ANNOTATIONS

Bracketed material. — The bracketed material was inserted by the compiler and is not part of the law.

Newspapers maintained by county clerks may be microfilmed, so long as the microfilm is accessible to the public. 1979 Op. Att'y Gen. No. 79-16.

14-1-5. Authorization.

Any public officer of the state may cause any or all records, papers or documents kept by the officer to be photographed, microfilmed, microphotographed, maintained as an electronic record or reproduced on film. The electronic record, photographic film and the device used to reproduce the records on film shall be one that accurately reproduces the original in all details.

History: 1941 Comp., § 13-407, enacted by Laws 1947, ch. 185, § 2; 1953 Comp., § 71-4-7; 1978 Comp., § 14-1-5; 2023, ch. 62, § 1.

ANNOTATIONS

Cross references. — For provision that recording "book" includes microfilm, see 14-8-3 NMSA 1978.

The 2023 amendment, effective June 16, 2023, authorized public officers of the state to store state records, papers or documents electronically; added the section heading "Authorization"; and after "microphotographed", added "maintained as an electronic record".

When public record may be destroyed. — A public record may not be destroyed until its reproduction in film has been approved, copies of such reproduction have been made and filed and unless the original has been a public record for at least five years or has been audited by the state comptroller's (now state auditor's) office. 1947 Op. Att'y Gen. No. 47-5092.

Section controlled by 14-3-15 NMSA 1978. — Although this section permits county officials to microfilm the records maintained by them, 14-3-15 NMSA 1978 is the more specific statute and is controlling. 1979 Op. Att'y Gen. No. 79-26.

Newspapers maintained by county clerks may be microfilmed, so long as the microfilm is accessible to the public. 1979 Op. Att'y Gen. No. 79-16.

Authority of penitentiary warden to microfilm records, etc. — Since the penitentiary warden is an appointed public officer, he can microfilm all records, papers and documents and destroy the original records after obtaining approval, after he has made two reproductions of all original records, papers or documents, keeping one copy where the original record was kept and the other copy being sent to the secretary of state for his archives. No original records, papers or documents are to be destroyed, after copies have been made, until such records, papers or documents have been a public record for five years, or until the records have been audited by the office of the state comptroller (now state auditor). 1955 Op. Att'y Gen. No. 55-6113.

14-1-6. Presumption of authenticity.

Such photographs, microfilms, electronic records, photographic film or microphotographs shall be deemed to be an original record for all purposes, including introduction in evidence in all courts or administrative agencies. Copy did not violate best evidence rule. — A copy of the statement defendant gave to the police which was introduced into evidence did not violate the best evidence rule. State v. Darden, 1974-NMCA-032, 86 N.M. 198, 521 P.2d 1039.

Newspapers maintained by county clerks may be microfilmed, so long as the microfilm is accessible to the public. 1979 Op. Att'y Gen. No. 79-16.

Destruction of original records without action by records administrator. — If microfilmed and certified pursuant to 14-3-15 NMSA 1978, originals of records, including newspapers kept by county clerks, may be destroyed without any action on the part of the records administrator. 1979 Op. Att'y Gen. No. 79-16.

ANNOTATIONS

Cross references. — For use of police reports for commercial solicitation, see 14-2A-1 NMSA 1978.

For provisions of Arrest Record Information Act, see Chapter 29, Article 10 NMSA 1978.

2025 Multiple Amendments. — Laws 2025, ch. 13, § 18, effective July 1, 2025, and Laws 2025, ch. 60, § 1, effective June 20, 2025, enacted different amendments to this section that can be reconciled. Pursuant to 12-1-8 NMSA 1978, Laws 2025, ch. 60, § 1 as the last act signed by the governor is set out above and incorporates both amendments. The amendments enacted by Laws 2025, ch. 13, § 18 and Laws 2025, ch. 60, § 1 are described below. To view the session laws in their entirety, see the 2025 session laws on NMOneSource.com.

The nature of the difference between the amendments is that Section 14-2-1 NMSA 1978, as amended by Laws 2025, ch. 13, § 18, added records gathered during the course of investigations and system monitoring duties by the office of child advocate to the list of exceptions to the right to inspect public records, and Laws 2025, ch. 60, § 1, added records containing personal identifying information or sensitive information related to the practice of a medical provider employed by a public body who performs medical services related to abortion to the list of exceptions to the right to inspect public records.

Laws 2025, ch. 60, § 1, effective June 20, 2025, added records containing personal identifying information or sensitive information related to the practice of a medical provider employed by a public body who performs medical services related to abortion to the list of exceptions to the right to inspect public records; added a new Subsection L and redesignated former Subsection L as Subsection M [N].

Laws 2025, ch. 13, § 18, effective July 1, 2025, added records gathered during the course of investigations and system monitoring duties by the office of child advocate to the list of exceptions to the right to inspect public records; added a new Subsection L and redesignated former Subsection L as Subsection M [N].

The 2023 amendment, effective March 30, 2023, removed provisions related to law enforcement records to conform with the enactment of § 14-2-1.2 NMSA 1978, excepted from disclosure of information concerning information technology systems, submissions to grant programs, land leases and scholarship programs; in Subsection D, after "portions of law enforcement records", deleted "that reveal" and added "as provided in Section 14-2-1.2 NMSA 1978", deleted Paragraphs D(1) and D(2); redesignated former Subsection G as Subsection I; and added new Subsections J and K and redesignated former Subsection H as Subsection L.

The 2019 amendment, effective June 14, 2019, provided an exception to the right to inspect public records for portions of law enforcement records that contain identifying information of certain victims of and witnesses to certain crimes; deleted subsection designation "A", deleted Subsection B, and redesignated former Paragraphs A(1) through A(8) as Subsections A through H, respectively; in Subsection D, added "portions of", added paragraph designations "(1)" and "(2)", in Paragraph D(1), after "methods", added "or", in Paragraph D(2), added "before charges are filed, names, address, contact information, or protected personal identifier information as defined in this Act of", after "individuals", added "who are", added new subparagraph designation "(a)", and Subparagraph D(2)(b); and after Paragraph D(2)(b), after "listed in this", deleted "paragraph" and added the remainder of the paragraph.

The 2011 amendment, effective July 1, 2011, permitted the inspection of records containing identity or identifying information about an applicant or nominee for president of a public institution of higher learning and the inspection of discharge papers of veterans, and authorized a public body to redact protected personal identifier information before inspection.

The 1993 amendment, effective June 18, 1993, substituted "person" for "citizen of this state" in the introductory language, substituted "institution" for "institutions" in Subsection A, added Subsection D, and redesignated former Subsections D and E as Subsections E and F.

I. GENERAL CONSIDERATION.

Retroactive application of the Supreme Court decision in Republication Party v. Taxation & Revenue. — Where, in 2007, plaintiff requested copies of a draft letter and emails relating to a federal program managed by defendant and defendant denied plaintiff's request on the grounds that the documents were protected by the deliberative process privilege and the rule of reason, the principles of Republication Party of N.M. v. N.M. Taxation & Revenue Dep't, 2012-NMSC-026, 283 P.3d 853 applied retroactively to plaintiff's request because the supreme court did not announce a new rule regarding the deliberative process privilege, and although the supreme court overruled cases in which the rule of reason was endorsed, defendant did not rely on the precedent overruled by the supreme court when it denied plaintiff's request, retroactive application of the decision would further the purposes of the Inspection of Public Records Act, and retroactive application of the decision would not result in any inequity. Edenburn v. N.M. Dep't of Health, 2013-NMCA-045, 299 P.3d 424, cert. denied, 2013-NMCERT-002.

Rule of reason. — The rule of reason is a non-statutory exception to disclosure which provides a mechanism for addressing claims of confidentiality that have not been specifically addressed by the legislature. The rule of reason applies only to public records that do not fall into one of the statutory exceptions to disclosure and requires the custodian of public records to justify why the records sought to be inspected should not be furnished and the district court to balance the fundamental right of all citizens to have reasonable access to public records against countervailing public policy considerations which favor confidentiality and nondisclosure. City of Farmington v. The Daily Times, 2009-NMCA-057, 146 N.M. 349, 210 P.3d 246.

Inspection of Public Records Act is statutory scheme of general application. Crutchfield v. Taxation & Revenue Dep't, 2005-NMCA-022, 137 N.M. 26, 106 P.3d 1273.

Citizen complaints concerning law enforcement officer. — Citizen complaints concerning the on-duty conduct of a law enforcement officer are public records available to the public for inspection. Cox v. N.M. Dep't of Pub. Safety, 2010-NMCA-096, 148 N.M. 934, 242 P.3d 501, cert. granted, 2010-NMCERT-010, 149 N.M. 64, 243 P.3d 1146, cert. quashed, 2011-NMCERT-006, 150 N.M. 763, 266 P.3d 632.

Right of citizen to inspect. — A citizen has a fundamental right to have access to public records. The citizen's right to know is the rule, and secrecy is the exception. Where there is no contrary statute or countervailing public policy, the right to inspect public records must be freely allowed. State ex rel. Newsome v. Alarid, 1977-NMSC-076, 90 N.M. 790, 568 P.2d 1236.

Nondisclosure of names of terminated employees. — Where the reason for termination of public employees is a matter of public knowledge before the individuals are terminated, the privacy of the disciplinary proceeding can only be protected by upholding the administrative decision not to disclose the names of the individuals affected. State ex rel. Barber v. McCotter, 1987-NMSC-046, 106 N.M. 1, 738 P.2d 119.

Defendant failed to meet burden of establishing privilege in request for public records action. — In an underlying enforcement action under the New Mexico Inspection of Public Records Act, 14-2-1 to -12 NMSA 1978, where plaintiffs made a combined seven written requests of the Albuquerque public schools (APS) to inspect documents referencing complaints or allegations of misconduct regarding the former superintendent of APS, the district court did not err in ordering the non-party appellant to answer plaintiffs' deposition questions, because appellant failed to identify any privilege, either adopted by the New Mexico supreme court or recognized under the New Mexico constitution, on which to base her argument that communications regarding "limited personnel matters" that occur during a closed public meeting are immune from discovery, and failed to meet her burden of establishing the essential elements necessary to prove the applicability of the attorney-client privilege, based on a claimed common interest, to her communications with APS attorneys. Albuquerque Journal v. Board of Educ., 2019-NMCA-012, cert. granted.

A state agency is a "person", for purposes of IPRA, and may request public records from other state agencies. — Where the state ethics commission (commission) sent a public records request, pursuant to the Inspection of Public Records Act (IPRA), NMSA 1978, §§ 14-2-1 to -12, to the New Mexico human services department [health care authority department] (department), asking the department to provide copies of certain emails from several named employees, and where the department denied the request claiming that the commission, itself a "public body" for the purposes of IPRA, is not a "person" entitled to make public records requests, the department erred in denying the commission's public records request, because a public body is an "entity," within the definition of "person," § 14-2-6(D), and therefore the plain language of IPRA demonstrates that public bodies can submit public records requests to other public bodies. This reading of the statute is also consistent with IPRA's declared purpose, that all persons are entitled to the greatest possible information regarding the affairs of government and the official acts of public officers and employees. Public Records Requests Made by the State Ethics Comm'n (10/27/21), Att'y Gen. Adv. Ltr. 2021-12.

The Electronic Communications Privacy Act is not an exception to disclosure of public records. — Where the state ethics commission (commission) sent a public records request to the New Mexico human services department [health care authority department] (department), asking the department to provide copies of certain emails from several named employees, and where the department denied the request claiming that the Electronic Communications Privacy Act (ECPA), NMSA 1978, § 10-16F-1 to -6, operates as an exception to disclosure through the Inspection of Public Records Act (IPRA), NMSA 1978, §§ 14-2-1 to -12, because the commission may obtain the requested records through a subpoena, the department erred in denying the commission's public records request, because the commission's ability to obtain public records through a subpoena does not mean that it is unable to seek the same records through IPRA, and nothing in the ECPA's text suggests that the legislature intended the statute to operate as an exception to disclosure through IPRA. Public Records Requests Made by the State Ethics Comm'n (10/27/21), Att'y Gen. Adv. Ltr. 2021-12.

II. RECORDS SUBJECT TO INSPECTION.

Pleading an action for enforcement of IPRA against a private entity. — To plead an action for enforcement of the Inspection of Public Records Act (IPRA), 14-2-1 to 14-2-12 NMSA 1978, against a private entity, a plaintiff must simply allege that the records sought are public records arising out of the private entity's performance of a public function and that the private entity has failed to comply with IPRA via the manner outlined in either 14-2-11(C) NMSA 1978 or 14-2-12(D) NMSA 1978. Franklin v. Keefe Commissary Network, 2024-NMCA-070.

Records arising out of a private entity's performance of a public function and on behalf of a public entity are subject to IPRA. — Where plaintiff, a state inmate, requested records regarding commissary prices for state prisoners, pursuant to the New Mexico Inspection of Public Records Act (IPRA), 14-2-1 to 14-2-12 NMSA 1978, from defendant, a private corporation contracting with the New Mexico corrections department (NMCD) to operate an inmate commissary program at New Mexico state facilities, based on plaintiff's belief that prices were not set at fair market value, and where, upon receiving no response from defendant, plaintiff filed a complaint to enforce IPRA, and where defendant filed a pretrial motion to dismiss, arguing that defendant was not subject to IPRA because it is a private entity, the district court erred in granting defendant's motion to dismiss, because the records sought were public records arising out of defendant's performance of a public function and on behalf of a public entity. Plaintiff established under the facts of the complaint that defendant may be subject to IPRA. Franklin v. Keefe Commissary Network, 2024-NMCA-070.

Property valuation records. — The valuation records statute, § 7-38-19, expressly recognizes that valuation records are public records except to the extent that they contain information regarding income, certain expenses, profits and losses relating to the property or owner, or diagrams of the interior arrangements of buildings or alarm, electrical, or plumbing systems; the presence of any of the above information on a property card does not render the entire card excepted from being a public record, since such a literal reading of the statute is unreasonable and would effect a nullification of the statutes providing that valuation records are, in general, public. Gordon v. Sandoval Cnty. Assessor, 2001-NMCA-044, 130 N.M. 573, 28 P.3d 1114.

Voter registration records. — A county chairman of a political party is entitled to have the working master record of the voter registration records of the county copied, or duplicated at his expense under the county clerk's supervision, as these records are public records. Ortiz v. Jaramillo, 1971-NMSC-041, 82 N.M. 445, 483 P.2d 500.

Military and arrest records of state employees. — Supreme court declined to hold that all information in employment records of state university regarding military discharges or arrest records should be exempted from disclosure. State ex rel. Newsome v. Alarid, 1977-NMSC-076, 90 N.M. 790, 568 P.2d 1236.

III. EXCEPTIONS.

A. IN GENERAL.

Rule of reason has no application to the inspection of public records. — The rule of reason, whereby courts determine whether records not specifically exempted by the Inspection of Public Records Act, Section 14-2-1 NMSA 1978 et seq., nevertheless should be withheld from the requestor on the grounds that disclosure would not be in the public interest, has no application to the inspection of public records under the act. Courts should restrict their analysis to whether disclosure under the act may be withheld because of a specific exception contained within the act, or statutory or regulatory exceptions, or privileges adopted by the supreme court or grounded in the constitution. Republican Party of N.M. v. N.M. Taxation & Revenue Dep't, 2012-NMSC-026, 283 P.3d 853, overruling City of Farmington v. The Daily Times, 2009-NMCA-057, 146 N.M. 349, 210 P.3d 246 and Board of Comm'rs of Dona Ana Cnty. v. Las Cruces Sun-News, 2003-NMCA-102, 134 N.M. 283, 76 P.3d 36.

The deliberative process privilege does not exist under New Mexico law. — The common law deliberative process privilege, which applies to decision making of executive officials generally and which only covers material that is predecisional and deliberative, does not exist under New Mexico law. Republican Party of N.M. v. N.M. Taxation & Revenue Dep't, 2012-NMSC-026, 283 P.3d 853, rev'g 2010-NMCA-080, 148 N.M. 877, 242 P.3d 444 and disavowing State ex rel. Att'y Gen. v. First Judicial Dist. Court, 1981-NMSC-053, 96 N.M. 254, 629 P.2d 330.

Executive privilege. — The executive privilege in New Mexico, which derives from the constitution and which is reserved to and can be invoked only by the governor, extends only to documents that are communicative in nature, that are made to and from individuals in very close organizational and functional proximity to the governor, and that relate to decisions made by the governor in the performance of the governor's constitutionally-mandated duties. Republican Party of N.M. v. N.M. Taxation & Revenue Dep't, 2012-NMSC-026, 283 P.3d 853.

Application of the executive privilege to the inspection of public records. — Courts considering the application of the executive privilege to a request for the inspection of public records under the Inspection of Public Records Act, Section 14-2-1 NMSA 1978 et seq., must independently determine whether the documents at issue are in fact covered by the privilege and whether the privilege has been invoked by the governor, to whom the privilege is reserved. Courts are not required to balance the competing needs of the executive and the party seeking disclosure. Where appropriate, courts should conduct an in camera view of the documents at issue as part of their evaluation of the privilege. Republican Party of N.M. v. N.M. Taxation & Revenue Dep't, 2012-NMSC-026, 283 P.3d 853.

Executive privilege did not apply to drivers' license records. — Where petitioners requested public documents from the motor vehicle division relating to the issuance of drivers' licenses to foreign nationals and to an audit of the license program ordered by the governor; the motor vehicle division redacted information pursuant to executive privilege; the redacted documents included communications regarding New Mexico's negotiations with the Mexican government regarding access to identity documents and discussions related to implementing the audit of the driver's license program; the documents at issue were principally internal emails between staff of the motor vehicle division, not communications with the governor or the governor's immediate staff; and the motor vehicle division, not the governor, asserted the executive privilege; the documents at issue did not qualify for the executive privilege. Republican Party of N.M. v. N.M. Taxation & Revenue Dep't, 2012-NMSC-026, 283 P.3d 853, rev'g 2010-NMCA-080, 148 N.M. 877, 242 P.3d 444.

Driver's license records. — Where plaintiffs, who wanted to research whether undocumented aliens were voting in elections in New Mexico, requested information about driver's licenses issued to persons who were not citizens or legal residents of the United States, defendants properly redacted individual tax identification numbers and the names, driver's license numbers, and addresses of drivers who obtained their license with proof of identification other than a social security number, because the redacted information was personal information which defendants were prohibited from disclosing by 18 U.S.C. § 2721(a)(1) and by Section 66-2-7.1 NMSA 1978. Republican Party of N.M. v. N.M. Taxation & Revenue Dep't, 2010-NMCA-080, 148 N.M. 877, 242 P.3d 444, cert. granted, 2010-NMCERT-008, 148 N.M. 942, 242 P.3d 1288.

Executive privilege is a non-statutory exception to disclosure which requires the court to balance the fundamental right of all citizens to have reasonable access to public records against countervailing public policy considerations which favor confidentiality and nondisclosure. Republican Party of N.M. v. N.M. Taxation & Revenue Dep't, 2010-NMCA-080, 148 N.M. 877, 242 P.3d 444, cert. granted, 2010-NMCERT-008, 148 N.M. 942, 242 P.3d 1288.

Executive privilege. — Where plaintiffs, who wanted to research whether undocumented aliens were voting in elections in New Mexico, requested information about driver's licenses issued to persons who were not citizens or legal residents of the United States, defendants were authorized by the executive privilege exception to redact communications between the governor's office and the defendants regarding New Mexico's negotiations with the Mexican government regarding driver's identification confirmation, discussions about drivers who applied for licenses using documents whose authenticity the motor vehicle division had not been able to confirm, and discussions related to an audit to determine whether licenses had been issued to individuals who submitted documents of questionable authenticity. Republican Party of N.M. v. N.M. Taxation & Revenue Dep't, 2010-NMCA-080, 148 N.M. 877, 242 P.3d 444, cert. granted, 2010-NMCERT-008, 148 N.M. 942, 242 P.3d 1288.

Attorney-client privilege. — Where plaintiffs, who wanted to research whether undocumented aliens were voting in elections in New Mexico, requested information about driver's licenses issued to persons who were not citizens or legal residents of the United States, defendants were authorized by the attorney-client privilege exception to redact communications between the general counsel for the governor's office and executive branch personnel about communications with the Mexican government regarding the issuance of driver's licenses in New Mexico, an audit of drivers who obtained licenses with individual tax identification numbers, communications with drivers whose documentation could not be verified, and legal analysis of the process for obtaining a driver's license. Republican Party of N.M. v. N.M. Taxation & Revenue Dep't, 2010-NMCA-080, 148 N.M. 877, 242 P.3d 444, cert. granted, 2010-NMCERT-008, 148 N.M. 942, 242 P.3d 1288.

Attorney-client privilege exemption. — Where plaintiff sued the board of commissioners for Sandoval county and the Sandoval county records custodian, claiming that defendants violated IPRA by denying her the opportunity to inspect certain records, including emails sent between the county's public information officer and the county manager concerning IPRA lawsuits involving the county and the county's processing of IPRA requests, and where, after an in camera review of three emails that were not produced by the county, the district court issued its order, determining that all three emails were protected from disclosure by attorney-client privilege, the district court erred in exempting the first email, because although the email contained the designation "Attorney-Client Privileged" the email was not made for the purpose of facilitating or providing professional legal services, but rather to apprise its recipients of a decision which the public information officer had previously made concerning an IPRA request, but the district court did not err in exempting the second and third emails which summarized conversations between the public information officer and attorneys for the county, and the general rule is that a communication relaying privileged legal advice between representatives of an organization client who can act on that advice qualifies as being made for the purpose of facilitating or providing professional legal services to that client. Tawater v. Board of Comm'rs, 2023-NMCA-052.

The office of the attorney general failed to establish the elements of a prima facie case for the application of either attorney-client privilege or attorney work-product immunity. — Where plaintiff requested inspection of common interest agreements entered into by the New Mexico office of the attorney general (OAG) with other states' offices of the attorney general, as well as correspondence and emails relating to the formation of these agreements, and where the OAG responded to the requests by withholding some responsive documents altogether, without disclosing that any documents were being withheld, producing some documents with all but a "privileged or confidential" stamp redacted, and producing other documents with multiple lengthy redactions, claiming that the redactions were supported by the Inspection of Public Records Act (IPRA) exception for law enforcement records or because the redactions constituted confidential attorney-client communications and protected attorney work-product, and where plaintiff challenged both the withholding of some documents and the heavy redaction of the documents provided, claiming that none of the cited IPRA exceptions supported the denial of responsive information, and where the OAG filed a motion for summary judgment arguing that its blanket assertion of attorney-client privilege and/or work-product, together with its assertion of good faith, established a prima facie case justifying the denial of inspection of unidentified, withheld documents, as well as the redactions it made on the documents that were produced, the district court erred in granting the OAG's motion for summary judgment, because the OAG failed to establish a prima facie case for summary judgment on either the IPRA exception for attorney-client privilege, as extended by the common interest doctrine, or the catchall exception for attorney work-product. A generalized assertion of privilege or immunity, even if the public agency asserts the privilege or immunity in good faith, is not sufficient to establish a prima facie case of compliance with IPRA supporting summary judgment. Energy Pol'y Advoc. v. Balderas, 2024-NMCA-081.

Catchall "as otherwise provided by law" exception construed. — Based on the plain language of 14-2-1(L) NMSA 1978, the "catchall provision," and from its construction by New Mexico courts, it is apparent that the legislature's purpose is to allow the confidentiality provisions of other statutes, regulations, court rules, and constitutional privileges to be applied as exceptions to the Inspection of Public Records Act (IPRA) and to do so without the legislature having to enact each of them again as part of IPRA. Beck v. State ex rel. CYFD, 2024-NMCA-082, cert. denied.

CYFD regulation prohibiting the disclosure of foster parents' identifying information has the force of law and is incorporated by the catchall "as otherwise provided by law" exception. — Where the children, youth and families department (CYFD) redacted the names, email addresses, and physical addresses of CYFD licensed foster parents from its responses to plaintiff's requests for emails, text messages, and other meeting notes mentioning plaintiff by name, claiming that the names and other personally-identifying information of foster parents sought by plaintiff were exempt from disclosure under the catchall, "as otherwise provided by law" exception to IPRA inspection, 14-2-1(L) NMSA 1978, and where plaintiff claimed that 14-2-6(F) NMSA 1978 and 14-2-1.1 NMSA 1978, which together allow state agencies to redact certain "protected personal identifiers" from all documents prior to their inspection under IPRA, provide the exclusive list of personal identifying information that may be exempted from inspection by a public agency under IPRA, the district court erred in requiring CYFD to make available for inspection the personal identifying information of CYFD licensed foster parents, because CYFD's regulation protecting the personally identifying information of foster parents is a regulation having the force of law, enforceable under the "as otherwise provided by law" exception. Beck v. State ex rel. CYFD, 2024-NMCA-082, cert. denied.

Section 6-5A-1(D) NMSA 1978 does not serve as a statutory exemption to the Inspection of Public Records Act. — In consolidated appeals arising from two lawsuits brought by plaintiff against defendants, the university of New Mexico foundation, the university of New Mexico lobo club, and the board of regents of the university of New Mexico, under the Inspection of Public Records Act (IPRA), §§ 14-2-1 through 14-2-12 NMSA 1978, seeking donor lists and records and communications related to a naming agreement between the university of New Mexico and a restaurant chain that obtained naming rights to a major sporting facility operated by the university, and where defendants argued that these records were exempt from disclosure under Section 6-5A-1 NMSA 1978 and that the records were not public records under IPRA, the district court did not err in ruling that § 6-5A-1(D) did not function as an exemption to IPRA, because a plain reading of § 6-5A-1 establishes that the legislature expressly designated organizations' annual audits as public records, but also made clear that it was not doing the same for other records. Thus, while an organization's records might be public records subject to inspection, § 6-5A-1 does not specifically exempt any records from disclosure. Libit v. UNM Lobo Club, 2022-NMCA-043, cert. granted.

B. PARTICULAR RECORDS EXCEPTED.

Draft documents are public documents that are subject to public inspection.

Edenburn v. N.M. Dep't of Health, 2013-NMCA-045, 299 P.3d 424, cert. denied, 2013-NMCERT-002.

Draft letter and emails. — Where plaintiff requested a copy of a draft letter and a string of emails that related to a federal program managed by defendant; defendant denied plaintiff the right to inspect the emails on the ground that the emails were protected by the deliberative process privilege because they were deliberative communications between defendant's employees before any final determinations were made; and defendant denied plaintiff the right to inspect the draft letter on the grounds that the draft letter, as a draft document, was not subject to public records status and was exempt from disclosure by the rule of reason and the same principles upon which the deliberative process privilege is grounded, the draft letter and the emails were subject to disclosure because neither the deliberative process privilege nor the rule of reason are recognized in New Mexico and there was no specific statutory, regulatory, court adopted privilege, or constitutional provision that exempts draft documents from inspection. Edenburn v. N.M. Dep't of Health, 2013-NMCA-045, 299 P.3d 424, cert. denied, 2013-NMCERT-002.

The contents of an officeholder's personal election campaign Facebook page are not public records of a public body. — In a superintending control proceeding arising from an Inspection of Public Records Act (IPRA) action filed in the fifth judicial district court (district court), where the real party in interest, a party to a civil case in the first judicial district court, sought to inspect the contents of a personal election Facebook page maintained by a first judicial district court judge (judge), the district court did not err in determining that the contents of the judge's personal election campaign Facebook page were not public records of a public body subject to IPRA disclosure requirements, because IPRA is aimed at the affairs of government and the official acts of public officers and employees, and there was no evidence that the judge's personal election campaign or its Facebook site were acting on behalf of the first judicial district court or any other public body, that any government funding was involved in maintenance of the Facebook site or any of its activities, or that the judge conducted public business through the site. Pacheco v. Hudson, 2018-NMSC-022.

Judicial deliberation privilege. — There exists a judicial deliberation privilege protecting the confidentiality of draft judicial orders and other internal judicial-making processes between judges and between judges and the court's staff made in the course of the performance of their judicial duties and related to official court business. Pacheco v. Hudson, 2018-NMSC-022.

In a superintending control proceeding arising from an Inspection of Public Records Act (IPRA) action filed in the fifth judicial district court (district court), where the real party in interest, a party to a civil case in the first judicial district court, sought to inspect email communications related to a draft copy of a preliminary injunction order that a judge in the first judicial district court had been preparing for issuance in the underlying civil case, email exchanges between the judge and court staff, as well as an email exchange between the judge and the supreme court law librarian, were protected by the judicial deliberation privilege, because the email exchanges reflected the judge's internal judicial decision-making processes. Pacheco v. Hudson, 2018-NMSC-022.

Child abuse and neglect proceedings. — Section 32A-4-33 NMSA 1978 of the Children's Code exempts the child's records in a civil abuse and neglect proceeding from the public's right to inspect public records authorized by Section 14-2-1(F) NMSA 1978 (1993) (now 14-2-1(A)(12) NMSA 1978). State ex rel. Children, Youth & Families Dep't v. George F., 1998-NMCA-119, 125 N.M. 597, 964 P.2d 158.

Criminal investigation records. — The legislature has expressed its intent to protect from disclosure police investigatory materials in an on-going criminal investigation through the Inspection of Public Records Act (Section 14-2-1(A)(4) NMSA 1978). Estate of Romero v. City of Santa Fe, 2006-NMSC-028, 139 N.M. 671, 137 P.3d 611.

There is not a blanket exception from inspection for law enforcement records relating to an ongoing criminal investigation. — Where plaintiff sent a written request to the department of public safety (DPS) pursuant to IPRA for various records relating to the shooting death of his brother, and where DPS produced a primary incident report, the personnel records of one of the officers involved, and one subpoena, but denied production of all other pertinent records in its possession, claiming that the release of the requested information posed a demonstrable and serious threat to an ongoing criminal investigation and that the FBI asked DPS to withhold the records in order to maintain the integrity of its investigation, the district court erred in denying plaintiff's motion for summary judgment and in granting DPS's motion for summary judgment, because this section does not create a blanket exception from inspection of law enforcement records relating to an ongoing criminal investigation, and DPS did not present evidence that any specific records that it refused to produce revealed confidential sources, methods, information or individuals accused but not charged with a crime, nor did DPS present any evidence that it reviewed the requested records to separate the exempt from nonexempt information, or that it provided any nonexempt information existing within records containing exempt information. Jones v. N.M. Dep't of Public Safety, 2020-NMSC-013, rev'g No. A-1-CA-35120, mem. op. (May 10, 2018) (non-precedential).

Property valuation records. — The valuation records statute, Section 7-38-19 NMSA 1978, expressly recognizes that valuation records are public records except to the extent that they contain information regarding income, certain expenses, profits and losses relating to the property or owner, or diagrams of the interior arrangements of buildings or alarm, electrical, or plumbing systems; the presence of any of the above information on a property card does not render the entire card excepted from being a public record, since such a literal reading of the statute is unreasonable and would effect a nullification of the statutes providing that valuation records are, in general, public. Gordon v. Sandoval Cnty. Assessor, 2001-NMCA-044, 130 N.M. 573, 28 P.3d 1114.

Driver's license records. — Where plaintiffs, who wanted to research whether undocumented aliens were voting in elections in New Mexico, requested information about drivers' licenses issued to persons who were not citizens or legal residents of the United States, defendants properly redacted individual tax identification numbers and the names, drivers' license numbers, and addresses of drivers who obtained their license with proof of identification other than a social security number, because the redacted information was personal information which defendants were prohibited from disclosing by 18 U.S.C. § 2721(a)(1) and by Section 66-2-7.1 NMSA 1978. Republican Party of N.M. v. N.M. Taxation & Revenue Dep't, 2010-NMCA-080, 148 N.M. 877, 242 P.3d 444, cert. granted, 2010-NMCERT-008, 148 N.M. 942, 242 P.3d 1288.

Computerized database of public record. — There is no intent on the part of the legislature with respect to Section 14-3-15.1 C NMSA 1978 that that statute and the policy underlying it, and not the Inspection of Public Records Act and the policies underlying it, apply to a copy of a medium containing a computerized database of a public record. Crutchfield v. Taxation & Revenue Dep't, 2005-NMCA-022, 137 N.M. 26, 106 P.3d 1273.

Letters of reference. — A letter of reference, as that term is used in Paragraph (2) of Subsection A of Section 14-2-1 NMSA 1978, is generally considered to be a statement of support for an applicant that assists a future employer or licensor in evaluation of an applicant for a job, license, or permit; is typically solicited either by a prospective applicant or the prospective employer; and addresses the prospective applicant's general qualifications for employment or licensing. Cox v. N.M. Dep't of Pub. Safety, 2010-NMCA-096, 148 N.M. 934, 242 P.3d 501, cert. granted, 2010-NMCERT-010, 149 N.M. 64, 243 P.3d 1146, cert. quashed, 2011-NMCERT-006, 150 N.M. 763, 266 P.3d 632.

Citizen complaints concerning law enforcement officer. — Citizen complaints concerning the on-duty conduct of a law enforcement officer are not letters of reference as that term is used in Paragraph (2) of Subsection A of Section 14-2-1 NMSA 1978. Cox v. N.M. Dep't of Pub. Safety, 2010-NMCA-096, 148 N.M. 934, 242 P.3d 501, cert. granted, 2010-NMCERT-010, 149 N.M. 64, 243 P.3d 1146, cert. quashed, 2011-NMCERT-006, 150 N.M. 763, 266 P.3d 632.

Records in personnel files. — The location of a record in a personnel file is not dispositive of whether the exception in Paragraph (3) of Subsection A of Section 14-2-1 NMSA 1978 applies. The critical factor is the nature of the document itself. Cox v. N.M. Dep't of Pub. Safety, 2010-NMCA-096, 148 N.M. 934, 242 P.3d 501, cert. granted, 2010-NMCERT-010, 149 N.M. 64, 243 P.3d 1146, cert. quashed, 2011-NMCERT-006, 150 N.M. 763, 266 P.3d 632.

Matters of opinion in personnel files. — Matters of opinion in personnel files, as that term is used in Paragraph (3) of Subsection A of Section 14-2-1 NMSA 1978, constitute personnel information regarding the employer/employee relationship, such as internal evaluations; disciplinary reports or documentation; promotion, demotion or termination information; or performance evaluations. Cox v. N.M. Dep't of Pub. Safety, 2010-NMCA-096, 148 N.M. 934, 242 P.3d 501, cert. granted, 2010-NMCERT-010, 149 N.M. 64, 243 P.3d 1146, cert. quashed, 2011-NMCERT-006, 150 N.M. 763, 266 P.3d 632.

Exception for letters and memoranda apply to entire document. — Where plaintiff filed a complaint in district court seeking a writ of mandamus or a court order compelling the livestock board (board) to disclose an investigative report produced by an outside firm retained by the board to investigate allegations that a particular board inspector had committed timesheet fraud by billing the board for his time while working at a second job, and where plaintiff claimed that the board's custodian of records was required to separate "matters of fact" from "matters of opinion" in the report and produce the matters of fact for inspection, the district court did not err in granting the board's motion for summary judgment, because the plain language of the exemption in NMSA 1978, 14-2-1(C) applies to letters or memoranda that are matters of opinion in personnel files in their entirety, and NMSA 1978, 14-2-9(A), by its plain language, does not require a custodian of records to separate exempt from nonexempt information when an exemption applies to a document as a whole, which § 14-2-1(C) does. Henry v. Gauman, 2023-NMCA-078, cert. denied.

Documents that included privileged attorney-client communications and report made for the purpose of determining whether to take disciplinary action against an employee were exempt from disclosure. — Where plaintiff, a citizen journalist and advocate, whose work focuses on estray and wild horses, matters within the jurisdiction of the livestock board (board), sought disclosure of certain records related to wild horses that included communications between the board's general counsel, attorneys in the attorney general's office and certain board staff members and the disclosure of records pertaining to a formal investigation of the deputy board director and the human resources director for allegedly creating a hostile work environment and misappropriating funds, and where the district court held that none of the four documents at issue were exempt and ordered them disclosed, the district court erred in finding that none of the documents were exempt from disclosure, because three of the documents were confidential communications between lawyers representing the board made for the purpose of facilitating or providing professional legal services to the board and therefore exempt from disclosure pursuant to NMSA 1978, § 14-2-1(G), and the fourth document, a report of an investigation into alleged misconduct by an employee of the board prepared for the purpose of determining whether to take disciplinary action against that employee, fell within the matters of opinion in personnel files exemption under § 14-2-1(C). Henry v. N.M. Livestock Bd., 2023-NMCA-082, cert. denied.

Internal affairs investigation documents fell within "letters or memoranda which are matters of opinion in personnel files" exception. — Where petitioner made an Inspection of Public Records Act (IPRA) request to the City of Carlsbad, in relevant part, for all internal affairs reports and investigative files, concerning as targets, or as witnesses, fourteen city police officers identified by name, all communication records relating to the processing and completion of the internal affairs investigation report concerning petitioner, and city notices to city police officers of certain types of discipline from 2015 through the date of the request, and where the city identified 3,777 pages of documents responsive to petitioner's request, but withheld 3,271 pages as exempt under 14-2-1(C) NMSA 1978, and where the district court, after argument and independently examining the documents in camera, found that the documents were created for the purpose of conducting internal disciplinary proceedings and determined that the documents were properly withheld and exempt pursuant to 14-2-1(C) NMSA 1978, the district court did not err in finding that the documents were exempt, because internal affairs investigation documents that concern employee infractions or disciplinary action are exempt from disclosure under IPRA. When a law enforcement officer's employer performs an internal affairs investigation to investigate violations of the officer's terms of employment for the purpose of determining whether infractions occurred and whether disciplinary action should be taken, documents and reports prepared in furtherance of the investigation fall squarely within the "letters and memoranda that are matters of opinion in personnel files" exemption. Hall v. City of Carlsbad, 2023-NMCA-042.

Citizen complaints concerning law enforcement officer. — Citizen complaints regarding a law enforcement officer's conduct while performing the officer's duties as a public official are not the type of opinion material this is excluded from public inspection by Paragraph (3) of Subsection A of Section 14-2-1 NMSA 1978. Cox v. N.M. Dep't of Pub. Safety, 2010-NMCA-096, 148 N.M. 934, 242 P.3d 501, cert. granted, 2010-NMCERT-010, 149 N.M. 64, 243 P.3d 1146, cert. quashed, 2011-NMCERT-006, 150 N.M. 763, 266 P.3d 632.

Records of non-mandated university employment office. — Student complaints against man who utilized the services of university employment office to obtain domestic help by means of job postings were not "public records," since there was no legal mandate for the operation of the employment office, nor was there an obligation of the office to make or keep records of the complaints. Spadaro v. Univ. of N.M. Bd. of Regents, 1988-NMSC-064, 107 N.M. 402, 759 P.2d 189.

Personnel records of state university employees pertaining to illness may be confidential. — Personnel records of employees of state university which pertain to illness, injury, disability, inability to perform a job task and sick leave are considered confidential under this section and not subject to release to the public, except by the consent or waiver of the particular employee. State ex rel. Newsome v. Alarid, 1977-NMSC-076, 90 N.M. 790, 568 P.2d 1236.

Faculty salary matters are not public records until the culmination of the contract between the board and the individual thought processes, or the offer of a contract, are not such a public record as would require public inspection, so that the right to inspect records of the board of regents of a state university on the subject of salary contract negotiations before the task was completed should be denied. Sanchez v. Board of Regents, 1971-NMSC-065, 82 N.M. 672, 486 P.2d 608.

Meaning of "as otherwise provided by law". — The exception in Subsection F of this section incorporates an administrative regulation that effectuates the legislature's intent in enacting the Public Employee Bargaining Act [now repealed]; any benefit to the public from inspecting the representation petition filed under that act would be significantly outweighed by a public employee's privacy interest. City of Las Cruces v. Public Employee Labor Relations Bd., 1996-NMSC-024, 121 N.M. 688, 917 P.2d 451.

Enabling statute alone was insufficient to grant authority to declare public records exempt from disclosure. — Where plaintiff sought to enforce an inspection of public records request to the New Mexico corrections department (NMCD) seeking any and all records related to NMCD's use of force and its use of force policy, and where the NMCD asserted that the documents were exempt based on the "as otherwise provided by law" exemption set forth in 14-2-1(L) NMSA 1978, because NMCD's enabling statute permitted it to protect inmates by designating documents as confidential and that such a designation was sufficient to exempt the requested documents from production, and where the district court partially granted and partially denied plaintiff's motion for summary judgment, concluding that limited portions of the disputed records could properly be withheld, but that the remaining portions of the use of force policy and grievance reports were to be disclosed, the district court erred in determining that certain parts of the use of force policy and internal grievance reports could be withheld on the grounds that they were shown to be necessary for the administration of the corrections department, because a general enabling statute alone is insufficient to grant authority to declare public records exempt from disclosure of IPRA requirements. To exempt public records from disclosure pursuant to 14-2-1(L) NMSA 1978, there must be specific authorizing statutes that relate to the effects of disclosure and the confidentiality of the information. Am. Civ. Liberties Union of N.M. v. N.M. Corr. Dep't., 2024-NMCA-071, cert. granted.

Exception to public policy. — The legislature, in enacting 14-3-15.1 C NMSA 1978, intended to permit state agencies to specifically limit public use of a certain type of record, thereby creating an exception to the general public policy underlying the Inspection of Public Records Act. Crutchfield v. Taxation & Revenue Dep't., 2005-NMCA-022, 137 N.M. 26, 106 P.3d 1273.

Jury lists. — A jury list is a public record and the media are entitled to inspect and publish it. State ex rel. N.M. Press Ass'n v. Kaufman, 1982-NMSC-060, 98 N.M. 261, 648 P.2d 300.

Common-law concept. — The right of the public to inspect records which are in custody of a public officer is a common-law concept and exists even without statute. 1954 Op. Att'y Gen. No. 54-5933.

Public's right to inspection is not absolute. 1969 Op. Att'y Gen. No. 69-89.

Dissemination of information not necessarily included. — The right to inspect public records does not necessarily include the right to disseminate the information contained in those records. 1969 Op. Att'y Gen. No. 69-89.

Limited privacy of accused. — Section 29-10-4 NMSA 1978 protects the confidentiality of information concerning the identity of a person who has been accused, but not charged, with a crime only if that information has been collected in connection with an investigation of, or otherwise relates to, another person who has been charged with committing a crime. However, information in other records which identifies a person accused but not charged with or arrested for a crime may be protected from public disclosure under this section. Finally, even if it would otherwise be protected under either statute, information about a person accused but not charged with a crime is open to public inspection if it is contained in a document listed in 29-10-7 NMSA 1978. 1994 Op. Att'y Gen. No. 94-02.

Identity of individuals arrested or charged with crime not protected. — Neither the Arrest Record Information Act [27-10-1 NMSA 1978] nor the Inspection of Public Records Act [14-2-4 NMSA 1978] authorizes a law enforcement agency to protect the identity of persons who have been arrested or charged with a crime. 1994 Op. Att'y Gen. No. 94-02.

No defense to invasion of privacy action. — The right of inspection is no defense to an action for invasion of privacy based upon publication of matters which an individual has the right to keep private. 1969 Op. Att'y Gen. No. 69-89.

Criterion for determining what information is public record is whether the information is required by law to be kept or is necessarily kept in the discharge of a duty imposed by law. 1969 Op. Att'y Gen. No. 69-89.

Provisions of section contemplate some exception to the Public Records Act, 14-3-1 NMSA 1978 et seq. 1964 Op. Att'y Gen. No. 64-19.

Court opinions subject to inspection or copying. — The supreme court and the court of appeals are required to make available their current and past opinions to the public for inspection or for copying. 1979 Op. Att'y Gen. No. 79-14.

All records which do not deal with physical or mental examinations or medical treatment of patients are public records. This type of record would include payrolls, receipts and disbursements, etc. Any record which might fairly be called a record of examination of a patient or a record of medical treatment of a patient of any institution is not a public record and need not be submitted to public scrutiny. 1960 Op. Att'y Gen. No. 60-155.

Data compiled from case histories. — Case histories furnished by attending physicians on individual patients from which mortality data is to be taken are confidential records, but the data compiled from such case histories where the individual identity is lost are not confidential. 1959 Op. Att'y Gen. No. 59-158.

Workers' compensation claim files. — The workers' compensation division maintains workers' compensation claim files in the course of its statutory function of adjudicating claims filed by workers, which makes them public records within the meaning of state freedom of information laws. 1988 Op. Att'y Gen. 88-16.

Medical records introduced into evidence. — To the extent any medical records that otherwise are exempt from disclosure are introduced into evidence during the course of a formal workers' compensation hearing which is open to the public, such records lose their exempt status and may be inspected by the public. 1988 Op. Att'y Gen. No. 88-16.

Records of state penitentiary are public records and should be made available for public inspection in accordance with the provisions of this section. 1951 Op. Att'y Gen. No. 51-5342.

Public school records. — Business records, expenditures, daily attendance records and permanent records of an individual student's grades kept by the public schools are public records. 1961 Op. Att'y Gen. No. 61-137.

Public school records. — Any citizen of this state has a right to examine the public records of a school district when such records have been made a part of central records of such school district. This right to inspection is spelled out by statute, and the legislature has specified that the denial of such right of access is punishable as a misdemeanor. 1961 Op. Att'y Gen. No. 61-137.

Instructional material used in public school. — Local school boards have no authority to prohibit citizens of the state from inspecting instructional material used in a public school within the district. 1988 Op. Att'y Gen. No. 88-37.

Immunization records of school children are available to the public. 1959 Op. Att'y Gen. No. 59-158.

Names and addresses of teachers employed in New Mexico school systems which are contained in lists compiled by the department of education are public records. 1969 Op. Att'y Gen. No. 69-89.

Employee's file held by state personnel office. — Personnel actions, supervisor's ratings, arrest records, letters of commendation or condemnation from the employing agency, present employment history, the job application itself and educational history in an employee's file held by the state personnel office is a matter of public record. 1968 Op. Att'y Gen. No. 68-110.

Salary information pertaining to state employee which is possessed by the state personnel office is a matter of public record, since the state personnel director is required by law to establish and maintain a roster for all state employees showing the employee's pay rate, 10-9-12 NMSA 1978. 1968 Op. Att'y Gen. No. 68-110.

Job applicant's test score and position on eligibility list under 10-9-13 NMSA 1978, possessed by the state personnel office, is a public record. 1968 Op. Att'y Gen. No. 68-110.

Minutes of board of bar examiners meet the requirements of the definition of public records, and, as such, are required under the common law adopted by this state and also by this section, as amended, to be public records and, as such, are subject to the inspection of the public. 1954 Op. Att'y Gen. No. 54-5933.

Interstate stream commission. — Under the provisions of this section, any public records reflecting the work or action of the interstate stream commission are subject to public inspection. 1962 Op. Att'y Gen. No. 62-80.

County fair board. — Since the legislature has specifically granted counties the authority to conduct county fairs, a county fair board is an arm of the county and its records are county records which are subject to inspection as provided in this section and former 14-2-2 NMSA 1978. 1964 Op. Att'y Gen. No. 64-109.

Data of personal nature used in educating pupils not subject. — Such records or memoranda as may be kept by a teacher, or other school official, for informational purposes on individual students, and which may contain data of a personal nature for use in assisting teachers or school personnel in educating pupils, do not fall within the classification of public records entitled to be scrutinized by the public. 1961 Op. Att'y Gen. No. 61-137.

Temporary or partial grades or records kept by individual teachers are not public records. 1961 Op. Att'y Gen. No. 61-137.

Portions of applicant's file may be classified as confidential by state personnel board. — Not all records kept by a public officer are public records. The state personnel board has, within statutory limits, a limited and restricted right to classify certain portions of an applicant's file as confidential. Any portion which would be made available to the state only on a confidential and restricted basis may be treated by the state personnel board as confidential. This right, however, should be narrowly and restrictively applied. 1968 Op. Att'y Gen. No. 68-110.

Personnel file. — Under the rule-making authority of 10-9-10 and 10-9-13 NMSA 1978, the state personnel board has a limited and restricted right to classify as confidential certain portions of an individual's personnel file which would not otherwise be made available to the state unless on a confidential or restricted basis. 1964 Op. Att'y Gen. No. 64-19.

Medical history and employment history solicited from applicant's previous employer for 10-9-13 NMSA 1978 are not public records. 1968 Op. Att'y Gen. No. 68-110.

Criminal complaints. — Complaints filed in J. P. (now magistrate) court by district attorney and sheriff's office do not constitute public records when the person complained against has not been arrested and is not subject to public inspection. 1947 Op. Att'y Gen. No. 47-5074.

Information obtained under Mental Health and Developmental Disabilities Code. — A district court clerk may not release the information identified in 43-1-19A NMSA 1978, governing disclosure under the Mental Health and Developmental Disabilities Code, without obtaining the consent of the person to whom that information pertains. 1988 Op. Att'y Gen. No. 88-75.

Human services department [health care authority department] records. — Since other statutory provisions are made for inspection of records of the welfare department (now health care authority department), they are open for inspection only in accordance with 27-2-35. 1947 Op. Att'y Gen. No. 47-5032.

14-2-1.1. Personal identifier information.

Protected personal identifier information contained in public records may be redacted by a public body before inspection or copying of a record. The presence of protected personal identifier information on a record does not exempt the record from inspection. Unredacted records that contain protected personal identifier information shall not be made available on publicly accessible websites operated by or managed on behalf of a public body.

History: 1978 Comp., § 14-2-1.1, enacted by Laws 2019, ch. 27, § 2.

ANNOTATIONS

Effective dates. — Laws 2019, ch. 27 contained no effective date provision, but, pursuant to N.M. Const., art. IV, § 23, was effective June 14, 2019, 90 days after the adjournment of the legislature.

IPRA catchall "as otherwise provided by law" exception incorporates regulations having the force of law. — Based on the plain language of 14-2-1(L) NMSA 1978, the "catchall provision," and from its construction by New Mexico courts, it is apparent that the legislature's purpose is to allow the confidentiality provisions of other statutes, regulations, court rules, and constitutional privileges to be applied as exceptions to the Inspection of Public Records Act (IPRA) and to do so without the legislature having to enact each of them again as part of IPRA. Beck v. State ex rel. CYFD, 2024-NMCA-082, cert. denied.

CYFD regulation prohibiting the disclosure of foster parents' identifying information has the force of law and is incorporated by the catchall "as otherwise provided by law" exception. — Where the children, youth and families department (CYFD) redacted the names, email addresses, and physical addresses of CYFD licensed foster parents from its responses to plaintiff's requests for emails, text messages, and other meeting notes mentioning plaintiff by name, claiming that the names and other personally-identifying information of foster parents sought by plaintiff were exempt from disclosure under the catchall, "as otherwise provided by law" exception to IPRA inspection, 14-2-1(L) NMSA 1978, and where plaintiff claimed that 14-2-6(F) NMSA 1978 and 14-2-1.1 NMSA 1978, which together allow state agencies to redact certain "protected personal identifiers" from all documents prior to their inspection under IPRA, provide the exclusive list of personal identifying information that may be exempted from inspection by a public agency under IPRA, the district court erred in requiring CYFD to make available for inspection the personal identifying information of CYFD licensed foster parents, because CYFD's regulation protecting the personally identifying information of foster parents is a regulation having the force of law, enforceable under the "as otherwise provided by law" exception. Beck v. State ex rel. CYFD, 2024-NMCA-082, cert. denied.

14-2-1.2. Law enforcement records.

A. Law enforcement records are public records, except as provided by law and this subsection, and provided that the presence of nonpublic information may be redacted from a written record or digitally obscured in a visual or audio record, including:

(1) before charges are filed, names, addresses, contact information or protected personal identifier information of individuals who are victims of or non-law-enforcement witnesses to an alleged crime of:

(a) assault with intent to commit a violent felony pursuant to Section 30-3-3 NMSA 1978 when the violent felony is criminal sexual penetration;

(b) assault against a household member with intent to commit a violent felony pursuant to Section 30-3-14 NMSA 1978 when the violent felony is criminal sexual penetration;

(c) stalking pursuant to Section 30-3A-3 NMSA 1978;

(d) aggravated stalking pursuant to Section 30-3A-3.1 NMSA 1978;

(e) criminal sexual penetration pursuant to Section 30-9-11 NMSA 1978;

(f) criminal sexual contact pursuant to Section 30-9-12 NMSA 1978; or

(g) sexual exploitation of children pursuant to Section 30-6A-3 NMSA 1978;

(2) before charges are filed, names, addresses, contact information or protected personal identifier information of individuals who are accused but not charged with a crime;

(3) visual depiction of a dead body, unless a law enforcement officer, acting in that capacity, caused or is reasonably alleged or suspected to have caused the death;

(4) visual depiction of great bodily harm, as defined in Section 30-1-12 NMSA 1978, or acts of severe violence resulting in great bodily harm, unless a law enforcement officer, acting in that capacity, caused or is reasonably alleged or suspected to have caused the great bodily harm or act of severe violence;

(5) visual depiction of an individual's intimate body parts, including the genitals, pubic area, anus or postpubescent female nipple, whether nude or visible through less than opaque clothing;

(6) visual or audio depiction of the notification to a member of the public of a family member's death;

(7) confidential sources, methods or information; or

(8) records pertaining to physical or mental examination and medical treatment of persons unless the information could be relevant to a criminal investigation or an investigation of misfeasance, malfeasance or other suspected violation of law conducted by a person elected to or employed by a public body.

B. A request for release of video or audio shall specify at least one of the following:

(1) the computer-aided dispatch record number;

(2) the police report number;

(3) the date or date range with reasonable specificity and at least one of the following:

(a) the name of a law enforcement officer or first responder;

(b) the approximate time; or

(c) the approximate location; or

(4) other criteria established and published by a law enforcement agency to facilitate access to videos.

C. Except for confidential sources, methods or information, a request to view video or hear audio on-site of a public body is not subject to the restrictions in Subsections A and B of this section. Any recording or copying of video or audio from such viewing or listening is subject to the restrictions in this section.

D. As used in this section, "law enforcement records" includes evidence in any form received or compiled in connection with a criminal investigation or prosecution by a law enforcement or prosecuting agency, including inactive matters or closed investigations to the extent that they contain the information listed in this subsection; provided that the presence of such information on a law enforcement record does not exempt the record from inspection.

14-2-4. Short title.

Chapter 14, Article 2 NMSA 1978 may be cited as the "Inspection of Public Records Act".

History: Laws 1993, ch. 258, § 1.

14-2-5. Purpose of act; declaration of public policy.

Recognizing that a representative government is dependent upon an informed electorate, the intent of the legislature in enacting the Inspection of Public Records Act [Chapter 14, Article 2 NMSA 1978] is to ensure, and it is declared to be the public policy of this state, that all persons are entitled to the greatest possible information regarding the affairs of government and the official acts of public officers and employees. It is the further intent of the legislature, and it is declared to be the public policy of this state, that to provide persons with such information is an essential function of a representative government and an integral part of the routine duties of public officers and employees.

History: Laws 1993, ch. 258, § 2.

ANNOTATIONS

Purpose and intent. — The legislature has clearly and unequivocally indicated that public records are to be made public with the exception of certain confidential information and except as otherwise provided by law. 1958 Op. Att'y Gen. No. 58-197.

A state agency is a "person", for purposes of IPRA, and may request public records from other state agencies. — Where the state ethics commission (commission) sent a public records request, pursuant to the Inspection of Public Records Act (IPRA), NMSA 1978, §§ 14-2-1 to -12, to the New Mexico human services department [health care authority department] (department), asking the department to provide copies of certain emails from several named employees, and where the department denied the request claiming that the commission, itself a "public body" for the purposes of IPRA, is not a "person" entitled to make public records requests, the department erred in denying the commission's public records request, because a public body is an "entity," within the definition of "person," § 14-2-6(D), and therefore the plain language of IPRA demonstrates that public bodies can submit public records requests to other public bodies. This reading of the statute is also consistent with IPRA's declared purpose, that all persons are entitled to the greatest possible information regarding the affairs of government and the official acts of public officers and employees. Public Records Requests Made by the State Ethics Comm'n (10/27/21), Att'y Gen. Adv. Ltr. 2021-12.

A private entity was subject to the Inspection of Public Records Act. — Where the municipality acquired a public access channel and adopted an ordinance that required the municipality to be responsible for management of the access channel and to adopt rules, regulations and procedures for the use of the access channel; the municipality contracted with a private entity to operate the access channel; the operation agreement required the private entity to operate the access channel in a manner that was consistent with the ordinance; the municipality funded the private entity with an annual grant that was released to the private entity when it gave the municipality an annual activity plan and budget; the private entity was required to account for how the funds were spent; for a nominal rent, the municipality leased the basement of the municipal civic center to the private entity to use as the public access television center; the municipality had the right to terminate the operating agreement without cause; the operating agreement identified the private entity as an independent contractor and stated that no principal or agent relationship existed between the municipality and the private entity; and the municipality denied plaintiff's request for recordings of city commission meetings that the private entity had recorded and played on the access channel, the private entity was acting on behalf of the municipality in its role as the access channel operational organization, and the recordings of city commission meetings made by the private entity were public records subject to inspection. State ex rel. Toomey v. City of Truth or Consequences, 2012-NMCA-104, 287 P.3d 364.

Settlement agreement documents were public records. — Where respondent, a private prison medical services provider that provided contracted healthcare services for the New Mexico corrections department (NMCD), negotiated and settled at least fifty-nine civil claims alleging instances of improper care and/or sexual assault of inmates, and where petitioners submitted written requests pursuant to the Inspection of Public Records Act seeking all settlement documents involving respondent in its role as medical services contractor for NMCD, the district court did not err in issuing a writ of mandamus ordering respondent to produce the settlement agreements and pay petitioners' reasonable attorney fees, because the settlement agreements were created as a result of respondent's public function acting on behalf of NMCD. Third-party settlement agreements resulting from medical care provided under a contract with the state are public documents subject to disclosure. N.M. Found. for Open Gov't v. Corizon Health, 2020-NMCA-014, cert. denied.

Definition of "public records" in Public Records Act (14-3-1 to 14-3-16 NMSA 1978) does not apply to section, the Inspection of Public Records Act. State ex rel. Newsome v. Alarid, 1977-NMSC-076, 90 N.M. 790, 568 P.2d 1236.

"Relate to public business" construed. — Where plaintiff submitted an IPRA request to the New Mexico department of game and fish (NMDGF) seeking the names and email address given by all applicants for hunting licenses in 2015 and 2016, which NMDGF determined amounted to over 300,000 entries, and where NMDGF concluded that plaintiff's request sought personal identifier information that did not constitute a public record subject to disclosure and agreed to produce only the applicants' names, the district court did not err in granting plaintiff's motion for summary judgment because IPRA's definition of "relating to public business" means that the requested records are connected to governmental affairs or official actions by or on behalf of public bodies, and therefore the email addresses NMDGF collected in connection with its licensing system constitute public records that are subject to disclosure. Dunn v. N.M. Dep't of Game & Fish, 2020-NMCA-026.

IPRA catchall "as otherwise provided by law" exception incorporates regulations having the force of law. — Based on the plain language of 14-2-1(L) NMSA 1978, the "catchall provision," and from its construction by New Mexico courts, it is apparent that the legislature's purpose is to allow the confidentiality provisions of other statutes, regulations, court rules, and constitutional privileges to be applied as exceptions to the Inspection of Public Records Act (IPRA) and to do so without the legislature having to enact each of them again as part of IPRA. Beck v. State ex rel. CYFD, 2024-NMCA-082, cert. denied.

CYFD regulation prohibiting the disclosure of foster parents' identifying information has the force of law and is incorporated by the catchall "as otherwise provided by law" exception. — Where the children, youth and families department (CYFD) redacted the names, email addresses, and physical addresses of CYFD licensed foster parents from its responses to plaintiff's requests for emails, text messages, and other meeting notes mentioning plaintiff by name, claiming that the names and other personally-identifying information of foster parents sought by plaintiff were exempt from disclosure under the catchall, "as otherwise provided by law" exception to IPRA inspection, 14-2-1(L) NMSA 1978, and where plaintiff claimed that 14-2-6(F) NMSA 1978 and 14-2-1.1 NMSA 1978, which together allow state agencies to redact certain "protected personal identifiers" from all documents prior to their inspection under IPRA, provide the exclusive list of personal identifying information that may be exempted from inspection by a public agency under IPRA, the district court erred in requiring CYFD to make available for inspection the personal identifying information of CYFD licensed foster parents, because CYFD's regulation protecting the personally identifying information of foster parents is a regulation having the force of law, enforceable under the "as otherwise provided by law" exception. Beck v. State ex rel. CYFD, 2024-NMCA-082, cert. denied.

Faculty salary matters are not public records until the culmination of the contract between the board and the individual; thought processes, or the offer of a contract, are not such a public record as would require public inspection, so that the right to inspect records of the board of regents of a state university on the subject of salary contract negotiations before the task was completed should be denied. Sanchez v. Board of Regents, 1971-NMSC-065, 82 N.M. 672, 486 P.2d 608.

Term "public records" is intended to include all papers or memoranda in the possession of public officers which are required by law to be kept by them. 1966 Op. Att'y Gen. No. 66-131.

Public records. — Elements essential to constitute a public record are that it be made by a public officer and that the officer be authorized by law to make it. 1963 Op. Att'y Gen. No. 63-55.

A state agency is a "person", for purposes of IPRA, and may request public records from other state agencies. — Where the state ethics commission (commission) sent a public records request, pursuant to the Inspection of Public Records Act (IPRA), NMSA 1978, §§ 14-2-1 to -12, to the New Mexico human services department [health care authority department] (department), asking the department to provide copies of certain emails from several named employees, and where the department denied the request claiming that the commission, itself a "public body" for the purposes of IPRA, is not a "person" entitled to make public records requests, the department erred in denying the commission's public records request, because a public body is an "entity," within the definition of "person," § 14-2-6(D), and therefore the plain language of IPRA demonstrates that public bodies can submit public records requests to other public bodies. This reading of the statute is also consistent with IPRA's declared purpose, that all persons are entitled to the greatest possible information regarding the affairs of government and the official acts of public officers and employees. Public Records Requests Made by the State Ethics Comm'n (10/27/21), Att'y Gen. Adv. Ltr. 2021-12.

14-2-7. Designation of custodian; duties.

Each public body shall designate at least one custodian of public records who shall:

- A. receive requests, including electronic mail or facsimile, to inspect public records;
- B. respond to requests in the same medium, electronic or paper, in which the request was made in addition to any other medium that the custodian deems appropriate;
- C. provide proper and reasonable opportunities to inspect public records;
- D. provide reasonable facilities to make or furnish copies of the public records during usual business hours; and
- E. post in a conspicuous location at the administrative office and on the publicly accessible web site, if any, of each public body a notice describing:
  - (1) the right of a person to inspect a public body's records;
  - (2) procedures for requesting inspection of public records, including the contact information for the custodian of public records;
  - (3) procedures for requesting copies of public records;
  - (4) reasonable fees for copying public records; and
  - (5) the responsibility of a public body to make available public records for inspection.

History: Laws 1993, ch. 258, § 4; 2001, ch. 204, § 1; 2011, ch. 182, § 2.

ANNOTATIONS

The 2011 amendment, effective June 17, 2011, in Subsection A, after "receive requests" added "including electronic mail or facsimile"; added Subsection B and relettered succeeding subsections; in Subsection E, after "administrative office", added "and on the publicly accessible web site, if any"; and in Subsection E(2), added "including the contact information for the custodian of public records" at the end of the sentence.

The 2001 amendment, effective June 15, 2001, added Subsection D.

Department of public safety failed to provide inmate a proper and reasonable opportunity to inspect public records. — Where plaintiff, a prisoner at the New Mexico state penitentiary, sought to inspect department of public safety (DPS) records, pursuant to the Inspection of Public Records Act (IPRA), §§ 14-2-1 through 14-2-12 NMSA 1978, connected to the investigation and prosecution that led to plaintiff's murder conviction, and where DPS first submitted a $90.00 invoice which requested payment prior to mailing the records, and, in a second response, informed plaintiff that physical inspection of the records was available at the DPS offices during business hours, and where plaintiff filed a complaint in district court, alleging that DPS unreasonably failed to make responsive documents available to plaintiff and thus violated IPRA, and where the district court granted summary judgment to DPS, finding that DPS's request for payment for copies did not violate IPRA, and that defendants provided reasonable access for physical inspection of public records by allowing physical inspection of the records at the DPS offices, the district court erred in granting summary judgment in favor of DPS, because, although charging a fee for copies was proper and in conformance with IPRA, the DPS's response that inspection was available at the DPS offices was unreasonable under the circumstances when DPS knew that plaintiff was incarcerated. An offer to an incarcerated person of an opportunity to visit a location outside the place of incarceration during business hours is not reasonable under the circumstances and does not align with the legislature's clearly asserted public policy that to provide persons with such information is an essential function of a representative government and an integral part of the routine duties of public officers and employees. Franklin v. Dep't of Pub. Safety, 2022-NMCA-058.

Transferring duty as custodian prohibited. — By reason of this section, the records of the director of the department of public health (now secretary of health) are, in some instances, not open to public inspection, and the duty of the custodian of those records, to wit, the director of public health (now secretary), in the maintenance of the secrecy of those records would prohibit him, the governor or any other person from transferring the duty as custodian of the records to any other person. 1954 Op. Att'y Gen. No. 54-5943.

14-2-8. Procedure for requesting records.

A. Any person wishing to inspect public records may submit an oral or written request to the custodian. However, the procedures set forth in this section shall be in response to a written request. The failure to respond to an oral request shall not subject the custodian to any penalty.

B. Nothing in the Inspection of Public Records Act shall be construed to require a public body to create a public record.

C. A written request shall provide the name, address and telephone number of the person seeking access to the records and shall identify the records sought with reasonable particularity. No person requesting records shall be required to state the reason for inspecting the records.

D. A custodian receiving a written request shall permit the inspection immediately or as soon as is practicable under the circumstances, but not later than fifteen days after receiving a written request. If the inspection is not permitted within three business days, the custodian shall explain in writing when the records will be available for inspection or when the public body will respond to the request. The three-day period shall not begin until the written request is delivered to the office of the custodian.

E. In the event that a written request is not made to the custodian having possession of or responsibility for the public records requested, the person receiving the request shall promptly forward the request to the custodian of the requested public records, if known, and notify the requester. The notification to the requester shall state the reason for the absence of the records from that person's custody or control, the records' location and the name and address of the custodian.

F. For the purposes of this section, "written request" includes an electronic communication, including email or facsimile; provided that the request complies with the requirements of Subsection C of this section.

History: Laws 1993, ch. 258, § 5; 2009, ch. 75, § 1.

ANNOTATIONS

The 2009 amendment, effective June 19, 2009, added Subsection F.

Documenting an oral request for public records does not convert an oral request into a written request for purposes of the Inspection of Public Records Act. —

Where news reporter orally requested police lapel videos from the Albuquerque Police Department (APD), and where APD public information officer e-mailed the APD records custodian with the request for public records, the e-mail documenting the records request did not convert the oral request for public records into a written request for public records subjecting the records custodian to penalties pursuant to this section. Holland v. City of Albuquerque, 2015-NMCA-014.

14-2-9. Procedure for inspection.

A. Requested public records containing information that is exempt and nonexempt from disclosure shall be separated by the custodian prior to inspection, and the nonexempt information shall be made available for inspection. If necessary to preserve the integrity of computer data or the confidentiality of exempt information contained in a database, a partial printout of data containing public records or information may be furnished in lieu of an entire database. Exempt information in an electronic document shall be removed along with the corresponding metadata prior to disclosure by utilizing methods or redaction tools that prevent the recovery of exempt information from a redacted electronic document.

B. A custodian shall provide a copy of a public record in electronic format if the public record is available in electronic format and an electronic copy is specifically requested. However, a custodian is only required to provide the electronic record in the file format in which it exists at the time of the request.

C. A custodian:

(1) may charge reasonable fees for copying the public records, unless a different fee is otherwise prescribed by law;

(2) shall not charge fees in excess of one dollar ($1.00) per printed page for documents eleven inches by seventeen inches in size or smaller;

(3) may charge the actual costs associated with downloading copies of public records to a computer disk or storage device, including the actual cost of the computer disk or storage device;

(4) may charge the actual costs associated with transmitting copies of public records by mail, electronic mail or facsimile;

(5) may require advance payment of the fees before making copies of public records;

(6) shall not charge a fee for the cost of determining whether any public record is subject to disclosure; and

(7) shall provide a receipt, upon request.

D. Nothing in this section regarding the provision of public data in electronic format shall limit the ability of the custodian to engage in the sale of data as authorized by Sections 14-3-15.1 and 14-3-18 NMSA 1978, including imposing reasonable restrictions on the use of the database and the payment of a royalty or other consideration.

History: Laws 1993, ch. 258, § 6; 2011, ch. 181, § 2; 2011, ch. 182, § 3; 2013, ch. 117, § 2.

ANNOTATIONS

The 2013 amendment, effective April 2, 2013, expanded the authority to sell data; and in Subsection D, after "Sections 14-3-15.1", added "and 14-3-18".

The 2011 amendment, effective June 17, 2011, added the last sentence in Subsection A; added Subsection B and relettered the succeeding subsection; in Subsection C, added Subparagraphs (3) and (4), and renumbered the succeeding subparagraphs; and added a new Subsection D.

Right subject to reasonable restrictions and conditions. — The right to inspect public records commonly carries with it the right to make copies thereof, subject, however, to reasonable restrictions and conditions imposed as to their use, reasonable regulations as to appropriate times when and places where they may be inspected and copied and such reasonable supervision by the custodian thereof as may be necessary for their safety and as will secure equal opportunity for all to inspect and copy them. Ortiz v. Jaramillo, 1971-NMSC-041, 82 N.M. 445, 483 P.2d 500.

Exception for letters and memoranda apply to entire document. — Where plaintiff filed a complaint in district court seeking a writ of mandamus or a court order compelling the livestock board (board) to disclose an investigative report produced by an outside firm retained by the board to investigate allegations that a particular board inspector had committed timesheet fraud by billing the board for his time while working at a second job, and where plaintiff claimed that the board's custodian of records was required to separate "matters of fact" from "matters of opinion" in the report and produce the matters of fact for inspection, the district court did not err in granting the board's motion for summary judgment, because the plain language of the exemption in NMSA 1978, 14-2-1(C) applies to letters or memoranda that are matters of opinion in personnel files in their entirety, and NMSA 1978, 14-2-9(A), by its plain language, does not require a custodian of records to separate exempt from nonexempt information when an exemption applies to a document as a whole, which § 14-2-1(C) does. Henry v. Gauman, 2023-NMCA-078, cert. denied.

Recording Act governs real property records request. — Where plaintiff corporation sought all of Lea county's real property image and index records, the production provisions of the Recording Act, 14-8-1 through 14-8-17 NMSA 1978, rather than those of the Inspection of Public Records Act (IPRA), 14-2-1 through 14-2-12 NMSA 1978, governed the county's obligation in responding to plaintiff's records request, because IPRA creates a records inspection scheme of general application granting, with various exceptions, a right to inspect public records of this state, and the Recording Act more specifically provides a mechanism by which prospective purchasers can examine real property records, and places on county clerks associated duties to make these records available and searchable for the public. TexasFile LLC v. Board of Cty. Comm'rs of Lea Cty., 2019-NMCA-038, cert. denied.

There is not a blanket exception from inspection for law enforcement records relating to an ongoing criminal investigation. — Where plaintiff sent a written request to the department of public safety (DPS) pursuant to IPRA for various records relating to the shooting death of his brother, and where DPS produced a primary incident report, the personnel records of one of the officers involved, and one subpoena, but denied production of all other pertinent records in its possession, claiming that the release of the requested information posed a demonstrable and serious threat to an ongoing criminal investigation and that the FBI asked DPS to withhold the records in order to maintain the integrity of its investigation, the district court erred in denying plaintiff's motion for summary judgment and in granting DPS's motion for summary judgment, because § 14-2-1 NMSA 1978 does not create a blanket exception from inspection of law enforcement records relating to an ongoing criminal investigation, and DPS did not present evidence that any specific records that it refused to produce revealed confidential sources, methods, information or individuals accused but not charged with a crime, nor did DPS present any evidence that it reviewed the requested records to separate the exempt from nonexempt information, or that it provided any nonexempt information existing within records containing exempt information. Jones v. N.M. Dep't of Public Safety, 2020-NMSC-013, rev'g No. A-1-CA-35120, mem. op. (May 10, 2018) (non-precedential).

Right to make copies. — The right to inspect or examine public records commonly includes the right of making copies thereof as the right to inspect would be valueless without this correlative right. 1959 Op. Att'y Gen. No. 59-170.

It is permissible for an individual or a company such as an abstractor to photocopy voter registrations in the offices of the county clerks so long as adequate precautions are taken to ensure the integrity of the records and to preserve their availability for inspection by others. 1959 Op. Att'y Gen. No. 59-170.

Charges not to be imposed. — A charge of $25.00 per month may not be imposed by counties upon abstract and title companies for such facilities as lights, telephone and janitorial services to reimburse the counties therefor in connection with abstract and title companies inspecting and copying public records, because this practice amounts to a denial of the right to inspect records. 1957 Op. Att'y Gen. No. 57-102.

Public's right to inspection is not absolute. 1969 Op. Att'y Gen. No. 69-89.

Court opinions subject to inspection or copying. — The supreme court and the court of appeals are required to make available their current and past opinions to the public for inspection or for copying. 1979 Op. Att'y Gen. No. 79-14.

Reimbursement or other consideration to courts for copying costs. — The supreme court and the court of appeals should require reasonable reimbursement for the costs incurred by them for copying opinions for the public or for retrieving their opinions for inspection. However, such a charge need not be made in those cases in which the courts receive some other form of consideration in return for supplying their opinions to private individuals or enterprises. 1979 Op. Att'y Gen. No. 79-14.

14-2-10. Procedure for excessively burdensome or broad requests.

If a custodian determines that a written request is excessively burdensome or broad, an additional reasonable period of time shall be allowed to comply with the request. The custodian shall provide written notification to the requester within fifteen days of receipt of the request that additional time will be needed to respond to the written request. The requester may deem the request denied and may pursue the remedies available pursuant to the Inspection of Public Records Act if the custodian does not permit the records to be inspected in a reasonable period of time.

History: Laws 1993, ch. 258, § 7.

ANNOTATIONS

Custodian may make reasonable restrictions and conditions on access. — Fact that request for inspection would pose an extreme burden on personnel office of state university was not a legitimate reason, by itself, for failure to make records available for inspection or for copying, but custodian could make reasonable restrictions and conditions on access to the records. Reasonable regulations could be made as to times when and places where they may be inspected or copied, and custodian could insist upon reasonable supervision for the safekeeping of the records. State ex rel. Newsome v. Alarid, 1977-NMSC-076, 90 N.M. 790, 568 P.2d 1236.

14-2-11. Procedure for denied requests.

A. Unless a written request has been determined to be excessively burdensome or broad, a written request for inspection of public records that has not been permitted within fifteen days of receipt by the office of the custodian may be deemed denied. The person requesting the public records may pursue the remedies provided in the Inspection of Public Records Act.

B. If a written request has been denied, the custodian shall provide the requester with a written explanation of the denial. The written denial shall:

- (1) describe the records sought;
- (2) set forth the names and titles or positions of each person responsible for the denial; and

(3) be delivered or mailed to the person requesting the records within fifteen days after the request for inspection was received.

C. A custodian who does not deliver or mail a written explanation of denial within fifteen days after receipt of a written request for inspection is subject to an action to enforce the provisions of the Inspection of Public Records Act and the requester may be awarded damages. Damages shall:

(1) be awarded if the failure to provide a timely explanation of denial is determined to be unreasonable;

(2) not exceed one hundred dollars ($100) per day;

(3) accrue from the day the public body is in noncompliance until a written denial is issued; and

(4) be payable from the funds of the public body.

History: Laws 1993, ch. 258, § 8.

ANNOTATIONS

In camera review. — When a public entity seeks to withhold public records, in camera review is most efficient, if not imperative. The public entity must designate the sealed records for review by the court. Board of Comm'rs v. Las Cruces Sun-News, 2003-NMCA-102, 134 N.M. 283, 76 P.3d 36.

County not permitted to circumvent established procedure of in camera review. — Where a county sought to circumvent the procedure outlined in State ex rel. Newsome v. Alarid, 1977-NMSC-076, 90 N.M. 790, 568 P.2d 1236, for in camera review of disputed documents by filing a motion for a protective order and asserting to the district court that it could only consider the settlement records if the motion for protective order was granted, the county's decision to bypass established procedure effectively obstructed full review by the district court and the court of appeals and the district court did not abuse its discretion in denying the motion for protective order. Board of Comm'rs v. Las Cruces Sun-News, 2003-NMCA-102, 134 N.M. 283, 76 P.3d 36.

The threshold requirements for an in camera inspection are that the custodian of the records must first determine whether the person requesting disclosure is a citizen and whether the request is for a lawful purpose; second, the custodian must justify why the records should not be furnished. State ex rel. Blanchard v. City Comm'rs, 1988-NMCA-008, 106 N.M. 769, 750 P.2d 469.

Justification for refusing to release records. — Fact that information was obtained under a promise of confidentiality, standing alone, would not suffice to preclude disclosure. The promise would have to coincide with reasonable justification, based on public policy, for refusing to release the records. Furthermore, the justification would have to be articulated by the custodian for the record. State ex rel. Newsome v. Alarid, 1977-NMSC-076, 90 N.M. 790, 568 P.2d 1236.

Duty of custodian to determine whether information can be justifiably withheld. —

There may be circumstances under which the information contained in the record can be justifiably withheld. The custodian has the initial duty to make this determination as to each record requested. He must first determine that the person requesting access is a citizen and that he is requesting the information for a lawful purpose. The burden is upon the custodian to justify why the records sought to be examined should not be furnished. It shall then be the court's duty to determine whether the explanation of the custodian is reasonable and to weigh the benefits to be derived from nondisclosure against the harm which may result if the records are not made available. State ex rel. Newsome v. Alarid, 1977-NMSC-076, 90 N.M. 790, 568 P.2d 1236.

The attorney general failed to establish a prima facie case for summary judgment on the inspection of public records exception for attorney-client privilege, as extended by the common interest doctrine. — Where plaintiff requested inspection of common interest agreements entered into by the New Mexico office of the attorney general (OAG) with other states' offices of the attorney general, as well as correspondence and emails relating to the formation of these agreements, and where the OAG responded to the requests by withholding some responsive documents altogether, without disclosing that any documents were being withheld, producing some documents with all but a "privileged or confidential" stamp redacted, and producing other documents with multiple lengthy redactions, claiming that the redactions were supported by the Inspection of Public Records Act (IPRA) exception for law enforcement records or because the redactions constituted confidential attorney-client communications and protected attorney work-product, and where plaintiff challenged both the withholding of some documents and the heavy redaction of the documents provided, claiming that none of the cited IPRA exceptions supported the denial of responsive information, and where the OAG filed a motion for summary judgment arguing that its blanket assertion of attorney-client privilege and/or work-product, together with its assertion of good faith, established a prima facie case justifying the denial of inspection of unidentified, withheld documents, as well as the redactions it made on the documents that were produced, the district court erred in granting the OAG's motion for summary judgment, because the OAG failed to establish a prima facie case for summary judgment on either the IPRA exception for attorney-client privilege, as extended by the common interest doctrine, or the catchall exception for attorney work-product. A generalized assertion of privilege or immunity, even if the public agency asserts the privilege or immunity in good faith, is not sufficient to establish a prima facie case of compliance with IPRA supporting summary judgment. Energy Pol'y Advoc. v. Balderas, 2024-NMCA-081.

Denial of request to review applications for position of city manager. — A municipality's denial of a request to inspect applications received by the municipality for the position of city manager on the grounds that disclosure of the applications would deter potential applicants and reduce the quality and scope of the applicant pool was insufficient, under the rule of reason, to outweigh the public's interest in disclosure. City of Farmington v. The Daily Times, 2009-NMCA-057, 146 N.M. 349, 210 P.3d 246.

The Inspection of Public Records Act provides for two separate remedies. — This section and 14-2-12 NMSA 1978 create separate remedies depending on the stage of the Inspection of Public Records Act (IPRA) request. This section requires a public entity to respond to a records request within fifteen days unless the request has been determined to be excessively burdensome or broad. If the request is denied, the custodian shall provide the requester with a written explanation of the denial. It is when the custodian fails to respond to a request or deliver a written explanation of the denial that the public entity is subject to damages pursuant to this section. The enforcement and damages provisions of 14-2-12 NMSA 1978 apply in an action for the post-denial enforcement of the IPRA request. Faber v. King, 2015-NMSC-015, rev'g 2013-NMCA-080, 306 P.3d 519.

Where the attorney general's office received a request for public records pursuant to the Inspection of Public Records Act (IPRA) and denied the request the next day, damages pursuant to this section were not applicable because the attorney general's office timely answered the request with a denial by following the denial procedures set out in this section. When the district court held that the attorney general's office wrongfully withheld the public records, the enforcement and damages provisions of 14-2-12(D) NMSA 1978 applied. Faber v. King, 2015-NMSC-015, rev'g 2013-NMCA-080, 306 P.3d 519.

Separate remedies distinguished. — Section 14-2-11 NMSA 1978 is focused on deterring nonresponsiveness and noncompliance by public bodies in the first instance, while 14-2-12 NMSA 1978 is focused on making whole a person who, believing his or her right of inspection has been impermissibly denied, brings a successful enforcement action. Britton v. Office of the Att'y Gen., 2019-NMCA-002.

Incomplete or inadequate responses to IPRA requests. — Where plaintiff made a request for documents from the Attorney General's Office (AGO) pursuant to the Inspection of Public Records Act, §§ 14-2-1 to -12 NMSA 1978, and where the AGO incompletely and inadequately responded to the request, the district court erred in concluding that plaintiff's action is exclusively one that proceeds under 14-2-12 NMSA 1978 and limiting the damages plaintiff can recover to actual damages under Subsection D of that provision, because a public body that permits only partial inspection, that is inspection of some but not all nonexempt responsive records, has not complied with its obligation to provide the greatest possible information regarding the affairs of government. Britton v. Office of the Att'y Gen., 2019-NMCA-002.

Remedy for inadequate response to IPRA request. — Where plaintiff made a request for documents from the Attorney General's Office (AGO) pursuant to the Inspection of Public Records Act, §§ 14-2-1 to -12 NMSA 1978, and where the AGO failed to permit inspection of approximately 350 records that were responsive to plaintiff's request and for which no claim of exemption was ever asserted or written explanation of denial issued, the district court erred in concluding that plaintiff's action is exclusively one that proceeds under 14-2-12 NMSA 1978 and limiting the damages plaintiff can recover to actual damages under Subsection D of that provision, because the AGO's failure to either produce for inspection or deliver or mail a written explanation of denial regarding the 350 documents is the type of wrong that 14-2-11 NMSA 1978's statutory penalty seeks to remedy. Britton v. Office of the Att'y Gen., 2019-NMCA-002.

Pleading an action for enforcement of IPRA against a private entity. — To plead an action for enforcement of the Inspection of Public Records Act (IPRA), 14-2-1 to 14-2-12 NMSA 1978, against a private entity, a plaintiff must simply allege that the records sought are public records arising out of the private entity's performance of a public function and that the private entity has failed to comply with IPRA via the manner outlined in either 14-2-11(C) NMSA 1978 or 14-2-12(D) NMSA 1978. Franklin v. Keefe Commissary Network, 2024-NMCA-070.

Records arising out of a private entity's performance of a public function and on behalf of a public entity are subject to IPRA. — Where plaintiff, a state inmate, requested records regarding commissary prices for state prisoners, pursuant to the New Mexico Inspection of Public Records Act (IPRA), 14-2-1 to 14-2-12 NMSA 1978, from defendant, a private corporation contracting with the New Mexico corrections department (NMCD) to operate an inmate commissary program at New Mexico state facilities, based on plaintiff's belief that prices were not set at fair market value, and where, upon receiving no response from defendant, plaintiff filed a complaint to enforce IPRA, and where defendant filed a pretrial motion to dismiss, arguing that defendant was not subject to IPRA because it is a private entity, the district court erred in granting defendant's motion to dismiss, because the records sought were public records arising out of defendant's performance of a public function and on behalf of a public entity. Plaintiff established under the facts of the complaint that defendant may be subject to IPRA. Franklin v. Keefe Commissary Network, 2024-NMCA-070.

The Electronic Communications Privacy Act is not an exception to disclosure of public records. — Where the state ethics commission (commission) sent a public records request to the New Mexico human services department [health care authority department] (department), asking the department to provide copies of certain emails from several named employees, and where the department denied the request claiming that the Electronic Communications Privacy Act (ECPA), NMSA 1978, § 10-16F-1 to -6, operates as an exception to disclosure through the Inspection of Public Records Act (IPRA), NMSA 1978, §§ 14-2-1 to -12, because the commission may obtain the requested records through a subpoena, the department erred in denying the commission's public records request, because the commission's ability to obtain public records through a subpoena does not mean that it is unable to seek the same records through IPRA, and nothing in the ECPA's text suggests that the legislature intended the statute to operate as an exception to disclosure through IPRA. Public Records Requests Made by the State Ethics Comm'n (10/27/21), Att'y Gen. Adv. Ltr. 2021-12.

14-2-12. Enforcement.

A. An action to enforce the Inspection of Public Records Act may be brought by:

- (1) the attorney general or the district attorney in the county of jurisdiction; or
- (2) a person whose written request has been denied.

B. A district court may issue a writ of mandamus or order an injunction or other appropriate remedy to enforce the provisions of the Inspection of Public Records Act.

C. The exhaustion of administrative remedies shall not be required prior to bringing any action to enforce the procedures of the Inspection of Public Records Act.

D. The court shall award damages, costs and reasonable attorneys' fees to any person whose written request has been denied and is successful in a court action to enforce the provisions of the Inspection of Public Records Act.

History: Laws 1993, ch. 258, § 9.

ANNOTATIONS

A district court is without constitutional jurisdiction to enforce an IPRA action against another court of equal or superior jurisdiction. — In a superintending control proceeding arising from an Inspection of Public Records Act (IPRA) action filed in the fifth judicial district court (district court), where the real party in interest, a party to a civil case in the first judicial district court, sought to inspect email communications related to a draft copy of a preliminary injunction order that a first judicial district court judge (judge) had been preparing for issuance in the underlying civil case and the contents of a personal election Facebook page maintained by the judge, not only did the enforcement action fail to name the proper defendant, because the designated records custodian is the only official who is assigned IPRA compliance duties, but because the action was a coercive judgment ordering production under IPRA, the fifth judicial district court had no constitutional jurisdiction to litigate any aspect of an IPRA enforcement action against the first judicial district court, because Article VI, Section 13 of the New Mexico constitution prohibits a district court from issuing writs of mandamus or injunction directed to judges or courts of equal or superior jurisdiction. Pacheco v. Hudson, 2018-NMSC-022.

An undisclosed principal cannot, as a plaintiff in an enforcement action, enforce a denial of records requested by its agent. San Juan Agric. Water Users Ass'n v. KNME-TV, 2010-NMCA-012, 147 N.M. 643, 227 P.3d 612, aff'd in part, rev'd in part, 2011-NMSC-011, 150 N.M. 64, 257 P.3d 884.

Undisclosed principal. — A principal, whether disclosed or not, can delegate the function of requesting public records to an agent, such as the principal's attorney, and either the agent or the principal, even if previously unknown to the public records custodian, can enforce the request if it is denied. San Juan Agric. Water Users Ass'n v. KNME-TV, 2011-NMSC-011, 150 N.M. 64, 257 P.3d 884, rev'g 2010-NMCA-012, 147 N.M. 643, 227 P.3d 612.

Where a law firm made a request to inspect public records on behalf of plaintiff; the request included the law firm's name, address, and telephone number; and the request did not disclose the fact that the request was being made on behalf of plaintiff, plaintiff had standing to enforce the public records request that it made through the law firm. San Juan Agric. Water Users Ass'n v. KNME-TV, 2011-NMSC-011, 150 N.M. 64, 257 P.3d 884, rev'g 2010-NMCA-012, 147 N.M. 643, 227 P.3d 612.

A person who has not requested public records, either personally or through an agent, does not have standing to seek judicial enforcement of the Inspection of Public Records Act. San Juan Agric. Water Users Ass'n v. KNME-TV, 2011-NMSC-011, 150 N.M. 64, 257 P.3d 884, aff'g 2010-NMCA-012, 147 N.M. 643, 227 P.3d 612.

Undisclosed principal has no standing. — Where a law firm made an inspection request for records relating to a news documentary program and the request failed to disclose that the law firm was making the request as attorney for or agent of plaintiffs, plaintiffs lacked standing to enforce the Inspection of Public Records Act. San Juan Agric. Water Users Ass'n v. KNME-TV, 2010-NMCA-012, 147 N.M. 643, 227 P.3d 612, aff'd in part, rev'd in part, 2011-NMSC-011, 150 N.M. 64, 257 P.3d 884.

Individuals who do not request access to documents cannot enforce a denial of a records request by another individual. San Juan Agric. Water Users Ass'n v. KNME-TV, 2010-NMCA-012, 147 N.M. 643, 227 P.3d 612, aff'd in part, rev'd in part, 2011-NMSC-011, 150 N.M. 64, 257 P.3d 884.

Citizen must follow court-ordered arrangement to inspect records. — When a citizen enforces this section through an action to compel production of documents, the citizen must comply with the court-ordered arrangements for inspection. Newsome v. Farer, 1985-NMSC-096, 103 N.M. 415, 708 P.2d 327.

Protective order precludes disclosure of records. — Where plaintiff was a petitioner in a domestic relations matter in district court that involved his ten-year-old child, and where, on plaintiff's motion, the district court appointed defendant as guardian ad litem to the child, and where plaintiff served defendant with a discovery request seeking all correspondence received or produced with either party or any other person in relation to the domestic relations case, and where the district court issued a protective order stating that defendant was not required to respond to plaintiff's request for production, prompting plaintiff to request from defendant and the designated custodian of records in the district court, pursuant to the Inspection of Public Records Act, 14-2-1 to -12 NMSA 1978, to produce all records of communications sent or received in any form in the domestic relations case, the district court did not err in granting summary judgment in favor of defendant, because the protective order barred disclosure of the requested records to plaintiff, and persons subject to an injunctive order issued by a court with jurisdiction are expected to obey that decree until it is modified or reversed, even if they have proper grounds to object to the order. Dunn v. Brandt, 2019-NMCA-061.

Successful action to enforce is prerequisite for damages. — It is only in the event that a court action is brought to enforce the Inspection of Public Records Act that a plaintiff may be awarded mandatory costs, fees, and damages, and then only if the plaintiff is successful in that action. Derringer v. State, 2003-NMCA-073, 133 N.M. 721, 68 P.3d 961, cert. denied, 133 N.M. 727, 69 P.3d 237.

Successful litigation interpreted. — Where the secretary of state's office did not fully comply with an inspection of public records request, claiming that its late production of records to plaintiff cannot constitute success under the Inspection of Public Records Act (IPRA) because plaintiff already had possession of the records at the time the litigation was filed, and as a result, the secretary of state's office did not withhold or deny plaintiff access to the records, the district court did not abuse its discretion in awarding attorney's fees because IPRA does not include prior possession as a legitimate ground for withholding public documents, and the fact that plaintiff's litigation secured the production of the denied responsive public records, the litigation was "successful" as that word is used in IPRA. ACLU of New Mexico v. Duran, 2016-NMCA-063.

Reasonable attorney's fees. — Where the secretary of state's office did not fully comply with an inspection of public records request, claiming that its late production of records to plaintiff cannot constitute success under the Inspection of Public Records Act (IPRA) because plaintiff already had possession of the records at the time the litigation was filed, and as a result, did not withhold or deny plaintiff access to the records, the district court's award of attorney's fees was not an abuse of discretion because fees incurred in obtaining documents from a state agency are prima facie reasonable, and when withheld records are subsequently revealed and determined to be responsive, those records may become the basis for an award of attorney's fees in IPRA litigation. ACLU of New Mexico v. Duran, 2016-NMCA-063.

No action for damages after compliance. — The Inspection of Public Records Act does not provide for damages pursuant to an action brought after a public body has complied with the act. Derringer v. State, 2003-NMCA-073, 133 N.M. 721, 68 P.3d 961, cert. denied, 133 N.M. 727, 69 P.3d 237.

Indefinite delay as denial. — Under the Inspection of Public Records Act's enforcement provision, there is no distinction between a denial and an indefinite delay.

Board of Comm'rs v. Las Cruces Sun-News, 2003-NMCA-102, 134 N.M. 283, 76 P.3d 36.

The Inspection of Public Records Act provides for two separate remedies. —

Section 14-2-11 NMSA 1978 and this section create separate remedies depending on the stage of the Inspection of Public Records Act (IPRA) request. Section 14-2-11 NMSA 1978 requires a public entity to respond to a records request within fifteen days unless the request has been determined to be excessively burdensome or broad. If the request is denied, the custodian shall provide the requester with a written explanation of the denial. It is when the custodian fails to respond to a request or deliver a written explanation of the denial that the public entity is subject to damages pursuant to 14-2-11 NMSA 1978. The enforcement and damages provisions of this section apply in an action for the post-denial enforcement of the IPRA request. Faber v. King, 2015-NMSC-015, rev'g 2013-NMCA-080, 306 P.3d 519.

Where the attorney general's office received a request for public records pursuant to the Inspection of Public Records Act (IPRA) and denied the request the next day, damages pursuant to 14-2-11 NMSA 1978 were not applicable because the attorney general's office timely answered the request with a denial by following the denial procedures set out in 14-2-11 NMSA 1978. When the district court held that the attorney general's office wrongfully withheld the public records, the enforcement and damages provisions of this section applied. Faber v. King, 2015-NMSC-015, rev'g 2013-NMCA-080, 306 P.3d 519.

Mandamus is an appropriate remedy to enforce IPRA requests. — Where respondent, a private prison medical services provider that provided contracted healthcare services for the New Mexico corrections department (NMCD), negotiated and settled at least fifty-nine civil claims alleging instances of improper care and/or sexual assault of inmates, and where petitioners submitted written requests pursuant to the Inspection of Public Records Act (IPRA) seeking all settlement documents involving respondent in its role as medical services contractor for NMCD, and where the district court issued a writ of mandamus ordering respondent to produce the settlement agreements, mandamus was a proper remedy to require respondent to produce public records pursuant to IPRA because petitioners had a clear legal right of enforcement and respondent had a clear legal duty to provide public records. N.M. Found. for Open Gov't v. Corizon Health, 2020-NMCA-014, cert. denied.

Award of attorney fees was supported by substantial evidence. — Where respondent, a private prison medical services provider that provided contracted healthcare services for the New Mexico corrections department (NMCD), negotiated and settled at least fifty-nine civil claims alleging instances of improper care and/or sexual assault of inmates, and where petitioners submitted written requests pursuant to the Inspection of Public Records Act (IPRA) seeking all settlement documents involving respondent in its role as medical services contractor for NMCD, and where the district court issued a writ of mandamus ordering respondent to produce the settlement agreements and pay petitioners' reasonable attorney fees, the district court's attorney fee award was supported by substantial evidence where the court considered the attorneys' years of experience and record of fee awards as well as an expert witness's testimony explaining market rates in the relevant jurisdiction. N.M. Found. for Open Gov't v. Corizon Health, 2020-NMCA-014, cert. denied.

Separate remedies distinguished. — Section 14-2-11 NMSA 1978 is focused on deterring nonresponsiveness and noncompliance by public bodies in the first instance, while 14-2-12 NMSA 1978 is focused on making whole a person who, believing his or her right of inspection has been impermissibly denied, brings a successful enforcement action. Britton v. Office of the Att'y Gen., 2019-NMCA-002.

Incomplete or inadequate responses to IPRA requests. — Where plaintiff made a request for documents from the Attorney General's Office (AGO) pursuant to the Inspection of Public Records Act, §§ 14-2-1 to -12 NMSA 1978, and where the AGO incompletely and inadequately responded to the request, the district court erred in concluding that plaintiff's action is exclusively one that proceeds under 14-2-12 NMSA 1978 and limiting the damages plaintiff can recover to actual damages under Subsection D of that provision, because a public body that permits only partial inspection, that is inspection of some but not all nonexempt responsive records, has not complied with its obligation to provide the greatest possible information regarding the affairs of government. Britton v. Office of the Att'y Gen., 2019-NMCA-002.

The attorney general failed to establish a prima facie case for summary judgment on the inspection of public records exception for attorney-client privilege, as extended by the common interest doctrine. — Where plaintiff requested inspection of common interest agreements entered into by the New Mexico office of the attorney general (OAG) with other states' offices of the attorney general, as well as correspondence and emails relating to the formation of these agreements, and where the OAG responded to the requests by withholding some responsive documents altogether, without disclosing that any documents were being withheld, producing some documents with all but a "privileged or confidential" stamp redacted, and producing other documents with multiple lengthy redactions, claiming that the redactions were supported by the Inspection of Public Records Act (IPRA) exception for law enforcement records or because the redactions constituted confidential attorney-client communications and protected attorney work-product, and where plaintiff challenged both the withholding of some documents and the heavy redaction of the documents provided, claiming that none of the cited IPRA exceptions supported the denial of responsive information, and where the OAG filed a motion for summary judgment arguing that its blanket assertion of attorney-client privilege and/or work-product, together with its assertion of good faith, established a prima facie case justifying the denial of inspection of unidentified, withheld documents, as well as the redactions it made on the documents that were produced, the district court erred in granting the OAG's motion for summary judgment, because the OAG failed to establish a prima facie case for summary judgment on either the IPRA exception for attorney-client privilege, as extended by the common interest doctrine, or the catchall exception for attorney work-product. A generalized assertion of privilege or immunity, even if the public agency asserts the privilege or immunity in good faith, is not sufficient to establish a prima facie case of compliance with IPRA supporting summary judgment. Energy Pol'y Advoc. v. Balderas, 2024-NMCA-081.

Remedy for inadequate response to IPRA request. — Where plaintiff made a request for documents from the Attorney General's Office (AGO) pursuant to the Inspection of Public Records Act, §§ 14-2-1 to -12 NMSA 1978, and where the AGO failed to permit inspection of approximately 350 records that were responsive to plaintiff's request and for which no claim of exemption was ever asserted or written explanation of denial issued, the district court erred in concluding that plaintiff's action is exclusively one that proceeds under 14-2-12 NMSA 1978 and limiting the damages plaintiff can recover to actual damages under Subsection D of that provision, because the AGO's failure to either produce for inspection or deliver or mail a written explanation of denial regarding the 350 documents is the type of wrong that 14-2-11 NMSA 1978's statutory penalty seeks to remedy. Britton v. Office of the Att'y Gen., 2019-NMCA-002.

Pleading an action for enforcement of IPRA against a private entity. — To plead an action for enforcement of the Inspection of Public Records Act (IPRA), 14-2-1 to 14-2-12 NMSA 1978, against a private entity, a plaintiff must simply allege that the records sought are public records arising out of the private entity's performance of a public function and that the private entity has failed to comply with IPRA via the manner outlined in either 14-2-11(C) NMSA 1978 or 14-2-12(D) NMSA 1978. Franklin v. Keefe Commissary Network, 2024-NMCA-070.

Records arising out of a private entity's performance of a public function and on behalf of a public entity are subject to IPRA. — Where plaintiff, a state inmate, requested records regarding commissary prices for state prisoners, pursuant to the New Mexico Inspection of Public Records Act (IPRA), 14-2-1 to 14-2-12 NMSA 1978, from defendant, a private corporation contracting with the New Mexico corrections department (NMCD) to operate an inmate commissary program at New Mexico state facilities, based on plaintiff's belief that prices were not set at fair market value, and where, upon receiving no response from defendant, plaintiff filed a complaint to enforce IPRA, and where defendant filed a pretrial motion to dismiss, arguing that defendant was not subject to IPRA because it is a private entity, the district court erred in granting defendant's motion to dismiss, because the records sought were public records arising out of defendant's performance of a public function and on behalf of a public entity. Plaintiff established under the facts of the complaint that defendant may be subject to IPRA. Franklin v. Keefe Commissary Network, 2024-NMCA-070.

Findings as to damages. — If the district court awards damages under Section 14-2-12(D) NMSA 1978 for enforcement of a denied request to inspect records, the district court is required to enter findings specifying the nature and measure of the damages. Faber v. King, 2013-NMCA-080, cert. granted, 2013-NMCERT-007.

Where plaintiff represented employees of defendant in an employment dispute in federal court; the federal court ordered a stay of discovery; plaintiff filed a request for inspection of employment records from defendant's office; defendant denied the request; the district court held that the discovery stay did not preempt rights granted by the Inspection of Public Records Act and ruled that defendant had violated the act; the district court awarded damages of $10 per day from the date of the wrongful denial to the date the federal court lifted the stay and thereafter damages of $100 per day until the records were provided; and although the district court did not specify the nature and purpose of the damage award, the record indicated that the damages were punitive, the award was unsupported by findings supporting compensatory damages, which are a prerequisite to punitive damages. Faber v. King, 2013-NMCA-080, cert. granted, 2013-NMCERT-007.

Attorney's fees. — Where plaintiff's made two requests for records of payments the school district made to a former employee; the school district denied both requests; the district court ordered the school district to produce the records; to support plaintiffs' request for attorneys' fees in the amount of $22,899, plaintiffs proffered their attorneys' itemized billing statements and resumes together with the affidavit of an attorney familiar with the prevailing rates charged by attorneys who attested to the reasonableness of the fees charged and the competency of plaintiffs' attorneys; the district court awarded plaintiffs an arbitrary fee of $5,000 on the grounds that plaintiffs' attorneys charged "strikingly high hourly rates", plaintiff filed only four pleadings, and there were no hearings; the court refused to review the billing statements, rejected the affidavit, and relied on its own assessment of a reasonable hourly rate and a reasonable amount of time to litigate the case; the court did not have a clear grasp of the time and labor involved in litigating the case to a successful conclusion or consider the novelty of the issues addressed in plaintiffs' pleadings or the policy goals of the Inspection of Public Records Act; and the court failed to utilize an objective basis for determining a reasonable award of attorney fees, the court abused its discretion. Rio Grande Sun v. Jemez Mountains Pub. Sch. Dist., 2012-NMCA-091, 287 P.3d 318, cert. denied, 2012-NMCERT-008.

It is clear the Legislature intended to enforce disclosure by imposing a cost – including attorney fees – for nondisclosure within the time frames set by the Inspection of Public Records Act, regardless of whether the public entity characterizes the nondisclosure as a "denial" or as an indefinite "delay". Board of Comm'rs v. Las Cruces Sun-News, 2003-NMCA-102, 134 N.M. 283, 76 P.3d 36.

Remedy for denial of access to tax assessment records. — Taxpayers who believed that assessor wrongfully denied them access to public records should have pursued the remedies provided in this section. To the extent the board found that the information sought was irrelevant to the assessment of taxpayers' property, there was no error in the board's refusal to sanction assessor. Hannahs v. Anderson, 1998-NMCA-152, 126 N.M. 1, 966 P.2d 168, cert. denied, 126 N.M. 532, 972 P.2d 351.

This section does not authorize punitive damages. — Although government liability for punitive damages would deter the abuse of governmental power and promote accountability among government officials, the countervailing policy of protecting public revenues must prevail unless punitive damages are specifically authorized by statute. This section does not specifically authorize punitive damages. Faber v. King, 2015-NMSC-015, rev'g 2013-NMCA-080, 306 P.3d 519.

This section authorizes the recovery of compensatory damages. — The damages provisions contained in the Inspection of Public Records Act (IPRA) are designed to promote compliance and accountability from New Mexico's public servants. This section ensures that IPRA requests are not wrongfully denied, and if the requester is not made whole by the provision of the documents, the legislature authorized a successful litigant, in an action to enforce a wrongfully denied IPRA request, to seek compensatory or actual damages, costs, and attorneys' fees. Faber v. King, 2015-NMSC-015, rev'g 2013-NMCA-080, 306 P.3d 519.

Where plaintiff was successful in his state court action against the attorney general's office to enforce the provisions of the Inspection of Public Records Act (IPRA), and the state district court issued a writ of mandamus ordering the attorney general's office to comply with the request for public records, and further awarded per diem damages and costs to plaintiff, but failed to clarify the nature of the damages, the supreme court held that this section does not authorize punitive damages or per diem damages for the post-denial enforcement of an IPRA request. In a court action to enforce the provisions of IPRA, this section authorizes costs, reasonable attorneys' fees and compensatory or actual damages only. Faber v. King, 2015-NMSC-015, rev'g 2013-NMCA-080, 306 P.3d 519.

Damages. — Damages for enforcement of a denied request to inspect records are governed by 14-2-12(D) NMSA 1978, not 14-2-11(C) NMSA 1978. The statutory maximum per-day penalty of 14-2-11(C) NMSA 1978 does not create any standard for an amount of damages under 14-2-12(D) NMSA 1978. Faber v. King, 2013-NMCA-080, cert. granted, 2013-NMCERT-007.

ANNOTATIONS

The 2005 amendment, effective June 17, 2005, revised all definitions.

The 1995 amendment, effective June 16, 1995, added Subsection G.

"Public records" not applicable to Inspection of Public Records Act. — Definition of "public records" in Public Records Act, 14-3-1 NMSA 1978 et seq., does not apply to 14-2-1 NMSA 1978 of the Inspection of Public Records Act. State ex rel. Newsome v. Alarid, 1977-NMSC-076, 90 N.M. 790, 568 P.2d 1236.

Term "public records" in this section includes the records of various public officials as that term is used in the inspection of public records provisions, former 14-2-1 to 14-2-3 NMSA 1978, being those "public records" which are necessary or incidental to fulfilling the public officer's duties imposed upon his office by operation of law. 1969 Op. Att'y Gen. No. 69-139.

"Public records" criteria. — In order to be considered a "public record," an item must have some continuing significance or importance. There must be some purpose or reason for its preservation. Therefore, general correspondence files are not public records per se. Certainly there are many items in such a file which should be treated as public records because their contents bring them within the statutory definition. However, there are many items which should be classified as transitory in value and interest. To treat such items as public records and to require their retention for at least three years (as formerly required under 14-3-11 NMSA 1978) would be burdensome, wasteful and unnecessary. 1960 Op. Att'y Gen. No. 60-72.

Confidential data not public record. — Data concerning the reliability, honesty, capability and personality traits of an individual which had been solicited with the understanding that they would be kept confidential are not public records. 1967 Op. Att'y Gen. No. 67-57.

County and municipal records are not included in the term "public records" as that term is defined in this article. 1960 Op. Att'y Gen. No. 60-181.

Elected state officials' records are "public records" within the meaning and scope of this article. 1969 Op. Att'y Gen. No. 69-139.

Elected state officials' records not required by law to be kept. — Papers and memoranda in the possession of elected state officials which are not required by law to be kept by such officials as an official record are not public records. 1969 Op. Att'y Gen. No. 69-139.

Examples of officials' records not required to be kept. — Generally, reports of private individuals to government officials, correspondence of public officials to private individuals and memoranda of public officials made for their own convenience are not public records. 1969 Op. Att'y Gen. No. 69-139.

Papers and memoranda in the possession of public officers which are not required by law to be kept by a public official as an official record may not be public records. Generally, reports of private individuals to government officials, correspondence of public officials to private individuals and memoranda of public officers made for their own convenience are not public records. 1967 Op. Att'y Gen. No. 67-57.

Records which contain both official and personal matters are still public records and should be in the custody of the state records commission (now state commission of public records) at the state records center. 1969 Op. Att'y Gen. No. 69-139.

Records used to carry out duties deemed public. — It is clear that those records which are necessary and incidental to carrying out the duties imposed upon an individual by operation of law are generally deemed public records. 1961 Op. Att'y Gen. No. 61-137.

Accident reports. — Accident reports made by police officers as a part of their regular course of duty are considered public records. 1959 Op. Att'y Gen. No. 59-213.

School records deemed public. — Business records, expenditures, daily attendance records and permanent records of an individual student's grades kept by the public schools are public records. 1961 Op. Att'y Gen. No. 61-137.

Records kept for informational purposes or those containing data used in educating pupils not "public". — The attendance records and the grade and achievement records of students are public records, but records of information kept for informational purposes or which contain data of a personal nature for use in assisting teachers and school personnel in educating pupils do not fall within the category of public records. 1967 Op. Att'y Gen. No. 67-57.

Such records or memoranda as may be kept by a teacher, or other school official, for informational purposes on individual students, and which may contain data of a personal nature for use in assisting teachers or school personnel in educating pupils, do not fall within the classification of public records entitled to be scrutinized by the public; nor are temporary or partial grades or records kept by individual teachers public records in nature. 1961 Op. Att'y Gen. No. 61-137.

Availability to teacher of reports, etc., on teacher. — The reports of supervisors, comments of fellow teachers and parents concerning the reliability, honesty, capability and personality traits of the public school teacher are not public records which are available for inspection by the teacher except in accordance with the regulations of the governing body of the school. 1967 Op. Att'y Gen. No. 67-57.

A wallet placed in a probate file as an effect of a decedent is not a public record. 1987 Op. Att'y Gen. No. 87-26.

"State agency" indicates specific type of governmental organization and not state governmental entities generally. 1978 Op. Att'y Gen. No. 78-23.

Counties and municipalities not included in term "agency". — "Agency" includes only portions of the state government or other bodies that are under the direct supervision of, or are branches of, a portion of the state government. Counties and municipalities are not included in the term "agency," as it is defined in this section. 1960 Op. Att'y Gen. No. 60-181.

- (1) the secretary of state;
- (2) the secretary of general services;
- (3) the librarian of the supreme court law library;
- (4) the secretary of cultural affairs;
- (5) the state auditor;
- (6) the attorney general; and
- (7) a recognized, professionally trained historian in the field of New Mexico history, who is a resident in New Mexico, appointed by the governor for a term of six years.

B. Each member of the commission may designate an alternate to serve in the member's stead.

C. The commission shall elect one of its members to be chair and another to be secretary. The members of the commission shall serve without compensation other than actual expenses of attending meetings of the commission or while in performance of their official duties in connection with the business of the commission.

All meetings shall be called by the chair or when requested in writing by any two members of the commission. Four members of the commission shall constitute a quorum.

Governor has no constitutional or statutory power to establish agency to meet governmental printing and duplication needs as a new division of the commission of public records whose existence and scope of functioning is based on a legislative enactment which cannot fairly be construed to include authority to undertake such services. 1969 Op. Att'y Gen. No. 69-03.

State commission of public records does not have the authority to conduct investigations into the compliance of state agencies with respect to their adherence to the requirements of the State Rules Act. — New Mexico courts have consistently held that administrative bodies are creatures of statute and can act only on those matters which are within the scope of authority delegated to them. The State Rules Act, NMSA 1978, §§ 14-4-1 to -11, does not provide the state commission of public records the authority to independently investigate the actions of state agencies with respect to their adherence to the notice and hearing requirements of the State Rules Act. Authority of Commission of Public Records and SRCA (11/18/21), Att'y Gen. Adv. Ltr. 2021-13.

14-3-4. Duties and powers of commission.

It shall be the duty of the commission to:

B. approve the biennial budget covering costs of the operations set forth in this act [Chapter 14, Article 3 NMSA 1978], as prepared by the administrator for presentation to the state legislature;

C. decide, by majority vote, any disagreements between the administrator and any state officer regarding the disposition of records within the custody of said officer, such decisions to have the effect of law;

D. consider the recommendations of the administrator for the destruction of specifically reported records, and by unanimous vote either order or forbid such destruction;

E. approve in writing, or reject, the written terms and conditions of each proposed loan of documentary material to the records center, as agreed upon by the lender and the administrator;

F. adopt and publish rules and regulations to carry out the purposes of the Public Records Act;

G. request any agency to designate a records liaison officer to cooperate with, assist and advise the administrator in the performance of his duties and to provide such other assistance and data as will enable the commission and administrator properly to carry out the purposes of the Public Records Act; and

H. prepare an annual report to the governor on the operations conducted under the terms of this act during the previous year, including a complete fiscal report on costs and effected savings, and cause same to be published.

History: 1953 Comp., § 71-6-4, enacted by Laws 1959, ch. 245, § 4.

public records whose existence and scope of functioning is based on a legislative enactment which cannot fairly be construed to include authority to undertake such services. 1969 Op. Att'y Gen. No. 69-03.

14-3-5. Gifts, donations and loans.

A. The commission may receive from private sources financial or other donations to assist in building, enlarging, maintaining or equipping a records center or for the acquisition by purchase of documentary material, in accordance with plans made and agreed upon by the commission and the administrator. The commission may also receive from private sources financial or other donations for support of specific agency functions if the donations are so designated. Funds thus received shall be administered by the commission separately from funds supplied by the state for the execution of the Public Records Act but shall be audited by the state. Such funds shall not be subject to reversion to the general fund if unexpended at the close of the fiscal year. Although all material acquired by expenditure of such donated funds and all such donated material shall become the unqualified and unrestricted property of the state, permanent public acknowledgment of the names of the donors may, in each case, be made in an appropriate manner.

B. The commission may receive either as donations or loans from private sources, other state agencies, counties, municipalities, the federal government and other states or countries documentary materials of any physical form or characteristics that are deemed to be of value to the state and the general public for historical reference or research purposes. Acceptance of both donations and loans shall be at the discretion of the commission upon advice of the administrator. Accepted donations shall become, without qualification or restriction, the property of the state of New Mexico. Loans shall be accepted only after a written agreement covering all terms and conditions of each loan shall have been signed by the lender and the administrator and approved by the commission.

History: 1953 Comp., § 71-6-5, enacted by Laws 1959, ch. 245, § 5; 2011, ch. 132, § 1.

ANNOTATIONS

The 2011 amendment, effective June 17, 2011, allowed private financial and other donations for the support of specific agency functions.

State commission of public records may receive private documents if they are deemed to be of value to the state and general public for historical reference and research purposes. The legislature intended the state records center to be the repository for private documents that are primarily valuable for historical reference and research purposes. This is not to say that such private documents are public records. But if such documents are donated or loaned to the commission from any source, the commission is authorized to take custody of them and retain them in the state records center in perpetuity, in the case of donations, or for the period specified in the loan agreement, in the case of loans. 1961 Op. Att'y Gen. No. 61-07.

Receipts of state commission of public records derived from sale of boxes and archival materials in the state records center are not funds that have been appropriated to the commission, and may not be expended by the commission. 1960 Op. Att'y Gen. No. 60-169. (See 2002 enactment of 14-3-8.1 NMSA 1978).

14-3-6. Administrator; duties.

The administrator is the official custodian and trustee for the state of all public records and archives of whatever kind which are transferred to him from any public office of the state or from any other source. He shall have overall administrative responsibility for carrying out the purposes of the Public Records Act, and may employ necessary personnel, purchase equipment and provide facilities as may be required in the execution of the powers conferred and duties imposed upon him. He shall keep the commission advised throughout the year of operations conducted and future operations projected, and shall report annually to the commission which records have been destroyed, transferred or otherwise processed during the year. The administrator shall establish a records management program for the application of efficient and economical management methods to the creation, utilization, maintenance, retention, preservation and disposal of official records. It shall be the duty of the administrator, in cooperation with and with the approval of the general services department, to establish standards, procedures and techniques for effective management of public records, to make continuing surveys of paperwork operations, and to recommend improvements in current records management practices including the use of space, equipment and supplies employed in creating, maintaining and servicing records. It shall be the duty of the head of each state agency to cooperate with the administrator in conducting surveys and to establish and maintain an active, continuing program for the economical and efficient management of the agency's records. The administrator shall establish records disposal schedules for the orderly retirement of records and adopt regulations necessary for the carrying out of the Public Records Act. Records disposal schedules shall be filed with the librarian of the supreme court library, and shall not become effective until thirty days after the date of filing. Records so scheduled may be transferred to the records center at regular intervals, in accordance with the regulations of the administrator.

History: 1953 Comp., § 71-6-6, enacted by Laws 1959, ch. 245, § 6; 1965, ch. 81, § 1; 1983, ch. 301, § 33.

ANNOTATIONS

Adoption of regulations by administrator. — The administrator may adopt regulations which will guide state officers in determining which records are "public records" and providing for separate disposal standards and retention periods for nonpublic record correspondence. The disposition of those records found to be "public records" within the meaning of the statutory definition must be controlled by the applicable portions of the Public Records Act, 14-3-1 NMSA 1978 et seq. 1960 Op. Att'y Gen. No. 60-72.

The State Rules Act, NMSA 1978, §§ 14-4-1 to -11, does not provide the state records administrator the authority to independently investigate the actions of state agencies with respect to their adherence to the notice and hearing requirements of the State Rules Act. Authority of Commission of Public Records and SRCA (11/18/21), [Att'y Gen. and

(4) records whose disclosure is prohibited by court action or federal law.

B. Nothing in this section shall limit or remove the discretion of a records custodian to withhold a public record pursuant to Section 14-2-1 NMSA 1978.

History: Laws 2005, ch. 79, § 2.

ANNOTATIONS

Effective dates. — Laws 2005, ch. 79 contained no effective date provision, but, pursuant to N.M. Const., art. IV, § 23, was effective June 17, 2005, 90 days after adjournment of the legislature.

14-3-8. Records center.

A records center is established in Santa Fe under the supervision and control of the administrator. The center, in accordance with the regulations established by the administrator and the commission, shall be the facility for the receipt, storage or disposition of all inactive and infrequently used records of present or former state agencies or former territorial agencies which at or after the effective date of this act may be in custody of any state agency or instrumentality, and which are not required by law to be kept elsewhere, or which are not ordered destroyed by the commission.

Records required to be confidential by law and which are stored in the center shall be available promptly when called for by the originating agency, but shall not be made available for public inspection except as provided by law. All other records retained by the center shall be open to the inspection of the general public, subject to reasonable rules and regulations prescribed by the administrator. Facilities for the use of these records in research by the public shall be provided in the center.

Records which contain both official and personal matters are still public records and should be in the custody of the commission at the state records center. 1969 Op. Att'y Gen. No. 69-139.

State records center does not have the authority to conduct investigations into the compliance of state agencies with respect to their adherence to the requirements of the State Rules Act. — New Mexico courts have consistently held that administrative bodies are creatures of statute and can act only on those matters which are within the scope of authority delegated to them. Upon completion of an inspection or survey of the public records of any agency by the administrator, or at the request of the commission or the head of any agency, the administrator, attorney general and the agency official in charge of the records of that agency shall together make a determination as to whether:

- A. the records shall be retained in the custody of the agency;

- C. a recommendation for destruction of the records shall be made to the commission.

If it is determined that the records are to be transferred to the records center, they shall be within a reasonable time so transferred. A list of the records so transferred shall be retained in the files of the agency from which the records were transferred.

In the event the attorney general and the administrator determine that any records in the custody of a public officer including the administrator are of no legal, administrative or historical value, but the public officer having custody of the records or from whose office the records originated fails to agree with such determination or refuses to dispose of the records, the attorney general and the administrator may request the state commission of public records to make its determination as to whether the records should be disposed of in the interests of conservation of space, economy or safety.

History: 1953 Comp., § 71-6-10, enacted by Laws 1959, ch. 245, § 10.

Subsection C standards apply to state educational institutions. — The state records administrator only has the authority to insure that state educational institutions comply with the standards for microphotography established pursuant to Subsection C; the administrator does not have the authority to review and to approve or disapprove the microphotography systems of state educational institutions in their entirety. 1978 Op. Att'y Gen. No. 78-23.

Subsection D applies only to state agencies and not to state educational institutions. 1978 Op. Att'y Gen. No. 78-23.

Section controls microfilming of records by county officials. — Although 14-1-5 NMSA 1978 permits county officials to microfilm the records maintained by them, this section is the more specific statute and is controlling. 1979 Op. Att'y Gen. No. 79-26.

County clerks may microfilm papers kept by them. — County clerks, as public officials of a political subdivision of the state, may microfilm the papers kept by them. 1979 Op. Att'y Gen. No. 79-16.

Procedure where public officer offers his records to state after microfilming. — If any public officer sees fit to offer his records to the state records administrator, after microfilming them, then the procedure to determine the disposition of the records is exactly as outlined in 14-3-9 NMSA 1978, with the state records administrator surveying the records involved and determining, in conjunction with the attorney general and the agency official involved, what disposition shall be made of them. 1960 Op. Att'y Gen. No. 60-179.

Destruction of original records without action by records administrator. — If microfilmed and certified pursuant to this section, originals of records, including newspapers kept by county clerks, may be destroyed without any action on the part of the records administrator. 1979 Op. B. The administrator shall recommend to the commission the procedures, schedules and technical standards for the retention of computer databases.

C. The state agency that has inserted data in a database may authorize a copy to be made of a computer tape or other medium containing a computerized database of a public record for any person if the person agrees:

- (1) not to make unauthorized copies of the database;
- (2) not to use the database for any political or commercial purpose unless the purpose and use is approved in writing by the state agency that created the database;
- (3) not to use the database for solicitation or advertisement when the database contains the name, address or telephone number of any person unless such use is otherwise specifically authorized by law;
- (4) not to allow access to the database by any other person unless the use is approved in writing by the state agency that created the database; and
- (5) to pay a royalty or other consideration to the state as may be agreed upon by the state agency that created the database.

D. If more than one state agency is responsible for the information inserted in the database, the agencies shall enter into an agreement designating a lead agency. If the agencies cannot agree as to the designation of a lead state agency, the commission shall designate one of the state agencies as the lead agency to carry out the responsibilities set forth in this section.

E. Subject to any confidentiality provisions of law, any state agency may permit another state agency access to all or any portion of a computerized database created by a state agency.

F. If information contained in a database is searched, manipulated or retrieved or a copy of the database is made for any private or nonpublic use, a fee shall be charged by the state agency permitting access or use of the database.

G. Except as authorized by law or rule of the commission, any person who reveals to any unauthorized person information contained in a computer database or who uses or permits the unauthorized use or access of any computer database is guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction the court shall sentence that person to jail for a definite term not to exceed one year or to payment of a fine not to exceed five thousand dollars ($5,000) or both. That person shall not be employed by the state for a period of five years after the date of conviction.

14-4-2. Definitions.

As used in the State Rules Act:

A. "agency" means any agency, board, commission, department, institution or officer of the state government except the judicial and legislative branches of the state government;

B. "person" includes individuals, associations, partnerships, companies, business trusts, political subdivisions and corporations;

C. "proceeding" means a formal agency process or procedure that is commenced or conducted pursuant to the State Rules Act;

D. "proposed rule" means a rule that is provided to the public by an agency for review and public comment prior to its adoption, amendment or repeal, and for which there is specific legal authority authorizing the proposed rule;

E. "provide to the public" means for an agency to distribute rulemaking information by:

- (1) posting it on the agency website, if any;
- (2) posting it on the sunshine portal;
- (3) making it available in the agency's district, field and regional offices, if any;
- (4) sending it by electronic mail to persons who have made a written request for notice from the agency of announcements addressing the subject of the rulemaking proceeding and who have provided an electronic mail address to the agency;
- (5) sending it by electronic mail to persons who have participated in the rulemaking and who have provided an electronic mail address to the agency;
- (6) sending written notice that includes, at a minimum, an internet and street address where the information may be found to persons who provide a postal address; and
- (7) providing it to the New Mexico legislative council for distribution to appropriate interim and standing legislative committees;

F. "rule" means any rule, regulation, or standard, including those that explicitly or implicitly implement or interpret a federal or state legal mandate or other applicable law and amendments thereto or repeals and renewals thereof, issued or promulgated by any agency and purporting to affect one or more agencies besides the agency issuing the rule or to affect persons not members or employees of the issuing agency, including affecting persons served by the agency. An order or decision or other document issued or promulgated in connection with the disposition of any case or agency decision upon a particular matter as applied to a specific set of facts shall not be deemed such a rule, nor shall it constitute specific adoption thereof by the agency. "Rule" does not include rules relating to the management, confinement, discipline or release of inmates of any penal or charitable institution, the New Mexico boys' school, the girls' welfare home or any hospital; rules made relating to the management of any particular educational institution, whether elementary or otherwise; or rules made relating to admissions, discipline, supervision, expulsion or graduation of students from any educational institution; and

G. "rulemaking" means the process for adoption of a new rule or the amendment, readoption or repeal of an existing rule.

History: 1953 Comp., § 71-7-2, enacted by Laws 1967, ch. 275, § 2; 1969, ch. 92, § 1; 2017, ch. 137, § 1.

ANNOTATIONS

The 2017 amendment, effective July 1, 2017, defined "proceeding", "proposed rule", "provide to the public", and "rulemaking", and revised the definitions of certain terms, as used in the State Rules Act; in Subsection B, after "business trusts", added "political subdivisions", and deleted "and" at the end of the subsection; added new Subsections C through E and redesignated former Subsection C as Subsection F; in Subsection F, after "regulation", deleted "order" and added "or", after "standard", deleted "statement of policy", after "including", added "those that explicitly or implicitly implement or interpret a federal or state legal mandate or other applicable law and", after "repeals", added "and renewals", after "the issuing agency", added ", including affecting persons served by the agency", deleted "Such term shall" and added "'Rule' does", after "charitable institution, the", deleted "Springer" and added "New Mexico", after "welfare home", deleted "of" and added "or", after "any hospital", deleted "nor to", after "elementary or otherwise", deleted "nor to", after the semicolon, added "or", and after "graduation of students", deleted "therefrom" and added "from any educational institution; and"; and added Subsection G.

A standard is a rule, if the proper procedure has been followed in promulgating it. Bokum Resources Corp. v. New Mexico Water Quality Control Comm'n, 1979-NMSC-090, 93 N.M. 546, 603 P.2d 285.

Prison rules. — The Legislature could not have made it more clear that rules relating to the management, confinement, discipline or release of inmates are not subject to filing under the State Rules Act since, although the Corrections Department Act requires that all rules be filed in accordance with the State Rules Act, the latter clearly excludes certain rules relating to inmates from its definition of rules, in 14-4-2 NMSA 1978. Johnson v. Francke, 1987-NMCA-029, 105 N.M. 564, 734 P.2d 804.

"Rules" and "standards". — The terms "rule" and "standard" include procedural standards, manuals, directives and requirements if they purport to affect one or more agencies besides the issuing agency or persons other than the issuing agencies' members or employees. 1993 Op. Att'y Gen. No. 93-01.

Museum resolution. — A resolution of the Museum of New Mexico permitting only Indians to sell handicrafts under the portal of the Palace of the Governors in Santa Fe was a rule within the meaning of the State Rules Act. Livingston v. Ewing, 1982-NMSC-110, 98 N.M. 685, 652 P.2d 235; State v. Joyce, 1980-NMCA-086, 94 N.M. 618, 614 P.2d 30.

Orders and decisions excluded by definition from class of rules to which State Rules Act applies are not subject to the provisions of those sections and, in particular, are not governed by 14-4-3 and 14-4-5 NMSA 1978. 1979 Op. Att'y Gen. No. 79-32.

Law reviews. — For article, "Survey of New Mexico Law, 1979-80: Administrative Law," see 11 N.M. L. Rev. 1 (1981).

14-4-3. Format of rules; filing; distribution.

A. Each agency promulgating any rule shall place the rule in the format and style required by rule of the state records administrator and shall deliver the rule to the state records administrator or the administrator's designee, accompanied by the concise explanatory statement required by the State Rules Act. The state records administrator or the administrator's designee shall note thereon the date and hour of filing.

B. The state records administrator or the administrator's designee shall maintain a copy of the rule as a permanent record open to public inspection during office hours, on the website of the records center, published in a timely manner in the New Mexico register and compiled into the New Mexico Administrative Code.

C. At the time of filing, an agency may submit to the state records administrator or the administrator's designee a copy, for annotation with the date and hour of filing, to be returned to the agency.

D. The state records administrator, after written notification to the filing agency, may make minor, nonsubstantive corrections in spelling, grammar and format in filed rules. The state records administrator shall make a record of the correction and shall deliver the record to the filing agency and issuing authority within ten days of the change. Within thirty days of receiving that state records administrator's record of a correction, the agency shall provide to the public notice of the correction in the same manner as the agency used to give notice of the rulemaking proceeding pursuant to Section 4 of this 2017 act [14-4-5.2 NMSA 1978].

History: 1953 Comp., § 71-7-3, enacted by Laws 1967, ch. 275, § 3; 1969, ch. 92, § 2; 1987, ch. 40, § 1; 1995, ch. 110, § 2; 2017, ch. 137, § 2.

The 2017 amendment, effective July 1, 2017, replaced the "records center" with the "state records administrator" for purposes of receiving promulgated rules, revised the requirements for submitting a rule to the state records administrator, allowed the state records administrator to make minor, non-substantive corrections to submitted rules, and required the agency to give public notice of minor non-substantive corrections made by the state records administrator in the same manner as required for rulemaking; ; added new subsection designation "A."; in Subsection A, after "required by rule of the", deleted "records center" and added "state records administrator", after "shall deliver", deleted "one original paper copy and one electronic copy" and added "the rule", after "to the", deleted "records center" and added "state records administrator or the administrator's designee, accompanied by the concise explanatory statement required by the State Rules Act"; added subsection designation "B."; in Subsection B, after "shall maintain", deleted "the original" and added "a", after "copy", added "of the rule", after "office hours,", deleted "and shall have the rule" and added "on the website of the records center"; added subsection designation "C."; in Subsection C, after "may submit to the", deleted "records center an additional paper" and added "state records administrator or the administrator's designee a"; and added Subsection D.

The 1995 amendment, effective July 1, 1995, substituted "deliver one original paper copy and one electronic copy" for "cause seven copies to be delivered" in the first sentence; substituted "maintain the original copy" for "a list of places to file copies" in the third sentence; added the language at the end of the section beginning "and shall have"; and made minor stylistic changes throughout the section.

Records center may require certificate of compliance. — Pursuant to its authority under this section to adopt a rule governing the style and format of the rules and regulations to be filed, the records center may require a certificate of compliance as a matter of style or format. While the records center has no authority to look behind a certificate of compliance or to make any determination of actual compliance, failure to incorporate such a certificate of compliance on rules and regulations submitted for filing would constitute a failure to comply with the required style and format. 1978 Op. Att'y Gen. No. 78-07.

Orders and decisions excluded by definition from class of rules to which this article and 13-3-24 and 13-3-25 NMSA 1978 apply are not subject to the provisions of those sections and, in particular, are not governed by this section and 14-4-5 NMSA 1978. 1979 Op. Att'y Gen. No. 79-32.

State records administrator does not have the authority to conduct investigations into the compliance of state agencies with respect to their adherence to the requirements of the State Rules Act. — New Mexico courts have consistently held that administrative bodies are creatures of statute and can act only on those matters which are within the scope of authority delegated to them. The State Rules Act, NMSA 1978, §§ 14-4-1 to -11, does not provide the state records administrator the authority to independently investigate the actions of state agencies with respect to their adherence to the notice and hearing requirements of the State Rules Act. Authority of Commission of Public Records and SRCA (11/18/21), Att'y Gen. Adv. Ltr. 2021-13.

14-4-4. Publication filing and distribution; official depository.

Each agency issuing any publication, pamphlet, report, notice, proclamation or similar instrument shall immediately file five copies thereof with the records center. The records center shall deliver three copies to the state library, which shall keep one copy available for public inspection during office hours. All other copies may be circulated.

The state library is designated to be an official depository of all such publications, pamphlets, reports, notices, proclamations and similar instruments.

History: 1953 Comp., § 71-7-5, enacted by Laws 1967, ch. 275, § 5; 1969, ch. 92, § 3; 1995, ch. 110, § 3.

ANNOTATIONS

The 1995 amendment, effective July 1, 1995, added the section heading.

No fundamental right to notice and hearing. — There is no fundamental right to notice and hearing before the adoption of a rule. Such a right is statutory only. Livingston v. Ewing, 1982-NMSC-110, 98 N.M. 685, 652 P.2d 235.

Actual notice of rule does not dispel necessity of compliance with State Rules Act. State v. Joyce, 1980-NMCA-086, 94 N.M. 618, 614 P.2d 30.

What and with whom matters to be filed. — Formerly, all official reports, pamphlets, publications, regulations, rules, codes of fair competition, proclamations and orders issued, prescribed or promulgated by the state corporation commission (now public regulation commission) of general application were to be filed, in accordance with statute, with the supreme court librarian of the state of New Mexico, with the exception of any rule or regulation or order or other document of the corporation commission (now public regulation commission), wherein it is exercising its duty of fixing, determining, supervising, regulating and controlling all charges and rates of railway, express, telephone, telegraph, sleeping car or similar company and common carrier within the state. 1953 Op. Att'y Gen. No. 53-5814.

Law reviews. — For article, "Survey of New Mexico Law, 1979-80: Administrative Law," see 11 N.M. L. Rev. 1 (1981).

14-4-5. Time limit on adoption of a proposed rule; filing and compliance required for validity.

A. Except in the case of an emergency rule, no rule shall be valid or enforceable until it is published in the New Mexico register as provided by the State Rules Act.

B. An agency shall not adopt a rule until the public comment period has ended. If the agency fails to take action on a proposed rule within two years after the notice of proposed rulemaking is published in the New Mexico register, the rulemaking is automatically terminated unless the agency takes action to extend the period. The agency may extend the period of time for adopting the proposed rule for an additional period of two years by filing a statement of good cause for the extension in the rulemaking record, but it shall provide for additional public participation, comments and rule hearings prior to adopting the rule.

C. An agency may terminate a rulemaking at any time by publishing a notice of termination in the New Mexico register. If a rulemaking is terminated pursuant to this section, the agency shall provide notice to the public.

D. Within fifteen days after adoption of a rule, an agency shall file the adopted rule with the state records administrator or the administrator's designee and shall provide to the public the adopted rule. The state records administrator or the administrator's designee shall publish rules as soon as practicable after filing, but in no case later than ninety days after the date of adoption of the proposed rule. Unless a later date is otherwise provided by law or in the rule, the effective date of a rule shall be the date of publication in the New Mexico register.

E. A proposed rule shall not take effect unless it is adopted and filed within the time limits set by this section.

History: 1953 Comp., § 71-7-6, enacted by Laws 1967, ch. 275, § 6; 1969, ch. 92, § 4; 1995, ch. 110, § 4; 2017, ch. 137, § 3.

ANNOTATIONS

The 2017 amendment, effective July 1, 2017, prohibited agencies from adopting rules until the public comment period has ended, provided time limits on adoption of proposed rules after the public notice period, required the state records administrator to publish the rule within 90 days after the date of adoption of proposed rules, and provided for termination of the rulemaking if no action is taken on a proposed rule within two years after notice is published; in the catchline, added "Time limit on adoption of a proposed rule"; added subsection designation "A."; in Subsection A, added "Except in the case of an emergency rule", and after "until it is", deleted "filed with the records center and"; added Subsections B and C; added subsection designation "D."; in Subsection D, added the first two sentences of the subsection, after "provided by law", added "or in the rule", and deleted "Emergency regulations may go into effect immediately upon filing with the records center, but shall be effective no more than thirty days unless they are published in the New Mexico register"; and added Subsection E.

The 1995 amendment, effective July 1, 1995, added the section heading, substituted the language at the end of the first sentence beginning "filed with" for "so filed and shall only be valid and enforceable upon such filing and compliance with any other law", and added the last two sentences.

When rule becomes valid or enforceable. — The language of this section is categorical: a rule is not valid or enforceable until it is filed. There is no implicit exception that makes the rule effective before filing with respect to those with actual notice of the rule. Pineda v. Grande Drilling Corp., 1991-NMCA-004, 111 N.M. 536, 807 P.2d 234.

Prisoner disciplinary rules not covered by act. — Disciplinary rules promulgated by the secretary of corrections, governing the conduct of prisoners confined within a penitentiary, were not required to be filed with the state's record center in the manner required under State Rules Act. Johnson v. Francke, 1987-NMCA-029, 105 N.M. 564, 734 P.2d 804.

No fundamental right to notice and hearing. — There is no fundamental right to notice and hearing before the adoption of a rule. Such a right is statutory only. Livingston v. Ewing, 1982-NMSC-110, 98 N.M. 685, 652 P.2d 235.

Election rules. — Secretary of state's memorandum # 80-50 which listed the name variations which could be counted for the various write-in candidates, and required the precinct officials to list all of the variations, was never filed in the records center as required by Section 14-4-5 NMSA 1978 and was void. Weldon v. Sanders, 1982-NMSC-136, 99 N.M. 160, 655 P.2d 1004.

Actual notice of rule does not dispel necessity of compliance with State Rules Act. State v. Joyce, 1980-NMCA-086, 94 N.M. 618, 614 P.2d 30.

Effect of failure to comply with statutory requirements. — Where the board of cosmetology failed to (1) comply with the repeal procedure of 12-8-4A NMSA 1978, in failing to give notice to interested parties and to hold a hearing prior to taking action, and (2) failed to file the record of its regulatory proceedings with the state records administrator as required by this section, the action of the board in repealing a licensing reciprocity regulation was contrary to law and the repeal was invalid. Rivas v. Board of Cosmetologists, 1984-NMSC-076, 101 N.M. 592, 686 P.2d 934.

Effect of unfiled rules and regulations. — Former statutes (4-10-13 to 4-10-19, 1953 Comp.) did not provide that all unfiled rules and regulations were ineffective, but merely provided that such rules and regulations would not be valid as against any person who did not have actual knowledge of their contents. Maestas v. Christmas, 1958-NMSC-021, 63 N.M. 447, 321 P.2d 631.

Amendment has no effect on validity of previous resolution. — The subsequent adoption of an amended resolution has no effect on the validity of a previous resolution. Livingston v. Ewing, 1982-NMSC-110, 98 N.M. 685, 652 P.2d 235.

Criminal trespass charges not a means to enforce rule until filing. — Criminal trespass charges under 30-20-13 NMSA 1978 are not a means to enforce a rule available to the state until the rule is properly filed in compliance with State Rules Act. State v. Joyce, 1980-NMCA-086, 94 N.M. 618, 614 P.2d 30.

Policies that affect other agencies. — If a policy manual or directive contains statements of policy purporting to affect one or more agencies besides the agency issuing the manual or to affect persons not members or employees of the issuing agency, it must be filed in accordance with the State Rules Act. 1993 Op. Att'y Gen. No. 93-01.

Statute does not authorize center to investigate validity of rules. — The statute makes no provision for a preliminary investigation by the records center with respect to the compliance of the submitting agency to any notice and hearing requirements. As an administrative body, the records center can only act within the scope of the authority delegated by statute, and any independent investigation into the validity of the rules and regulations submitted for filing does not come within the records center's authority; therefore the records center has no power to make a determination as to whether, in fact, the promulgating agency has complied with notice and hearing requirements. 1978 Op. Att'y Gen. No. 78-07.

Orders and decisions excluded by definition from class of rules to which State Rules Act applies are not subject to the provisions of those sections and, in particular, are not governed by 14-4-3 NMSA 1978 and this section. 1979 Op. Att'y Gen. No. 79-32.

What and with whom matters to be filed. — Formerly, all official reports, pamphlets, publications, regulations, rules, codes of fair competition, proclamations and orders issued, prescribed or promulgated by the state corporation commission (now public regulation commission) of general application were to be filed, in accordance with statute, with the supreme court librarian of the state of New Mexico, with the exception of any rule or regulation or order or other document of the corporation commission (now public regulation commission), wherein it is exercising its duty of fixing, determining, supervising, regulating and controlling all charges and rates of railway, express, telephone, telegraph, sleeping car or similar company and common carrier within the state. 1953 Op. Att'y Gen. No. 53-5814.

Law reviews. — For annual survey of New Mexico law relating to administrative law, see 12 N.M.L. Rev. 1 (1982).

14-4-5.1. Temporary provision.

Notwithstanding the provisions of 14-4-5 NMSA 1978, rules filed prior to July 1, 1995 shall continue in effect if such rules were filed with the state records center in accordance with the law applicable at the time of filing, and they have not otherwise been repealed, amended, or superseded.

History: Laws 1995, ch. 110, § 10.

14-4-5.2. Notice of proposed rulemaking.

- (1) a summary of the full text of the proposed rule;

- (3) a citation to the specific legal authority authorizing the proposed rule and the adoption of the rule;

- (7) a citation to technical information, if any, that served as a basis for the proposed rule, and information on how the full text of the technical information may be obtained.

B. An agency may charge a reasonable fee for providing any records in nonelectronic form when provided to a person pursuant to this section. An agency shall not charge a fee for providing any records in electronic form when provided to a person pursuant to this section.

C. An internet link providing free access to the full text of the proposed rule shall be included on the notice of proposed rulemaking.

D. If the agency changes the date of the public rule hearing or the deadline for submitting comments as stated in the notice, the agency shall provide notice to the public of the change.

E. The state records administrator or the administrator's designee shall timely publish the notice of proposed rulemaking in the next publication of the New Mexico register.

14-4-5.3. Public participation, comments and rule hearings.

A. The notice of proposed rulemaking shall specify a public comment period of at least thirty days after publication in the New Mexico register during which a person may submit information and comment on the proposed rule. The information or comment may be submitted in an electronic or written format or at a public rule hearing pursuant to Subsection B of this section. The agency shall consider all information and comment on a proposed rule that is submitted within the comment period.

B. At the public rule hearing, members of the public shall be given a reasonable opportunity to submit data, views or arguments orally or in writing. Each agency shall determine, in accordance with governing statutory and case law, the manner in which parties to the proceeding and members of the public will be able to participate in public hearings. A. An agency shall maintain a rulemaking record for each rule it proposes to adopt. The record and materials incorporated by reference in the proposed rule shall be readily available for public inspection in the central office of the agency and available for public display on the state sunshine portal. If an agency determines that any part of the rulemaking record cannot be practicably displayed or is inappropriate for public display on the sunshine portal, the agency shall describe that part of the record, shall note on the sunshine portal that the part of the record is not displayed and shall provide instructions for accessing or inspecting that part of the record.

B. A rulemaking record shall contain:

(1) a copy of all publications in the New Mexico register relating to the proposed rule;

(2) a copy of any technical information that was relied upon in formulating the final rule;

14-4-5.6. Emergency rule.

A. An agency shall comply with the rulemaking procedures of the State Rules Act unless the agency finds that the time required to complete the procedures would:

- (1) cause an imminent peril to the public health, safety or welfare;
- (2) cause the unanticipated loss of funding for an agency program; or

(3) place the agency in violation of federal law.

B. The agency shall provide to the public a record of any finding pursuant to Subsection A of this section and a detailed justification for that finding before issuing an emergency rule. The record shall include a statement that the emergency rule is temporary. After such record has been provided to the public, the agency may issue the emergency rule immediately without a public rule hearing or with any abbreviated notice and hearing that it finds practicable.

C. When an agency makes a finding pursuant to Subsection A of this section, the agency shall follow the provisions of this section in addition to any more specific requirements in statute that pertain to the agency regarding promulgating emergency or interim rules.

D. Emergency rules may take effect immediately upon filing with the state records administrator or the administrator's designee or at a later date specified in the emergency rule. Emergency rules shall be published in the New Mexico register.

E. No emergency rule shall permanently amend or repeal an existing rule. An emergency rule shall remain in effect until a permanent rule takes effect under the normal rulemaking process. If no permanent rule is adopted within one hundred eighty days from the effective date of the emergency rule, the emergency rule shall expire and may not be readopted as an emergency rule. If an expired emergency rule temporarily amended or repealed an existing rule, the rule shall revert to what it would have been had the emergency rule not been issued.

ANNOTATIONS

Compiler's notes. — The phrase "effective date of the State Rules Act", used three times in this section, means April 14, 1967, the effective date of Laws 1967, Chapter 275.

The 1991 amendment, effective June 14, 1991, added the section heading; designated the formerly undesignated provisions as Subsections A to C; deleted the former last sentence of the section which read: "The librarian of the supreme court shall not be required to retain more than the original or one copy thereof"; added Subsection D; and made minor stylistic changes throughout the section.

Interstate agreement not contemplated within this act. — Despite the broad language in this section regarding "[a]ll pamphlets, reports, proclamations or similar instruments," an interstate agreement contract is not contemplated within the State Rules Act. State v. Ellis, 1980-NMCA-187, 95 N.M. 427, 622 P.2d 1047.

Interstate contract is not instrument similar to rules, reports and notices issued by state agencies. State v. Ellis, 1980-NMCA-187, 95 N.M. 427, 622 P.2d 1047.

14-4-7.1. New Mexico register.

A. The state records administrator shall provide for publication of a New Mexico register at least twice a month. The New Mexico register shall be published in such a way as to minimize the cost to the state. To accomplish this, the state records administrator is authorized to provide for charges for subscriptions and for publication of notice and other items, including advertising, in the register.

B. The New Mexico register shall be the official publication for all notices of rule makings and filings of adopted rules, including emergency rules, by agencies.

(1) The register shall include the full text of any adopted rules, including emergency rules. Proposed rules may be published in full or in part at the discretion of the issuing agency.

(2) Upon request of an issuing agency, the state records administrator may determine that publication in the register of the full text of an adopted rule would be unduly cumbersome, expensive or otherwise inexpedient, and may publish instead a synopsis of the adopted rule and a statement that a copy of the rule is available from the issuing agency.

C. The New Mexico register shall be available by subscription and single copy purchase to any person, including agencies of the executive, judicial and legislative branches of state government and its political subdivisions, at a reasonable charge approved by the state records administrator. The administrator may authorize distribution of a certain number of copies of the register without charge to agencies or political subdivisions as deemed economically feasible and appropriate.

D. The New Mexico register may include a summary or the text of any governor's executive order, a summary, listing or the text of any attorney general's opinion, a calendar listing the date, time and place of all or selected agency rule-making hearings, a list of gubernatorial appointments of state officials and board and commission members or other material related to administrative law and practice.

E. The state records administrator shall adopt and promulgate rules necessary for the implementation and administration of this section.

History: Laws 1989, ch. 38, § 1; 1995, ch. 110, § 5.

ANNOTATIONS

The 1995 amendment, effective July 1, 1995, in Subsection A, substituted "for publication" for "if economically feasible, for development and publication" and deleted "after January 1, 1990" following "month"; in Subsection B, redesignated the last two sentences as Paragraph (1) and rewrote the paragraph to make publication of the full text of adopted rules mandatory, and added Paragraph (2); and made minor stylistic changes throughout the section.

Adequate notice under Open Meetings Act. — A notice of proposed rulemaking in the New Mexico register probably would not constitute reasonable notice under the Open Meetings Act, 10-15-1 to 10-15-4 NMSA 1978, because the register is not widely circulated and is not readily available to the general public. 1993 Op. Att'y Gen. No. 93-02.

Notice requirements for legal publication. — A notice published in the New Mexico register would not fulfill the requirements for legal publication under 14-11-1 to 14-11-8 NMSA 1978 because the register is not a newspaper of general paid circulation. 1993 Op. Att'y Gen. No. 93-02.

Publication in human services register. — Publication of a notice, proposed rule, or adopted rule in the New Mexico human services register does not fulfill the human services department's [health care authority department's] duty to publish materials required by the New Mexico register. 1993 Op. Att'y Gen. No. 93-02.

Publication requirements under the Administrative Procedures Act. — The state rules administrator was not required to publish a separate bulletin under former 12-8-6 NMSA 1978 for agencies subject to the Administrative Procedures Act. Specifically, the provisions of this section superseded the requirements in former 12-8-6 NMSA 1978 for issuing a bimonthly publication, for publishing the full text of rules except under the specified conditions and for providing bulletins free of charge to state agencies and political subdivisions upon request. 1993 Op. Att'y Gen. No. 93-03.

Incorporation by reference. — An agency may not avoid filing and publishing a rule by incorporating by reference any otherwise properly filed and published rule. However, this section grants the state records administrator and the issuing agency discretion to agree on publication of less than a full text of incorporated materials. 1993 Op. Att'y Gen. No. 93-01.

14-4-7.2. New Mexico Administrative Code.

A. The state records administrator shall create and have published a New Mexico Administrative Code, which shall contain all adopted rules. The administrator shall adopt regulations setting forth procedures for the compilation of the code and prescribing the format and structure of the code, including provisions for at least annual supplementation or revision.

B. All rulemaking agencies shall revise, restate and repromulgate their existing rules as needed to expedite publication of the New Mexico Administrative Code.

14-4-8. Documents not required to be filed with state library.

The state librarian may by appropriate written instructions advise the records center that he no longer desires a particular class of instrument to be filed with the state library and thereafter such records center shall no longer file such class of documents with the state library unless such rejection is rescinded in writing and sent to such agency or agencies.

14-4-10. State publications for sale or issue by state agencies; listing by state records administrator.

The state records administrator shall maintain a file of all state publications which are for sale or issue by agencies of the state. He shall prepare and publish a list of all such publications which are current and effective. The list shall include such documents as books, manuals, pamphlets, bulletins, monographs and periodicals designed to instruct, inform or direct either the general public or public officers and employees. Correspondence and those documents developed by agencies for their own internal administration are excluded.

14-4-11. [Personal files, records and documents of elected state officials; placing in state archives by the state records administrator.]

The state records administrator may accept and place in the state archives the personal files, records and documents of elected state officials or of former elected state officials, subject to any reasonable restrictions, moratoriums and requirements concerning their use by other persons. Such restrictions, moratoriums and requirements made by the donor, however, shall not prevent the archivist of the state records center from having access to the files, records and documents for indexing and cataloguing purposes.

Small Business Regulatory Relief Act

14-4A-1. Short title.

This act [14-4A-1 to 14-4A-6 NMSA 1978] may be cited as the "Small Business Regulatory Relief Act".

History: Laws 2005, ch. 244, § 1.

ANNOTATIONS

Effective dates. — Laws 2005, ch. 244, § 7 made Laws 2005, ch. 244, § 1 effective July 1, 2005.

14-4A-2. Legislative findings.

The legislature finds that:

- A. a vibrant and growing small business sector is critical to creating jobs in a dynamic economy;
- B. small businesses bear a disproportionate share of regulatory costs and burdens;
- C. fundamental changes that are needed in the regulatory culture of state agencies to make them more responsive to small business can be made without compromising the statutory missions of the agencies;

D. when adopting rules to protect the health, safety and economic welfare of the state, agencies should seek to achieve statutory goals as effectively and efficiently as possible without imposing unnecessary burdens on small businesses;

E. uniform regulatory reporting requirements can impose unnecessary and disproportionately burdensome demands, including legal, accounting and consulting costs, upon small businesses with limited resources;

F. the failure to recognize differences in the scale and resources of regulated businesses can adversely affect competition in the marketplace, discourage innovation and restrict improvements in productivity;

G. unnecessary rules create entry barriers in many industries and discourage potential entrepreneurs from introducing beneficial products and processes;

H. the practice of treating all regulated businesses as equivalent may lead to inefficient use of agency resources, enforcement problems and, in some cases, to actions inconsistent with stated legislative intent of health, safety, environmental, economic welfare and other legislation;

I. alternative regulatory approaches that do not conflict with applicable statutes may be available to minimize the significant economic impact of rules on small businesses; and

J. the process by which state rules are developed and adopted should be reformed to require agencies to solicit the ideas and comments of small businesses, to examine the effect of proposed and existing rules on such businesses and to review the continued need for existing rules.

Prior to replacing the recovered documents, the public officer shall attach a certificate to each of them in a manner that it cannot be removed without destruction of the document stating the date on which the documents were recovered and the name of the person who had possession of the original or copy, the statement under oath of the person who had possession as to the authenticity of the original or copy, and if possible attesting to the belief of the public officer that the recovered documents are previously missing public records, or true copies of them.

14-6-2. Hospital records; retention.

A. Unless provided otherwise in this section, a hospital shall retain and preserve all records directly relating to the care and treatment of a patient for a period of ten years following the last discharge of the patient. Retention and preservation of such records in microfilm or other photographically reproduced form shall be deemed compliance with this subsection and such reproduced and retained copies shall be deemed originals for the purposes of the rules of evidence promulgated by the supreme court of New Mexico.

B. Laboratory test records and reports may be destroyed one year after the date of the test recorded or reported therein provided that one copy is placed in the patient's record. If a copy of the laboratory test records and reports is not placed in the patient's record, they may not be destroyed for a period of four years from the date of the test recorded or reported.

C. X-ray films may be destroyed four years after the date of exposure, if there are in the hospital record written findings of a radiologist who has read such x-ray films. At any time after the third year after the date of exposure, and upon proper identification, the patient may recover his own x-ray films as may be retained pursuant to this section. Such written radiological findings shall be retained as provided in Subsection A of this section.

D. At any time after the retention periods specified in Subsections A, B and C of this section, the hospital may, without thereby incurring liability, destroy such records, by burning, shredding or other effective method in keeping with the confidential nature of their contents; provided, however, that destruction of such records must be in the ordinary course of business and no record shall be destroyed on an individual basis.

E. For the purposes of this section, "hospital" means an institution for the reception and care of the ill or infirm which is licensed by the health and social services department [department of health].

History: 1953 Comp., § 12-34-24, enacted by Laws 1977, ch. 371, § 1.

ANNOTATIONS

Bracketed material. — The bracketed material was inserted by the compiler and is not part of the law.

Laws 1977, ch. 253, § 5, abolished the health and social services department, and Laws 1977, ch. 253, § 4, established the health and environment department under former 9-7-4 NMSA 1978. Laws 1991, ch. 25, § 16 repealed former 9-7-4 NMSA 1978 and enacted a new 9-7-4 NMSA 1978, which created the department of health.

14-6-3. Access to medical records by applicants for disability benefits; violations.

A. Within thirty days of receiving a request from a patient or former patient who is applying for benefits based on social security disability or who is appealing a denial of such benefits or from an authorized representative of such a patient or former patient, a health care provider shall furnish the requestor with a copy of that patient's medical records. A fee as established by the department of health, may be charged by the health care provider to the requestor for the copies or for the service in obtaining the records.

B. A request made pursuant to Subsection A of this section shall include a statement or document from the agency that administers the benefits that confirms the application or appeal.

C. As used in this section:

(1) "health care provider" means a person who is licensed, certified or otherwise authorized by law to provide or render health care in the ordinary course of business or practice of a profession and includes a facility employing, or contracting with, such a person; and

(2) "medical records" means information in a medical or mental health patient file, including drug or alcohol treatment records, medical reports, clinical notes, nurses' notes, history of injury, subjective and objective complaints, test contents and results, interpretations of tests, reports and summaries of interpretations of tests and other reports, diagnoses and prognoses, bills, invoices, referral requests, consultative reports and reports of services requested by the health care provider.

D. Nothing in this section shall be interpreted to grant access for a patient or patient's representative to medical records that are otherwise protected by law.

E. The department of health shall enforce the provisions of this section and may impose a civil penalty in an amount not to exceed one hundred dollars ($100) for a violation of this section. The department may promulgate rules necessary for the implementation and enforcement of the provisions of this section, including a fee schedule by obtaining records as provided in Subsection A of this section for a patient who has a financial ability to pay.

At least seven days prior to a state agency, board or commission requesting or gaining access to or copies of the records of a person, corporation, company or organization maintained by a bank, savings and loan association, small loan company or other similar financial institution, the agency, board or commission shall notify by certified or registered mail the person, corporation, company or other organization of its intent to gain access or acquire such records.

B. The requirement of notice set forth in Subsection A of this section shall not apply to the audit of, compliance monitoring of or preparation of reports concerning any bank, savings and loan association, small loan company or other similar financial institution by a state agency, when conducted pursuant to the agency's statutory directive.

C. The provisions of Subsection A of this section shall not apply to requests for records made pursuant to an administrative subpoena. In such instances, at least twenty-four hours' notice shall be given to the person, corporation, company or organization.

A. Prior to a state agency, board or commission receiving access to or copies of the records of a person, corporation, company or organization maintained by a bank, savings and loan association, small loan company or other similar financial institution, the agency, board or commission shall:

- (1) allow the institution forty-eight hours to comply with an administrative subpoena;
- (2) allow the institution to provide authenticated copies of original records rather than the original copies in response to an administrative subpoena; and
- (3) pay the institution the reasonable cost of production of such records including both the cost of materials and wages.

B. The provisions of Subsection A of this section shall not apply to the audit of any bank, savings and loan association, small loan company or other similar financial institution by a state agency when conducted pursuant to the agency's statutory directive.

14-8-1. County clerks to be recorders.

The county clerks of the different counties of this state shall be ex officio recorders in their respective counties.

Compiler's notes. — The 1915 Code compilers substituted "county clerks" for "clerks of the probate courts," apparently to correspond with N.M. Const., art. VI, § 22, providing that the county clerk shall act as probate clerk until otherwise provided by law.

Applicability to boundary commission orders. — No specific language in the statutes regarding filing of boundary commission orders concerning annexation (Section 3-7-15(E) or 3-7-16(A) NMSA 1978) brings either statute within the requirement of recordation contained in Section 14-8-2; "filing" — used in the former statutes — and "recording" as those terms as known to the law are not synonymous. *Town of Hurley v. ### 14-8-4. Acknowledgment necessary for recording; exceptions; recording of duplicates.

A. Any original instrument of writing duly acknowledged may be filed and recorded. Any instrument of writing not duly acknowledged may not be filed and recorded or considered of record, though so entered, unless otherwise provided in this section.

B. For purposes of this section, "acknowledged" means notarized by a person empowered to perform notarial acts pursuant to the Revised Uniform Law on Notarial Acts [Chapter 14, Article 14A NMSA 1978].

C. The following documents need not be acknowledged but may be filed and recorded:

- (1) court-certified copies of a court order, judgment or other judicial decree;
- (2) court-certified transcripts of any money judgment obtained in a court of New Mexico or, pursuant to Section 14-9-9 NMSA 1978, in the United States district court for the district of New Mexico;
- (3) land patents and land office receipts;
- (4) notice of lis pendens filed pursuant to Section 38-1-14 NMSA 1978;

(5) provisional orders creating improvement districts pursuant to Section 4-55A-7 NMSA 1978;

(6) notices of levy on real estate under execution or writ of attachment when filed by a peace officer pursuant to Section 39-4-4 NMSA 1978;

(7) surveys of land that do not create a division of land but only show existing tracts of record when filed by a professional surveyor pursuant to Section 61-23-28.2 NMSA 1978;

(8) certified copies of foreign wills, marriages or birth certificates duly authenticated;

(9) instruments of writing in any manner affecting lands in the state filed pursuant to Section 14-9-7 NMSA 1978, when these instruments have been duly executed by an authorized public officer; and

(10) notices of lien filed pursuant to Section 7-1-38 NMSA 1978.

D. If an original instrument of writing is unavailable but, if it were available, could be filed and recorded in accordance with this section, a duplicate of that instrument shall be accepted for filing and recording if accompanied by an affidavit executed pursuant to this subsection. The affidavit shall:

(1) provide the name, telephone number and mailing address of the affiant;

(2) provide information regarding the execution of the instrument, consideration paid, delivery or other information establishing that the original instrument, if it were available, would be entitled to be recorded pursuant to Subsection A of this section;

(3) specify the reason the duplicate is filed and recorded in place of the original instrument;

(4) include a statement that the duplicate is a true and correct copy of the original instrument; and

(5) be acknowledged and made under oath confirming that the statements set forth in the affidavit are true and correct and of the personal knowledge of the affiant.

E. The filing of a duplicate instrument in accordance with Subsection D of this section shall not incur a fee in addition to the fee, if any, charged for filing an original instrument. When the clerk records the instrument, the grantor and grantee shall be those of the duplicate instrument and the name of the affiant shall be indexed under miscellaneous information.

F. Any filing or recording permitted or required under the provisions of the Uniform Commercial Code [Chapter 55 NMSA 1978] need not comply with the requirements of this section.

G. Instruments acknowledged on behalf of a corporation need not have the corporation's seal affixed thereto in order to be filed and recorded.

The 2025 amendment, effective July 1, 2025, provided that notices of liens filed pursuant to Section 7-1-38 NMSA 1978 need not be acknowledged, but may be filed and recorded; in Subsection C, added a new Paragraph C(10).

The 2021 amendment, effective January 1, 2022, made conforming changes due to the repeal of the Notary Public Act and the Uniform Law on Notarial Acts, and the enactment of the Revised Uniform Law on Notarial Acts; and in Subsection B, after "pursuant to the", deleted "Notary Public Act or the", and added "Revised" preceding "Uniform Law on Notarial Acts".

The 2019 amendment, effective July 1, 2019, provided that when a duplicate of an original instrument of writing is filed and recorded with the county clerk, the duplicate instrument must be accompanied by an affidavit executed in accordance with this section, and provided that the filing of a duplicate shall not incur a fee in addition to any fee charged for filing an original instrument; in the section heading, after "exceptions", added "recording of duplicates"; in Subsection A, after "Any", added "original", and after "provided in this section.", deleted "A duplicate of an instrument of writing duly acknowledged may be filed and recorded to the same extent as the original."; added new Subsections D and E and redesignated former Subsections D and E as Subsections F and G, respectively.

The 2013 amendment, effective June 14, 2013, changed the types of documents that must be acknowledged before being filed and recorded; in Subsection A, in the second sentence, after "though so entered", added the remainder of the sentence and added the third sentence; in Subsection C, in the introductory sentence, deleted "Notwithstanding Subsection A of this section"; deleted former Paragraph (4) of Subsection C, which permitted mining location notices to be filed without an acknowledgment; and added Paragraphs (5) through (7) of Subsection C.

The 2011 amendment, effective July 1, 2011, in Subsection B, defined "acknowledged"; and in Subsection C, listed certain documents that do not have to be acknowledged.

I. GENERAL CONSIDERATION.

Taking acknowledgment ministerial duty. — The duties performed by an officer in taking an acknowledgment in this state are ministerial in character rather than judicial. Garcia v. Leal, 1924-NMSC-078, 30 N.M. 249, 231 P. 631.

Necessity for acknowledgment. — Laws 1874, ch. 14 (now superseded by § 14-13-13), cured defective acknowledgments to deeds made prior to January 8, 1874, but did not supply the want nor obviate the necessity of an acknowledgment as between the parties to the deed. Armijo v. N.M. Town Co., 1885-NMSC-026, 3 N.M. (Gild.) 427, 5 P. 709. See note to 14-13-13 NMSA 1978.

This section does not require deeds to be acknowledged except for recordation and for the protection of the grantee against subsequent purchasers in good faith and without notice. Garcia v. Leal, 1924-NMSC-078, 30 N.M. 249, 231 P. 631.

An acknowledgment of a deed, or other writing, affecting real estate, by the party whose real estate is affected, in the manner established by statute, is a necessary prerequisite to its being recorded. McBee v. O'Connell, 1911-NMSC-049, 16 N.M. 469, 120 P. 734; appeal after remand, 1914-NMSC-088, 19 N.M. 565, 145 P. 123.

Although acknowledgment is not essential to validity of conveyance as between parties, without it the instrument may not be admitted to record. Kitchen v. Canavan, 1932-NMSC-037, 36 N.M. 273, 13 P.2d 877.

Acknowledgment not part of instrument. — Although an acknowledgment is required before an instrument may be filed, in the absence of a statute so providing, an acknowledgment is not a part of an instrument and is not necessary to its validity. Garrett Bldg. Centers, Inc. v. Hale, 1981-NMSC-009, 95 N.M. 450, 623 P.2d 570; Germany v. Murdock, 1983-NMSC-041, 99 N.M. 679, 662 P.2d 1346.

Bankruptcy plans. — The recording statute does not prohibit the district court from considering bankruptcy plans that are approved by the bankruptcy court when assessing the amenity rights of affected property owners. Home & Land Owners, Inc. v. Angel Fire Resort Operations, L.L.C., 2003-NMCA-070, 133 N.M. 733, 69 P.3d 243.

Section does not govern admissibility. — This section addresses the filing and recording of documents and does not govern the admissibility of documents in a court of law. Home & Land Owners, Inc. v. Angel Fire Resort Operations, L.L.C., 2003-NMCA-070, 133 N.M. 733, 69 P.3d 243.

Constructive notice of easement. — Deeds and contract granting easement across land owned by defendants, which were properly acknowledged, certified and recorded (§ 14-8-4), were therefore constructive notice to defendants and the public of their contents (§ 14-8-6). Germany v. Murdock, 1983-NMSC-041, 99 N.M. 679, 662 P.2d 1346.

II. UNACKNOWLEDGED INSTRUMENTS.

Absent valid acknowledgment, instrument may not be treated as recorded. New Mexico Properties, Inc. v. Lennox Indus., Inc., 1980-NMSC-087, 95 N.M. 64, 618 P.2d 1228; F & S Co. v. Gentry, 1985-NMSC-065, 103 N.M. 54, 702 P.2d 999.

Effect of unacknowledged deed. — Where there is a quitclaim deed not attested to by a notary public, this section only prevents the recording of the deed and does not make it void. The general rule is that an unacknowledged deed is binding between the parties thereto, their heirs and representatives and persons having actual notice of the instrument. Baker v. Baker, 1977-NMSC-006, 90 N.M. 38, 559 P.2d 415.

Unacknowledged mortgage gives no constructive notice. — An unacknowledged mortgage is not entitled to record and gives no constructive notice. Vorenberg v. Bosserman, 1913-NMSC-005, 17 N.M. 433, 130 P. 438.

Restrictive covenants not effective. — Since the instrument purporting to establish the subdivision covenants tendered for filing on June 5, 1978 was not properly acknowledged and did not comply with the requirements of the statute, it was ineffective to establish restrictive covenants against the subdivision which ran with the land. Pollock v. Ramirez, 1994-NMCA-011, 117 N.M. 187, 870 P.2d 149.

Developer's declaration of covenants was legally ineffective to establish restrictive covenants that run with the land because it was not acknowledged before a notary public. Cyprus Gardens, Ltd. v. Platt, 1998-NMCA-007, 124 N.M. 472, 952 P.2d 467.

Constructive notice not found. — Because the covenants sought to be imposed did not comply with the requirements of this section and the covenants were recorded subsequent to the conveyance to the decedents, constructive notice of the existence of valid covenants cannot properly be implied. Pollock v. Ramirez, 1994-NMCA-011, 117 N.M. 187, 870 P.2d 149.

Recorded and filed lien, lacking acknowledgment, valid and binding. — A valid materialmen's lien which lacked an acknowledgment, but had been filed and recorded, was valid and binding as between the parties to an action on the lien. Garrett Bldg. Centers, Inc. v. Hale, 1981-NMSC-009, 95 N.M. 450, 623 P.2d 570.

III. VALIDITY OF ACKNOWLEDGMENT.

Acknowledgment when signature made by mark. — A deed executed by using the hand of a person to make his mark thereon at the place of signature is void where the grantor does not consciously assent to the signature so made, nor afterwards ratify the same, and a certificate of acknowledgment placed thereon under such circumstances does not operate to render such conveyance valid. Garcia v. Leal, 1924-NMSC-078, 30 N.M. 249, 231 P. 631.

Certificate of acknowledgment is not conclusive and may be contested. Garcia v. Leal, 1924-NMSC-078, 30 N.M. 249, 231 P. 631.

Certificate of acknowledgment should be impeached by only clear and convincing evidence. — A certificate of acknowledgment duly executed as required by law is prima facie evidence of the execution of the instrument it acknowledges, and should be impeached only by clear and convincing evidence. Garcia v. Leal, 1924-NMSC-078, 30 N.M. 249, 231 P. 631.

Conflicting evidence. — Where evidence for plaintiff to the effect that a deed had not been consciously executed by the grantor and that the notary's certificate of acknowledgment thereon was false, if believed by the trial court, is clear and convincing, a judgment setting aside such deed will not be disturbed on appeal, although evidence on behalf of defendants may be in direct conflict therewith. Garcia v. Leal, 1924-NMSC-078, 30 N.M. 249, 231 P. 631.

Generally. — Under the wording of this section, it is provided that any instrument of writing which is not duly acknowledged and certified is not entitled to be filed and recorded, nor considered of record, though so entered, unless expressly excepted under the terms of such statute. 1962 Op. Att'y Gen. No. 62-01.

Death certificates. — County clerks could not issue certified copies of death certificates pursuant to this section so that persons may avoid the higher fees charged for the issuance of certificates by the vital statistics bureau. 1988 Op. Att'y Gen. No. 88-01.

Instruments filed pursuant to provisions of Uniform Commercial Code not required to be acknowledged. — In keeping with the declared purpose of the Uniform Commercial Code (Chapter 55 NMSA 1978) to simplify, clarify and modernize the law governing commercial transactions, and the rule of construction that the Code shall be liberally construed and applied so as to promote its underlying purposes and policies, such instruments as are filed pursuant to the provisions of the Uniform Commercial Code are not required to be acknowledged as a prerequisite to being filed with the county clerks. 1962 Op. Att'y Gen. No. 62-01 (opinion rendered prior to 1967 amendment adding second proviso to section).

14-8-6. County clerks; to endorse and record land titles; notice.

When any land title or other document is delivered to the county clerk to be recorded, it is the clerk's duty to endorse immediately on that document or other paper the day, month and year in which the clerk received it, and the clerk shall record it in the book of record as soon as possible. The documents, from the date on which they were delivered to the county clerk, shall be considered as recorded, and this shall be sufficient notice to the public of the contents thereof.

ANNOTATIONS

Bracketed material. — The bracketed material was inserted by the compiler and is not part of the law.

Section held determinative of proper charges. — Where probate clerk died in 1906 while in process of making transcripts of property records of old county for use of new county, the compensation to which his estate was entitled was fixed by this section, and not by the subsequently enacted Laws 1907, ch. 28 (4-33-16 NMSA 1978), which imposed additional duties to be done which were not done by the decedent. Summers v. Board of Cnty. Comm'rs, 1910-NMSC-025, 15 N.M. 376, 110 P. 509.

The provision applicable to certificate and seal conflicts with 14-8-10 NMSA 1978. Both sections were reenacted in the 1865 Code and became effective the same day. See note below from 1967 Op. Att'y Gen. No. 67-53.

Prior to statehood, this section referred to the probate clerk who was also ex-officio recorder. See compiler's note to 14-8-1 NMSA 1978.

Not controlling as to fee for certificate and seal. — Section 14-8-10 NMSA 1978 is controlling over this section, and the fee which it sets out for each certificate and seal to documents recorded is the proper fee to be charged by county clerks. 1967 Op. Att'y Gen. No. 67-53.

County clerk is not under any legal duty to conduct searches at request of private persons of records filed in such office pursuant to the Uniform Commercial Code, Chapter 55 NMSA 1978, and no statutory fee is provided for such service. 1962 Op. Att'y Gen. No. 62-20.

Section 14-8-12 NMSA 1978 and this section relate to specifically enumerated fees which county clerks are legally entitled to charge, but such statutes do not provide for conducting searches of county records upon request of an individual for possible liens or encumbrances under the name of any debtor. 1962 Op. Att'y Gen. No. 62-20.

14-8-14. Searching records; reproduction of records; fees.

A. Records maintained in the office of the county clerk are available to be searched without charge during regular business hours.

B. County clerks:

(1) may charge reasonable fees for conducting searches and for reproducing or permitting reproduction of their records as well as for certifying documents;

(2) shall not charge fees in excess of one dollar ($1.00) per page for documents eleven inches by seventeen inches in size or smaller;

(3) may require advance payment of fees before making copies of public records;

(4) shall not charge a fee for the cost of determining whether any public record is subject to disclosure; and

(5) shall provide a receipt, upon request.

C. County clerks shall establish reasonable fees for conducting searches and for reproducing or copying records maintained at the office of the county clerk.

The 2011 amendment, effective July 1, 2011, rewrote this section to permit county clerks to charge fees for conducting searches and reproducing records.

Recording Act governs real property records request. — Where plaintiff corporation sought all of Lea county's real property image and index records, the production provisions of the Recording Act, 14-8-1 to -17 NMSA 1978, rather than those of the Inspection of Public Records Act (IPRA), 14-2-1 to -12 NMSA 1978, governed the county's obligation in responding to plaintiff's records request, because IPRA creates a records inspection scheme of general application granting, with various exceptions, a right to inspect public records of this state, and the Recording Act more specifically provides a mechanism by which prospective purchasers can examine real property records, and places on county clerks associated duties to make these records available and searchable for the public. TexasFile LLC v. Board of Cty. Comm'rs of Lea Cty., 2019-NMCA-038, cert. denied.

No electronic production requirement in the Recording Act. — Where plaintiff corporation filed a complaint alleging that Lea county's fee demand for electronic copies of real property records was unreasonable based on "reasonable fee" provisions appearing in the Inspection of Public Records Act, 14-2-1 to -12 NMSA 1978, and the Recording Act, 14-8-1 to -17 NMSA 1978, and where plaintiff requested a declaratory judgment declaring the county's quoted fees unreasonable as a matter of law, the district court did not err in dismissing plaintiff's complaint for failure to state a claim upon which relief could be granted, because the Recording Act, as the more specific statute, governed the county's production obligation with respect to plaintiff's record request, and the Recording Act imposes no requirement on the county to produce its documents electronically. TexasFile LLC v. Board of Cty. Comm'rs of Lea Cty., 2019-NMCA-038, cert. denied.

Certificates of nonencumbrance as to state lands. — For each certificate of nonencumbrance, required by commissioner of public lands, as to state lands, the county clerk was entitled to a fee of 25 cents, and five cents for each year for which search was made. 1915-16 Op. Att'y Gen. 49.

14-8-15. Payment of fees; disposition.

A. No county clerk shall receive any instrument of writing for filing or record unless the fees for such filing and recording have first been paid.

B. Unless otherwise specified by law, the county clerk shall collect a recording fee of twenty-five dollars ($25.00) for each document filed or recorded by the county clerk.

C. If a document being filed or recorded contains more than ten entries to the county recording index, the county clerk shall collect an additional fee of twenty-five dollars ($25.00) for each additional block of ten or fewer entries to the county recording index from the document.

D. To the extent documents described in Section 14-8-13 NMSA 1978 are filed or recorded in the office of the county clerk, the documents shall be received pursuant to the fees described in this section.

ARTICLE 9

Records Affecting Real Property

14-9-1. Instruments affecting real estate; recording.

All deeds, mortgages, leases of an initial term plus option terms in excess of five years, or memoranda of the material terms of such leases, assignments or amendments to such leases, leasehold mortgages, United States patents and other writings affecting the title to real estate shall be recorded in the office of the county clerk of the county or counties in which the real estate affected thereby is situated. Leases of any term or memoranda of the material terms thereof, assignments or amendments thereto may be recorded in the manner provided in this section. As used in this section, "memoranda of the material terms of a lease" means a memorandum containing the names and mailing addresses of all lessors, lessees or assignees; if known, a description of the real property subject to the lease; and the terms of the lease, including the initial term and the term or terms of all renewal options, if any.

History: Laws 1886-1887, ch. 10, § 1; C.L. 1897, § 3953; Code 1915, § 4786; C.S. 1929, § 118-108; 1941 Comp., § 13-201; 1953 Comp., § 71-2-1; 1991, ch. 234, § 1.

ANNOTATIONS

Compiler's notes. — Laws 1991, ch. 234, § 4 defined "leasehold" to mean an estate in real estate or real property held under a lease and validates as correct and legally effective filings or recordings to give constructive notice any actions taken prior to April 4, 1991 to file or record leases, memoranda, assignments or amendments thereto, leasehold mortgages or other writings affecting leaseholds or any interests in leaseholds in accordance with legal requirements for the filing or recording of writings affecting the title to real estate or real property.

The 1991 amendment, effective April 4, 1991, added the catchline; inserted "leases of an initial term plus option terms in excess of five years, or memoranda of the material terms of such leases, assignments or amendments to such leases, leasehold mortgages" in the first sentence; and added the second sentence.

I. GENERAL CONSIDERATION.

Purpose. — Sections 14-9-1 and 14-9-3 NMSA 1978 are not intended to protect creditors of the owners of property, but to impart information to those dealing with the property respecting its transfer and encumbrances. First Nat'l Bank v. Haverkamp, 1911-NMSC-053, 16 N.M. 497, 121 P. 31, aff'd, 235 U.S. 689, 35 S. Ct. 204, 59 L. Ed.

426 (1914); Ilfeld v. de Baca, 1905-NMSC-007, 13 N.M. 32, 79 P. 723, rev'd on other grounds, 1907-NMSC-014, 14 N.M. 65, 89 P. 244 (decided prior to 1923 amendment of 14-9-3 NMSA 1978).

Function of recording statutes. — In loans of money secured by property, recording statutes provide for notice to other potential lenders and indicate the upper limits of financing. New Mexico Bank & Trust Co. v. Lucas Bros., 1978-NMSC-062, 92 N.M. 2, 582 P.2d 379.

Certainty afforded by recording. — Because potential lenders rely upon recorded mortgages to determine whether to make other loans, there must be certainty as to the extent to which a mortgage encumbers property. New Mexico Bank & Trust Co. v. Lucas Bros., 1978-NMSC-062, 92 N.M. 2, 582 P.2d 379 (decided on facts which occurred prior to passage of 48-7-9 NMSA 1978).

Petitioner was not entitled to the protection of the Recording Act. — Where husband and wife executed a promissory note secured by a mortgage on real property in Santa Fe, New Mexico, and where the mortgage was signed by both husband and wife, but where the promissory note was signed only by husband, and where husband also signed a quitclaim deed, which was recorded in Santa Fe county in 2017, in favor of himself and wife, and where, in 2018, a court in California entered a judgment dissolving the marriage of husband and wife and adopting a marital settlement agreement stipulated by the parties that divided their assets and stated that the real property in Santa Fe was separate property purchased by husband before the marriage, and where, in 2018, plaintiff filed a complaint for foreclosure on the property and received a default judgment after none of the defendants answered the complaint, and where the property was sold at auction in 2019 to a limited liability corporation (LLC), the sale of which was approved by the district court, and where, prior to the court's approval of the sale, husband assigned his right of redemption to petitioner TAL Realty and wife assigned her right of redemption and issued a quitclaim deed for her right of redemption to the LLC on September 4, 2019, both of which were recorded with the county clerk on September 9, 2019, and wife also assigned her right of redemption to petitioner Kaushal on September 20, 2019, and where petitioners filed competing petitions for redemption of the property, and where petitioner Kaushal argued that he was a good faith purchaser or a subsequent innocent purchaser for value entitled to the protection of the Recording Act because county records showed that the property was owned jointly by husband and wife, petitioner Kaushal's argument was without merit, because regardless of the efficacy of the quitclaim deed from wife to the LLC on September 4, 2019, petitioner Kaushal was on constructive notice that there was some sort of cloud on the title of wife's right of redemption at that time, and yet still purchased wife's right of redemption. As such, petitioner Kaushal was not a good faith purchaser when he was assigned wife's right of redemption on September 20, 2019, and cannot claim the protections of the Recording Act. Nationstar Mortgage v. Kaushal, 2023-NMCA-051.

No time requirement for recording instruments. — There is no requirement that an instrument be recorded within a particular period of time; the order in which deeds appear on the record is not important in a notice jurisdiction. Angle v. Slayton, 1985-NMSC-032, 102 N.M. 521, 697 P.2d 940.

II. APPLICABILITY TO PARTICULAR INSTRUMENTS.

The recording act applies to tax deeds. The recording act does not apply to tax liens. Cano v. Lovato, 1986-NMCA-043, 105 N.M. 522, 734 P.2d 762, cert. denied, 104 N.M. 246, 716 P.2d 1267, cert. quashed, 105 N.M. 438, 733 P.2d 1321 (1987).

The recording act does not apply to tax liens. Cano v. Lovato, 1986-NMCA-043, 105 N.M. 522, 734 P.2d 762, cert. denied, 104 N.M. 246, 716 P.2d 1267, cert. quashed, 105 N.M. 438, 733 P.2d 1321 (1987).

Provisions applicable to Mexican land grants. — This article applies to Mexican land grants. Yeast v. Pru, 292 F. 598 (D.N.M. 1923).

Provisions applicable to mortgages. — Mortgages affecting real estate are governed by this section. Shafer v. McCulloh, 1934-NMSC-012, 38 N.M. 179, 29 P.2d 486.

Provisions not applicable to assignments of mortgages. — Sections 14-9-1 to 14-9-3 NMSA 1978 do not require the recordation of an assignment of a mortgage securing the payment of a negotiable promissory note, to protect the holder from payments made by the mortgagor, or subsequent purchaser, to the original mortgagee. Hayden v. Speakman, 1914-NMSC-077, 20 N.M. 513, 150 P. 292.

Assignment of unrecorded land contract. — The assignment of an unrecorded land contract, which assignment was neither acknowledged nor proven in any form to entitle it to be recorded, is not such an instrument as this section requires to be placed of record. Early Times Distillery Co. v. Zeiger, 1902-NMSC-001, 11 N.M. 221, 67 P. 734.

Executory contracts entitled to record. — An executory contract of sale of real estate, when duly executed and acknowledged, is a writing entitled to record. McBee v. O'Connell, 1911-NMSC-049, 16 N.M. 469, 120 P. 734, appeal after remand 1914-NMSC-088, 19 N.M. 565, 145 P. 123

Applicability to revocable trusts. — The protection afforded by the New Mexico recording acts is inapplicable to a revocable trust that does not affect the title to the original property. Withers v. Board of Cnty. Comm'rs, 1981-NMCA-032, 96 N.M. 71, 628 P.2d 316.

Restrictive covenant running with the land shall be enforced. — Where venture company owned 116 acres of property and split the property into four tracts, imposing identical restrictive covenants upon each tract when it was sold that prohibited each tract from being divided into parcels of less than five acres and that specifically stated that the restrictive covenant ran with the land, and where defendants purchased a five-acre parcel within one of the four tracts and sold two and one-half acres of their five-acre parcel, the district court did not err in enforcing the restrictive covenant on behalf of adjacent landowners, because a restrictive covenant that runs with the land binds the covenantor's successors in interest and applying the general rule that covenants burdening land sold under a general plan of restriction can be enforced by one landowner against another within a subdivision. Cobb v. Gammon, 2017-NMCA-022.

False or void instruments. — Only valid instruments are authorized to be filed or recorded, of which purchasers are charged with notice and if a false or void instrument purporting upon its face to be conveyance is recorded, the record, like the instrument, is void and does not protect a purchaser. *Mosley v. Necessity of notice. — To bind a purchaser of a servient estate by a servitude charged thereon, he must have notice thereof, either actual or constructive, as in case of other encumbrances upon land. Southern Union Gas Co. v. Cantrell, 1952-NMSC-024, 56 N.M. 184, 241 P.2d 1209.

Service by publication against "unknown claimants of interest" in quiet title action does not affect the title of a person whose deed to that property is on record in the deed records of the county in which the real estate in question is located. Houchen v. Hubbell, 1969-NMSC-162, 80 N.M. 764, 461 P.2d 413.

Constructive service proper where names and addresses of defendants are not reasonably ascertainable. — In a collateral attack on a 1948 quiet title judgment in San Juan county, in which service of process was accomplished by publication in a weekly newspaper, and where the plaintiffs in the 1948 complaint alleged that after diligent search and inquiry, they had been unable to learn or determine the names, places of residence, addresses and whereabouts of any unknown heirs of any deceased defendants or if any defendants were still living and residing in New Mexico, they could not be located because they had secreted themselves so that personal service of process could not be effected, and where the return of service completed by the sheriff of San Juan county indicated that after diligent search and inquiry, any predecessors-in-interest could not be located and personally served with process, the district court correctly found that the suit in this case constituted an improper collateral attack on the 1948 judgment quieting title in defendants' predecessors-in-interest, because constructive notice given in the underlying case was sufficiently reasonably calculated under the circumstances as they existed in 1948; constructive service of process by publication satisfies due process if the names and addresses of the defendants to be served are not reasonably ascertainable. T.H. McElvain Oil & Gas Ltd. P'ship v. Benson-Montin-Greer Drilling Corp., 2017-NMSC-004, rev'g 2015-NMCA-004, 340 P.3d 1277.

Lack of notice. — This section does not impose a duty upon the owner of an interest in real property to constantly peruse the records of the county clerk to determine whether he or she has been divested of his or her property right in a lawsuit of which he or she was not notified. T.H. McElvain Oil & Gas Ltd. P'ship v. Benson-Montin-Greer Drilling Corp., 2015-NMCA-004, cert. granted, 2014-NMCERT-012.

Quiet title action. — In quiet title action, where defendants failed to undertake a diligent and good faith effort to personally serve the owners of an interest in real property with adequate notice of quiet title suit, constructive notice was not constitutionally adequate. T.H. McElvain Oil & Gas Ltd. P'ship v. Benson-Montin-Greer Drilling Corp., 2015-NMCA-004, cert. granted, 2014-NMCERT-012.

Appropriations for judicial salaries are subject to governor's veto power. — Judicial salaries must annually be established by the legislature in an appropriations act, as set forth in Subsection E of 34-1-9 NMSA 1978, and are subject to the governor's partial veto authority. State ex rel. Cisneros v. Martinez, 2015-NMSC-001.

Governor's partial veto must eliminate the whole of an item to be valid. — Where the legislature provided for two separate judicial raises in two separate appropriations, the governor's partial veto of one appropriation failed to eliminate the second appropriation providing for judicial raises. State ex rel. Cisneros v. Martinez, 2015-NMSC-001.

Fraud. — The recording of a deed must be accompanied by other circumstances sufficient to put a reasonable person upon inquiry in order for the recording to act as constructive notice of fraud. Romero v. Sanchez, 1971-NMSC-129, 83 N.M. 358, 492 P.2d 140.

Failure to record mortgage promptly does not constitute a fraud in law as to subsequent creditors. First Nat'l Bank v. Haverkamp, 1911-NMSC-053, 16 N.M. 497, 121 P. 31, aff'd, 235 U.S. 689, 35 S. Ct. 204, 59 L. Ed. 426 (1914).

Date of recording tax sale certificate does not affect period of redemption. Hiltscher v. Jones, 1917-NMSC-089, 23 N.M. 674, 170 P. 884, appeal dismissed, 251 U.S. 545, 40 S. Ct. 218, 64 L. Ed. 407 (1920).

Recorded deed of trust was superior to the unrecorded interest of an investor who admitted he had actual notice of the recorded interest, and the existing priorities were not affected by the appointment of a receiver. Kuntsman v. Guaranteed Equities, Inc., 1986-NMSC-083, 105 N.M. 49, 728 P.2d 459.

Estoppel. — Where defendant and her husband had entered into a property settlement agreement which provided that after-acquired property would belong exclusively to the acquiring party and such recorded agreement was later repudiated by defendant in a recorded affidavit, but later ratified and confirmed in another recorded affidavit, plaintiffs, who had purchased property from husband, were innocent purchasers for value and entitled to rely on the record, and defendant was estopped by her conduct from asserting the invalidity of the property settlement. Allison v. Curtis, 1957-NMSC-036, 62 N.M. 387, 310 P.2d 1042.

Priority of interests in bankruptcy. — Since priority of interest of competing lienholders is determined by the date of recording under New Mexico's recording statutes (Sections 14-9-1 to 14-9-3 NMSA 1978), the second mortgage on debtor's property, as the only recorded lien of record, had priority over the trustee's interest as unperfected lienholder after avoidance of first mortgage holder's unrecorded and therefore unperfected security interest. In re Beltramo, 367 B.R. 825 (Bankr. D.N.M. 2007).

II. PERSONS CHARGED WITH NOTICE.

Land ownership and well-sharing agreement. — Where the owners of adjoining ranches entered into a written land ownership and well-sharing agreement to clarify the ownership of certain property and to provide for sharing of water from two wells; the agreement was recorded in each county in which the land and wells were located; and one landowner sold the landowner's ranch to a third party and orally advised the buyer of the existence of the agreement, the buyer had constructive notice of the agreement and had a duty to inquire about the agreement. Skeen v. Boyles, 2009-NMCA-080, 146 N.M. 627, 213 P.3d 531.

Constructive notice of restrictive covenant in deed. — Because a deed containing a restrictive covenant was recorded, the defendant had constructive notice of the covenant. Lex Pro Corp. v. Snyder Enters., Inc., 1983-NMSC-073, 100 N.M. 389, 671 P.2d 637.

Constructive notice in recorded deed of trust. — Pursuant to the policy underlying the recording statutes, Sections 14-9-1 and -2 NMSA 1978, priority in the proceeds of collateral underlying petitioners' loans would be determined by the order in which the deeds of trust were recorded; there was no question that the "master" deed of trust issued to Group I was duly recorded first and that the latter deeds were expressly made subject to it, so the investors in Group II and Group III thus had record notice of the existence of the first deed of trust, in addition to actual notice in some cases. McInerney v. Peterson, 1986-NMSC-099, 105 N.M. 207, 730 P.2d 1189.

"All the world" means those bound to search record. — "All the world" has been limited to mean those persons who are bound to search the record, and it is to such persons only that the law imputes constructive notice; subsequent purchasers are charged with such notice. Angle v. Slayton, 1985-NMSC-032, 102 N.M. 521, 697 P.2d 940.

Constructive notice to subsequent purchasers. — Subsequent purchasers are charged with such constructive notice of the contents of recorded instruments pursuant to Section 14-9-2 NMSA 1978, since the term "all the world" has been limited to mean persons who are bound to search the record, and it is only these persons that the law imputes with constructive notice. Allen v. Timberlake Ranch Landowners Ass'n, 2005-NMCA-115, 138 N.M. 318, 119 P.3d 743.

Constructive notice to laborers. — Claimants had constructive notice that title to the real estate upon which they allegedly performed labor had been previously conveyed to the grantee, where two deeds given to the grantee were both filed and recorded. In re Estates of Salas, 1987-NMCA-018, 105 N.M. 472, 734 P.2d 250.

Record of instrument is constructive notice to subsequent purchasers and encumbrancers only and does not affect prior parties. Romero v. Sanchez, 1971-NMSC-129, 83 N.M. 358, 492 P.2d 140.

Who bound to search. — Those who, by the terms of the recording laws, are charged with constructive notice of the record of an instrument affecting land are, therefore, those who are bound to search the records for that particular instrument. Romero v. Sanchez, 1971-NMSC-129, 83 N.M. 358, 492 P.2d 140.

Jury question. — If, considering all the surrounding facts and circumstances, a reasonably prudent person in the exercise of ordinary diligence would have made inquiry as to the state of the record, he is chargeable with knowledge that such inquiry would have revealed from the time that it ought to have been made. This raises a factual issue for resolution by the trier of the facts. Romero v. Sanchez, 1971-NMSC-129, 83 N.M. 358, 492 P.2d 140.

III. SCOPE OF NOTICE.

Scope of notice. — Where information of a specific claim or right is given to a person or to the world by recordation of an instrument manifesting such claim or right, the information contained therein is operative only in respect to the particular facts communicated thereby, and it will not serve to put the parties charged with such notice upon inquiry as to any other or different right. Zumwalt v. Goodwin, 133 F.2d 984 (10th Cir. 1943).

"Knowledge" does not necessarily mean "actual knowledge," but means knowledge of such circumstances as would ordinarily lead to a knowledge of the actual facts. In its broadest interpretation, it means constructive notice. Recitals in a quitclaim deed of existence of agreements, rights of redemption and mortgages charged the grantee with notice of an unrecorded warranty deed. Taylor v. Hanchett Oil Co., 1933-NMSC-099, 37 N.M. 606, 27 P.2d 59.

Person who files and records leases long after others sued to foreclose vendor's lien for balance of the purchase price and filed lis pendens notice in same county clerk's office is deemed to have notice that his interest was attacked in the action, and his interest is inferior to the lien of the vendor. Logan v. Emro Chem. Corp., 1944-NMSC-044, 48 N.M. 368, 151 P.2d 329.

Effect of recording agreement. — Purchaser's written agreement to execute a second mortgage on property when buildings were constructed on the land, or within one year from date of sale, when filed for record, constituted constructive notice to all the world of its existence and contents. Zumwalt v. Goodwin, 133 F.2d 984 (10th Cir. 1943).

An agreement as notice of a vendor's lien. — Vendor's recordation of agreement with buyer of vacant land that when buildings were erected or in one year after date of sale buyer was to give vendor a second mortgage on the property did not give constructive notice to a surety on the buyer's note of the vendor's intention to reserve a vendor's lien, and a mortgage executed to the surety to secure his signature to a renewal note had priority over the vendor's lien. Zumwalt v. Goodwin, 133 F.2d 984 (10th Cir. 1943).

Recording of short form memorandum of agreement gave notice that defendant was claiming some right to real estate under this section. Bingaman v. Cook, 1968-NMSC-187, 79 N.M. 627, 447 P.2d 507.

Reference in contract to improvement agreement. — An unrecorded improvement agreement, referred to in a recorded contract of sale, is in the chain of title. Camino Real Enters., Inc. v. Ortega, 1988-NMSC-061, 107 N.M. 387, 758 P.2d 801.

Recorded chattel mortgage of crops to be raised is constructive notice of the existence and contents of the mortgage, even though the land is generally but not particularly described, where description could be aided by reasonable inquiry. Security State Bank v. Clovis Mill & Elevator Co., 1937-NMSC-029, 41 N.M. 341, 68 P.2d 918.

Reliance on record. — An investigator may rely upon the truth of recitals contained in the record when they are specific. Smith & Ricker v. Hill Bros., 1913-NMSC-004, 17 N.M. 415, 134 P. 243.

Priority of claims in bankruptcy. — Pursuant to New Mexico recordation statute (Section 14-9-1 NMSA 1978), the ownership interests of the debtor and his wife as to good faith purchasers and judgment lien creditors were delineated by the recorded deed stating that they owned the subject property as joint tenants. In re Beery, 295 B.R. 385 (Bankr. D.N.M. 2003).

Am. Jur. 2d, A.L.R. and C.J.S. references. — 28 Am. Jur. 2d Estoppel and Waiver §§ 90, 96; 66 Am. Jur. 2d Records and Recording Laws §§ 88, 102 to 155; 77 Am. Jur. 2d Vendor and Purchaser §§ 663 to 669.

14-9-3. Unrecorded instruments; effect.

No deed, mortgage or other instrument in writing not recorded in accordance with Section 14-9-1 NMSA 1978 shall affect the title or rights to, in any real estate, of any purchaser, mortgagee in good faith or judgment lien creditor, without knowledge of the existence of such unrecorded instruments. Possession alone based on an unrecorded executory real estate contract shall not be construed against any subsequent purchaser, mortgagee in good faith or judgment lien creditor either to impute knowledge of or to impose the duty to inquire about the possession or the provisions of the instruments.

History: Laws 1886-1887, ch. 10, § 3; C.L. 1897, § 3955; Code 1915, § 4788; Laws 1923, ch. 11, § 1; C.S. 1929, § 118-110; 1941 Comp., § 13-203; 1953 Comp., § 71-2-3; Laws 1990, ch. 72, § 1.

ANNOTATIONS

The 1990 amendment, effective May 16, 1990, substituted "Section 14-9-1 NMSA 1978" for "Section 4786" in the first sentence and added the second sentence.

I. GENERAL CONSIDERATION.

Applicability. — This section is applicable only in situations where two deeds purport to convey the same property. Grammer v. New Mexico Credit Corp., 1957-NMSC-018, 62 N.M. 243, 308 P.2d 573.

This section applies to tax deeds. Cano v. Lovato, 1986-NMCA-043, 105 N.M. 522, 734 P.2d 762.

Inapplicability to tax liens. — A tax lien is not within the class of written instruments governed by this section. Cano v. Lovato, 1986-NMCA-043, 105 N.M. 522, 734 P.2d 762.

Construed in pari materia. — Section 14-9-2 NMSA 1978 must be considered with this section with which it is in pari materia. Romero v. Sanchez, 1971-NMSC-129, 83 N.M. 358, 492 P.2d 140.

Applicability to revocable trusts. — The protection afforded by the New Mexico recording acts is inapplicable to a revocable trust that does not affect the title to the original property. Withers v. Board of Cnty. Comm'rs, 1981-NMCA-032, 96 N.M. 71, 628 P.2d 316.

Word "purchaser" has two well defined meanings, the common and popular meaning being that he is one who obtains title to real estate in consideration of the payment of money or its equivalent, and the other being technical and including all persons who acquire real estate otherwise than by descent, which includes acquisition by devise, and the word is used in the recording statute in its popular sense. Arias v. Springer, 1938-

NMSC-025, 42 N.M. 350, 78 P.2d 153; Withers v. Board of Cnty. Comm'rs, 96 N.M. 71, 628 P.2d 316.

Intermittent or occasional use of land is insufficient to operate as notice to a purchaser. Ortiz v. Jacquez, 1966-NMSC-243, 77 N.M. 155, 420 P.2d 305.

Any conflict between 40-3-13 NMSA 1978, requiring joinder of spouses, and this section should be resolved in favor of this section which protects the rights of innocent purchasers for value without notice of unrecorded instruments. Jeffers v. Martinez, 1979-NMSC-083, 93 N.M. 508, 601 P.2d 1204, appeal after remand, 1982-NMSC-116, 99 N.M. 351, 658 P.2d 426.

Section does not require deeds to be acknowledged. Garcia v. Leal, 1924-NMSC-078, 30 N.M. 249, 231 P. 631.

Acknowledgment is not essential to validity of deed of conveyance as between its parties. Kitchen v. Canavan, 1932-NMSC-037, 36 N.M. 273, 13 P.2d 877.

Verbal consent to assignment. — A party's verbal consent to an assignment of an interest in a real estate contract is not a substitute for perfection of that interest by recording. Mazer v. Jones, 184 B.R. 377 (Bankr. D.N.M. 1995).

Priority of recorded judgment lien. — Although it has been held that the 1923 amendment of this section did not affect the priority of an unrecorded mortgage over a recorded judgment lien, yet as between them taking effect simultaneously, since the law of 1923 took effect, the recorded judgment lien has priority. Fulghum v. Madrid, 1927-NMSC-064, 33 N.M. 303, 265 P. 454.

Effect of failure to record. — A deed of land, though not recorded, is good between grantor and grantee, and divests the title of the former, so that it does not pass to a subsequent grantee, or mortgagee, who takes only the estate which belongs to the grantor at the time. Ames v. Robert, 1913-NMSC-021, 17 N.M. 609, 131 P. 994.

Requirement tax deeds to be recorded not applicable. — Where a deed issued by state tax commission to an individual conveyed land which had previously been conveyed by the county treasurer to the state in pursuance of a tax sale to the state, the deed from the tax commission is not a tax deed and the requirement that tax deeds must be recorded within a year after their issuance is not applicable thereto. Hargrove v. Lucas, 1952-NMSC-043, 56 N.M. 323, 243 P.2d 623.

II. PERSONS PROTECTED.

Effect of correction deeds referencing easement extinguishment agreement. — Where a five-acre tract was burdened by an access easement that benefitted an adjoining twenty-two acre tract; the original owner of both tracts sold the five-acre tract to defendants and on March 5, 2001, the original owner executed an extinguishment agreement terminating the easement across the five-acre tract; the extinguishment agreement provided that it would be effective upon recordation in the county records; two days later, on March 7, defendants recorded the deed to the five-acre tract which described the land as burdened by the easement; the original owner sold the twenty-two acre tract to a third party; on April 25, the third party recorded its deed; on April 30, defendants recorded the extinguishment agreement; the third party was a bona fide purchaser without notice of the extinguishment agreement; two years later, the third party sold the twenty-two acre tract to plaintiff; and at plaintiff's insistence, corrected deeds between the original owner and the third party, and the third party and plaintiff incorporated by reference the extinguishment agreement, the extinguishment agreement was valid when recorded and by correcting its deeds to incorporate the extinguishment agreement, plaintiff forfeited its protection under the recording statutes and its right to the easement across the five-acre tract. Amethyst Land Co., Inc. v. Terhune, 2014-NMSC-015, rev'g 2013-NMCA-059, 304 P.3d 434.

Failure to promptly record extinguishment of easement. — Where access to plaintiff's 22 acre tract was provided by a forty foot roadway easement on an adjoining five acre tract that was owned by defendants; on February 16, 2001, the common owner of both tracts signed a warranty deed conveying the five acre tract to defendants, expressly subject to the forty foot easement, on March 5, 2001, the common owner signed an extinguishment agreement to terminate the forty foot easement; on March 7, 2001, defendants' warranty deed was recorded; on March 20, 2011, the common owner gave a special warranty deed to the 22 acre tract to plaintiff's predecessor in title which did not mention the forty foot easement or the extinguishment agreement; on April 12, 2001, defendants signed the extinguishment agreement; on April 25, 2001, plaintiff's predecessor recorded the special warranty deed to the 22 acre tract; on April 30, 2001, defendants recorded the extinguishment agreement; two years later, plaintiff acquired the 22 acre tract by quitclaim deed which plaintiff recorded on April 30, 2003; and plaintiff's predecessor did not have actual or inquiry notice of the extinguishment agreement when the predecessor acquired the 22 acre tract, plaintiff's predecessor was a bona fide purchaser without notice of the extinguishment agreement and acquired title to the 22 acre tract free of the extinguishment agreement, the 22 acre tract continued to be benefitted by the forty foot easement, plaintiff acquired the property interests and rights of its predecessor, including the forty foot easement, and the extinguishment agreement was ineffective against plaintiff. Amethyst Land Co., Inc. v. Terhune, 2013-NMCA-059, 304 P.3d 434, rev'd, 2014-NMSC-015.

Correction deeds referencing an ineffective easement extinguishment agreement did not revive the easement. — Where access to plaintiff's 22 acre tract was provided by a forty foot roadway easement on an adjoining five acre tract that was owned by defendants; when defendants acquired the five acre tract, the common owner of both tracts signed an extinguishment agreement to terminate the forty foot easement; before the extinguishment agreement was recorded, the common owner sold the 22 acre tract to plaintiff's predecessor in title who was unaware of the extinguishment agreement and who later sold the 22 acre tract to plaintiff; plaintiff's predecessor and plaintiff acquired title to the 22 acre tract free of the extinguishment agreement; and after plaintiff acquired the 22 acre tract, plaintiff's attorney searched the record and prepared correction deeds from the common owner to plaintiff's predecessor and from plaintiff's predecessor to plaintiff which expressly included the forty foot easement and stated that the easement was partially vacated by the extinguishment agreement, the correction deeds did not revive the extinguishment agreement or otherwise terminate the forty foot easement. Amethyst Land Co., Inc. v. Terhune, 2013-NMCA-059, 304 P.3d 434, rev'd, 2014-NMSC-015.

Purchases and mortgages. — Prior to the amendment of 1923, the recording laws were for the protection of purchasers and mortgagees only. Wells v. Dice, 1929-NMSC-008, 33 N.M. 647, 275 P. 90.

Attachment creditors. — An unrecorded conveyance protected only subsequent purchasers and mortgagees in good faith and without notice, but did not protect attachment creditors. Chetham-Strode v. Blake, 1914-NMSC-067, 19 N.M. 335, 142 P. 1130.

Investors and judgment creditors. — The object of the recording statute is to prevent injustice by protecting those who, without knowledge of infirmities in the title, invest money in property or mortgage loans and those who have acquired judgment liens without such knowledge. Arias v. Springer, 1938-NMSC-025, 42 N.M. 350, 78 P.2d 153.

Purchaser, mortgagee, or judgment creditor. — In order to avail himself of the protection of this section, a party must be a purchaser, mortgagee in good faith, or a judgment lien creditor of the land in question. Withers v. Board of Cnty. Comm's, 1981-NMCA-032, 96 N.M. 71, 628 P.2d 316.

Gift recipients. — Because persons who have not given consideration in exchange for the title to property cannot invoke the recording statute, summary judgment in an action involving defendant's claim of title to property pursuant to the recording statute was in error where plaintiff raised the factual issue of whether the defendant acquired the property by gift. Valencia v. Lundgren, 2000-NMCA-045, 129 N.M. 57, 1 P.3d 975.

Test whether one had implied knowledge is whether he exercised the ordinary care of a purchaser of a federal oil and gas lease. O'Kane v. Walker, 561 F.2d 207 (10th Cir. 1977).

Oil and gas lease. — Purchaser exercised the ordinary care expected of a purchaser of a federal oil and gas lease where careful investigation of the records showed record title in the offeror, the price was low, but not unreasonably so in view of the short remaining lease term and the highly speculative nature of the investment, and purchaser was a bona fide purchaser, without actual or implied knowledge of any facts which would have put him on notice of an unrecorded conveyance. O'Kane v. Walker, 561 F.2d 207 (10th Cir. 1977).

Equitable principles require that innocent purchaser should prevail over one who negligently fails to record a deed upon which he seeks to rely. Jeffers v. Martinez, 1979-NMSC-083, 93 N.M. 508, 601 P.2d 1204, appeal after remand, 1982-NMSC-116, 99 N.M. 351, 658 P.2d 426.

Equitable principles require that innocent purchaser should prevail over one who negligently fails to record a deed upon which he seeks to rely. Jeffers v. Martinez, 1979-NMSC-083, 93 N.M. 508, 601 P.2d 1204, appeal after remand, 1982-NMSC-116, 99 N.M. 351, 658 P.2d 426.

Unrecorded chattel mortgage. — A chattel mortgage is good between the parties and against purchasers with notice although unrecorded. Kitchen v. Schuster, 1907-NMSC-021, 14 N.M. 164, 89 P. 261.

Unrecorded plat. — Where the developer submitted a preliminary plat that described a ten-acre parcel as open space; the municipality instructed the developer to designate the parcel as a "drainage easement" as a surrogate term for "open space" and the municipality relied on the developer's representation that the parcel would be set aside as open space in perpetuity; the preliminary plat was not recorded; the final recorded plat designated the parcel as a drainage easement; and the developer sold the parcel to a buyer who had no knowledge of the unrecorded interest of the municipality, the recorded plat unambiguously granted the municipality an easement for the specific purpose of drainage thereby extinguishing any unrecorded interests and relieving the subsequent buyer, who was a good faith purchaser for value, from the duty to diligently investigate whether the municipality had other adverse claims to the property title. City of Rio Rancho v. Amrep Sw., Inc., 2011-NMSC-037, 260 P.3d 414, aff'g in part, rev'g in part 2010-NMCA-075, 148 N.M. 542, 238 P.3d 911.

Quiet title suit. — In suit to quiet title, where plaintiff and defendant both derive their titles from the same grantor, and defendant purchased in good faith, for value and had no knowledge of the outstanding unrecorded deed of his grantor to plaintiff's grantor, defendant had the better title, notwithstanding the fact that he took a quitclaim deed. Mabie-Lowrey Hdwe. Co. v. Ross, 1920-NMSC-026, 26 N.M. 51, 189 P. 42.

Oral agreement. — If one is a bona fide purchaser for value without notice of another's claimed interest, then the oral agreement would be of no effect as to him even if it be treated as an enforceable agreement as between the other person and the vendor. Ortiz v. Jacques, 1966-NMSC-243, 77 N.M. 155, 420 P.2d 305.

III. PARTICULAR CASES.

Deeds. — Where land conveyed by unrecorded deed was within larger tract subsequently conveyed by grantor to another and was not specifically excepted from operation of later deed, both deeds purported to convey same land and this section was applicable, and later grantee did not have constructive notice of unrecorded deed. Grammer v. New Mexico Credit Corp., 1957-NMSC-018, 62 N.M. 243, 308 P.2d 573.

Residuary legatee. — Where grantor delivered deed to third party with instructions to retain the same in her possession until grantor died, and then to deliver it to grantee, and imposed no conditions, retained no right to recall the deed and exercised no control over it thereafter, grantor's residuary legatee and devisee was not a purchaser within meaning of recording statute, and could not claim title as against the deed, though unrecorded. Arias v. Springer, 1938-NMSC-025, 42 N.M. 350, 78 P.2d 153.

Constructive notice. — A lien on real estate resulting from a recorded transcript of judgment does not have priority over the interest of purchasers under an earlier executed but unrecorded contract, where the lienholder has constructive notice of the purchasers' interest through the purchasers' actual possession of the property. Citizens Bank v. Hodges, 1988-NMCA-001, 107 N.M. 329, 757 P.2d 799, cert. denied, 107 N.M. 74, 752 P.2d 789.

Partnership certificate as constructive notice. — In the absence of a recorded deed at the time plaintiff's judgment lien attached, defendant's partnership's certificate could not function as constructive notice to plaintiff of plaintiff's conveyance of the realty at issue to a partnership he formed with another party, since the partnership certificate at issue was filed with records other than those relating to property transfers, and defendant's name was not associated with the partnership in the index to those records. F & S Co. v. Gentry, 1985-NMSC-065, 103 N.M. 54, 702 P.2d 999.

Reversionary interest. — Where a mortgagor entered into an executory contract to sell his land nearly six years prior to his execution of the mortgage, so that the only interest he still owned in such real estate involved a possibility of a reverter to him in the event of a default in payment of the real estate contract, the mortgagee's bank had actual notice of the facts and did not assign to the bank any interest in the unpaid balance of the real estate contract, the trial court properly concluded, as a matter of law, that the only lien the bank acquired was on the possible reversionary interest, and accordingly, since the mortgage did not "attach to" the real property, the trial court correctly concluded that the bank was not entitled to foreclose the mortgage. First Nat'l Bank v. Luce, 1974-NMSC-098, 87 N.M. 94, 529 P.2d 760.

Reformation of deed not to affect rights of innocent purchaser. — Because there was no evidence that a judgment lienholder had any notice of a claimed mistake in a deed until she attempted to execute her judgment, the court was correct in ruling that any reformation of the deed was not effective against her rights. Ruybalid v. Segura, 1988-NMCA-084, 107 N.M. 660, 763 P.2d 369.

Acknowledgment of assignment on back of executory contract for sale of real estate, to which the assignment refers for particular description, is not an acknowledgment of the contract, and although the contract was copied into the record, that did not make it of record, nor constructive notice to a subsequent purchaser having no actual knowledge of it. McBee v. O'Connell, 1911-NMSC-049, 16 N.M. 469, 120 P. 734, appeal after remand, 1914-NMSC-088, 19 N.M. 565, 145 P. 123.

Innocent purchaser for value. — Plaintiff was an innocent purchaser for value, under 14-9-1 to 14-9-3 NMSA 1978, of oil and gas lease interests since the records at the federal land office did not constitute constructive notice or prior assignment which plaintiff had no knowledge of, and the assignment was not recorded in the appropriate county clerk's office, as required by 70-1-1 and 70-1-2 NMSA 1978. Bolack v. Underwood, 340 F.2d 816 (10th Cir. 1965).

Rights of a judgment lien creditor were held fixed by condition of affairs as they existed at time of inception of his lien. They were not affected by a subsequent conveyance which debtor could not have been coerced by courts to make. Sylvanus v. Pruett, 1932-NMSC-002, 36 N.M. 112, 9 P.2d 142.

Judgment lien was held superior to alleged mortgage lien claimed under altered warranty deed by party whose name had been inserted as grantee therein. Scheer v. Stolz, 1937-NMSC-070, 41 N.M. 585, 72 P.2d 606.

Prescriptive title cannot be obtained by adverse user based on a written, but unrecorded, grant. Southern Union Gas Co. v. Cantrell, 1952-NMSC-024, 56 N.M. 184, 241 P.2d 1209.

Gas easement. — Where gas company acquired easement for right-of-way by written instrument which was not recorded and the easement was not visible or open, a third-party purchaser, without knowledge of the easement, was not bound thereby, since gas company did not have prescriptive easement in the land. Southern Union Gas Co. v. Cantrell, 1952-NMSC-024, 56 N.M. 184, 241 P.2d 1209.

14-9-4. Filing for record; effect; reception book.

The time of the recording of an instrument shall be the time of its deposit in the office of the county clerk and his entry thereof in the reception book as herein provided. It shall be the duty of every county clerk immediately on the receipt for record of any deed, mortgage or other writing affecting the title to real estate, to enter the same by the name of the grantor, mortgagor or other persons [person] whose title is affected thereby, in a proper book, arranged in alphabetical or numerical order, to be known as the reception book, together with the date, hour and minute of such record. Any county clerk failing to make such entry immediately, shall be punished by a fine of one hundred dollars [($100)], and shall also be liable for damages to any person injured by such neglect, to the extent of such injury.

State*, 1991-NMSC-077, 112 N.M. 483, 816 P.2d 1105.

66 C.J.S. Notice § 2.

14-11-2. Requirement for publication of legal notice or advertisement.

Any and every legal notice or advertisement shall be published in a daily, tri-weekly, a semi-weekly or a weekly newspaper of general circulation that can be obtained by single copy and that is entered under the second class postage privilege in the county in which the notice or advertisement is required to be published; which newspaper, if published tri-weekly, semi-weekly or weekly, shall have been so published in the county continuously and uninterruptedly during the period of at least twenty-six consecutive weeks next prior to the first issue thereof containing any such notice or advertisement, and which newspaper, if published daily, shall have been so published in the county uninterruptedly and continuously during the period of at least six months next prior to the first issue thereof containing any such notice or advertisement; provided that the mere change in the name of any newspaper or the removal of the principal business office or seat of publication of any newspaper from one place to another in the same county shall not break or affect the continuity in the publication of any such newspaper if the newspaper is in fact continuously and uninterruptedly printed and published within the county as provided in this section; provided further that a newspaper shall not lose its rights as a legal publication if it fails to publish one or more of its issues by reason of fire, flood, accident, transportation embargo or tie-up or other casualty beyond the control of the publisher; provided further that any legal notice which fails of publication for the required number of insertions by reasons beyond the control of the publisher shall not be declared illegal if the publication has been made in one issue of the publication; and provided further that if in any county in this state there has not been published any newspaper for the prescribed period at the time when any such notice or advertisement is required to be published, the notice or advertisement may be published in any newspaper having a general circulation or published and printed in whole or in part in that county and that can be obtained by single copy in that county.

History: Laws 1937, ch. 167, § 2; 1941 Comp., § 12-202; 1953 Comp., § 10-2-2; 1999, ch. 63, § 1.

ANNOTATIONS

The 1999 amendment, effective June 18, 1999, added the section heading; deleted "only" following "be published", deleted "paid" preceding "circulation" in two places; inserted "can be purchased by single copy and that"; added "and that can be obtained by single copy in that county"; and made minor stylistic changes.

Purpose. — The primary purpose of this section is to give notice to the citizens, with provisions relating to publication, printing and mailing privileges referring merely to the method of carrying out the intent of the statute, i.e., notice. State ex rel. Sun Co. v. Vigil, 1965-NMSC-012, 74 N.M. 766, 398 P.2d 987.

"Published." — The proper and correct meaning of the word "published" is that the notice must be inserted for the required time in a newspaper that will make the matter thereof a public matter or known to the people in the place affected. State ex rel. Sun Co. v. Vigil, 1965-NMSC-012, 74 N.M. 766, 398 P.2d 987.

"Publication." — Any means which would give notice to the public of any matter desired to be brought to their knowledge would be classed as publication. State ex rel. Sun Co. v. Vigil, 1965-NMSC-012, 74 N.M. 766, 398 P.2d 987.

Publication and printing distinguished. — Publication means to make known, a notification to the public at large, either by words, writing or printing. Printing means the impress of letters or characters upon paper or upon other substance; printing implies the mechanical art by which type is imprinted upon the paper, whereas publishing means the conveying of knowledge of notices. State ex rel. Sun Co. v. Vigil, 1965-NMSC-012, 74 N.M. 766, 398 P.2d 987.

Requirement of second-class postal privilege. — Among other requirements for a legal newspaper is that the newspaper must be entered under the second-class postal privilege in the county in which said notice or advertisement is required to be published. 1960 Op. Att'y Gen. No. 60-46.

The provision relating to second-class mailing privilege is merely directory and the absence of the privilege will not defeat legal publication. 1981 Op. Att'y Gen. No. 81-13.

Use of newspaper having general paid circulation, etc. — Only where no newspaper is published within the county meeting the requirements of this section may items be published in any newspaper having a general paid circulation and/or printed in whole or in part in said county. 1964 Op. Att'y Gen. No. 64-12.

Publication in New Mexico register. — A notice published in the New Mexico register would not fulfill the requirements for legal publication under 14-11-1 to 14-11-8 NMSA 1978 because the register is not a newspaper of general paid circulation. 1993 Op. Att'y Gen. No. 93-02.

Legislative intent. — It was the intention of the legislature that legal notices be published in newspapers located within the county. 1964 Op. Att'y Gen. No. 64-12.

Only publishing required. — In order for a newspaper to be "legal" for publication of notices, it does not have to be both published and printed within the county, but only published within the county. 1964 Op. Att'y Gen. No. 64-12.

A newspaper may be published within a county and thus be a legal newspaper though its actual printing is done outside the county. 1948 Op. Att'y Gen. No. 48-5146.

A newspaper published in Window Rock, Arizona, and mailed to subscribers in San Juan and McKinley counties in New Mexico, is not "published" in these counties for purposes of this section even though it is the chief newspaper within the Navajo tribe. 1964 Op. Att'y Gen. No. 64-12.

"Publication" contemplates that the paper issue to its subscribers from the county. 1964 Op. Att'y Gen. No. 64-12.

14-11-4. Proof of publication.

Proof of the publication of any such legal notice or advertisement may be made by the affidavit of the printer, business manager, editor, publisher or proprietor of the newspaper in which the publication is made, or by any other competent person who has personal knowledge of the essential facts, which affidavit, in addition to the other matters required by law to be set forth therein, shall state that such notice or advertisement was published in a newspaper duly qualified for that purpose within the meaning of this act [14-11-1 to 14-11-4, 14-11-7, 14-11-8 NMSA 1978], and that payment therefore has been made or assessed as court costs.

Changes in economic conditions within the newspaper industry, the general economy and inflation shall be considered in determining a reasonable rate.

The clerk of any court in the state or any public trustee, county treasurer or other public officer required by law to publish legal notices or advertisements shall tax the cost of publishing notices or advertisements, as prescribed in this section, as part of the costs of the cause or proceeding and shall collect for publication before the cause or proceeding is closed and shall remit to the publisher the proper cost of the legal notices or advertisements.

ANNOTATIONS

The 1991 amendment, effective June 14, 1991, amended the section to restrict its scope to legal advertisements and notices of governmental entities.

14-16-4. Prospective application.

The Uniform Electronic Transactions Act applies to any electronic record or electronic signature created, generated, sent, communicated, received or stored on or after the effective date of that act.

History: Laws 2001, ch. 131, § 4.

14-16-5. Use of electronic records and electronic signatures; variation by agreement.

(a) The Uniform Electronic Transactions Act does not require a record or signature to be created, generated, sent, communicated, received, stored or otherwise processed or used by electronic means or in electronic form.

(b) The Uniform Electronic Transactions Act applies only to transactions between parties each of which has agreed to conduct transactions by electronic means. Whether the parties agree to conduct a transaction by electronic means is determined from the context and surrounding circumstances, including the parties' conduct.

(c) A party that agrees to conduct a transaction by electronic means may refuse to conduct other transactions by electronic means. The right granted by this subsection may not be waived by agreement.

(d) Except as otherwise provided in the Uniform Electronic Transactions Act, the effect of any of its provisions may be varied by agreement. The presence in certain provisions of the Uniform Electronic Transactions Act of the words "unless otherwise agreed", or words of similar import, does not imply that the effect of other provisions may not be varied by agreement.

(e) Whether an electronic record or electronic signature has legal consequences is determined by the Uniform Electronic Transactions Act and other applicable law.

History: Laws 2001, ch. 131, § 5.

14-16-6. Construction and application.

The Uniform Electronic Transactions Act must be construed and applied:

- (1) to facilitate electronic transactions consistent with other applicable law;
- (2) to be consistent with reasonable practices concerning electronic transactions and with the continued expansion of those practices; and
- (3) to effectuate its general purpose to make uniform the law with respect to the subject of the Uniform Electronic Transactions Act among states enacting it.

History: Laws 2001, ch. 131, § 6.

14-16-7. Legal recognition of electronic records, electronic signatures and electronic contracts.

- (a) A record or signature may not be denied legal effect or enforceability solely because it is in electronic form.
- (b) A contract may not be denied legal effect or enforceability solely because an electronic record was used in its formation.
- (c) If a law requires a record to be in writing, an electronic record satisfies the law.
- (d) If a law requires a signature, an electronic signature satisfies the law.

History: Laws 2001, ch. 131, § 7.

14-16-8. Provision of information in writing; presentation of records.

(a) If parties have agreed to conduct a transaction by electronic means and a law requires a person to provide, send or deliver information in writing to another person, the requirement is satisfied if the information is provided, sent or delivered, as the case may be, in an electronic record capable of retention by the recipient at the time of receipt. An electronic record is not capable of retention by the recipient if the sender or its information processing system inhibits the ability of the recipient to print or store the electronic record.

(b) If a law other than the Uniform Electronic Transactions Act requires a record (i) to be posted or displayed in a certain manner, (ii) to be sent, communicated or transmitted by a specified method, or (iii) to contain information that is formatted in a certain manner, the following rules apply:

(1) The record must be posted or displayed in the manner specified in the other law.

(2) Except as otherwise provided in Subsection (d)(2), the record must be sent, communicated or transmitted by the method specified in the other law.

(3) The record must contain the information formatted in the manner specified in the other law.

(c) If a sender inhibits the ability of a recipient to store or print an electronic record, the electronic record is not enforceable against the recipient.

(d) The requirements of this section may not be varied by agreement, but:

(1) to the extent a law other than the Uniform Electronic Transactions Act requires information to be provided, sent or delivered in writing but permits that requirement to be varied by agreement, the requirement under Subsection (a) that the information be in the form of an electronic record capable of retention may also be varied by agreement; and

(2) a requirement under a law other than the Uniform Electronic Transactions Act to send, communicate or transmit a record by first-class mail, postage prepaid or regular United States mail, may be varied by agreement to the extent permitted by the other law.

History: Laws 2001, ch. 131, § 8.

14-16-9. Attribution and effect of electronic record and electronic signature.

(a) An electronic record or electronic signature is attributable to a person if it was the act of the person. The act of the person may be shown in any manner, including a showing of the efficacy of any security procedure applied to determine the person to which the electronic record or electronic signature was attributable.

(b) The effect of an electronic record or electronic signature attributed to a person under Subsection (a) is determined from the context and surrounding circumstances at the time of its creation, execution or adoption, including the parties' agreement, if any, and otherwise as provided by law.

History: Laws 2001, ch. 131, § 9.

14-16-10. Effect of change or error.

If a change or error in an electronic record occurs in a transmission between parties to a transaction, the following rules apply:

(1) If the parties have agreed to use a security procedure to detect changes or errors and one party has conformed to the procedure, but the other party has not, and the nonconforming party would have detected the change or error had that party also conformed, the conforming party may avoid the effect of the changed or erroneous electronic record.

(2) In an automated transaction involving an individual, the individual may avoid the effect of an electronic record that resulted from an error made by the individual in dealing with the electronic agent of another person if the electronic agent did not provide an opportunity for the prevention or correction of the error and, at the time the individual learns of the error, the individual:

(A) promptly notifies the other person of the error and that the individual did not intend to be bound by the electronic record received by the other person;

(B) takes reasonable steps, including steps that conform to the other person's reasonable instructions, to return to the other person or, if instructed by the other person, to destroy the consideration received, if any, as a result of the erroneous electronic record; and

(C) has not used or received any benefit or value from the consideration, if any, received from the other person.

(3) If neither Paragraph (1) nor Paragraph (2) applies, the change or error has the effect provided by other law, including the law of mistake, and the parties' contract, if any.

(4) Paragraphs (2) and (3) may not be varied by agreement.

History: Laws 2001, ch. 131, § 10.

14-16-11. Notarization and acknowledgment.

If a law requires a signature or record to be notarized, acknowledged, verified or made under oath, the requirement is satisfied if the electronic signature of the person authorized to perform those acts, together with all other information required to be included by other applicable law, is attached to or logically associated with the signature or record.

History: Laws 2001, ch. 131, § 11.

14-16-12. Retention of electronic records; originals.

(a) If a law requires that a record be retained, the requirement is satisfied by retaining an electronic record of the information in the record which:

(1) accurately reflects the information set forth in the record after it was first generated in its final form as an electronic record or otherwise; and

(2) remains accessible for later reference.

(b) A requirement to retain a record in accordance with Subsection (a) does not apply to any information the sole purpose of which is to enable the record to be sent, communicated or received.

(c) A person may satisfy Subsection (a) by using the services of another person if the requirements of that subsection are satisfied.

(d) If a law requires a record to be presented or retained in its original form, or provides consequences if the record is not presented or retained in its original form, that law is satisfied by an electronic record retained in accordance with Subsection (a).

(e) If a law requires retention of a check, that requirement is satisfied by retention of an electronic record of the information on the front and back of the check in accordance with Subsection (a).

(f) A record retained as an electronic record in accordance with Subsection (a) satisfies a law requiring a person to retain a record for evidentiary, audit or like purposes, unless a law enacted after the effective date of the Uniform Electronic Transactions Act specifically prohibits the use of an electronic record for the specified purpose.

(g) This section does not preclude a governmental agency of this state from specifying additional requirements for the retention of a record subject to the agency's jurisdiction.

History: Laws 2001, ch. 131, § 12.

14-16-13. Admissibility in evidence.

In a proceeding, evidence of a record or signature may not be excluded solely because it is in electronic form.

History: Laws 2001, ch. 131, § 13.

14-16-14. Automated transaction.

In an automated transaction, the following rules apply:

(1) A contract may be formed by the interaction of electronic agents of the parties, even if no individual was aware of or reviewed the electronic agents' actions or the resulting terms and agreements.

(2) A contract may be formed by the interaction of an electronic agent and an individual, acting on the individual's own behalf or for another person, including by an interaction in which the individual performs actions that the individual is free to refuse to perform and which the individual knows or has reason to know will cause the electronic agent to complete the transaction or performance.

(3) The terms of the contract are determined by the substantive law applicable to it.

History: Laws 2001, ch. 131, § 14.

14-16-15. Time and place of sending and receipt.

(a) Unless otherwise agreed between the sender and the recipient, an electronic record is sent when it:

(1) is addressed properly or otherwise directed properly to an information processing system that the recipient has designated or uses for the purpose of receiving electronic records or information of the type sent and from which the recipient is able to retrieve the electronic record;

(2) is in a form capable of being processed by that system; and

(3) enters an information processing system outside the control of the sender or of a person that sent the electronic record on behalf of the sender or enters a region of the information processing system designated or used by the recipient which is under the control of the recipient.

(b) Unless otherwise agreed between a sender and the recipient, an electronic record is received when:

(1) it enters an information processing system that the recipient has designated or uses for the purpose of receiving electronic records or information of the type sent and from which the recipient is able to retrieve the electronic record; and

(2) it is in a form capable of being processed by that system.

(c) Subsection (b) applies even if the place the information processing system is located is different from the place the electronic record is deemed to be received under Subsection (d).

(d) Unless otherwise expressly provided in the electronic record or agreed between the sender and the recipient, an electronic record is deemed to be sent from the sender's place of business and to be received at the recipient's place of business. For purposes of this subsection, the following rules apply:

(1) If the sender or recipient has more than one place of business, the place of business of that person is the place having the closest relationship to the underlying transaction.

(2) If the sender or the recipient does not have a place of business, the place of business is the sender's or recipient's residence, as the case may be.

(e) An electronic record is received under Subsection (b) even if no individual is aware of its receipt.

(f) Receipt of an electronic acknowledgment from an information processing system described in Subsection (b) establishes that a record was received but, by itself, does not establish that the content sent corresponds to the content received.

(g) If a person is aware that an electronic record purportedly sent under Subsection (a), or purportedly received under Subsection (b), was not actually sent or received, the legal effect of the sending or receipt is determined by other applicable law. Except to the extent permitted by the other law, the requirements of this subsection may not be varied by agreement.

History: Laws 2001, ch. 131, § 15.

14-16-16. Transferable records.

(a) As used in this section, "transferable record" means an electronic record that:

(1) would be a note under Chapter 55, Article 3 NMSA 1978 or a document under Chapter 55, Article 7 NMSA 1978 if the electronic record were in writing; and

(2) the issuer of the electronic record expressly has agreed is a transferable record.

(b) A person has control of a transferable record if a system employed for evidencing the transfer of interests in the transferable record reliably establishes that person as the person to which the transferable record was issued or transferred.

(c) A system satisfies Subsection (b), and a person is deemed to have control of a transferable record, if the transferable record is created, stored and assigned in such a manner that:

(1) a single authoritative copy of the transferable record exists which is unique, identifiable and, except as otherwise provided in Paragraphs (4), (5) and (6), unalterable;

(2) the authoritative copy identifies the person asserting control as:

(A) the person to which the transferable record was issued; or

(B) if the authoritative copy indicates that the transferable record has been transferred, the person to which the transferable record was most recently transferred;

(3) the authoritative copy is communicated to and maintained by the person asserting control or its designated custodian;

(4) copies or revisions that add or change an identified assignee of the authoritative copy can be made only with the consent of the person asserting control;

(5) each copy of the authoritative copy and any copy of a copy is readily identifiable as a copy that is not the authoritative copy; and

(6) any revision of the authoritative copy is readily identifiable as authorized or unauthorized.
