

CHAPTER 63

RAILROADS AND COMMUNICATIONS

ARTICLE 1

ORGANIZATION AND MANAGEMENT OF RAILROADS

63-1-1. [Formation of corporations.]

Railroad corporations may be formed by the voluntary association of any five or more persons, in the manner prescribed in this chapter. Such persons must be citizens of the United States.

History: Laws 1878, ch. 1, ch. [tit.] 1, § 1; C.L. 1884, § 2622; C.L. 1897, § 3804; Code 1915, § 4653; C.S. 1929, § 116-101; 1941 Comp., § 74-101; 1953 Comp., § 69-1-1.

Compiler's note. - Laws 1878, ch. 1, consists of nine chapters with the word "title" appearing before each chapter designation in the printed act. A bracketed abbreviation reflecting the title designation has been inserted in the respective history notes.

Meaning of "this chapter". - The term "this chapter" refers to Laws 1878, ch. 1, ch. (tit.) 1, the provisions of which are presently compiled as 63-1-1 to 63-1-8 NMSA 1978.

Am. Jur. 2d, A.L.R. and C.J.S. references. - 18A Am. Jur. 2d Corporations §§ 186 to 198; 65 Am. Jur. 2d Railroads §§ 8 to 13.

18 C.J.S. Corporations § 25 et seq.; 74 C.J.S. Railroads §§ 7, 8.

63-1-2. [Articles of incorporation.]

Articles of incorporation must be prepared, setting forth:

- A. the name of the corporation;
- B. the purpose for which it is formed;
- C. the place where its principal business is to be transacted;
- D. the term for which it is to exist, not exceeding fifty years;
- E. the number of its directors, which shall not be less than five, nor more than eleven; and the names and residences of the persons who are appointed to act as such, until their successors are elected and qualified;

F. the amount of its capital stock, which shall not exceed the amount actually required for the purposes of the corporation, as estimated by competent engineers, and the number of shares into which it is divided;

G. the amount of capital stock actually subscribed, and by whom;

H. the termini of its road and intermediate branches;

I. the estimated length of its road and of each of its branches;

J. that at least ten percent of its capital stock subscribed, has been paid to the treasurer of the intended corporation, giving his name and residence.

History: Laws 1878, ch. 1, ch. [tit.] 1, § 2; C.L. 1884, § 2623; C.L. 1897, § 3805; Code 1915, § 4654; C.S. 1929, § 116-102; 1941 Comp., § 74-102; 1953 Comp., § 69-1-2.

Subscription payment in checks never intended to be cashed. - Where 10% of the subscriptions to the capital stock of a corporation, required by statute to be paid on the formation of the corporation, was paid in checks, which were never intended to be presented for payment, the obligation to pay dated from the date of filing of articles of incorporation. Albright v. Texas, S.F. & N.R.R., 8 N.M. 110, 42 P. 73 (1895), rev'd on other grounds, 8 N.M. 422, 46 P. 448 (1896).

Discovery of insufficient stock subscription. - Where articles of incorporation stated that 10% of subscription to capital stock had been paid to company treasurer, and the treasurer made affidavit that the amount had been actually paid him, the fact that, at the time an indebtedness was incurred by the corporation, the creditor was informed by the treasurer that such subscription had not been paid in did not constitute such a discovery as to make the statute of limitations begin to run. Albright v. Texas, S.F. & N.R.R., 8 N.M. 110, 42 P. 73 (1895), rev'd on other grounds, 8 N.M. 422, 46 P. 448 (1896).

Liability of stockholders. - Where stock subscribed on formation of a corporation was sold upon an assessment made thereon, the creditors of the corporation were not precluded thereby from recovering on the failure of the stockholders to pay the 10% of their subscriptions required by statute to be paid upon incorporation, nor could such failure be set up by the stockholders in avoidance of the statute to escape liability. Albright v. Texas, S.F. & N.R.R., 8 N.M. 110, 42 P. 73 (1895), rev'd on other grounds, 8 N.M. 422, 46 P. 448 (1896).

Each subscriber may subscribe said articles personally or by an attorney-in-fact, thereunto duly authorized in writing signed by said subscriber and acknowledged before some officer authorized by the laws of this state to take and certify acknowledgments of conveyances of real property situated within this state. Bylaws may be adopted by stockholders representing a majority of all the subscribed capital stock, at a meeting of stockholders called for that purpose by order of the acting president, served upon them personally in writing, or by advertisement in some newspaper published in the county in which the principal place of business of the corporation is located, if there be one published therein, but if not, then in some paper published in some adjoining county. For a violation of the provisions of this section, the directors under whose administration the same may have happened, except those who may have caused their dissent therefrom to be entered at large on the minutes of the proceedings of the directors at the time, or were not present when the same did happen, shall be, in their individual and private capacity, jointly and severally liable to the corporation, and to the creditors thereof in the event of its dissolution, to the full amount of the capital stock so divided, withdrawn, paid out or reduced or debt contracted; and no statute of limitations shall be a bar to any suit against such directors for any sums for which they are made liable by this section. There may, however, be a division and distribution of the capital stock and property of the corporation which may remain after the payment of all its debts, upon the dissolution of the corporation or the expiration of its term of existence.

63-1-19. [Calls for installment payment of subscriptions; notice of assessment; publication; form; default; suit or sale of shares.]

The directors may call in and demand from the stockholders the sums by them subscribed, in installments of not more than ten percent per month: provided, that if the whole capital stock has not been paid in, and the corporation is unable to meet its liabilities, or to satisfy the claims of its creditors, the assessment may be for the full amount unpaid; or if a less amount is sufficient, then it may be for such a percentage as will raise that amount. Notice of each assessment shall be given to the stockholders personally, or shall be published once a week for at least four weeks in a newspaper published at the place designated as the principal place of business of the corporation, or if none be published there, in some newspaper nearest to such place, which notice shall be substantially in the following form:

Notice is hereby given that an assessment of dollars per share on the capital stock of corporation is due and payable at the office of the corporation in(and at such other places as the directors may designate, naming them), within thirty days from date. All stockholders are requested to make payment on or before that time, or such assessments will be promptly collected in the manner prescribed by law, and the bylaws of said corporation.

Secretary.

If after such notice shall have been given, any stockholder shall make default in the payment of the assessment upon the shares held by him, the same may be collected by suit in any court of competent jurisdiction, in the name of the corporation; or so many of such shares may be sold as may be necessary for the payment of the assessment on all the shares held by him. The sale of said shares shall be made as prescribed in the bylaws of the corporation: provided, that no sale shall be made except at public auction, to the highest bidder; and at such sale the person who will agree to pay the assessment so due, together with the expenses of advertisement and all other expenses of the sale, for the smallest number of whole shares, shall be deemed to be the highest bidder. All stock shall be liable to such sale, and all stockholders shall be liable to recovery by action at law, as aforesaid.

M. to expel from its cars at any stopping place, using no more force than may be necessary, any passenger who, upon demand, shall refuse to pay his fare, or shall behave in a rude, riotous or disorderly manner toward other passengers, or the employes of such corporations in charge of such cars or, upon his attention being called thereto, shall persist in violating the rules of the corporation against gambling upon its cars;

O. to grant to any railroad corporation the right to use in common with it, its railroad and telegraph lines, or any part thereof. P. to take grants of the right to use in common railroad and telegraph lines of other railroad corporations and, in taking and receiving such grants, to have and enjoy the same rights, powers, capacities and abilities, which are granted in said last preceding subdivision of this section;

Q. to change the line of its road, in whole or in part, whenever a majority of its directors may so determine: provided, no such change shall vary the general route of such road, as described in its articles of incorporation. The land required for such new line may be acquired by contract with the owners thereof, or by condemnation, as provided by law, as in the case of the original line;

R. to increase or diminish its capital stock, if at any time it shall appear that the amount thereof, as fixed in its articles of incorporation, is either more or less than is actually required for constructing, equipping, operating and maintaining its road and telegraph lines. Such increase or decrease shall not be made, except by a vote of stockholders representing at least two-thirds of the subscribed capital stock. A certified copy of the proceedings of the meeting, and its action in the premises, under the seal of the corporation, must be filed in the office of the state corporation commission, and be by said commission attached to the articles of incorporation on file in its office;

S. to consolidate with one or more railroad corporations, or under the laws of any other state or territory, its capital stock, properties, roads, equipments, adjuncts, franchises, claims, demands, contracts, agreements, obligations, debts, liabilities and assets of every kind and description, upon such terms and in such manner as may be agreed upon by the respective boards of directors: provided, no such consolidation shall take effect until the same shall have been ratified and confirmed in writing by stockholders of the respective corporations representing three-fourths of the subscribed capital stock of their respective corporations. In case of such consolidation, articles of incorporation and consolidation, must be prepared setting forth:

(1) the name of the new corporation;

(2) the purpose for which it is formed;

(3) the place where its principal business is to be transacted;

(4) the term for which it is to exist, which shall not exceed fifty years;

(5) the number of its directors, which shall not be less than five nor more than eleven, and the names and residences of the persons appointed to act as such until their successors are elected and qualified;

(6) the amount of its capital stock, which shall not exceed the amount actually required for the purposes of the new corporation, as estimated by competent engineers, and the number of shares into which it is divided;

Said articles of incorporation and consolidation must be signed and countersigned by the presidents and secretaries of the several constituent corporations and sealed with their corporate seals. There must be annexed thereto memoranda of the ratification and confirmation thereof by the stockholders of each constituent corporation, which must be respectively signed by stockholders representing at least three-fourths of the capital stock of their respective corporations. When completed, as aforesaid, said articles must be filed in the office of the state corporation commission, and thereupon the constituent corporations named therein must be deemed and held to have become extinct in all courts and places, and said new corporation must be deemed and held in all courts and places to have succeeded to all their several capital stocks, properties, roads, equipments, adjuncts, franchises, claims, demands, contracts, agreements, assets, choses and rights in action, of every kind and description, both at law and in equity, and to be entitled to possess, enjoy and enforce the same and every thereof, as fully and completely as either and every of its constituents might have done, had no consolidation taken place. Said consolidated or new corporation must also, in all courts and places, be deemed and held to have become subrogated to its several constituents and each thereof, in respect to all their contracts and agreements with other parties, and all their debts, obligations and liabilities of every kind and nature, to any persons, corporations or bodies politic, whomsoever, or whatsoever, and said new corporation must sue and be sued in its own name in any and every case in which any or either of its constituents might have sued or might have been sued, at law or in equity, had no such consolidation been made. Such consolidated or new corporation shall possess, enjoy and exercise all its franchises, properties, powers, privileges, abilities, rights and immunities, under the provisions of this chapter, and shall conduct its business according to its provisions, and be subject to all its pains and penalties. Nothing in this subdivision contained shall be construed to impair the obligation of any contract to which any of such constituents were parties at the date of such consolidation. All such contracts may be enforced by action or suit, as the case may be, against the consolidated corporation and satisfaction obtained out of the property which, at the date of the consolidation, belonged to the constituent, which was a party to the contract in action or suit, as well as out of any other property belonging to the consolidated corporation;

T. every railroad corporation, in addition to the foregoing, shall have such further powers as may be necessary or convenient to enable it to exercise and enjoy, fully and Cross-references. - For power to fix rates, see N.M. Const., art. XI, § 7.

Compiler's note. - In Subdivision Eleventh (now Subsection K), the original act provided for a maximum passenger rate of $.10 per mile. This was changed to $.06 per mile in the 1897 Compilation in conformity with Laws 1882, ch. 60, § 1 (63-3-9 NMSA 1978) which fixed a limitation on fares to be charged.

In the original act, Subdivision Fourteenth (now Subsection N) read: "To borrow, on the credit of the corporation, and under such regulations and restrictions as the directors thereof, by unanimous concurrence may impose, such sums of money as may be necessary for constructing and equipping its railroad and telegraph lines, and to issue and dispose of its bonds or promissory notes therefor in denominations of not less than five hundred dollars, and at a rate of interest not exceeding ten percent, per annum. And also to issue its bonds or promissory notes of the same denomination and rate of interest in payment of any debts or contracts for constructing, equipping, and completing its railroad and telegraph lines, and all else relating thereto. The amount of bonds or promissory notes issued for such purposes shall not exceed in all the amount of its capital stock; and to secure the payment of such bonds or notes, it may mortgage its corporate property and franchises."

The 1915 Code compilers substituted "railroad corporation" for "every corporation formed under this act" in the preliminary clause of this section, deleted the first clause of present Subsection O which read: "To lease the whole or any portion of its railroad and telegraph lines to any other corporation formed under this act, or to any corporation formed under the laws of any other state or territory, with the road of which its road may connect and form a continuous line of travel and transportation," deleted a reference to such clause in Subsection P, substituted "state corporation commission" for "secretary of this territory" in Subsection S and in Paragraph XI of Subsection T, and substituted "railroad corporation" for "corporation formed under this act" and "this chapter" for "this act" in the final paragraph.

Meaning of "this chapter". - See same catchline in notes to 63-1-8 NMSA 1978.

Converging lines of a railroad were properly connected by constructing a connecting line at a short distance from the converging point, even though this involved abandonment of one of the lines extending between the connecting line and the former converging point. Territory v. Eastern Ry., 15 N.M. 591, 110 P. 852 (1910).

Abutting property owner is entitled to compensation for damages resulting from construction of railroad on a street. New Mexican R.R. v. Hendricks, 6 N.M. 611, 30 P. 901 (1892).

In computing damages resulting to abutting property owner from construction of a railroad on a street, the damages are determined by comparing the value of the property immediately before and after the construction of the road. New Mexican R.R. v. Hendricks, 6 N.M. 611, 30 P. 901 (1892).

Rate-making power of state corporation commission to control. - The power granted in Subsection K yields to the rate-making power of the state corporation commission. San Juan Coal & Coke Co. v. Santa Fe, S.J. & N. R.R., 35 N.M. 512, 2 P.2d 305 (1931).

Nature of rates fixed below maximum. - In view of this section and N.M. Const., art. XI, intrastate freight rates specified in a regularly filed and published tariff schedule, if below the maximum fixed by the legislature, and remaining uncanceled, are legislature-made or commission-made rates, as distinguished from purely carrier-made rates. Kemp Lumber Co. v. Atchison, T. & S.F. Ry., 36 N.M. 126, 9 P.2d 387 (1932).

Sufficiency of pleadings. - Averment by railroad in trespass action that it had "adopted such location" was sufficient against demurrer, without allegation that it was done by its board of directors. Arizona & C.R.R. v. Denver & R.G.R.R., 13 N.M. 345, 84 P. 1018 (1906), aff'd, 233 U.S. 601, 34 S. Ct. 691, 58 L. Ed. 1111 (1914).

Generally, as to recovery where statute sets maximum rates. - A statute fixing maximum rates amounts to a declaration that rates below maximum are just and reasonable. For a shipper to recover damages for overcharges, it must establish that rates exceed the schedule. Kemp Lumber Co. v. Atchison, T. & S.F. Ry., 36 N.M. 126, 9 P.2d 387 (1932).

63-2-3. [Sale to railroad of property of infant or insane person; approval by probate court.]

If it shall become necessary, for any of the aforesaid purposes of such corporation, to acquire any land, or any right, title, interest or estate therein, which is the property of an infant, idiot or insane person, the guardian, executor or administrator, as the case may be, may sell and convey the same to such corporation, but such sale and conveyance shall not be valid, unless approved by the probate court, or the judge thereof, within whose jurisdiction such lands shall be situated; and the judge of such court is hereby authorized to examine into the terms and conditions of such sales and conveyances, and if he finds them to be just, fair and proper, he shall enter his approval upon the records of said court, and endorse the same upon such conveyances, and thereupon, such conveyances shall have the same force and effect as conveyances made by persons competent to convey in their own names. Should there be no guardian, executor or administrator competent to make such sale and conveyance, it shall be the duty of such judge, upon the petition of any relative or friend acting for the benefit and in the interest of such infant, idiot or insane person, to appoint a guardian for the purpose of making such sale and conveyance, who shall be required to give a bond, with sureties, to be approved by said judge, for the faithful performance of his trust. For the purpose of transacting the business provided for in this section, said court shall be deemed to be always open, and a complete record of its proceedings therein shall be kept as in other cases.

63-2-7. [State lands; granting right-of-way over and right to appropriate water thereon.]

There is hereby granted to every railroad corporation formed under the laws of New Mexico a right-of-way for its railroads and telegraphs to the width of one hundred feet on each side of the center line of the track over and through any of the swamp or overflowed lands or other lands, which belonged to the territory of New Mexico, and in cases where deep excavations, or heavy embankments, or other cuttings, ditches, drains, canals, culverts or structures to protect the road beds and to facilitate the use and enjoyment of the same, is or may be required for the grade or other uses of said roads, then, at such places, a greater width of such lands may be taken by such corporation, and the same is hereby further granted to such corporation, not exceeding, in addition, five hundred feet wide. And the right is hereby further granted to such corporation to locate, occupy and hold so much of said lands as may be necessary for sites and grounds for watering places, depots, stations or other buildings or structures, along the line of said railroads necessary for the accommodation of the public, the operating of said roads and the transaction of the business of such corporation. And the further right is hereby granted to such corporation to appropriate to its use, by means of pipes, ditches, aqueducts or other conduits, so much of the waters of any springs or streams on said lands as may be necessary to the operating of the roads and the transaction of the business of such corporation, together with the right-of-way over said lands to such springs or streams for such pipes, ditches, aqueducts or other conduits.

Compiler's note. - On July 3, 1914, the attorney general held that this section had been superseded by Laws 1899, ch. 74, § 11, Laws 1905, ch. 111, § 13, Laws 1907, ch. 104, § 30, as amended by Laws 1909, ch. 25, § 1, and by Laws 1912, ch. 82, § 53 (19-7-57 NMSA 1978). The 1915 Code compilers substituted "which belonged to the territory of New Mexico" for "which now belong to this territory or may hereafter become the property of this territory," making this section applicable to former territorial lands, while 19-7-57 NMSA 1978 might be applicable only to other state lands. However, insofar as land granted to the territory by the federal government is concerned, the same opinion of the attorney general appears still applicable, since it holds that such lands cannot be given away but must be used for the purposes and in the manner provided by the acts of congress which made the donations.

63-2-8. [Municipalities may grant use of streets.]

Any county, city or town in this state is empowered, by vote of its governing body, to give, grant or donate to any such railroad corporation, the use of any of the streets or highways which may be necessary or convenient to enable such corporation to reach an accessible point for a depot or station in such county, city or town, or to pass through the same on as direct a route as possible so as to accommodate the traveling and commercial interests of such county, city or town.

63-2-9. [Maps and profiles must be filed.]

Every corporation formed under this chapter within a reasonable time after its road shall have been finally located, must cause a map and profile thereof, and of the land required and taken for the use thereof, and the boundaries of the several counties through which the same may run, to be made, and file the same in the office of the state corporation commission, and also similar maps of the parts thereof located in different counties, and file the same in the office of the county clerk of the county in which such parts of the road shall be situated, there to remain on record forever. In case the line of the road be changed at any time, as in this chapter provided, similar maps of the new line must be made and filed, as aforesaid. Said maps and profiles must be certified by the chief engineer of the corporation, and copies of the same, so filed and certified, must be kept in the office of the secretary of the corporation, subject to examination by all persons interested. Copies of such maps and profiles, certified by any secretary of the territory of New Mexico or by said commission, shall be received as prima facie evidence of what they contain, in all courts and places within this state.

To constitute a valid location of a proposed railroad, there must be first a survey and actual staking of the proposed line upon the ground and second the adoption of such survey by the board of directors as its permanent line or right-of-way. *Arizona & C.R.R. v. 63-2-10. [Time limit on commencement and completion of road.]

Every corporation formed under this chapter must commence the construction of its road within two years after the date of the filing of its articles of incorporation in the office of the state corporation commission, and must finish and put the same in full operation within six years thereafter, or its right to further complete the same, in the discretion of the legislature of this state, may be forfeited.

All such railroads may be of such gauge as the board of directors may determine. They must be constructed of the best quality of iron or steel rail, known as T or H rail, or other pattern of equal utility, until otherwise permitted by law: provided, the provisions of this section shall not apply to railroad tracks used exclusively for carrying freight, or for mining purposes.

63-2-12. [Aiding other roads; operating jointly; assent of stockholders.]

Any railroad company organized under the laws of this state, may at any time by means of subscription to the capital of any other company or otherwise aid such company in the construction of its railroad within or without the state, for the purpose of forming a connection with the said last mentioned road with the road owned by the company furnishing such aid, or any railroad organized in pursuance of law, either within this state or any other state or territory, may lease or purchase any part or all of any railroad constructed, owned or leased by any other company, upon such terms and conditions as may be agreed on between such companies respectively, or any two or more railroad companies may enter into any arrangement for their common benefit consistent with, and calculated to promote the objects for which they were created: provided, that no such aid shall be furnished, nor any purchase, lease, subletting or arrangements be perfected until a meeting of stockholders of such company of this state, party to such agreement, shall have been called by the directors thereof, at such time and place and in such manner as they shall designate, and the holders of at least two-thirds of the stock of such company represented at such meeting, in person or by proxy, and voting thereat, shall have assented thereto.

63-2-13. [Powers granted to corporations organized under former act.]

All the powers, privileges and exemptions conferred upon corporations organized under the preceding sections of this chapter, are conferred upon all corporations incorporated under the laws of this state, for the purpose of constructing railroads, and also upon all corporations organized for railroad purposes that have registered in the office of the state corporation commission the original, or a certified copy, of their articles of incorporation, in accordance with an act entitled, "An act to amend an act entitled 'An act to create a general incorporation law, permitting persons to associate themselves together as bodies, corporate, for mining, manufacturing and other industrial pursuits,' and to repeal the sixteenth section of said act," approved January 30th, 1868.

Compiler's note. - The 1915 Code compilers substituted "the preceding sections of this chapter" for "An act entitled 'An act to provide for the incorporation of railroad companies and the management of the affairs thereof and other matters relating thereto,' approved February 2d, A. D. 1878." The reference is to Laws 1878, ch. 1,

Protection under burglary law not a privilege. - By conferring the "privileges" granted corporations organized under Laws 1878, ch. 1, as railroad corporations organized under the prior general incorporation act, this section did not extend the former railroad burglary section, Laws 1878, ch. 1, ch. [tit.] 8, § 8, to railroad cars of corporations not organized under the Act of 1878, since the protection of a burglary law is not a privilege. Territory v. Stokes, 2 N.M. (Gild.) 161 (1881).

63-2-14. [Extensions into other states; power to purchase, lease and sell.]

Any railroad company may construct and extend its line of railroad into or through any other state, territory or foreign country upon such terms and regulations as may be prescribed by the laws of such other state, territory or foreign country, and such railroad company may purchase or lease the railroad constructed or to be constructed, and other property of any railroad company now or hereafter existing under the laws of this, or of any other state, territory, or of the United States or of any foreign country, with all rights, powers and franchises thereto in anywise appertaining or belonging, or may buy the stock and bonds or either of them, of any such company, and any railroad company now or hereafter existing under the laws of this state may, with the consent of the holders of two-thirds of its entire capital stock, given by a vote at a meeting, or in writing without a meeting, sell or lease its railroad, lands, rights, franchises, powers and appurtenances to any railroad corporation organized under the laws of New Mexico, or of any other state, territory or foreign country, subject to the restrictions and limitations imposed by law upon railroad corporations in this state.

Compiler's note. - The 1915 Code compilers deleted the phrase "heretofore or hereafter incorporated or consolidated or existing under the laws of this territory."

63-2-15. [Extensions, branches, sidings and switches of foreign companies; eminent domain.]

Any railroad company organized under the laws of another state or territory, which, by a compliance with the laws of this state relating to foreign railroad companies, has purchased or may purchase a line of railroad constructed by another company within this state, may extend such line of railroad, and project and build branches to the same, and sidetracks and switches connecting therewith, and otherwise improve the same, and for such purpose exercise the right of eminent domain to the same extent and in like manner as may be done by a domestic railroad corporation. And any railroad company organized under the laws of this state shall also have the right to extend its line of railroad, to project and build branches, sidetracks and switches, to improve the same and to exercise the right of eminent domain in acquiring lands, right-of-way and other privileges therefor to the same extent as provided by law for the main line of such railroad.

63-2-16. [Foreign companies must file declaration of intent to extend roads; time limit on commencement and completion.]

Any such railroad corporation owning or operating a line of railroad in this state, projecting one or more extensions or branches of such line of railroad in this state, shall file in the office of the state corporation commission, and in the office of the county clerk of each county through or in which the line of any such extension or branch shall be located, a declaration, subscribed by its president or vice president and attested under its corporate seal, of its intention to construct such extension or branch line, stating the places from and to which it is intended to build the same, together with a map or plat showing the surveyed line or route thereof. The filing of such declaration and map or plat shall entitle such railroad corporation to a prior right to construct such extension or branch line along the line or route described therein; provided, such corporation shall commence construction within four years after date of such filing in the office of state corporation commission, and complete the same within six years, and; provided, further, that it shall comply with the laws of this state for acquiring lands for right-of-way. Nothing in this or the preceding section [63-2-15 NMSA 1978] shall be deemed to exclude the jurisdiction of this state over the control of all railroads or parts thereof situate within the boundaries of this state.

63-2-17. [Contracts against public policy declared void.]

All contracts between railroad companies, or between any parties whatever, restricting, or abridging, or purporting or intending to restrict or abridge the right, privilege, franchise or power of any railroad company or companies to build or operate its, or their, road or roads, or any part thereof within this state, or any part thereof, in any direction or directions, or to any part thereof within this state, or any part thereof, in any direction or directions [sic], or to any extent whatever; or to make any railroad connections, or to cooperate with any corporation or person in any railroad or other business, or to promote the construction or operation of any railroad, or to establish any parallel or competing line or branch, or to establish or promote any competitive business, or to deal with any railroad corporation or other corporation, firm or individual, or to waive any corporate duty, object or franchise, being contrary to public policy, are hereby declared to be null, void and inoperative in this state; and no suit, action or proceeding in law or equity shall be brought or maintained in any court to enforce any such contract, or to recover damages for any breach or nonperformance thereof.

Compiler's note. - The 1915 Code compilers substituted "this chapter" for "this act." The original words "as fixed by this act" presumably referred specifically to Laws 1878, ch. 1, ch. [tit.] 6, § 2 (69-2-2, 1953 Comp.), which originally provided for a maximum passenger fare of $.10 per mile and a maximum freight rate of $.15 per mile for a ton or 40 cubic feet.

The 1915 Code compilers deleted the first portion of this section which read: "To aid and encourage the construction of railroads in this territory, all the property of every kind and description of every corporation formed under this act shall be exempt from taxation of every kind and description until the expiration of six years from and after the completion of its road or roads."

63-3-12. [Unpaid fares and charges; lien on baggage and freight; sale; perishable freight.]

If such fare or freightage be not paid within ten days after the same is due, such luggage [luggage] or freight may be sold by such corporation, in the same manner and with the same consequences as are provided for the sale of unclaimed baggage, in Section 63-3-8 NMSA 1978; provided, that if such freight be perishable, it may be sold forthwith at public auction without notice to the owner.

B. "Grade crossing" or "crossing at grade": a crossing so constructed that a highway crosses railroad tracks upon the same grade as is occupied by such tracks.

C. "Grade separation": a separation of the grade of railroad tracks from that of a highway at a railroad crossing, so constructed that the highway will either pass under the tracks of the railroad or over such tracks, at a sufficient height above the same to permit railroad trains to pass under such highway.

D. "Grade separation limits": all that portion of a highway at or near a railroad crossing between the points where the grade line of such highway leaves its natural grade on one side of a railroad track and where it returns to its natural grade on the other side of such track.

Subject to the provisions of Subsection B hereof, every railroad company in this state shall construct and maintain in good condition, at its own expense, good and sufficient crossings at all places in this state where its railroad crosses public highways, city, town or village streets at grade, now or hereafter to be opened for public use. Such crossings shall be constructed of planks, macadam, concrete or other suitable material in such manner as to be level with the top of the rails for a reasonable distance on each side of each rail.

B. Any highway-railroad crossing at grade that may hereafter be constructed or reconstructed by the state highway department will be a full plank crossing of a material approved by the state highway department and railroad, to be installed by the railroad company at the state highway department's expense. If a joint investigation of railroad and highway engineers shows that a highway-railroad crossing at grade should be reconstructed, then the highway department shall pay the railroad for the initial full plank crossing. Said constructed or reconstructed crossing will be maintained in good condition at the railroad company's own expense.

Regulation of crossings by corporation commission and highway department. -

The state corporation commission has the power to require a railway company to construct and maintain a crossing at grade whenever it finds that the company's tracts are intersected by any kind of way open to the public as a matter of right for vehicular travel. The commission's power includes the power to require the company to do anything which will make the crossing "good and sufficient," that is, safe and convenient for public use. The commission can order the railroad company to construct and maintain a crossing at grade at its own expense, except when the state highway department is involved in the construction or reconstruction of the crossing. When the state highway department is involved, it will pay the costs of making the crossing's surface level with the rails. The railroad must bear the remaining construction costs as well as all maintenance costs. 1974 Op. Att'y Gen. No. 74-7.

Scope of obligation to provide and maintain crossings. - It is obligation of the railroads to provide and maintain highway crossings wherever to do so is in the public interest, reasonable and just. 1949-50 Op. Att'y Gen. No. 5248.

Effect of changing circumstances. - The duty of maintaining and keeping in repair highway crossings is a continuing duty, requiring the railroad companies to put such highway crossings in such condition as changes in circumstances require, therefore, where a highway is improved by widening same to accommodate increasing traffic, it is the duty of the railroad company to improve its crossing so that it will be reasonably comparable to the roadway approaching the crossing. 1937-38 Op. Att'y Gen. 157.

The common-law duty of railroad companies is to keep and maintain crossings for roads already established at the time of the building of the railroad line in a safe and suitable state of repair, including not only the crossing of the tracks but also the approaches thereto. 1937-38 Op. Att'y Gen. 157.

Railroad's only duty is to make crossing safe and convenient to the public with proper regard for the class of traffic at such crossing. If the highway commission desires further improvement beyond that, it may expend state funds for improvement thereof but cannot hold railroad liable for same. 1937-38 Op. Att'y Gen. 157.

63-3-37. [Separation of grade crossing; determination by court; cost.]

Whenever a state, county, municipal or other street or highway, including a highway which now is or hereafter may be designated as a part of the federal aid highway system, which may hereafter be constructed or reconstructed in such manner that the same crosses or intersects any railroad, the state highway commission, or other governing body, may, if in its opinion it is practicable and reasonably necessary for the protection of the traveling public, separate the grades at such crossing, and if unable to agree with such railroad as to such grade separation and the method of accomplishing the same, may apply to the district court of the county in which such separation is located by verified petition praying for the separation of grades at such crossing, and shall accompany such petition with plans and specifications of the proposed grade separation. The procedure on such petition shall be the same as in ordinary civil action. If the court shall determine in such proceeding that such grade separation is practicable and reasonably necessary for the protection of the traveling public over such highway, it shall order such grade separation to be made, either in accordance with the plans and specifications filed with such petition or in accordance with such modification thereof as the court determines to be proper, and upon condition that the then existing grade crossing shall be closed to all forms of street or highway traffic upon the completion of such grade separation. The orders of court in such proceedings shall be enforced in the same manner as decrees in equity. When any separation of grades is made either by agreement or by court order, the railroad company shall pay not to exceed ten percent (10%) of the cost thereof between the grade separation limits, provided that the then existing grade crossing shall be closed to all forms of street or highway traffic upon the completion of such grade separation and provided that where funds are made available for such purposes under the provisions of the act of congress known as the Federal-Aid Road Act, approved July 11, 1916, as amended and supplemented, the participation of the railroad company in the cost of construction and maintenance of any grade separation structure, and the approaches thereto, shall be in conformity with and subject to the provisions of such act. In cases where two or more railroads are located in such proximity to each other as to be involved in any single separation of grades, the portion of the cost of such grade separation shall be apportioned between such railroads either by agreement or in such manner as may be just by order of court in such proceeding. Whenever the plans and specifications for a grade separation, as finally fixed by agreement, or order of court, provide for raising or lowering the grade of the railroad tracks, the cost thereof shall be included in the cost of the grade separation.

63-3A-2. Purpose.

It is the intent of the legislature to assign to the state highway and transportation department the functions of planning necessary to develop a coordinated program with the United States department of transportation in the fields of rail freight and passenger transportation. In order to accomplish this purpose and to obtain all possible funds available to implement this activity, the Railroad Planning and Projects Act [63-3A-1 to 63-3A-3 NMSA 1978] shall be liberally construed.

History: Laws 1985, ch. 36, § 2; 1987, ch. 268, § 5.

63-3A-3. State highway and transportation department; additional powers.

A. The state highway and transportation department is authorized to enter into agreements with any bureau, department or agency of the United States government dealing with or concerning the planning of any railroad freight or passenger system for operation in New Mexico.

B. The state highway and transportation department shall have the authority to plan and promote efficient rail transportation services and shall:

(1) maintain adequate programs of research, promotion and development with provision for public participation; and

(2) take all practical steps to improve the quality of rail freight and passenger services in New Mexico.

History: Laws 1985, ch. 36, § 3; 1987, ch. 268, § 6.

ARTICLE 4 DISCONTINUANCE OF OPERATIONS

63-4-1. [Order of corporation commission consenting to discontinuance required.]

It shall be unlawful for any person, persons, partnership, association or corporation running or operating any railroad or part of any railroad or railway lying wholly within the state of New Mexico, to discontinue the operation of the same or any part thereof without first obtaining an order from the state corporation commission consenting to the same.

History: Laws 1921, ch. 200, § 1; C.S. 1929, § 116-401; 1941 Comp., § 74-401; 1953 Comp., § 69-4-1.

Compiler's note. - Sections 69-4-10 to 69-4-12, 1953 Comp., enacted by Laws 1929, ch. 26, were held unconstitutional, insofar as they purported to provide a rule of procedure for hearings by the state corporation commission, in In re Atchison, T. & S.F. Ry., 37 N.M. 194, 20 P.2d 918 (1933), and as such have not been set out.

Purpose of section. - It is the purpose of this section to protect the paramount public interest in the continued operation of railroads serving as common carriers. Santa Fe, S.J. & N.R.R. v. Helmick, 36 N.M. 157, 9 P.2d 695 (1932).

Exception to consent requirement. - This section does not control a situation where a railroad discontinues Sunday service on a branch line when it could be maintained only at a loss. In re Southern Pac. Co., 38 N.M. 325, 32 P.2d 814 (1934).

Neither approval nor hearing required prior to closing. - A railroad need not obtain the approval of the corporation commission prior to closing of a station or agency nor is a hearing required prior to the closing. 1968 Op. Att'y Gen. No. 68-118.

Those protesting against discontinuance of station must make affirmative case. In re Denver & R.G.W.R.R., 37 N.M. 472, 24 P.2d 727 (1933).

63-4-2. [Application to commission; publication of notice; hearing.]

Should any such owner or operator desire to discontinue the operation of any railroad or part thereof, application shall be made to the corporation commission for such consent and for a hearing on such application, which application shall be heard within a reasonable time, but not sooner than ninety days after the filing of such petition. Notice of the filing of such petition shall be given in each county in which such railroad or part thereof lies by publication once each week for four successive weeks in a newspaper of general circulation in and published in such county. In case such road or part thereof lies in a county wherein no paper is published and generally circulated, notice for that county shall be given by a similar publication in some newspaper of general statewide circulation.

63-4-4. [Publication of consent; time of discontinuance.]

In case the consent of the corporation commission is given as above provided the fact of such consent having been given shall be published the same as is the notice as required by Section Two [63-4-2 NMSA 1978] of this act. And no such consent shall be effective to permit the discontinuance of the operation of such road or part thereof until ten days after the publication provided for in this section.

63-4-5. [Injunction proceedings; meaning of "operation at a loss."]

In case the consent of the corporation commission is obtained as in this act [63-4-1 to 63-4-9 NMSA 1978] provided, the state, through the attorney general, or any citizen thereof, may institute injunction proceedings in any county, in which said road or any part thereof lies, to prevent the discontinuance of the operation of such road or part thereof, and in case such proceedings are had the court shall enjoin such discontinuance unless it is affirmatively shown that it is impossible to operate the road or part thereof, sought to be discontinued without a material ultimate loss. The fact that the income from the operation of the road is not sufficient to pay more than the operating expenses shall not be considered as showing a loss. It is further provided that the operation of no part of such road shall be discontinued if the whole of said road can be operated without such material loss.

In case the injunction proceedings provided for in Section Five [63-4-5 NMSA 1978] herein are instituted, or in case of the discontinuance of operation either in whole or in part without first obtaining the permission herein provided for, the court may, in his [its] discretion, appoint a receiver to take charge of and operate such road for the purpose of determining whether said road can be operated without an ultimate loss. In case such receiver shall be so appointed he shall have all the power and authority of receivers in ordinary cases except he shall not have the power to sell and dispose of the property under his administration. Such receivership shall continue for such reasonable time as may be necessary to determine the things for which he was appointed.

Cross-references. - As to appointment of receivers, see Judicial Pamphlet 5.

Court may issue injunction. - Since a proceeding under this section does not involve an attack upon the corporate existence of the owner of the railroad, the court appointing the receiver may not enjoin the exercise of all corporate privileges and franchises, though it may issue injunctive restraints sufficient to protect the receiver in the management and control of the property. Santa Fe, S.J. & N.R.R. v. Helmick, 36 N.M. 157, 9 P.2d 695 (1932).

Authorize receiver's certificates and compel delivery of records. - The district court may authorize issuance of receiver's certificates by the receiver appointed under this section, though the power should be sparingly used, and may also compel the delivery to the receiver of all the corporate books and records necessary. *Santa Fe, S.J. & N.R.R. v. ARTICLE 7

CORPORATION COMMISSION; COMPLAINTS, HEARINGS AND REPORTS

63-7-1. [Terms defined; office of commission; organization.]

The terms "commission" and "clerk" where used in this article shall mean respectively the state corporation commission and the clerk thereof. The office of the commission shall be located in the city of Santa Fe, New Mexico. The commission shall annually elect one of its members chairman, who shall preside at hearings, and in the absence of the chairman, it may appoint any other member to preside.

History: Laws 1912, ch. 78, § 1; Code 1915, § 5373; C.S. 1929, § 134-1106; 1941 Comp., § 74-701; 1953 Comp., § 69-7-1.

Cross-references. - For creation of commission, see N.M. Const., art. XI, § 1.

As to office of commission, see N.M. Const., art. XI, § 5.

For duties of commission, see N.M. Const., art. XI, §§ 6 to 11.

For general provisions concerning officers of commission, see 53-1-2 to 53-1-6 NMSA 1978.

Appropriations. - Laws 1989, ch. 233, § 2, effective July 1, 1989, appropriates $234,000 from the general fund to the telecommunications section of the state corporation commission for expenditure in the seventy-eighth fiscal year for the purpose of funding five additional full-time equivalents, and provides that any unencumbered or unexpended balance remaining at the end of the seventy-eighth fiscal year shall revert to the general fund.

Meaning of "this article". - The 1915 Code compilers substituted "this article" for "this act." The term "this article" refers to the 1915 Code, ch. 104, art. 8, the provisions of which are presently compiled as 53-1-1 to 53-1-5, 63-7-1 to 63-7-5 and 63-7-7 to 63-7-19 NMSA 1978. However, "this act" refers to Laws 1912, ch. 78, the provisions of which are presently compiled as 63-7-1 to 63-7-5 and 63-7-7 to 63-7-19 NMSA 1978.

Generally, as to power to fix rates. - The power to fix rates is an attribute of sovereignty, legislative in its nature and delegated by the constitution to the corporation commission which was intended to have all the power to fix rates, and the legislature to have none of it. Mountain States Tel. & Tel. Co. v. New Mexico SCC, 90 N.M. 325, 563 P.2d 588 (1977).

No power to make rates retroactive. - Neither the applicable constitutional provisions nor the pertinent statutes provide the commission with permission to make rates retroactive. Mountain States Tel. & Tel. Co. v. New Mexico SCC, 90 N.M. 325, 563 P.2d 588 (1977).

Economic scheme as a whole to be looked at. - The commission has a constitutional mandate to consider a telephone company's earnings, investments and expenditures as a whole within the state in promulgating rates; it is not confined solely to the cost-of-service formula. Mountain States Tel. & Tel. Co. v. New Mexico SCC, 90 N.M. 325, 563 P.2d 588 (1977).

Value of service may be looked at. - Under some circumstances the value of telephone service may be entitled to more weight than an estimate of cost of service, which necessarily involves many allocations on a more or less arbitrary basis. Mountain States Tel. & Tel. Co. v. New Mexico SCC, 90 N.M. 325, 563 P.2d 588 (1977).

Latest available economic information should be utilized by the commission in order to insure that projected figures bear a meaningful relation to future as well as past and present fiscal realities. Mountain States Tel. & Tel. Co. v. New Mexico SCC, 90 N.M. 325, 563 P.2d 588 (1977).

Determining level of subsidies to telephone users is commission function. Mountain States Tel. & Tel. Co. v. New Mexico SCC, 90 N.M. 325, 563 P.2d 588 (1977).

Rate-making power of commission is plenary, except as restricted by those principles of constitutional law which would have limited its exercise if it had been intrusted to the legislature. Mountain States Tel. & Tel. Co. v. New Mexico SCC, 90 N.M. 325, 563 P.2d 588 (1977).

Bond requirement. - Where the supreme court's order prior to review fixed interim telephone rates to be in force under bond for one year, and after review the court found substantial evidence in the record to show that these rates were just and reasonable, it held that there was no necessity that a bond be provided. Mountain States Tel. & Tel. Co. v. New Mexico SCC, 90 N.M. 325, 563 P.2d 588 (1977).

Given by implication of law. - The authority to grant rates under bond, as a lawful and necessary adjunct to the effectual exercise of the power to fix interim rates, is given by implication of law. Mountain States Tel. & Tel. Co. v. New Mexico SCC, 90 N.M. 325, 563 P.2d 588 (1977).

Generally, as to duty to formulate rates. - It is inherent in the commission's constitutional mandate that it has the authority to refuse to fix telephone rates when it does not have substantial evidence from which fair rates can be reasonably calculated or determined. Under such circumstances the commission has a duty to deny the rates, and thus it cannot be said that under all situations, without regard for the state of the evidence, the commission has a duty to formulate rates. Mountain States Tel. & Tel. Co. v. New Mexico SCC, 90 N.M. 325, 563 P.2d 588 (1977).

Duty affirmative, not passive. - The commission has an ongoing, affirmative duty to establish rules and regulations, issue orders, examine records, conduct investigations, grant continuances and do all other things necessary to insure that the public has fair telephone rates and that the utility is fairly treated; its role is not a passive one. Mountain States Tel. & Tel. Co. v. New Mexico SCC, 90 N.M. 325, 563 P.2d 588 (1977).

Where constitutional duty to fix interim rates. - The commission, when it had found that the rates of the telephone company were not fair and reasonable and when it became obvious that it would be a considerable length of time before permanent rates could be fixed, had a constitutional duty to fix interim rates that would minimize the confiscation of the company's property, and failure to increase the rates was an unconstitutional confiscation of the company's property without due process of law. Mountain States Tel. & Tel. Co. v. New Mexico SCC, 90 N.M. 325, 563 P.2d 588 (1977).

Public policy enters into the apportionment of rates, and it is incumbent upon the commission to make public policy decisions and to change proposed rates that do not comport therewith. Mountain States Tel. & Tel. Co. v. New Mexico SCC, 90 N.M. 325, 563 P.2d 588 (1977).

Generally, as to construction and maintenance of railroad crossing. - The state corporation commission has the power to require a railway company to construct and maintain a crossing at grade whenever it finds that the company's tracks are intersected by any kind of way open to the public as a matter of right for vehicular travel. The commission's power includes the power to require the company to do anything which will make the crossing "good and sufficient," that is, safe and convenient for public use. The commission can order the railroad company to construct and maintain a crossing at grade at its own expense, except when the state highway department is involved in the construction or reconstruction of the crossing. When the state highway department is involved, it will pay the costs of making the crossing's surface level with the rails. The railroad must bear the remaining construction costs as well as all maintenance costs. 1974 Op. Att'y Gen. No. 74-7.

63-7-2. [Petition of grievance; initiation of proceedings by commission; intervention; mediation; public hearing; notice.]

Any person, firm, corporation, association, chamber of commerce, board of trade or any commercial, mercantile, agricultural, mining, manufacturing or other organization or common carrier complaining of any charge or rate of any railway, express, telegraph, telephone, sleeping car, transportation or transmission company or common carrier within this state or having any grievance against any railway company, transportation company or common carrier as to any matter within the jurisdiction of the commission under the constitution of the state of New Mexico or laws made in pursuance thereof, may initiate a proceeding before the commission by petition or letter to obtain such relief as is within the powers of the commission to grant. Such letter shall also be known as a petition, and a complaint of any charge or rate shall be known as a grievance. The commission may also, of its own motion, initiate a proceeding as to any such matters.

The petition shall set forth the facts constituting the grievance and shall contain a prayer for the relief demanded. Any party, other than the commission, initiating such proceeding shall be known as the petitioner, and the party or parties complained of and any party concerned therein other than the commission or the petitioner, shall be known as the defendant.

Any person, firm, corporation, association, chamber of commerce, board of trade or any commercial, mercantile, agricultural, mining, manufacturing or other organization or common carrier, not parties may apply for leave to intervene in any proceeding and shall be heard therein and shall be known as an intervenor. Such intervention shall set forth the intervenor's interest in the proceeding. Leave granted on such application shall entitle the intervenor to appear and be treated in all respects as a party to the proceeding.

It shall be the duty of the commission to endeavor by mediation to effect settlements of such grievances. In case no satisfactory settlement be effected, the commission shall, on motion by petitioner, or of its own motion, order a public hearing upon the matter set forth in the petition, which hearing shall be held not less than ten days after service of notice thereof upon the defendant.

If such corporation shall have no designated agent in the city of Santa Fe as required by this article, such notice may be served by posting the same in the office of the commission. Notice of hearing shall be served upon any party to a proceeding not required by law to have a designated agent at the city of Santa Fe by delivering a copy of such notice to such party or statutory agent in New Mexico or by registered mail directed to such statutory agent or party, deposited in a postpaid wrapper at the post office in the city of Santa Fe. When service is made by mail, at least fifteen days' notice shall be given, and the time shall begin to run when the notice is deposited in the post office. Notice of the making of any order shall be given within five days after the making thereof. When any party has appeared by attorney, service upon such attorney shall be deemed sufficient service upon the party. Proof of service of any notice or process issued by the commission shall be by certificate endorsed thereon if the same be served by a clerk of the commission, or by affidavit of any other person appointed by the commission to serve such notice or process, accompanied by the return card if service is made by registered mail.

63-7-4. [Procedure for hearings; issuance and service of orders.]

At the time and place set for hearing, the parties interested may be heard either in person or by counsel and may introduce evidence [evidence]. The commission shall, upon application and proper showing by either party, allow such reasonable time as may be necessary for the production of evidence and may adjourn or continue the hearing from time to time as may be deemed necessary or proper for the accommodation of the parties and the furtherance of justice.

Hearings may be held at the city of Santa Fe or any other place in the state designated by the commission and the commission is hereby authorized to use any courtroom in the state for hearings at any time when said hearing does not interfere with the business of the court. Each commissioner or the clerk shall have power to administer oaths.

The parties to any proceeding may, by stipulation in writing, file with the clerk of the commission an agreement upon the facts or any portion thereof, which stipulation shall be regarded and used as evidence upon the hearing.

All matters upon which a grievance may be founded may be joined in one hearing and no petition shall be dismissed on account of misjoinder of grievances or parties or because of the absence of direct damage to a petitioner. At the conclusion of the hearing the commission shall make its findings concerning the subject matter and facts inquired into and make and enter an order of its determination and decision based on such findings. Said order shall specify the time limit for compliance therewith, which time may, on application and for good cause shown, be extended by the commission in its discretion. Every order shall be signed by at least two commissioners, and attested by the clerk with the seal of the commission thereto affixed. A copy of such order certified by the clerk under the seal of the commission shall be served upon each of the parties to the proceeding.

63-7-6. [Hearings on complaints involving rate, fare or charge increases; burden of proof.]

That at any hearing before the state corporation commission on complaint, initiated by an actual shipper, or customer, involving an increase, after the passage of this act [section], of any rate, fare or charge of any railway, express, telegraph, telephone, sleeping car, transportation or transmission company, common carrier or public utility, now or hereafter under the supervision and regulation of the state corporation commission, the burden of proof to show, by substantial evidence, that such increase in rate, fare or charge is just and reasonable, shall be upon the railway, express, telegraph, telephone, sleeping car and other transportation or transmission company or common carrier or public utility, assessing, collecting or proposing to establish, assess and collect such rate, fare or charge.

63-7-7. [Testimony and depositions; compelling attendance of witnesses; contempts; immunity; application of other laws.]

The commission or any examiner authorized by it to take testimony, upon application of either party, or of its own or such examiner's motion shall have power to issue process under the seal of the commission, to compel the attendance of witnesses to testify and the production of books, papers, tariffs, files and documents relating to any matter under investigation. Subpoenas for the production of any books, papers, tariffs, files and documents shall specify the particular books, papers, tariffs, files or documents relating to the matter in controversy which the witness is required to produce. In case of disobedience to a subpoena the commission or any party to a proceeding before it may invoke the aid of any court in the state in compelling the attendance and testimony of such witness, and the production of such books, papers, tariffs, files and documents; any such court may, in case of contumacy or refusal to obey the subpoena issued by the commission or such examiner, issue an order requiring the appearance and attendance of such witness and the production of such books, papers, tariffs, files and documents, and any failure or refusal to obey such order may be punished by such court as a contempt thereof. The claim that the giving of any such testimony or evidence might tend to criminate the witness shall not excuse such witness from testifying or producing such evidence, but such testimony or evidence shall not be used in any criminal proceeding against him except for perjury.

The testimony of any witness may be taken by deposition, at the instance of any party to the proceeding or the commission, in the manner as allowed by law in civil causes, but notice of intention to apply for a commission to take the answers of witnesses to interrogatories shall not be filed with the clerk of the commission, until the parties affected by the proceeding in which such testimony is desired to be used, shall have been served with the notice of hearing of the proceeding. Costs of taking depositions and witness fees shall be paid by the party applying therefor at the same rate as prescribed by the laws providing for depositions in civil causes.

In said laws, the state corporation commission, any commissioner and the clerk thereof, shall be substituted for the district court, the judge and clerk of the district court respectively, wherever such officers or said court are mentioned in such laws.

63-9-6. Issuance of certificate; territory on map.

A. After conclusion of a hearing on an application for a certificate of convenience and necessity the commission shall make and file an order containing its findings of fact and decision. The order shall become operative twenty days after issuance, except as the commission may otherwise provide.

B. The commission shall grant all certificates as required by Section 4 [63-9-4 NMSA 1978] of this act.

C. As to all applications other than those based upon Section 4 of this act, the commission has the power, after having determined public convenience and necessity, to grant a certificate as applied for, or to refuse to grant it, or to grant it for the construction or operation of only a portion of the contemplated plant or system or extension thereof, or for the partial exercise only of the rights and privilege sought, and may attach to the exercise of the rights and privilege granted by a certificate such terms and conditions as in its judgment the public convenience and necessity may require.

D. The geographical field or area that a telephone company is authorized and required to serve by a certificate shall be defined on a map which will be part of the certificate. The commission shall prescribe the form of the map to be used.

63-9-7. Duty to exercise authority; discontinuance.

A. Unless exercised within a period designated by the commission, exclusive of any delay due to the order of any court, authority conferred by a certificate of convenience and necessity issued by the commission shall be void. The beginning of the construction of a plant or system, in good faith, within the time prescribed by the commission and the prosecution of the same with reasonable diligence in proportion to the magnitude of the undertaking, shall constitute an exercise of the authority.

B. The holder of a certificate shall render continuous and adequate service to the public and shall not discontinue, reduce or impair service to a certificated area, or part of a certificated area, except ordinary discontinuance of service for nonpayment of charges, nonuse and similar reasons in the usual course of business, unless and until there shall first have been obtained from the commission a certificate that neither the present nor future public convenience and necessity will be adversely affected thereby; except that the commission may, upon appropriate request being made, authorize temporary or emergency discontinuance, reduction or impairment of service, without regard to the provisions of this section; provided, however, that nothing in this section shall be construed as requiring a certificate from the commission for any installation, replacement or other changes in plant, operation or equipment which will not impair the adequacy or quality of service provided.

63-9-8. Assignability.

Any certificate of public convenience and necessity, or rights obtained under any such certificate held, owned or obtained by any telephone company, may be sold, assigned or leased as other property, only after determination by the commission that the purchaser, assignee or lessee is capable of rendering adequate public utility telephone service.

History: 1953 Comp., § 69-10-8, enacted by Laws 1965, ch. 292, § 8.

63-9-9. Nonduplication in certificated areas.

A. It shall hereafter be unlawful to construct, own, operate, manage, lease or control any plant or equipment for the furnishing of telephone or telegraph service contemplated by Article XI, Section 7 of the constitution of New Mexico and this act [63-9-1 to 63-9-19 NMSA 1978], in any certificated area granted to another telephone company unless public convenience and necessity shall require such second plant or equipment.

B. Any person, corporation, municipal corporation, partnership or association, proposing to construct or operate such second plant or equipment, shall first file an application with the commission, to which application the authority proposing to authorize the construction of such second plant or equipment and the owner, manager or operator of the plant or equipment then in operation shall be made parties. The applications shall set up the reasons why public convenience and necessity require such second plant or equipment. In determining whether the public convenience and necessity require such second plant or equipment the commission shall consider and determine upon substantial evidence whether the following conditions existed at the time of the filing of said application:

(1) the existing telephone or telegraph service is inadequate to meet the reasonable needs and convenience of the public;

- (2) the proposed second plant or equipment would eliminate such inadequacy;
- (3) it is economically feasible to operate the proposed second plant or equipment successfully and continuously for the furnishing of telephone or telegraph service;
- (4) the applicant for said second plant or equipment has sufficient financial resources to provide the proposed telephone or telegraph service properly and continuously;
- (5) the applicant for said second plant or equipment has competent and experienced management and personnel to provide the proposed telephone or telegraph service;
- (6) the applicant for said second plant or equipment is willing and able to conform to the constitution and law of the state of New Mexico and the rules and regulations of the commission; and
- (7) the applicant for said second plant or equipment is in every respect willing and able to provide the proposed telephone or telegraph service properly.

If the commission shall find upon substantial evidence that each of the foregoing conditions existed at the time of filing said application and after determining that the public convenience and necessity require that additional plant or equipment is necessary, the commission shall issue an order in the alternative directing the owner, manager or operator of the plant or equipment then in operation to make such changes and additions in plant as may be reasonably necessary to meet the public convenience and necessity within not less than ninety days, or such other additional time as the commission finds from the testimony would be reasonably required to expeditiously make the changes and additions specified and required by the commission. Such order shall specifically direct what changes or additions in plant shall be made or what services shall be provided. If such changes or additions are not made within the time ordered by the commission or such additional time as may be ordered, then a certificate of public convenience and necessity for such second plant or equipment may issue.

History: 1953 Comp., § 69-10-9, enacted by Laws 1965, ch. 292, § 9.

This section is concerned with prevention of certain duplicate utility services unless the court finds that public convenience and necessity require a second plant or equipment to furnish a similar service. 1963-64 Op. Att'y Gen. No. 63-66.

Operation without franchise. - The fact that a telephone company has operated in a county without a franchise does not limit the power of the county commission to grant a franchise to that company. The obtaining of a franchise is not mandatory, and operating without one is legal. 1963-64 Op. Att'y Gen. No. 63-66.

63-9-10. Conflict in noncertificated contiguous areas.

If any telephone company in constructing or extending its plant or system in a noncertificated area contiguous to its certificated area shall interfere with the plant or system constructed or extended by another telephone company in such noncertificated area contiguous also to that company's certificated area, the commission, on its own motion, or on complaint of the telephone company injured, may, after a hearing on reasonable notice, make an order prohibiting the construction or extension, or prescribing conditions and location of such construction or extension, or granting a certificate or certificates of public convenience and necessity assigning specific portions of such noncertificated area to one or each of the telephone companies, all after having given due regard to the rights of the respective parties and to the public convenience and necessity.

63-9-11. Complaint alleging violation by telephone company.

A. Complaint may be made by any interested party setting forth any act or omission by a telephone company alleged to be in violation of any provision of this act [63-9-1 to 63-9-19 NMSA 1978] or any order or rule of the commission relating to the issuance or nonissuance of a certificate of public convenience and necessity.

B. Upon filing of the complaint the commission shall set the time and place of hearing and at least ten days' notice thereof shall be given to the party complained of. Service of notice of the hearing shall be made in any manner giving actual notice.

C. All matters upon which complaint may be founded may be joined in one hearing and a complaint is not defective for misjoinder or nonjoinder of parties or causes, either before the commission or on review by the courts. The persons the commission allows to intervene shall be joined and heard, along with the complainant and the party complained of.

D. After conclusion of the hearing the commission shall make and file an order containing its findings of fact and decision. A copy of the order shall be served upon the party complained of or his attorney.

E. Conduct of the hearings and rendering of decisions shall be governed by the rules of practice and procedure heretofore or hereafter promulgated by the commission.

Any telephone company and any other person in interest being aggrieved by an order or determination of the commission in connection with the issuance or nonissuance of a certificate of public convenience and necessity not removable to the supreme court of New Mexico under the provisions of Article XI, Section 7 of the constitution of New Mexico, may commence an action in the district court for Santa Fe county against the commission as defendant, to set aside the order or determination.

B. If, after review of the record made before the commission, the district court finds an order or determination arbitrary, capricious, unsupported by substantial evidence or unlawful, it can set it aside and may grant relief by injunction, mandamus or other extraordinary remedy.

C. In any action hereunder the complaint shall be served with the summons. The answer of the commission to the complaint shall be served and filed within twenty days after service of the complaint, whereupon said action shall be at issue without further pleading and stand ready for trial upon ten days' notice.

D. Any person not a party to the action, but having an interest in the subject thereof, may be made a party upon order of the court.

E. All such actions shall have precedence over any civil cause of a different nature, and the district court shall always be deemed open for the trial thereof.

TELECOMMUNICATIONS SERVICES

63-9A-1. Short title.

Sections 1 through 21 of this act may be cited as the "New Mexico Telecommunications Act".

History: Laws 1985, ch. 242, § 1.

New Mexico Telecommunications Act. - Although this section defines the New Mexico Telecommunications Act as Sections 1 to 21 of Laws 1985, Chapter 242, Section 21 of that act appears as a note following 63-9A-20 NMSA 1978, and Laws 1987, ch. 21, §§ 4 and 5 added 63-9A-6.1 and 63-9A-6.2 NMSA 1978 to the New Mexico Telecommunications Act. 63-9A-2. Purpose.

The legislature declares that it remains the policy of the state of New Mexico to maintain the availability of access to telecommunications services at affordable rates. Furthermore, it is the policy of this state to have comparable message telecommunications service rates, as established by the commission, for comparable markets or market areas. To the extent that it is consistent with maintaining availability of access to service at affordable rates and comparable message telecommunications service rates, it is further the policy of this state to encourage competition in the telecommunications industry, thereby allowing access by the public to resulting rapid advances in telecommunications technology. It is the purpose of the New Mexico Telecommunications Act to permit a regulatory framework that will allow an orderly transition from a regulated telecommunications industry to a competitive market environment.

Subsection L encompasses high speed data transmission services. - High speed data transmission services fall within the scope of the definition of "public telecommunications service" in Subsection B [now Subsection L]. Las Cruces TV Cable v. New Mexico SCC, 103 N.M. 345, 707 P.2d 1155 (1985).

63-9A-4. Exemption for private service.

Construction, maintenance or operation of a private telecommunications service does not constitute the provision of public telecommunications service, and a private telecommunications service shall not be subject to regulation by the commission under the New Mexico Telecommunications Act.

History: Laws 1985, ch. 242, § 4.

New Mexico Telecommunications Act. - See 63-9A-1 NMSA 1978 and notes thereto.

63-9A-5. Regulation by commission.

Except as otherwise provided in the New Mexico Telecommunications Act, each public telecommunications service is declared to be affected with the public interest and, as such, subject to the provisions of that act, including the regulation thereof as hereinafter provided.

History: Laws 1985, ch. 242, § 5.

New Mexico Telecommunications Act. - See 63-9A-1 NMSA 1978 and notes thereto.

63-9A-6. Certificate required.

A. No public telecommunications service shall be offered in this state except in accordance with the provisions of the New Mexico Telecommunications Act.

B. No public telecommunications service shall be offered within this state without the telecommunications company first having obtained from the commission a certificate declaring that the operation is in the present or future [a] public convenience and necessity, unless the operation is otherwise authorized by the New Mexico Telecommunications Act.

C. The commission shall have full power and authority to determine matters of public convenience and necessity relating to the issuance of a certificate of public convenience and necessity to a provider of public telecommunications service; provided, however, that in keeping with the purposes of the New Mexico Telecommunications Act, the commission shall not deny an applicant a certificate on the grounds of need if it is shown that the applicant possesses adequate financial resources and technical competency to provide the service. It shall be within the discretion of the commission to determine when and upon what conditions plant, equipment or services may be provided under certificates of public convenience and necessity, by more than one person, and the commission may attach to the exercise of rights granted by the certificate such terms and conditions as, in its judgment, the public convenience and necessity may require or as otherwise authorized.

D. Notwithstanding the provisions of Subsection C of this section, any telecommunications company with less than one hundred thousand access lines holding a certificate of public convenience and necessity to provide local exchange service to the public shall have the exclusive right to provide local exchange service within its certificated service territory and shall not be subject to competition in the provision of local exchange service in its certificated service territory unless the commission determines that public convenience and necessity require additional plant or equipment for the provision of local exchange service within the certificated service territory of the existing telecommunications company and a certificate of public convenience and necessity is granted pursuant to Subsection E of this section.

E. In determining whether public convenience and necessity require an additional certificate to provide local exchange service in a certificated service territory, the commission shall, in a proceeding in which the telecommunications company certificated in the affected area is a party, consider and determine upon substantial evidence that the following conditions exist:

- (1) the existing telecommunications company is inadequate to meet the reasonable needs and convenience of the public;
- (2) the proposed second plant or equipment would eliminate such inadequacy;
- (3) it is economically feasible to operate the proposed second plant or equipment successfully and continuously for the furnishing of local exchange service;
- (4) the applicant for the second plant or equipment has sufficient financial resources to provide the proposed local exchange service properly and continuously;
- (5) the applicant for the second plant or equipment has competent and experienced management and personnel to provide the proposed local exchange service;
- (6) the applicant for the second plant or equipment is willing and able to conform to the constitution of New Mexico and laws of New Mexico and the rules and regulations of the commission;
- (7) the applicant for the second plant or equipment is in every respect willing and able to provide the proposed local exchange service properly; and
- (8) granting the additional certificate to the applicant shall not have a significant adverse impact on the existing telecommunications company.

F. All certificates of public convenience and necessity shall:

- (1) continue in force notwithstanding the provisions of Section 63-9A-2 NMSA 1978; and
- (2) remain subject to all terms and conditions imposed by statute or commission order at the time of issuance or in connection with any subsequent amendment notwithstanding the provisions of that section.

63-9A-6.1. New Mexico universal service fund; establishment; board.

A. The commission shall establish a "New Mexico universal service fund" to maintain existing residential local exchange service at affordable rates.

B. The fund shall be financed by a uniform surcharge on all local exchange service customers at a rate to be determined by the commission. Money deposited in the fund is not public money and the administration of the fund is not subject to the provisions of law regulating public funds.

C. The commission shall:

(1) establish eligibility criteria for participation in the fund which assure the availability of service at affordable rates without unreasonably increasing rates to local exchange service and message telecommunications service customers;

(2) determine which companies meet the eligibility criteria; and

(3) provide for the collection of the surcharge and the administration and disbursement of money from the fund.

D. The commission shall adopt rules and regulations for the implementation and administration of the fund in accordance with the provisions of this section.

E. The commission shall establish a board composed of representatives from the providers of local exchange service to collect, administer and disburse money from the fund under the supervision and control of the commission pursuant to the established criteria and the rules and regulations promulgated by the commission.

63-9A-6.2. Carrier of last resort.

Any telecommunications company which has a certificate of public convenience and necessity permitting it to provide message telecommunications service between or among local exchange areas shall not be allowed to terminate or withdraw from providing message telecommunications service between or among local exchange areas without an order of the commission upon a finding that there is another telecommunications company in place capable of providing service without interruption.

History: 1978 Comp., § 63-9A-6.2, enacted by Laws 1987, ch. 21, § 5.

63-9A-7. Manner of regulation.

The granting of any certificate of public convenience and necessity to provide a public telecommunications service shall not be deemed to require the holder thereof to provide other telecommunications services under regulation which are otherwise subject to competition.

History: Laws 1985, ch. 242, § 7.

63-9A-8. Regulation of rates and charges.

A. In accordance with the policy established in the New Mexico Telecommunications Act, the commission shall, by its own motion or upon petition by any interested party, hold hearings to determine if any public telecommunications service is subject to effective competition in the relevant market area. When the commission has made a determination that a service or part of a service is subject to effective competition, the commission shall, consistent with the purposes of the New Mexico Telecommunications Act, modify, reduce or eliminate rules, regulations and other requirements applicable to the provision of such service, including the fixing and determining of specific rates, tariffs or fares for the service. The commission's action may include the detariffing of service or the establishment of minimum rates which will cover the costs for the service. Such modification shall be consistent with the maintenance of the availability of access to local exchange service at affordable rates and comparable message telecommunication service rates, as established by the commission, for comparable markets or market areas, except that volume discounts or other discounts based on reasonable business purposes shall be permitted. Upon petition or request of an affected telecommunications company, the commission upon a finding that the requirements of Subsection C of this section are met shall modify the same or similar regulatory requirements for those providers of comparable public telecommunications services in the same relevant markets, so that there shall be parity of regulatory standards and requirements for all such providers.

B. In determining whether a service is subject to effective competition, the commission shall consider the following:

- (1) the extent to which services are reasonably available from alternate providers in the relevant market area;
- (2) the ability of alternate providers to make functionally equivalent or substitute services readily available at competitive rates, terms and conditions; and
- (3) existing economic or regulatory barriers.

C. No provider of public telecommunications service may use current revenues earned or expenses incurred in conjunction with any noncompetitive service to subsidize competitive public telecommunications services. In order to avoid cross-subsidization of competitive services by noncompetitive telecommunications services, prices or rates charged for a competitive telecommunications service shall cover the cost for the provision of the service. In any proceeding held pursuant to this section, the party providing the service shall bear the burden of proving that the prices charged for competitive telecommunications services cover cost.

D. The commission may, upon its own motion or on the petition of an interested party and after notice to all interested parties and customers and a hearing, reclassify any service previously determined to be a competitive telecommunications service if after a hearing the commission finds that a service is not subject to effective competition.

New Mexico Telecommunications Act. - See 63-9A-1 NMSA 1978 and notes thereto.

Constitutional authority not limited. - Although statutory authority specifically is granted to the state corporation commission to regulate a public telecommunications service, such provisions do not limit its constitutional authority under N.M. Const., Art. XI, § 7. Mountain States Tel. & Tel. Co. v. New Mexico State Corp. Comm'n, 109 N.M. 504, 787 P.2d 423 (1990).

Telephone company's third-party billing and collection services were subject to regulation by the state corporation commission, where such services involved timing calls through switching operations and transmitting recorded data to the company's billing department. Mountain States Tel. & Tel. Co. v. New Mexico SCC, 107 N.M. 745, 764 P.2d 876 (1988).

Pay telephone services. - State corporation commission, in its discretion, could consider any relevant factor in making its determination whether to detariff pay telephone services if effective competition was found to exist. The commission could examine the market-share factor in order to make a decision regarding the existence of effective competition. Mountain States Tel. & Tel. Co. v. New Mexico State Corp. Comm'n, 109 N.M. 504, 787 P.2d 423 (1990).

63-9A-9. Regulation of individual contracts to facilitate competition.

A. In accordance with the provisions of this section, the commission shall regulate the rates, charges and service conditions for individual contracts for public telecommunications services in a manner which facilitates effective competition and shall authorize the provision of all or any portion of a public telecommunications service under stated or negotiated terms to any person or entity that has acquired or is preparing to acquire, through construction, lease or any other form of acquisition, similar public telecommunications services from an alternate source.

B. At any time, the provider of public telecommunications services may file a verified application with the commission for authorization to provide a public telecommunications service on an individual contract basis. The application shall describe the telecommunications services to be offered, the party to be served and the parties offering the service, together with such other information and in such form as the commission may prescribe. Such additional information shall be reasonably related to the determination of the existence of a competitive offer. A determination of effective competition pursuant to Section 63-9A-8 NMSA 1978 shall not be necessary to file an application or to have an application granted by the commission pursuant to this section.

C. The commission shall approve or deny any such application within ten days or such other period as shall be established by the commission, not to exceed sixty days, giving consideration to the requirements of any contract negotiations. If the commission has not acted on any application within the time period established, the application shall be deemed granted. The commission shall deny the application only upon a finding that the application fails to set forth prescribed information or that the subject or comparable services are not being offered to the customer by parties other than the applicant or that the contract fails to cover the costs of the service.

D. Within ten days after the conclusion of negotiations, the provider of public telecommunications services shall file with the commission the final contract or other evidence of the service to be provided, together with the charges and other conditions of the service, which shall be maintained by the commission on a confidential basis subject to an appropriate protective order.

B. Upon filing of the complaint, the commission shall set the time and place of hearing and at least ten days' notice thereof shall be given to the party complained of. Service of notice of the hearing shall be made in any manner giving actual notice.

ARTICLE 9B CELLULAR TELEPHONE SERVICES

63-9B-1. Short title.

This act [63-9B-1 to 63-9B-14 NMSA 1978] may be cited as the "Cellular Telephone Services Act".

History: Laws 1987, ch. 296, § 1.

63-9B-2. Purpose.

The legislature declares that it is the policy of the state of New Mexico to permit cellular telephone service to operate in this state as authorized by the federal communications commission. It is the purpose of the Cellular Telephone Services Act [63-9B-1 to 63-9B-14 NMSA 1978] to permit a regulatory framework that will allow modification and detariffing of cellular telephone services as may be justified by the existence of competition in cellular telephone services in New Mexico.

History: Laws 1987 ch. 296, § 2.

63-9B-3. Definitions.

As used in the Cellular Telephone Services Act [63-9B-1 to 63-9B-14 NMSA 1978]:

Cellular service company does not include noncellular radio common carrier service, including but not limited to noncellular mobile telephone service, radio-paging service or one-way cable television service; and

A cellular service company may provide cellular telephone services in a certificated area as authorized by law and the commission, subject to reasonable rules and regulations of the commission or as otherwise provided by law. The provisions of Section 63-9A-6 NMSA 1978 shall not be construed to prevent a certificated cellular service company from providing cellular services in the certificated service territory of a telecommunications company having an exclusive right to provide local exchange service.

B. If the commission finds after holding hearings requested by any interested party or by its own motion that more than one cellular service company licensed by the federal communications commission is operating in all or part of a certificated area, then the commission may determine that competition in cellular telephone services exists in such area.

C. When the commission has made a determination that cellular telephone services are subject to competition, the commission shall, consistent with the purposes of the Cellular Telephone Services Act [63-9B-1 to 63-9B-14 NMSA 1978], modify, reduce or eliminate rules, regulations and other requirements applicable to the provision for such service including the fixing and determining of specific rates, tariffs or fares for the service. ARTICLE 9D ENHANCED 911

63-9D-1. Short title.

This act [63-9D-1 to 63-9D-11 NMSA 1978] may be cited as the "Enhanced 911 Act".

History: Laws 1989, ch. 25, § 1.

Emergency clauses. - Laws 1989, ch. 25, § 14 makes the Enhanced 911 Act effective immediately. Approved March 10, 1989.

63-9D-2. Findings and purpose.

A. The legislature finds that:

- (1) isolated people, the elderly, the young and victims of crime are often at risk and without help;
- (2) children, elderly persons and victims of crime are frequently unable to explain directions to the location of an emergency situation;
- (3) life-threatening accidents, fires, crimes and natural disasters occur in the state each year;
- (4) the basic 911 telephone emergency number is currently available in some New Mexico communities;
- (5) an enhanced 911 system is currently available to only a limited number of New Mexico citizens;
- (6) an enhanced 911 telephone emergency system provides:
 - (a) expansion of the benefits of the basic 911 emergency telephone number;
 - (b) faster response time which minimizes the loss of life and property;
 - (c) automatic routing to the appropriate emergency response unit;
 - (d) immediate visual display of the location and telephone number of the caller; and
 - (e) curtailing of abuses of the emergency system by documenting callers;
- (7) New Mexico communities could make efficient use of the enhanced 911 telephone emergency system if the communities had adequate funding available; and
- (8) the New Mexico state corporation commission, through its rate-making powers, has provided for the development of enhanced 911 emergency systems in local exchange telephone company networks serving the vast majority of New Mexico citizens, leaving only the costs of purchasing or leasing the necessary telecommunications equipment to need funding by those affected communities.

B. It is the purpose of the Enhanced 911 Act [63-9D-1 to 63-9D-11 NMSA 1978] to further the public interest and protect the safety, health and welfare of the people of New Mexico by enabling the development, installation and operation of enhanced 911 emergency reporting systems to be operated under local governmental management and control.
