seventy-five thousand dollars per year to the tariff rider and the customer impact for utility customers and added the third, fourth and fifth sentences.

Compiler's notes. — Laws 2013, ch. 124, § 3 and Laws 2013, ch. 220, § 3, both effective July 1, 2013, enacted identical amendments to this section. The section was set out as amended by Laws 2013, ch. 220, § 3. See 12-1-8 NMSA 1978.

The 2008 amendment, effective May 14, 2008, in Subsection A, permitted a utility to recover costs and incentives for demand-side resources and load management resources through a tariff rider or base rates, or both and deletes the prohibition of cross subsidies of energy efficiency and load management activities and supply side activities.

The 2007 amendment, effective July 1, 2007, in Subsection A, changed the limitation that the tariff rider not exceed the lower of one and one-half percent to the limitation that the tariff rider not exceed the commission's approved tariff.

62-17-7. Alternative energy efficiency provider.

With a public utility's consent, the commission may allow for an alternative entity to provide ratepayer-funded energy efficiency and load management to customers of that public utility.

History: Laws 2005, ch. 341, § 7.

ANNOTATIONS

Effective dates. — Laws 2005, ch. 341, § 13 made Laws 2005, ch. 341, § 7 effective April 7, 2005.

62-17-8. Measurement and verification.

A. A public utility shall submit to the commission an annual report that provides information relating to the actions taken by the public utility to comply with the standards of the Efficient Use of Energy Act. The report shall include documentation of program expenditures, customer participation levels, estimated energy savings, demand reductions and customer monetary savings resulting from programs, evaluation of the cost-effectiveness of expenditures, evaluation of the cost-effectiveness of self-directed programs, a qualitative assessment of program effectiveness and any other information the commission may require pursuant to its rulemaking authority.

B. At least every three years, a public utility shall submit to the commission a comprehensive measurement, verification and program evaluation report prepared by an independent program evaluator. In preparing the report, the independent program evaluator shall measure and verify energy and demand savings, determine cost-effectiveness of the programs, assess the performance of the public utility in implementing energy efficiency and load management programs and, as appropriate, provide recommendations on how program performance can be improved.

C. The commission may direct a public utility to modify or terminate a particular energy efficiency or load management program if, after an adequate period for implementation of the program, the commission determines the program is not sufficiently meeting its goals and purposes. Termination of a program or programs shall be accomplished in a manner that allows the utility to fully recover its reasonable and prudent program costs.

History: Laws 2005, ch. 341, § 8; 2008, ch. 24, § 8.

ANNOTATIONS

The 2008 amendment, effective May 14, 2008, in Subsection A, provided that the report shall include customer participation levels, estimated energy savings, demand reductions and customer savings and a qualitative assessment program and added Subsection B.

62-17-9. Self-directed programs for customers; exemptions.

A. A large customer shall receive approval for a credit for and equal to the expenditures that customer has made at its facilities on and after January 1, 2005 toward cost-effective energy efficiency and load management. To receive approval, the large customer must demonstrate to the reasonable satisfaction of the utility or self-direct program administrator that its expenditures are cost-effective. Once approved, the credit may be used to offset up to seventy percent of the tariff rider authorized by the Efficient Use of Energy Act until the credit is exhausted. Eligible expenditures shall have a simple payback period of more than one year but less than seven years. Projects that have received rebates, financial support or other substantial program support from a utility are not eligible for a credit.

B. A large customer shall receive approval for an exemption to paying seventy percent of the tariff rider if the customer demonstrates to the reasonable satisfaction of the utility or self-direct program administrator that it has exhausted all cost-effective energy efficiency measures at its facility. As used in this section, "cost-effective" means all measures with a simple payback period of more than one year but less than seven years.

C. Large customers shall seek and receive approval for credits and exemptions under this provision from the utility or a commission-approved self-direct program administrator. Approvals or disapprovals by the utility or administrator shall be subject to commission review. Any credit not fully utilized in the year it is received shall carry over to subsequent years. Implementation of credits shall be designed to minimize utility administrative costs.

D. Except as otherwise provided in this section, projects, expenditures and exemptions under this section shall be evaluated by an independent program evaluator using the same measurement and verification standards applying to utility programs, subject to appropriate protections for confidentiality, by the utility or a commission-approved self-direct program administrator and reported in the annual report to the commission pursuant to the Efficient Use of Energy Act.

History: Laws 2005, ch. 341, § 9.

ANNOTATIONS

Effective dates. — Laws 2005, ch. 341, § 13 made Laws 2005, ch. 341, § 9 effective April 7, 2005.

62-17-10. Integrated resource planning.

Pursuant to the commission's rulemaking authority, public utilities supplying electric or natural gas service to customers shall periodically file an integrated resource plan with the commission. Utility integrated resource plans shall evaluate renewable energy, energy efficiency, load management, distributed generation and conventional supply-side resources on a consistent and comparable basis and take into consideration risk and uncertainty of fuel supply, price volatility and costs of anticipated environmental regulations in order to identify the most cost-effective portfolio of resources to supply the energy needs of customers. The preparation of resource plans shall incorporate a public advisory process. Nothing in this section shall prohibit public utilities from implementing cost-effective energy efficiency and load management programs and the commission from approving public utility expenditures on energy efficiency programs and load management programs prior to the commission establishing rules and guidelines for integrated resource planning. The commission may exempt public utilities with fewer than five thousand customers and distribution-only public utilities from the requirements of this section. The commission shall take into account a public utility's resource planning requirements in other states and shall authorize utilities that operate in multiple states to implement plans that coordinate the applicable state resource planning requirements. The requirements of this section shall take effect one year following the commission's adoption of rules implementing the provisions of this section.

History: Laws 2005, ch. 341, § 10.

ANNOTATIONS

Effective dates. — Laws 2005, ch. 341, § 13 made Laws 2005, ch. 341, § 10 effective April 7, 2005.

62-17-11. Distribution cooperative utilities.

A. Distribution cooperative utilities shall periodically examine the potential to assist their customers in reducing energy consumption or peak electricity demand in a cost-effective manner. Based on these studies, by January 1, 2009, distribution cooperative utilities shall establish energy efficiency and load management targets and begin to implement cost-effective energy efficiency and load management programs that are economically feasible and practical for their members and customers. Approval for such programs shall reside with the governing body of each distribution cooperative utility and not with the commission.

B. Each distribution cooperative utility shall file with the commission concurrently with its annual report, a report that describes all of the distribution cooperative utility's programs or measures that promote energy efficiency, conservation or load management. The report shall set forth the costs of each of the programs or measures for the previous calendar year and the resulting effect on the consumption of electricity. In offering or implementing energy efficiency, conservation or load management programs, a distribution cooperative utility shall attempt to minimize any cross-subsidies between customer classes.

C. Each distribution cooperative utility shall include in the report required by Subsection B of this section a description of all programs or measures to promote energy efficiency, conservation or load management that are planned and the anticipated date for implementation.

D. Costs resulting from programs or measures to promote energy efficiency, conservation or load management may be recovered by the distribution cooperative utility through its general rates. In requesting approval to recover such costs in general rates, the distribution cooperative utility may elect to use the procedure set forth in Subsection G of Section 62-8-7 NMSA 1978.

History: Laws 2005, ch. 341, § 11; 2008, ch. 24, § 9.

ANNOTATIONS

The 2008 amendment, effective May 14, 2008, required distribution cooperative utilities to establish energy efficiency and load management targets and to implement programs by January 1, 2009.
