B. An overlapping district may be authorized to provide the same service as the existing special district or infrastructure development zone that the overlapping district overlaps or will overlap if:

(1) where the service plan of the overlapping district is subject to approval by a governing body, the governing body having jurisdiction over the overlapping territory approves by resolution the inclusion of the service as part of the service plan of the overlapping district;

(1) the boundaries of an infrastructure development zone may be altered by the inclusion of additional real property by the fee owners of one hundred percent of any real property capable of being served with facilities of the infrastructure development zone filing with the board a petition in writing requesting that the property be included in the infrastructure development zone. The petition shall include a legal description of the property, shall state that assent to the inclusion of the property in the infrastructure development zone is given by the fee owners thereof and shall be acknowledged by the fee owners in the same manner as required for conveyance of land;

(2) the board shall hear the petition at a public meeting after publication of notice of the filing of the petition, the place, time and date of the meeting, the names and addresses of the petitioners and notice that all persons interested shall appear at the time and place and show cause in writing why the petition should not be granted. There shall be no withdrawal from a petition after publication of notice by the board without the consent of the board. The failure of any municipality or county that may be able to provide service to the real property described in the petition, or of any person in the existing infrastructure development zone to file a written objection, shall be taken as an assent to the inclusion of the area described in the notice;

(3) the board shall grant or deny the petition, in whole or in part, with or without conditions, and the action of the board shall be final and conclusive, except as provided in Paragraph (4) of this subsection. If a municipality or county has filed a written objection to the inclusion, the board shall not grant the petition as to any of the real property to which adequate service is, or will be, available from the municipality or county within a reasonable time and on a comparable basis. If a petition is granted as to all or any of the real property, the board shall make an order to that effect and file the order with the county clerk of each county in which any part of the infrastructure development zone is located, and the property shall thereafter be included in the infrastructure development zone; and

(4) a municipality or county that has filed a written objection to the inclusion and that can provide adequate service to the real property described in the petition within a reasonable time and on a comparable basis may bring an action in the district court for the county in which the land proposed to be included is located, commenced within thirty days after entry of the order of the board, to determine whether the action of the board granting the inclusion was arbitrary, capricious or unreasonable.

B. In addition to the procedures specified in Subsection A of this section, additional territory may also be added to an infrastructure development zone pursuant to the following provisions:

(1) either:

(a) not less than twenty percent or two hundred, whichever number is smaller, of the taxpaying electors of an area that contains twenty-five thousand or more square feet of land may file a petition with the board in writing requesting that the area be included within the infrastructure development zone; except that no single tract of property constituting more than fifty percent of the total area to be included may be included in any infrastructure development zone without the consent of the owner thereof. The petition shall set forth a legal and a general description of the area to be included and shall be acknowledged in the same manner as required for conveyance of land; or

(b) the board may adopt a resolution proposing the inclusion of a specifically described area; but no single tract or parcel of property constituting more than fifty percent of the total area to be included may be included in an infrastructure development zone without the consent of the owner thereof;

(2) nothing in this subsection shall permit the inclusion in an infrastructure development zone of any property if a petition that objects to the inclusion and that is signed by the owners of taxable real and personal property, which property equals more than fifty percent of the total assessed value of all taxable real and personal property to be included, is filed with the board no later than ten days prior to the public meeting held under Paragraph (3) of this subsection;

(3) upon the filing of a petition or the adoption of a resolution pursuant to Paragraph (1) of this subsection, the board shall hear the petition or resolution at a public meeting after publication of notice of the filing of the petition or adoption of the resolution, the place, time and date of the meeting, the names and addresses of the petitioners, if applicable, the description of the area proposed for inclusion and notice that all persons interested and any municipality or county that may be able to provide service to the real property therein described shall appear at the time and place stated and show cause in writing why the petition should not be granted or the resolution not finally adopted. There shall be no withdrawal from a petition after publication of notice by the board without the consent of the board. The failure of any person in the existing infrastructure development zone to file a written objection shall be taken as an assent on that person's part to the inclusion of the area described in the notice;

(4) after a hearing pursuant to Paragraph (3) of this subsection, the board shall grant or deny the petition or finally adopt the resolution, in whole or in part, with or without conditions, and, subject to an election conducted pursuant to Paragraph (6) of this subsection, the action of the board shall be final and conclusive, except as provided in Paragraph (5) of this subsection. If a municipality or county has filed a written objection to the inclusion, the board shall not grant the petition or finally adopt the resolution as to any of the real property to which adequate service is, or will be, available from the municipality or county within a reasonable time and on a comparable basis;

(5) a municipality or county that has filed a written objection to the inclusion and that can provide adequate service to the real property described in the petition within a reasonable time and on a comparable basis may bring an action in the district court for the county in which the area proposed to be included is located, commenced within thirty days after entry of the order of the board, to determine whether the action of the board granting the inclusion was arbitrary, capricious or unreasonable;

(6) upon final action by a board pursuant to Paragraph (4) of this subsection or affirmation by a district court pursuant to Paragraph (5) of this subsection, an election shall be held within the area sought to be included. The secretary shall give published notice of the time and place of the election and of the question to be submitted, together with a summary of any conditions attached to the proposed inclusion. The ballot shall be prepared by the board and shall substantially contain the following words:

"Shall the following described area become a part of the infrastructure development zone upon the following conditions, if any?

(Insert description of area)

(Insert accurate summary of conditions)

For inclusion

Against inclusion"

(7) if the majority of the votes cast at the election are in favor of inclusion, the election official shall enter an order including any conditions so prescribed and making the area a part of the infrastructure development zone. The validity of the inclusion shall not be questioned directly or indirectly in any suit, action or proceeding; and

(8) nothing in this subsection shall permit the inclusion in an infrastructure development zone of any property that could not be included in the infrastructure development zone at the time of its organization without the written consent of the owners thereof, unless the owners of the property consent in writing to the inclusion of the property in the infrastructure development zone in a petition filed pursuant to this section or unless the property is no longer excludable pursuant to the provisions of Paragraph (4) of this subsection.

C. Nothing in this section shall be construed to permit the inclusion in an infrastructure development zone of any real property located in a municipality or a county outside a municipality unless the governing body of the municipality or county has adopted a resolution authorizing the inclusion or waives its right to require the resolution in its sole discretion. Any resolution of approval so adopted or waiver so given shall be appended to any petition filed pursuant to Paragraph (1) of Subsection A of this section or Subparagraph (a) of Paragraph (1) of Subsection B of this section.

D. Not more than thirty days nor less than twenty days prior to a meeting of the board held pursuant to Paragraph (2) of Subsection A of this section or Paragraph (3) of Subsection B of this section, the secretary shall send notification by certified mail of the meeting to the property owners within the area proposed to be included within the infrastructure development zone as listed on the records of the county clerk on the date requested. The notification shall indicate that it is a notice of a meeting for consideration of the inclusion of real property within an infrastructure development zone and shall indicate the date, time, location and purpose of the meeting, a reference to the services of the infrastructure development zone as described in the service plan, the maximum mill levy, if any, or stating that there is no maximum that may be imposed if the proposed area is included within the infrastructure development zone, and procedures for the filing of a petition for exclusion pursuant to Paragraph (4) of Subsection B of this section. Except as provided in this subsection, the mailing of the notification by certified mail to all addresses within the area proposed to be included within the infrastructure development zone shall constitute a good-faith effort to comply with this section, and failure to notify all electors by certified mail shall not provide grounds for a challenge to the meeting being held.

Chapter 136 Section 16 Laws 2009

Section 16. EFFECT OF INCLUSION ORDER.--The following shall be applicable to any proceeding for inclusion accomplished pursuant to Section 15 of the Infrastructure Development Zone Act:

A. nothing in Section 15 of the Infrastructure Development Zone Act shall affect the validity of any area or property included or excluded from an infrastructure development zone by virtue of prior laws;

B. after the date of its inclusion in an infrastructure development zone, the property shall be subject to all of the taxes and charges imposed by the infrastructure development zone and shall be liable for its proportionate share of existing bonded indebtedness of the infrastructure development zone; but it shall not be liable for any taxes or charges levied or assessed prior to its inclusion in the infrastructure development zone nor shall its entry into the infrastructure development zone be made subject to or contingent upon the payment or assumption of any tax, rate, fee, toll or charge other than the taxes, rates, fees, tolls and charges that are uniformly made, assessed or levied for the entire infrastructure development zone, without the prior consent of the fee owners or approval of the electors of the area to be included;

C. in the infrastructure development zone, the included property shall be liable for its proportionate share of annual operation and maintenance charges and the cost of services of the infrastructure development zone and taxes, rates, fees, tolls or charges shall be certified and levied or assessed therefor; provided that nothing in this section shall prevent an agreement between a board and the owners of property sought to be included in an infrastructure development zone with respect to the fees, charges, terms and conditions on which the property may be included;

D. the change of boundaries of the infrastructure development zone shall not impair nor affect its organization nor shall it affect, impair or discharge any contract, obligation, lien or charge on which it might be liable or chargeable had the change of boundaries not been made;

E. the order of any inclusion of territory accomplished pursuant to Section 15 of the Infrastructure Development Zone Act shall be filed in accordance with the provisions of Section 11 of that act; and

F. the infrastructure development zone's facility and service standards that are applied within the included area shall be compatible with the facility and service standards of adjacent municipalities.

Chapter 136 Section 17 Laws 2009

Section 17. EXCLUSION OF TERRITORY.--

A. The boundaries of an infrastructure development zone may be altered by the exclusion of real property by the fee owners of one hundred percent of any real property situate in the infrastructure development zone filing with the board a petition requesting that the real property of the fee owners be excluded and taken from the infrastructure development zone. The petition shall set forth a legal description of the property, shall state that assent to the exclusion of the property from the infrastructure development zone is given by the fee owners thereof and shall be acknowledged by the fee owners in the same manner as required for conveyance of land.

B. The board shall hear the petition at a public meeting after publication of notice of the filing of the petition, the place, time and date of the meeting, the names and addresses of the petitioners, a general description of the area proposed for exclusion and notice that all persons interested shall appear at the designated time and place and show cause in writing why the petition should not be granted. There shall be no withdrawal from a petition after publication of notice by the board without the consent of the board. The failure of any person in the existing infrastructure development zone to file a written objection shall be taken as an assent on that person's part to the exclusion of the area described in the notice.

C. The board shall take into consideration and make a finding regarding all of the following factors when determining whether to grant or deny the petition or any portion thereof:

(1) the best interests of all of the following:

(a) the property to be excluded;

(b) the infrastructure development zone from which the exclusion is proposed; and

(c) the municipalities and counties in which the infrastructure development zone is located;

(2) the relative cost and benefit to the property to be excluded from the provision of the infrastructure development zone's services;

(3) the ability of the infrastructure development zone to provide economical and sufficient services to both the property to be excluded and all of the properties within the infrastructure development zone's boundaries;

(4) the effect of denying the petition on employment and other economic conditions in the infrastructure development zone and surrounding area;

(5) the economic impact on the region and on the infrastructure development zone, surrounding area and state as a whole if the petition is denied or the resolution is finally adopted;

(6) whether an economically feasible alternative service may be available; and

(7) the additional cost to be levied on other property within the infrastructure development zone if the exclusion is granted.

D. If the board, after considering all of the factors set forth in Subsection C of this section, determines that the property described in the petition or some portion thereof should be excluded from the infrastructure development zone, it shall order that the petition be granted, in whole or in part; provided that:

(1) if the property to be excluded from the infrastructure development zone will be served by a proposed infrastructure development zone that is not yet organized, the board shall not order that the petition be granted until the proposed infrastructure development zone has been organized pursuant to the Infrastructure Development Zone Act, and notwithstanding any other provision of that act to the contrary, the property to be excluded may be included within the boundaries of the proposed infrastructure development zone; and

(2) the order of exclusion shall recite in the findings a description of any bonded indebtedness in existence immediately preceding the effective date of the order for which the excluded property is liable and the date that the bonded indebtedness is then scheduled to be retired; provided that a failure of the order for exclusion to recite the existence and scheduled retirement date of the indebtedness, when due to error or omission by the infrastructure development zone, shall not constitute grounds for correction of the omission of a levy on the excluded property from the assessment roll.

E. If the board, after considering all of the factors set forth in Subsection C of this section, determines that the property described in the petition should not be excluded from the infrastructure development zone, it shall order that the petition be denied, provided that:

(1) any petition that is denied may be appealed to the approving authority for review of the board's decision. The appeal shall be taken no later than thirty days after the decision;

(2) upon appeal, the approving authority shall consider the factors set forth in Subsection C of this section and shall make a determination as to whether to exclude the properties mentioned in the petition or resolution based on the record developed at the hearing before the board;

(3) the decision of the approving authority may be appealed, within thirty days of the approving authority's decision, to the district court for the county in which the proposed excluded area is located; and

(4) upon appeal, the court shall review the record developed at the hearing before the board and, after considering all of the factors set forth in Subsection C of this section, shall make a determination whether to exclude the properties mentioned in the petition or resolution.

Chapter 136 Section 18 Laws 2009

Section 18. EFFECT OF EXCLUSION ORDER.--

A. Territory excluded from an infrastructure development zone pursuant to the provisions of Section 17 of the Infrastructure Development Zone Act shall not be subject to any property tax levied by the board for the operating costs of the infrastructure development zone. For the purpose of retiring the infrastructure development zone's outstanding indebtedness and the interest thereon existing at the effective date of the exclusion order, the infrastructure development zone shall remain intact, and the excluded territory shall be obligated to the same extent as all other property within the infrastructure development zone but only for that proportion of the outstanding indebtedness and the interest thereon existing immediately prior to the effective date of the exclusion order. The board shall levy annually a property tax on all the excluded and remaining property sufficient, together with other funds and revenues of the infrastructure development zone, to pay the outstanding indebtedness and the interest thereon. The board may also establish, maintain, enforce and, from time to time, modify the service charges, tap fees and other rates, fees, tolls and charges, upon residents or users in the area of the infrastructure development zone as it existed prior to the exclusion as may in the discretion of the board be necessary to supplement the proceeds of the tax assessments in the payment of the outstanding indebtedness and the interest thereon. In no event shall excluded territory of an infrastructure development zone become obligated for the payment of any bonded indebtedness created after the date of the court's exclusion order.

B. The change of boundaries of the infrastructure development zone shall not impair nor affect its organization, nor shall it affect, impair or discharge any contract, obligation, lien or charge on which it might be liable or chargeable had the change of boundaries not been made.

Chapter 136 Section 19 Laws 2009

Section 19. DISSOLUTION.--

A. The infrastructure development zone shall be dissolved by a resolution of the board upon a determination that each of the following conditions exist:

(1) all improvements owned by the infrastructure development zone have been, or provision has been made for all improvements to be, conveyed to the municipality or county in which the infrastructure development zone, or the applicable part thereof, is located;

(2) either the infrastructure development zone has no outstanding bond obligations or the municipality or county has assumed all of the outstanding bond obligations of the infrastructure development zone; and

(3) all obligations of the infrastructure development zone pursuant to any development agreement with the municipality or county have been satisfied.

B. All property in the infrastructure development zone that is subject to the lien of taxes or special assessments shall remain subject to the lien for the payment of general obligation bonds and special assessment bonds, notwithstanding dissolution of the infrastructure development zone. The infrastructure development zone shall not be dissolved if any revenue bonds of the infrastructure development zone remain outstanding unless an amount of money sufficient, together with investment income thereon, to make all payments due on the revenue bonds either at maturity or prior redemption has been deposited with a trustee or escrow agent and pledged to the payment and redemption of the bonds. The infrastructure development zone may continue to operate after dissolution only as needed to collect money and make payments on any outstanding bonds.

Section 20. ELECTIONS.--

A. Except as provided otherwise in the Infrastructure Development Zone Act, the provisions of the Election Code shall govern all elections conducted pursuant to the Infrastructure Development Zone Act.

At an election for the organization of a new infrastructure development zone, the approving authority shall also order the submission of the proposition of issuing general obligation bonds or creating other general obligation indebtedness if the petition filed pursuant to Section 3 of the Infrastructure Development Zone Act requests that the questions be submitted at the organization election.

C. After an infrastructure development zone is organized and the first board is elected, the board shall govern the conduct of all subsequent regular and special elections of the infrastructure development zone and shall render all interpretations and make all decisions as to controversies or other matters arising in the conduct of the elections.

within sixty days of the occurrence of any vacancy, the board fails, neglects or refuses to appoint a director from the pool of any duly qualified, willing candidates, the approving authority shall appoint a director to fill the vacancy; provided that, if there are no duly elected directors and if the failure to appoint a new board will result in the interruption of services that are being provided by the infrastructure development zone, then the approving authority shall appoint all directors from the pool of duly qualified, willing candidates.

J. Any director elected to the board of an infrastructure development zone who has actually held office for at least six months may be recalled from office by the eligible electors of the infrastructure development zone. A petition signed by the lesser of three hundred eligible electors or forty percent of the eligible electors demanding the recall of any director named in the petition shall be filed with the board and the election shall be governed by the provisions of Section 20 of the Infrastructure Development Zone Act.

Notwithstanding any other provision to the contrary, the board may waive or amortize all or part of the tap fees and connection fees or extend the time period for paying all or part of the fees for property within the infrastructure development zone in order to facilitate the construction, ownership and operation of affordable housing on the property. If the connection is not begun within twenty days, the board may thereafter connect the premises to the sewer, water and sewer, or water system, as applicable, of the infrastructure development zone and shall have a perpetual lien on and against the premises for the cost of making the connection. The lien may be foreclosed in the same manner as provided by the laws of this state for the foreclosure of mechanics' liens; provided that nothing in this subsection shall be construed as authorizing the board of an infrastructure development zone to compel any connection with the sewer, water and sewer, or water lines, as applicable, of the infrastructure development zone, by any owner of premises located outside of the infrastructure development zone who utilizes private or nongovernmental persons, services, systems or facilities;

B. to divide the infrastructure development zone into areas according to the water or sanitation services furnished or to be furnished therein. C. if the board divides an infrastructure development zone into areas according to the facilities and services furnished or to be furnished, to determine the amount of money necessary to be raised by taxation within each area, taking into consideration other sources of revenue within the area, and to fix a levy that, when levied upon every dollar of the valuation for assessment of taxable property within the area of the infrastructure development zone, will supply funds for the payments of the costs of acquiring, operating and maintaining the services or facilities furnished in the area and will pay promptly, when due, the principal or interest on bonds or other obligations issued and its pro rata share of the general operating expenses of the infrastructure development zone;

D. to establish, construct, operate and maintain works and facilities across or along any public street or highway, and in, upon or over any vacant public lands and across any stream of water or watercourse. F. to acquire water rights and construct and operate lines and facilities within and without the infrastructure development zone;

G. to fix and from time to time to increase or decrease tap fees. The board may pledge the revenue for the payment of any indebtedness of the infrastructure development zone; and

H. to assess availability of service or facilities charges subject to the following provisions:

(1) no fee, rate, toll or charge for connection to or use of services or facilities of the infrastructure development zone shall be considered an availability of service or facilities charge;

(2) any availability of service or facilities charges shall be made only when a notice, stating that the availability of service or facilities charges are being considered and stating the date, time and place of the meeting at which they are to be considered, has been mailed by first-class United States mail, postage prepaid, to each taxpaying elector of the infrastructure development zone at the taxpaying elector's last-known address, as disclosed by the tax records of the county within which the infrastructure development zone is located;

(3) availability of service or facilities charges shall be assessed solely for the purpose of paying principal of and interest on any outstanding indebtedness or bonds of the infrastructure development zone and shall not be used to pay any operation or maintenance expenses of, nor capital improvements within or for, the infrastructure development zone;

(4) availability of service or facilities charges shall be assessed only where water, sewer or both water and sewer lines are installed and ready for connection within one hundred feet of any property line of the residential lot or residential lot equivalent to be assessed, but to one or both of which line or lines the particular lot or lot equivalent to be assessed is not connected; and

(5) availability of service or facilities charges shall be a percentage, not to exceed fifty percent, of the fees, rates, tolls or charges for use of services or facilities of the infrastructure development zone, said percentage to be determined by the board. If the fees, rates, tolls or charges for the use of services or facilities vary dependent upon quantities of usage, the availability of service or facilities charges shall be a percentage, determined by the board, not to exceed fifty percent, of the average usage derived by dividing the total usage quantity for the infrastructure development zone for the last preceding fiscal year by the total number of users in the infrastructure development zone. In addition, the aggregate amount of revenue budgeted and expected to be derived from availability of service or facilities charges shall not exceed the total amount of principal of and interest on the outstanding indebtedness or bonds of the infrastructure development zone for the service currently budgeted for and to mature or accrue during the annual period within which the availability of service or facilities charges are payable, less the amount budgeted and expected to be produced during the period by the mill levy allocable to the service then being budgeted for and levied and assessed by the infrastructure development zone.

Section 25. SUBDISTRICTS.--

A. The board may divide the infrastructure development zone into one or more areas consistent with the services to be furnished therein. However, any facility operated by the infrastructure development zone within the area may be used by any resident of the infrastructure development zone for the same fee charged to persons residing within the area. Whenever the board divides the infrastructure development zone into one or more areas pursuant to this section, the board shall provide notification of the action to each governing body with zoning jurisdiction over territory included in the infrastructure development zone. Each governing body that is entitled to the notification may elect, within thirty days after the notification, to treat the action as a material modification of the infrastructure development zone service plan in accordance with Section 14 of the Infrastructure Development Zone Act.

B. Any area created pursuant to this section shall be a subdistrict of the infrastructure development zone. A subdistrict shall be an independent political subdivision, shall act pursuant to the provisions of the Infrastructure Development Zone Act and shall possess all of the rights, privileges and immunities of the infrastructure development zone. The subdistrict shall be subject to the service plan of the infrastructure development zone.

C. The board of the infrastructure development zone shall constitute ex officio the board of directors of the subdistrict. The presiding officer of the board shall be ex officio the presiding officer of the subdistrict, the secretary of the board shall be ex officio the secretary of the subdistrict and the treasurer of the board shall be ex officio the treasurer of the subdistrict. The debt of the subdistrict shall be treated separately from the debt of the infrastructure development zone and shall not be treated as debt of the infrastructure development zone; provided that the total debt of the infrastructure development zone and all subdistricts shall not exceed any debt limits specified in the service plan of the infrastructure development zone.

D. The board shall make any determination specified in Subsection A of this section by resolution adopted at a regular or special meeting of the board after publication of notice of the purpose of the public meeting and the place, time and date of the meeting.

E. No resolution dividing the infrastructure development zone into one or more subdistricts shall be adopted by the board if a petition objecting to the division is signed by the owners of taxable real and personal property, consisting of more than fifty percent of the total valuation for assessment of all taxable real and personal property within the proposed subdistrict boundaries, and is filed with the board no later than five days prior to the public meeting; provided, however, that the board may change the geographical boundaries of the subdistrict at the public meeting.

F. If taxes are to be levied or debt is to be created within a subdistrict of the infrastructure development zone, the board shall submit a ballot issue approving the taxes or debt to the eligible electors within the subdistrict at a regular infrastructure development zone election or at a special election.

Chapter 136 Section 26 Laws 2009

Section 26. REVENUES.--The projects to be constructed or acquired as shown in the service plan may be financed from the following sources of revenue:

A. proceeds received from the sale of bonds of the infrastructure development zone;

B. money of the municipality or county contributed to the infrastructure development zone;

- C. annual property taxes or special assessments;
- D. state or federal grants or contributions;
- E. private contributions;
- F. user, landowner and other fees, tolls and charges;
- G. proceeds of loans or advances; and
- H. any other money available to the infrastructure development zone by law.

Chapter 136 Section 27 Laws 2009

Section 27. STATE CAPITAL OUTLAY PROJECTS PROHIBITED.--An infrastructure development zone shall not request nor receive state funding for a capital outlay project; provided that this prohibition does not apply to buildings or facilities that may be located within an infrastructure development zone but that are owned by the state or one of its agencies, institutions or other political subdivisions or that are financed through the Statewide Economic Development Finance Act.

Chapter 136 Section 28 Laws 2009

Section 28. GENERAL OBLIGATION BONDS--TAX LEVY--EXCEPTION.--

A. At any time after the organization of the infrastructure development zone, the board may order and call a general obligation bond election to submit to the eligible electors the question of authorizing the infrastructure development zone to issue general obligation bonds of the infrastructure development zone to provide money for any services consistent with the service plan. If included in the petition filed pursuant to Section 3 of the Infrastructure Development Zone Act, the question of authorizing general obligations bonds may also be held in conjunction with the organization election.

B. If general obligation bonds are approved at an election, the board may issue and sell general obligation bonds of the infrastructure development zone.

C. Bonds may be sold in a public offering or in a negotiated sale.

D. After the bonds are issued, the board shall enter in its minutes a record of the bonds sold and their numbers and dates and shall annually levy and cause a property tax to be collected, at the same time and in the same manner as other property taxes are levied and collected on all taxable property in the infrastructure development zone, sufficient, together with any money from the sources described in Section 26 of the Infrastructure Development Zone Act to pay debt service on the bonds when due.

Money derived from the levy of property taxes that are pledged to pay the debt service on the bonds shall be kept separately from other funds of the infrastructure development zone. Property tax revenues not pledged to pay debt service on bonds may be used to pay other costs of the infrastructure development zone, including costs of organization, administration, operation and maintenance, services or enhanced services. An infrastructure development zone's levy of property taxes shall constitute a lien on all taxable property within the infrastructure development zone, including all leased property or improvements to leased land, which shall be subject to foreclosure in the same manner as other property tax liens under the laws of this state. The lien shall include delinquencies and interest thereon at a rate not to exceed ten percent per year, the actual costs of foreclosure and any other costs of the infrastructure development zone resulting from the delinquency. The proceeds of any foreclosure sale shall be deposited in the special bond fund for payment of any obligations secured thereby.

E. Subject to the election requirements of this section, an infrastructure development zone may issue general obligation bonds at such times and in such amounts as the infrastructure development zone deems appropriate to carry out a project or projects in phases.

F. Pursuant to this section, the infrastructure development zone may issue and sell refunding bonds to refund general obligation bonds of the infrastructure development zone authorized by the Infrastructure Development Zone Act. No election is required in connection with the issuance and sale of refunding bonds. Refunding bonds issued pursuant to this section shall have a final maturity date no later than the final maturity date of the bonds being refunded.

Chapter 136 Section 29 Laws 2009

Section 29. SPECIAL ASSESSMENT--BONDS--IMPOSITION.--

A. At any time after the organization of the infrastructure development zone, the board may from time to time order that a hearing be held to determine whether a special assessment should be imposed and special assessment bonds issued to provide money for any services consistent with the service plan. The question of imposing a special assessment may be considered at the hearing on infrastructure development zone organization upon notice that both issues will be heard at that time, which notice shall include the information required in Subsection B of this section.

B. Notice of hearing shall be provided by publication of a notice at least thirty days in advance of the hearing itself. The notice shall include the following:

(1) a description of the method by which the amount of the proposed special assessment will be determined for each class of property to which the levy is proposed to apply, in sufficient detail to enable the owner of the affected parcel to determine the amount of the special assessment;

(2) a description of the project to be financed with special assessment bonds or revenues; and

(3) a statement that any person affected by the proposed special assessment may object in writing or in person at the hearing.

C. After a hearing on the proposed special assessment and the issuance of special assessment bonds, the board shall, based upon the evidence presented at the hearing, issue a decision as to whether to impose a special assessment and, if so, the method of assessment for each class of property and the project to be financed thereby. The decision shall also respond to each objection to the assessment raised at the hearing.

D. Special assessment bonds may be sold in a public offering or in a negotiated sale.

E. After the bonds are issued, the board shall enter in its minutes a record of the bonds sold and their numbers and dates, and shall annually impose and cause a special assessment to be collected, at the same time and in the same manner as property taxes are levied and collected on all property within the infrastructure development zone that may be subject to the assessment, including all leased property or improvements to leased land, sufficient, together with any other money lawfully available to pay debt service on the bonds when due, except to the extent that the board has provided for other imposition, collection and foreclosure procedures in connection with special assessments. Money derived from the imposition of the special assessment when collected that is pledged to pay the debt service on the bonds shall be kept separately from other funds of the infrastructure development zone. Special assessment revenues not pledged to pay debt service on bonds may be used to pay other costs of the infrastructure development zone, including costs of organization, administration, operation and maintenance, service or enhanced services.

F. The board shall specify conditions under which the obligation to pay special assessments may be prepaid and permanently satisfied.

G. Special assessments against privately owned residential property shall be subject to the following provisions:

(1) the maximum amount of special assessment that may be imposed shall not be increased over time by an amount exceeding two percent per year, except that the amount of special assessment actually imposed may be increased by up to ten percent as a result of the delinquency or default by the owner of any other parcel within the infrastructure development zone;

(2) the special assessment shall be imposed for a specified time period, after which no further special assessment shall be imposed and collected, except that special assessments imposed solely to finance the cost of ongoing infrastructure development zone services, maintenance or operations or enhanced services may be levied while such services, maintenance or operations or enhanced services are continuing; and

(3) nothing in this subsection shall preclude the establishment of different categories of residential property or changing the amount of the special assessments for a parcel whose size or use is changed. A change in the amount of a special assessment imposed upon a parcel due to a change in its size or use shall not require voter approval if the method for changing the amount of special assessment was approved in the election approving the special assessment in sufficient detail to enable the owner of the affected parcel to determine how the change in size or use of the parcel would affect the amount of the special assessment.

H. An infrastructure development zone's imposition of a special assessment shall constitute a lien on the property within the infrastructure development zone subject to the special assessment, including property acquired by the state or its political subdivisions after imposition of the special assessment, which shall be effective during the period in which the special assessment is imposed and shall have priority co-equal to the lien of property taxes. A special assessment shall be subject to foreclosure by the infrastructure development zone at any time after six months following written notice of delinquency to the owner of the real property to which the delinquency applies. The lien shall include delinquencies, penalties and interest thereon at a rate not to exceed the maximum legal rate of interest per year and penalties otherwise applicable for delinquent property taxes, the infrastructure development zone's actual costs of foreclosure and any other costs of the infrastructure development zone resulting from the delinquency. All rights of redemption applicable to property sold in connection with property tax foreclosures pursuant to the laws of this state shall apply to property sold following foreclosure of a special assessment lien. The portion of proceeds of any foreclosure sale necessary to discharge the lien for the special assessment shall be deposited in the special bond fund for payment of any obligations secured thereby.

I. No holder of special assessment bonds issued pursuant to the Infrastructure Development Zone Act may compel any exercise of the taxing power of the infrastructure development zone, municipality or county to pay the bonds or the interest on the bonds. Special assessment bonds issued pursuant to that act are not a debt of the infrastructure development zone, municipality or county, nor is the payment of special assessment bonds enforceable out of any money other than the revenue pledged to the payment of the bonds.

J. Subject to the requirements of this section, an infrastructure development zone may issue special assessment bonds at such times and in such amounts as the board deems appropriate to carry out a project or projects in phases.

K. Pursuant to this section, the board may issue and sell refunding bonds to refund any special assessment bonds of the infrastructure development zone authorized by the Infrastructure Development Zone Act. Refunding bonds issued pursuant to this section shall have a final maturity date no later than the final maturity date of the bonds being refunded.

Section 30. REVENUE BONDS--FEES AND CHARGES.--

A. At any time after the organization of the infrastructure development zone, the board may hold a hearing on the question of authorizing the board to issue one or more series of revenue bonds of the infrastructure development zone to provide money for any public infrastructure purposes consistent with the service plan.

B. If revenue bonds are approved by resolution, the board may issue and sell revenue bonds of the infrastructure development zone.

C. The revenue bonds may be sold in a public offering or in a negotiated sale; however, if the bonds are to be sold in a public offering, no revenue bonds may be issued by the infrastructure development zone unless the revenue bonds receive one of the four highest investment grade ratings by a nationally recognized bond rating agency.

D. The board may pledge to the payment of its revenue bonds any revenues of the infrastructure development zone or revenues to be collected by the municipality or county in trust for the infrastructure development zone and returned to the infrastructure development zone.

E. The infrastructure development zone shall prescribe fees and charges, and shall revise them when necessary, to generate revenue sufficient, together with any money from the sources described in Section 26 of the Infrastructure Development Zone Act, to pay when due the principal and interest of all revenue bonds for the payment of which revenue has been pledged. The establishment or revision of any rates, fees and charges shall be identified and noticed concurrently with the annual budget process of the infrastructure development zone pursuant to Section 32 of the Infrastructure Development Zone Act.

F. If, in the resolution of the board, the revenues to be pledged are limited to certain types of revenues, only those types of revenues may be pledged and only those revenues shall be maintained.

G. No holder of revenue bonds issued pursuant to the Infrastructure Development Zone Act may compel any exercise of the taxing power of the infrastructure development zone, municipality or county to pay the bonds or the interest on the bonds. Revenue bonds issued pursuant to that act are not a debt of the infrastructure development zone, municipality or county, nor is the payment of revenue bonds enforceable out of any money other than the revenue pledged to the payment of the bonds.

H. Subject to the requirements of this section, an infrastructure development zone may issue revenue bonds at such times and in such amounts as the board deems appropriate to carry out a project in phases.

I. Pursuant to this section, the infrastructure development zone may issue and sell refunding bonds to refund revenue bonds of the infrastructure development zone authorized by the Infrastructure Development Zone Act. Refunding bonds issued pursuant to this section shall have a final maturity date no later than the final maturity date of the bonds being refunded.

Chapter 136 Section 31 Laws 2009

Section 31. TERM OF BONDS.--For any bonds issued in connection with Section 28, 29 or 30 of the Infrastructure Development Zone Act, the board shall prescribe the denominations of the bonds, the principal amount of each issue and the form of the bonds and shall establish the maturities, which shall not exceed thirty years, interest payment dates and interest rates, whether fixed or variable, not exceeding the maximum rate stated in the notice of the election or the resolution of the board. The bonds may be sold by competitive bid or negotiated sale for public or private offering at, below or above par. The proceeds of the bonds shall be deposited with the treasurer, or with a trustee or agent designated by the board, to the credit of the infrastructure development zone to be withdrawn for the purposes provided by the Infrastructure Development Zone Act. Pending that use, the proceeds may be invested as determined by the board. The bonds shall be made payable as to both principal and interest solely from revenues of the infrastructure development zone, and shall specify the revenues pledged for such purposes, and shall contain such other terms, conditions, covenants and agreements as the board deems proper. The bonds may be payable from any combination of taxes, assessments or other revenues collected or received pursuant to the Infrastructure Development Zone Act.

Chapter 136 Section 32 Laws 2009

Section 32. PETITION FOR TAX REDUCTION--ANNUAL FINANCIAL ESTIMATE--BUDGET--CERTIFICATION TO LOCAL GOVERNMENT DIVISION.--

A. Upon presentation to the board of a petition signed by the owners of a majority of the property in the infrastructure development zone, the board shall adopt a resolution to reduce or eliminate the portion of a tax or special assessment, beginning the next fiscal year, required for one or more services specified in the petition. Signatures on a petition to reduce or eliminate a tax or special assessment shall be valid for a period of sixty days.

B. When levying a property tax or imposing a special assessment, the board shall make annual statements and estimates of the operation and maintenance expenses of the infrastructure development zone, the costs of services to be financed by the taxes or special assessment and the amount of all other expenditures for services proposed to be paid from the taxes or special assessment and of the amount to be raised to pay general obligation bonds of the infrastructure development zone or special assessment bonds, all of which shall be provided for by the levy and collection of property taxes on the net taxable value of the real property in the infrastructure development zone or by the imposition and collection of special assessments. The board shall file the annual statements and estimates with the county clerk for each county in the infrastructure development zone. The board shall publish a notice of the filing of the estimate, shall hold hearings on the portions of the estimate not relating to debt service on general obligation bonds or special assessment bonds and shall adopt a budget. The board, on or before the date set by law for certifying the annual budget of the municipality or county, shall fix, levy and assess the amounts to be raised by property taxes or special assessments of the infrastructure development zone and shall cause certified copies of the order to be delivered to the local government division of the department of finance and administration. All statutes relating to the levy and collection of property taxes, including the collection of delinquent taxes and sale of property for nonpayment of taxes, apply to infrastructure development zone property taxes and to special assessments, except to the extent that the board has provided for other imposition, collection and foreclosure procedures in connection with special assessments.

Chapter 136 Section 33 Laws 2009

Section 33. BONDS NOT OBLIGATION OF STATE.--Except as otherwise provided in the Infrastructure Development Zone Act, all bonds or other obligations issued pursuant to that act are payable solely from the revenues of the infrastructure development zone that may be pledged to the payment of such obligations, and the bonds or other obligations shall not create an obligation, debt or liability of the state or any other of its political subdivisions. No breach of any pledge, obligation or agreement of an infrastructure development zone shall impose a pecuniary liability or a charge upon the general credit or taxing power of the state or any other of its political subdivisions.

Chapter 136 Section 34 Laws 2009

Section 34. EXEMPTION FROM COMMUNITY SERVICE DISTRICT ACT AND SPECIAL DISTRICT PROCEDURES ACT.--Infrastructure development zones and the provisions of the Infrastructure Development Zone Act are exempt from the provisions of the Community Service District Act and the Special District Procedures Act.

Chapter 136 Section 35 Laws 2009

Section 35. CUMULATIVE AUTHORITY.--The Infrastructure Development Zone Act shall be deemed to provide an additional and alternative method for the doing of things authorized by that act, and shall be regarded as supplemental and additional to powers conferred by other laws and shall not be regarded as in derogation of any powers now existing; provided that the issuance of bonds under the provisions of the Infrastructure Development Zone Act need not comply with the requirements of any other law applicable to the issuance of bonds.

Chapter 136 Section 36 Laws 2009

Section 36. LIBERAL INTERPRETATION.--The Infrastructure Development Zone Act, being necessary for the welfare of the state and its inhabitants, shall be liberally construed to effect the purposes of that act.

ENERGY OR WATER SAVINGS GUARANTEE REQUIRED.--

A. A governmental unit may enter into a guaranteed utility savings contract with a qualified provider to reduce energy, water or conservation-related operating costs if, after review of the utility efficiency proposal from the qualified provider, the governmental unit finds that:

(1) the amount the governmental unit would spend on the energy or water conservation measures recommended in the proposal is not likely to exceed the cumulative amount of utility cost savings and conservation-related cost savings of all energy or water conservation measures in the proposal over twenty-five years or over a period not to exceed the expected useful life of the most durable measure in the proposal, whichever period of time is less, from the date of installation if the recommendations in the proposal were followed. Section 3. Section 6-23-6.1 NMSA 1978 (being Laws 1997, Chapter 42, Section 7, as amended) is amended to read:

"6-23-6.1. REPORTING AND RETENTION OF UTILITY COST SAVINGS FOR STATE AGENCIES.--

A. A state agency entering into a guaranteed utility savings contract with a qualified provider shall, no later than thirty days after the close of the fiscal year, furnish the energy, minerals and natural resources department a consumption and savings report, in a format established jointly by that department and the department of finance and administration, that estimates any cost savings resulting from the implementation of the guaranteed utility savings contract during the fiscal year. The report shall include:

(1) the name or description of each facility or major utility system covered by the report;

(2) utility account numbers;

(3) a record of monthly consumption of water or energy by fuel type; and

(4) a record of monthly per-unit cost of water or energy by fuel type.

B. If the consumption and savings report for a state agency shows a utility cost savings or conservation-related cost savings at the end of the fiscal year that resulted from implementation of a guaranteed utility savings contract and causes an unexpended and unencumbered balance in the agency's utility line item, and if the utility cost savings or conservation-related cost savings has not been pledged for payments pursuant to the guaranteed utility savings contract, the dollar amount of the utility cost savings or conservation-related cost savings shall be carried over as a reserved designated fund balance to the subsequent fiscal year.

C. Beginning the year after the energy or water conservation measures are implemented, and until any alternative financing for a guaranteed utility savings contract is repaid, or for a period of no more than twenty-five years, whichever is less, all utility budgets and appropriations for the state agency shall be based on:

(1) the energy or water consumption levels, or both, before the energy or water conservation measures were implemented;

(2) the same allowance for escalation or decrease of utility costs given state agencies that did not participate in a guaranteed utility savings contract; and

(3) any adjustments for acquisitions, expansions, sale or disposition of state agency facilities.

D. At the end of the repayment period for the guaranteed utility savings contract, or twenty-five years, whichever is less, new budgets or appropriations for utilities shall again be based upon actual utility consumption.

E. Upon carryover of the dollar amount of utility cost savings or conservation-related cost savings as a reserved designated fund balance to the subsequent fiscal year, state agencies may submit a budget adjustment request to use those funds for the following purposes:

(1) up to one hundred percent of the funds may be used for additional energy or water conservation measures or for payment of guaranteed utility savings contracts; and

(2) after encumbrances for additional energy or water conservation measures or for payment of guaranteed utility savings contracts have been made, up to fifty percent of the remaining funds may be used for purposes consistent with the duties and responsibilities assigned to the state agency, while the remaining funds shall revert to the appropriate fund.

AN ACT

RELATING TO MUNICIPALITIES; AMENDING CERTAIN PROVISIONS OF THE SMALL CITIES ASSISTANCE FUND TO PROVIDE DIRECT POPULATION DATA TO THE TAXATION AND REVENUE DEPARTMENT TO DETERMINE DISTRIBUTIONS FROM THE FUND.

BE IT ENACTED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF NEW MEXICO:

Chapter 144 Section 1 Laws 2009

Section 1. Section 3-37A-3 NMSA 1978 (being Laws 1979, Chapter 284, Section 3, as amended) is amended to read:

"3-37A-3. SMALL CITIES ASSISTANCE FUND--DISTRIBUTION.--

A. The "small cities assistance fund" is created within the state treasury.

B. On or before January 31, 2004 and on or before January 31 of each subsequent year, the bureau of business and economic research located at the university of New Mexico shall certify to the taxation and revenue department the population of each municipality in the state.

C. On or before the last day of February of 2004 and of each subsequent year, the taxation and revenue department shall compute the amount to be distributed to each qualifying municipality as follows:

(1) the department first shall compute a distribution share for each qualifying municipality. The distribution share shall be an amount equal to the product of the qualifying municipality's population multiplied by the difference between the statewide per capita average and the municipal per capita average less the local tax effort of the qualifying municipality;

(2) in 2004 and subsequent years, the balance in the small cities assistance fund in February immediately after the distribution to the fund pursuant to Section 7-1-6.2 NMSA 1978 for the preceding January will be divided by the number of qualifying municipalities. The quotient will be rounded down to the nearest dollar and may be cited as the "target amount";

(3) if the target amount determined in Paragraph (2) of this subsection is less than or equal to the minimum amount, the target amount is the amount to be distributed to each qualifying municipality; and

(4) if the target amount exceeds the minimum amount, the amount to be distributed to all qualifying municipalities whose distribution share equals or is less than the minimum amount shall equal the minimum amount. The sum to be distributed to such municipalities shall be subtracted from the amount in the fund. The target amount then shall be increased by dividing the balance remaining in the fund by the number of remaining qualifying municipalities. The amount to be distributed to each remaining qualifying municipality shall equal the lesser of the municipality's distribution share or the increased target amount. If the distribution share of one or more of these remaining qualifying municipalities is less than the increased target amount, the balance of the fund is to be further reduced by the amount necessary to provide for a distribution to those municipalities of their distribution shares. The target amount is to be increased again by dividing the recomputed fund balance by the number of qualifying municipalities not yet provided for. Successive iterations of the process to increase the target amount shall occur until no remaining municipality's distribution share is less than the increased target amount.

D. The state treasurer shall distribute from the small cities assistance fund on or before March 1, 2004 and March 1 of each subsequent year to each qualifying municipality the amount certified by the taxation and revenue department for each qualifying municipality for the year.

E. Funds distributed in accordance with this section shall be placed in the general fund of the qualifying municipalities receiving distributions."

BE IT ENACTED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF NEW MEXICO:

Chapter 145 Section 1 Laws 2009

Section 1. HEALTH AND HUMAN SERVICES OFFICE BUILDING.--

A. Subject to the provisions of this section, the property control division of the general services department, after consulting with the human services department and the children, youth and families department and on behalf of those departments, shall:

(1) enter into agreements necessary for the land acquisition, if necessary, and the planning, designing, constructing, equipping and furnishing of a new health and human services office building in the county or municipality of Santa Fe that will serve as the first phase of the health and human services office complex and be occupied by the human services department and the children, youth and families department, provided that, in entering into the agreements, the division shall consider state and private land acquisition options, including potential trades of land; and

(2) enter into a lease purchase agreement with the owner of the building for the leasing of the building by the property control division with an option to purchase for a price that is reduced according to the payments made pursuant to the agreement; provided that the lease purchase agreement shall:

(a) specify the principal, interest and maintenance component of each payment made, provided further that: 1) the initial principal shall not exceed eighty million dollars ($80,000,000); and 2) the net effective interest rate shall not exceed the maximum permitted by the Public Securities Act;

(b) provide that there is no legal obligation for the property control division to continue the lease from year to year or to purchase the building;

(c) provide that the lease shall be terminated if sufficient appropriations are not available to meet the current lease payments;

(d) provide that the lease payments include a maintenance component that shall escalate annually and, over the length of the agreement, approximate the amount that will be needed for the maintenance and repair of the building; and

(e) provide that if the building is purchased, title to the building shall be issued in the name of the property control division.

B. The property control division shall enter into such financing arrangements as are necessary to construct, occupy and acquire the building by the most cost-effective method and, if the division determines that the issuance of lease purchase revenue bonds by the New Mexico finance authority pursuant to Section 6-21-6.14 NMSA 1978 is the most cost-effective financing arrangement, the New Mexico finance authority is authorized to:

(1) issue bonds, in an amount not to exceed eighty million dollars ($80,000,000), pursuant to that section;

(2) include a maintenance component as part of the lease payments received; and

(3) use a portion of the net proceeds from the sale of the bonds for debt service payments that are due before sufficient lease payments have been deposited into the debt service fund.

C. No contract or financing arrangement entered into pursuant to Subsection A or B of this section shall be effective until approved by the attorney general for legal sufficiency.

D. Neither a request for proposals shall be issued pursuant to Subsection A or B of this section nor a contract entered into pursuant to those subsections without prior review by the capitol buildings planning commission to ensure that:

(1) the request for proposals or the contract is the most cost-effective method for acquiring the building; and

(2) the building and its proposed use are within the scope of the commission's master plan.

E. The property control division shall enter into subleases with the human services department and the children, youth and families department for the lease of office space within the building, provided that the payments made under the subleases shall equal the payments due by the property control division under the lease purchase agreement. The property control division may also sublease available space within the building to any state agency if:

(1) the space subject to an existing sublease has been reduced by agreement between the property control division and the existing sublessee;

(2) the previous sublease for the available space has been terminated due to the failure of the sublessee to obtain appropriations or otherwise receive the money necessary for making the lease payments; or

(3) the previous sublessee of the available space has been relocated by an act of the legislature.

F. Notwithstanding any provision restricting budget adjustments, upon the certification by the director of the property control division that the building is completed and suitable for occupancy, the secretary of finance and administration may transfer between and among the categories and programs of the current operating budget of each agency that will occupy the building any unexpended or unencumbered appropriation for lease payments or building maintenance. The transferred appropriations shall be expended by the property control division for lease payments due pursuant to the lease purchase agreement.

G. During the term of the lease purchase agreement, each sublessee shall include, in its annual budget request, the amount due under its sublease during the next fiscal year, and the sublessee and the property control division shall use their best efforts to secure the appropriation.

Chapter 145 Section 2 Laws 2009

Section 2. A new section of the New Mexico Finance Authority Act, Section 6-21-6.14 NMSA 1978, is enacted to read:

"6-21-6.14. LEASE PURCHASE REVENUE BONDS--LEASE PURCHASE AGREEMENTS.--

A. If specifically authorized by law, the authority may issue and sell lease purchase revenue bonds in compliance with the New Mexico Finance Authority Act and enter into a lease purchase agreement pursuant to the provisions of this section.

B. Lease purchase revenue bonds may be issued at times and on terms established by the authority and shall be paid exclusively from a debt service fund created pursuant to this section. The net proceeds from the sale of lease purchase revenue bonds are appropriated to the authority for the purpose of acquiring by construction or purchase the buildings, land or infrastructure specified in the authorizing law; provided that, if authorized by law, the net proceeds may also be used for debt service payments due before sufficient lease payments have been deposited into the applicable debt service fund.

C. All lease purchase revenue bonds issued by the authority shall be obligations of the authority payable solely from the separate debt service fund created for those bonds. The bonds shall not create an obligation, debt or liability of the state and no breach of any pledge, obligation or agreement of the authority shall impose a pecuniary liability or charge upon the general credit or taxing power of the state or any political subdivision of the state.

D. The authority may purchase lease purchase revenue bonds with money in the public project revolving fund pursuant to the provisions of Section 6-21-6 NMSA 1978.

E. A debt service fund shall be created in the authority for each authorized issuance of lease purchase revenue bonds. Each fund shall consist of transfers to the fund, legislative appropriations, lease payments made by the property control division of the general services department or other lessee pursuant to the authorized lease purchase agreement and money earned from investment of the fund. Balances remaining in a fund at the end of a fiscal year shall not revert. Money in each fund is appropriated to the authority for:

(1) the payment of principal, interest, premiums and expenses on the specific lease purchase revenue bonds that are issued pursuant to the bond authorization; and

(2) if authorized by law, required maintenance and repairs of the building, land or infrastructure if the authority determines that money in the fund is sufficient to meet the requirements of Paragraph (1) of this subsection plus any required reserve.

F. Upon the certification of the authority that all debt service on a specific issuance of lease purchase revenue bonds has been paid in full, any remaining balance of the debt service fund created for those bonds shall be transferred to the general fund.

G. The authority may enter into an agreement with the property control division of the general services department or other agency specified by law for the lease purchase of the building acquired with the lease purchase revenue bond proceeds. The agreement shall provide the lessee with an option to purchase for a price that is reduced according to the lease payments made and shall also provide that:

(1) there is no legal obligation for the state to continue the lease from year to year or to purchase the building;

(2) the lease shall be terminated if sufficient appropriations are not available to meet the current lease payments;

(3) if authorized by the legislature, the lease payments include a maintenance component that may escalate annually and, over the length of the agreement, approximate the amount that will be needed for the maintenance and repair of the building; and

(4) if the lessee is the property control division of the general services department or an agency under the jurisdiction of the property control division, the title to the building shall be issued in the name of the property control division if the building is purchased.

H. The provisions of this section apply to state buildings specifically authorized by law to be acquired pursuant to this section through lease purchase agreements with the authority. Nothing in this section limits or otherwise affects the power that the authority has under other laws to incur debt, acquire and dispose of property or enter into agreements."

Chapter 145 Section 3 Laws 2009

Section 3. TEMPORARY PROVISION--RATIFICATION AND APPROVAL.--In lieu of the ratification and approval otherwise required by Section 15-3-35 NMSA 1978, the legislature ratifies and approves a lease purchase agreement entered into in compliance with Section 1 of this act for the lease and option to purchase of a building by the property control division of the general services department.

Chapter 149 Section 1 Laws 2009

Section 1. A new section of the Gaming Control Act is enacted to read:

"LIEN ON WINNINGS FOR DEBT OWED TO OR COLLECTED BY HUMAN SERVICES DEPARTMENT--PROCEDURE.--

A. By operation of law, a lien attaches to a payout of one thousand two hundred dollars ($1,200) or more from a gaming machine of a racetrack gaming operator licensee when won by a person owing a debt to or collected by the human services department acting as the state's child support enforcement agency pursuant to Title IV-D of the federal Social Security Act.

Chapter 159 Section 14 Laws 2009

Section 14. Section 43-1-11 NMSA 1978 (being Laws 1977, Chapter 279, Section 10, as amended) is amended to read:

"43-1-11. COMMITMENT OF ADULTS FOR THIRTY-DAY PERIOD.--

A. Every adult client involuntarily admitted to an evaluation facility pursuant to Section 43-1-10 NMSA 1978 has the right to a hearing within seven days of admission unless waived after consultation with counsel. If a physician or evaluation facility decides to seek commitment of the client for evaluation and treatment, a petition shall be filed with the court within five days of admission requesting the commitment. The petition shall include a description of the specific behavior or symptoms of the client that evidence a likelihood of serious harm to the client or others and shall include an initial screening report by the evaluating physician individually or with the assistance of a mental health professional or, if a physician is not available, by a mental health professional acceptable to the court. The petition shall list the prospective witnesses for commitment and a summary of the matters to which they will testify. Copies of the petition shall be served on the client, the client's guardian, and treatment guardian if one has been appointed, and the client's attorney.

B. At the hearing, the client shall be represented by counsel and shall have the right to present evidence on the client's behalf, including testimony by an independent mental health professional of the client's own choosing, to cross-examine witnesses and to be present at the hearing. The presence of the client may be waived upon a showing to the court that the client knowingly and voluntarily waives the right to be present. A complete record of all proceedings shall be made.

C. A court-appointed guardian for an adult involved in an involuntary commitment proceeding shall have automatic standing to appear at all stages of the proceeding and shall be allowed to testify by telephone or through affidavit if circumstances make live testimony too burdensome.

D. The court shall include in its findings the guardian's opinion regarding the need for involuntary treatment or a statement detailing the efforts made to ascertain the guardian's opinion.

E. Upon completion of the hearing, the court may order a commitment for evaluation and treatment not to exceed thirty days if the court finds by clear and convincing evidence that:

(1) as a result of a mental disorder, the client presents a likelihood of serious harm to the client's own self or others;

(2) the client needs and is likely to benefit from the proposed treatment; and

(3) the proposed commitment is consistent with the treatment needs of the client and with the least drastic means principle.

F. Once the court has made the findings set forth in Subsection E of this section, the court shall hear further evidence as to whether the client is capable of informed consent. If the court determines that the client is incapable of informed consent, the court shall appoint for the client a treatment guardian who shall have only those powers enumerated in Section 43-1-15 NMSA 1978.

G. An interested person who reasonably believes that an adult is suffering from a mental disorder and presents a likelihood of serious harm to the adult's own self or others, but does not require emergency care, may request the district attorney to investigate and determine whether reasonable grounds exist to commit the adult for a thirty-day period of evaluation and treatment. The applicant may present to the district attorney any medical reports or other evidence immediately available to the applicant, but shall not be required to obtain a medical report or other particular evidence in order to make a petition. The district attorney shall act on the petition within seventy-two hours. If the district attorney determines that reasonable grounds exist to commit the adult, the district attorney may petition the court for a hearing. The court may issue a summons to the proposed client to appear at the time designated for a hearing, which shall be not less than five days from the date the petition is served. If the proposed client is summoned and fails to appear at the proposed time and upon a finding of the court that the proposed client has failed to appear, or appears without having been evaluated, the court may order the proposed client to be detained for evaluation as provided for in Subsection C of Section 43-1-10 NMSA 1978.

H. Any hearing provided for pursuant to Subsection G of this section shall be conducted in conformance with the requirements of Subsection B of this section."

Chapter 159 Section 15 Laws 2009

Section 15. Section 43-1-12 NMSA 1978 (being Laws 1977, Chapter 279, Section 11, as amended) is amended to read:

"43-1-12. EXTENDED COMMITMENT OF ADULTS.--

A. A physician or evaluation facility may file a petition for extended commitment within twenty-one days after the beginning of the thirty-day commitment. The petition shall explain the necessity for extended commitment, specify the treatment that has been provided during the evaluation and include an individual treatment plan for the proposed commitment period. The petition shall list the prospective witnesses for commitment and a summary of the matters to which they will testify. Copies of the petition shall be served on the client, the client's guardian, and treatment guardian if one has been appointed, and the client's attorney.

B. A hearing shall be held upon the petition prior to the expiration of the thirty-day commitment period, at which the client shall have all rights granted to the client under Section 43-1-11 NMSA 1978 and in addition shall have a right to a trial by a six-person jury, if requested, and to an expeditious appeal, unless waived.

C. A court-appointed guardian for an adult involved in an involuntary commitment proceeding shall have automatic standing to appear at all stages of the proceeding and shall be allowed to testify by telephone or through affidavit if circumstances make live testimony too burdensome.

D. The court shall include in its findings the guardian's opinion regarding the need for involuntary treatment or a statement detailing the efforts made to ascertain the guardian's opinion.

E. If, at the conclusion of the hearing, the fact-finder determines by clear and convincing evidence that the client presents a likelihood of harm to the client's self or to others, that extended treatment is likely to improve the client's condition and that the proposed extended commitment is consistent with the least drastic means principle, the court shall order commitment of the client for a period not to exceed six months, except that when the client has been committed for two consecutive periods of commitment, any commitment commencing thereafter shall not exceed one year. At the expiration of the commitment order, the client may be detained only after a new commitment hearing, unless waived after consultation with the client's attorney, and entry of a new order for commitment not to exceed six months.

F. A client involuntarily referred for treatment pursuant to this section shall be entitled to a reexamination of the order for the client's involuntary referral for treatment on the client's own petition, or that of the client's legal guardian, parent, spouse, relative or friend, to the district court of the county in which the client resides or is detained. Upon receipt of the petition, the court shall conduct a proceeding in accordance with this section, except that a proceeding shall not be required to be conducted if the petition is filed sooner than sixty days after the issuance of the order for involuntary referral for treatment or sooner than sixty days after the filing of a previous petition under this subsection.

G. Nothing in this section shall limit the right of a client to petition the court for a writ of habeas corpus.

H. Nothing in this code shall prohibit a client from seeking voluntary admission under Section 43-1-14 NMSA 1978.

I. No mental health treatment facility is required to detain, treat or provide services to a client when the client does not require such detention, treatment or services."

Chapter 159 Section 16 Laws 2009

Section 16. Section 43-1-13 NMSA 1978 (being Laws 1977, Chapter 279, Section 12, as amended) is amended to read:

"43-1-13. INVOLUNTARY COMMITMENT OF DEVELOPMENTALLY DISABLED ADULTS TO RESIDENTIAL CARE.--

A. A guardian appointed pursuant to the Uniform Probate Code may file an application with an evaluation facility seeking residential habilitation services for the protected person. The application shall set forth the basis for the guardian's belief that residential habilitation is necessary and shall include a copy of pertinent medical and psychological evaluations that have been completed.

B. Upon receipt of an application filed according to Subsection A of this section, an evaluation facility may accept the proposed client for a period of evaluation and treatment not to exceed fourteen days. An evaluation facility shall prepare an individualized habilitation plan that shall be consistent with the least drastic means principle.

C. If the habilitation plan recommends residential services, the evaluation facility shall file with the court a petition for extended residential placement. Upon receipt of the petition, the court shall appoint an attorney to represent the proposed client. Notice of the hearing scheduled on the petition and a copy of the habilitation plan shall be given to the proposed client, the client's attorney and the client's guardian. The petition shall contain a list of the names and addresses of proposed witnesses.

D. At the hearing on the petition, the proposed client shall be represented by counsel and shall have the right to present evidence on the proposed client's behalf, including testimony of a developmental disability professional of the proposed client's choosing; to cross-examine witnesses; to be present at the hearing; and to trial by a six-person jury, if requested. A complete record of the hearing shall be made. There shall be a right to an expeditious appeal.

E. The guardian of an adult involved in a commitment proceeding for extended residential habilitation services shall have automatic standing to appear at all stages of the proceeding and shall be allowed to testify by telephone or through affidavit if circumstances make live testimony too burdensome.

F. The court shall include in its findings the guardian's opinion regarding the need for residential habilitation services or a statement detailing the efforts made to ascertain the guardian's opinion.

G. The court shall order residential placement of the proposed client if it is established by clear and convincing evidence that the proposed client has a developmental disability that creates an imminent likelihood of serious harm to the proposed client's self or to others, or the person is so greatly disabled that residential services would be in the person's best interest and that such residential placement is, in the person's case, the least drastic means. The court's order of residential placement shall be for a period not to exceed six months. At the expiration of the commitment order, the client may be detained only after a new commitment hearing, unless waived after consultation with the client's attorney, and entry of a new order for commitment not to exceed six months.

H. The court shall order placement that is least restrictive to the client and may order attendance and participation as a nonresident in habilitation programs conducted at residential or nonresidential facilities.

I. Any client involuntarily referred for habilitation treatment shall be entitled to a reexamination of the order for the client's involuntary referral for habilitation and treatment on the client's own petition, or that of the client's legal guardian, parent, spouse, relative or friend, to the district court of the county in which the client resides or is detained. Upon receipt of the petition, the court shall conduct or cause to be conducted by a special commissioner a proceeding in accordance with this section, except that a proceeding shall not be required to be conducted if the petition is filed sooner than sixty days after the issuance of the order for involuntary referral for habilitation and treatment or sooner than sixty days after the filing of a previous petition under this subsection.

J. Nothing in this section shall limit the right of a client to petition the court for a writ of habeas corpus.

K. No developmental disabilities treatment or habilitation facility is required to detain, treat or provide services to a client when the client does not appear to require detention, treatment or habilitation."

Chapter 159 Section 17 Laws 2009

Section 17. Section 43-1-14 NMSA 1978 (being Laws 1977, Chapter 279, Section 13, as amended) is amended to read:

"43-1-14. VOLUNTARY ADMISSION TO RESIDENTIAL TREATMENT OR HABILITATION.--

A. A person may voluntarily seek admission to residential treatment or habilitation.

B. A guardian appointed under the Uniform Probate Code, an agent or surrogate under the Uniform Health-Care Decisions Act or an agent under the Mental Health Care Treatment Decisions Act shall not consent to the admission of an individual to a mental health care facility. If a guardian has full power or limited power that includes medical or mental health treatment or, if the individual's written advance health-care directive or advance directive for mental health treatment expressly permits treatment in a mental health care facility, the guardian, agent or surrogate may present the person to a facility only for evaluation for admission pursuant to Subsection E of Section 43-1-10 NMSA 1978.

C. Nothing in this section shall be construed as depriving voluntary clients of any right given to involuntary clients.

D. A client voluntarily admitted to residential treatment or habilitation has the right to immediate discharge from the residential facility upon request, unless the director of the facility or a physician determines that the client requires continued confinement and meets the criteria for involuntary residential treatment or habilitation under the code. If the director or physician so determines, the director or physician shall, on the first business day following the client's request for release, request the district attorney to initiate commitment proceedings under the code. The client has a right to a hearing on the client's confinement within five days of the client's request for release."

Chapter 159 Section 18 Laws 2009

Section 18. Section 43-1-15 NMSA 1978 (being Laws 1977, Chapter 279, Section 14, as amended) is amended to read:

"43-1-15. CONSENT TO TREATMENT--ADULT CLIENTS.--

A. No psychotropic medication, psychosurgery, convulsive therapy, experimental treatment or behavior modification program involving aversive stimuli or substantial deprivations shall be administered to a client without proper consent. If the client is capable of understanding the proposed nature of treatment and its consequences and is capable of informed consent, the client's consent shall be obtained before the treatment is performed. A client shall not be presumed to be incapable of giving consent for administration of psychotropic medications solely because the client has been involuntarily committed to a treatment facility or is awaiting a hearing on whether the client should be involuntarily committed to a treatment facility.

B. If the mental health or developmental disabilities professional or physician who is proposing this or any other course of treatment or any other interested person believes that the client is incapable of informed consent, the mental health or developmental disabilities professional or physician or other interested person may petition the court for the appointment of a treatment guardian to make a substitute decision for the client.

C. This original petition shall be served on the client and the client's attorney. A hearing on the petition shall be held within three court days. At the hearing, the client shall be represented by counsel and shall have the right to be present, to present witnesses and to cross-examine opposing witnesses.

D. When appointing a treatment guardian for an adult, the court shall give priority to a court-appointed guardian or, if no guardian has been appointed by a court, to an agent designated or nominated by the client when the client had capacity.

E. If after the hearing the court finds by clear convincing evidence that the client is not capable of making the client's own treatment decisions, the court may order the appointment of a treatment guardian.

F. The treatment guardian shall make a decision on behalf of the client whether to accept treatment, depending on whether the treatment appears to be in the client's best interest and is the least drastic means for accomplishing the treatment objective. In making a decision, the treatment guardian shall consult with the client and consider the client's expressed opinions, if any, even if those opinions do not constitute valid consent or rejection of treatment. The treatment guardian shall give consideration to previous decisions made by the client in similar circumstances when the client was able to make treatment decisions.

G. If a client, who is not a resident of a medical facility and for whom a treatment guardian has been appointed, refuses to comply with the decision of the treatment guardian, the treatment guardian may apply to the court for an enforcement order. Such an order may authorize a peace officer to take the client into custody and to transport the client to an evaluation facility and may authorize the facility forcibly to administer treatment.

H. The treatment guardian shall consult with the physician or other professional who is proposing treatment, the client's attorney and interested friends, relatives or other agents or guardians of the client to the extent reasonably practical in making a decision.

I. If the client, physician or other professional wishes to appeal the decision of the treatment guardian, the client, physician or other professional may do so, filing an appeal with the court within three calendar days of receiving notice of the treatment guardian's decision. In such a decision, the client shall be represented by counsel. The court may overrule the treatment guardian's decision if it finds that decision to be against the best interest of the client.

J. When the court appoints a treatment guardian, it shall specify the length of time during which the treatment guardian may exercise the treatment guardian's powers, up to a maximum period of one year. If at the end of the guardianship period the treatment guardian believes that the client is still incapable of making the client's own treatment decisions, the treatment guardian shall petition the court for reappointment or for appointment of a new treatment guardian. The petition shall be served on the client, the client's attorney and the previously appointed treatment guardian if filed by another party. The guardianship shall be extended or a new guardian shall be appointed only if the court finds the client is, at the time of the hearing, incapable of understanding and expressing an opinion regarding treatment decisions.

The client shall be represented by counsel and shall have the right to be present and present evidence at all such hearings.

K. If during a period of a treatment guardian's power, the treatment guardian, the client, the treatment provider, a member of the client's family or the client's attorney or another person believes that the client has regained competence to make the client's own treatment decisions, that person shall petition the court for a termination of the treatment guardianship. If the court finds the client is capable of making the client's own treatment decisions, it shall terminate the power of the treatment guardian and restore to the client the power to make the client's own treatment decisions.

L. A treatment guardian shall only have those powers enumerated in the code, unless the treatment guardian has also been appointed a guardian under the Uniform Probate Code pursuant to provisions of Section 45-5-303 NMSA 1978. A person carrying out the duties of a treatment guardian as provided in this section shall not be liable in any civil or criminal action so long as the treatment guardian is not acting in bad faith or with malicious purpose.

M. If a licensed physician believes that the administration of psychotropic medication is necessary to protect the client from serious harm that would occur while the provisions of Subsection B of this section are being satisfied, the licensed physician may administer the medication on an emergency basis. When medication is administered to a client on an emergency basis, the treating physician shall prepare and place in the client's medical records a report explaining the nature of the emergency and the reason that no treatment less drastic than administration of psychotropic medication without proper consent would have protected the client from serious harm. Upon the sworn application of the treating physician, the court may issue an order permitting the treating physician to continue to administer psychotropic medication until a treatment guardian is appointed, if the requirements of Subsection B of this section for appointment of a treatment guardian are in the process of being satisfied in a timely manner."

Chapter 159 Section 19 Laws 2009

Section 19. Section 43-1-19 NMSA 1978 (being Laws 1977, Chapter 279, Section 18, as amended) is amended to read:

"43-1-19. DISCLOSURE OF INFORMATION.--

A. Except as otherwise provided in the code, no person shall, without the authorization of the client, disclose or transmit any confidential information from which a person well acquainted with the client might recognize the client as the described person, or any code, number or other means that can be used to match the client with confidential information regarding the client.

B. Authorization from the client shall not be required for the disclosure or transmission of confidential information in the following circumstances:

(1) when the request is from a mental health or developmental disability professional or from an employee or trainee working with a person with a mental disability or developmental disability, to the extent that the practice, employment or training on behalf of the client requires access to such information is necessary;

(2) when such disclosure is necessary to protect against a clear and substantial risk of imminent serious physical injury or death inflicted by the client on the client's self or another;

(3) when the disclosure of such information is to the primary caregiver of the client and the disclosure is only of information necessary for the continuity of the client's treatment in the judgment of the treating physician or certified psychologist who discloses the information; or

(4) when such disclosure is to an insurer contractually obligated to pay part or all of the expenses relating to the treatment of the client at the residential facility. The information disclosed shall be limited to data identifying the client, facility and treating or supervising physician and the dates and duration of the residential treatment. It shall not be a defense to an insurer's obligation to pay that the information relating to the residential treatment of the client, apart from information disclosed pursuant to this section, has not been disclosed to the insurer.

C. No authorization given for the transmission or disclosure of confidential information shall be effective unless it:

(1) is in writing and signed; and

(2) contains a statement of the client's right to examine and copy the information to be disclosed, the name or title of the proposed recipient of the information and a description of the use that may be made of the information.

D. The client has a right of access to confidential information and has the right to make copies of any information and to submit clarifying or correcting statements and other documentation of reasonable length for inclusion with the confidential information. The statements and other documentation shall be kept with the relevant confidential information, shall accompany it in the event of disclosure and shall be governed by the provisions of this section to the extent they contain confidential information. Nothing in this subsection shall prohibit the denial of access to such records when a physician or other mental health or developmental disabilities professional believes and notes in the client's medical records that such disclosure would not be in the best interests of the client. In any such case, the client has the right to petition the court for an order granting such access.

E. Where there exists evidence that the client whose consent to disclosure of confidential information is sought is incapable of giving or withholding valid consent and the client does not have a guardian or treatment guardian appointed by a court, the person seeking such authorization shall petition the court for the appointment of a treatment guardian to make a substitute decision for the client, except that if the client is less than fourteen years of age, the client's parent or guardian is authorized to consent to disclosure on behalf of the client.

F. Information concerning a client disclosed under this section shall not be released to any other person, agency or governmental entity or placed in files or computerized data banks accessible to any persons not otherwise authorized to obtain information under this section.

G. Nothing in the code shall limit the confidentiality rights afforded by federal statute or regulation.

H. A person appointed as a treatment guardian in accordance with the Mental Health and Developmental Disabilities Code may act as the client's personal representative pursuant to the federal Health Insurance Portability and Accountability Act of 1996, Sections 1171-1179 of the Social Security Act, 42 U.S.C. Section 1320d, as amended, and applicable federal regulations to obtain access to the client's protected health information, including mental health information and relevant physical health information, and may communicate with the client's health-care providers in furtherance of such treatment."

"45-3-203. PRIORITY AMONG PERSONS SEEKING APPOINTMENT AS PERSONAL REPRESENTATIVE.--

A. Whether the proceedings are formal or informal, persons who are not disqualified have priority for appointment in the following order:

(2) the surviving spouse of the decedent who is a devisee of the decedent;

(3) other devisees of the decedent;

(4) the surviving spouse of the decedent;

(5) other heirs of the decedent; and

(6) on application or petition of an interested person other than a spouse, devisee or heir, any qualified person.

B. An objection to an appointment may be made only in formal proceedings. In case of objection, the priorities stated in Subsection A of this section apply except that:

(1) if the estate appears to be more than adequate to meet exemptions and costs of administration but inadequate to discharge anticipated unsecured claims, the court, on petition of creditors, may appoint any qualified person; and

(2) in case of objection to appointment of a person other than one whose priority is determined by will by an heir or devisee appearing to have a substantial interest in the estate, the court may appoint a person who is acceptable to heirs and devisees whose interests in the estate appear to be worth in total more than half of the probable distributable value of the estate or, in default of this accord, any suitable person.

C. A person entitled to letters under Paragraphs (2) through (5) of Subsection A of this section or a person who has not reached the age of majority and who might be entitled to letters but for the person's age may nominate a qualified person to act as personal representative and thereby confer the person's relative priority for appointment on the person's nominee. Any person who has reached the age of majority may renounce the right to nominate or to an appointment by appropriate writing filed with the court. When two or more persons share a priority, those of them who do not renounce shall concur in nominating another to act for them or in applying for appointment.

D. Conservators of the estates of protected persons or, if there is no conservator, any guardian except a guardian ad litem of a minor or incapacitated person may exercise the same right to nominate, to object to another's appointment or to participate in determining the preference of a majority in interest of the heirs and devisees that the protected person would have if qualified for appointment.

E. Appointment of one who does not have highest priority, including highest priority resulting from renunciation or nomination determined pursuant to this section, may be made only in formal proceedings. Before appointing one without highest priority, the court shall determine that those having highest priority, although given notice of the proceedings, have failed to request appointment or to nominate another for appointment and that administration is necessary.

F. No person is qualified to serve as a personal representative who is:

(1) under the age of majority;

(2) a person whom the court finds unsuitable in formal proceedings;

or

(3) a creditor of the decedent unless the appointment is to be made after forty-five days have elapsed from the death of the decedent.

G. A personal representative appointed by a court of the decedent's domicile has priority over all other persons except where the decedent's will nominates different persons to be personal representatives in New Mexico and in the state of domicile. The domiciliary personal representative may nominate another, who shall have the same priority as the domiciliary personal representative.

H. This section governs priority for appointment of a successor personal representative but does not apply to the selection of a special administrator."

and is not liable to third persons by reason of the relationship for acts of the protected person.

B. In particular and without qualifying the foregoing, a guardian shall:

(1) become or remain personally acquainted with the protected person and maintain sufficient contact with the protected person to know of the protected person's capacities, limitations, needs, opportunities and physical and mental health;

(2) take reasonable care of the protected person's personal effects and commence protective proceedings if necessary to protect other property of the protected person;

(3) apply any available money of the protected person to the protected person's current needs for support, care and education;

(5) report the condition of the protected person and of the protected person's estate that has been subject to the guardian's possession or control, as ordered by the court on petition of any person interested in the protected person's welfare or as required by court rule.

C. A guardian may:

C. After notice pursuant to Section 45-1-401 NMSA 1978 and hearing on a petition for removal or for permission to resign, the court may terminate the guardianship and make any further order that may be appropriate.

D. If at any time in the proceeding the court finds that the interest of the protected person is or may be inadequately represented, it may appoint an attorney to represent the minor, giving consideration to the preference of the minor if the minor is fourteen or more years of age."

(12) the steps taken to find less restrictive alternatives to the proposed guardianship; and

(13) the qualifications of the proposed guardian, including whether the guardian has ever been convicted of a felony.

B. Notice of a petition under this section for the appointment of a guardian and the hearing on the petition shall be given as provided in Section 45-5-309 NMSA 1978.

C. After the filing of a petition, the court shall set a date for hearing on the issues raised by the petition. E. The court shall appoint a visitor who shall interview the person seeking appointment as guardian and the person alleged to be incapacitated. The visitor shall also visit the present place of abode of the person alleged to be incapacitated and the place where it is proposed the alleged incapacitated person will be detained or reside if the requested appointment is made. The visitor shall evaluate the needs of the person alleged to be incapacitated and shall submit a written report to the court. The report shall include a recommendation regarding the appropriateness of the appointment of the proposed guardian. The report to the court shall also include recommendations regarding:

(1) those aspects of personal care that the alleged incapacitated person can manage without supervision or assistance;

(2) those aspects of personal care that the alleged incapacitated person could manage with the supervision or assistance of support services and benefits; and

Unless otherwise ordered by the court, the appointment of the visitor terminates and the visitor is discharged from the visitor's duties upon entry of an order appointing a guardian and acceptance of the appointment by the guardian.

F. A person alleged to be incapacitated shall be present at the hearing on the issues raised by the petition and any response to the petition unless the court determines by evidence that it is not in the alleged incapacitated person's best interest to be present because of a threat to the health or safety of the alleged incapacitated person or others as determined by the court.

G. The court upon request or its own motion may conduct hearings at the location of the alleged incapacitated person who is unable to be present in court.

H. The rules of evidence shall apply and no hearsay evidence that is not otherwise admissible in a court shall be admitted into evidence except as otherwise provided in this article. There is a legal presumption of capacity, and the burden of proof shall be on the petitioner to prove the allegations set forth in the petition. Such proof shall be established by clear and convincing evidence.

K. The issue of whether a guardian shall be appointed for the alleged incapacitated person shall be determined by the court at a closed hearing unless the alleged incapacitated person requests otherwise.

L. Upon request of the petitioner or alleged incapacitated person, the court shall schedule a jury trial."

Section 34. Section 45-5-304 NMSA 1978 (being Laws 1989, Chapter 252, Section 7, as amended) is amended to read:

"45-5-304. FINDINGS--ORDER OF APPOINTMENT.--

A. The court, at the hearing on the petition for appointment for a guardian pursuant to provisions of Chapter 45, Article 5 NMSA 1978, shall:

(1) inquire into the nature and extent of the functional limitations of the alleged incapacitated person; and

(2) ascertain the alleged incapacitated person's capacity to care for the alleged incapacitated person's own self.

B. If it is determined that the alleged incapacitated person possesses the capacity to care for the alleged incapacitated person's own self, the court shall dismiss the petition.

C. Alternatively, the court may appoint a full guardian as requested in the petition or a limited guardian and confer specific powers of guardianship after finding in the record based on clear and convincing evidence that:

(1) the person for whom a guardian is sought is totally incapacitated or is incapacitated only in specific areas as alleged in the petition;

(2) the guardianship is necessary as a means of providing continuing care, supervision and rehabilitation of the incapacitated person;

(3) there are no available alternative resources that are suitable with respect to the alleged incapacitated person's welfare, safety and rehabilitation;

(4) the guardianship is appropriate as the least restrictive form of intervention consistent with the preservation of the civil rights and liberties of the alleged incapacitated person; and

(5) the proposed guardian is both qualified and suitable, has reviewed the proposed order of appointment and is willing to serve.

D. The court may enter any other appropriate order consistent with the findings of this section.

E. A copy of the order appointing the guardian shall be furnished to the proposed guardian, the incapacitated person and the incapacitated person's counsel.

F. The order shall contain the name and address of the guardian as well as notice of the incapacitated person's right to appeal the guardianship appointment and of the right to seek alteration or termination of the guardianship at any time."

Chapter 159 Section 35 Laws 2009

Section 35. Section 45-5-306 NMSA 1978 (being Laws 1975, Chapter 257, Section 5-306) is amended to read:

"45-5-306. DEATH OF PROTECTED PERSON OR GUARDIAN--INCAPACITY OF GUARDIAN.--The authority and responsibility of a guardian for an incapacitated person terminates upon the death of the guardian or protected person, the determination of incapacity of the guardian or upon removal or resignation as provided in Section 45-5-307 NMSA 1978. Upon the death of the protected person, the guardian shall submit notice to the appointing court. Testamentary appointment under an informally probated will terminates if the will is later denied probate in a formal proceeding. Termination does not affect the guardian's liability for prior acts nor the guardian's obligation to account for funds and assets of the guardian's protected person."

Section 36. Section 45-5-307 NMSA 1978 (being Laws 1975, Chapter 257, Section 5-307, as amended) is amended to read:

"45-5-307. SUBSTITUTION, REVIEW AND TERMINATION OF GUARDIANSHIP.--

A. On the petition of the incapacitated person or any person interested in the incapacitated person's welfare and upon notice and hearing, the court may remove a guardian and appoint a successor if it is in the best interest of the incapacitated person.

B. Upon death, removal or resignation of a guardian, the court may appoint another guardian or make any other order that may be appropriate. If a successor guardian is appointed, the successor guardian succeeds to the title and powers of the successor guardian's predecessor.

C. The incapacitated person or any person interested in the incapacitated person's welfare may petition for an order that the incapacitated person is no longer incapacitated and for removal or resignation of the guardian. A request for this order may be made by informal letter to the court or judge. Any person who knowingly interferes with transmission of this kind of request to the court may be adjudged guilty of contempt of court.

D. Unless waived by the court upon the filing of a petition to terminate a guardianship for reasons other than the death of the incapacitated person, the court shall follow the same procedures to safeguard the rights of the incapacitated person as those that apply to a petition for appointment of a guardian as set forth in Section 45-5-303 NMSA 1978.

E. In a proceeding that increases the guardian's authority or reduces the autonomy of the protected person, the court shall follow the same procedures to safeguard the rights of the incapacitated person as those that apply to a petition for appointment of a guardian, as set forth in Section

45-5-303 NMSA 1978.

F. Following receipt of a request for review, the court shall hold a status hearing, which may be informal, to determine the appropriate order to be entered. If the court finds the incapacitated person is capable of more autonomy than at the time of the original order, the court may enter an order removing the guardian, terminating the guardianship or reducing the powers previously granted to the guardian. The court has the option to follow all or part of the procedures that apply for the appointment of a guardian as set forth in Section 45-5-303 NMSA 1978.

G. At any time following the appointment of a guardian, but not later than ten years after the initial appointment of a guardian for a protected person and every ten years thereafter, the court shall hold a status hearing, after notice to the guardian, the protected person and appropriate interested persons, to review the status of the protected person's capacity and the continued need for a guardian. If the court is unable to contact either the guardian or the protected person and neither appears for the status hearing, the court shall appoint a guardian ad litem to investigate and advise the court as to the status of the protected person and the guardian.

H. Following the status hearing or the court's report from the guardian ad litem on the status of the protected person and the guardian as provided in Subsection G of this section, the court may enter an appropriate order; provided that, in entering an order that increases the guardian's authority or reduces the autonomy of the protected person, the court shall follow the same procedures to safeguard the rights of the incapacitated person as those that apply to a petition for appointment of a guardian, as set forth in Section 45-5-303 NMSA 1978."

Chapter 159 Section 37 Laws 2009

Section 37. Section 45-5-309 NMSA 1978 (being Laws 1975, Chapter 257, Section 5-309, as amended) is amended to read:

"45-5-309. NOTICES IN GUARDIANSHIP PROCEEDINGS.--

A. In a proceeding for the appointment or removal of a guardian of an incapacitated person, other than the appointment of a temporary guardian or temporary suspension of a guardian, notice of hearing and a copy of the petition and any interim orders that may have been entered shall be given to each of the following:

Chapter 159 Section 38 Laws 2009

Section 38. Section 45-5-311 NMSA 1978 (being Laws 1975, Chapter 257, Section 5-311, as amended) is amended to read:

"45-5-311. WHO MAY BE APPOINTED GUARDIAN--PRIORITIES.--

A. Any person deemed to be qualified by the court may be appointed guardian of an incapacitated person, except that no individual who operates or is an employee of a boarding home, residential care home, nursing home, group home or other similar facility in which the incapacitated person resides may serve as guardian for the incapacitated person, except an employee may serve in such capacity when related by affinity or consanguinity.

B. Persons who are not disqualified have priority for appointment as guardian in the following order:

(1) a guardian or other like fiduciary appointed by the appropriate court of any other jurisdiction;

(2) a person, as far as known or as can be reasonably ascertained, previously nominated or designated in a writing as defined in Paragraph (4) of

Subsection A of Section 45-5-309 NMSA 1978 to serve as guardian or agent in a writing signed by the incapacitated person prior to the incapacitated person's incapacity that has not been revoked by the incapacitated person or terminated by a court;

(7) a person nominated by the person who is caring for the incapacitated person or paying benefits to the incapacitated person; and

(8) any other person.

C. With respect to persons having equal priority, the court shall select the person it considers best qualified to serve as guardian. The court, acting in the best interest of the incapacitated person and for good cause shown, may pass over a person having priority and appoint a person having a lower priority under this section and shall take into consideration:

(1) the preference of the incapacitated person, giving weight to preferences expressed in writing by the person while having capacity;

(2) the geographic location of the proposed guardian;

(3) the relationship of the proposed guardian to the incapacitated person;

(4) the ability of the proposed guardian to carry out the powers and duties of the guardianship; and

Chapter 159 Section 39 Laws 2009

Section 39. Section 45-5-312 NMSA 1978 (being Laws 1975, Chapter 257, Section 5-312, as amended) is amended to read:

"45-5-312. GENERAL POWERS AND DUTIES OF THE LIMITED GUARDIAN AND GUARDIAN.--

A. If the court enters judgment pursuant to Subsection C of Section 45-5-304 NMSA 1978, it shall appoint a limited guardian if it determines that the incapacitated person is able to manage some but not all aspects of personal care. The court shall specify those powers that the limited guardian shall have and may further restrict each power so as to permit the incapacitated person to care for the incapacitated person's own self commensurate with the incapacitated person's ability to do so. A person for whom a limited guardian has been appointed retains all legal and civil rights except those that have been specifically granted to the limited guardian by the court. The limited guardian shall exercise supervisory powers over the incapacitated person in a manner that is the least restrictive form of intervention consistent with the order of the court.

B. A guardian of an incapacitated person has the same powers, rights and duties respecting the incapacitated person that a parent has respecting an unemancipated minor child, except that a guardian is not legally obligated to provide from the guardian's own funds for the incapacitated person and is not liable to third persons for acts of the incapacitated person solely by reason of the guardianship. In particular and without qualifying the foregoing, a guardian or the guardian's replacement has the following powers and duties, except as modified by order of the court:

(1) to the extent that it is consistent with the terms of any order by a court of competent jurisdiction relating to detention or commitment of the incapacitated person, a guardian is entitled to custody of the incapacitated person and may establish the incapacitated person's place of abode within or without New Mexico;

(2) if entitled to custody of the incapacitated person, a guardian shall make provision for the care, comfort and maintenance of the incapacitated person and, whenever appropriate, arrange for training and education. The guardian shall take reasonable care of the incapacitated person's clothing, furniture, vehicles and other personal effects and commence conservatorship proceedings if other property of the incapacitated person is in need of protection;

(3) if no agent is entitled to make health-care decisions for the incapacitated person under the provisions of the Uniform Health-Care Decisions Act, then the guardian shall make health-care decisions for the incapacitated person in accordance with the provisions of that act. In exercising health-care powers, a guardian may consent or withhold consent that may be necessary to enable the incapacitated person to receive or refuse medical or other professional care, counsel, treatment or service. That decision shall be made in accordance with the values of the incapacitated person, if known, or the best interests of the incapacitated person if the values are not known;

(4) if no conservator for the estate of the incapacitated person has been appointed, if the court has determined that a conservatorship is not appropriate and if a guardian appointed by the court has been granted authority to make financial decisions on behalf of the protected person in the order of appointment and in the letters of guardianship pursuant to Subsection C of Section 45-5-308 NMSA 1978, the guardian has the following powers and duties, including the power:

(a) to institute proceedings to compel any person under a duty to support the protected person or to pay sums for the welfare of the protected person to perform that duty;

(b) to receive money and tangible property deliverable to the protected person and apply the money and property for support, care and education of the protected person, but the guardian shall not use funds from the protected person's estate for room and board that the guardian or the guardian's spouse, parent or child has furnished the protected person, unless a charge for the service is approved by order of the court made upon notice to at least one of the next of kin of the protected person, if notice is possible;

(c) to serve as advocate and decision-maker for the protected person in any disputes with persons or organizations, including financial institutions, regarding the protected person's finances;

(d) to obtain information regarding the protected person's assets and income from persons or organizations handling the protected person's finances;

(e) to file an initial inventory of all property belonging to the protected person within ninety days after appointment; and

(f) to exercise care to conserve any excess for the protected person's needs and include in the guardian's ninety-day and annual reports a description of decisions made regarding the protected person's finances and property; and

(5) the guardian shall exercise the guardian's supervisory powers over the incapacitated person in a manner that is least restrictive of the incapacitated person's personal freedom and consistent with the need for supervision.

C. A guardian of an incapacitated person for whom a conservator also has been appointed shall control the care and custody of the incapacitated person and is entitled to receive reasonable sums for services and for room and board furnished to the incapacitated person. The guardian may request the conservator to expend the incapacitated person's estate by payment to third persons or institutions for the incapacitated person's care and maintenance."

Chapter 159 Section 40 Laws 2009

Section 40. Section 45-5-313 NMSA 1978 (being Laws 1975, Chapter 257, Section 5-313) is amended to read:

"45-5-313. PROCEEDINGS SUBSEQUENT TO APPOINTMENT--VENUE.--

A. The court where the protected person resides has concurrent jurisdiction with the court that appointed the guardian, or in which acceptance of a testamentary appointment was filed, over resignation, removal, accounting and other proceedings relating to the guardianship.

B. If the court located where the protected person resides is not the court in which acceptance of appointment is filed, the court in which proceedings subsequent to appointment are commenced shall in all appropriate cases notify the other court, in this or another state, and after consultation with that court determine whether to retain jurisdiction or transfer the proceedings to the other court, whichever may be in the best interests of the protected person. A copy of any order accepting a resignation or removing a guardian shall be sent to the court in which acceptance of appointment is filed."

Section 41. Section 45-5-314 NMSA 1978 (being Laws 1989, Chapter 252, Section 14, as amended) is amended to read:

"45-5-314. ANNUAL REPORT.--

A. The guardian of an incapacitated person shall file an initial report with the appointing court within ninety days of the guardian's appointment. Thereafter, the guardian shall file an annual report within thirty days of the anniversary date of the guardian's appointment. A copy of the report shall also be submitted to the district judge who appointed the guardian or the judge's successor, to the incapacitated person and to the incapacitated person's conservator, if any. The court shall review this report. The report shall include information concerning the progress and condition of the incapacitated person, including but not limited to the incapacitated person's health, medical and dental care, residence, education, employment and habitation; a report on the manner in which the guardian carried out the guardian's powers and fulfilled the guardian's duties; and the guardian's opinion regarding the continued need for guardianship. If the guardian has been provided power pursuant to Paragraph (4) of Subsection B of Section 45-5-312 NMSA 1978, the report shall contain information on financial decisions made by the guardian. REQUIRING EDUCATIONAL TRAINING CENTERS AND RESIDENTIAL TREATMENT CENTERS TO PROVIDE REASONABLE PHYSICAL SPACE FOR EDUCATIONAL PROGRAMMING.

BE IT ENACTED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF NEW MEXICO:

Chapter 162 Section 1 Laws 2009

Section 1. Section 22-13-8 NMSA 1978 (being Laws 1972, Chapter 95, Section 4, as amended) is repealed and a new Section 22-13-8 NMSA 1978 is enacted to read:

"22-13-8. SPECIAL EDUCATION--PRIVATE EDUCATIONAL TRAINING CENTERS AND RESIDENTIAL TREATMENT CENTERS.--

A. Notwithstanding other provisions of the Public School Code, as used in this section:

(1) "qualified student" means a public school student who:

(a) has not graduated from high school;

(b) is regularly enrolled in one-half or more of the minimum course requirements approved by the department for public school students; and

(c) in terms of age: 1) is at least five years of age prior to 12:01 a.m. on September 1 of the school year or will be five years of age prior to 12:01 a.m. on September 1 of the school year if the student is enrolled in a public school extended-year kindergarten program that begins prior to the start of the regular school year; 2) is at least three years of age at any time during the school year and is receiving special education pursuant to rules of the department; or 3) has not reached the student's twenty-second birthday on the first day of the school year and is receiving special education in accordance with federal law; and

(2) "school-age person" means a person who is not a qualified student but who meets the federal requirements for special education and who:

(a) will be at least three years old at any time during the school year;

(b) is not more than twenty-one years of age; and

(c) has not received a high school diploma or its equivalent.

B. The responsibility of school districts, state institutions and the state to provide a free appropriate public education for qualified students who need special education is not diminished by the availability of private schools and services. It is a state responsibility to ensure that all qualified students who need special education receive the education to which federal and state laws entitle them whether provided by public or private schools and services.

C. A school district in which a private, nonsectarian, nonprofit educational training center or residential treatment center is located shall not be considered the resident school district of a school-age person if residency is based solely on the school-age person's enrollment at the facility and the school-age person would not otherwise be considered a resident of the state.

D. For a qualified student in need of special education or school-age person who is placed in a private, nonsectarian, nonprofit educational training center or residential treatment center by a school district or by a due process decision, the school district in which the qualified student or school-age person lives, whether in-state or out-of-state, is responsible for the educational, nonmedical care and room and board costs of that placement.

E. For a school-age person placed in a private, nonsectarian, nonprofit educational training center or residential treatment center not as a result of a due process decision but by a parent who assumes the responsibility for such placement, the department shall ensure that the school district in which the facility is located is allocating and distributing the school-age person's proportionate share of the federal Individuals with Disabilities Education Act Part B funds but the state is not required to distribute state funds for that school-age person.

F. For a qualified student or school-age person in need of special education placed in a private, nonsectarian, nonprofit educational training center or residential treatment center by a New Mexico public noneducational agency with custody or control of the qualified student or school-age person or by a New Mexico court of competent jurisdiction, the school district in which the facility is located shall be responsible for the planning and delivery of special education and related services, unless the qualified student's or school-age person's resident school district has an agreement with the facility to provide such services.

G. Except as provided in Subsection D of this section, the department shall determine which school district is responsible for the cost of educating a qualified student in need of special education who has been placed in a private, nonsectarian, nonprofit educational training center or residential treatment center outside the qualified student's resident school district. The department shall determine the reasonable reimbursement owed to the receiving school district.

H. A local school board, in consultation with the department, may make an agreement with a private, nonsectarian, nonprofit educational training center or residential treatment center for educating qualified students in need of special education and for whom the school district is responsible for providing a free appropriate public education under the federal Individuals with Disabilities Education Act and for providing

All agreements must provide for:

(2) an educational program for each qualified student that meets state standards for such programs, except that teachers employed by private schools are not required to be highly qualified;

(3) special education and related services in conformance with an individualized education program that meets the requirements of federal and state law; and

(4) adequate classroom and other physical space provided at the private, nonsectarian, nonprofit educational training center or residential treatment center that allows the school district to provide an appropriate education.

J. The agreements must also acknowledge the authority and responsibility of the local school board and the department to conduct on-site evaluations of programs and student progress to ensure that the education provided to the qualified student is meeting state standards.

K. A qualified student for whom the state is required by federal law to provide a free appropriate public education and who is attending a private, nonsectarian, nonprofit educational training center or a residential treatment center is a public school student and shall be counted in the special education membership of the school district that is responsible for the costs of educating the student as provided in the individualized education program for the student.

L. The department shall adopt the format to report individual student data and costs for any qualified student or school-age person attending public or private educational training centers or residential treatment centers and shall include those reports in the student teacher accountability reporting system by using the same student identification number issued to a public school student pursuant to Section 22-2C-11 NMSA 1978 or by assigning a unique student identifier for school-age persons, including those who are not residents of this state but who are attending a private, nonsectarian, nonprofit educational training center or residential treatment center in this state. Every public and private educational training center and every public and private residential treatment center that serves school-age persons in this state shall comply with this provision.

M. The department shall promulgate rules to carry out the provisions of this section."

Chapter 165 Section 1 Laws 2009

Section 1. Section 47-13-1 NMSA 1978 (being Laws 1991, Chapter 74, Section 1) is amended to read:

"47-13-1. SHORT TITLE.--Chapter 47, Article 13 NMSA 1978 may be cited as the "Real Estate Disclosure Act"."

Chapter 165 Section 2 Laws 2009

Section 2. A new section of the Real Estate Disclosure Act, Section 47-13-1.1 NMSA 1978, is enacted to read:

"47-13-1.1. DEFINITIONS.--As used in the Real Estate Disclosure Act:

A. "estimated amount of property tax levy" means the product of one-third of the listed price of the residential real property being sold or otherwise transferred in the transaction multiplied by the current property tax rates applicable to the property if those tax rates have been imposed in accordance with Section 7-38-34 NMSA 1978 for the current year for the county in which the property is located or, in all other cases, by the tax rates for the prior year;

B. "listed price" means the current price at which the residential property is being marketed;

C. "seller's broker" means a real estate broker acting on behalf of a residential property seller; and

D. "buyer's broker" means a real estate broker acting on behalf of a prospective residential property purchaser."

Chapter 165 Section 3 Laws 2009

Section 3. A new section of the Real Estate Disclosure Act, Section 47-13-4 NMSA 1978, is enacted to read:

"47-13-4. FINDING--DISCLOSURE OF INFORMATION REQUIRED IN CERTAIN REAL ESTATE TRANSACTIONS.--

A. The legislature finds that property tax levied on a residential property for the current year can be a misleading guide to property tax levies in the years following the sale of that property and that a prospective buyer needs information regarding the property tax obligation in the year following the property's sale to properly judge the affordability of a contemplated purchase.

B. Prior to accepting an offer to purchase, the property seller or the seller's broker shall:

(1) request from the county assessor the estimated amount of property tax levy with respect to the property and shall specify the listed price as the value of the property to be used in the estimate; and

(2) provide a copy of the assessor's response pursuant to Subsection D of this section in writing to the prospective buyer or the buyer's broker.

C. A buyer's broker shall provide to the prospective buyer the county assessor's estimated amount of property tax levy immediately upon receiving it from the property seller or the seller's broker. The prospective buyer shall acknowledge in writing the receipt of the estimated amount of property tax levy.

D. Upon request, a county assessor shall furnish in writing, pursuant to the provisions of Subsection E of this section, an estimated amount of property tax levy with respect to a residential property in the county, calculated at a property value specified by the requestor. The request shall be complied with by the close of business of the business day following the day the request is received. A county may satisfy this obligation through an internet site or other automated format that allows a user to print the requested estimated amount of property tax levy. A document associated with the request or the response is not a public record or a valuation record. County assessors shall not use information provided with a request, including the specified value, to assess the valuation of the property. Neither the county nor any jurisdiction levying a tax against residential property in the county is bound in any way by the estimate given.

E. A county assessor's estimated amount of property tax levy with respect to a residential property in the county shall contain the following:

(1) the actual amount of property tax levied for the property for the current calendar year if the tax rates for the current year have been imposed in accordance with Section 7-38-34 NMSA 1978 for the county in which the property is located or, in all other cases, the amount of property tax levied with respect to the property for the prior calendar year;

(2) the estimated amount of property tax levy, as calculated by the county assessor, for the property for the calendar year following the year in which the transaction takes place; and

(3) a disclaimer substantially similar to the following:

"The estimated amount of property tax levy is calculated using the stated price and estimates of the applicable tax rates. The county assessor is required by law to value the property at its "current and correct" value, which may differ from the listed price. Further, the estimated tax rates may be higher or lower than those that will actually be imposed. Accordingly, the actual tax levy may be higher or lower than the estimated amount. New Mexico law requires your real estate broker or agent to provide you an estimate of the property tax levy on the property on which you have submitted or intend to submit an offer to purchase. All real estate brokers and agents who have complied with these disclosure requirements shall be immune from suit and liability arising from suit relating to the estimated amount of property tax levy."

F. A prospective buyer may waive the disclosure requirements of this section by signing a written document prior to the time the offer to purchase is to be made in which the buyer acknowledges that the required estimated amount of property tax levy is not readily available and waives disclosure of the estimated amount of property tax levy.

G. All property sellers and real estate brokers and agents who have complied with the provisions of this section shall be immune from suit and liability arising from or relating to the estimated amount of property tax levy.

H. The New Mexico real estate commission shall biannually inform all New Mexico real estate licensees of the statutory requirement for disclosure of the estimated amount of property tax levy to prospective residential property purchasers."

RELATING TO TRANSPORTATION; AUTHORIZING THE DEPARTMENT OF TRANSPORTATION TO UTILIZE MONEY IN THE LOCAL GOVERNMENTS ROAD FUND FOR A FINANCIAL HARDSHIP MATCH REQUIREMENT IN CERTAIN CIRCUMSTANCES.

BE IT ENACTED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF NEW MEXICO:

Chapter 167 Section 1 Laws 2009

Section 1. Section 67-3-28.2 NMSA 1978 (being Laws 1986, Chapter 20, Section 125, as amended) is amended to read:

"67-3-28.2. LOCAL GOVERNMENTS ROAD FUND CREATED--USES.--

A. There is created in the state treasury the "local governments road fund" to be administered by the department. All income received from investment of the fund shall be credited to the fund. No money in the fund shall be used by the department to administer any program, and except as provided in Subsection E of this section, no entity receiving a distribution pursuant to a program requiring matching funds shall use another distribution made pursuant to this section to meet the match required.

B. No more than five hundred thousand dollars ($500,000) annually from the local governments road fund shall be used by the department to purchase at fair market value, for municipalities and counties that can demonstrate financial hardship as determined by the department, automotive, major road and miscellaneous equipment that would otherwise be sold at auction by the department as unusable for department purposes. The department shall adopt rules setting the procedure to carry out the purposes of this subsection.

C. Except for the amounts in Subsections B and E of this section, money in the local governments road fund shall be distributed in the following amounts for the specified purposes:

(1) forty-two percent for the cooperative agreements program, to be used solely for the cooperative agreements entered into pursuant to Section 67-3-28 NMSA 1978 and in accordance with the match authorized pursuant to Section 67-3-32 NMSA 1978; provided, however, that distribution amounts made pursuant to this paragraph in each year shall be based on the following allocations:

(a) thirty-three percent for agreements entered into with counties;

(b) forty-nine percent for agreements entered into with municipalities;

(c) fourteen percent for agreements entered into with school districts; and

(d) four percent for agreements entered into with other entities;

(2) sixteen percent for the municipal arterial program, to be used solely for the necessary project development, construction, reconstruction, improvement, maintenance, repair and right-of-way and material acquisition of and for those streets that are principal extensions of rural state highways and of other streets not on the state highway system but that qualify under the designated criteria established by the department. In entering into agreements with municipalities to provide funds for any project qualifying for the municipal arterial program, the department shall give preference to municipalities that contribute an amount equal to at least twenty-five percent of the project cost, including a contribution made through funding received pursuant to Subsection E of this section;

(3) sixteen percent for school bus routes, to be used solely for cooperative agreements entered into pursuant to Section 67-3-28 NMSA 1978 and in accordance with the match authorized pursuant to Section 67-3-32 NMSA 1978 for acquiring rights of way and constructing, maintaining, repairing, improving and paving school bus routes and public school parking lots; and

(4) twenty-six percent for the county arterial program, to be used for project development, construction, reconstruction, improvement, maintenance, repair and right-of-way and material acquisition of and for county roads for which individual counties have prioritized road projects. Prior to entering into any agreements for projects with the counties for the following fiscal year, in June of each year the department shall determine and certify the amount to which each county is entitled pursuant to the following schedule:

Road Mileage Category Based on

Number of Miles Maintained

By a County:

Entitlement to County:

400 miles or under

$250 for each mile

800 miles

$100,000 plus $200 for each

mile over 400 miles

801 to 1,200 miles

$180,000 plus $150 for each

mile over 800 miles

1,201 to 1,600 miles

$240,000 plus $100 for each

mile over 1,200 miles

Over 1,600 miles

$300,000 plus $50 for each

mile over 1,600 miles.

If in any year there is an insufficient amount in the fund of the county arterial program to certify the total amount to which all counties are entitled, the department shall decrease the entitlement amount due to each county in the same proportion as the insufficiency is to the total entitlements to all counties. Distribution of an entitlement amount and an agreement entered into with a county for any of the purposes for which the money may be spent requires an amount from the county equal to at least twenty-five percent of the entitlement. The county contribution may be made through funds received pursuant to Subsection E of this section. Any uncommitted or unencumbered balance remaining in the county arterial program fund at the end of a fiscal year shall be transferred to the cooperative agreements program specified in Paragraph (1) of this subsection for additional funding of that program in the next fiscal year.

D. The department may transfer funds from the state road fund to the local governments road fund to facilitate cash flow for the funding of these local governments road projects. The administrator of the local governments road fund shall reimburse the state road fund in a timely manner for any such transfers.

E. The department may distribute up to one million dollars ($1,000,000) per calendar year of the money in the local governments road fund to municipalities and counties that can demonstrate financial hardship, for use as all or a portion of the municipality's or county's matching fund requirements pursuant to this section. "PROTOCOL FOR MANAGEMENT OF INFECTIOUS FORMS OF TUBERCULOSIS.--

A. When a physician or other person knows that a person has an infectious form of tuberculosis, the physician or other person shall promptly notify the department.

B. Upon receiving notification that a person has an infectious form of tuberculosis, the department shall prescribe the person a treatment plan meeting the department's therapeutic specifications for the infectious form of tuberculosis. The treatment plan shall include a notice to the person that failure to comply with the treatment plan will result in immediate initiation of court action to ensure compliance, as set forth in this section.

C. When the department has knowledge that a person who has an infectious form of tuberculosis has failed to comply with the department's treatment plan as described in Subsection B of this section, the department shall petition the court for an order of protection for the person who has an infectious form of tuberculosis to comply with whichever of the following courses of action the department deems appropriate:

- (1) a program of directly observed therapy;
- (2) isolation; or
- (3) directly observed therapy and isolation.

D. The petition for an order of protection shall be made under oath or shall be accompanied by a sworn affidavit setting out specific facts showing that the person has an infectious form of tuberculosis.

E. The petition for an order of protection shall state that the person for whom the order is sought:

(1) has an infectious form of tuberculosis or presents a substantial likelihood of having an infectious form of tuberculosis based on credible medical evidence;

(2) after being advised of the condition and the risks posed thereby, has failed to comply with the department's treatment plan; and

(3) poses a substantial likelihood of transmission of tuberculosis to others because the person is actively infectious or poses a risk of relapse or development of a therapy-resistant strain of tuberculosis.

F. Upon the filing of a petition for an order of protection, the court shall:

(1) in cases where there is probable cause established by the petition to give the judge reason to believe that the person who has been alleged to have an infectious form of tuberculosis poses a substantial threat to the public health and safety because the person is actively infectious, or poses a risk of relapse or development of a therapy-resistant strain of tuberculosis because of a history of noncompliance, immediately grant ex parte a temporary order of protection to:

- (a) administer a program of directly observed therapy;
- (b) isolate the person and administer a program of directly observed therapy; or
- (c) isolate the person, if the person refuses a program of directly observed therapy;

(2) cause the temporary order of protection, notice of hearing and an advisement of the terms of the order of protection, including the rights of the person alleged to have an infectious form of tuberculosis to representation and re-petition for termination of an order of protection, to be immediately served on the person alleged to have an infectious form of tuberculosis; and

(3) within five days after the granting of the temporary order of protection, hold an evidentiary hearing to determine if the court shall continue the order of protection.

(1) entitled to representation by counsel at the evidentiary hearing and at all hearings thereafter for the duration of the period of isolation or program of directly observed therapy; and

(2) permitted to communicate on any matter, including the person's isolation or program of directly observed therapy, with persons by telephone or other reasonably available means that do not expose other persons to the risk of infection, for the duration of the period of isolation or program of directly observed therapy.

H. Counsel may be retained by the person under the temporary order of protection or shall be appointed by the court if the court determines that the person held cannot afford legal representation or if the court determines that appointment of counsel is required in the interest of justice.

I. At the evidentiary hearing, the court shall review the circumstances surrounding the temporary order, and, if the petitioner can show by clear and convincing evidence that the person being held has not complied or will not comply with appropriate treatment and contagion precautions as the department deems necessary, the court shall continue the order of protection for the person who has an infectious form of tuberculosis until completion of therapy, as deemed by the department. The court shall order regular review of the order by providing the person under an order of protection with a subsequent hearing within ninety days of the temporary order's issuance and every ninety days thereafter. The order of protection shall be terminated and the person shall be released if:

(1) at a hearing, the petitioner has not met its burden of showing by clear and convincing proof that the person under an order of protection has not completed therapy; or

(2) exceptional circumstances exist warranting the termination of the temporary order of protection.

J. The provisions of this section do not permit the forcible administration of medications.

K. The proceedings of any hearing held pursuant to the section shall be recorded stenographically, electronically or mechanically or by other appropriate means. The proceedings shall be closed to the general public and the records shall be sealed from public inspection.

2. Each member of the commission shall have the right and power to cast a vote to which that compacting state is entitled and to participate in the business and affairs of the commission. A member shall vote in person or by such other means as provided in the bylaws. The bylaws may provide for members' participation in meetings by telephone or other means of communication.

3. The commission shall meet at least once during each calendar year. Additional meetings shall be held as set forth in the bylaws.

Article VII. Rules and Operating Procedures:
Rulemaking Functions of the Commission and Opting Out of Uniform Standards.

Rulemaking Authority.

1. The commission shall promulgate reasonable rules, including uniform standards, and operating procedures in order to effectively and efficiently achieve the purposes of this compact. Notwithstanding the foregoing, in the event the commission exercises its rulemaking authority in a manner that is beyond the scope of the purposes of this compact, or the powers granted hereunder, then such an action by the commission shall be invalid and have no force and effect.

Rulemaking Procedure.

2. Rules and operating procedures shall be made pursuant to a rulemaking process that conforms to the Model State Administrative Procedure Act of 1981, as amended, as may be appropriate to the operations of the commission. Before the commission adopts a uniform standard, the commission shall give written notice to the relevant state legislative committee in each compacting state responsible for insurance issues of its intention to adopt the uniform standard. The commission in adopting a uniform standard shall consider fully all submitted materials and issue a concise explanation of its decision.

Effective Date and Opt-Out of a Uniform Standard.

3. A uniform standard shall become effective ninety days after its promulgation by the commission or such later date as the commission may determine; provided, however, that a compacting state may opt out of a uniform standard as provided in this article. "Opt out" shall be defined as any action by a compacting state to decline to adopt or participate in a promulgated uniform standard. All other rules and operating procedures, and amendments thereto, shall become effective as of the date specified in each rule, operating procedure or amendment.

Opt-Out Procedure.

4. A compacting state may opt out of a uniform standard, either by legislation or regulation duly promulgated by the insurance department under the compacting state's administrative procedure act. If a compacting state elects to opt out of a uniform standard by regulation, it must:

(a) give written notice to the commission no later than ten business days after the uniform standard is promulgated, or at the time the state becomes a compacting state; and

(b) find that the uniform standard does not provide reasonable protections to the citizens of the state, given the conditions in the state.

The commissioner shall make specific findings of fact and conclusions of law, based on a preponderance of the evidence, detailing the conditions in the state which warrant a departure from the uniform standard and determining that the uniform standard would not reasonably protect the citizens of the state. The commissioner must consider and balance the following factors and find that the conditions in the state and needs of the citizens of the state outweigh: (i) the intent of the legislature to participate in, and the benefits of, an interstate agreement to establish national uniform consumer protections for the products subject to this compact; and (ii) the presumption that a uniform standard adopted by the commission provides reasonable protections to consumers of the relevant product. Notwithstanding the foregoing, a compacting state may, at the time of its enactment of this compact, prospectively opt out of all uniform standards involving long-term care insurance products by expressly providing for such opt-out in the enacted compact, and such an opt-out shall not be treated as a material variance in the offer or acceptance of any state to participate in this compact. Such an opt-out shall be effective at the time of enactment of this compact by the compacting state and shall apply to all existing uniform standards involving long-term care insurance products and those subsequently promulgated.

Effect of Opt-Out.

5. If a compacting state elects to opt out of a uniform standard, the uniform standard shall remain applicable in the compacting state electing to opt out until such time the opt-out legislation is enacted into law or the regulation opting out becomes effective.

Once the opt-out of a uniform standard by a compacting state becomes effective as provided under the laws of that state, the uniform standard shall have no further force and effect in that state unless and until the legislation or regulation implementing the opt-out is repealed or otherwise becomes ineffective under the laws of the state. If a compacting state opts out of a uniform standard after the uniform standard has been made effective in that state, the opt-out shall have the same prospective effect as provided under Article XIV of this compact for withdrawals.

Stay of Uniform Standard.

6. If a compacting state has formally initiated the process of opting out of a uniform standard by regulation, and while the regulatory opt-out is pending, the compacting state may petition the commission, at least fifteen days before the effective date of the uniform standard, to stay the effectiveness of the uniform standard in that state. The commission may grant a stay if it determines the regulatory opt-out is being pursued in a reasonable manner and there is a likelihood of success. If a stay is granted or extended by the commission, the stay or extension thereof may postpone the effective date by up to ninety days, unless affirmatively extended by the commission; provided that a stay may not be permitted to remain in effect for more than one year unless the compacting state can show extraordinary circumstances which warrant a continuance of the stay, including, but not limited to, the existence of a legal challenge which prevents the compacting state from opting out. A stay may be terminated by the commission upon notice that the rulemaking process has been terminated.

7. Not later than thirty days after a rule or operating procedure is promulgated, any person may file a petition for judicial review of the rule or operating procedure; provided that the filing of such a petition shall not stay or otherwise prevent the rule or operating procedure from becoming effective unless the court finds that the petitioner has a substantial likelihood of success. The court shall give deference to the actions of the commission consistent with applicable law and shall not find the rule or operating procedure to be unlawful if the rule or operating procedure represents a reasonable exercise of the commission's authority.

Article VIII. Commission Records and Enforcement.

1. The commission shall promulgate rules establishing conditions and procedures for public inspection and copying of its information and official records, except such information and records involving the privacy of individuals and insurers' trade secrets. The commission may promulgate additional rules under which it may make available to federal and state agencies, including law enforcement agencies, records and information otherwise exempt from disclosure, and may enter into agreements with such agencies to receive or exchange information or records subject to nondisclosure and confidentiality provisions.

2. Except as to privileged records, data and information, the laws of any compacting state pertaining to confidentiality or nondisclosure shall not relieve any compacting state commissioner of the duty to disclose any relevant records, data or information to the commission; provided that disclosure to the commission shall not be deemed to waive or otherwise affect any confidentiality requirement; and further provided that except as otherwise expressly provided in this compact, the commission shall not be subject to the compacting state's laws pertaining to confidentiality and nondisclosure with respect to records, data and information in its possession. Confidential information of the commission shall remain confidential after such information is provided to any commissioner.

3. The commission shall monitor compacting states for compliance with duly adopted bylaws, rules, including uniform standards, and operating procedures. The commission shall notify any noncomplying compacting state in writing of its noncompliance with commission bylaws, rules or operating procedures. If a noncomplying compacting state fails to remedy its noncompliance within the time specified in the notice of noncompliance, the compacting state shall be deemed to be in default as set forth in Article XIV of this compact.

4. The commissioner of any state in which an insurer is authorized to do business, or is conducting the business of insurance, shall continue to exercise his or her authority to oversee the market regulation of the activities of the insurer in accordance with the provisions of the state's law. The commissioner's enforcement of compliance with the compact is governed by the following provisions:

(a) with respect to the commissioner's market regulation of a product or advertisement that is approved or certified to the commission, the content of the product or advertisement shall not constitute a violation of the provisions, standards or requirements of the compact except upon a final order of the commission, issued at the request of a commissioner after prior notice to the insurer and an opportunity for hearing before the commission; and

(b) before a commissioner may bring an action for violation of any provision, standard or requirement of the compact relating to the content of an advertisement not approved or certified to the commission, the commission, or an authorized commission officer or employee, must authorize the action. However, authorization pursuant to this paragraph does not require notice to the insurer, opportunity for hearing or disclosure of requests for authorization or records of the commission's action on such requests.

Article IX. Dispute Resolution.

The commission shall attempt, upon the request of a member, to resolve any disputes or other issues that are subject to this compact and which may arise between two or more compacting states, or between compacting states and non-compacting states, and the commission shall promulgate an operating procedure providing for resolution of such disputes.

Article X. Product Filing and Approval.

1. Insurers and third-party filers seeking to have a product approved by the commission shall file the product with, and pay applicable filing fees to, the commission. Nothing in this compact shall be construed to restrict or otherwise prevent an insurer from filing its product with the insurance department in any state wherein the insurer is licensed to conduct the business of insurance, and such filing shall be subject to the laws of the states where filed.

2. The commission shall establish appropriate filing and review processes and procedures pursuant to commission rules and operating procedures. Notwithstanding any provision herein to the contrary, the commission shall promulgate rules to establish conditions and procedures under which the commission will provide public access to product filing information. In establishing such rules, the commission shall consider the interests of the public in having access to such information, as well as protection of personal medical and financial information and trade secrets, that may be contained in a product filing or supporting information.

3. Any product approved by the commission may be sold or otherwise issued in those compacting states for which the insurer is legally authorized to do business.

Article XI. Review of Commission Decisions Regarding Filings.

1. Not later than thirty days after the commission has given notice of a disapproved product or advertisement filed with the commission, the insurer or third-party filer whose filing was disapproved may appeal the determination to a review panel appointed by the commission. The commission shall promulgate rules to establish procedures for appointing such review panels and provide for notice and hearing. An allegation that the commission, in disapproving a product or advertisement filed with the commission, acted arbitrarily, capriciously or in a manner that is an abuse of discretion or otherwise not in accordance with the law, is subject to judicial review in accordance with Section 4 of Article III of this compact.

2. The commission shall have authority to monitor, review and reconsider products and advertisement subsequent to their filing or approval upon a finding that the product does not meet the relevant uniform standard. Where appropriate, the commission may withdraw or modify its approval after proper notice and hearing, subject to the appeal process in Section 1 of this article.

Article XII. Finance.

1. The commission shall pay or provide for the payment of the reasonable expenses of its establishment and organization. To fund the cost of its initial operations, the commission may accept contributions and other forms of funding from the national association of insurance commissioners, compacting states and other sources. Contributions and other forms of funding from other sources shall be of such a nature that the independence of the commission concerning the performance of its duties shall not be compromised.

2. The commission shall collect a filing fee from each insurer and third-party filer filing a product with the commission to cover the cost of the operations and activities of the commission and its staff in a total amount sufficient to cover the commission's annual budget.

3. The commission's budget for a fiscal year shall not be approved until it has been subject to notice and comment as set forth in Article VII of this compact.

4. The commission shall be exempt from all taxation in and by the compacting states.

5. The commission shall not pledge the credit of any compacting state, except by and with the appropriate legal authority of that compacting state.

6. The commission shall keep complete and accurate accounts of all its internal receipts, including grants and donations, and disbursements of all funds under its control. The internal financial accounts of the commission shall be subject to the accounting procedures established under its bylaws. The financial accounts and reports, including the system of internal controls and procedures of the commission, shall be audited annually by an independent certified public accountant. Upon the determination of the commission, but no less frequently than every three years, the review of the independent auditor shall include a management and performance audit of the commission. The commission shall make an annual report to the governor and legislature of the compacting states, which shall include a report of the independent audit. The commission's internal accounts shall not be confidential, and such materials may be shared with the commissioner of any compacting state upon request; provided, however, that any work papers related to any internal or independent audit and any information regarding the privacy of individuals and insurers' proprietary information, including trade secrets, shall remain confidential.

7. No compacting state shall have any claim to or ownership of any property held by or vested in the commission or to any commission funds held pursuant to the provisions of this compact.

Article XIII. Compacting States, Effective Date and Amendment.

1. Any state is eligible to become a compacting state.

2. The compact shall become effective and binding upon legislative enactment of the compact into law by two compacting states; provided that the commission shall become effective for purposes of adopting uniform standards for, reviewing, and giving approval or disapproval of, products filed with the commission that satisfy applicable uniform standards only after twenty-six states are compacting states or, alternatively, by states representing greater than forty percent of the premium volume for life insurance, annuity, disability income and long-term care insurance products, based on records of the national association of insurance commissioners for the prior year. Thereafter, it shall become effective and binding as to any other compacting state upon enactment of the compact into law by that state.

3. Amendments to the compact may be proposed by the commission for enactment by the compacting states. No amendment shall become effective and binding upon the commission and the compacting states unless and until all compacting states enact the amendment into law.

Article XIV. Withdrawal, Default and Termination.

Withdrawal.

1. (a) Once effective, the compact shall continue in force and remain binding upon each and every compacting state; provided that a compacting state may withdraw from the compact ("withdrawing state") by enacting a statute specifically repealing the statute which enacted the compact into law.

(b) The effective date of withdrawal is the effective date of the repealing statute. However, the withdrawal shall not apply to any product filings approved or self-certified, or any advertisement of such products, on the date the repealing statute becomes effective, except by mutual agreement of the commission and the withdrawing state unless the approval is rescinded by the withdrawing state as provided in Paragraph (e) of this section.

(c) The commissioner of the withdrawing state shall immediately notify the management committee in writing upon the introduction of legislation repealing this compact in the withdrawing state.

(d) The commission shall notify the other compacting states of the introduction of such legislation within ten days after its receipt of notice thereof.

(e) The withdrawing state is responsible for all obligations, duties and liabilities incurred through the effective date of withdrawal, including any obligations, the performance of which extend beyond the effective date of withdrawal, except to the extent those obligations may have been released or relinquished by mutual agreement of the commission and the withdrawing state. The commission's approval of products and advertisement prior to the effective date of withdrawal shall continue to be effective and be given full force and effect in the withdrawing state, unless formally rescinded by the withdrawing state in the same manner as provided by the laws of the withdrawing state for the prospective disapproval of products or advertisement previously approved under state law.

(f) Reinstatement following withdrawal of any compacting state shall occur upon the effective date of the withdrawing state reenacting the compact.

Default.

2. (a) If the commission determines that any compacting state has at any time defaulted ("defaulting state") in the performance of any of its obligations or responsibilities under this compact, the bylaws or duly promulgated rules or operating procedures, then, after notice and hearing as set forth in the bylaws, all rights, privileges and benefits conferred by this compact on the defaulting state shall be suspended from the effective date of default as fixed by the commission. The grounds for default include, but are not limited to, failure of a compacting state to perform its obligations or responsibilities, and any other grounds designated in commission rules. The commission shall immediately notify the defaulting state in writing of the defaulting state's suspension pending a cure of the default. The commission shall stipulate the conditions and the time period within which the defaulting state must cure its default. If the defaulting state fails to cure the default within the time period specified by the commission, the defaulting state shall be terminated from the compact and all rights, privileges and benefits conferred by this compact shall be terminated from the effective date of termination.

(b) Product approvals by the commission or product self-certifications, or any advertisement in connection with such product, that are in force on the effective date of termination shall remain in force in the defaulting state in the same manner as if the defaulting state had withdrawn voluntarily pursuant to Section 1 of this article.

(c) Reinstatement following termination of any compacting state requires a reenactment of the compact.

Dissolution of Compact.

3. (a) The compact dissolves effective upon the date of the withdrawal or default of the compacting state which reduces membership in the compact to one compacting state.

(b) Upon the dissolution of this compact, the compact becomes null and void and shall be of no further force or effect, and the business and affairs of the commission shall be wound up and any surplus funds shall be distributed in accordance with the bylaws.

Article XV. Severability and Construction.

1. The provisions of this compact shall be severable; and if any phrase, clause, sentence or provision is deemed unenforceable, the remaining provisions of the compact shall be enforceable.

2. The provisions of this compact shall be liberally construed to effectuate its purposes.

Article XVI. Binding Effect of Compact and Other Laws.

Other Laws.

1. (a) Nothing herein prevents the enforcement of any other law of a compacting state, except as provided in Paragraph (b) of this section.

(b) For any product approved or certified to the commission, the rules, uniform standards and any other requirements of the commission shall constitute the exclusive provisions applicable to the content, approval and certification of such products. For advertisement that is subject to the commission's authority, any rule, uniform standard or other requirement of the commission that governs the content of the advertisement shall constitute the exclusive provision that a commissioner may apply to the content of the advertisement. Notwithstanding the foregoing, no action taken by the commission shall abrogate or restrict:

(i) the access of any person to state courts;

(ii) remedies available under state law related to breach of contract, tort or other laws not specifically directed to the content of the product;

(iii) state law relating to the construction of insurance contracts; or

(iv) the authority of the attorney general of the state, including but not limited to maintaining any actions or proceedings, as authorized by law.

(c) All insurance products filed with individual states shall be subject to the laws of those states.

Binding Effect of this Compact.

2. (a) All lawful actions of the commission, including all rules and operating procedures promulgated by the commission, are binding upon the compacting states.

(b) All agreements between the commission and the compacting states are binding in accordance with their terms.

(c) Upon the request of a party to a conflict over the meaning or interpretation of commission actions, and upon a majority vote of the compacting states, the commission may issue advisory opinions regarding the meaning or interpretation in dispute.

(d) In the event any provision of this compact exceeds the constitutional limits imposed on the legislature of any compacting state, the obligations, duties, powers or jurisdiction sought to be conferred by that provision upon the commission shall be ineffective as to that compacting state, and those obligations, duties, powers or jurisdiction shall remain in the compacting state and shall be exercised by the agency thereof to which those obligations, duties, powers or jurisdiction are delegated by law in effect at the time this compact becomes effective."

LAWS 2009, CHAPTER 189

AN ACT

RELATING TO PUBLIC SCHOOLS; CREATING AN ALTERNATIVE SCHOOL ACCOUNTABILITY SYSTEM PILOT PROJECT; PROVIDING FOR DATA COLLECTION AND ANALYSIS; PROVIDING FOR PERIODIC REPORTS TO THE GOVERNOR AND THE LEGISLATURE.

BE IT ENACTED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF NEW MEXICO:

Chapter 189 Section 1 Laws 2009

Section 1. A new section of the Public School Code is enacted to read:

"ALTERNATIVE SCHOOL ACCOUNTABILITY SYSTEM PILOT PROJECT.--

A. The "alternative school accountability system" is created as a six-year pilot project to provide an opportunity for public school districts and charter schools to participate in an accountability system, aligned with state academic content and performance standards, that demonstrates the usefulness of a student growth model of accountability for targeting resources to improve elementary and middle schools most in need, and for recognizing elementary and middle schools that make the greatest progress in increasing student academic performance.

B. The alternative school accountability system shall complement but be separate from the statewide assessment and accountability system established pursuant to federal law. It shall be based on:

(1) a growth model that measures change in academic performance as demonstrated on state standards-based assessments from year to year for each student in participating school districts and charter schools in grades four through eight;

(2) in cases of students with disabilities, demonstration of proficiency on the state standards-based assessments or alternative assessments as specified in their individualized education plans, without regard to any predetermined number or percentage of students that may be counted as proficient based on demonstration of proficiency on alternative assessments; and

(3) in cases of students with limited English proficiency, achievement of English language proficiency as demonstrated on the New Mexico English language proficiency assessment within a period to be specified by the department based on current scientific research.

C. The alternative school accountability system shall include annual reports for each participating school that:

(1) are easily understood by school personnel, parents, students and community members;

(2) report results for all students and for groups based on ethnicity, race, limited English proficiency, students with disabilities, poverty and gender; and

(3) report relative improvement in academic achievement of students in schools that have comparable levels of students at risk because of high mobility, poverty and limited English proficiency.

D. The alternative school accountability system shall be administered by the department and shall be phased in over two years.

E. During year one, the department shall convene an assessment and accountability work group composed of representatives of school district superintendents, assessment and accountability specialists, public school principals, public school teachers and teacher organizations, educators in federal bureau of Indian education schools, bilingual educators, special education teachers and administrators, parents and members of the public to assist the department in designing a uniform alternative accountability system for school districts and charter schools that voluntarily choose to participate in the pilot project. The design shall include:

(1) a value table based on four levels of academic proficiency, from beginning step through advanced, that compares the achievement level that a student earns to the level the student earned the previous year and assigns a numerical value to the change;

(2) a methodology for establishing peer groups among participating schools based on comparable levels of student mobility, poverty and percentage of English language learners;

(3) the timetable that the department will use to supply annual student growth calculations and any other necessary accountability data to school districts and charter schools that participate in the pilot project; a schedule for producing accountability reports; the information to be included in the report; and a process for disseminating reports to school communities and the public; and

(4) a detailed application process with evaluation criteria for the pilot project, including a description of how the applicant proposes to use the results of the alternative school accountability system for school improvement and recognition.

F. During year two and subsequent years of the pilot project, depending on the availability of funds appropriated by the legislature or from other available sources, the department shall make awards to applicant school districts and charter schools to participate in the pilot project. Awarded funds may be used, as described in participants' applications, for school improvement activities, including initiatives to improve school district and charter school capacity to analyze and use assessment data for targeted school improvement and to improve student achievement through individualized instruction.

G. The department shall establish reporting and evaluation requirements for school districts and charter schools that participate in the pilot project."

AN ACT

RELATING TO THE ENVIRONMENT; AMENDING SECTIONS OF THE WATER QUALITY ACT TO LIMIT RULEMAKING TO SPECIFIC AUTHORITY OF THE ACT.

BE IT ENACTED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF NEW MEXICO:

Chapter 194 Section 1 Laws 2009

Section 1. Section 74-6-4 NMSA 1978 (being Laws 1967, Chapter 190, Section 4, as amended) is amended to read:

"74-6-4. DUTIES AND POWERS OF COMMISSION.--The commission:

A. may accept and supervise the administration of loans and grants from the federal government and from other sources, public or private, which loans and grants shall not be expended for other than the purposes for which provided;

B. shall adopt a comprehensive water quality management program and develop a continuing planning process;

C. shall not adopt or promulgate a standard or regulation that exceeds a grant of rulemaking authority listed in the statutory section of the Water Quality Act authorizing the standard or regulation;

D. shall adopt water quality standards for surface and ground waters of the state based on credible scientific data and other evidence appropriate under the Water Quality Act. The standards shall include narrative standards and as appropriate, the designated uses of the waters and the water quality criteria necessary to protect such uses. The standards shall at a minimum protect the public health or welfare, enhance the quality of water and serve the purposes of the Water Quality Act. In making standards, the commission shall give weight it deems appropriate to all facts and circumstances, including the use and value of the water for water supplies, propagation of fish and wildlife, recreational purposes and agricultural, industrial and other purposes;

E. shall adopt, promulgate and publish regulations to prevent or abate water pollution in the state or in any specific geographic area, aquifer or watershed of the state or in any part thereof, or for any class of waters, and to govern the disposal of septage and sludge and the use of sludge for various beneficial purposes. The regulations governing the disposal of septage and sludge may include the use of tracking and permitting systems or other reasonable means necessary to assure that septage and sludge are designated for disposal in, and arrive at, disposal facilities, other than facilities on the premises where the septage and sludge is generated, for which a permit or other authorization has been issued pursuant to the federal act or the Water Quality Act. Regulations may specify a standard of performance for new sources that reflects the greatest reduction in the concentration of water contaminants that the commission determines to be achievable through application of the best available demonstrated control technology, processes, operating methods or other alternatives, including where practicable a standard permitting no discharge of pollutants. In making regulations, the commission shall give weight it deems appropriate to all relevant facts and circumstances, including:

(1) character and degree of injury to or interference with health, welfare, environment and property;

(2) the public interest, including the social and economic value of the sources of water contaminants;

(3) technical practicability and economic reasonableness of reducing or eliminating water contaminants from the sources involved and previous experience with equipment and methods available to control the water contaminants involved;

(4) successive uses, including but not limited to domestic, commercial, industrial, pastoral, agricultural, wildlife and recreational uses;

(5) feasibility of a user or a subsequent user treating the water before a subsequent use;

(6) property rights and accustomed uses; and

(7) federal water quality requirements;

F. shall assign responsibility for administering its regulations to constituent agencies so as to assure adequate coverage and prevent duplication of effort. To this end, the commission may make such classification of waters and sources of water contaminants as will facilitate the assignment of administrative responsibilities to constituent agencies. The commission shall also hear and decide disputes between constituent agencies as to jurisdiction concerning any matters within the purpose of the Water Quality Act. In assigning responsibilities to constituent agencies, the commission shall give priority to the primary interests of the constituent agencies. The department of environment shall provide technical services, including certification of permits pursuant to the federal act, and shall maintain a repository of the scientific data required by this act;

G. may enter into or authorize constituent agencies to enter into agreements with the federal government or other state governments for purposes consistent with the Water Quality Act and receive and allocate to constituent agencies funds made available to the commission;

H. may grant an individual variance from any regulation of the commission whenever it is found that compliance with the regulation will impose an unreasonable burden upon any lawful business, occupation or activity. The commission may only grant a variance conditioned upon a person effecting a particular abatement of water pollution within a reasonable period of time. Any variance shall be granted for the period of time specified by the commission. The commission shall adopt regulations specifying the procedure under which variances may be sought, which regulations shall provide for the holding of a public hearing before any variance may be granted;

I. may adopt regulations to require the filing with it or a constituent agency of proposed plans and specifications for the construction and operation of new sewer systems, treatment works or sewerage systems or extensions, modifications of or additions to new or existing sewer systems, treatment works or sewerage systems. Filing with and approval by the federal housing administration of plans for an extension to an existing or construction of a new sewerage system intended to serve a subdivision solely residential in nature shall be deemed compliance with all provisions of this subsection;

J. may adopt regulations requiring notice to it or a constituent agency of intent to introduce or allow the introduction of water contaminants into waters of the state;

K. shall specify in regulations the measures to be taken to prevent water pollution and to monitor water quality. The commission may adopt regulations for particular industries. The commission shall adopt regulations for the dairy industry and the copper industry. The commission shall consider, in addition to the factors listed in Subsection E of this section, the best available scientific information. The regulations may include variations in requirements based on site-specific factors, such as depth and distance to ground water and geological and hydrological conditions. The constituent agency shall establish an advisory committee composed of persons with knowledge and expertise particular to the industry category and other interested stakeholders to advise the constituent agency on appropriate regulations to be proposed for adoption by the commission. The regulations shall be developed and adopted in accordance with a schedule approved by the commission. The schedule shall incorporate an opportunity for public input and stakeholder negotiations;

L. may adopt regulations establishing pretreatment standards that prohibit or control the introduction into publicly owned sewerage systems of water contaminants that are not susceptible to treatment by the treatment works or that would interfere with the operation of the treatment works;

M. shall not require a permit respecting the use of water in irrigated agriculture, except in the case of the employment of a specific practice in connection with such irrigation that documentation or actual case history has shown to be hazardous to public health or the environment;

N. shall not require a permit for applying less than two hundred fifty gallons per day of private residential gray water originating from a residence for the resident's household gardening, composting or landscape irrigation if:

(1) a constructed gray water distribution system provides for overflow into the sewer system or on-site wastewater treatment and disposal system;

(2) a gray water storage tank is covered to restrict access and to eliminate habitat for mosquitos or other vectors;

(3) a gray water system is sited outside of a floodway;

(4) gray water is vertically separated at least five feet above the ground water table;

(5) gray water pressure piping is clearly identified as a nonpotable water conduit;

(6) gray water is used on the site where it is generated and does not run off the property lines;

(7) gray water is applied in a manner that minimizes the potential for contact with people or domestic pets;

(8) ponding is prohibited, application of gray water is managed to minimize standing water on the surface and to ensure that the hydraulic capacity of the soil is not exceeded;

(9) gray water is not sprayed;

(10) gray water is not discharged to a watercourse; and

(11) gray water use within municipalities or counties complies with all applicable municipal or county ordinances enacted pursuant to Chapter 3, Article 53 NMSA 1978; and

O. shall coordinate application procedures and funding cycles for loans and grants from the federal government and from other sources, public or private, with the local government division of the department of finance and administration pursuant to the New Mexico Community Assistance Act."

Chapter 194 Section 2 Laws 2009

Section 2. Section 74-6-5 NMSA 1978 (being Laws 1973, Chapter 326, Section 4, as amended) is amended to read:

"74-6-5. PERMITS--CERTIFICATION--APPEALS TO COMMISSION.--

A. By regulation, the commission may require persons to obtain from a constituent agency designated by the commission a permit for the discharge of any water contaminant or for the disposal or reuse of septage or sludge.

B. The commission shall adopt regulations establishing procedures for certifying federal water quality permits.

C. Prior to the issuance of a permit, the constituent agency may require the submission of plans, specifications and other relevant information that it deems necessary.

D. The commission shall by regulation set the dates upon which applications for permits shall be filed and designate the time periods within which the constituent agency shall, after the filing of an administratively complete application for a permit, either grant the permit, grant the permit subject to conditions or deny the permit. The constituent agency has the burden of showing that each condition is reasonable and necessary to ensure compliance with the Water Quality Act and applicable regulations, considering site-specific conditions. After regulations have been adopted for a particular industry, permits for facilities in that industry shall be subject to conditions contained in the regulations. Additional conditions on a final permit may be imposed if the applicant is provided with an opportunity to review and provide comments in writing on the draft permit conditions and to receive a written explanation of the reasons for the conditions from the constituent agency.

E. The constituent agency shall deny any application for a permit or deny the certification of a federal water quality permit if:

(1) the effluent would not meet applicable state or federal effluent regulations, standards of performance or limitations;

(2) any provision of the Water Quality Act would be violated;

(3) the discharge would cause or contribute to water contaminant levels in excess of any state or federal standard. Determination of the discharge's effect on ground water shall be measured at any place of withdrawal of water for present or reasonably foreseeable future use. Determination of the discharge's effect on surface waters shall be measured at the point of discharge; or

(4) the applicant has, within the ten years immediately preceding the date of submission of the permit application:

(a) knowingly misrepresented a material fact in an application for a permit;

(b) refused or failed to disclose any information required under the Water Quality Act;

(c) been convicted of a felony or other crime involving moral turpitude;

(d) been convicted of a felony in any court for any crime defined by state or federal law as being a restraint of trade, price-fixing, bribery or fraud;

(e) exhibited a history of willful disregard for environmental laws of any state or the United States; or

(f) had an environmental permit revoked or permanently suspended for cause under any environmental laws of any state or the United States.

F. The commission shall by regulation develop procedures that ensure that the public, affected governmental agencies and any other state whose water may be affected shall receive notice of each application for issuance, renewal or modification of a permit. Public notice shall include:

(1) for issuance or modification of a permit:

(a) notice by mail to adjacent and nearby landowners; local, state and federal governments; land grant organizations; ditch associations; and Indian nations, tribes or pueblos;

(b) posting at a place conspicuous to the public and near the discharge or proposed discharge site; and

(c) a display advertisement in English and Spanish in a newspaper of general circulation in the location of the discharge or proposed discharge; provided, however, that the advertisement shall not be displayed in the classified or legal advertisement sections; and

(2) for issuance of renewals of permits:

(a) notice by mail to the interested public, municipalities, counties, land grant organizations, ditch associations and Indian nations, tribes or pueblos; and

(b) a display advertisement in English and Spanish in a newspaper of general circulation in the location of the discharge; provided, however, that the advertisement shall not be displayed in the classified or legal advertisement sections.

G. No ruling shall be made on any application for a permit without opportunity for a public hearing at which all interested persons shall be given a reasonable chance to submit evidence, data, views or arguments orally or in writing and to examine witnesses testifying at the hearing. The hearing shall be recorded. Any person submitting evidence, data, views or arguments shall be subject to examination at the hearing.

H. The commission may adopt regulations for the operation and maintenance of the permitted facility, including requirements, as may be necessary or desirable, that relate to continuity of operation, personnel training and financial responsibility, including financial responsibility for corrective action.

I. Permits shall be issued for fixed terms not to exceed five years, except that for new discharges, the term of the permit shall commence on the date the discharge begins, but in no event shall the term of the permit exceed seven years from the date the permit was issued.

J. By regulation, the commission may impose reasonable conditions upon permits requiring permittees to:

(1) install, use and maintain effluent monitoring devices;

(2) sample effluents and receiving waters for any known or suspected water contaminants in accordance with methods and at locations and intervals as may be prescribed by the commission;

(3) establish and maintain records of the nature and amounts of effluents and the performance of effluent control devices;

(4) provide any other information relating to the discharge or direct or indirect release of water contaminants; and

(5) notify a constituent agency of the introduction of new water contaminants from a new source and of a substantial change in volume or character of water contaminants being introduced from sources in existence at the time of the issuance of the permit.

K. The commission shall provide by regulation a schedule of fees for permits, not exceeding the estimated cost of investigation and issuance, modification and renewal of permits. Fees collected pursuant to this section shall be deposited in the water quality management fund.

L. The issuance of a permit does not relieve any person from the responsibility of complying with the provisions of the Water Quality Act, any applicable regulations or water quality standards of the commission or any applicable federal laws, regulations or standards.

M. A permit may be terminated or modified by the constituent agency that issued the permit prior to its date of expiration for any of the following causes:

- (1) violation of any condition of the permit;
- (2) obtaining the permit by misrepresentation or failure to disclose fully all relevant facts;
- (3) violation of any provisions of the Water Quality Act or any applicable regulations, standard of performance or water quality standards;
- (4) violation of any applicable state or federal effluent regulations or limitations; or
- (5) change in any condition that requires either a temporary or permanent reduction or elimination of the permitted discharge.

N. If the constituent agency denies, terminates or modifies a permit or grants a permit subject to condition, the constituent agency shall notify the applicant or permittee by certified mail of the action taken and the reasons. Notice shall also be given by mail to persons who participated in the permitting action.

O. A person who participated in a permitting action before a constituent agency or a person affected by a certification of a federal permit and who is adversely affected by such permitting action or certification may file a petition for review before the commission. Unless a timely petition for review is made, the decision of the constituent agency shall be final and not subject to judicial review. The petition shall:

- (1) be made in writing to the commission within thirty days from the date notice is given of the constituent agency's action;
- (2) include a statement of the issues to be raised and the relief sought; and
- (3) be provided to all other persons submitting evidence, data, views or arguments in the proceeding before the constituent agency.

P. If a timely petition for review is made, the commission shall consider the petition within ninety days after receipt of the petition. The commission shall notify the petitioner and the applicant or permittee, if other than the petitioner, by certified mail of the date, time and place of the review. If the petitioner is not the applicant or permittee, the applicant or permittee shall be a party to the proceeding. The commission shall ensure that the public receives notice of the date, time and place of the review.

Q. The commission shall review the record compiled before the constituent agency, including the transcript of any public hearing held on the application or draft permit, and shall allow any party to submit arguments. The commission may designate a hearing officer to review the record and the arguments of the parties and recommend a decision to the commission. The commission shall consider and weigh only the evidence contained in the record before the constituent agency and the recommended decision of the hearing officer, if any, and shall not be bound by the factual findings or legal conclusions of the constituent agency. Based on the review of the evidence, the arguments of the parties and recommendations of the hearing officer, the commission shall sustain, modify or reverse the action of the constituent agency. The commission shall enter ultimate findings of fact and conclusions of law and keep a record of the review.

R. Prior to the date set for review, if a party shows to the satisfaction of the commission that there was no reasonable opportunity to submit comment or evidence on an issue being challenged, the commission shall order that additional comment or evidence be taken by the constituent agency. Based on the additional evidence, the constituent agency may revise the decision and shall promptly file with the commission the additional evidence received and action taken. The commission shall consider the additional evidence within ninety days after receipt of the additional evidence and shall notify the petitioner and the applicant or permittee, if other than the petitioner, of the date, time and place of the review.

S. The commission shall notify the petitioner and all other participants in the review proceeding of the action taken by the commission and the reasons for that action."

(1) the racetrack no longer holds an active license to conduct parimutuel wagering; or

(2) the racetrack fails to maintain a minimum of four live race days a week with at least nine live races on each race day during its licensed race meet, except as provided in Subsection F of this section.

C. Unless a larger number is allowed pursuant to Subsection D of this section, a gaming operator licensee that is a racetrack may have up to six hundred licensed gaming machines.

D. By execution of an allocation agreement, signed by both the allocating racetrack and the racetrack to which the allocation is made, a gaming operator licensee that is a racetrack may allocate any number of its authorized gaming machines to another gaming operator licensee that is a racetrack. To be valid, the allocation agreement must bear the written approval of the board and the state racing commission, and this approval shall make specific reference to the meeting at which the action of approval was taken and the number of votes cast both for and against the approval. By allocating a number of its authorized machines to another racetrack, the allocating racetrack automatically surrenders all rights to operate the number of machines allocated. No racetrack shall operate or be authorized to operate more than seven hundred fifty gaming machines.

E. Gaming machines on a racetrack gaming operator licensee's premises may be played only on days when the racetrack is either conducting live horse races or simulcasting horse race meets. On days when gaming machines are permitted to be operated, a racetrack gaming operator licensee may offer gaming machines for operation for up to eighteen hours per day; provided that the total number of hours in which gaming machines are operated does not exceed one hundred twelve hours in a one-week period beginning on Tuesday at 8:00 a.m. and ending at 8:00 a.m. on the following Tuesday. A racetrack gaming operator licensee may offer gaming machines for play at any time during a day; provided that the total hours of operation in each day from just after midnight of the previous day until midnight of the current day does not exceed eighteen hours. A racetrack gaming operator licensee shall determine, within the limitations imposed by this subsection, the hours it will offer gaming machines for operation each day and shall notify the board in writing of those hours.

F. Maintaining fewer than four live race days or nine live races on each race day during a licensed race meet does not constitute a failure to maintain the minimum number of live race days or races as required by Paragraph (2) of Subsection B of this section if the licensee submits to the board written approval by the state racing commission for the licensee to vary the minimum number of live race days or races, and the variance is due to:

(1) the inability of a racetrack gaming operator licensee to fill races as published in the licensee's condition book;

(2) severe weather or other act, event or occurrence resulting from natural forces;

(3) a strike or work stoppage by jockeys or other persons necessary to conduct a race or meet;

(4) a power outage, electrical failure or failure or unavailability of any equipment or supplies necessary to conduct a race or meet;

(5) hazardous conditions or other threats to the public health or safety; or

(6) any other act, event or occurrence that the board finds is not within the control of the licensee even with the exercise of reasonable diligence or care.

G. Alcoholic beverages shall not be sold, served, delivered or consumed in the area restricted pursuant to Subsection F of Section 60-2E-26 NMSA 1978."

Chapter 199 Section 13 Laws 2009

(3) no new gaming device or associated equipment made by the manufacturer may be distributed, sold, transferred or offered for use or play in New Mexico; and

(4) any association or agreement between the manufacturer and a distributor licensee or gaming operator licensee in New Mexico shall be terminated.

C. An agreement between a manufacturer licensee and a distributor licensee or a gaming operator licensee in New Mexico shall be deemed to include a provision for its termination without liability for the termination on the part of either party upon a finding by the board that either party is unsuitable. Failure to include that condition in the agreement is not a defense in an action brought pursuant to this section to terminate the agreement.

D. A gaming device shall not be used and offered for play by a gaming operator licensee unless it is identical in all material aspects to a model that has been specifically tested and approved by:

(1) the board;

(2) a laboratory selected by the board; or

(3) gaming officials in Nevada or New Jersey for current use.

I. The board may prohibit the use of a gaming device by a gaming operator licensee if it finds that the gaming device does not meet the requirements of this section."

PROCEDURE--FINES--CONFIDENTIALITY.--

A. The board shall develop rules that permit a person who is a compulsive gambler to be voluntarily excluded from a gaming establishment.

B. Self-exclusion shall occur through written application made by the compulsive gambler to the board and shall be governed by the following provisions:

(1) self-exclusion shall be enforceable upon issuance of a self-exclusion order by the board to each applicable gaming establishment identified in the order;

(2) only the person who is the compulsive gambler may apply on that person's behalf;

(3) the application shall be submitted to the board;

(4) except for notification of the gaming establishments for which the self-exclusion order is effective and for notification for mailing list exclusion pursuant to this section, the application and the self-exclusion order shall be held confidential by employees of the board and a gaming operator licensee and its employees and key executives;

(5) a self-exclusion order may apply to one or more gaming establishments licensed pursuant to the Gaming Control Act;

(6) a self-excluded person, if present at a gaming establishment from which the person is excluded, shall forfeit the following to that gaming establishment, provided that all money or other property forfeited shall be used by the gaming establishment only to supplement the one-fourth percent of the net take of its gaming machines to fund or support programs for the treatment and assistance of compulsive gamblers pursuant to Subsection E of Section 60-2E-47 NMSA 1978:

(a) all winnings of the person obtained while present at the gaming establishment; and

(b) all credits, tokens or vouchers received by the person while present at the gaming establishment;

(7) a gaming establishment is immune from liability arising out of its efforts to exclude a person identified in a self-exclusion order; and

(8) a specific term shall be set for each self-exclusion order.

C. Notice shall be submitted by the board at least monthly to all gaming establishments listing all persons who are currently self-excluded and ordering the removal of their names from direct mail or electronic advertisement or promotional lists.

D. The state gaming representative may negotiate an agreement with each tribal casino in the state to allow the state to include tribal casinos in the self-exclusion orders."

ARTICLE 5
GENETIC TESTING

Chapter 215 Section 5-501 Laws 2009

Section 5-501. SCOPE OF ARTICLE.--This article governs genetic testing of a person to determine parentage, whether the person:

- A. voluntarily submits to testing; or
- B. is tested pursuant to an order of the district court or a support-enforcement agency.

Section 5-502. ORDER FOR TESTING.--

A. Except as otherwise provided in this article and Article 6 of the New Mexico Uniform Parentage Act, the district court shall order the child and other designated persons to submit to genetic testing if the request for testing is supported by the sworn statement of a party to the proceeding:

(1) alleging paternity and stating facts establishing a reasonable probability of the requisite sexual contact between the persons; or

(2) denying paternity and stating facts establishing a possibility that sexual contact between the persons, if any, did not result in the conception of the child.

B. A support-enforcement agency may order genetic testing only if there is no presumed, acknowledged or adjudicated father.

C. If a request for genetic testing of a child is made before birth, the district court or support-enforcement agency shall not order in-utero testing.

D. If two or more men are subject to court-ordered genetic testing, the testing may be ordered concurrently or sequentially.

Section 5-503. REQUIREMENTS FOR GENETIC TESTING.--

A. Genetic testing shall be of a type reasonably relied upon by experts in the field of genetic testing and performed in a testing laboratory accredited by:

(1) the American association of blood banks or a successor to its functions;

(2) the American society for histocompatibility and immunogenetics or a successor to its functions; or

(3) an accrediting body designated by the federal secretary of health and human services.

B. A specimen used in genetic testing may consist of one or more samples, or a combination of samples, of blood, buccal cells, bone, hair or other body tissue or fluid. The specimen used in the testing need not be of the same kind for each person undergoing genetic testing.

C. Based on the ethnic or racial group of a person, the testing laboratory shall determine the databases from which to select frequencies for use in calculation of the probability of paternity. If there is disagreement as to the testing laboratory's choice, the following rules apply:

(1) the person objecting may require the testing laboratory, within thirty days after receipt of the report of the test, to recalculate the probability of paternity using an ethnic or racial group different from that used by the laboratory;

(2) the person objecting to the testing laboratory's initial choice shall:

(a) if the frequencies are not available to the testing laboratory for the ethnic or racial group requested, provide the requested frequencies compiled in a manner recognized by accrediting bodies; or

(b) engage another testing laboratory to perform the calculations; and

(3) the testing laboratory may use its own statistical estimate if there is a question regarding which ethnic or racial group is appropriate. If available, the testing laboratory shall calculate the frequencies using statistics for any other ethnic or racial group requested.

D. If, after recalculation using a different ethnic or racial group, genetic testing does not rebuttably identify a man as the father of a child pursuant to Section 5-505 of the New Mexico Uniform Parentage Act, a person who has been tested may be required to submit to additional genetic testing.

E. The retention of material used for genetic testing shall be governed by the provisions of Section 24-21-5 NMSA 1978.

Section 5-504. REPORT OF GENETIC TESTING.--

A. A report of genetic testing shall be in a record and signed under penalty of perjury by a designee of the testing laboratory. A report made pursuant to the requirements of this article is self-authenticating.

B. Documentation from the testing laboratory of the following information is sufficient to establish a reliable chain of custody that allows the results of genetic testing to be admissible without testimony:

(1) the names and photographs of the persons whose specimens have been taken;

(2) the names of the persons who collected the specimens;

(3) the places and dates the specimens were collected;

(4) the names of the persons who received the specimens in the testing laboratory;

(5) the dates the specimens were received; and

(6) the accreditation of the testing facility showing that it meets the requirements of Section 5-503 of the New Mexico Uniform Parentage Act.

Section 5-505. GENETIC TESTING RESULTS--REBUTTAL.--

A. Pursuant to the New Mexico Uniform Parentage Act, a man is rebuttably identified as the father of a child if the genetic testing complies with this article and the results disclose that:

(1) the man has at least a ninety-nine percent probability of paternity, using a prior probability of zero point five zero, as calculated by using the combined paternity index obtained in the testing; and

(2) a combined paternity index of at least one hundred to one.

B. A man identified pursuant to Subsection A of this section as the father of the child may rebut the genetic testing results only by other genetic testing satisfying the requirements of this article that:

(1) excludes the man as a genetic father of the child; or

(2) identifies another man as the possible father of the child.

C. Except as otherwise provided in Section 5-510 of the New Mexico Uniform Parentage Act, if more than one man is identified by genetic testing as the possible father of the child, the court shall order them to submit to further genetic testing to identify the genetic father.

Chapter 215 Section 5-506 Laws 2009

Section 5-506. COSTS OF GENETIC TESTING.--

A. Subject to assessment of costs pursuant to Article 6 of the New Mexico Uniform Parentage Act, the cost of initial genetic testing shall be advanced:

(1) by a support-enforcement agency in a proceeding in which the support-enforcement agency is providing services;

(2) by the person who made the request;

(3) as agreed by the parties; or

(4) as ordered by the district court.

B. In cases in which the cost is advanced by the support-enforcement agency, the agency may seek reimbursement from a man who is rebuttably identified as the father.

Chapter 215 Section 5-507 Laws 2009

Section 5-507. ADDITIONAL GENETIC TESTING.--Prior to a final adjudication, the district court or the support-enforcement agency shall order additional genetic testing upon the request of a party who contests the result of the original testing. If the previous genetic testing identified a man as the father of the child pursuant to Section 5-

505 of the New Mexico Uniform Parentage Act, the court or agency shall not order additional testing unless the party provides advance payment for the testing.

Chapter 215 Section 5-508 Laws 2009

Section 5-508. GENETIC TESTING WHEN SPECIMENS NOT AVAILABLE.--

A. Subject to Subsection B of this section, if a genetic-testing specimen is not available from a man who may be the father of a child, upon notice and after an opportunity for a hearing, and for good cause and under circumstances the court considers to be just, the court may order the following persons to submit specimens for genetic testing:

- (1) the parents of the man;
- (2) brothers and sisters of the man;
- (3) other children of the man and their mothers; and
- (4) other relatives of the man necessary to complete genetic testing.

B. Issuance of an order pursuant to this section requires a finding that a need for genetic testing outweighs the legitimate interests of the person sought to be tested.

Chapter 215 Section 5-509 Laws 2009

Section 5-509. DECEASED PERSON.--For good cause shown, the district court may order genetic testing of a deceased person.

Section 5-510. IDENTICAL BROTHERS.--

A. The district court may order genetic testing of a brother of a man identified as the father of a child if the man is commonly believed to have an identical brother and evidence suggests that the brother may be the genetic father of the child.

B. If each brother satisfies the requirements as the identified father of the child pursuant to Section 5-505 of the New Mexico Uniform Parentage Act without consideration of another identical brother being identified as the father of the child, the district court may rely on nongenetic evidence to adjudicate which brother is the father of the child.

Chapter 215 Section 5-511 Laws 2009

Section 5-511. CONFIDENTIALITY OF GENETIC TESTING.--

A. Release of the report of genetic testing for parentage may be released only to the parties tested or their representatives, the support-enforcement agency and the court.

B. A person who intentionally releases an identifiable specimen of another person for any purpose other than that relevant to the proceeding regarding parentage without a court order or the written permission of the person who furnished the specimen is guilty of a fourth degree felony and shall be sentenced pursuant to the provisions of Section 31-18-15 NMSA 1978.

ARTICLE 6

PROCEEDING TO ADJUDICATE PARENTAGE

PART 1 -NATURE OF PROCEEDING

Chapter 215 Section 6-601 Laws 2009

Section 6-601. PROCEEDING AUTHORIZED.--A civil proceeding may be maintained in the district court to adjudicate the parentage of a child. The proceeding is governed by the Rules of Civil Procedure for the District Courts. The mother of the child and an alleged father or presumed father are competent to testify. Any witness may be compelled to testify.

Chapter 215 Section 6-602 Laws 2009

Section 6-602. STANDING TO MAINTAIN PROCEEDING.--Subject to Article 3 and Sections 6-607 and 6-609 of the New Mexico Uniform Parentage Act, a proceeding to adjudicate parentage may be maintained by:

- A. the child;
- B. the mother of the child;
- C. a man whose paternity of the child is to be adjudicated;
- D. the support-enforcement agency;
- E. an authorized adoption agency or licensed child-placing agency; or
- F. a representative authorized by law to act for a person who would otherwise be entitled to maintain a proceeding but who is deceased, incapacitated or a minor.

Chapter 215 Section 6-603 Laws 2009

Section 6-603. PARTIES TO PROCEEDING.--The following persons shall be joined as parties in a proceeding to adjudicate parentage:

- A. the mother of the child; and
- B. a man whose paternity of the child is to be adjudicated.

Section 6-604. PERSONAL JURISDICTION.--

A. A person shall not be adjudicated to be a parent unless the district court has personal jurisdiction over the person.

B. A district court of this state having jurisdiction to adjudicate parentage may exercise personal jurisdiction over a nonresident person, or the guardian or conservator of the person, if the conditions prescribed in Section 40-6A-201 NMSA 1978 are fulfilled.

C. Lack of jurisdiction over one person does not preclude the district court from making an adjudication of parentage binding on another person over whom the district court has personal jurisdiction.

Chapter 215 Section 6-605 Laws 2009

Section 6-605. VENUE.--Venue for a proceeding to adjudicate parentage is in the county of this state in which:

- A. the child resides or is found;
- B. the respondent resides or is found if the child does not reside in this state; or
- C. a proceeding for probate or administration of the presumed, acknowledged or alleged father's estate is pending.

Section 6-606. NO LIMITATION--CHILD HAVING NO PRESUMED, ACKNOWLEDGED OR ADJUDICATED FATHER.--

A. A proceeding to adjudicate the parentage of a child having no presumed, acknowledged or adjudicated father may be commenced by the child at any time, even after:

(1) the child becomes an adult; or

(2) an earlier proceeding to adjudicate paternity has been dismissed based on the application of a statute of limitation then in effect.

B. A proceeding to adjudicate child support pursuant to Subsection A of this section is limited by Sections 6-607 and 6-636 of the New Mexico Uniform Parentage Act.

Chapter 215 Section 6-607 Laws 2009

A. Any proceeding to adjudicate child support shall be brought not later than three years after the child has reached the age of majority.

B. Except as otherwise specifically provided in another provision of the New Mexico Uniform Parentage Act, any proceeding to adjudicate the parentage of a child shall be commenced not later than three years after the child has reached the age of majority.

Chapter 215 Section 6-608 Laws 2009

Section 6-608. AUTHORITY TO DENY MOTION FOR GENETIC TESTING.--

A. In a proceeding to adjudicate the parentage of a child having a presumed father or to challenge the paternity of a child having an acknowledged father, the district court may deny a motion seeking an order for genetic testing of the mother, the child and the presumed or acknowledged father if the district court determines that:

(1) the conduct of the mother or the presumed or acknowledged father estops that party from denying parentage; and

(2) it would be inequitable to disprove the father-child relationship between the child and the presumed or acknowledged father.

B. In determining whether to deny a motion seeking an order for genetic testing pursuant to this section, the district court shall consider the best interest of the child, including the following factors:

(1) the length of time between the proceeding to adjudicate parentage and the time that the presumed or acknowledged father was placed on notice that he might not be the genetic father;

(2) the length of time during which the presumed or acknowledged father has assumed the role of father of the child;

(3) the facts surrounding the presumed or acknowledged father's discovery of his possible nonpaternity;

(4) the nature of the relationship between the child and the presumed or acknowledged father;

(5) the age of the child;

(6) the harm that may result to the child if presumed or acknowledged paternity is successfully disproved;

(7) the nature of the relationship between the child and any alleged father;

(8) the extent to which the passage of time reduces the chances of establishing the paternity of another man and a child-support obligation in favor of the child; and

(9) other factors that may affect the equities arising from the disruption of the father-child relationship between the child and the presumed or acknowledged father or the chance of other harm to the child.

C. In a proceeding involving the application of this section, a minor or incapacitated child shall be represented by a guardian ad litem.

D. Denial of a motion seeking an order for genetic testing shall be based on clear and convincing evidence.

E. If the district court denies a motion seeking an order for genetic testing, it shall issue an order adjudicating the presumed or acknowledged father to be the father of the child.

Chapter 215 Section 6-609 Laws 2009

Section 6-609. LIMITATION--CHILD HAVING ACKNOWLEDGED OR ADJUDICATED FATHER.--

A. If a child has an acknowledged father, a signatory to the acknowledgment of paternity or denial of paternity may commence a proceeding seeking to rescind the acknowledgment or denial or challenge the paternity of the child only within the time allowed pursuant to Section 3-307 or 3-308 of the New Mexico Uniform Parentage Act.

B. If a child has an acknowledged father or an adjudicated father, a person, other than the child, who is neither a signatory to the acknowledgment of paternity nor a party to the adjudication and who seeks an adjudication of paternity of the child shall commence a proceeding not later than two years after the effective date of the acknowledgment or adjudication.

C. A proceeding pursuant to this section is subject to the application of the principles of estoppel established in Section 6-608 of the New Mexico Uniform Parentage Act.

Chapter 215 Section 6-610 Laws 2009

Section 6-610. JOINDER OF PROCEEDINGS.--

A. Except as otherwise provided in Subsection B of this section, a proceeding to adjudicate parentage may be joined with a proceeding in the district court for adoption, termination of parental rights, child custody or visitation, child support, divorce, annulment, legal separation or separate maintenance, probate or administration of an estate or other appropriate proceeding.

B. A respondent shall not join a proceeding described in Subsection A of this section with a proceeding to adjudicate parentage brought pursuant to the Uniform Interstate Family Support Act.

Chapter 215 Section 6-611 Laws 2009

Section 6-611. PROCEEDING BEFORE BIRTH.--A proceeding to determine parentage may be commenced before the birth of the child, but shall not be concluded until after the birth of the child. The following actions may be taken before the birth of the child:

A. service of process;

B. discovery; and

C. except as prohibited by Section 5-502 of the New Mexico Uniform Parentage Act, collection of specimens for genetic testing.

Section 6-612. CHILD AS PARTY--REPRESENTATION.--

A. A minor child is a permissible party, but is not a necessary party to a proceeding pursuant to this article.

B. The district court shall appoint a guardian ad litem to represent a minor or incapacitated child if the child is a party or the district court finds that the interests of the child are not adequately represented.

PART 2 -SPECIAL RULES FOR PROCEEDING TO ADJUDICATE PARENTAGE

Section 6-621. ADMISSIBILITY OF RESULTS OF GENETIC TESTING-- EXPENSES.--

A. Except as otherwise provided in Subsection C of this section, a record of a genetic-testing expert is admissible as evidence of the truth of the facts asserted in the report unless a party objects, in a writing delivered to the adverse party, to the record's admission within fourteen days after its receipt by the objecting party. The objecting party shall cite specific grounds for exclusion. The admissibility of the report is not affected by whether the testing was performed:

(1) voluntarily or pursuant to an order of the district court or a support-enforcement agency; or

(2) before or after the commencement of the proceeding.

B. A party objecting to the results of genetic testing may call one or more genetic-testing experts to testify in person or by telephone, videoconference, deposition or another method approved by the district court. Unless otherwise ordered by the district court, the party offering the testimony bears the expense for the expert testifying.

C. If a child has a presumed, acknowledged or adjudicated father, the results of genetic testing are inadmissible to adjudicate parentage unless performed:

(1) with the consent of both the mother and the presumed, acknowledged or adjudicated father; or

(2) pursuant to an order of the district court pursuant to Section 5-502 of the New Mexico Uniform Parentage Act.

D. Copies of bills for genetic testing, for child birth and for prenatal and postnatal health care for the mother and child that are furnished to the adverse party not less than ten days before the date of a hearing are admissible to establish:

(1) the amount of the charges billed; and

(2) that the charges were reasonable, necessary and customary.

Section 6-622. CONSEQUENCES OF DECLINING GENETIC TESTING.--

A. An order for genetic testing is enforceable by contempt.

B. If a person whose paternity is being determined declines to submit to genetic testing ordered by the district court, the district court for that reason may adjudicate parentage contrary to the position of the person who declines.

C. Genetic testing of the mother of a child is not a condition precedent to testing the child and a man whose paternity is being determined. If the mother is unavailable or declines to submit to genetic testing, the district court may order the testing of the child and every man whose paternity is being adjudicated.

Chapter 215 Section 6-623 Laws 2009

Section 6-623. ADMISSION OF PATERNITY AUTHORIZED.--

A. A respondent in a proceeding to adjudicate parentage may admit to the paternity of a child by filing a pleading to that effect or by admitting paternity under penalty of perjury when making an appearance or during a hearing.

B. If the district court finds that the admission of paternity satisfies the requirements of this section and finds that there is no reason to question the admission, the district court shall issue an order adjudicating the child to be the child of the man admitting paternity.

Chapter 215 Section 6-624 Laws 2009

Section 6-624. TEMPORARY ORDER.--

A. In a proceeding pursuant to this article, the district court shall issue a temporary order for support of a child if the order is appropriate and the person ordered to pay support is:

(1) a presumed father of the child;

(2) petitioning to have his paternity adjudicated;

(3) identified as the father through genetic testing pursuant to Section 5-505 of the New Mexico Uniform Parentage Act;

(4) an alleged father who has declined to submit to genetic testing;

(5) shown by clear and convincing evidence to be the father of the child; or

(6) the mother of the child.

B. A temporary order may include provisions for custody and visitation as provided by other law of this state. A temporary order of support is subject to Section 6-636 of the New Mexico Uniform Parentage Act.

Chapter 215 Section 6-625 Laws 2009

Section 6-625. PRETRIAL PROCEEDINGS.--As soon as practicable after an action to declare the existence or nonexistence of a father-child relationship has been brought, and unless judgment by default has been entered, an informal hearing shall be held. The court may order that the hearing be held before a master. The public shall be barred from the hearing. A record of the proceeding or any portion of the proceeding shall be kept if any party requests or the court so orders. The rules of evidence shall not apply.

Section 6-626. PRETRIAL RECOMMENDATIONS.--

A. On the basis of the information produced at the pretrial hearing, the judge, hearing officer or master conducting the hearing shall evaluate the probability of determining the existence or nonexistence of a father-child relationship in a trial. On the basis of the evaluation, an appropriate recommendation for settlement shall be made to the parties. Based upon the evaluation, the judge, hearing officer or master may enter an order for temporary support consistent with the child-support guidelines as provided in Section 40-4-11.1 NMSA 1978.

B. If the parties accept a recommendation made in accordance with Subsection A of this section, judgment shall be entered accordingly.

C. If a party refuses to accept a recommendation made in accordance with Subsection A of this section and genetic testing has not been taken, the court shall require the parties to submit to genetic testing, if practicable. Thereafter, the judge, hearing officer or master shall make an appropriate final recommendation. If a party refuses to accept the final recommendation, the action shall be set for trial and a party's acceptance or rejection of the recommendation shall be treated as any other offer of settlement with respect to its admissibility as evidence in subsequent proceedings.

D. The child's guardian may accept or refuse to accept a recommendation under this section.

E. The informal hearing may be terminated and the action set for trial if the judge, hearing officer or master conducting the hearing finds it unlikely that all parties would accept a recommendation that the judge, hearing officer or master might make under Subsection A or C of this section.

PART 3 -HEARINGS AND ADJUDICATION

Chapter 215 Section 6-631 Laws 2009

Section 6-631. RULES FOR ADJUDICATION OF PATERNITY.--The district court shall apply the following rules to adjudicate the paternity of a child:

A. the paternity of a child having a presumed, acknowledged or adjudicated father may be disproved only by admissible results of genetic testing excluding that man as the father of the child or identifying another man as the father of the child;

B. unless the results of genetic testing are admitted to rebut other results of genetic testing, a man identified as the father of a child pursuant to Section 5-505 of the New Mexico Uniform Parentage Act shall be adjudicated the father of the child;

C. if the district court finds that genetic testing pursuant to Section 5-505 of the New Mexico Uniform Parentage Act neither identifies nor excludes a man as the father of a child, the district court shall not dismiss the proceeding. In that event, the results of genetic testing and other evidence are admissible to adjudicate the issue of paternity; and

D. unless the results of genetic testing are admitted to rebut other results of genetic testing, a man excluded as the father of a child by genetic testing shall be adjudicated not to be the father of the child.

Chapter 215 Section 6-632 Laws 2009

Section 6-632. JURY PROHIBITED.--The district court, without a jury, shall adjudicate paternity of a child.

Section 6-633. HEARINGS--INSPECTION OF RECORDS.--

A. On request of a party and for good cause shown, the district court may close a proceeding to the public and except for a final order, may declare the proceeding to be confidential and seal the file.

B. A final order in a proceeding pursuant to this article is available for public inspection. Other papers and records are available only with the consent of the parties or on order of the district court for good cause.

C. The provisions of this section are subject to any rules established by the supreme court of New Mexico.

Chapter 215 Section 6-634 Laws 2009

Section 6-634. ORDER ON DEFAULT.--The district court shall issue an order adjudicating the paternity of a man who:

A. after service of process, is in default; and

B. is found by the district court to be the father of a child.

Chapter 215 Section 6-635 Laws 2009

Section 6-635. DISMISSAL FOR WANT OF PROSECUTION.--The district court may issue an order dismissing a proceeding commenced pursuant to the New Mexico Uniform Parentage Act for want of prosecution only without prejudice. An order of dismissal for want of prosecution purportedly with prejudice is void and has only the effect of a dismissal without prejudice.

Chapter 215 Section 6-636 Laws 2009

Section 6-636. ORDER ADJUDICATING PARENTAGE.--

A. The district court shall issue an order adjudicating whether a man alleged or claiming to be the father is the parent of the child.

B. An order adjudicating parentage shall identify the child by name and date of birth.

C. Except as otherwise provided in Subsection D of this section, the district court may assess filing fees, reasonable fees of counsel, experts and the child's guardian ad litem, fees for genetic testing, other costs, necessary travel and other reasonable expenses incurred in a proceeding pursuant to this article. The district court may award attorney fees, which may be paid directly to the attorney, who may enforce the order in the attorney's own name. The district court may order these fees, costs and expenses to be paid by any party in proportions and at times as determined by the court, but not exceeding twelve years unless there is a substantial showing that paternity could not have been established and an action for child support could not have been brought within twelve years of the child's birth. The court may order the proportion of any indigent party to be paid from court funds.

D. The district court shall not assess fees, costs or expenses against the support-enforcement agency of this state or another state, except as provided by other law.

E. On request of a party and for good cause shown, the district court may order that the name of the child be changed.

F. If the order of the district court is at variance with the child's birth certificate, the district court shall order the bureau to issue an amended birth certificate.

G. The judgment or order may contain any other provision directed against or on behalf of the appropriate party to the proceeding concerning the duty of past and future support, the custody and guardianship of the child, visitation with the child, the furnishing of bond or other security for the payment of the judgment or any other matter within the jurisdiction of the court. The judgment or order may direct the father to pay the reasonable expenses of the mother's pregnancy, birth and confinement. The court shall order child support retroactive to the date of the child's birth, but not to exceed twelve years unless there is a substantial showing that paternity could not have been established and an action for child support could not have been brought within twelve years of the child's birth pursuant to the provisions of Sections 40-4-11 through 40-4-11.3 NMSA 1978; provided that, in deciding whether or how long to order retroactive support, the court shall consider:

(1) whether the alleged or presumed father has absconded or could not be located; and

(2) whether equitable defenses are applicable.

H. Support judgments or orders ordinarily shall be for periodic payments, which may vary in amount. In the best interest of the child, a lump-sum payment or the purchase of an annuity may be ordered in lieu of periodic payments of support; provided, however, nothing in this section shall deprive a state agency of its right to reimbursement from an appropriate party should the child be a past or future recipient of public assistance.

I. In determining the amount to be paid by a parent for support of the child, a court, child support hearing officer or master shall make such determination in accordance with the provisions of the child support guidelines pursuant to Section 40-4-11.1 NMSA 1978.

Chapter 215 Section 6-637 Laws 2009

Section 6-637. BINDING EFFECT OF DETERMINATION OF PARENTAGE.--

A. Except as otherwise provided in Subsection B of this section, a determination of parentage is binding on:

(1) all signatories to an acknowledgment or denial of paternity as provided in Article 3 of the New Mexico Uniform Parentage Act; and

(2) all parties to an adjudication by a district court acting under circumstances that satisfy the jurisdictional requirements of Section 40-6A-201 NMSA 1978.

B. A child is not bound by a determination of parentage pursuant to the New Mexico Uniform Parentage Act unless:

(1) the determination was based on an unrescinded acknowledgment of paternity and the acknowledgment is consistent with the results of genetic testing;

(2) the adjudication of parentage was based on a finding consistent with the results of genetic testing and the consistency is declared in the determination or is otherwise shown;

(3) the child was a party or was represented in the proceeding determining parentage by a guardian ad litem; or

(4) there was a final order in the proceeding that satisfies the requirements of Paragraph (1), (2) or (3) of Subsection C of this section.

C. In a proceeding to dissolve a marriage, the district court is deemed to have made an adjudication of the parentage of a child if the district court acts under circumstances that satisfy the jurisdictional requirements of Section 40-6A-201 NMSA 1978, and the final order:

(1) expressly identifies a child as a "child of the marriage", "issue of the marriage", "child of the parties" or similar words indicating that the husband is the father of the child;

(2) provides for support of the child by the husband unless paternity is specifically disclaimed in the order; or

(3) contains a stipulation or admission that the parties are the parents of the child.

D. Except as otherwise provided in Subsection B of this section, a determination of parentage may be a defense in a subsequent proceeding seeking to adjudicate parentage by a person who was not a party to the earlier proceeding.

E. A party to an adjudication of paternity may challenge the adjudication only pursuant to the laws of New Mexico relating to appeal, vacation of judgments or other judicial review.

Chapter 215 Section 6-638 Laws 2009

Section 6-638. FULL FAITH AND CREDIT--DETERMINATION OF PARENTAGE.--A court of this state shall give full faith and credit to a determination of parentage made by a court of another state.

Chapter 215 Section 6-639 Laws 2009

Section 6-639. ENFORCEMENT OF JUDGMENT OR ORDER.--

A. If existence of the parental relationship is declared, or paternity or a duty of support has been acknowledged or adjudicated under the New Mexico Uniform Parentage Act or under prior law, the obligation of the noncustodial parent may be enforced in the same or other proceedings by any interested party.

B. The court shall order child support payments to be made in accordance with Section 40-4A-4.1 NMSA 1978.

C. Willful failure to obey the judgment or order of the court is a civil contempt of the court. All remedies for the enforcement of judgments apply.

Chapter 215 Section 6-640 Laws 2009

Section 6-640. MODIFICATION OF JUDGMENT OR ORDER.--The court has continuing jurisdiction to modify or revoke a judgment or order for future support, except as otherwise specifically provided by the Uniform Interstate Family Support Act.

Chapter 215 Section 6-641 Laws 2009

Section 6-641. RIGHT TO COUNSEL--FREE TRANSCRIPT ON APPEAL.--

A. At the pretrial hearing and in further proceedings, any party may be represented by counsel. The court shall appoint counsel for any party who is unable to obtain counsel for financial reasons if, in the court's discretion, appointment of counsel is required in the interest of justice.

B. If a party is financially unable to pay the cost of a transcript, the court shall furnish on request a transcript for purposes of appeal.

Chapter 215 Section 6-642 Laws 2009

Section 6-642. HEARINGS AND RECORDS--CONFIDENTIALITY.--Notwithstanding any other laws concerning public hearings and records, any hearing or trial held under the provisions of the New Mexico Uniform Parentage Act may be held in closed court without admittance of any person other than those necessary to the action or proceeding. The court may order that certain papers and records pertaining to the action or proceeding, whether part of the permanent record of the court or any other file maintained by the state or elsewhere, are subject to inspection only upon consent of the court; provided, however, that nothing in this section shall infringe upon the right of the parties to an action or proceeding to inspect the court record. The provisions of this section are subject to any rules established by the New Mexico supreme court.

Section 6-643. BIRTH RECORDS.--

A. Upon order of a court of this state or upon request of a court of another state, the bureau shall prepare a certificate of birth consistent with the findings of the court and shall substitute the certificate for the original certificate of birth.

B. The fact that the father-child relationship was declared after the child's birth shall not be ascertainable from the certificate prepared pursuant to Subsection A of this section, but the actual place and date of birth shall be shown.

C. The evidence upon which the certificate prepared pursuant to Subsection A of this section was made and the original birth certificate shall be kept in a sealed and confidential file and be subject to inspection only upon order of the court and consent of all interested parties, or in exceptional cases only upon an order of the court for good cause shown.

ARTICLE 7 CHILD OF ASSISTED REPRODUCTION

Chapter 215 Section 7-701 Laws 2009

Section 7-701. SCOPE OF ARTICLE.--This article does not apply to the birth of a child conceived by means of sexual intercourse.

Chapter 215 Section 7-702 Laws 2009

Section 7-704. CONSENT TO ASSISTED REPRODUCTION.--

A. The intended parent or parents shall consent to the assisted reproduction in a record signed by them before the placement of the eggs, sperm or embryos. Donors shall also consent to an assisted reproduction before retrieval of the donors' eggs or sperm.

B. Failure of a parent to sign a consent required by Subsection A of this section does not preclude a finding of parentage if the parent, during the first two years of the child's life, resided in the same household with the child and openly held out the child as the parent's own.

C. All papers relating to the assisted reproduction, whether part of a court, medical or any other file, are subject to inspection only upon an order of the district court or with the consent, in a signed record, of:

(1) the donor or donors; and

(2) the parent or parents who consented to the assisted reproduction pursuant to Subsection A of this section or a child who was born as a result of the assisted reproduction pursuant to Subsection A of this section if the child is eighteen years of age or older.

Chapter 215 Section 7-705 Laws 2009

Section 7-705. LIMITATION ON HUSBAND'S DISPUTE OF PATERNITY.--

A. Except as otherwise provided in Subsection B of this section, the husband of a wife who gives birth to a child by means of assisted reproduction shall not challenge his paternity of the child unless:

(1) within two years after learning of the birth of the child, he commences a proceeding to adjudicate his paternity; and

(2) the district court finds that he did not consent to the assisted reproduction, before or after birth of the child.

B. A proceeding to adjudicate paternity may be maintained at any time if the district court determines that:

(1) the husband did not provide sperm for or, before or after the birth of the child, consent to assisted reproduction by his wife;

(2) the husband and the mother of the child have not cohabited since the probable time of assisted reproduction; and

(3) the husband never openly held out the child as his own.

C. The limitation provided in this section applies to a marriage dissolved or declared invalid after assisted reproduction.

Section 7-706. EFFECT OF DISSOLUTION OF MARRIAGE OR WITHDRAWAL OF CONSENT.--

A. If a marriage is dissolved before placement of eggs, sperm or embryos, the former spouse is not a parent of the resulting child unless the former spouse consented in a signed record that if assisted reproduction were to occur after a divorce the former spouse would be a parent of the child.

B. The purpose of the putative father registry is to protect the parental rights of fathers who affirmatively assume responsibility for children they may have fathered and to expedite adoptions of children whose biological fathers are unwilling to assume responsibility for their children by registering with the putative father registry or otherwise acknowledging their children. The registry does not relieve the obligation of mothers to identify known fathers.

B. A putative father registry shall be established by the department of health to record the names and addresses of:

G. An unrevoked notice of intent to claim paternity of a child may be introduced in evidence by any party in any proceeding in which that fact may be relevant.

I. If a petitioner for adoption of or termination of parental rights regarding a child has reason to believe that the conception or birth of the child may have occurred in another state, the petitioner shall also obtain a certificate of search from the putative father registry, if any, in that state.

J. The department of health shall furnish to the requester a certificate of search of the registry on request of any court, a state agency, the department, the petitioner's attorney or the mother of the child. The information shall not be disclosed to any other person, except upon order of the court for good cause shown. The requester shall furnish the department with a stamped, self-addressed reply envelope.

K. A certificate provided by the department of health shall be signed on behalf of the department of health and state that:

(1) a search has been made of the registry; and

(2) a registration containing the information required to identify the registrant:

L. A petitioner shall file the certificate of search with the district court before a proceeding for adoption of or termination of parental rights regarding a child may be concluded.

M. Subject to any rules established by the New Mexico supreme court, a certificate of search of the registry of paternity in this or another state is admissible in a proceeding for adoption of or termination of parental rights regarding a child and, if relevant, in other legal proceedings.

N. The department of health may promulgate any regulations or forms necessary to implement the provisions of this section.

O. Any person who intentionally and unlawfully releases information from the putative father registry to the public or makes any other unlawful use of the information in violation of the provisions of this section is guilty of a petty misdemeanor and shall be sentenced pursuant to the provisions of Section 31-19-1 NMSA 1978."

D. The department shall award no more than ten new waivers a year, in addition to renewing existing waivers for eligible participants, subject to the availability of funding.

E. Participation in the program shall be evidenced by a contract between the participant and the department. The contract shall provide for the payment of a participant's medical school tuition, fees and a reasonable stipend at the university from the fund and shall be conditioned upon the participant fulfilling the program obligations. An applicant whom the department offers to accept for enrollment in the program shall sign the contract before being accepted into the program. The department shall award a waiver to a medical student upon accepting the student into the program.

F. The department shall promulgate rules setting the maximum amount of the reasonable living stipend. The department shall determine the maximum amount of the living stipend based upon the availability of funds and information provided by the university regarding the current cost of attendance at the school of medicine.

G. For a period of no more than five years, the department shall allow participants to remain in the program and receive continued waivers in accordance with the availability of funds and the department's finding that the participant is meeting the university's standards for satisfactory academic progress.

H. The department shall award waivers to participants from the fund. The department shall approve the amount of the waiver granted to a participant. The amount of the waiver awarded to a participant shall not exceed a reasonable living stipend plus the amount of resident tuition and fees that a participant incurs. A student may receive a waiver on the following terms:

(2) the maximum period for repayment shall be ten years, commencing six months from the date the participant completes or discontinues the course of study, including a residency.

I. The department shall promulgate rules to implement the provisions of the Conditional Tuition Waiver for Primary Care Medical Students Act.

J. The contract shall provide that the department forgive a portion of the waiver for each year that a participant practices as a primary care physician in an underserved area of New Mexico as defined in the Rural Primary Health Care Act.

K. The waiver shall be forgiven as follows:

(1) a waiver term of one year shall require one year of practice as a primary care physician in an underserved area of the state for the one-year term of the waiver received. Upon completion of service, one hundred percent of the waiver and accrued interest shall be forgiven;

(2) a waiver term of two years shall require two years of practice as a primary care physician in an underserved area of the state for the two-year term of the waiver received. Upon completion of the first year of service, fifty percent of the waiver and accrued interest shall be forgiven; upon completion of the second year of service, the remainder of the waiver and accrued interest shall be forgiven;

Upon completion of the first year of service, twenty-five percent of the waiver and accrued interest shall be forgiven; upon completion of the second year of service, fifty percent of the waiver and accrued interest shall be forgiven; and upon completion of the third year of service, the remainder of the waiver and accrued interest shall be forgiven;

The department shall collect the penalty and remit it to the state treasury for deposit in the fund.

M. The department is authorized to cancel any contract made between it and any participant pursuant to the Conditional Tuition Waiver for Primary Care Medical Students Act, or set terms of alternative service in lieu of monetary repayment, for any cause the department deems reasonable.

N. The department shall be responsible for collecting repayments made pursuant to this section and shall exercise due diligence in collecting repayments and maintaining all necessary records to ensure that full repayments are made. The department shall collect and service repayments under this section to the full extent of the law, including wage garnishment where practicable. The department shall forgive all or parts of repayments under the criteria established in this section and shall maintain all necessary records of repayments it forgives.

O. When a participant makes payment of principal or interest to the department pursuant to the provisions of this section, the department shall deposit these payments into the fund and shall use these payments to cover the costs of granting waivers and the administrative expenses associated with the program and collection activity on its behalf. The department shall maintain accurate records of these expenses, and all receipts beyond those necessary to pay these expenses shall be used to grant waivers to participants.

RELATING TO ELECTIONS; REQUIRING A POST-ELECTION EVALUATION OF THE ACCURACY OF VOTING SYSTEMS; PROVIDING PROCEDURES; REPEALING AND ENACTING SECTIONS OF THE NMSA 1978.

BE IT ENACTED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF NEW MEXICO:

Chapter 233 Section 1 Laws 2009

Section 1. A new section of the Election Code is enacted to read:

"POST-ELECTION DUTIES--VOTING SYSTEM CHECK.--

A. At least ninety days prior to each general election, the secretary of state shall contract with an auditor qualified by the state auditor to audit state agencies to oversee a check on the accuracy of precinct electronic vote tabulators, alternate voting location electronic vote tabulators and absent voter precinct electronic vote tabulators. The voting system check shall be conducted for all federal offices, for governor and for the statewide elective office, other than the office of the governor, for which the winning candidate won by the smallest percentage margin of all candidates for statewide office in New Mexico.

B. For each selected office, the auditor shall publicly select a random sample of precincts from a pool of all precincts in the state no later than twelve days after the election. The random sample shall be chosen in a process that will ensure, with at least ninety percent probability for the selected offices, that faulty tabulators would be detected if they would change the outcome of the election for a selected office. The auditor shall select precincts starting with the statewide office with the largest winning margin and ending with the precincts for the statewide office with the smallest winning margin and then, in the same manner, select precincts from each congressional district. The size of the random sample for each office shall be determined as provided in Table 1 of this subsection. When a precinct is selected for one office, it shall be used in lieu of selecting a different precinct when selecting precincts for another office in the same congressional district, or for any statewide office. If the winning margin in none of the offices for which a voting system check is required is less than fifteen percent, a voting system check for that general election shall not be required.

C. The auditor shall notify the appropriate county clerks of the precincts that are to be included in the voting system check upon their selection. The auditor shall direct the appropriate county clerks to compare the original machine count precinct vote totals, including early absentee and absentee by mail machine count vote totals, for candidates for offices subject to the voting system check from the selected precincts for each office with the respective vote totals of a hand recount of the paper ballots from those precincts. The county clerks shall report their results to the auditor within ten days of the notice to conduct the voting system check.

D. Based on the results of the voting system check and any other auditing results, the auditor shall determine the error rate in the sample for each office. If the winning margin decreases and the error rate based on the difference between the vote totals of hand recounts of the paper ballots and the original precinct vote totals exceeds ninety percent of the winning margin for an office, another sample equal in size to the original sample shall be selected and the original precinct vote totals compared to the vote totals of hand recounts. The error rate based on the first and second sample shall be reported, and if it exceeds ninety percent of the winning margin for the office, the state canvassing board shall order that a full hand recount of the ballots for that office be conducted.

E. The auditor shall report the results of the voting system check to the secretary of state upon completion of the voting system check and release the results to the public.

F. Persons designated as county canvass observers may observe the hand recount described in Subsection C of this section. Observers shall comply with the procedures governing county canvass observers as provided in Section 1-2-31 NMSA 1978.

G. If a recount for an office selected for a voting system check is conducted pursuant to the provisions of Chapter 1, Article 14 NMSA 1978, the vote totals from the hand count of ballots for that office in precincts selected for the voting system check may be used in lieu of recounting the same ballots for the recount.

H. All costs of a voting system check or required hand recount shall be paid in the same manner as automatic recounts."

Chapter 233 Section 2 Laws 2009

Section 2. A new section of the Election Code is enacted to read:

"GENERAL ELECTION AUDIT.--The secretary of state shall issue rules for the conduct and procedures of the post-election voting system check, set minimum qualifications for auditors eligible for selection to conduct post-election evaluations of the accuracy of voting systems and approve the contract terms for auditors. The state auditor shall review the rules, qualification standards and contract terms to ensure they meet audit standards."

LAWS 2009, CHAPTER 234

AN ACT

RELATING TO BUSINESS; MAKING TECHNICAL AMENDMENTS TO THE UNIFORM COMMERCIAL CODE; AMENDING AND REPEALING SECTIONS OF THE NMSA 1978.

BE IT ENACTED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF NEW MEXICO:

Chapter 234 Section 1 Laws 2009

Section 1. Section 55-1-303 NMSA 1978 (being Laws 2005, Chapter 144, Section 17) is amended to read:

"55-1-303. COURSE OF PERFORMANCE, COURSE OF DEALING AND USAGE OF TRADE.--

(a) A "course of performance" is a sequence of conduct between the parties to a particular transaction that exists if:

(1) the agreement of the parties with respect to the transaction involves repeated occasions for performance by a party; and

(2) the other party, with knowledge of the nature of the performance and opportunity for objection to it, accepts the performance or acquiesces in it without objection.

(b) A "course of dealing" is a sequence of conduct concerning previous transactions between the parties to a particular transaction that is fairly to be regarded as establishing a common basis of understanding for interpreting their expressions and other conduct.

(c) A "usage of trade" is any practice or method of dealing having such regularity of observance in a place, vocation or trade as to justify an expectation that it will be observed with respect to the transaction in question. The existence and scope of such a usage must be proved as facts. If it is established that such a usage is embodied in a trade code or similar record, the interpretation of the record is a question of law.

(d) A course of performance or course of dealing between the parties or usage of trade in the vocation or trade in which they are engaged or of which they are or should be aware is relevant in ascertaining the meaning of the parties' agreement, may give particular meaning to specific terms of the agreement and may supplement or qualify the terms of the agreement. A usage of trade applicable in the place in which part of the performance under the agreement is to occur may be so utilized as to that part of the performance.

(e) Except as otherwise provided in Subsection (f) of this section, the express terms of an agreement and any applicable course of performance, course of dealing or usage of trade must be construed whenever reasonable as consistent with each other. If such a construction is unreasonable:

(1) express terms prevail over course of performance, course of dealing and usage of trade;

(2) course of performance prevails over course of dealing and usage of trade; and

(3) course of dealing prevails over usage of trade.

(f) Subject to Sections 55-2-209 and 55-2A-208 NMSA 1978, a course of performance is relevant to show a waiver or modification of any term inconsistent with the course of performance.

(g) Evidence of a relevant usage of trade offered by one party is not admissible unless that party has given the other party notice that the court finds sufficient to prevent unfair surprise to the other party."

Chapter 234 Section 2 Laws 2009

Section 2. Section 55-3-103 NMSA 1978 (being Laws 1992, Chapter 114, Section 90, as amended) is amended to read:

"55-3-103. DEFINITIONS.--

(a) In this article:

(1) "acceptor" means a drawee who has accepted a draft;

(2) "consumer account" means an account established by an individual primarily for personal, family or household purposes;

(3) "consumer transaction" means a transaction in which an individual incurs an obligation primarily for personal, family or household purposes;

(4) "drawee" means a person ordered in a draft to make payment;

(5) "drawer" means a person who signs or is identified in a draft as a person ordering payment;

(6) [Reserved];

(7) "maker" means a person who signs or is identified in a note as a person undertaking to pay;

the case of a bank that takes an instrument for processing for collection or payment by automated means, reasonable commercial standards do not require the bank to examine the instrument if the failure to examine does not violate the bank's prescribed procedures and the bank's procedures do not vary unreasonably from general banking usage not disapproved by this article or Chapter 55, Article 4 NMSA 1978;

(10) "party" means a party to an instrument;

(11) "principal obligor" with respect to an instrument means the accommodated party or any other party to the instrument against whom a secondary obligor has recourse pursuant to this article;

(13) "prove" with respect to a fact means to meet the burden of establishing the fact (Paragraph (8) of Subsection (b) of Section 55-1-201 NMSA 1978);

(14) [Reserved];

(16) [Reserved]; and

(17) "secondary obligor" with respect to an instrument means: (i) an indorser or an accommodation party;

(ii) a drawer having the obligation described in Subsection (d) of Section 55-3-414 NMSA 1978; or (iii) any other party to the instrument that has recourse against another party to the instrument pursuant to Subsection (b) of Section 55-3-116 NMSA 1978.

Chapter 234 Section 3 Laws 2009

Section 3. Section 55-3-106 NMSA 1978 (being Laws 1992, Chapter 114, Section 93) is amended to read:

"55-3-106. UNCONDITIONAL PROMISE OR ORDER.--

(a) Except as provided in this section, for the purposes of Section 55-3-104(a) NMSA 1978, a promise or order is unconditional unless it states: (i) an express condition to payment; (ii) that the promise or order is subject to or governed by another record; or (iii) that rights or obligations with respect to the promise or order are stated in another record. A reference to another record does not of itself make the promise or order conditional.

(b) A promise or order is not made conditional: (i) by a reference to another record for a statement of rights with respect to collateral, prepayment or acceleration; or (ii) because payment is limited to resort to a particular fund or source.

(c) If a promise or order requires, as a condition to payment, a countersignature by a person whose specimen signature appears on the promise or order, the condition does not make the promise or order conditional for the purposes of Section 55-3-104(a) NMSA 1978. If the person whose specimen signature appears on an instrument fails to countersign the instrument, the failure to countersign is a defense to the obligation of the issuer, but the failure does not prevent a transferee of the instrument from becoming a holder of the instrument.

(d) If a promise or order at the time it is issued or first comes into possession of a holder contains a statement, required by applicable statutory or administrative law, to the effect that the rights of a holder or transferee are subject to claims or defenses that the issuer could assert against the original payee, the promise or order is not thereby made conditional for the purposes of Section 55-3-104(a) NMSA 1978; but if the promise or order is an instrument, there cannot be a holder in due course of the instrument."

Chapter 234 Section 4 Laws 2009

"55-3-116. JOINT AND SEVERAL LIABILITY--CONTRIBUTION.--

(a) Except as otherwise provided in the instrument, two or more persons who have the same liability on an instrument as makers, drawers, acceptors, indorsers who indorse as joint payees or anomalous indorsers are jointly and severally liable in the capacity in which they sign.

(b) Except as provided in Section 55-3-419(e) NMSA 1978 or by agreement of the affected parties, a party having joint and several liability who pays the instrument is entitled to receive from any party having the same joint and several liability contribution in accordance with applicable law."

Chapter 234 Section 5 Laws 2009

Section 5. Section 55-3-119 NMSA 1978 (being Laws 1992, Chapter 114, Section 106) is amended to read:

"55-3-119. NOTICE OF RIGHT TO DEFEND ACTION.--In an action for breach of an obligation for which a third person is answerable over pursuant to Chapter 55, Article 3 or 4 NMSA 1978, the defendant may give the third person notice of the litigation in a record, and the person notified may then give similar notice to any other person who is answerable over. If the notice states: (i) that the person notified may come in and defend; and (ii) that failure to do so will bind the person notified in an action later brought by the person giving the notice as to any determination of fact common to the two litigations, the person notified is so bound unless after reasonable receipt of the notice the person notified does come in and defend."

Chapter 234 Section 6 Laws 2009

Section 6. Section 55-3-305 NMSA 1978 (being Laws 1992, Chapter 114, Section 118) is amended to read:

"55-3-305. DEFENSES AND CLAIMS IN RECOURPMENT.--

(a) Except as otherwise provided in this section, the right to enforce the obligation of a party to pay an instrument is subject to the following:

(1) a defense of the obligor based on: (i) infancy of the obligor to the extent it is a defense to a simple contract; (ii) duress, lack of legal capacity or illegality of the transaction that, under other law, nullifies the obligation of the obligor; (iii) fraud that induced the obligor to sign the instrument with neither knowledge nor reasonable opportunity to learn of its character or its essential terms; or (iv) discharge of the obligor in insolvency proceedings;

(2) a defense of the obligor stated in another section of Chapter 55, Article 3 NMSA 1978 or a defense of the obligor that would be available if the person entitled to enforce the instrument were enforcing a right to payment under a simple contract; and

(3) a claim in recoupment of the obligor against the original payee of the instrument if the claim arose from the transaction that gave rise to the instrument; but the claim of the obligor may be asserted against a transferee of the instrument only to reduce the amount owing on the instrument at the time the action is brought.

(b) The right of a holder in due course to enforce the obligation of a party to pay the instrument is subject to defenses of the obligor stated in Subsection (a)(1) of this section, but is not subject to defenses of the obligor stated in Subsection (a)(2) of this section or claims in recoupment stated in Subsection (a)(3) of this section against a person other than the holder.

(c) Except as stated in Subsection (d) of this section, in an action to enforce the obligation of a party to pay the instrument, the obligor shall not assert against the person entitled to enforce the instrument a defense, claim in recoupment or claim to the instrument (Section 55-3-306 NMSA 1978) of another person, but the other person's claim to the instrument may be asserted by the obligor if the other person is joined in the action and personally asserts the claim against the person entitled to enforce the instrument. An obligor is not obliged to pay the instrument if the person seeking enforcement of the instrument does not have rights of a holder in due course and the obligor proves that the instrument is a lost or stolen instrument.

(d) In an action to enforce the obligation of an accommodation party to pay an instrument, the accommodation party may assert against the person entitled to enforce the instrument any defense or claim in recoupment under Subsection (a) of this section that the accommodated party could assert against the person entitled to enforce the instrument, except the defenses of discharge in insolvency proceedings, infancy and lack of legal capacity.

(e) In a consumer transaction, if law other than this chapter requires that an instrument include a statement to the effect that the rights of a holder or transferee are subject to a claim or a defense that the issuer could assert against the original payee and the instrument does not include such a statement:

(1) the instrument has the same effect as if the instrument included such a statement;

(2) the issuer may assert against the holder or transferee all claims and defenses that would have been available if the instrument had included such a statement; and

(3) the extent to which claims may be asserted against the holder or transferee is determined as if the instrument included such a statement.

If an instrument includes or is deemed to include a statement under this subsection, a holder or transferee who is liable under the statement to the issuer, but who is not the seller of the goods or services, shall be entitled to full indemnity from the seller for any liability under the statement incurred by the holder or transferee that results from the issuer's claims or defenses against the seller, plus reasonable attorney fees. The provision in this section for express indemnity does not affect any right of indemnity, subrogation or recovery to which a holder or transferee may be entitled under a contract or other law. This section is not intended to provide a holder or transferee indemnity from the seller with respect to the holder or transferee's direct liability to the issuer for the holder or transferee's own actionable misconduct unrelated to derivative liability under the statement.

(f) This section is subject to law other than this article that establishes a different rule for consumer transactions."

Chapter 234 Section 7 Laws 2009

Section 7. Section 55-3-312 NMSA 1978 (being Laws 1992, Chapter 114, Section 125) is amended to read:

"55-3-312. LOST, DESTROYED OR STOLEN CASHIER'S CHECK, TELLER'S CHECK OR CERTIFIED CHECK.--

(a) In this section:

(1) "check" means a cashier's check, teller's check or certified check;

(2) "claimant" means a person who claims the right to receive the amount of a cashier's check, teller's check or certified check that was lost, destroyed or stolen;

(3) "declaration of loss" means a statement, made in a record under penalty of perjury, to the effect that: (i) the declarer lost possession of a check; (ii) the declarer is the drawer or payee of the check, in the case of a certified check, or the remitter or payee of the check, in the case of a cashier's check or teller's check; (iii) the loss of possession was not the result of a transfer by the declarer or a lawful seizure; and (iv) the declarer cannot reasonably obtain possession of the check because the check was destroyed, its whereabouts cannot be determined or it is in the wrongful possession of an unknown person or a person that cannot be found or is not amenable to service of process; and

(4) "obligated bank" means the issuer of a cashier's check or teller's check or the acceptor of a certified check.

(b) A claimant may assert a claim to the amount of a check by a communication to the obligated bank describing the check with reasonable certainty and requesting payment of the amount of the check, if: (i) the claimant is the drawer or payee of a certified check or the remitter or payee of a cashier's check or teller's check;

(ii) the communication contains or is accompanied by a declaration of loss of the claimant with respect to the check; (iii) the communication is received at a time and in a manner affording the bank a reasonable time to act on it before the check is paid; and (iv) the claimant provides reasonable identification if requested by the obligated bank. Delivery of a declaration of loss is a warranty of the truth of the statements made in the declaration. If a claim is asserted in compliance with this subsection, the following rules apply:

(1) the claim becomes enforceable at the later of: (i) the time the claim is asserted; or (ii) the ninetieth day following the date of the check, in the case of a cashier's check or teller's check, or the ninetieth day following the date of the acceptance in the case of a certified check;

(2) until the claim becomes enforceable, it has no legal effect and the obligated bank may pay the check or, in the case of a teller's check, may permit the drawee to pay the check. Payment to a person entitled to enforce the check discharges all liability of the obligated bank with respect to the check;

(3) if the claim becomes enforceable before the check is presented for payment, the obligated bank is not obliged to pay the check; and

(4) when the claim becomes enforceable, the obligated bank becomes obliged to pay the amount of the check to the claimant if payment of the check has not been made to a person entitled to enforce the check. Subject to Section 55-4-302 NMSA 1978, payment to the claimant discharges all liability of the obligated bank with respect to the check.

(c) If the obligated bank pays the amount of a check to a claimant under Subsection (b)(4) of this section and the check is presented for payment by a person having rights of a holder in due course, the claimant is obliged to: (i) refund the payment to the obligated bank if the check is paid; or (ii) pay the amount of the check to the person having rights of a holder in due course if the check is dishonored.

(d) If a claimant has the right to assert a claim under Subsection (b) of this section and is also a person entitled to enforce a cashier's check, teller's check or certified check that is lost, destroyed or stolen, the claimant may assert rights with respect to the check either under this section or Section 55-3-309 NMSA 1978."

Chapter 234 Section 8 Laws 2009

Section 8. Section 55-3-419 NMSA 1978 (being Laws 1992, Chapter 114, Section 144) is amended to read:

"55-3-419. INSTRUMENTS SIGNED FOR ACCOMMODATION.--

(a) If an instrument is issued for value given for the benefit of a party to the instrument ("accommodated party") and another party to the instrument ("accommodation party") signs the instrument for the purpose of incurring liability on the instrument without being a direct beneficiary of the value given for the instrument, the instrument is signed by the accommodation party "for accommodation".

(b) An accommodation party may sign the instrument as maker, drawer, acceptor or indorser and, subject to Subsection (d) of this section, is obliged to pay the instrument in the capacity in which the accommodation party signs. The obligation of an accommodation party may be enforced notwithstanding any statute of frauds and whether or not the accommodation party receives consideration for the accommodation.

(c) A person signing an instrument is presumed to be an accommodation party and there is notice that the instrument is signed for accommodation if the signature is an anomalous indorsement or is accompanied by words indicating that the signer is acting as surety or guarantor with respect to the obligation of another party to the instrument. Except as provided in Section 55-3-605 NMSA 1978, the obligation of an accommodation party to pay the instrument is not affected by the fact that the person enforcing the obligation had notice when the instrument was taken by that person that the accommodation party signed the instrument for accommodation.

(d) If the signature of a party to an instrument is accompanied by words indicating unambiguously that the party is guaranteeing collection rather than payment of the obligation of another party to the instrument, the signer is obliged to pay the amount due on the instrument to a person entitled to enforce the instrument only if: (i) execution of judgment against the other party has been returned unsatisfied; (ii) the other party is insolvent or in an insolvency proceeding; (iii) the other party cannot be served with process; or (iv) it is otherwise apparent that payment cannot be obtained from the other party.

(e) If the signature of a party to an instrument is accompanied by words indicating that the party guarantees payment or the signer signs the instrument as an accommodation party in some other manner that does not unambiguously indicate an intention to guarantee collection rather than payment, the signer is obliged to pay the amount due on the instrument to a person entitled to enforce the instrument in the same circumstances as the accommodated party would be obliged, without prior resort to the accommodated party by the person entitled to enforce the instrument.

(f) An accommodation party that pays the instrument is entitled to reimbursement from the accommodated party and is entitled to enforce the instrument against the accommodated party. In proper circumstances, an accommodation party may obtain relief that requires the accommodated party to perform its obligations on the instrument. An accommodated party that pays the instrument has no right of recourse against, and is not entitled to contribution from, an accommodation party."

Chapter 234 Section 9 Laws 2009

Section 9. Section 55-3-602 NMSA 1978 (being Laws 1992, Chapter 114, Section 152) is amended to read:

"55-3-602. PAYMENT.--

(a) Subject to Subsection (e) of this section, an instrument is paid to the extent payment is made by or on behalf of a party obliged to pay the instrument and to a person entitled to enforce the instrument. To the extent of the payment, the obligation of the party obliged to pay the instrument is discharged, even though payment is made with knowledge of a claim to the instrument under Section 55-3-306 NMSA 1978 by another person.

(b) Subject to Subsection (e) of this section, a note is paid to the extent payment is made by or on behalf of a party obliged to pay the note to a person that formerly was entitled to enforce the note only if at the time of the payment the party obliged to pay has not received adequate notification that the note has been transferred and that payment is to be made to the transferee. A notification is adequate only if it is signed by the transferor or the transferee, reasonably identifies the transferred note and provides an address at which payments subsequently are to be made. Upon request, a transferee shall seasonably furnish reasonable proof that the note has been transferred. Unless the transferee complies with the request, a payment to the person that formerly was entitled to enforce the note is effective for purposes of Subsection (c) of this section even if the party obliged to pay the note has received a notification pursuant to this subsection.

(c) Subject to Subsection (e) of this section, to the extent of a payment pursuant to Subsections (a) and (b) of this section, the obligation of the party obliged to pay the instrument is discharged, even though payment is made with knowledge of a claim to the instrument pursuant to Section 55-3-306 NMSA 1978 by another person.

(d) Subject to Subsection (e) of this section, a transferee, or any party that has acquired rights in the instrument directly or indirectly from a transferee, including any such party that has rights as a holder in due course, is deemed to have notice of any payment that is made pursuant to Subsection (b) of this section after the date that the note is transferred to the transferee, but before the party obliged to pay the note receives adequate notification of the transfer.

(e) The obligation of a party to pay the instrument is not discharged pursuant to Subsections (a) through (d) of this section if:

(1) a claim to the instrument under Section 55-3-306 NMSA 1978 is enforceable against the party receiving payment and: (i) payment is made with knowledge by the payor that payment is prohibited by injunction or similar process of a court of competent jurisdiction; or (ii) in the case of an instrument other than a cashier's check, teller's check or certified check, the party making payment accepted, from the person having a claim to the instrument, indemnity against loss resulting from refusal to pay the person entitled to enforce the instrument; or

(2) the person making payment knows that the instrument is a stolen instrument and pays a person it knows is in wrongful possession of the instrument.

(f) As used in this section, "signed" with respect to a record that is not a writing includes the attachment to or logical association with the record of an electronic symbol, sound or process with the present intent to adopt or accept the record."

Chapter 234 Section 10 Laws 2009

"55-3-604. DISCHARGE BY CANCELLATION OR RENUNCIATION.--

(a) A person entitled to enforce an instrument, with or without consideration, may discharge the obligation of a party to pay the instrument: (i) by an intentional voluntary act, such as surrender of the instrument to the party; destruction, mutilation or cancellation of the instrument; cancellation or striking out of the party's signature; or the addition of words to the instrument indicating discharge; or (ii) by agreeing not to sue or otherwise renouncing rights against the party by a signed record.

(b) Cancellation or striking out of an indorsement pursuant to Subsection (a) of this section does not affect the status and rights of a party derived from the indorsement.

(c) As used in this section, "signed" with respect to a record that is not a writing includes the attachment to or logical association with the record of an electronic symbol, sound or process with the present intent to adopt or accept the record."

Chapter 234 Section 11 Laws 2009

Section 11. Section 55-3-605 NMSA 1978 (being Laws 1992, Chapter 114, Section 155) is amended to read:

"55-3-605. DISCHARGE OF SECONDARY OBLIGORS.--

(a) If a person entitled to enforce an instrument releases the obligation of a principal obligor in whole or in part and another party to the instrument is a secondary obligor with respect to the obligation of that principal obligor, the following rules apply:

(1) any obligations of the principal obligor to the secondary obligor with respect to any previous payment by the secondary obligor are not affected. Unless the terms of the release preserve the secondary obligor's recourse, the principal obligor is discharged, to the extent of the release, from any other duties to the secondary obligor pursuant to this article;

(2) unless the terms of the release provide that the person entitled to enforce the instrument retains the right to enforce the instrument against the secondary obligor, the secondary obligor is discharged to the same extent as the principal obligor from any unperformed portion of its obligation on the instrument. If the instrument is a check and the obligation of the secondary obligor is based on an indorsement of the check, the secondary obligor is discharged without regard to the language or circumstances of the discharge or other release; and

(3) if the secondary obligor is not discharged pursuant to Paragraph (2) of this subsection, the secondary obligor is discharged to the extent of the value of the consideration for the release and to the extent that the release would otherwise cause the secondary obligor a loss.

(b) If a person entitled to enforce an instrument grants a principal obligor an extension of the time at which one or more payments are due on the instrument and another party to the instrument is a secondary obligor with respect to the obligation of that principal obligor, the following rules apply:

(1) any obligations of the principal obligor to the secondary obligor with respect to any previous payment by the secondary obligor are not affected. Unless the terms of the extension preserve the secondary obligor's recourse, the extension correspondingly extends the time for performance of any other duties owed to the secondary obligor by the principal obligor pursuant to this article;

(2) the secondary obligor is discharged to the extent that the extension would otherwise cause the secondary obligor a loss; and

(3) to the extent that the secondary obligor is not discharged pursuant to Paragraph (2) of this subsection, the secondary obligor either may perform its obligations to a person entitled to enforce the instrument as if the time for payment had not been extended or, unless the terms of the extension provide that the person entitled to enforce the instrument retains the right to enforce the instrument against the secondary obligor as if the time for payment had not been extended, may treat the time for performance of its obligations as having been extended correspondingly.

(c) If a person entitled to enforce an instrument agrees, with or without consideration, to a modification of the obligation of a principal obligor, other than a complete or a partial release or an extension of the due date, and another party to the instrument is a secondary obligor with respect to the obligation of that principal obligor, the following rules apply:

(1) any obligations of the principal obligor to the secondary obligor with respect to any previous payment by the secondary obligor are not affected. The modification correspondingly modifies any other duties owed to the secondary obligor by the principal obligor pursuant to this article;

(2) the secondary obligor is discharged from any unperformed portion of its obligation to the extent that the modification would otherwise cause the secondary obligor a loss; and

(3) to the extent that the secondary obligor is not discharged pursuant to Paragraph (2) of this subsection, the secondary obligor may satisfy its obligation on the instrument as if the modification had not occurred or treat its obligation on the instrument as having been modified correspondingly.

(d) If the obligation of a principal obligor is secured by an interest in collateral, if another party to the instrument is a secondary obligor with respect to that obligation, and if a person entitled to enforce the instrument impairs the value of the interest in collateral, the obligation of the secondary obligor is discharged to the extent of the impairment. The value of an interest in collateral is impaired to the extent the value of the interest is reduced to an amount less than the amount of the recourse of the secondary obligor or the reduction in value of the interest causes an increase in the amount by which the amount of the recourse exceeds the value of the interest. For purposes of this subsection, "impairing the value of an interest in collateral" includes failure to obtain or maintain perfection or recordation of the interest in collateral; release of collateral without substitution of collateral of equal value or equivalent reduction of the underlying obligation; failure to perform a duty to preserve the value of collateral owed, pursuant to Article 9 of the Uniform Commercial Code or other law, to a debtor or other person secondarily liable; and failure to comply with applicable law in disposing of or otherwise enforcing the interest in collateral.

(e) A secondary obligor is not discharged pursuant to Paragraph (3) of Subsection (a) of this section or Subsection (b), (c) or (d) of this section unless the person entitled to enforce the instrument knows that the person is a secondary obligor or has notice pursuant to Subsection (c) of Section 55-3-419 NMSA 1978 that the instrument was signed for accommodation.

(f) A secondary obligor is not discharged pursuant to this section if the secondary obligor consents to the event or conduct that is the basis of the discharge or if the instrument or a separate agreement of the party provides for waiver of discharge pursuant to this section specifically or by general language indicating that parties waive defenses based on suretyship or impairment of collateral. Unless the circumstances indicate otherwise, consent by the principal obligor to an act that would lead to a discharge pursuant to this section constitutes consent to that act by the secondary obligor if the secondary obligor controls the principal obligor or deals with the person entitled to enforce the instrument on behalf of the principal obligor.

(g) A release or extension preserves a secondary obligor's recourse if the terms of the release or extension provide that:

(1) the person entitled to enforce the instrument retains the right to enforce the instrument against the secondary obligor; and

(2) the recourse of the secondary obligor continues as if the release or extension had not been granted.

(h) Except as otherwise provided in Subsection (i) of this section, a secondary obligor asserting discharge pursuant to this section has the burden of persuasion both with respect to the occurrence of the acts alleged to harm the secondary obligor and loss or prejudice caused by those acts.

(i) If the secondary obligor demonstrates prejudice caused by an impairment of its recourse and the circumstances of the case indicate that the amount of loss is not reasonably susceptible of calculation or requires proof of facts that are not ascertainable, it is presumed that the act impairing recourse caused a loss or impairment equal to the liability of the secondary obligor on the instrument. In that event, the burden of persuasion as to any lesser amount of the loss is on the person entitled to enforce the instrument."

RELATING TO WORKERS' COMPENSATION; PROVIDING FOR LUMP-SUM SETTLEMENT AGREEMENTS FOR PAYMENTS OF COMPENSATION, MEDICAL BENEFITS OR BOTH; REQUIRING APPROVAL OF SETTLEMENTS BY WORKERS' COMPENSATION JUDGE; PROVIDING FOR A LIMIT ON ATTORNEY FEES IN SETTLEMENTS FOR FUTURE PAYMENTS OF COMPENSATION OR MEDICAL BENEFITS.

BE IT ENACTED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF NEW MEXICO:

Chapter 235 Section 1 Laws 2009

Section 1. Section 52-5-12 NMSA 1978 (being Laws 1986, Chapter 22, Section 38, as amended) is amended to read:

"52-5-12. PAYMENT--PERIODIC OR LUMP SUM--SETTLEMENT.--

A. It is stated policy for the administration of the Workers' Compensation Act and the New Mexico Occupational Disease Disablement Law that it is in the best interest of the injured worker or disabled employee that the worker or employee receive benefit payments on a periodic basis. Except as provided in this section, lump-sum payments in exchange for the release of the employer from liability for future payments of compensation or medical benefits shall not be allowed.

B. With the approval of the workers' compensation judge, a worker may elect to receive compensation benefits to which the worker is entitled in a lump sum if the worker has returned to work for at least six months, earning at least eighty percent of the average weekly wage the worker earned at the time of injury or disablement. If a worker receives the benefit income in a lump sum, the worker is not entitled to any additional benefit income for the compensable injury or disablement and the worker shall only receive that portion of the benefit income that is attributable to the impairment rating as determined in Section 52-1-24 NMSA 1978. In making lump-sum payments, the payment due the worker shall not be discounted at a rate greater than a sum equal to the present value of all future payments of compensation computed at a five-percent discount compounded annually.

C. After maximum medical improvement and with the approval of the workers' compensation judge, a worker may elect to receive a partial lump-sum payment of workers' compensation benefits for the sole purpose of paying debts that may have accumulated during the course of the injured or disabled worker's disability.

D. The worker and employer may elect to resolve a claim for injury with a lump-sum payment to the worker for all or a portion of past, present and future payments of compensation benefits, medical benefits or both in exchange for a full and final release or an appropriate release of the employer from liability for such compromised benefits. The proposed lump-sum payment agreement shall be presented to the workers' compensation judge for approval, and a hearing shall be held on the record. The workers' compensation judge shall approve the lump-sum payment agreement if the judge finds that:

(1) a written agreement describing the nature of the proposed settlement has been mutually agreed upon and executed by the worker and the employer;

(2) the worker has been fully informed and understands the terms, conditions and consequences of the proposed settlement;

(3) the lump-sum payment agreement is fair, equitable and provides substantial justice to the worker and employer; and

(4) the lump-sum payment agreement complies with the requirements for approval set forth in Sections 52-5-13 and 52-5-14 NMSA 1978.

E. The workers' compensation judge shall approve a lump-sum payment agreement pursuant to Subsection D of this section by order. Once the agreement has been approved and filed with the clerk of the administration, any further challenge to the terms of the settlement is barred and the lump-sum payment agreement shall not be reopened, set aside or reconsidered nor shall any additional benefits be imposed.

F. If a worker and employer elect to enter into a lump-sum payment agreement pursuant to Subsection D of this section, the limit on attorney fees pursuant to Subsection I of Section 52-1-54 NMSA 1978 shall apply.

G. If an insurer pays a lump-sum payment to an injured or disabled worker without the approval of a workers' compensation judge and if at a later date benefits are due for the injured or disabled worker's claim, the insurer alone shall be liable for that claim and shall not in any manner, including rate determinations and the employer's experience modifier, pass on the cost of the benefits due to the employer.

H. If the compensation benefit to which a worker is entitled is less than fifty dollars ($50.00) per week, any party may petition the workers' compensation judge to consolidate that payment into quarterly installments."

RELATING TO CORRECTIONS; REQUIRING THE CORRECTIONS DEPARTMENT TO ACCEPT AND REDISPENSE UNUSED PRESCRIPTIONS.

BE IT ENACTED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF NEW MEXICO:

Chapter 236 Section 1 Laws 2009

Section 1. CORRECTIONS DEPARTMENT REQUIRED TO ACCEPT AND REDISPENSE UNUSED PRESCRIPTIONS--CONDITIONS OF ACCEPTANCE AND REDISPENSING.--

A. A pharmacy operated by the corrections department or under contract with the department shall accept for the purpose of redispensing a prescription drug that has been dispensed and has left the control of the pharmacist if the prescription drug is being returned by a corrections facility that has a registered professional nurse or a licensed practical nurse who is responsible for the security, handling and administration of prescription drugs within that corrections facility and if all of the following conditions are met:

(1) the pharmacist is satisfied that the conditions under which the prescription drug has been delivered, stored and handled before and during its return were such as to prevent damage, deterioration or contamination that would adversely affect the identity, strength, quality, purity, stability, integrity or effectiveness of the prescription drug;

(2) the pharmacist is satisfied that the prescription drug did not leave the control of the registered professional nurse or licensed practical nurse responsible for the security, handling and administration of that prescription drug and that the prescription drug did not come into the physical possession of the individual for whom it was prescribed;

(3) the pharmacist is satisfied that the labeling and packaging of the prescription drug are accurate, have not been altered, defaced or tampered with and include the identity, strength, expiration date and lot number of the prescription drug; and

(4) the prescription drug was dispensed in a unit-dose package or unit-of-issue package.

B. A pharmacy operated by the corrections department or under contract with the department shall not accept for return prescription drugs as provided pursuant to this section until the pharmacist in charge develops a written set of protocols for accepting, returning to stock, repackaging, labeling and redispensing prescription drugs. The written protocols shall be maintained on the premises of any pharmacy dispensing prescriptions for the department and shall be readily accessible to each pharmacist on duty. The written protocols shall include, at a minimum, each of the following:

(1) methods for ensuring that damage, deterioration or contamination has not occurred during the delivery, handling, storage or return of the prescription drugs such that it would adversely affect the identity, strength, quality, purity, stability, integrity or effectiveness of the prescription drugs or otherwise render the drugs unfit for distribution;

(2) methods for accepting, returning to stock, repackaging, labeling and redispensing the prescription drugs returned pursuant to this section; and

(3) a uniform system of recording and tracking prescription drugs that are returned to stock, repackaged, labeled and redistributed pursuant to this section.

C. If the condition of a prescription drug and its package meets the standards set forth in Subsection B of this section, a prescription drug shall be returned to stock and redistributed as follows:

(1) a prescription drug that was originally dispensed in the manufacturer's unit-dose package or unit-of-issue package that is returned in that same package may be returned to stock, repackaged and redispensed as needed; and

(2) a prescription drug that is repackaged into a unit-dose package or a unit-of-issue package by the pharmacy, dispensed and returned to that pharmacy in that unit-dose package or unit-of-issue package may be returned to stock, but it shall not be repackaged. A unit-dose package or unit-of-issue package prepared by the pharmacist and returned to stock shall only be redispensed in that same unit-dose package or unit-of-issue package and shall only be redispensed once. A pharmacist shall not add unit-dose package drugs to a partially used unit-of-issue package.

D. This section does not apply to any of the following:

- (1) a controlled substance;
- (2) a prescription drug that is dispensed as part of a customized patient medication package;
- (3) a prescription drug that is not dispensed as a unit-dose package or a unit-of-issue package; or
- (4) a prescription drug that is not properly labeled with the identity, strength, lot number and expiration date.

E. As used in this section:

(1) "customized patient medication package" means a package that is prepared by a pharmacist for a specific patient and that contains two or more prescribed solid oral dosage forms;

(2) "repackaging" means the process by which the pharmacy prepares a prescription it accepts pursuant to this section in a unit-dose package, unit-of-issue package or customized patient medication package for immediate dispensing in accordance with a current prescription;

(3) "corrections facility" means any facility or program controlled or operated by the state or any of its agencies or departments and supported wholly or in part by state funds for the correctional care of persons, including but not limited to:

(a) the "penitentiary of New Mexico", which consists of the penitentiary at Santa Fe and other places in the state designated by the secretary of corrections; and

(b) the parole board to the extent delegated by the Parole Board Act;

(4) "unit-dose package" means a package that contains a single-dose drug with the name, strength, control number and expiration date of that drug on the label; and

AN ACT

RELATING TO CHILD CARE; ENACTING A NEW SECTION OF CHAPTER 50 NMSA 1978 TO PROVIDE FOR COLLECTIVE BARGAINING AND REPRESENTATION OF CHILD CARE PROVIDERS.

BE IT ENACTED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF NEW MEXICO:

Chapter 238 Section 1 Laws 2009

Section 1. A new section of Chapter 50 NMSA 1978 is enacted to read:

"FAMILY CHILD CARE PROVIDER COLLECTIVE BARGAINING-- REPRESENTATION.--

A. The purpose of this section is to authorize family child care providers to organize and to use collective bargaining on all matters specified in this section. It is the intent of the legislature that the state action exemption to the application of federal and state antitrust laws be fully available to the extent that the activities of the family child care providers and their representatives are authorized under this section.

B. Family child care providers shall have the right to form, join or assist a labor organization for the purpose of collective bargaining through representatives chosen by family child care providers without interference, restraint or coercion and shall have the right to refuse any such activities.

C. The exclusive representative may be selected by mail ballot election conducted by a reputable organization with experience in conducting representation elections. In order for an election to occur, a representative or representative organization shall have collected signed cards from at least thirty percent of affected family child care providers indicating their desire for representation. The organization conducting the election shall establish procedures to ensure the secrecy of any ballot cast in any election held pursuant to this section. Costs of the election shall be borne by the labor organization seeking exclusive representative status. The providers in the unit shall be offered the opportunity to choose between the following:

(1) representation by the provider organization; or

(2) no representation.

D. Within ten days of receiving authorization cards requesting a mail-in ballot election, the children, youth and families department or another appropriate state agency shall submit a list verifying all eligible family child care providers in the state to the organization making the request.

E. A labor organization that has been certified through the process as representing the family child care providers shall be the exclusive representative for all family child care providers for the purposes of negotiating a collective bargaining agreement with the children, youth and families department.

F. The children, youth and families department shall meet with the family child care providers and their exclusive representative with the purpose of entering into a written agreement that shall be binding upon both the state and the exclusive representative. The written agreement shall include a binding arbitration procedure, a grievance process, the creation of a labor-management committee that will meet regularly to discuss concerns and issues as they arise and mechanisms for dues collection.

G. Topics of negotiations shall include terms and conditions under which family child care providers provide child care in their homes and in the homes of parents, including reimbursement rates and payment procedures for publicly funded care, health and safety conditions, the monitoring and evaluating of family child care homes, licensing and other fees, quality rating standards, training and certification requirements and any other matters that would improve recruitment and retention of qualified family child care providers and the quality of the programs they provide. The labor organization and the state agency shall work together to explore systems for family child care providers to have access to affordable, comprehensive health insurance coverage.

H. An agreement provision by the state and the exclusive representative that requires the expenditure of funds shall be contingent upon the specific appropriation of funds by the legislature and the availability of funds.

I. In order to ensure that the children, youth and families department's mandate for quality measures continues for all licensed providers of child care services, the department shall ensure the adequate allocation of appropriated funds to those providing the highest-quality care, including licensed centers and licensed family child care providers.

J. Should the parties be unable to reach an agreement, the parties shall follow the impasse resolution procedure as outlined in the Public Employee Bargaining Act.

K. The children, youth and families department shall not:

(1) discriminate or knowingly allow any other organizations with which the children, youth and families department contracts to administer services related to child care to discriminate against a family child care provider with regard to the terms and conditions of its relationship with the provider because of the provider's membership in a labor organization;

(2) take negative action against a family child care provider or knowingly allow any other organizations with which the children, youth and families department contracts to administer services related to child care to take negative action because the provider has signed or filed an affidavit, petition, grievance or complaint or given information or testimony or because the provider is forming, joining or choosing to be represented by a labor organization;

(3) refuse to bargain collectively in good faith with the labor organization; or

(4) refuse to comply with a collective bargaining agreement reached with the labor organization pursuant to this section.

L. The labor organization shall not:

(1) discriminate against a family child care provider with regard to labor organization membership because of race, color, religion, creed, age, sex or national origin;

(2) refuse to bargain collectively in good faith with the children, youth and families department; or

(3) refuse to comply with a collective bargaining agreement reached with the children, youth and families department pursuant to this section.

M. If either party believes a provision of this section has been violated, the parties shall follow the public employee labor relations board's rules of prohibited practice proceedings.

N. By entering into an agreement, the children, youth and families department and the exclusive representative do not intend to interfere with parental rights to select or deselect family child care providers to provide care for children.

O. In enacting bargaining rights for family child care providers, the state intends to provide state action immunity under federal and state antitrust laws for the activities of family child care providers and their exclusive bargaining representative to the extent such activities are authorized by this section.

P. A family child care provider or an employee of a family child care provider is not a public employee for purposes of the Tort Claims Act.

Q. As used in this section:

(1) "exclusive representative" means a labor organization that, as a result of certification, has the right to represent family child care providers in an appropriate bargaining unit for the purposes of collective bargaining;

(m) abuse of a child that results in great bodily harm or death to the child, as provided in Section 30-6-1 NMSA 1978;

(2) fourteen to eighteen years of age at the time of the offense, who is adjudicated for any felony offense and who has had three prior, separate felony adjudications within a three-year time period immediately preceding the instant offense. The felony adjudications relied upon as prior adjudications shall not have arisen out of the same transaction or occurrence or series of events related in time and location. Successful completion of consent decrees are not considered a prior adjudication for the purposes of this paragraph; or

(3) fourteen years of age and who is adjudicated for first degree murder, as provided in Section 30-2-1 NMSA 1978."

"32A-2-4. DETENTION FACILITIES--STANDARDS--REPORTS--APPEALS.--

A. The department shall promulgate updated standards for all detention facilities, including standards for site, design, construction, equipment, care, program, personnel and clinical services. The department shall certify as approved all detention facilities in the state meeting the standards promulgated. The department may establish by rule appropriate procedures for provisional certification and the waiving of any of its standards for facilities in existence at the time of the adoption of the standards, except that it shall not allow waiver of any standard pertaining to adequate health and safety protection of the residents and staff of the facility. No child shall be detained in a detention facility unless it is certified as approved by the department, except as otherwise provided in Chapter 32A, Article 2 NMSA 1978.

B. The department shall inspect all detention facilities in the state at least once each twelve months and shall require those reports it deems necessary from detention facilities in a form and containing the information determined by the department. If as the result of an inspection a certified detention facility is determined as failing to meet the required standards, its certification is subject to revocation or refusal for renewal by the department.

C. The department shall promulgate rules establishing procedures that provide for prior notice and public hearings on detention facilities' standards adoption and changes. The department shall also promulgate rules establishing procedures for facility certification, renewal of certification, refusal to renew certification and revocation of certification. The procedures adopted on these matters shall provide for adequate prior notice of intended action by the department, opportunity for the aggrieved person to have an administrative hearing and written notification of the administrative decision.

Rules promulgated under this subsection shall not be effective unless filed in accordance with the State Rules Act.

D. Any person aggrieved by an administrative decision of the department rendered under the provisions of this section may petition for the review of the administrative decision by appealing to the district court pursuant to the provisions of Section 39-3-1.1 NMSA 1978.

E. After January 1, 1994, no state or county detention facility shall hold juveniles sentenced by a federal court, unless the facility meets state standards promulgated by the department.

F. A juvenile detention facility certified by the department shall comply with the daily reporting requirement for children in detention, including reports on the length of stay for each child. This information shall be reported as required by the department."

Chapter 239 Section 12 Laws 2009

"32A-2-4.1. ADULT JAILS AND LOCKUPS USED AS TEMPORARY HOLDING FACILITIES--REPORTS.--

A. A child arrested and detained for an alleged delinquent act may be temporarily held in an adult jail or lockup for no longer than six hours. A child who is detained in an adult jail or lockup shall be placed in a setting that is physically segregated by sight and sound from adult offenders. After six hours, the child may be placed or detained pursuant to the provisions of Section 32A-2-12 NMSA 1978.

B. An adult jail or lockup used as a temporary holding facility for alleged delinquent offenders shall file an annual report regarding its compliance with federal requirements. The juvenile justice advisory committee and the department shall determine the format of the annual reports."

Chapter 239 Section 13 Laws 2009

Section 13. Section 32A-2-5 NMSA 1978 (being Laws 1993, Chapter 77, Section 34, as amended) is amended to read:

"32A-2-5. JUVENILE PROBATION AND PAROLE SERVICES--
ESTABLISHMENT--JUVENILE PROBATION AND PAROLE OFFICERS--POWERS AND DUTIES.--

A. Juvenile probation and parole services shall be provided by the department.

B. To carry out the objectives and provisions of the Delinquency Act, but subject to its limitations, the department has the power and duty to:

(1) receive and examine complaints and allegations that a child is a delinquent child for the purpose of considering beginning a proceeding pursuant to the provisions of the Delinquency Act;

(2) make case referrals for services as appear appropriate or desirable;

(3) make predisposition studies and assessments and submit reports and recommendations to the court;

(4) supervise and assist a child placed on probation or supervised release or under supervision by court order or by the department;

(7) give notice to the children's court attorney of the receipt of any felony complaint and of any recommended adjustment of such felony complaint;

(8) identify an Indian child for the purpose of contacting the Indian child's tribe in delinquency cases; and

(9) contact an Indian child's tribe to consult and exchange information for the purpose of preparing a predisposition report when commitment or placement of an Indian child is contemplated or has been ordered and indicate in the report the name of the person contacted in the Indian child's tribe and the results of the contact.

C. A juvenile probation and parole officer does not have the powers of a law enforcement officer. A juvenile probation and parole officer may take into physical custody and place in detention, subject to application of a detention risk assessment instrument, a child who is under supervision as a delinquent child or as a youthful offender when there is reasonable cause to believe that the child has violated the conditions of the child's probation or that the child may leave the jurisdiction of the court. Taking a child into custody under this subsection is subject to and shall proceed in accordance with the provisions of the Delinquency Act relating to custody and detention procedures and criteria."

Chapter 239 Section 14 Laws 2009

Section 14. Section 32A-2-10 NMSA 1978 (being Laws 1993, Chapter 77, Section 39, as amended) is amended to read:

"32A-2-10. RELEASE OR DELIVERY FROM CUSTODY.--

A. A person taking a child into custody shall, with all reasonable speed:

(1) release the child to the child's parent, guardian or custodian or an adult authorized by the child's parent, guardian or custodian and issue verbal counsel or warning as may be appropriate;

(2) release the child to the child's parent, guardian or custodian or an adult authorized to sign on behalf of the child's parent, guardian or custodian upon written promise to bring the child before the court when requested by the court. If the parent, guardian or custodian or an adult authorized to sign on behalf of the child's parent, guardian or custodian fails, when requested, to bring the child before the court as promised, the court may order the child taken into custody and brought before the court;

(3) deliver the child to a place of detention as provided in Section 32A-2-12 NMSA 1978;

(4) deliver the child to a medical facility, if available, if the child is believed to be suffering from a serious illness that requires prompt treatment or prompt diagnosis;

(5) deliver the child to an evaluation facility, if available, if the person taking the child into custody has reasonable grounds to believe the child presents a likelihood of serious harm to the child's self or others or is suffering from some other serious mental condition or illness that requires prompt treatment or prompt diagnosis; or

(6) deliver the child to a center or organization that the court or the department recognizes as an alternative to secure detention.

B. When an alleged delinquent child is delivered to a place of detention or a center or organization recognized as an alternative to secure detention as provided in Section 32A-2-12 NMSA 1978, only a department employee or a trained county detention professional designated by the department may place the child in detention or with a center or organization recognized as an alternative to secure detention in accordance with the criteria for detention set forth in Section 32A-2-11 NMSA 1978. If the criteria for detention of an alleged delinquent child are not met, the child shall be released from custody.

C. A child under the age of eleven shall not be held in detention. If a child under the age of eleven poses a substantial risk of harm to the child's self or others, a peace officer may detain and transport that child for emergency mental health evaluation and care in accordance with Section 32A-6A-19 NMSA 1978.

D. If a child is taken into custody and is not released to the child's parent, guardian or custodian or an adult authorized by the child's parent, guardian or custodian, the person taking the child into custody shall give written notice thereof as soon as possible, and in no case later than twenty-four hours, to the child's parent, guardian or custodian or an adult authorized by the child's parent, guardian or custodian and to the court, together with a statement of the reason for taking the child into custody.

E. In all cases when a child is taken into custody, the child shall be released to the child's parent, guardian or custodian or an adult authorized by the child's parent, guardian or custodian in accordance with the conditions and time limits set forth in the Children's Court Rules."

Chapter 239 Section 15 Laws 2009

Section 15. Section 32A-2-12 NMSA 1978 (being Laws 1993, Chapter 77, Section 41, as amended) is amended to read:

"32A-2-12. PLACEMENT OR DETENTION.--

A. A child alleged to be a delinquent child may be placed or detained, pending a court hearing, in any of the following places:

(1) a licensed foster home or a home otherwise authorized under the law to provide foster or group care;

(2) a facility operated by a licensed child welfare services agency;

(3) a shelter-care facility provided for in the Children's Shelter Care Act that is in compliance with all standards, conditions and regulatory requirements and that shall be considered a temporary placement subject to judicial review within thirty days of placement;

(4) a detention facility certified by the department for children alleged to be delinquent children;

(5) any other suitable place, other than a facility for the long-term care and rehabilitation of delinquent children to which children adjudicated as delinquent may be confined pursuant to Section 32A-2-19 NMSA 1978, designated by the court and that meets the standards for detention facilities pursuant to the Children's Code and federal law; or

(6) the child's home or place of residence, under conditions and restrictions approved by the court.

B. A child alleged to be a youthful offender may be detained, pending a court hearing, in any of the following places:

(1) a detention facility, licensed by the department, for children alleged to be delinquent children; or

(2) any other suitable place, other than a facility for the long-term care and rehabilitation of delinquent children to which children adjudicated as delinquent children may be confined pursuant to Section 32A-2-19 NMSA 1978, designated by the court and that meets the standards for detention facilities pursuant to the Children's Code and federal law.

C. A child adjudicated as a youthful offender who is violent toward staff or other residents in a detention facility may be transferred and detained, pending a court hearing, in a county jail. In the event that a child is detained in a jail, the director of the jail shall presume that the child is vulnerable to victimization by inmates within the adult population because of the child's age, and shall take measures to provide protection to the child. However, provision of protective measures shall not result in diminishing a child's civil rights to less than those existing for an incarcerated adult.

D. A child who has previously been incarcerated as an adult or a person eighteen years of age or older shall not be detained in a juvenile detention facility or a facility for the long-term care and rehabilitation of delinquent children, but may be detained in a county jail. A child shall not be transferred to a county jail solely on the basis of attaining the age of eighteen while detained in a juvenile detention facility. In the event that a child is detained in a jail, the director of the jail shall presume that the child is vulnerable to victimization by inmates within the adult population because of the child's age, and shall take measures to provide protection to the child. However, provision of protective measures shall not result in diminishing a child's civil rights to less than those existing for an incarcerated adult.

E. A child alleged to be a serious youthful offender may be detained pending a court hearing in any of the following places, prior to arraignment in metropolitan, magistrate or district court:

(1) a detention facility, licensed by the department, for children alleged to be delinquent children;

(2) any other suitable place, other than a facility for the long-term care and rehabilitation of delinquent children to which children adjudicated as delinquent children may be confined pursuant to Section 32A-2-19 NMSA 1978, designated by the court that meets the standards for detention facilities pursuant to the Children's Code and federal law; or

(3) a county jail, if a facility in Paragraph (1) or (2) of this subsection is not appropriate. In the event that a child is detained in a jail, the director of the jail shall presume that the child is vulnerable to victimization by inmates within the adult population because of the child's age and shall take measures to provide protection to the child. However, provision of protective measures shall not result in diminishing a child's civil rights to less than those existing for an incarcerated adult.

F. When a person who is eighteen years of age or older is taken into custody and transported to an adult facility on a juvenile warrant or an adult warrant or other adult charges and an outstanding juvenile warrant exists, notice shall be given to the children's court attorney and the juvenile probation and parole office in the jurisdiction where the juvenile warrant was issued within one day of the person being taken into custody. The juvenile probation and parole office shall give notice that the person has been taken into custody to the children's court judge and the attorney who represented the person in the juvenile proceeding.

G. In addition to the judicial review required by Paragraph (3) of Subsection A of this section, a child detained in an out-of-home placement pursuant to this section may request judicial review of the appropriateness of the placement."

Chapter 239 Section 16 Laws 2009

Section 16. Section 32A-2-13 NMSA 1978 (being Laws 1993, Chapter 77, Section 42, as amended) is amended to read:

"32A-2-13. DETENTION HEARING REQUIRED ON DETAINED CHILDREN--
PROBABLE CAUSE DETERMINATION--COURT DETERMINATION--DISPOSITION.--

A. When a child who has been taken into custody is not released but is detained:

(1) a judicial determination of probable cause shall be made by a judge or special master or magistrate within forty-eight hours, including Saturdays, Sundays and legal holidays, except for children taken into custody under an arrest warrant pursuant to the Children's Court Rules. A statement by a law enforcement officer, which shall include the charges, may be the basis of a probable cause determination. The probable cause determination shall be nonadversarial, may be held in the absence of the child and counsel and may be conducted by telephone. If the court finds no probable cause to believe the child committed an offense, the child shall be released;

(2) a petition shall be filed within twenty-four hours from the time the child is taken into custody, excluding Saturdays, Sundays and legal holidays, and if not filed within the stated time, the child shall be released; and

(3) a detention hearing shall be held within twenty-four hours, excluding Saturdays, Sundays and legal holidays, from the time of filing the petition to determine whether continued detention is required pursuant to the criteria established by the Children's Code. At the request of any party, the court may permit a detention hearing to be conducted by appropriate means of electronic communication; provided that all hearings conducted by electronic means shall be recorded and preserved as part of the record, the child shall have legal representation present with the child, no plea shall be allowed to be taken via electronic communication and the court finds:

(a) that undue hardship will result from conducting the hearing with all parties, including the child, present in the courtroom; and

(b) that the hardship substantially outweighs any prejudice or harm to the child that is likely to result from the hearing being conducted by electronic means.

B. The judge may appoint one or more persons to serve as special master on a full- or part-time basis for the purpose of holding detention hearings. A juvenile probation and parole officer shall not be appointed as a special master. The judge shall approve all contracts with special masters and shall fix their hourly compensation, subject to the approval of the director of the administrative office of the courts.

C. Notice of the detention hearing, either oral or written, stating the time, place and purpose of the hearing shall be given by the person designated by the court to the child's parents, guardian or custodian, if they can be found, and to the child. The department shall be provided with reasonable oral or written notification and an opportunity to be heard. At any hearing held pursuant to this subsection, the department may appear as a party.

D. At the commencement of the detention hearing, the judge or special master shall advise the parties of their basic rights provided in the Children's Code and shall appoint counsel, guardians and custodians, if appropriate.

E. If the judge or special master finds that the child's detention is appropriate under the criteria established by the Children's Code, the judge or special master shall order detention in an appropriate facility in accordance with the Children's Code.

F. If the judge or special master finds that detention of the child is not appropriate under the criteria established by the Children's Code, the judge or special master shall order the release of the child, but, in so doing, may order one or more of the following conditions to meet the individual needs of the child:

(1) place the child in the custody of a parent, guardian or custodian or under the supervision of an agency agreeing to supervise the child;

(2) place restrictions on the child's travel, association with other persons or place of abode during the period of the child's release; or

(3) impose any other condition deemed reasonably necessary and consistent with the criteria for detaining children established by the Children's Code, including a condition requiring that the child return to custody as required.

G. An order releasing a child on any conditions specified in this section may at any time be amended to impose additional or different conditions of release or to return the child to custody or detention for failure to conform to the conditions originally imposed.

H. At the detention hearing, all relevant and material evidence helpful in determining the need for detention may be admitted by the judge or special master even though it would not be admissible in a hearing on the petition.

I. If the child is not released at the detention hearing and a parent, guardian or custodian was not notified of the hearing and did not appear or waive appearance at the detention hearing, the judge or special master shall rehear the detention matter without unnecessary delay upon the filing of an affidavit stating the facts and a motion for rehearing.

J. If a child is not released at the detention hearing, the child's detention may be subsequently reviewed by the court or the court may review the child's detention in conjunction with a pretrial conference.

K. If a child is not placed within ten days after a disposition hearing, the child may be released and placed under appropriate supervision, so long as the child does not pose a flight risk or substantial risk of harm to the child's self or others."

Chapter 239 Section 17 Laws 2009

Section 17. Section 32A-2-14 NMSA 1978 (being Laws 1993, Chapter 77, Section 43, as amended) is amended to read:

"32A-2-14. BASIC RIGHTS.--

A. A child subject to the provisions of the Delinquency Act is entitled to the same basic rights as an adult, except as otherwise provided in the Children's Code, including rights provided by the Delinquency Act, except as otherwise provided in the Children's Code.

B. If after due notice to the parent, guardian or custodian and after a hearing determining indigency, the parent, guardian or custodian is declared indigent by the court, the public defender shall represent the child. If the court finds that the parent, guardian or custodian is financially able to pay for an attorney but is unwilling to do so, the court shall order the parent, guardian or custodian to reimburse the state for public defender representation.

C. No person subject to the provisions of the Delinquency Act who is alleged or suspected of being a delinquent child shall be interrogated or questioned without first advising the child of the child's constitutional rights and securing a knowing, intelligent and voluntary waiver.

D. Before any statement or confession may be introduced at a trial or hearing when a child is alleged to be a delinquent child, the state shall prove that the statement or confession offered in evidence was elicited only after a knowing, intelligent and voluntary waiver of the child's constitutional rights was obtained.

E. In determining whether the child knowingly, intelligently and voluntarily waived the child's rights, the court shall consider the following factors:

- (1) the age and education of the respondent;
- (2) whether the respondent is in custody;
- (3) the manner in which the respondent was advised of the respondent's rights;
- (4) the length of questioning and circumstances under which the respondent was questioned;
- (5) the condition of the quarters where the respondent was being kept at the time of being questioned;
- (6) the time of day and the treatment of the respondent at the time of being questioned;
- (7) the mental and physical condition of the respondent at the time of being questioned; and
- (8) whether the respondent had the counsel of an attorney, friends or relatives at the time of being questioned.

F. Notwithstanding any other provision to the contrary, no confessions, statements or admissions may be introduced against a child under the age of thirteen years on the allegations of the petition. There is a rebuttable presumption that any confessions, statements or admissions made by a child thirteen or fourteen years old to a person in a position of authority are inadmissible.

G. An extrajudicial admission or confession made by the child out of court is insufficient to support a finding that the child committed the delinquent acts alleged in the petition unless it is corroborated by other evidence.

H. The child and the parent, guardian or custodian of the child shall be advised by the court or its representative that the child shall be represented by counsel at all stages of the proceedings on a delinquency petition, including all post-dispositional court proceedings. If counsel is not retained for the child or if it does not appear that counsel will be retained, counsel shall be appointed for the child.

I. A child under the age of thirteen alleged or adjudicated to be a delinquent child shall not be fingerprinted or photographed for identification purposes without obtaining a court order.

J. The court, at any stage of the proceeding on a petition under the Children's Code, may appoint a guardian ad litem for a child who is a party if the child has no parent, guardian or custodian appearing on behalf of the child or if the parent's, guardian's or custodian's interests conflict with those of the child. A party to the proceeding or an employee or representative of a party shall not be appointed as guardian ad litem.

K. The court shall appoint a guardian for a child if the court determines that the child does not have a parent or a legally appointed guardian in a position to exercise effective guardianship. No officer or employee of an agency that is vested with the legal custody of the child shall be appointed guardian of the child except when parental rights have been terminated and the agency is authorized to place the child for adoption.

L. A person afforded rights under the Delinquency Act shall be advised of those rights at that person's first appearance before the court on a petition under that act.

M. A serious youthful offender who is detained prior to trial in an adult facility has a right to bail as provided under SCRA 1986, Rule 5-401. A child held in a juvenile facility designated as a place of detention prior to adjudication does not have a right to bail but may be released pursuant to the provisions of the Delinquency Act.

N. The provisions of the Delinquency Act shall not be interpreted to limit the right of a child to petition a court for a writ of habeas corpus."

Chapter 239 Section 18 Laws 2009

Section 18. Section 32A-2-16 NMSA 1978 (being Laws 1993, Chapter 77, Section 45) is amended to read:

"32A-2-16. CONDUCT OF HEARINGS--FINDINGS--DISMISSAL--
DISPOSITIONAL MATTERS--PENALTY.--

A. Hearings on petitions shall be conducted by the court separate from other proceedings. A jury trial on the issues of alleged delinquent acts may be demanded by the child, parent, guardian, custodian or counsel in proceedings on petitions alleging delinquency when the offense alleged would be triable by jury if committed by an adult. If a jury is demanded and the child is entitled to a jury trial, the jury's function is limited to that of trier of the factual issue of whether the child committed the alleged delinquent acts. If no jury is demanded, the hearing shall be by the court without a jury. Jury trials shall be conducted in accordance with rules promulgated under the provisions of Subsection B of Section 32A-1-5 NMSA 1978. A delinquent child facing a juvenile disposition shall be entitled to a six-member jury. If the children's court attorney has filed a motion to invoke an adult sentence, the child is entitled to a twelve-member jury. A unanimous verdict is required for all jury trials. The proceedings shall be recorded by stenographic notes or by electronic, mechanical or other appropriate means.

B. All hearings to declare a person in contempt of court and all hearings on petitions pursuant to the provisions of the Delinquency Act shall be open to the general public, except where the court in its discretion, after a finding of exceptional circumstances, deems it appropriate to conduct a closed delinquency hearing. Only the parties, their counsel, witnesses and other persons approved by the court may be present at a closed hearing. Those other persons the court finds to have a proper interest in the case or in the work of the court may be admitted by the court to closed hearings on the condition that they refrain from divulging any information concerning the exceptional circumstances that resulted in the need for a closed hearing. Accredited representatives of the news media shall be allowed to be present at closed hearings subject to the conditions that they refrain from divulging information concerning the exceptional circumstances that resulted in the need for a closed hearing and subject to such enabling regulations as the court finds necessary for the maintenance of order and decorum and for the furtherance of the purposes of the Delinquency Act.

C. Those persons or parties granted admission to a closed hearing who intentionally divulge information in violation of Subsection B of this section are guilty of a petty misdemeanor.

D. The court shall determine if the allegations of the petition are admitted or denied. If the allegations are denied, the court shall proceed to hear evidence on the petition. The court after hearing all of the evidence bearing on the allegations of delinquency shall make and record its findings on whether the delinquent acts subscribed to the child were committed by the child. If the court finds that the allegations of delinquency have not been established, it shall dismiss the petition and order the child released from any detention or legal custody imposed in connection with the proceedings.

E. The court shall make a finding of delinquency based on a valid admission of the allegations of the petition or on the basis of proof beyond a reasonable doubt.

F. If the court finds on the basis of a valid admission of the allegations of the petition or on the basis of proof beyond a reasonable doubt that the child is a delinquent, the court may proceed immediately or at a postponed hearing to make disposition of the case.

G. In that part of the hearings held under the Delinquency Act on dispositional issues, all relevant and material evidence helpful in determining the questions presented, including oral and written reports, may be received by the court and may be relied upon to the extent of its probative value even though not competent had it been offered during the part of the hearings on adjudicatory issues.

H. On the court's motion or that of a party, the court may continue the hearing on the petition for a reasonable time to receive reports and other evidence in connection with disposition. The court may continue the hearing pending the receipt of the predisposition study and report if that document has not been prepared and received. During any continuances under this subsection, the court shall make an appropriate order for detention or legal custody."

Chapter 239 Section 19 Laws 2009

"32A-2-17. PREDISPOSITION STUDIES--REPORTS AND EXAMINATIONS.--

A. After a petition has been filed and either a finding with respect to the allegations of the petition has been made or a notice of intent to admit the allegations of the petition has been filed, the court may direct that a predisposition study and report to the court be made in writing by the department or an appropriate agency designated by the court concerning the child, the family of the child, the environment of the child and any other matters relevant to the need for treatment or to appropriate disposition of the case. The following predisposition reports shall be provided to the parties and the court five days before actual disposition or sentencing:

(1) the adult probation and parole division of the corrections department shall prepare a predisposition report for a serious youthful offender;

(2) the department shall prepare a predisposition report for a serious youthful offender who is convicted of an offense other than first degree murder;

(3) the department shall prepare a predisposition report for a youthful offender concerning the youthful offender's amenability to treatment and if:

(a) the court determines that a juvenile disposition is appropriate, the department shall prepare a subsequent predisposition report; or

(b) the court makes the findings necessary to impose an adult sentence pursuant to Section 32A-2-20 NMSA 1978, the adult probation and parole division of the corrections department shall prepare a subsequent predisposition report; and

(4) the department shall prepare a predisposition report for a delinquent offender, upon the court's request.

B. Where there are indications that the child may have a mental disorder or developmental disability, the court, on motion by the children's court attorney or that of counsel for the child, may order the child to be examined at a suitable place by a physician or psychiatrist, a licensed psychologist, a licensed professional clinical counselor or a licensed independent social worker prior to a hearing on the merits of the petition. An examination made prior to the hearing or as a part of the predisposition study and report shall be conducted on an outpatient basis, unless the court finds that placement in a hospital or other appropriate facility is necessary.

C. The court, after a hearing, may order examination by a physician or psychiatrist, a licensed psychologist or a licensed professional clinical counselor or a licensed independent social worker of a parent or custodian whose ability to care for or supervise a child is an issue before the court.

D. The court may order that a child adjudicated as a delinquent child be administered a predispositional evaluation by a professional designated by the department for purposes of diagnosis, with direction that the court be given a report indicating what disposition appears most suitable when the interests of the child and the public are considered. The evaluation shall be completed within fifteen days of the court's order and the preference shall be for performing the evaluation in the child's community.

E. If a child is detained for purposes of performing a predispositional evaluation, it shall be completed within fifteen days and in no event shall a child be detained for more than fifteen days within a three-hundred-sixty-five-day period for a predispositional evaluation, unless for good cause shown."

Chapter 239 Section 20 Laws 2009

Section 20. Section 32A-2-19 NMSA 1978 (being Laws 1993, Chapter 77, Section 48, as amended) is amended to read:

"32A-2-19. DISPOSITION OF AN ADJUDICATED DELINQUENT OFFENDER.--

A. At the conclusion of the dispositional hearing, the court may make and include in the dispositional judgment its findings on the following:

(1) the interaction and interrelationship of the child with the child's parents and siblings and any other person who may significantly affect the child's best interests;

(2) the child's adjustment to the child's home, school and community;

(3) the mental and physical health of all individuals involved, including consideration of such factors as the child's brain development, maturity, trauma history and disability;

(4) the wishes of the child as to the child's custodian;

(5) the wishes of the child's parents as to the child's custody;

(6) whether there exists a relative of the child or other individual who, after study by the department, is found to be qualified to receive and care for the child;

(7) the availability of services recommended in the predisposition report; and

(8) the ability of the parents to care for the child in the home.

B. If a child is found to be delinquent, the court may impose a fine not to exceed the fine that could be imposed if the child were an adult and may enter its judgment making any of the following dispositions for the supervision, care and rehabilitation of the child:

(1) transfer legal custody to the department, an agency responsible for the care and rehabilitation of delinquent children, which shall receive the child at a facility designated by the secretary of the department as a juvenile reception facility. The department shall thereafter determine the appropriate placement, supervision and rehabilitation program for the child. The judge may include recommendations for placement of the child. Commitments are subject to limitations and modifications set forth in Section 32A-2-23 NMSA 1978. The types of commitments include:

(a) a short-term commitment of one year in a facility for the care and rehabilitation of adjudicated delinquent children. No more than nine months shall be served at the facility and no less than ninety days shall be served on supervised release, unless: 1) a petition to extend the commitment has been filed prior to the commencement of supervised release; 2) the commitment has been extended pursuant to Section 32A-2-23 NMSA 1978; or 3) supervised release is revoked pursuant to Section 32A-2-25 NMSA 1978;

(b) a long-term commitment for no more than two years in a facility for the care and rehabilitation of adjudicated delinquent children. No more than twenty-one months shall be served at the facility and no less than ninety days shall be served on supervised release, unless: 1) supervised release is revoked pursuant to Section 32A-2-25 NMSA 1978; or 2) the commitment is extended pursuant to Section 32A-2-23 NMSA 1978;

(c) if the child is a delinquent offender who committed one of the criminal offenses set forth in Subsection I of Section 32A-2-3 NMSA 1978, a commitment to age twenty-one, unless sooner discharged; or

(3) place the child in a local detention facility that has been certified in accordance with the provisions of Section 32A-2-4 NMSA 1978 for a period not to exceed fifteen days within a three hundred sixty-five day time period; or if a child is found to be delinquent solely on the basis of Paragraph (3) of Subsection A of Section 32A-2-3 NMSA 1978, the court shall only enter a judgment placing the child on probation or ordering restitution or imposing a fine not to exceed the fine that could be imposed if the child were an adult or any combination of these dispositions; or

(4) if a child is found to be delinquent solely on the basis of Paragraph (2), (3) or (4) of Subsection A of Section 32A-2-3 NMSA 1978, the court may make any disposition provided by this section and may enter its judgment placing the child on probation and, as a condition of probation, transfer custody of the child to the department for a period not to exceed six months without further order of the court; provided that this transfer shall not be made unless the court first determines that the department is able to provide or contract for adequate and appropriate treatment for the child and that the treatment is likely to be beneficial.

C. When the child is an Indian child, the Indian child's cultural needs shall be considered in the dispositional judgment and reasonable access to cultural practices and traditional treatment shall be provided.

D. A child found to be delinquent shall not be committed or transferred to a penal institution or other facility used for the execution of sentences of persons convicted of crimes.

E. Whenever the court vests legal custody in an agency, institution or department, it shall transmit with the dispositional judgment copies of the clinical reports, predisposition study and report and other information it has pertinent to the care and treatment of the child.

F. Prior to any child being placed in the custody of the department, the department shall be provided with reasonable oral or written notification and an opportunity to be heard.

G. In addition to any other disposition pursuant to Subsection B of this section, the court may make an abuse or neglect report for investigation and proceedings as provided for in the Abuse and Neglect Act. The report may be made to a local law enforcement agency, the department or a tribal law enforcement or social service agency for an Indian child residing in Indian country.

H. In addition to any other disposition pursuant to this section or any other penalty provided by law, if a child fifteen years of age or older is adjudicated delinquent on the basis of Paragraph (2), (3) or (4) of Subsection A of Section 32A-2-3 NMSA 1978, the child's driving privileges may be denied or the child's driver's license may be revoked for a period of ninety days. For a second or a subsequent adjudication, the child's driving privileges may be denied or the child's driver's license revoked for a period of one year. Within twenty-four hours of the dispositional judgment, the court may send to the motor vehicle division of the taxation and revenue department the order adjudicating delinquency. Upon receipt of an order from the court adjudicating delinquency, the director of the motor vehicle division of the taxation and revenue department may revoke or deny the delinquent's driver's license or driving privileges. Nothing in this section may prohibit the delinquent from applying for a limited driving privilege pursuant to Section 66-5-35 NMSA 1978 or an ignition interlock license pursuant to the Ignition Interlock Licensing Act, and nothing in this section precludes the delinquent's participation in an appropriate educational, counseling or rehabilitation program.

I. In addition to any other disposition pursuant to this section or any other penalty provided by law, when a child is adjudicated delinquent on the basis of Paragraph (6) of Subsection A of Section 32A-2-3 NMSA 1978, the child shall perform the mandatory community service set forth in Section 30-15-1.1 NMSA 1978. When a child fails to completely perform the mandatory community service, the name and address of the child's parent or legal guardian shall be published in a newspaper of general circulation, accompanied by a notice that the parent or legal guardian is the parent or legal guardian of a child adjudicated delinquent for committing graffiti."

Chapter 239 Section 21 Laws 2009

"32A-2-20. DISPOSITION OF A YOUTHFUL OFFENDER.--

A. The court has the discretion to invoke either an adult sentence or juvenile sanctions on a youthful offender. The children's court attorney shall file a notice of intent to invoke an adult sentence within ten working days of the filing of the petition, provided that the court may extend the time for filing of the notice of intent to invoke an adult sentence, for good cause shown, prior to the adjudicatory hearing. A preliminary hearing by the court or a hearing before a grand jury shall be held, within ten days after the filing of the intent to invoke an adult sentence, to determine whether probable cause exists to support the allegations contained in the petition.

B. If the children's court attorney has filed a notice of intent to invoke an adult sentence and the child is adjudicated as a youthful offender, the court shall make the following findings in order to invoke an adult sentence:

(1) the child is not amenable to treatment or rehabilitation as a child in available facilities; and

(2) the child is not eligible for commitment to an institution for children with developmental disabilities or mental disorders.

C. In making the findings set forth in Subsection B of this section, the judge shall consider the following factors:

(1) the seriousness of the alleged offense;

(2) whether the alleged offense was committed in an aggressive, violent, premeditated or willful manner;

(3) whether a firearm was used to commit the alleged offense;

(4) whether the alleged offense was against persons or against property, greater weight being given to offenses against persons, especially if personal injury resulted;

(5) the maturity of the child as determined by consideration of the child's home, environmental situation, social and emotional health, pattern of living, brain development, trauma history and disability;

(6) the record and previous history of the child;

(7) the prospects for adequate protection of the public and the likelihood of reasonable rehabilitation of the child by the use of procedures, services and facilities currently available; and

(8) any other relevant factor, provided that factor is stated on the record.

D. If a child has previously been sentenced as an adult pursuant to the provisions of this section, there shall be a rebuttable presumption that the child is not amenable to treatment or rehabilitation as a child in available facilities.

E. If the court invokes an adult sentence, the court may sentence the child to less than, but shall not exceed, the mandatory adult sentence. A youthful offender given an adult sentence shall be treated as an adult offender and shall be transferred to the legal custody of an agency responsible for incarceration of persons sentenced to adult sentences. This transfer terminates the jurisdiction of the court over the child with respect to the delinquent acts alleged in the petition.

F. If a juvenile disposition is appropriate, the court shall follow the provisions set forth in Section 32A-2-19 NMSA 1978. A youthful offender may be subject to extended commitment in the care of the department until the age of twenty-one, pursuant to the provisions of Section 32A-2-23 NMSA 1978.

G. A child fourteen years of age or older, charged with first degree murder, but not convicted of first degree murder and found to have committed a youthful offender offense as set forth in Subsection I of Section 32A-2-3 NMSA 1978, is subject to the dispositions set forth in this section.

H. A child fourteen years of age or older charged with first degree murder, but found to have committed a delinquent act that is neither first degree murder nor a youthful offender offense as set forth in Subsection I of Section 32A-2-3 NMSA 1978, shall be adjudicated as a delinquent subject to the dispositions set forth in Section 32A-2-19 NMSA 1978."

Chapter 239 Section 22 Laws 2009

Section 22. Section 32A-2-23 NMSA 1978 (being Laws 1993, Chapter 77, Section 52, as amended) is amended to read:

"32A-2-23. LIMITATIONS ON DISPOSITIONAL JUDGMENTS--MODIFICATION--TERMINATION OR EXTENSION OF COURT ORDERS.--

A. A judgment transferring legal custody of an adjudicated delinquent child to an agency responsible for the care and rehabilitation of delinquent children divests the court of jurisdiction at the time of transfer of custody, unless the transfer of legal custody is for a commitment not exceeding fifteen days pursuant to the provisions of Section 32A-2-19 NMSA 1978, in which case the court retains jurisdiction.

B. A judgment of probation or protective supervision shall remain in force for an indeterminate period not to exceed the term of commitment from the date entered.

C. A child shall be released by an agency and probation or supervision shall be terminated by juvenile probation and parole services or the agency providing supervision when it appears that the purpose of the order has been achieved before the expiration of the period of the judgment. A release or termination and the reasons therefor shall be reported promptly to the court in writing by the releasing authority.

D. Prior to the expiration of a short-term commitment of one year, as provided for in Section 32A-2-19 NMSA 1978, the court may extend the judgment for up to one six-month period if the court finds that the extension is necessary to safeguard the welfare of the child or the public safety. If a short-term commitment is extended, the mandatory ninety-day supervised release, as required by Section 32A-2-19 NMSA 1978, shall be included in the extension. Notice and hearing are required for any extension of a juvenile's commitment.

E. Prior to the expiration of a long-term commitment, as provided for in Section 32A-2-19 NMSA 1978, the court may extend the judgment for additional periods of one year until the child reaches the age of twenty-one if the court finds that the extension is necessary to safeguard the welfare of the child or the public safety. If a long-term commitment is extended, the mandatory ninety-day supervised release, as required by Section 32A-2-19 NMSA 1978, shall be included in the extension. Notice and hearing are required for any extension of a juvenile's commitment.

F. Prior to the expiration of a judgment of probation, the court may extend the judgment for an additional period of one year until the child reaches the age of twenty-one if the court finds that the extension is necessary to protect the community or to safeguard the welfare of the child.

G. The court may dismiss a motion if it finds after preliminary investigation that the motion is without substance. If the court is of the opinion that the matter should be reviewed, it may, upon notice to all necessary parties, proceed to a hearing in the manner provided for hearings on petitions alleging delinquency. The court may terminate a judgment if it finds that the child is no longer in need of care, supervision or rehabilitation or it may enter a judgment extending or modifying the original judgment if it finds that action necessary to safeguard the child or the public interest.

H. A child may make a motion to modify a children's court or adult disposition within thirty days of the judge's decision. If the court is of the opinion that the matter should be reviewed, it may, upon notice to all necessary parties, proceed to a hearing in the manner provided for hearings on petitions alleging delinquency.

I. The department may seek a bench warrant from the court when the child absconds from supervised release."

Chapter 239 Section 23 Laws 2009

Section 23. A new Section 32A-2-23.1 NMSA 1978 is enacted to read:

"32A-2-23.1. RELEASE ELIGIBILITY.--

A. The department shall have exclusive jurisdiction and authority to release an adjudicated delinquent child during the term of the child's commitment, consistent with the provisions of the Victims of Crime Act. In determining whether to release a child, the department shall give due consideration to public safety, the extent to which the child has been rehabilitated, the adequacy and suitability of the proposed release plan and the needs and best interests of the child, including the child's need for behavioral health or medical services that are not available in facilities for adjudicated delinquent children.

B. The decision to grant or deny release shall be made by the secretary of children, youth and families or the secretary's designee. The department may impose such conditions of release as it deems appropriate.

C. A child is eligible for release any time after the entry of a judgment transferring legal custody to the department, and the department may consider a reasonable request for release from the child at any time sixty days after the child has been committed.

D. In the event release for a child is denied by the department after release is recommended for the child by the juvenile public safety advisory board, or release is approved by the department after the board has recommended that the child not be released, within ten days, the board may request a review of the decision by the court of the judicial district from which legal custody of the child was transferred, and the department shall transmit the child's records to the court. The court shall have jurisdiction to review the matter without conducting a formal hearing and to issue an order that either denies or grants release to the child. If the board requests review under this section, the child shall not be released until such time as the court has issued a decision. If the board does not petition the district court for review of the department's decision to grant or deny release within ten days of the department's decision, the department's decision shall be final, and the department shall release the child or continue the commitment in accordance with the terms of its decision.

E. The secretary of children, youth and families or the secretary's designee may review the case of any child upon the child's or the juvenile public safety advisory board's reasonable request at any time after release is denied."

When the department determines that a child is ready to be released, it shall provide a list of children to the juvenile public safety advisory board at least thirty-five days prior to the next regularly scheduled release consideration meeting. The department shall ensure that all other notifications of a pending release proceeding are accomplished consistent with the provisions of the Victims of Crime Act.

B. Release consideration meetings shall be held at least quarterly, are not open to the public and shall include the child, a quorum of the board and a representative of the department. The child's attorney shall receive notice and may be present at the release meeting."

Chapter 239 Section 25 Laws 2009

Section 25. Section 32A-2-24 NMSA 1978 (being Laws 1993, Chapter 77, Section 53) is amended to read:

"32A-2-24. PROBATION REVOCATION--DISPOSITION.--

A. A child on probation incident to an adjudication as a delinquent child who violates a term of the probation may be proceeded against in a probation revocation proceeding. A proceeding to revoke probation shall be begun by filing in the original proceeding a petition styled as a "petition to revoke probation". Petitions to revoke probation shall be screened, reviewed and prepared in the same manner and shall contain the same information as petitions alleging delinquency. Procedures of the Delinquency Act regarding taking into custody and detention shall apply. The petition shall state the terms of probation alleged to have been violated and the factual basis for these allegations.

B. The standard of proof in probation revocation proceedings shall be evidence beyond a reasonable doubt and the hearings shall be before the court without a jury. In all other respects, proceedings to revoke probation shall be governed by the procedures, rights and duties applicable to proceedings on a delinquency petition. If a child is found to have violated a term of the child's probation, the court may extend the period of probation or make any other judgment or disposition that would have been appropriate in the original disposition of the case."

A. On motion by or on behalf of a person who has been the subject of a delinquency petition or on the court's own motion, the court shall vacate its findings, orders and judgments on the petition and order the legal and social files and records of the court, probation services, and any other agency in the case sealed. If requested in the motion, the court shall also order law enforcement files and records sealed. An order sealing records and files shall be entered if the court finds that:

The court, law enforcement officers and departments and agencies shall reply, and the person may reply, to an inquiry that no record exists with respect to the person. Copies of the sealing order shall be sent to each agency or official named in the order.

D. Inspection of the files and records or the release of information in the records included in the sealing order may thereafter be permitted by the court only:

(2) in its discretion, in an individual case, to any clinic, hospital or agency that has the person under care or treatment or to other persons engaged in fact finding or research.

E. Any finding of delinquency or need of services or conviction of a crime subsequent to the sealing order may at the court's discretion be used by the court as a basis to set aside the sealing order.

F. A child who has been the subject of a petition filed pursuant to the provisions of the Delinquency Act shall be notified in writing by the department when the child reaches the age of eighteen or at the expiration of legal custody and supervision, whichever occurs later, that the department's records have been sealed and that the court, the children's court attorney, the child's attorney and the referring law enforcement agency have been notified that the child's records are subject sealing.

H. A child who is determined by the court not to be a delinquent offender shall have the child's files and records in the instant proceeding automatically sealed by the court upon motion by the children's court attorney at the conclusion of the proceedings.

B. Anyone reporting an instance of alleged child neglect or abuse or participating in a judicial proceeding brought as a result of a report required by Section 32A-4-3 NMSA 1978 is presumed to be acting in good faith and shall be immune from liability, civil or criminal, that might otherwise be incurred or imposed by the law, unless the person acted in bad faith or with malicious purpose.

If a law enforcement officer delivers a child to a medical facility, the officer shall immediately notify the department that the child has been placed in the department's legal custody.

B. When an alleged neglected or abused child is delivered to the department, a department caseworker shall review the need for placing the child in custody and shall release the child from custody unless custody is appropriate or has been ordered by the court. When a child is delivered to a medical facility, a department caseworker shall review the need for retention of custody within a reasonable time after delivery of the child to the facility and shall release the child from custody unless custody is appropriate or has been ordered by the court.

C. If a child is placed in the legal custody of the department and is not released to the child's parent, guardian or custodian, the department shall give written notice thereof as soon as possible, and in no case later than twenty-four hours, to the child's parent, guardian or custodian together with a statement of the reason for taking the child into custody.

D. Reasonable efforts shall be made to prevent or eliminate the need for removing the child from the child's home, with the paramount concern being the child's health and safety. In all cases when a child is taken into custody, the child shall be released to the child's parent, guardian or custodian, unless the department files a petition within two days from the date that the child was taken into custody.

E. The department may release the child at any time within the two-day period after the child was taken into custody if it is determined by the department that release is appropriate or if release has been ordered by the court."

B. When the child, by and through the child's guardian ad litem or attorney, files a motion and requests a court hearing to contest the proposed change, the department shall not change the child's placement pending the results of the court hearing, unless an emergency requires changing the child's placement prior to the hearing.

C. When a child's placement is changed without prior notice as provided for in Subsection A of this section, written notice shall be sent to the child's guardian ad litem or attorney, all parties, the child's CASA, the child's foster parents and the court within three days after the placement change.

"32A-4-18. CUSTODY HEARINGS--TIME LIMITATIONS--NOTICE--PROBABLE CAUSE.--

A. When a child alleged to be neglected or abused has been placed in the legal custody of the department or the department has petitioned the court for temporary custody, a custody hearing shall be held within ten days from the date the petition is filed to determine if the child should remain in or be placed in the department's custody pending adjudication. Upon written request of the respondent, the hearing may be held earlier, but in no event shall the hearing be held sooner than two days after the date the petition was filed.

B. The parent, guardian or custodian of the child alleged to be abused or neglected shall be given reasonable notice of the time and place of the custody hearing.

C. At the custody hearing, the court shall return legal custody of the child to the child's parent, guardian or custodian unless probable cause exists to believe that:

(1) the child is suffering from an illness or injury, and the parent, guardian or custodian is not providing adequate care for the child;

(2) the child is in immediate danger from the child's surroundings, and removal from those surroundings is necessary for the child's safety or well-being;

(3) the child will be subject to injury by others if not placed in the custody of the department;

(4) there has been an abandonment of the child by the child's parent, guardian or custodian; or

(5) the parent, guardian or custodian is not able or willing to provide adequate supervision and care for the child.

D. At the conclusion of the custody hearing, if the court determines that probable cause exists pursuant to Subsection C of this section, the court may:

(1) return legal custody of the child to the child's parent, guardian or custodian upon such conditions as will reasonably ensure the safety and well-being of the child, including protective supervision by the department; or

(2) award legal custody of the child to the department.

E. Reasonable efforts shall be made to preserve and reunify the family, with the paramount concern being the child's health and safety.

F. At the conclusion of the custody hearing, if the court determines that probable cause does not exist pursuant to Subsection C of this section, the court shall:

(1) retain jurisdiction and, unless the court permits otherwise, order that the respondent and child remain in the jurisdiction of the court pending the adjudication;

(2) return legal custody of the child to the child's parent, guardian or custodian with conditions to provide for the safety and well-being of the child; and

(3) order that the child's parent, guardian or custodian allow the child necessary contact with the child's guardian ad litem or attorney.

G. At the conclusion of the custody hearing, the court may order the respondent or the child alleged to be neglected or abused, or both, to undergo appropriate diagnostic examinations or evaluations. If the court determines that probable cause does not exist, the court may order the respondent or the child alleged to be neglected or abused, or both, to undergo appropriate diagnostic examinations or evaluations as necessary to protect the child's best interests, based upon the allegations in the petition and the evidence presented at the custody hearing. Copies of any diagnostic or evaluation reports ordered by the court shall be provided to the parties at least five days before the adjudicatory hearing is scheduled. The reports shall not be sent to the court.

H. The Rules of Evidence shall not apply to custody hearings.

I. Nothing in this section shall be construed to abridge the rights of Indian children pursuant to the federal Indian Child Welfare Act of 1978."

Chapter 239 Section 39 Laws 2009

Section 39. Section 32A-4-19 NMSA 1978 (being Laws 1993, Chapter 77, Section 113, as amended) is amended to read:

"32A-4-19. ADJUDICATORY HEARINGS--TIME LIMITATIONS.--

C. The children's court attorney shall represent the state at the adjudicatory hearing.

D. When the adjudicatory hearing on any petition is not commenced within the time period specified in Subsection A of this section or within the period of any extension granted, the petition shall be dismissed with prejudice."

Chapter 239 Section 40 Laws 2009

Section 40. Section 32A-4-20 NMSA 1978 (being Laws 1993, Chapter 77, Section 114, as amended) is amended to read:

"32A-4-20. CONDUCT OF HEARINGS--FINDINGS--DISMISSAL--
DISPOSITIONAL MATTERS--PENALTY.--

A. The proceedings shall be recorded by stenographic notes or by electronic, mechanical or other appropriate means.

B. All abuse and neglect hearings shall be closed to the general public.

C. Only the parties, their counsel, witnesses and other persons approved by the court may be present at a closed hearing. The foster parent, preadoptive parent or relative providing care for the child shall be given notice and an opportunity to be heard at the dispositional phase. Those other persons the court finds to have a proper interest in the case or in the work of the court may be admitted by the court to closed hearings on the condition that they refrain from divulging any information that would identify the child or family involved in the proceedings.

D. Accredited representatives of the news media shall be allowed to be present at closed hearings, subject to the condition that they refrain from divulging information that would identify any child involved in the proceedings or the parent, guardian or custodian of that child and subject to enabling regulations as the court finds necessary for the maintenance of order and decorum and for the furtherance of the purposes of the Children's Code. A child who is the subject of an abuse and neglect proceeding and is present at a hearing may object to the presence of the media. The court may exclude the media if it finds that the presence of the media is contrary to the best interests of the child.

E. If the court finds that it is in the best interest of a child under fourteen years of age, the child may be excluded from a hearing under the Abuse and Neglect Act. A child fourteen years of age or older may be excluded from a hearing only if the court makes a finding that there is a compelling reason to exclude the child and states the factual basis for the finding.

F. Those persons or parties granted admission to a closed hearing who intentionally divulge information in violation of this section are guilty of a petty misdemeanor.

G. The court shall determine if the allegations of the petition are admitted or denied. If the allegations are denied, the court shall proceed to hear evidence on the petition. The court, after hearing all of the evidence bearing on the allegations of neglect or abuse, shall make and record its findings on whether the child is a neglected child, an abused child or both. If the petition alleges that the parent, guardian or custodian has subjected the child to aggravated circumstances, then the court shall also make and record its findings on whether the aggravated circumstances have been proven.

H. If the court finds on the basis of a valid admission of the allegations of the petition or on the basis of clear and convincing evidence, competent, material and relevant in nature, that the child is neglected or abused, the court may proceed immediately or at a postponed hearing to make disposition of the case. If the court does not find that the child is neglected or abused, the court shall dismiss the petition and may refer the family to the department for appropriate services.

I. In that part of the hearings held under the Children's Code on dispositional issues, all relevant and material evidence helpful in determining the questions presented, including oral and written reports, may be received by the court and may be relied upon to the extent of its probative value even though not competent had it been offered during the part of the hearings on adjudicatory issues.

J. On the court's motion or that of a party, the court may continue the hearing on the petition for a period not to exceed thirty days to receive reports and other evidence in connection with disposition. The court shall continue the hearing pending the receipt of the predisposition study and report if that document has not been prepared and received. During any continuances under this subsection, the court shall make an appropriate order for legal custody."

Chapter 239 Section 41 Laws 2009

Section 41. Section 32A-4-21 NMSA 1978 (being Laws 1993, Chapter 77, Section 115, as amended) is amended to read:

(2) a statement of how an intervention plan is designed to achieve placement of the child in the least restrictive setting available, consistent with the best interests and special needs of the child, including a statement of the likely harm the child may suffer as a result of being removed from the parent's home, including emotional harm that may result due to separation from the child's parents, and a statement of how the intervention plan is designed to place the child in close proximity to the parent's home without causing harm to the child due to separation from parents, siblings or any other person who may significantly affect the child's best interest;

(3) the wishes of the child as to the child's custodian;

(4) whether the child has a family member who, subsequent to study by the department, is determined to be qualified to care for the child;

(5) a description of services offered to the child, the child's family and the child's foster care family and a summary of reasonable efforts made to prevent removal of the child from the child's family or reasonable efforts made to reunite the child with the child's family;

(6) a description of the home or facility in which the child is placed and the appropriateness of the child's placement;

(7) the results of any diagnostic examination or evaluation ordered at the custody hearing;

(8) a statement of the child's medical and educational background;

(9) if the child is an Indian child, whether the placement preferences set forth in the federal Indian Child Welfare Act of 1978 or the placement preferences of the child's Indian tribe were followed and whether the child's treatment plan provides for maintaining the child's cultural ties;

(10) a treatment plan that sets forth steps to ensure that the child's physical, medical, psychological and educational needs are met and that sets forth services to be provided to the child and the child's parents to facilitate permanent placement of the child in the parent's home;

(11) for children sixteen years of age and older, a plan for developing the specific skills the child requires for successful transition into independent living as an adult, regardless of whether the child is returned to the child's parent's home; and

(12) a treatment plan that sets forth steps to ensure that the child's educational needs are met and, for a child fourteen years of age or older, a treatment plan that specifically sets forth the child's educational and post-secondary goals; and

(13) a description of the child's foster care placement and whether it is appropriate in terms of the educational setting and proximity to the school the child was enrolled in at the time of the placement, including plans for travel for the child to remain in the school in which the child was enrolled at the time of placement, if reasonable and in the child's best interest.

C. A copy of the predisposition report shall be provided by the department to counsel for all parties five days before the dispositional hearing.

D. If the child is an adjudicated abused child, any temporary custody orders shall remain in effect until the court has received and considered the predispositional study at the dispositional hearing."

Chapter 239 Section 42 Laws 2009

Section 42. Section 32A-4-22 NMSA 1978 (being Laws 1993, Chapter 77, Section 116, as amended) is amended to read:

"32A-4-22. DISPOSITION OF ADJUDICATED ABUSED OR NEGLECTED CHILD.--

A. If not held in conjunction with the adjudicatory hearing, the dispositional hearing shall be commenced within thirty days after the conclusion of the adjudicatory hearing. At the conclusion of the dispositional hearing, the court shall make and include in the dispositional judgment its findings on the following:

(1) the interaction and interrelationship of the child with the child's parent, siblings and any other person who may significantly affect the child's best interest;

(2) the child's adjustment to the child's home, school and community;

(3) the mental and physical health of all individuals involved;

(4) the wishes of the child as to the child's placement;

(5) the wishes of the child's parent, guardian or custodian as to the child's custody;

(6) whether there exists a relative of the child or other individual who, after study by the department, is found to be qualified to receive and care for the child;

(7) the availability of services recommended in the treatment plan prepared as a part of the predisposition study in accordance with the provisions of Section 32A-4-21 NMSA 1978;

(8) the ability of the parent to care for the child in the home so that no harm will result to the child;

(9) whether reasonable efforts were used by the department to prevent removal of the child from the home prior to placement in substitute care and whether reasonable efforts were used to attempt reunification of the child with the natural parent;

(10) whether reasonable efforts were made by the department to place siblings in custody together, unless such joint placement would be contrary to the safety or well-being of any of the siblings in custody, and whether any siblings not jointly placed have been provided reasonable visitation or other ongoing interaction, unless visitation or other ongoing interaction would be contrary to the safety or well-being of any of the siblings; and

(11) if the child is an Indian child, whether the placement preferences set forth in the federal Indian Child Welfare Act of 1978 or the placement preferences of the child's Indian tribe have been followed and whether the Indian child's treatment plan provides for maintaining the Indian child's cultural ties. When placement preferences have not been followed, good cause for noncompliance shall be clearly stated and supported.

B. If a child is found to be neglected or abused, the court may enter its judgment making any of the following dispositions to protect the welfare of the child:

(1) permit the child to remain with the child's parent, guardian or custodian, subject to those conditions and limitations the court may prescribe;

(2) place the child under protective supervision of the department;

or

(3) transfer legal custody of the child to any of the following:

(a) the noncustodial parent, if it is found to be in the child's best interest;

(b) an agency responsible for the care of neglected or abused children; or

(c) a child-placement agency willing and able to assume responsibility for the education, care and maintenance of the child and licensed or otherwise authorized by law to receive and provide care for the child.

C. If a child is found to be neglected or abused, in its dispositional judgment the court shall also order the department to implement and the child's parent, guardian or custodian to cooperate with any treatment plan approved by the court.

Reasonable efforts shall be made to preserve and reunify the family, with the paramount concern being the child's health and safety. The court may determine that reasonable efforts are not required to be made when the court finds that:

(1) the efforts would be futile; or

(2) the parent, guardian or custodian has subjected the child to aggravated circumstances.

D. Any parent, guardian or custodian of a child who is placed in the legal custody of the department or other person pursuant to Subsection B of this section shall have reasonable rights of visitation with the child as determined by the court, unless the court finds that the best interests of the child preclude any visitation.

E. The court may order reasonable visitation between a child placed in the custody of the department and the child's siblings or any other person who may significantly affect the child's best interest, if the court finds the visitation to be in the child's best interest.

F. Unless a child found to be neglected or abused is also found to be delinquent, the child shall not be confined in an institution established for the long-term care and rehabilitation of delinquent children.

G. When the court vests legal custody in an agency, institution or department, the court shall transmit with the dispositional judgment copies of the clinical reports, the predisposition study and report and any other information it has pertinent to the care and treatment of the child.

H. Prior to a child being placed in the custody or protective supervision of the department, the department shall be provided with reasonable oral or written notification and an opportunity to be heard. At any hearing held pursuant to this subsection, the department may appear as a party.

I. When a child is placed in the custody of the department, the department shall investigate whether the child is eligible for enrollment as a member of an Indian tribe and, if so, the department shall pursue the enrollment on the child's behalf.

J. When the court determines pursuant to Subsection C of this section that no reasonable efforts at reunification are required, the court shall conduct, within thirty days, a permanency hearing as described in Section 32A-4-25.1 NMSA 1978. Reasonable efforts shall be made to implement and finalize the permanency plan in a timely manner."

Chapter 239 Section 43 Laws 2009

Section 43. A new Section 32A-4-23.1 NMSA 1978 is enacted to read:

"32A-4-23.1. DISPOSITION OF AN UNDOCUMENTED IMMIGRANT CHILD IN A PROCEEDING UNDER THE ABUSE AND NEGLECT ACT.--

A. Whenever the court adjudicates that a child is abused or neglected, the department shall determine the child's immigration status. At the first judicial review, the department shall report the child's immigration status to the court. Services to children alleged to have been abused, neglected or abandoned must be provided without regard to the immigration status of the child except where immigration status is explicitly set forth as a statutory or regulatory condition of coverage or eligibility.

B. If the child is an undocumented immigrant, the department shall include in the treatment plan a recommendation as to whether the permanency plan for the child includes reuniting the child with the child's parents and whether it is in the child's best interest to be returned to the child's country of origin. If the permanency plan does not include reunification and the department does not recommend that the child be returned to the country of origin, the department shall determine whether the child may be eligible for special immigrant juvenile status under federal law.

C. If the child is eligible for special immigrant juvenile status, the department shall move the court for a special immigrant juvenile status order containing the necessary findings to establish that the child meets the criteria for federal special immigrant juvenile status. The department's motion shall include a statement of the express wishes of the child, as expressed by the child or the child's guardian ad litem or attorney.

D. After consultation with the child and the child's guardian ad litem or attorney, the department shall determine whether the child's best interests would be served by the filing of a petition for special immigrant juvenile status and application for adjustment of status and if in the child's best interest, within sixty days after an entry of the special immigrant juvenile status order, the department shall file a petition for special immigrant juvenile status and an application for adjustment of status on behalf of the child.

E. If a petition and application have been filed and the petition and application have not been granted by the time the child reaches eighteen years of age, the court may retain jurisdiction over the case for the sole purpose of ensuring that the child continues to satisfy the requirements for classification as a special immigrant juvenile.

F. Review hearings for the child shall be set solely for the purpose of confirming that the child continues to satisfy such requirements and determining the status of the petition and application.

G. The court's jurisdiction terminates upon the final decision of the federal authorities.

H. Retention of jurisdiction in this instance does not affect the transition services available to the child.

I. The court may not retain jurisdiction of the case after the immigrant child's twenty-first birthday.

J. In a judicial review report provided to the court for a child for whom the court has granted the special immigrant juvenile status order described in Subsection C of this section, the court shall be advised of the status of the petition and application process concerning the child."

Chapter 239 Section 44 Laws 2009

Section 44. Section 32A-4-24 NMSA 1978 (being Laws 1993, Chapter 77, Section 118) is amended to read:

"32A-4-24. LIMITATIONS ON DISPOSITIONAL JUDGMENTS--MODIFICATION, TERMINATION OR EXTENSION OF COURT ORDERS.--

A. A judgment vesting legal custody of a child in an agency shall remain in force for an indeterminate period not exceeding two years from the date entered.

B. A judgment vesting legal custody of a child in an individual, other than the child's parent or permanent guardian, shall remain in force for two years from the date entered, unless sooner terminated by court order.

C. A judgment vesting legal custody of a child in the child's parent or a permanent guardian shall remain in force for an indeterminate period from the date entered until terminated by court order or until the child is emancipated or reaches the age of majority.

D. At any time prior to expiration, a judgment vesting legal custody or granting protective supervision may be modified, revoked or extended on motion by any party, including the child by and through the child's guardian ad litem.

E. Prior to the expiration of a judgment transferring legal custody to an agency, the court may extend the judgment for additional periods of one year if it finds that the extension is necessary to safeguard the welfare of the child or the public interest.

F. When a child reaches eighteen years of age, all neglect and abuse orders affecting the child then in force automatically terminate except as provided in Section 32A-4-23.1 NMSA 1978 and Subsection D of Section 32A-4-25.3 NMSA 1978. The termination of the orders shall not disqualify a child from eligibility for transitional services."

Chapter 239 Section 45 Laws 2009

"32A-4-25. PERIODIC REVIEW OF DISPOSITIONAL JUDGMENTS.--

A. The initial judicial review shall be held within sixty days of the disposition. At the initial review, the parties shall demonstrate to the court efforts made to implement the treatment plan approved by the court in its dispositional order. The court shall determine the extent to which the treatment plan has been implemented and make supplemental orders as necessary to ensure compliance with the treatment plan and the safety of the child. Prior to the initial judicial review, the department shall submit a copy of the adjudicatory order, the dispositional order and notice of the initial judicial review to the local substitute care review board for that judicial district created under the Citizen Substitute Care Review Act. A representative of the local substitute care review board shall be permitted to attend and comment to the court.

B. Subsequent periodic reviews of dispositional orders shall be held within six months of the conclusion of the permanency hearing or, if a motion has been filed for termination of parental rights or permanent guardianship, within six months of the decision on that motion and every six months thereafter. Prior to the review, the department shall submit a progress report to the local substitute care review board for that judicial district created under the Citizen Substitute Care Review Act. Prior to any judicial review by the court pursuant to this section, the local substitute care review board may review the dispositional order or the continuation of the order and the department's progress report and report its findings and recommendations to the court. The review may be carried out by either of the following:

(1) a judicial review hearing conducted by the court; or

(2) a judicial review hearing conducted by a special master appointed by the court; provided, however, that the court approve any findings made by the special master.

C. The children's court attorney shall give notice to all parties, including the child by and through the child's guardian ad litem or attorney, the child's CASA, a contractor administering the local substitute care review board and the child's foster parent or substitute care provider of the time, place and purpose of any judicial review hearing held pursuant to Subsection A or B of this section.

D. At any judicial review hearing held pursuant to Subsection B of this section, the department, the child's guardian ad litem or attorney and all parties given notice pursuant to Subsection C of this section shall have the opportunity to present evidence and to cross-examine witnesses. At the hearing, the department shall show that it has made reasonable effort to implement any treatment plan approved by the court in its dispositional order and shall present a treatment plan consistent with the purposes of the Children's Code for any period of extension of the dispositional order. The respondent shall demonstrate to the court that efforts to comply with the treatment plan approved by the court in its dispositional order and efforts to maintain contact with the child were diligent and made in good faith. The court shall determine the extent of compliance with the treatment plan and whether progress is being made toward establishing a stable and permanent placement for the child.

E. The Rules of Evidence shall not apply to hearings held pursuant to this section. The court may admit testimony by any person given notice of the hearing who has information about the status of the child or the status of the treatment plan.

F. At the conclusion of any hearing held pursuant to this section, the court shall make findings of fact and conclusions of law.

G. When the child is an Indian child, the court shall determine during review of a dispositional order whether the placement preferences set forth in the federal Indian Child Welfare Act of 1978 or the placement preferences of the child's Indian tribe were followed and whether the child's treatment plan provides for maintaining the child's cultural ties. When placement preferences have not been followed, good cause for noncompliance shall be clearly stated and supported.

H. Based on its findings at a judicial review hearing held pursuant to Subsection B of this section, the court shall order one of the following dispositions:

(1) dismiss the action and return the child to the child's parent without supervision if the court finds that conditions in the home that led to abuse have been corrected and it is now safe for the return of the abused child;

(2) permit the child to remain with the child's parent, guardian or custodian subject to those conditions and limitations the court may prescribe, including protective supervision of the child by the department;

(3) return the child to the child's parent and place the child under the protective supervision of the department;

(4) transfer or continue legal custody of the child to:

(a) the noncustodial parent, if that is found to be in the child's best interests;

(b) a relative or other individual who, after study by the department or other agency designated by the court, is found by the court to be qualified to receive and care for the child and is appointed as a permanent guardian of the child; or

(c) the department, subject to the provisions of Paragraph (6) of this subsection;

(5) continue the child in the legal custody of the department with or without any required parental involvement in a treatment plan. Reasonable efforts shall be made to preserve and reunify the family, with the paramount concern being the child's health and safety unless the court finds that such efforts are not required. The court may determine that reasonable efforts are not required to be made when the court finds that:

(a) the efforts would be futile; or

(b) the parent, guardian or custodian has subjected the child to aggravated circumstances;

(6) make additional orders regarding the treatment plan or placement of the child to protect the child's best interests if the court determines the department has failed in implementing any material provision of the treatment plan or abused its discretion in the placement or proposed placement of the child; or

(7) if during a judicial review the court finds that the child's parent, guardian or custodian has not complied with the court-ordered treatment plan, the court may order:

(a) the child's parent, guardian or custodian to show cause why the parent, guardian or custodian should not be held in contempt of court; or

(b) a hearing on the merits of terminating parental rights.

I. Dispositional orders entered pursuant to this section shall remain in force for a period of six months, except for orders that provide for transfer of the child to the child's noncustodial parent or to a permanent guardian.

J. The report of the local substitute care review board submitted to the court pursuant to Subsection B of this section shall become a part of the child's permanent court record.

K. When the court determines, pursuant to Paragraph (5) of Subsection H of this section, that no reasonable efforts at reunification are required, the court shall conduct, within thirty days, a permanency hearing as described in Section 32A-4-25.1 NMSA 1978. Reasonable efforts shall be made to place the child in a timely manner in accordance with the permanency plan and to complete whatever steps are necessary to finalize the permanent placement of the child."

Chapter 239 Section 46 Laws 2009

Section 46. Section 32A-4-25.1 NMSA 1978 (being Laws 1997, Chapter 34, Section 8, as amended) is amended to read:

"32A-4-25.1. PERMANENCY HEARINGS--PERMANENCY REVIEW HEARINGS.--

A. A permanency hearing shall be commenced within six months of the initial judicial review of a child's dispositional order or within twelve months of a child entering foster care pursuant to Subsection D of this section, whichever occurs first. Prior to the initial permanency hearing, all parties to the hearing shall attend a mandatory meeting and attempt to settle issues attendant to the permanency hearing and develop a proposed treatment plan that serves the child's best interest. Prior to the initial permanency hearing, the department shall submit a progress report regarding the child to the local substitute care review board for that judicial district. The local substitute care review board may review the child's dispositional order, any continuation of that order and the department's progress report and report its findings and recommendations to the court.

B. At the permanency hearing, all parties shall have the opportunity to present evidence and to cross-examine witnesses. At the conclusion of the permanency hearing, the court shall order one of the following permanency plans for the child:

(1) reunification;

(2) placement for adoption after the parents' rights have been relinquished or terminated or after a motion has been filed to terminate parental rights;

(3) placement with a person who will be the child's permanent guardian;

(4) placement in the legal custody of the department with the child placed in the home of a fit and willing relative; or

(5) placement in the legal custody of the department under a planned permanent living arrangement, provided that there is substantial evidence that none of the above plans is appropriate for the child.

C. If the court adopts a permanency plan of reunification, the court shall adopt a plan for transitioning the child home and schedule a permanency review hearing within three months. If the child is reunified, the subsequent hearing may be vacated.

D. If the court adopts a permanency plan other than reunification, the court shall determine whether the department has made reasonable efforts to identify and locate all grandparents and other relatives. The court shall also determine whether the department has made reasonable efforts to conduct home studies on any appropriate relative expressing an interest in providing permanency for the child. The court must ensure the consideration has been given to the child's familial identity and connections. If the court finds that reasonable efforts have not been made to identify or locate grandparents and other relatives or to conduct home studies on appropriate and willing relatives, the court shall schedule a permanency review within sixty days to determine whether an appropriate relative placement has been made. If a relative placement is made, the subsequent hearing may be vacated.

E. At the permanency review hearing, all parties and the child's guardian ad litem or attorney shall have the opportunity to present evidence and cross-examine witnesses. Based on the evidence, the court shall:

(1) change the plan from reunification to one of the alternative plans provided in Subsection B of this section;

(2) dismiss the case and return custody of the child to the child's parent, guardian or custodian; or

(3) return the child to the custody of the child's parent, guardian or custodian, subject to any conditions or limitations as the court may prescribe, including protective supervision of the child by the department and continuation of the treatment plan for not more than six months, after which the case shall be dismissed. The department may seek removal of a child from the home by obtaining an order in the pending case or by seeking emergency removal under Section 32A-4-6 NMSA 1978 during the period of protective supervision if the child's best interest requires such action. When a child is removed in this situation, a permanency hearing shall be scheduled within thirty days of the child coming back into the department's legal custody.

F. The court shall hold a permanency hearing and adopt a permanency plan for a child within twelve months of the child entering foster care. For purposes of this section, a child shall be considered to have entered foster care on the earlier of:

(1) the date of the first judicial finding that the child has been abused or neglected; or

(2) sixty days after the date on which the child was removed from the home.

G. The court shall hold permanency hearings every twelve months when a child is in the legal custody of the department.

H. The children's court attorney shall give notice to all parties, including the child by and through the child's guardian ad litem or attorney, the child's CASA, a contractor administering the local substitute care review board and the child's foster parent or substitute care provider of the time, place and purpose of any permanency hearing or permanency review hearing held pursuant to this section.

I. The rules of evidence shall not apply to permanency hearings. The court may admit testimony by any person given notice of the permanency hearing who has information about the status of the child or the status of the treatment plan. All testimony shall be subject to cross-examination."

Chapter 239 Section 47 Laws 2009

Section 47. A new Section 32A-4-25.2 NMSA 1978 is enacted to read:

"32A-4-25.2. TRANSITION SERVICES.--

A. Prior to a child's reaching seventeen years of age, the department shall meet with the child, the child's attorney and others of the child's choosing, including biological family members, to develop a transition plan. The department shall assist the child in identifying and planning to meet the child's needs after the child's eighteenth birthday, including housing, education, employment or income, health and mental health, local opportunities for mentors and continuing support services.

B. The department shall present the child's proposed transition plan to the court at the first hearing scheduled after the child's seventeenth birthday.

C. The court shall order a transition plan for the child. The transition plan approved by the court shall be reviewed at every subsequent review and permanency hearing."

Chapter 239 Section 48 Laws 2009

Section 48. A new Section 32A-4-25.3 NMSA 1978 is enacted to read:

"32A-4-25.3. DISCHARGE HEARING.--

A. At the last review or permanency hearing held prior to the child's eighteenth birthday, the court shall review the transition plan and shall determine whether the department has made reasonable efforts to implement the requirements of Subsection B of this section.

B. The court shall determine:

(1) whether written information concerning the child's family history, the whereabouts of any sibling if appropriate and education and health records have been provided to the child;

(2) whether the child's social security card, certified birth certificate, state-issued identification card, death certificate of a parent and proof of citizenship or residence have been provided to the child;

(3) whether assistance in obtaining medicaid has been provided to the child, unless the child is ineligible for medicaid; and

(4) whether referral for a guardianship or limited guardianship if the child is incapacitated has been made.

C. If the court finds that the department has not made reasonable efforts to meet all the requirements of Subsection B of this section and that termination of jurisdiction would be harmful to the young adult, the court may continue to exercise its jurisdiction for a period not to exceed one year from the child's eighteenth birthday. The young adult must consent to continued jurisdiction of the court. The court may dismiss the case at any time after the child's eighteenth birthday for good cause."

Chapter 239 Section 49 Laws 2009

Section 49. Section 32A-4-29 NMSA 1978 (being Laws 1993, Chapter 77, Section 123, as amended) is amended to read:

"32A-4-29. TERMINATION PROCEDURE.--

A. A motion to terminate parental rights may be filed at any stage of the abuse or neglect proceeding by a party to the proceeding.

B. The motion for termination of parental rights shall set forth:

(1) the date, place of birth and marital status of the child, if known;

(2) the grounds for termination and the facts and circumstances supporting the grounds for termination;

(3) the names and addresses of the persons or authorized agency or agency officer to whom legal custody might be transferred;

(4) whether the child resides or has resided with a foster parent who desires to adopt this child;

(5) whether the motion is in contemplation of adoption;

(6) the relationship or legitimate interest of the moving party to the child; and

(7) whether the child is subject to the federal Indian Child Welfare Act of 1978 and, if so:

(a) the tribal affiliations of the child's parents;

(b) the specific actions taken by the moving party to notify the parents' tribes and the results of the contacts, including the names, addresses, titles and telephone numbers of the persons contacted. Copies of any correspondence with the tribes shall be attached as exhibits to the petition; and

(c) what specific efforts were made to comply with the placement preferences set forth in the federal Indian Child Welfare Act of 1978 or the placement preferences of the appropriate Indian tribes.

C. Notice of the filing of the motion, accompanied by a copy of the motion, shall be served by the moving party on all other parties, the foster parent, preadoptive parent or relative providing care for the child with whom the child is residing, foster parents with whom the child has resided for six months within the previous twelve months, the custodian of the child, any person appointed to represent any party and any other person the court orders. Service shall be in accordance with the Children's Court Rules for the service of motions, except that foster parents and attorneys of record in this proceeding shall be served by certified mail. The notice shall state specifically that the person served shall file a written response to the motion within twenty days if the person intends to contest the termination. In any case involving a child subject to the federal Indian Child Welfare Act of 1978, notice shall also be sent by certified mail to the tribes of the child's parents and upon any "Indian custodian" as that term is defined in 25 U.S.C. Section 1903(6). Further notice shall not be required on a parent who has been provided notice previously pursuant to Section 32A-4-17 NMSA 1978 and who failed to make an appearance.

D. When a motion to terminate parental rights is filed, the moving party shall request a hearing on the motion. The hearing date shall be at least thirty days, but no more than sixty days, after service is effected upon the parties entitled to service under this section. The moving party shall also file a motion for court-ordered mediation between the parent and any prospective adoptive parent to discuss an open adoption agreement. If an open adoption agreement is reached at any time before termination of parental rights, it shall be made a part of the court record.

E. In any action for the termination of parental rights brought by a party other than the department and involving a child in the legal custody of the department, the department may:

(1) litigate a motion for the termination of parental rights that was initially filed by another party; or

(2) move that the motion for the termination of parental rights be found premature and denied.

F. When a motion to terminate parental rights is filed, the department shall perform concurrent planning.

G. When a child has been in foster care for not less than fifteen of the previous twenty-two months, the department shall file a motion to terminate parental rights, unless:

(1) a parent has made substantial progress toward eliminating the problem that caused the child's placement in foster care; it is likely that the child will be able to safely return to the parent's home within three months; and the child's return to the parent's home will be in the child's best interests;

(2) the child has a close and positive relationship with a parent and a permanent plan that does not include termination of parental rights will provide the most secure and appropriate placement for the child;

(3) the child is fourteen years of age or older, is firmly opposed to termination of parental rights and is likely to disrupt an attempt to place the child with an adoptive family;

(4) a parent is terminally ill, but in remission, and does not want parental rights to be terminated; provided that the parent has designated a guardian for the child;

(5) the child is not capable of functioning if placed in a family setting. In such a case, the court shall reevaluate the status of the child every ninety days unless there is a final court determination that the child cannot be placed in a family setting;

(6) grounds do not exist for termination of parental rights;

(7) the child is an unaccompanied, refugee minor and the situation regarding the child involves international legal issues or compelling foreign policy issues;

(8) adoption is not an appropriate plan for the child; or

(9) the parent's incarceration or participation in a court-ordered residential substance abuse treatment program constitutes the primary factor in the child's placement in substitute care and termination of parental rights is not in the child's best interest.

H. For purposes of this section, a child shall be considered to have entered foster care on the earlier of:

(1) the date of the first judicial finding that the child has been abused or neglected; or

(2) the date that is sixty days after the date on which the child was removed from the home.

I. The grounds for any attempted termination shall be proved by clear and convincing evidence. In any proceeding involving a child subject to the federal Indian Child Welfare Act of 1978, the grounds for any attempted termination shall be proved beyond a reasonable doubt and shall meet the requirements set forth in 25 U.S.C. Section 1912(f).

J. When the court terminates parental rights, it shall appoint a custodian for the child and fix responsibility for the child's support.

K. In any termination proceeding involving a child subject to the federal Indian Child Welfare Act of 1978, the court shall in any termination order make specific findings that the requirements of that act have been met.

L. A judgment of the court terminating parental rights divests the parent of all legal rights and privileges and dispenses with both the necessity for the consent to or receipt of notice of any subsequent adoption proceeding concerning the child. A judgment of the court terminating parental rights shall not affect the child's rights of inheritance from and through the child's biological parents.

M. When the court denies a motion to terminate parental rights, the court shall issue appropriate orders immediately. The court shall direct the parties to file a stipulated order and interim plan or a request for hearing within thirty days of the date of the hearing denying the termination of parental rights."

Chapter 239 Section 50 Laws 2009

Section 50. Section 32A-4-32 NMSA 1978 (being Laws 1993, Chapter 77, Section 126, as amended) is amended to read:

"32A-4-32. PERMANENT GUARDIANSHIP--PROCEDURE.--

A. A motion for permanent guardianship may be filed by any party.

B. A motion for permanent guardianship shall set forth:

- (1) the date, place of birth and marital status of the child, if known;
- (2) the facts and circumstances supporting the grounds for permanent guardianship;
- (3) the name and address of the prospective guardian and a statement that the person agrees to accept the duties and responsibilities of guardianship;
- (4) the basis for the court's jurisdiction;
- (5) the relationship of the child to the petitioner and the prospective guardian; and
- (6) whether the child is subject to the federal Indian Child Welfare Act of 1978 and, if so:
 - (a) the tribal affiliations of the child's parents;
 - (b) the specific actions taken by the petitioner to notify the parents' tribe and the results of the contacts, including the names, addresses, titles and telephone numbers of the persons contacted. Copies of any correspondence with the tribes shall be attached as exhibits to the petition; and
 - (c) what specific efforts were made to comply with the placement preferences set forth in the federal Indian Child Welfare Act of 1978 or the placement preferences of the appropriate Indian tribes.

C. If the motion is not filed by the prospective guardian, the motion shall be verified by the prospective guardian.

D. Notice of the filing of the motion, accompanied by a copy of the motion, shall be served by the moving party on any parent who has not previously been made a party to the proceeding, the parents of the child, foster parents with whom the child is residing, the foster parent, preadoptive parent or relative providing care for the child with whom the child has resided for six months, the child's custodian, the department, any person appointed to represent any party, including the child's guardian ad litem, and any other person the court orders provided with notice. Service shall be in accordance with the Children's Court Rules for the service of motions. In a case involving a child subject to the federal Indian Child Welfare Act of 1978, notice shall also be sent by certified mail to the Indian tribes of the child's parents and to any "Indian custodian" as that term is defined in 25 U.S.C. Section 1903(6). Further notice shall not be required to a parent who has been provided notice previously pursuant to Section 32A-4-17 NMSA 1978 and who failed to make an appearance.

E. The grounds for permanent guardianship shall be proved by clear and convincing evidence. The grounds for permanent guardianship shall be proved beyond a reasonable doubt and meet the requirements of 25 U.S.C. Section 1912(f) in any proceeding involving a child subject to the federal Indian Child Welfare Act of 1978.

F. A judgment of the court vesting permanent guardianship with an individual divests the biological or adoptive parent of legal custody or guardianship of the child, but is not a termination of the parent's rights. A child's inheritance rights from and through the child's biological or adoptive parents are not affected by this proceeding.

G. Upon a finding that grounds exist for a permanent guardianship, the court may incorporate into the final order provisions for visitation with the natural parents, siblings or other relatives of the child and any other provision necessary to rehabilitate the child or provide for the child's continuing safety and well-being.

H. The court shall retain jurisdiction to enforce its judgment of permanent guardianship.

I. Any party may make a motion for revocation of the order granting guardianship when there is a significant change of circumstances, including:

(1) the child's parent is able and willing to properly care for the child; or

(2) the child's guardian is unable to properly care for the child.

J. The court shall appoint a guardian ad litem for the child in all proceedings for the revocation of permanent guardianship if the child is under the age of fourteen. The court shall appoint an attorney for the child in all proceedings for the revocation of permanent guardianship if the child is fourteen years of age or older at the inception of the proceedings.

K. The court may revoke the order granting guardianship when a significant change of circumstances has been proven by clear and convincing evidence and it is in the child's best interests to revoke the order granting guardianship."

Chapter 239 Section 51 Laws 2009

Section 51. Section 32A-4-33 NMSA 1978 (being Laws 1993, Chapter 77, Section 127, as amended) is amended to read:

Chapter 239 Section 52 Laws 2009

Section 52. A new Section 32A-4-33.1 NMSA 1978 is enacted to read:

"32A-4-33.1. RECORDS RELEASE WHEN A CHILD DIES.--

A. After learning that a child fatality has occurred and that there is reasonable suspicion that the fatality was caused by abuse or neglect, the department shall, upon written request to the secretary of the department, release the following information, if in the department's possession, within five business days:

(1) the age and gender of the child;

(2) the date of death;

(3) whether the child was in foster care or in the home of the child's parent or guardian at the time of death; and

Chapter 239 Section 53 Laws 2009

"32A-5-8. CONFIDENTIALITY OF RECORDS.--

A. Unless the petitioner agrees to be contacted or agrees to the release of the petitioner's identity to the parent and the parent agrees to be contacted or agrees to the release of the parent's identity to the petitioner, the attorneys, the court, the agency and the department shall maintain confidentiality regarding the names of the parties, unless the information is already otherwise known. After the petition is filed and prior to the entry of the decree, the records in adoption proceedings shall be open to inspection only by the attorney for the petitioner, the department or the agency, any attorney appointed as a guardian ad litem or attorney for the adoptee, any attorney retained by the adoptee or other persons upon order of the court for good cause shown.

All information and documentation provided for the purpose of full disclosure is confidential. Documentation provided for the purpose of full disclosure shall remain the property of the person making full disclosure when a prospective adoptive parent decides not to accept a placement. Immediately upon refusal of the placement, the prospective adoptive parent shall return all full disclosure documentation to the person providing full disclosure. A prospective adoptive parent shall not disclose any confidential information received during the full disclosure process, except as necessary to make a placement decision or to provide information to a child's guardian ad litem or attorney or the court.

C. All hearings in adoption proceedings shall be confidential and shall be held in closed court without admittance of any person other than parties and their counsel.

D. A person who intentionally and unlawfully releases any information or records closed to the public pursuant to the Adoption Act or releases or makes other unlawful use of records in violation of that act is guilty of a petty misdemeanor and shall be sentenced pursuant to the provisions of Section 31-19-1 NMSA 1978.

E. Prior to the entry of the decree of adoption, the parent consenting to the adoption or relinquishing parental rights to an agency or the department shall execute an affidavit stating whether the parent will permit contact or the disclosure of the parent's identity to the adoptee or the adoptee's prospective adoptive parents."

Chapter 239 Section 54 Laws 2009

Section 54. Section 32A-5-16 NMSA 1978 (being Laws 1993, Chapter 77, Section 143, as amended) is amended to read:

"32A-5-16. TERMINATION PROCEDURES.--

A. A proceeding to terminate parental rights may be initiated in connection with or prior to an adoption proceeding. Venue shall be in the court for the county in which the child is physically present or in the county from which the child was placed. The proceeding may be initiated by any of the following:

(1) the department;

(2) an agency; or

(3) any other person having a legitimate interest in the matter, including a petitioner for adoption, the child's guardian, the child's guardian ad litem or attorney in another action, a foster parent, a relative of the child or the child.

B. A petition for termination of parental rights shall be signed and verified by the petitioner, be filed with the court and set forth:

(1) the date, place of birth and marital status of the child, if known;

(2) the grounds for termination and the facts and circumstances supporting the grounds for termination;

(3) the names and addresses of the person, authorized agency or agency officer to whom custody might be transferred;

(4) the basis for the court's jurisdiction;

(5) that the petition is in contemplation of adoption;

(6) the relationship or legitimate interest of the applicant to the child; and

(7) whether the child is an Indian child and, if so:

(a) the tribal affiliations of the child's parents;

(b) the specific actions taken by the moving party to notify the parents' tribe and the results of the contacts, including the names, addresses, titles and telephone numbers of the persons contacted. Copies of any correspondence with the Indian tribe shall be attached as exhibits to the petition; and

(c) what specific efforts were made to comply with the placement preferences set forth in the federal Indian Child Welfare Act of 1978 or the placement preferences of the appropriate Indian tribes.

C. Notice of the filing of the petition, accompanied by a copy of the petition, shall be served by the petitioner on the parents of the child, the child's guardian, the legal custodian of the child, the person with whom the child is residing, the individuals with whom the child has resided within the past six months and the department. Service shall be in accordance with the Rules of Civil Procedure for the District Courts for the service of process in a civil action in this state, with the exception that the department may be served by certified mail. The notice shall state specifically that the person served shall file a written response to the petition within twenty days if the person intends to contest the termination. In any case involving an Indian child, notice shall also be served on the child's Indian tribe pursuant to the federal Indian Child Welfare Act of 1978.

D. If the identification or whereabouts of a parent is unknown, the petitioner shall file a motion for an order granting service by publication or an order stating that service by publication is not required. A motion for an order granting service by publication shall be supported by the affidavit of the petitioner, the agency or the petitioner's attorney detailing the efforts made to locate the parent. Upon being satisfied that reasonable efforts to locate the parent have been made and that information as to the identity or whereabouts of the parent is still insufficient to effect service in accordance with SCRA, Rule 1-004, the court shall order service by publication or order that publication is not required because the parent's consent is not required pursuant to the provisions of Section 32A-5-19 NMSA 1978.

E. The court shall, upon request, appoint counsel for an indigent parent who is unable to obtain counsel or if, in the court's discretion, appointment of counsel for an indigent parent is required in the interest of justice. Payment for the appointed counsel shall be made by the petitioner pursuant to the rate determined by the supreme court of New Mexico for court-appointed attorneys.

F. The court shall appoint a guardian ad litem for the child in all contested proceedings for termination of parental rights. If the child is fourteen years of age or older and in the custody of the department, the child's attorney appointed pursuant to the Abuse and Neglect Act shall represent the child in any proceedings for termination of parental rights under this section.

G. Within thirty days after the filing of a petition to terminate parental rights, the petitioner shall request a hearing on the petition. The hearing date shall be at least thirty days after service is effected upon the parent of the child or completion of publication.

H. The grounds for any attempted termination shall be proved by clear and convincing evidence. In any proceeding involving an Indian child, the grounds for any attempted termination shall be proved beyond a reasonable doubt and meet the requirements set forth in the federal Indian Child Welfare Act of 1978.

I. If the court terminates parental rights, it shall appoint a custodian for the child. Upon entering an order terminating the parental rights of a parent, the court may commit the child to the custody of the department, the petitioner or an agency willing to accept custody for the purpose of placing the child for adoption. In any termination proceeding involving an Indian child, the court shall, in any termination order, make specific findings that the requirements of the federal Indian Child Welfare Act of 1978 were met.

J. A judgment of the court terminating parental rights divests the parent of all legal rights. Termination of parental rights shall not affect the child's right of inheritance through the former parent."

Chapter 239 Section 55 Laws 2009

Section 55. Section 32A-5-24 NMSA 1978 (being Laws 1993, Chapter 77, Section 151, as amended) is amended to read:

"32A-5-24. RELINQUISHMENTS TO THE DEPARTMENT.--

A. When a parent elects to relinquish parental rights to the department, a petition to accept the relinquishment shall be filed, unless an abuse or neglect proceeding is pending. If an abuse or neglect proceeding is pending, the relinquishment shall be heard in the context of that proceeding.

B. In all hearings regarding relinquishment of parental rights to the department, the child shall be represented by a guardian ad litem. If the child is fourteen years of age or older and in the custody of the department, the child's attorney appointed pursuant to the Abuse and Neglect Act shall represent the child in any proceeding for termination of parental rights under this section.

C. If a proposed relinquishment of parental rights is not in contemplation of adoption, the court shall not allow the relinquishment of parental rights unless it finds that good cause exists, that the department has made reasonable efforts to preserve the family and that relinquishment of parental rights is in the child's best interest. Whenever a parent relinquishes the parent's rights pursuant to this subsection, the parent shall remain financially responsible for the child. The court may order the parent to pay the reasonable costs of support and maintenance of the child. The court may use the child support guidelines set forth in Section 40-4-11.1 NMSA 1978 to calculate a reasonable payment.

D. When a parent relinquishes the parent's rights under this section, the parent shall be notified that no contact will be enforced by the court, regardless of any informal agreement, unless the parties have agreed to an open adoption pursuant to Section 32A-5-35 NMSA 1978. The consent for relinquishment shall be in writing and shall state that the parties understand that any informal agreement allowing contact will not be enforced by the courts."

Chapter 239 Section 56 Laws 2009

Section 56. Section 32A-5-33 NMSA 1978 (being Laws 1993, Chapter 77, Section 160) is amended to read:

"32A-5-33. APPOINTMENT OF GUARDIAN AD LITEM OR ATTORNEY FOR THE ADOPTEE OR OTHER PARTY.--Upon the motion of any party or upon the court's own motion, the court may appoint a guardian ad litem for the adoptee or for any person found to be incompetent or a child who is a party to the proceeding. In any contested proceeding, the court shall appoint a guardian ad litem for the adoptee. The court may appoint the child's attorney appointed pursuant to the Abuse and Neglect Act if the child is fourteen years of age or older and in the custody of the department."

Chapter 239 Section 57 Laws 2009

Section 57. Section 32A-5-35 NMSA 1978 (being Laws 1993, Chapter 77, Section 162, as amended) is amended to read:

"32A-5-35. OPEN ADOPTIONS.--

A. The parents of the adoptee and the petitioner may agree to contact between the parents and the petitioner or contact between the adoptee and one or more of the parents or contact between the adoptee and relatives of the parents. An agreement shall, absent a finding to the contrary, be presumed to be in the best interests of the child and shall be included in the decree of adoption. The agreement may also include contact between siblings and the adoptee based on a finding that it is in the best interests of the adoptee and the adoptee's siblings and a determination that the siblings' parent, guardian or custodian has consented to the agreement. The contact may include exchange of identifying or nonidentifying information or visitation between the parents or the parents' relatives or the adoptee's siblings and the petitioner or visitation between the parents or the parents' relatives or the adoptee's siblings and the adoptee. An agreement entered into pursuant to this section shall be considered an open adoption.

B. The court may appoint a guardian ad litem for the adoptee. The court shall adopt a presumption in favor of appointing a guardian ad litem for the adoptee when visitation between the biological family and the adoptee is included in an agreement; however, this requirement may be waived by the court for good cause shown. When an adoptive placement is made voluntarily through an agency or pursuant to Section 32A-5-13 NMSA 1978, the court may, in its discretion, appoint a guardian ad litem. If the child is fourteen years of age or older, the court may appoint an attorney for the child. In all adoptions other than those in which the child is placed by the department, the court may assess the parties for the cost of services rendered by the guardian ad litem or the child's attorney. The duties of the guardian ad litem or child's attorney end upon the filing of the decree, unless otherwise ordered by the court.

C. In determining whether the agreement is in the adoptee's best interests, the court shall consider the adoptee's wishes, but the wishes of the adoptee shall not control the court's findings as to the best interests of the adoptee.

D. Every agreement entered into pursuant to provisions of this section shall contain a clause stating that the parties agree to the continuing jurisdiction of the court and to the agreement and understand and intend that any disagreement or litigation regarding the terms of the agreement shall not affect the validity of the relinquishment of parental rights, the adoption or the custody of the adoptee.

E. The court shall retain jurisdiction after the decree of adoption is entered, if the decree contains an agreement for contact, for the purpose of hearing motions brought to enforce or modify an agreement entered into pursuant to the provisions of this section. The court shall not grant a request to modify the agreement unless the moving party establishes that there has been a change of circumstances and the agreement is no longer in the adoptee's best interests."

Chapter 251 Section 5 Laws 2009

Section 5. Section 1-6-5 NMSA 1978 (being Laws 1969, Chapter 240, Section 131, as amended) is amended to read:

"1-6-5. PROCESSING APPLICATION--ISSUANCE OF BALLOT.--

A. The county clerk shall mark each completed absentee ballot application with the date and time of receipt in the clerk's office and enter the required information in the absentee ballot register. The county clerk shall then determine if the applicant is a voter, an absent uniformed services voter or an overseas voter.

B. If the applicant does not have a valid certificate of registration on file in the county and is not a federal qualified elector or if the applicant states that the applicant is a federal qualified elector but the application indicates the applicant is not a federal qualified elector, an absentee ballot shall not be issued and the county clerk shall mark the application "rejected" and file the application in a separate file from those accepted.

C. The county clerk shall notify in writing each applicant of the fact of acceptance or rejection of the application and, if rejected, shall explain why the application was rejected.

D. The county clerk shall note on the absentee ballot register and signature roster that the applicant's absentee ballot must be returned with the required identification.

E. If the county clerk finds that the applicant is a voter other than a federal qualified elector or overseas voter, the county clerk shall mark the application "accepted" and, beginning twenty-eight days before the election, deliver an absentee ballot to the voter in the county clerk's office or mail to the applicant an absentee ballot and the required envelopes for use in returning the ballot. If the county clerk finds that the applicant is a federal qualified elector or overseas voter, the county clerk shall mark the application "accepted" and beginning forty-five days before the election, mail to the applicant an absentee ballot and the required envelopes for use in returning the ballot. Acceptance of an application of a federal qualified elector constitutes registration for the election in which the ballot is to be cast. Acceptance of an application from an overseas voter who is not an absent uniformed services voter constitutes a request for changing information on the certificate of registration of any such voter. An absent voter shall not be permitted to change party affiliation during those periods when change of party affiliation is prohibited by the Election Code. Upon delivery of an absentee ballot to a voter in the county clerk's office or mailing of an absentee ballot to an applicant who is a voter, an appropriate designation shall be made on the signature line of the signature roster next to the name of the voter who has been provided or mailed an absentee ballot.

F. If an application for an absentee ballot is delivered in person to the county clerk and is accepted, the county clerk shall provide the voter an absentee ballot and it shall be marked by the applicant in a voting booth of a type prescribed by the secretary of state, sealed in the proper envelopes and otherwise properly executed and returned to the county clerk or the clerk's authorized representative before the voter leaves the office of the county clerk. The act of marking the absentee ballot in the office of the county clerk shall be a convenience to the voter in the delivery of the absentee ballot and does not make the office of the county clerk a polling place subject to the requirements of a polling place in the Election Code other than is provided in this subsection. It is unlawful to solicit votes, display or otherwise make accessible any posters, signs or other forms of campaign literature whatsoever in the clerk's office or alternate voting location. In marking the absentee ballot, the voter, pursuant to the provisions of Section 1-12-15 NMSA 1978, may be assisted by one person of the voter's choice.

G. Absentee ballots may be marked in person at the county clerk's office during the regular hours and days of business beginning on the twenty-eighth day preceding the election and from 10:00 a.m. to 6:00 p.m. on the Saturday immediately prior to the date of the election. If the county clerk establishes an additional alternate voting location near the clerk's office, absentee ballots may be marked in person at that location during the regular hours and days of business beginning on the twenty-eighth day preceding the election and during the hours for voting at alternate voting locations commencing on the third Saturday prior to the election through the Saturday immediately prior to the election.

H. Absentee ballots shall be sent to applicants not later than on the Friday immediately prior to the date of the election.

I. An absentee ballot shall not be delivered or mailed by the county clerk to any person other than the applicant for such ballot.

J. The secretary of state and each county clerk shall make reasonable efforts to publicize and inform voters of the times and locations for absentee voting; provided, however, that notice is provided at least ten days before early voting begins.

K. The secretary of state shall establish procedures for the submittal, when required by federal law, of required voter identification with mailed-in absentee ballots."

C. ensure that adequate interpreters are available at alternate early voting locations in those precincts having a majority of qualified electors who are part of a recognized language minority; and

AN ACT

RELATING TO THE NEW MEXICO OCCUPATIONAL DISEASE DISABLEMENT LAW; REQUIRING CERTAIN DISEASES AND INJURIES TO BE PRESUMED TO BE CAUSED BY EMPLOYMENT FOR CERTAIN FIREFIGHTERS;

PROVIDING EXCEPTIONS; ESTABLISHING BURDEN OF PROOF FOR DEFENSES; REQUIRING WORKERS' COMPENSATION REIMBURSEMENT IN CERTAIN SITUATIONS.

BE IT ENACTED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF NEW MEXICO:

Chapter 252 Section 1 Laws 2009

Section 1. A new section of the New Mexico Occupational Disease Disablement Law is enacted to read:

"FIREFIGHTER OCCUPATIONAL DISEASE.--

A. As used in this section, "firefighter" means a person who is employed as a full-time non-volunteer firefighter by the state or a local government entity and who has taken the oath prescribed for firefighters.

B. If a firefighter is diagnosed with one or more of the following diseases after the period of employment indicated, which disease was not revealed during an initial employment medical screening examination or during a subsequent medical review pursuant to the Occupational Health and Safety Act and rules promulgated pursuant to that act, the disease is presumed to be proximately caused by employment as a firefighter:

- (1) brain cancer after ten years;
- (2) bladder cancer after twelve years;
- (3) kidney cancer after fifteen years;
- (4) colorectal cancer after ten years;
- (5) non-Hodgkin's lymphoma after fifteen years;
- (6) leukemia after five years;
- (7) ureter cancer after twelve years;
- (8) testicular cancer after five years if diagnosed before the age of forty with no evidence of anabolic steroids or human growth hormone use;

(11) multiple myeloma after fifteen years; and

(12) hepatitis, tuberculosis, diphtheria, meningococcal disease and methicillin-resistant staphylococcus aureus appearing and diagnosed after entry into employment.

C. The presumptions created in Subsection B and D of this section may be rebutted by a preponderance of evidence in a court of competent jurisdiction showing that the firefighter engaged in conduct or activities outside of employment that posed a significant risk of contracting or developing a described disease.

D. If a firefighter is diagnosed with a heart injury or stroke suffered within twenty-four hours of fighting a fire, while responding to an alarm, while returning from an alarm call, while engaging in supervised physical training or while responding to or performing in a non-fire emergency, the heart injury or stroke is presumed to be proximately caused by employment as a firefighter. The presumption created in this subsection shall not be made if the firefighter's employer does not have a current physical training program and the firefighter does not have a current medical screening examination or review pursuant to the Occupational Health and Safety Act and rules promulgated pursuant to that act allowing participation in that program.

E. When any presumptions created in this section do not apply, it shall not preclude a firefighter from demonstrating a causal connection between employment and disease or injury by a preponderance of evidence in a court of competent jurisdiction.

F. Medical treatment based on the presumptions created in this section shall be provided by an employer as for a job-related illness or injury unless and until a court of competent jurisdiction determines that the presumption does not apply. If the court determines that the presumption does not apply or that the illness or injury is not job related, the employer's workers' compensation insurance provider shall be reimbursed for health care costs by the medical or health insurance plan or benefit provided for the firefighter by the employer."

The law enforcement agency seizing the vehicle, motor vehicle or motor vehicle engine or component shall provide the person from whom it was taken a receipt for the vehicle, motor vehicle or motor vehicle engine or component.

C. The vehicle, motor vehicle or motor vehicle engine or component shall not be considered contraband when:

(5) the new assigned numbers have been issued for and placed upon the vehicle, motor vehicle or motor vehicle engine or component by the division utilizing a unique numbering system for that purpose; or

D. Except as provided in Subsection K of this section, the council shall require as a condition of application that a school district have a current five-year facilities plan, which shall include a current preventive maintenance plan to which the school adheres for each public school in the school district.

E. The council shall review all requests for assistance from the fund and shall allocate funds only for those capital outlay projects that meet the criteria of the Public School Capital Outlay Act.

F. Money in the fund shall be disbursed by warrant of the department of finance and administration on vouchers signed by the secretary of finance and administration following certification by the council that an application has been approved or an expenditure has been ordered by a court pursuant to Section 22-24-5.4 NMSA 1978. G. Balances in the fund may be annually appropriated for the core administrative functions of the public school facilities authority pursuant to the Public School Capital Outlay Act and, in addition, balances in the fund may be expended by the public school facilities authority, upon approval of the council, for project management expenses; provided that:

(1) the total annual expenditures from the fund for the core administrative functions pursuant to this subsection shall not exceed five percent of the average annual grant assistance authorized from the fund during the three previous fiscal years; and

(2) any unexpended or unencumbered balance remaining at the end of a fiscal year from the expenditures authorized in this subsection shall revert to the fund.

H. Up to ten million dollars ($10,000,000) of the fund may be allocated by the council for expenditure in fiscal years 2010 through 2012 for a roof repair and replacement initiative with projects to be identified by the council pursuant to Section 22-24-4.3 NMSA 1978; provided that money allocated pursuant to this subsection shall be expended within two years of the allocation.

I. The fund may be expended annually by the council for grants to school districts for the purpose of making lease payments for classroom facilities, including facilities leased by charter schools. The grants shall be made upon application by the school districts and pursuant to rules adopted by the council; provided that an application on behalf of a charter school shall be made by the school district but, if the school district fails to make an application on behalf of a charter school, the charter school may submit its own application. (4) no grant shall be made for lease payments due pursuant to a financing agreement under which the facilities may be purchased for a price that is reduced according to the lease payments made unless:

(a) the agreement has been approved pursuant to the provisions of the Public School Lease Purchase Act; and

(b) the facilities are leased by a charter school;

(5) if the lease payments are made pursuant to a financing agreement under which the facilities may be purchased for a price that is reduced according to the lease payments made, neither a grant nor any provision of the Public School Capital Outlay Act creates a legal obligation for the school district or charter school to continue the lease from year to year or to purchase the facilities nor does it create a legal obligation for the state to make subsequent grants pursuant to the provisions of this subsection; and

(6) as used in this subsection:

(a) "MEM" means: 1) the average full-time-equivalent enrollment using leased classroom facilities on the eightieth and one hundred twentieth days of the prior school year; or 2) in the case of an approved charter school that has not commenced classroom instruction, the estimated full-time-equivalent enrollment that will use leased classroom facilities in the first year of instruction, as shown in the approved charter school application; provided that, after the eightieth day of the school year, the MEM shall be adjusted to reflect the full-time-equivalent enrollment on that date; and

(b) "classroom facilities" or "classroom space" includes the space needed, as determined by the minimum required under the statewide adequacy standards, for the direct administration of school activities.

The authority shall enter into contracts with the state fire marshal, the construction industries division or the appropriate local authorities to carry out the provisions of this subsection. Such a contract may provide for initial estimated payments from the fund prior to the expenditures if the contract also provides for additional payments from the fund if the actual expenditures exceed the initial payments and for repayments back to the fund if the initial payments exceed the actual expenditures.

K. Pursuant to guidelines established by the council, allocations from the fund may be made to assist school districts in developing and updating five-year facilities plans required by the Public School Capital Outlay Act; provided that:

(1) no allocation shall be made unless the council determines that the school district is willing and able to pay the portion of the total cost of developing or updating the plan that is not funded with the allocation from the fund. Except as provided in Paragraph (2) of this subsection, the portion of the total cost to be paid with the allocation from the fund shall be determined pursuant to the methodology in Paragraph (5) of Subsection B of Section 22-24-5 NMSA 1978; or

(a) the school district has fewer than an average of six hundred full-time-equivalent students on the eightieth and one hundred twentieth days of the prior school year; or

(b) the school district meets all of the following requirements: 1) the school district has fewer than an average of one thousand full-time-equivalent students on the eightieth and one hundred twentieth days of the prior school year; 2) the school district has at least seventy percent of its students eligible for free or reduced-fee lunch; 3) the state share of the total cost, if calculated pursuant to the methodology in Paragraph (5) of Subsection B of Section 22-24-5 NMSA 1978, would be less than fifty percent; and 4) for all educational purposes, the school district has a residential property tax rate of at least seven dollars ($7.00) on each one thousand dollars ($1,000) of taxable value, as measured by the sum of all rates imposed by resolution of the local school board plus rates set to pay interest and principal on outstanding school district general obligation bonds.

L. Upon application by a school district, allocations from the fund may be made by the council for the purpose of demolishing abandoned school district facilities, provided that:

(1) the costs of continuing to insure an abandoned facility outweigh any potential benefit when and if a new facility is needed by the school district;

(2) there is no practical use for the abandoned facility without the expenditure of substantial renovation costs; and

(3) the council may enter into an agreement with the school district under which an amount equal to the savings to the district in lower insurance premiums are used to reimburse the fund fully or partially for the demolition costs allocated to the district.

~~[M. Up to two million dollars ($2,000,000) of the fund may be allocated by the council for expenditure in fiscal years 2009 through 2011 for lights and bleachers for certain rural high school athletic fields pursuant to Section 22-24-4.5 NMSA 1978.]~~ LINE-ITEM VETO

(k) if the value calculated for a subject school district pursuant to Subparagraph (j) of this paragraph is less than five-tenths, then, except as provided in Subparagraph (n) or (o) of this paragraph, the value for that school district equals the value calculated pursuant to Subparagraph (f) of this paragraph;

(l) if the value calculated for a subject school district pursuant to Subparagraph (j) of this paragraph is five-tenths or greater, then that value is multiplied by five-hundredths;

(m) if the value calculated for a subject school district pursuant to Subparagraph (j) of this paragraph is five-tenths or greater, then the value calculated pursuant to Subparagraph (l) of this paragraph is added to the value calculated pursuant to Subparagraph (f) of this paragraph. Except as provided in Subparagraph (n) or (o) of this paragraph, the sum equals the value for that school district;

(n) in those instances in which the calculation pursuant to Subparagraph (k) or (m) of this paragraph yields a value less than one-tenth, one-tenth shall be used as the value for the subject school district;

(o) in those instances in which the calculation pursuant to Subparagraph (k) or (m) of this paragraph yields a value greater than one, one shall be used as the value for the subject school district;

(p) except as provided in Section 22-24-5.7 NMSA 1978 and except as adjusted pursuant to Paragraph (6), (8), (9) [~~or (14)~~] of this subsection, the amount to be distributed from the fund for an approved project shall equal the total project cost multiplied by a fraction the numerator of which is the value calculated for the subject school district in the current year plus the value calculated for that school district in each of the two preceding years and the denominator of which is three; and LINE-ITEM VETO

(q) as used in this paragraph: 1) "MEM" means the average full-time-equivalent enrollment of students attending public school in a school district on the eightieth and one hundred twentieth days of the prior school year; 2) "total project cost" means the total amount necessary to complete the public school capital outlay project less any insurance reimbursement received by the school district for the project; and 3) in the case of a state-chartered charter school that has submitted an application for grant assistance pursuant to this section, the "value calculated for the subject school district" means the value calculated for the school district in which the state-chartered charter school is physically located;

(6) the amount calculated pursuant to Subparagraph (p) of Paragraph (5) of this subsection shall be reduced by the following procedure:

(a) the total of all legislative appropriations made after January 1, 2003 for nonoperating purposes either directly to the subject school district or to another governmental entity for the purpose of passing the money through directly to the subject school district, and not rejected by the subject school district, is calculated; provided that: 1) an appropriation made in a fiscal year shall be deemed to be accepted by a school district unless, prior to June 1 of that fiscal year, the school district notifies the department of finance and administration and the public education department that the district is rejecting the appropriation; 2) the total shall exclude any educational technology appropriation made prior to January 1, 2005 unless the appropriation was on or after January 1, 2003 and not previously used to offset distributions pursuant to the Technology for Education Act; 3) the total shall exclude any appropriation previously made to the subject school district that is reauthorized for expenditure by another recipient; 4) the total shall exclude one-half of the amount of any appropriation made or reauthorized after January 1, 2007 if the purpose of the appropriation or reauthorization is to fund, in whole or in part, a capital outlay project that, when prioritized by the council pursuant to this section either in the immediately preceding funding cycle or in the current funding cycle, ranked in the top one hundred fifty projects statewide; 5) the total shall exclude the proportionate share of any appropriation made or reauthorized after January 1, 2008 for a capital project that will be jointly used by a governmental entity other than the subject school district. Pursuant to criteria adopted by rule of the council and based upon the proposed use of the capital project, the council shall determine the proportionate share to be used by the governmental entity and excluded from the total; and 6) unless the grant award is made to the state-chartered charter school or unless the appropriation was previously used to calculate a reduction pursuant to this paragraph, the total shall exclude appropriations made after January 1, 2007 for nonoperating purposes of a specific state-chartered charter school, regardless of whether the charter school is a state-chartered charter school at the time of the appropriation or later opts to become a state-chartered charter school;

(b) the total of all federal money received by the subject school district for nonoperating purposes pursuant to Title XIV of the American Recovery and Reinvestment Act of 2009 is calculated; provided that: 1) unless the grant award is made to the state-chartered charter school or unless the federal money received was previously used to calculate a reduction pursuant to this paragraph, before the charter school became a state-chartered charter school, the total shall exclude federal money received for nonoperating purposes of a specific state-chartered charter school, regardless of whether the charter school is a state-chartered charter school at the time of receiving the federal money or later opts to become a state-chartered charter school; and 2) the total shall exclude federal money distributed through the fund as grant awards pursuant to the Public School Capital Outlay Act;

(c) the value calculated pursuant to Subparagraph (a) of this paragraph is added to the value calculated pursuant to Subparagraph (b) of this paragraph;

(d) the applicable fraction used for the subject school district and the current calendar year for the calculation in Subparagraph (p) of Paragraph (5) of this subsection is subtracted from one;

(e) the value calculated pursuant to Subparagraph (c) of this paragraph for the subject school district is multiplied by the amount calculated pursuant to Subparagraph (d) of this paragraph for that school district;

(f) the total amount of reductions for the subject school district previously made pursuant to Subparagraph (g) of this paragraph for other approved public school capital outlay projects is subtracted from the amount calculated pursuant to Subparagraph (e) of this paragraph; and

(g) the amount calculated pursuant to Subparagraph (p) of Paragraph (5) of this subsection shall be reduced by the amount calculated pursuant to Subparagraph (f) of this paragraph;

(7) as used in this subsection:

(a) "governmental entity" includes an Indian nation, tribe or pueblo; and

(b) "subject school district" means the school district that has submitted the application for funding and in which the approved public school capital outlay project will be located;

(8) the amount calculated pursuant to Subparagraph (p) of Paragraph (5) of this subsection, after any reduction pursuant to Paragraph (6) of this subsection, may be increased by an additional five percent if the council finds that the subject school district has been exemplary in implementing and maintaining a preventive maintenance program. The council shall adopt such rules as are necessary to implement the provisions of this paragraph;

(9) the council may adjust the amount of local share otherwise required if it determines that a school district has used all of its local resources. Before making any adjustment to the local share, the council shall consider whether:

(a) the school district has insufficient bonding capacity over the next four years to provide the local match necessary to complete the project and, for all educational purposes, has a residential property tax rate of at least ten dollars ($10.00) on each one thousand dollars ($1,000) of taxable value, as measured by the sum of all rates imposed by resolution of the local school board plus rates set to pay interest and principal on outstanding school district general obligation bonds;

(b) the school district: 1) has fewer than an average of eight hundred full-time-equivalent students on the eightieth and one hundred twentieth days of the prior school year; 2) has at least seventy percent of its students eligible for free or reduced-fee lunch; 3) has a share of the total project cost, as calculated pursuant to provisions of this section, that would be greater than fifty percent; and 4) for all educational purposes, has a residential property tax rate of at least seven dollars ($7.00) on each one thousand dollars ($1,000) of taxable value, as measured by the sum of all rates imposed by resolution of the local school board plus rates set to pay interest and principal on outstanding school district general obligation bonds; or

(c) the school district: 1) has an enrollment growth rate over the previous school year of at least two and one-half percent; 2) pursuant to its five-year facilities plan, will be building a new school within the next two years; and 3) for all educational purposes, has a residential property tax rate of at least ten dollars ($10.00) on each one thousand dollars ($1,000) of taxable value, as measured by the sum of all rates imposed by resolution of the local school board plus rates set to pay interest and principal on outstanding school district general obligation bonds;

(10) no application for grant assistance from the fund shall be approved unless the council determines that:

(a) the public school capital outlay project is needed and included in the school district's five-year facilities plan among its top priorities;

(b) the school district has used its capital resources in a prudent manner;

(c) the school district has provided insurance for buildings of the school district in accordance with the provisions of Section 13-5-3 NMSA 1978;

(d) the school district has submitted a five-year facilities plan that includes: 1) enrollment projections; 2) a current preventive maintenance plan that has been approved by the council pursuant to Section 22-24-5.3 NMSA 1978 and that is followed by each public school in the district; 3) the capital needs of charter schools located in the school district; and 4) projections for the facilities needed in order to maintain a full-day kindergarten program;

(e) the school district is willing and able to pay any portion of the total cost of the public school capital outlay project that, according to Paragraph (5), (6), (8) or (9) of this subsection, is not funded with grant assistance from the fund; provided that school district funds used for a project that was initiated after September 1, 2002 when the statewide adequacy standards were adopted, but before September 1, 2004 when the standards were first used as the basis for determining the state and school district share of a project, may be applied to the school district portion required for that project;

(f) the application includes the capital needs of any charter school located in the school district or the school district has shown that the facilities of the charter school have a smaller deviation from the statewide adequacy standards than other district facilities included in the application; and

(g) the school district has agreed, in writing, to comply with any reporting requirements or conditions imposed by the council pursuant to Section 22-24-5.1 NMSA 1978; ~~and~~

~~(11) the amount distributed from the fund to the subject school district for an approved high school project may be increased by an amount up to twenty percent of the total project cost if:~~

~~(a) the public high school facility to be constructed, improved or replaced by the project has previously qualified for a rural community adjustment pursuant to the provisions of Section 22-24-5.8 NMSA 1978; and~~

~~(b) the council finds that the planned use of the additional distribution will enhance public school education at the facility, will further the subject school district's educational plan for student success for students attending the facility, is needed by and will benefit the community in which the facility is located and is a prudent use of state money].~~ LINE-ITEM VETO

C. After consulting with the public school capital outlay oversight task force and other experts, the council shall regularly review and update statewide adequacy standards applicable to all school districts. The standards shall establish the acceptable level for the physical condition and capacity of buildings, the educational suitability of facilities and the need for technological infrastructure. Except as otherwise provided in the Public School Capital Outlay Act, the amount of outstanding deviation from the standards shall be used by the council in evaluating and prioritizing public school capital outlay projects.

D. The acquisition of a facility by a school district or charter school pursuant to a financing agreement that provides for lease payments with an option to purchase for a price that is reduced according to lease payments made may be considered a public school capital outlay project and eligible for grant assistance under this section pursuant to the following criteria:

(1) no grant shall be awarded unless the council determines that, at the time of exercising the option to purchase the facility by the school district or charter school, the facility will equal or exceed the statewide adequacy standards and the building standards for public school facilities;

(2) no grant shall be awarded unless the school district and the need for the facility meet all of the requirements for grant assistance pursuant to the Public School Capital Outlay Act;

(3) the total project cost shall equal the total payments that would be due under the agreement if the school district or charter school would eventually acquire title to the facility;

(4) the portion of the total project cost to be paid from the fund may be awarded as one grant, but disbursements from the fund shall be made from time to time as lease payments become due;

(5) the portion of the total project cost to be paid by the school district or charter school may be paid from time to time as lease payments become due; and

(6) neither a grant award nor any provision of the Public School Capital Outlay Act creates a legal obligation for the school district or charter school to continue the lease from year to year or to purchase the facility.

E. In order to encourage private capital investment in the construction of public school facilities, the purchase of a privately owned school facility that is, at the time of application, in use by a school district may be considered a public school capital outlay project and eligible for grant assistance pursuant to this section if the council finds that:

(1) at the time of the initial use by the school district, the facility to be purchased equaled or exceeded the statewide adequacy standards and the building standards for public school facilities;

(2) at the time of application, attendance at the facility to be purchased is at seventy-five percent or greater of design capacity and the attendance at other schools in the school district that the students at the facility would otherwise attend is at eighty-five percent or greater of design capacity; and

(3) the school district and the capital outlay project meet all of the requirements for grant assistance pursuant to the Public School Capital Outlay Act; provided that, when determining the deviation from the statewide adequacy standards for the purposes of evaluating and prioritizing the project, the students using the facility shall be deemed to be attending other schools in the school district.

F. It is the intent of the legislature that grant assistance made pursuant to this section allows every school district to meet the standards developed pursuant to Subsection C of this section; provided, however, that nothing in the Public School Capital Outlay Act or the development of standards pursuant to that act prohibits a school district from using other funds available to the district to exceed the statewide adequacy standards.

G. Upon request, the council shall work with, and provide assistance and information to, the public school capital outlay oversight task force.

H. The council may establish committees or task forces, not necessarily consisting of council members, and may use the committees or task forces, as well as existing agencies or organizations, to conduct studies, conduct surveys, submit recommendations or otherwise contribute expertise from the public schools, programs, interest groups and segments of society most concerned with a particular aspect of the council's work.

I. Upon the recommendation of the public school facilities authority, the council shall develop building standards for public school facilities and shall promulgate other such rules as are necessary to carry out the provisions of the Public School Capital Outlay Act.

J. No later than December 15 of each year, the council shall prepare a report summarizing its activities during the previous fiscal year. The report shall describe in detail all projects funded, the progress of projects previously funded but not completed, the criteria used to prioritize and fund projects and all other council actions. The report shall be submitted to the public education commission, the governor, the legislative finance committee, the legislative education study committee and the legislature."

C. if the council determines that the state-chartered charter school does not have the resources to pay all or a portion of the total cost of the capital outlay project that is not funded with grant assistance from the fund, to the extent that money is available in the charter school capital outlay fund, the council shall make an award from that fund for the remaining amount necessary to pay for the project. The council may establish, by rule, a procedure for determining the amount of resources available to the charter school and the amount needed from the charter school capital outlay fund."

Section 11. Section 22-25-9 NMSA 1978 (being Laws 1975 (S.S.), Chapter 5, Section 9, as amended) is amended to read:

"22-25-9. STATE DISTRIBUTION TO SCHOOL DISTRICT IMPOSING TAX UNDER CERTAIN CIRCUMSTANCES.--

A. Except as provided in Subsection C or G of this section, the secretary shall distribute to any school district that has imposed a tax under the Public School Capital Improvements Act an amount from the public school capital improvements fund that is equal to the amount by which the revenue estimated to be received from the imposed tax, at the rate certified by the department of finance and administration in accordance with Section 22-25-7 NMSA 1978, assuming a one hundred percent collection rate, is less than an amount calculated by multiplying the school district's first forty days' total program units by the amount specified in Subsection B of this section and further multiplying the product obtained by the tax rate approved by the qualified electors in the most recent election on the question of imposing a tax under the Public School Capital Improvements Act. The distribution shall be made each year that the tax is imposed in accordance with Section 22-25-7 NMSA 1978; provided that no state distribution from the public school capital improvements fund may be used for capital improvements to any administration building of a school district. In the event that sufficient funds are not available in the public school capital improvements fund to make the state distribution provided for in this section, the dollar per program unit figure shall be reduced as necessary.

B. In calculating the state distribution pursuant to Subsection A of this section, the following amounts shall be used:

(1) the amount calculated pursuant to Subsection D of this section per program unit; and

(2) an additional amount certified to the secretary by the public school capital outlay council. No later than June 1 of each year, the council shall determine the amount needed in the next fiscal year for public school capital outlay projects pursuant to the Public School Capital Outlay Act and the amount of revenue, from all sources, available for the projects. If, in the sole discretion of the council, the amount available exceeds the amount needed, the council may certify an additional amount pursuant to this paragraph; provided that the sum of the amount calculated pursuant to this paragraph plus the amount in Paragraph (1) of this subsection shall not result in a total statewide distribution that, in the opinion of the council, exceeds one-half of the total revenue estimated to be received from taxes imposed pursuant to the Public School Capital Improvements Act.

C. For any fiscal year notwithstanding the amount calculated to be distributed pursuant to Subsections A and B of this section, except as provided in Subsection G of this section, a school district, the voters of which have approved a tax pursuant to Section 22-25-3 NMSA 1978, shall not receive a distribution less than the amount calculated pursuant to Subsection E of this section multiplied by the school district's first forty days' total program units and further multiplying the product obtained by the approved tax rate.

D. For purposes of calculating the distribution pursuant to Subsection B of this section, the amount used in Paragraph (1) of that subsection shall equal seventy dollars ($70.00) in fiscal year 2008 and in each subsequent fiscal year shall equal the amount for the previous fiscal year adjusted by the percentage increase between the next preceding calendar year and the preceding calendar year of the consumer price index for the United States, all items, as published by the United States department of labor.

E. For purposes of calculating the minimum distribution pursuant to Subsection C of this section, the amount used in that subsection shall equal five dollars ($5.00) through fiscal year 2005 and in each subsequent fiscal year shall equal the amount for the previous fiscal year adjusted by the percentage increase between the next preceding calendar year and the preceding calendar year of the consumer price index for the United States, all items, as published by the United States department of labor.

F. In expending distributions made pursuant to this section, school districts and charter schools shall give priority to maintenance projects, including payments under contracts with regional education cooperatives for maintenance support services.

In addition, distributions made pursuant to this section may be expended by school districts and charter schools as follows:

(1) for the school district portion of the total project cost for roof repair or replacement required by Section 22-24-4.3 NMSA 1978; or

(2) for the school district portion of payments made under a financing agreement entered into by a school district or a charter school for the leasing of a building or other real property with an option to purchase for a price that is reduced according to the payments made, if the school district has received a grant for the state share of the payments pursuant to Subsection D of Section 22-24-5 NMSA 1978.

G. If a serious deficiency in a roof of a public school facility has been corrected pursuant to Section 22-24-4.4 NMSA 1978 and the school district has refused to pay its share of the cost as determined by that section, until the public school capital outlay fund is reimbursed in full for the share attributed to the district, the distribution calculated pursuant to this section shall not be made to the school district but shall be made to the public school capital outlay fund.

H. A portion of each distribution made by the state pursuant to this section on or after July 1, 2009 shall be further distributed by the school district to each locally chartered or state-chartered charter school located within the school district. The amount to be distributed to each charter school shall be in the same proportion as the average full-time-equivalent enrollment of the charter school on the fortieth day of the prior school year is to the total such enrollment in the school district; provided that no distribution shall be made to an approved charter school that had not commenced classroom instruction in the prior school year. Each year, the department shall certify to the school district the amount to be distributed to each charter school. Distributions received by a charter school pursuant to this subsection shall be expended pursuant to the provisions of the Public School Capital Improvements Act; except that if capital improvements for the charter school were not identified in a resolution approved by the electors, the charter school may expend the distribution for any capital improvements, including those specified in Subsection F of this section.

I. In determining a school district's total program units pursuant to Subsections A and C of this section and a school district's total enrollment pursuant to Subsection H of this section, students attending a state-chartered charter school within the school district shall be included.

J. In making distributions pursuant to this section, the secretary shall include such reporting requirements and conditions as are required by rule of the public school capital outlay council. The council shall adopt such requirements and conditions as are necessary to ensure that the distributions are expended in the most prudent manner possible and are consistent with the original purpose as specified in the authorizing resolution. Copies of reports or other information received by the secretary in response to the requirements and conditions shall be forwarded to the council."

(b) informs the recipient that the recipient does not have a condition requiring emergency medical services;

(e) offers to provide the recipient with a referral to the non-emergency provider to facilitate scheduling of the service;

(3) the recipient's household income is at least one hundred percent of the federal poverty level.

B. The cost-sharing payment for a high-cost medical service made pursuant to this section shall be:

(1) for a child whose household income is one hundred to one hundred fifty percent of the federal poverty level, six dollars ($6.00);

(2) for an adult whose household income is one hundred to one hundred fifty percent of the federal poverty level, twenty-five dollars ($25.00);

D. "quality control and assurance program" means the laboratory procedures implemented to ensure that operator bias, systematic and nonsystematic methodological errors and equipment-related problems do not affect the results of the testing and that the testing repeatability remains within the required repeatability values in Subsection C of Section 3 of the Fire-Safer Cigarette and Firefighter Protection Act for all test trials used to certify cigarettes under that act;

Chapter 265 Section 3 Laws 2009

Section 3. TEST METHOD AND PERFORMANCE STANDARD.--

A. Except as provided in Subsection K of this section, cigarettes shall not be sold or offered for sale in New Mexico unless:

(1) the cigarettes have been tested in accordance with the test method and meet the performance standard specified in this section;

(2) a written certification has been filed by the manufacturer with the state fire marshal in accordance with Section 4 of the Fire-Safer Cigarette and Firefighter Protection Act; and

(3) the cigarettes have been marked in accordance with Section 5 of that act.

B. Testing of cigarettes shall be conducted in accordance with the American society of testing and materials standard E2187-04 standard test method for measuring the ignition strength of cigarettes and shall be conducted on ten layers of filter paper. No more than twenty-five percent of the cigarettes tested in a test trial in accordance with this section shall exhibit full-length burns. Forty replicate tests shall constitute a complete test trial for each cigarette tested. The performance standard required by this section shall only be applied to a complete test trial. Written certifications shall be based upon testing conducted by a laboratory that has been accredited pursuant to standard ISO/IEC 17025 of the international organization for standardization or other comparable accreditation standard required by the state fire marshal.

C. Laboratories conducting testing in accordance with this section shall implement a quality control and quality assurance program that includes a procedure that will determine the repeatability of the testing results. The repeatability value shall be no greater than 0.19.

D. Testing performed or sponsored by the state fire marshal to determine a cigarette's compliance with the performance standard required by this section shall be conducted in accordance with this section.

E. This section does not require additional testing if cigarettes are tested consistent with the Fire-Safer Cigarette and Firefighter Protection Act for any other purpose.

F. Each cigarette listed in a certification submitted pursuant to Section 4 of the Fire-Safer Cigarette and Firefighter Protection Act that uses lowered permeability bands in the cigarette paper to achieve compliance with the performance standard set forth in this section shall have at least two nominally identical bands on the paper surrounding the tobacco column. At least one complete band shall be located at least fifteen millimeters from the lighting end of the cigarette. For cigarettes on which the bands are positioned by design, there shall be at least two bands fully located at least fifteen millimeters from the lighting end and ten millimeters from the filter end of the tobacco column or ten millimeters from the labeled end of the tobacco column for non-filtered cigarettes.

G. A manufacturer of a cigarette that the state fire marshal determines cannot be tested in accordance with the test method prescribed in Subsection B of this section shall propose a test method and performance standard for the cigarette to the state fire marshal. Upon approval of the proposed test method and a determination by the state fire marshal that the performance standard proposed by the manufacturer is equivalent to the performance standard prescribed in Subsection B of this section, the manufacturer may employ that test method and performance standard to certify the cigarette pursuant to Section 4 of the Fire-Safer Cigarette and Firefighter Protection Act. If the state fire marshal determines that another state has enacted reduced cigarette ignition propensity standards that include a test method and performance standard that are the same as those contained in the Fire-Safer Cigarette and Firefighter Protection Act, and the state fire marshal finds that the officials responsible for implementing those requirements have approved the proposed alternative test method and performance standard for a particular cigarette proposed by a manufacturer as meeting the fire safety standards of that state's law or regulation under a legal provision comparable to this section, the state fire marshal shall authorize that manufacturer to employ the alternative test method and performance standard to certify that cigarette for sale in New Mexico, unless the state fire marshal demonstrates a reasonable basis why the alternative test should not be accepted under the Fire-Safer Cigarette and Firefighter Protection Act. All other applicable requirements of this section shall apply to the manufacturer.

H. Each manufacturer shall maintain copies of the reports of all tests conducted on all cigarettes offered for sale for a period of three years and shall make copies of the reports available to the state fire marshal and the attorney general upon written request. Any manufacturer who fails to make copies of the reports available within sixty days of receiving a written request may be assessed a civil penalty not to exceed ten thousand dollars ($10,000) for each day after the sixtieth day that the manufacturer does not make the copies available.

I. The state fire marshal may adopt a subsequent American society of testing and materials standard test method for measuring the ignition strength of cigarettes upon a finding that the subsequent method does not result in a change in the percentage of full-length burns exhibited by any tested cigarette when compared to the percentage of full-length burns the same cigarette would exhibit when tested in accordance with the American society of testing and materials standard E2187-04 and the performance standard in Subsection B of this section.

J. The state fire marshal shall review the effectiveness of this section and report findings and make recommendations to the legislature every three years.

K. The requirements of Subsection A of this section shall not prohibit:

(1) wholesale or retail dealers from selling their existing inventory of cigarettes on or after the effective date of this section if the wholesale or retail dealer can establish that state tax stamps were affixed to the cigarettes prior to the effective date and the wholesale or retail dealer can establish that the inventory was purchased prior to the effective date in comparable quantity to the inventory purchased during the same period of the prior year; or

(2) the sale of cigarettes solely for the purpose of consumer testing. For purposes of this subsection, the term "consumer testing" means an assessment of cigarettes that is conducted by a manufacturer, or under the control and direction of a manufacturer, for the purpose of evaluating consumer acceptance of the cigarettes, utilizing only the quantity of cigarettes that is reasonably necessary for an assessment.

L. The Fire-Safer Cigarette and Firefighter Protection Act shall be interpreted and construed to effectuate its general purpose and to make that act uniform with the laws of those states that have enacted reduced cigarette ignition propensity laws as of the date that the Fire-Safer Cigarette and Firefighter Protection Act is enacted.

Chapter 265 Section 4 Laws 2009

Section 4. CERTIFICATION AND PRODUCT CHANGE.--

A. Each manufacturer shall submit to the state fire marshal a written certification attesting that each cigarette listed in the certification has been tested in accordance with the test method and meets the performance standard in Section 3 of the Fire-Safer Cigarette and Firefighter Protection Act.

B. Each cigarette listed in the certification shall be described with the following information:

- (1) the brand or the trade name on the package;
- (2) the style, such as light or ultralight;
- (3) the length in millimeters;
- (4) the circumference in millimeters;
- (5) the flavor, such as menthol or chocolate, if applicable;

(6) whether the cigarette has a filter or is a nonfilter cigarette;

(7) the package description, such as soft pack or box;

(8) the marking pursuant to Section 5 of the Fire-Safer Cigarette and Firefighter Protection Act;

(9) the name, address and telephone number of the laboratory, if different than the manufacturer that conducted the test; and

(10) the date that the testing occurred.

C. The state fire marshal shall verify that the manufacture's certifications have been received by the state fire marshal and shall make the verified certifications available to the attorney general for purposes consistent with the Fire-Safer Cigarette and Firefighter Protection Act and to the taxation and revenue department for the purposes of ensuring compliance with this section.

D. Each cigarette certified under this section shall be recertified every three years.

E. For each cigarette listed in a certification, a manufacturer shall pay to the state fire marshal a fee of two hundred fifty dollars ($250). The state fire marshal may adjust the amount of the fee by rule on an annual basis as necessary to defray the costs of processing, testing, enforcement and oversight activities required by the Fire-Safer Cigarette and Firefighter Protection Act, but in no case shall the fee exceed four hundred dollars ($400). The state fire marshal may establish the amount of the fee by rule on an annual basis.

F. If a manufacturer has certified a cigarette pursuant to this section, and thereafter makes any change to the cigarette that is likely to alter its compliance with the reduced cigarette ignition propensity standards required by the Fire-Safer Cigarette and Firefighter Protection Act, that cigarette shall not be sold or offered for sale in New Mexico until the manufacturer retests the cigarette in accordance with the testing standards set forth in Section 3 of that act and maintains records of that retesting as required by Section 3 of that act. Any altered cigarette that does not meet the performance standard set forth in Section 3 of that act shall not be sold in New Mexico.

Chapter 265 Section 5 Laws 2009

Section 5. MARKING OF CIGARETTE PACKAGING.--

A. Cigarettes that are certified by a manufacturer in accordance with the Fire-Safer Cigarette and Firefighter Protection Act shall be marked to indicate compliance with that act. The marking shall be in eight-point type or larger and consist of the letters "FSC", which signifies fire standard compliant, and shall be permanently printed, stamped, engraved or embossed on the package at or near the universal product code.

B. A manufacturer shall use only one marking and shall apply this marking uniformly for all packages, including packs, cartons and cases, and for brands marketed by that manufacturer.

C. A manufacturer certifying cigarettes in accordance with Section 4 of the Fire-Safer Cigarette and Firefighter Protection Act shall provide a copy of the certifications to all wholesale dealers and agents to which it sells cigarettes. Wholesale dealers, agents and retail dealers shall permit the state fire marshal, the taxation and revenue department and the attorney general to inspect markings of cigarette packaging marked in accordance with this section.

Chapter 265 Section 6 Laws 2009

Section 6. PENALTIES.--

A. A manufacturer, wholesale dealer, agent or any other person who knowingly sells cigarettes, other than through retail sales, in violation of Section 3 of the Fire-Safer Cigarette and Firefighter Protection Act may be assessed a civil penalty not to exceed one hundred dollars ($100) for each pack of the cigarettes sold; provided that in no case shall the penalty against any person or entity exceed one hundred thousand dollars ($100,000) for sales during any thirty-day period.

B. A retail dealer who knowingly sells cigarettes in violation of Section 3 of the Fire-Safer Cigarette and Firefighter Protection Act may be assessed a civil penalty not to exceed one hundred dollars ($100) for each pack of the cigarettes sold; provided that in no case shall the penalty against any retail dealer exceed twenty-five thousand dollars ($25,000) for sales during any thirty-day period.

C. In addition to any penalty prescribed by law, any corporation, partnership, sole proprietor, limited partnership or association engaged in the manufacture of cigarettes that knowingly makes a false certification pursuant to Section 4 of the Fire-Safer Cigarette and Firefighter Protection Act may be assessed a civil penalty of at least seventy-five thousand dollars ($75,000), not to exceed two hundred fifty thousand dollars ($250,000) for each false certification.

A person violating any other provision of the Fire-Safer Cigarette and Firefighter Protection Act may be assessed a civil penalty for a first offense not to exceed one thousand dollars ($1,000), and for a subsequent offense subject to a civil penalty not to exceed five thousand dollars ($5,000) for each violation.

E. Whenever a law enforcement agency or duly authorized representative of the state fire marshal discovers any cigarettes for which no certification has been filed as required by Section 4 of the Fire-Safer Cigarette and Firefighter Protection Act or that have not been marked as required by Section 5 of that act, the state fire marshal or law enforcement agency may seize and take possession of the cigarettes. Cigarettes seized pursuant to this section shall be destroyed; provided, however, that, prior to the destruction of any cigarette seized pursuant to these provisions, the attorney general and the true holder of the trademark rights in the cigarette brand shall be permitted to inspect the cigarettes.

F. In addition to any other remedy provided by law, the attorney general may file an action in district court for a violation of the Fire-Safer Cigarette and Firefighter Protection Act, including petitioning for preliminary or permanent injunctive relief or to recover costs, damages and attorney fees. Each violation of the Fire-Safer Cigarette and Firefighter Protection Act or of rules or regulations adopted under that act constitutes a separate civil violation for which the state fire marshal or attorney general may obtain relief. Upon obtaining judgment for injunctive relief under this section, the state fire marshal or attorney general shall provide a copy of the judgment to all wholesale dealers and agents to which a cigarette has been sold.

Chapter 265 Section 7 Laws 2009

B. The taxation and revenue department in the regular course of conducting inspections of wholesale dealers, agents and retail dealers, pursuant to the Cigarette Tax Act, may inspect cigarettes to determine if the cigarettes are marked as required by Section 5 of the Fire-Safer Cigarette and Firefighter Protection Act. If the cigarettes are not marked as required, the taxation and revenue department shall notify the state fire marshal.

Chapter 265 Section 8 Laws 2009

Section 8. Every person in the possession, control or occupancy of premises where cigarettes are placed, sold or offered for sale is hereby directed and required to give the attorney general, the taxation and revenue department and the state fire marshal and other law enforcement personnel the means, facilities and opportunity for the examinations authorized by this section.

During the proclamation, ample opportunity shall be given to any person lawfully present to compare the result so proclaimed with the printed returns. The precinct board may make corrections then and there.

G. K. The county clerk shall break the seal for purposes of lawful investigation when ordered to do so by a court of competent jurisdiction. When the investigation is completed, the voting machine shall again be sealed and across the envelope containing the keys shall be written the signature of the county clerk, unless other provisions for the use of the voting machine are ordered by the court."

If the locked ballot box or all such election returns and materials are not timely returned by each precinct board, the municipal clerk shall immediately issue a summons requiring the delinquent precinct board to appear and produce the missing ballot box or election returns or materials within twenty-four hours. The summons shall be served by a sheriff or state police officer without cost to the municipality, and the members of the precinct board shall not be paid for their service on election day unless the delay was unavoidable. If delivery pursuant to the summons is not timely made, the vote in the precinct shall not be canvassed or made a part of the final election results except upon order of the district court after finding that the delay in the delivery of materials was due to forces beyond the control of the precinct board.

E. Once the ballot box is locked, it shall not be opened prior to canvassing by the municipal clerk."

B. The municipal clerk shall accept completed official outer envelopes received by mail or delivered in person to the municipal clerk's office by the voter signing the official outer envelope, by a member of the voter's immediate family or by the caregiver to the voter until 7:00 p.m. on election day. (1) an election judge shall open the official mailing envelopes and deposit the ballots in their still sealed official inner envelopes in the locked ballot box; and

(2) the election clerks shall mark the notation "AB" opposite the voter's name in the "notations" column of the absentee voter list.

B. The voter shall place the completed ballot issued in lieu of an absentee ballot in an official inner envelope, substantially in the form prescribed pursuant to Section 3-9-6 NMSA 1978, which shall be sealed by the voter. F. If the municipal clerk determines that the ballot in lieu of absentee ballot is not valid because the application for absentee ballot was rejected and no ballot was mailed to the voter, or that a ballot was received from the voter by the municipal clerk not later than 7:00 p.m. on election day, the municipal clerk shall write "rejected invalid ballot" on the front of the transmittal envelope and the transmittal envelope shall not be sent to the canvassing board for counting and tallying. The municipal clerk shall retain the unopened transmittal envelope in a safe and secure manner and shall notify the district attorney in writing of the alleged violation of the Municipal Election Code. A copy of the notification to the district attorney shall be sent by first class mail to the voter and to the secretary of state.

(2) shall require that the requester provide the department of environment with the information necessary to assess whether the requester's facility meets the criteria to be a qualified generating facility;

(3) shall issue a certificate to the requester stating that the facility is or is not a qualified generating facility within one hundred eighty days after receiving all information necessary to make a determination;

(4) shall:

(a) issue a schedule of fees in which no fee exceeds one hundred fifty thousand dollars ($150,000); and

(b) deposit fees collected pursuant to this paragraph in the state air quality permit fund created pursuant to Section 74-2-15 NMSA 1978; and

(5) shall report annually to the appropriate interim legislative committee information that will allow the legislative committee to analyze the effectiveness of the advanced energy tax credits, including the identity of qualified generating facilities, the energy production means used, the amount of emissions identified in this section reduced and removed by those qualified generating facilities and whether any requests for certificates of eligibility could not be approved due to program limits.

D. A taxpayer who holds an interest in a qualified generating facility may be allocated the right to claim the advanced energy income tax credit without regard to the taxpayer's relative interest in the qualified generating facility if:

(1) the business entity making the allocation provides notice of the allocation and the taxpayer's interest in the qualified generating facility to the department on forms prescribed by the department;

(2) allocations to the taxpayer and all other taxpayers allocated a right to claim the advanced energy tax credit shall not exceed one hundred percent of the advanced energy tax credit allowed for the qualified generating facility; and

AN ACT

RELATING TO TAXATION; AMENDING SECTIONS OF THE NMSA 1978 CONCERNING THE NATIVE AMERICAN VETERANS' INCOME TAX SETTLEMENT FUND; MAKING APPROPRIATIONS.

BE IT ENACTED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF NEW MEXICO:

Chapter 289 Section 1 Laws 2009

Section 1. Section 7-2H-1 NMSA 1978 (being Laws 2008, Chapter 89, Section 1) is amended to read:

"7-2H-1. LEGISLATIVE FINDINGS.--

A. Native Americans have had a long history of serving their country through active duty in the armed forces of the United States during periods of both war and peace and have made great sacrifices in serving their country through active duty in the military during periods of war and peace.

B. Native American veterans domiciled within the boundaries of their tribal lands or their spouse's tribal lands during their periods of active military service may have been exempt from paying state personal income taxes on their military income, but may have had state personal income taxes withheld from their military income.

C. Native American veterans now are barred by the state statute of limitations from claiming refunds of state personal income taxes that may have been withheld from their military income when they were domiciled within the boundaries of their tribal lands or their spouse's tribal lands during the period of their active military duty, and even if not barred by the statute of limitations, the passage of time extending to decades will make it difficult for many Native American veterans to meet strict standards of proof that they are entitled to a refund of withheld state personal income taxes.

D. It is incumbent upon the state to ensure that it was not unjustly enriched by the withholding of state personal income taxes from Native American veterans who were domiciled within the boundaries of their tribal lands or their spouse's tribal lands during the period of their active military duty, and the state should implement a feasible means of refunding to Native American veterans any state personal income taxes that were withheld from military income while they were domiciled within the boundaries of their tribal lands or their spouse's tribal lands during the period of their active military duty."

Chapter 289 Section 2 Laws 2009

Section 2. Section 7-2H-2 NMSA 1978 (being Laws 2008, Chapter 89, Section 2) is amended to read:

"7-2H-2. DEFINITION.--As used in Chapter 7, Article 2H NMSA 1978, "fund" means the Native American veterans' income tax settlement fund."

Chapter 289 Section 3 Laws 2009

Section 3. Section 7-2H-3 NMSA 1978 (being Laws 2008, Chapter 89, Section 3) is amended to read:

"7-2H-3. NATIVE AMERICAN VETERANS' INCOME TAX SETTLEMENT FUND--CREATED--PURPOSE--APPROPRIATIONS.--

A. The "Native American veterans' income tax settlement fund" is created as a nonreverting fund in the state treasury and shall be administered by the taxation and revenue department. The fund shall consist of money that is appropriated or donated or that otherwise accrues to the fund.

B. The taxation and revenue department shall establish procedures and adopt rules as required to administer the fund and to make settlement payments from the fund as approved by the secretary of taxation and revenue.

C. Money in the fund is appropriated to the taxation and revenue department to make settlement payments to Native American veterans who were domiciled within the boundaries of their tribal lands or their spouse's tribal lands during the period of their active military duty and had state personal income taxes withheld from their military income, or to their heirs pursuant to applicable law. Settlement payments shall include the amount of state personal income taxes withheld from eligible Native American veterans that have not been previously refunded to the veterans and interest on the amount withheld from the date of withholding computed on a daily basis at the rate specified for individuals pursuant to Section 6621 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986. No settlement payments shall be made for any taxable year for which a refund claim may be timely filed with the taxation and revenue department, or for which an application for settlement is received after December 31, 2012. Money shall be disbursed from the fund only on warrant of the secretary of finance and administration upon vouchers signed by the secretary of taxation and revenue or the secretary's authorized representative. Any unexpended or unencumbered balance remaining in the fund at the end of a fiscal year shall not revert to the general fund.

D. Beginning in fiscal year 2010 and in subsequent fiscal years, not more than five percent of the fund is appropriated from the fund to the taxation and revenue department for expenditure in the fiscal year in which it is appropriated to administer the fund. Any unexpended or unencumbered balance remaining at the end of any fiscal year shall revert to the fund.

E. Beginning in fiscal year 2010 and in subsequent fiscal years, not more than five percent of the fund is appropriated from the fund to the veterans' services department for expenditure in the fiscal year in which it is appropriated to assist in outreach and public relations and in determining eligibility for settlement payments. Any unexpended or unencumbered balance remaining at the end of any fiscal year shall revert to the fund."

Chapter 289 Section 4 Laws 2009

Section 4. Section 7-2H-4 NMSA 1978 (being Laws 2008, Chapter 89, Section 4) is amended to read:

"7-2H-4. DUTIES OF THE SECRETARY.--

A. The secretary of veterans' services shall conduct a study in cooperation with the taxation and revenue department to determine whether Native American veterans who were domiciled within the boundaries of their tribal lands or their spouse's tribal lands during the period of their active military duty had state personal income taxes withheld from their military income and if so, to determine the amount of such state personal income taxes withheld and the number and identity of Native American veterans or their survivors affected by the withholding of such state personal income taxes.

B. The secretary of taxation and revenue and the secretary of veterans' services shall promulgate rules for a state program to compensate Native American veterans or their survivors for state personal income taxes withheld from military income while on active military duty and domiciled within the boundaries of the veteran's or the veteran's spouse's tribal lands.

C. The secretary of taxation and revenue shall report to the appropriate interim legislative committee no later than October 1 of each year regarding estimates of the amount of state personal income taxes withheld from the military income of Native American veterans domiciled on their respective tribal lands, the number of Native American veterans or their survivors affected by such withholding of state personal income taxes, total expenditures from the fund for the previous fiscal year and the anticipated appropriations to the fund needed to pay for settlements to be entered into for the next fiscal year."
